County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

L. E. Mathers of Illinois to be Speaker at Shorthorn Field Day Saturday, June 26 . . . Seven Holsteins Imported From U.S. by Canadian Syndicate . . . Roy Sanderson Loses Three Head of Cattle in Electric Storm . . . Junior Scot Ends Visit Here.

One of the leading Shorthorn breeders in North America, L. E. Mathers of Mason City, Ill., will be the main speaker at the field day Saturday, June 2, at Louada Manor Farms, Pigeon Lake, in Harvey township.

The owner of Louada Manor, Louis Cadesky, was host to the District Shorthorn breeders two years ago, and the field day next weekend should repeat its remembered success.

Correspondence with Mr. Mathers was recommended to the district breeders by W. W. Donaldson, superintendent at Louada Manor, from association through some years.

"I feel confident he will have something worth while to say to our farmers who have thoroughbred Shorthorns," Mr. Donaldson told the Examiner yesterday.

About 100 of the 160 herd at the Pigeon Lake farm will be on exhibit to visitors next Saturday. Three classes will be selected for a judging competition separately for boys and girls, women and men. The herd will be on view beginning around 10 a.m., and there will be official placing and commentary on these cattle. The rest of the program including facilities for lunch and attraction for the children has been completed.

Representatives are expected from the Department of Agriculture and Ontario Agricultural College.

Moisture Of Ensilage

The moisture content of young, immature forages is normally 80 per cent or higher, and steadily decreases wiht maturity until at the full bloom stage the crop will contain approximately 72 per cent moisture. Excellent silage can be made from these crops, ensiled when the moisture content ranges from 65 to 75 per cent.

That is a quotation from a report on silage experiments by the division of field husbandry, soils and agriculturing engineering at Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

"If the chopped forage when squeezed in the hand does not ooze moisture and slowly springs apart on opening of the hand, the moisture content will be in the desired range. The length of cut and degree of compaction should be varied according to the moisture content at ensiling time."

"When forages have a high moisture content, the grass or legumes should be wilted slightly before ensiling. The ensilage cutter should be set to cut 2 to 3 inch lengths and the material thoroughly spread or lightly packed. This will enhance the desired lactic acid fermentation and help to prevent the offensive butyric acid development. As the forages mature and their moisture level decreases, the length of cut should be progressively increased. Thus at the full bloom growth stage, a short cut from ½ to ¾ inch should be employed and the silage thoroughly compacted."

Bindweed Seed Threat

Field bindweed is one of the five weed seeds classified in Canada as "prohibited noxious." Its seeds can stay in the soil not five, but six times five years. Another name for it is wild morning glory. It sends roots four feet or more into the soil. Even small cut off will send up shoots and grow again. Intensive cultivation and smother crops weaken the stand. Cultivation should be at least four inches deep and repeated one to two weeks later, the Department advises.

Repeated applications of up to one pound or more of 2,4-D acid per acre in June and in late fall will kill most plants. Soil sterilants such as sodium chlorate at 6 pounds to the square rod, pound in three gallons of water acre can be used on small patches. C. M. U. at about one-half or borax at 10 to 11 pounds per per sq. rod has also given good results.

"Regardless of the treatment, remember the seeds can live 30 years in the soil, so treat the area whenever new plants emerge."

Wide Spread In Seeding

A wide variation in crop prospects is reported in Renfrew. "First hay was cut on June 7 and is being cured on tripods. The 1953 seedings on warmer soils are very thick, and with the warm weather now prevailing, will make further growth. Many of the older meadows, however, on poor soils have still not shown much growth. Hay prospects are not nearly so good as they were a month ago. Dates of seeding vary over six to eight weeks periods, and some of the later sown fields are becoming quite grassy. Fall wheat is the best all-round average crop in the county. Most of the corn is in the ground."

Import U.S. Holsteins

A syndicate of Canadian Holstein breeders recently bought Franlo Glen Treasure Model and six of his daughters from the Bottema Farms at Bridgeport, Indiana. The members of the syndicate are: J. D. Innes of Woodstock; Robert Howden, Maple; H. F. Findlay, Maple; Hugh Hallward of Frittenden Farms, Quebec, and J. E. Houck and Sons, Brampton.

It is reported that the imports from the U.S. are going to be at Houckholme Farm near Brampton, and should be of interest to any Holstein breeders travelling in that direction. The dam of the bull was Brown's Mistress Corinne bred and raised at the Brown Corporation farm, Quebec. Her record indicates that she is one of the great transmitting cows of the breed.

The bloodlines of the sire track back through Montvic Chief Tensen, a daughter of Montvic Chiefain who was in turn a son of Johanna Rag Apple Pabst imported from the United States years ago by the late T. B. Macaulay at the big price of $15,000.

Girls' Conference At OAC

Two Peterborough girls are going to the first provincial conference of members of the 4-H Homemaking Clubs of Ontario at OAC June 22-25. They are: Donna Payne of Warsaw and Barbara Mann of South Smith 4-H Club. A big program has been arranged, including a dinner Thursday June 25 at which the speaker will be C. D. Graham, deputy minister of agriculture. Miss Jean M. Scott, formerly of the extension service, and now consultant with the Women's Institute branch will present the confernece theme: "The Girl and Her World." Miss Scott is known to most of the Peterborough Homemakers.

OAC Head At Lindsay

Dr. J. D. MacLachlan, president of Ontario Agricultural College, was one of the western Ontario visitors at Dairy Day. Premier Frost came early in the afternoon and stayed late. . . Wm. J. Murphy, owner of the farm where the demonstration was held informed the Examiner yesterday that all the exhibitors he talked to were highly pleased with the number of contacts and enquiries in just one day. Some of them said they had more encouraging results than the week of the plowing match. . . .

Escapes Tractor Upset

Arnold Stevenson of Asphodel had a narrow escape a few days ago from serious injury from the overturning of his tractor with mower attached. The big wheel dropped into the opening of a groundhog's hole on a slope of the field. Mr. Stevenson was fortunately in a standing position, and as he felt the sidewise lurch of the machine he leaped clear of both tractor and cutter and jumped farther to safety. The outfit turned over three times before coming to rest. The report of the accident emphasized that it was a close call for a young farmer of the the township who has been showing fine capacity for leadership and service these last few years.

Have Renewed Contract

Marketing Board of Ontario Hog Producers is reported to have signed recently a contract with United Livestock Sales for one year. Apparently there has been no public announcement of this extension of the agreement and terms between the marketing board and ULS. Some criticism has been noticed of official tardiness in acquainting producers of this action so closely relating to their interests.

Plowing Match In Smith

Reg Ferguson, president, has called a meeting of the directors of the county plowmen's association for Monday night, June 21 in the office of the Department of Agriculture. The county match will be held at the farm of Henry Sharpe in Smith township, on a date not yet decided.

As to the international match near Waterloo, Oct. 12-15, entries must be in the hands of the secretary, F. A. Lashley, not later than Oct. 5. The Waterloo committee are already predicting that the 1954 match will set an all time record, literally bigger and better than ever.

Young Scot To Lanark

Not only the mosquitoes of Otonabee, but the entire Ontario species as he has smacked them during his month in the province, will be a lingering memory with Malcolm Hume when he returns to his home in Angus county, Scotland.

One of the four British Junior Farmers visiting in Ontario this summer, Mr. Hume left Peterborough Thursday at noon for Perth, and another week or ten days in Lanark. He has been guest at the homes of Don Macfarlane and Jack Matchett. At the CPR station seeing him off on his further experience among Ontario farmers were: Mr. and Mrs. Matchett, Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane, Miss Doris Jopling, Frank C. Paterson and Ken Best.

Mr. Hume expressed disappointment that he was not going to see the completion of the baled hay elevator which was begun this week at the Macfarlane home. Perhaps in the spirit of maintaining Scottish approval of practical economy, he was interested in the felling and pealing of the tall cedars that are converted into poles for the hay elevator. In Forfarshire he said there were no cedars available.

SAW LIFT LOCK

His motor trips through the county included a view of Peterborough from Armour Hill and a study of the Lift Lock, Wednesday afternoon at the Ontario Dairy Day at Lindsay, observation of cutting grass for silage at the farms of Clarence Johnston, Henry Sharpe and Clarence Mann.

Mr. Hume was also accompanied by Ken Best in a call at the farm of Lorne Reynolds to see the method of turkey production that is carried on extensively today in Ontario, and the big flock of broiler chickens at Dan Wheeler's on the centre line of Smith was new in his experience.

The Indian reserves in Brant and Peterborough counties were somewhat different from Mr. Hume's expectation. He said the 4-H Clubs and Junior Farmer organizations in Ontario were more comprehensively developed here.

"We have no 4-H Clubs, and our Junior Farmers lack the government interest and support which you have. Our members are left to our own devices, and we do not get the membership which you have in this province. I think it is a big advantage to have the background of the governments and the industries which assist the Junior movement."

DAIRY REQUIREMENTS

As to pasture, Mr. Hume said the average in his country was two steers and a sheep or two per acre. There are no wooden floors in the dairy barns; no whitewash on the walls, which have to be concrete and kept scrupulously clean; no loft overhead. There is only one story to the farm dairy, an example of the strict regulations the government has imposed.

In general practice hay is not baled, but is mostly cured on tripods. Mr. Hume said there were other phases of difference in farming practices, and on the whole it was not easy to make comparisons.

More Profit In Cowless Pasture Tests

One of these days dairy cows may disappear from Canadian pastures. Experiments now underway in New Jersey indicate that it is much more profitable to bring pasture to the cows than to let them out on pasture.

During the tests, 50 head of Holstein cows were kept in their barn all summer. Each day at 7 a.m. and 2 p.m. a wagon load of green feed was harvested and fed to the cattle. Cows were given the opportunity to eat all the green feed they could consume.

The experiment showed that 50 cows each ate an average of 92 pounds of green feed daily. The persistency of their production was greater than cows out on pasture. The latter dropped off in production sharply during the summer when pastures were short. It was estimated that at least 920 pounds of feed (green basis) were saved daily by bringing it to the cows instead of letting them trample the pasture. Fertilization was an important part of the project.

NO GRAZING LOSSES

Experiments were promoted to carry out these tests by two factors. The first was the excessive waste which reached as high as 25 per cent of the total grass available. This wastage represents an economic loss to dairymen that is becoming increasingly critical as the value of land increases. By cutting the grass and taking it to the cows it is possible to harvest all the forage grown without any grazing losses.

Perhaps the most important advantage of this type of feeding is the elimination of summer slumps in milk production during dry spells when grass becomes short. Many cows never recover from this slump during the same lactation. Fencing and supplying water on pasture are no longer required with "zero" pastures.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS in the handling of forage crops for hay and silage have created new intrest and problems for the livestock specialist.

69.7% Grade "A" Carcasses From Self Fed Hogs Leonard McNeil's Report

CAVAN (ENS)—Leonard McNeil of Cavan township has for years been interested in improving the quality of livestock on Ontario farms, especially in the breeding of swine. Early this year he was elected to the board of directors of the Ontario Swine Breeders Association, and was appointed a delegate to the annual meeting of the Canadian Swine Breeders Association in Brandon, Man., last week.

On Friday June 4, Mr. McNeil set out on the first leg of his journey, and attended a meeting at Waterloo, Ont. at the advanced registry feeding station. Wm. P. Watson, Ontario livestock commissioner, gave the address of welcome, and Wm. McMullen, fieldman for the swine breeders discussed carcasses.

AWARDED SECOND PRIZE

Mr. McNeil won the Canada Packers prize for the second highest scoring sow in Ontario. The visitors were luncheon guests of Snyder Packing Co., Kitchener. At 11 p.m. the Ontario delegates left by train for Brandon. Mr. McNeil had the unique experience of being the first delegate east of Toronto to be sent from Ontario to the Dominion Swine breeders annual meeting for more than 20 years.

On their arrival in Brandon Sunday afternoon, the convention delegates were welcomed by A. R. Tolton, Oak Lake, Man., director of the Manitoba Swine Breeders, who was dinner host at his farm home. Breeders were present from all across Canada.

Convention business was discussed Monday and Tuesday. In his report on advanced registry for swine in Ontario, Mr. McNeil said that 636 pigs were marketed during the year from the Ontario test station at Waterloo. They had been fed entirely with self-feeders, and had a Grade A carcass average of 69.7% as compared with the all Canadian percentage of 27.2%.

SELF-FEEDING ECONOMY

These pigs were marketed in 176.6 days, less than six months feeding time, and consumed an average of 3.5 pounds for every pound gain live weight. These pigs were assembled from 72 breeders' herds across Ontario. It was emphasized that the use of self-feeders had shortened the feeding period three weeks as compared with the hand fed method, and reduced the consumption rate at least 20 pounds for each 200 lb. hog. They have also maintained a high standard of quality in the production of Grade A carcasses.

These facts and figures were cited by Mr. McNeil against the contention that self fed hogs have a tendency to produce fat carcasses which would not grade so well. But, if animals are used from advanced registry blood lines, with a balanced ration in the feeders, there should be no difficulty in producing carcasses that will grade high.

GUESTS OF GOVERNMENT

The delegates were guests of the government of Manitoba on Wednesday on a tour that included a trip to the large summer resort at Clear Lake, followed by a visit to Dauphin, considered the garden of Manitoba. The were welcomed by the mayor and council of the town, and enjoyed further evidence of western hospitality. In the evening they were guests at a banquet. John Connors, Manitoba livestock commissioner, had charge of all the arrangements for the convention, and the swine breeders of Canada gratefully complimented him for the interesting program and the variety of entertainment.

HOME BY PLANE

The eastern delegates left Wednesday for home by plane. They stayed over night in Winnipeg, and with some time to spare they viewed the scene of the $2,000,000 fire on Portage Ave. They boarded the plane again Thursday morning, and arrived at Malton airport at 2:25 p.m.

Mr. McNeil said he experienced some discomfort in adjusting himself to the 84 degrees temperature in Toronto after the flight at 15,000 feet with the thermometer outdoors in the sky registering 5 below zero.

Government Rejects Pleas For Bigger Allowances For Burned-Out Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—Pleas for more and bigger allowances to Old Sweats of the First World War prematurely aged by combat duty have been made by members of all parties in the Commons. The government has rejected the requests.

Opposition members and some Liberal back-benchers Thursday called for improvements in war veterans allowances paid to so-called "burned-out" veterans more than 60.

They urged the government to accept the requests of the Canadian Legion to increase the allowances to $60 a month from $50 for single veterans and to $120 from $90 for married veterans.

A second legion request received equal support—to boost the ceiling on permissible income to $1,200 from $720 for single and to $2,000 from $1,200 for married veterans. The present income ceiling allows additional income of $120 a year without a reduction in the allowance.

SOME 40,000

Allowances now are paid to some 40,000 veterans or widows.

Col. A. J. Brooks (PC — Royal) urged immediate action. The average age of recipients was 64 or 65.

"They are dying off very quickly. A month or a year or two years means a great deal to them."

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South), Victor Quelch (SC—Acadia) and Elmore Philpott (L—Vancouver South), all First World War veterans, were among those who supported the plea.

Veterans Affairs Minister Lapointe said the question is under continuous review by the government, but he pointed to the cost. He said that granting of the legion's two requests would mean an additional $18,000,000 to $19,000,000 a year above the $27,715,000 now paid in allowances.

Other requests that allowances be paid to First World War veterans who served in England would cost another $5,670,000.

BIG INCREASE

Granting all demands would increase the outlay on allowances 95 per cent.

Mr. Lapointe, a lieutenant-colonel in the Second World War, said there seems to be some confusion concerning the "burned out" allowances.

They were, in effect, old age pensions paid at 60 years of age—10 years before universal old age pensions came into effect. They were based on the principle that veterans were prematurely aged by war service.

"LACK OF UNDERSTANDING"

Words such as callousness, indifference and stupidity aimed at the government indicated a lack of understanding of the situation.

Total expenditures of the veterans affairs department were just more than five per cent of the national budget. It was "a small price to pay to veterans of three wars whose sacrifices made it possible for Canadians to enjoy their present standards of living."

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) said government policy is to treat recipients of the allowances on the same basis as civilian welfare cases. The veteran had risked his life for his country and should have a greater claim.

ADD VOICES

At the night sitting, Wallace Nesbitt (PC—Oxford), Rev. Dan McIvor (L — Fort William) and H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) added their voices in support of the legion's request.

Mr. Nesbitt said the cost would be about $3,000,000 and he is sure there isn't a Canadian who would object to keeping a tax on sports equipment to raise that sum. He noted that sports equipment and other goods were among those on which taxes were reduced to a total of about $36,000,000 in Finance Minister Abbott's budget.

Mr. McIvor said he heartily supports increases for veterans and he also believes that veterans should be able to obtain pensions at the age of 60 without a means test.

Miss Sybil Bennett (PC-Halton) pleaded the case of parents of war dead who receive war pensions. She said the pensions should not be discontinued when these persons reach the age of 70 and become eligible for the universal $40-a-month old age pension.

Henry Hosking (L — Wellington South) asked that property qualifications for veterans re-establishment credits be reviewed. Some bachelor veterans could not meet the qualifications and thus lost claims to the credits.

NUTRITIONAL PROBLEMS still take a heavy toll in livestock production. The hog, left, displays typical rickets with painful malformed legs resulting from improper winter feeding. Same pig six weeks later after receiving vitamin D and mineral supplements shows marked but not complete recovery.

Light Horse Group Guests Of A. B. Mann

Exhibitors of light horses from central Ontario, Midland to Trenton, were recently entertained at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Mann, Smith township.

Dinner was served on the beautiful grounds at The Hawthorns, and there were short speeches by Mr. Mann, Frank Baldwin, Burritt Mann and also George Atchison, Bloomfield. Motion pictures of light horse shows throughout the district, discussion on the breed were the main part of the program. There were also pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Peterborough RR No. 3 on a trip to breeding farms in Kentucky.

Thanks were extended to the hosts for their hospitality, and Mrs. Mann was presented with a bouquet of roses.

200 Guests Attend Hostess Tea Of WA

MILLBROOK (ENS) — More than 20 guests attended the hostess tea in St. Andrew's United church hall, sponsored by the town group of the WA.

Tea was poured at a lace-covered table, with flowers and lighted candles, by the Rev. Margaret Butler. Dr. Edna Eastcott acted as cashier.

Vocal soloists were Mrs. G. A. Spicer and Mrs. Lawrence Winslaw. Miss Augusta Clarry accompanied the soloists and supplied music during the tea hour.

There were guests present from Lindsay, Peterborough, Cavan, Centreville, Fraserville, Ida and Bailieboro as well as from Millbrook.

Ontario Timber Conservation Need Stressed

NORTH BAY (CP) — Ontario Lands and Forests Minister Gemmell today stressed the need for conservation and reforestation of Ontario timber at a regional conference of the Canadian Institute of Forestry.

Mr. Gemmell told about 100 trained foresters attending the meeting that the first step in the conservation program is the organization of fire protection.

Technical foresters lead the way in this respect, he said. In spite of the number of fires this year, their small size "is a tribute to the alert quality of our organization."

In spite of the modern methods fire pumps, towers, bulldozers, aircraft and radio—nothing will take the place of "continued vigilance on summer woods operations, coupled with the creation of a fire consciousness among those who seek recreation in the woods," he said.

Mr. Gemmell announced the establishment of a new experimental nursery in the North Bay area and plans for a second at Swastika.

The nurseries are being established, he said, because the demand for several important species of trees still exceeds the supply despite the fact that nursery output doubled since 1945 with a current production of 24,000,000 trees.

He also described a survey by the department's reforestation staff in the North Bay area.

Mr. Gemmell said responsibility for the management of all renewable resources fell upon the department after its amalgamation with the fish and wildlife services in 1946.

Completion of the forest resources inventory for northern Ontario "will now make possible better integration of land use for wood crops, recreation and wildlife," he said.

Will Continue Fight For Independence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lolita Lebron, convicted with three men for wounding five Congressmen but facing a lighter sentence, swore today that she will continue to fight for Puerto Rican independence from the United States.

The slight, 34-year-old brunette, was acquitted Thursday of five charges of intent to kill. She had been found guilty Wednesday of five counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Her three fellow members of the Radical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—were convicted Wednesday on all 10 counts.

They face possible maximum penalties of 75 years in prison. Mrs. Lebron could get up to 50 years in prison.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff may pass sentence within about a week.

The airport, in operation since February, is using temporary wooden buildings.

Police Press Search For Hit-Run Truck

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Provincial police today were pressing their search for a hit-run truck driver who sped away after he ran down and killed a 33-year-old Albanian immigrant on the Winery hill Thursday night.

Coroner Dr. P. J. Sweeney, was awaiting the results of a post mortem before ruling on an inquest.

Police said they were looking for a Fargo truck with racks on either side. The vehicle may bear marks of the impact but so far no other description is available.

The Movie Column

Brando Doing Another Film Because Of Vow

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marlon Brando says he is doing another film role because of a vow to his dying mother.

The actor has reported to 20th Century-Fox to portray the young Napoleon in the film version of the best seller "Desiree." He has returned in glory to the studio where his name was mud only a few months ago.

When he failed to report for shooting of "The Egyptian," the studio replaced him with Edmund Purdom. Then it sued Brando for $2,000,000. The suit was cancelled when Brando agreed to appear in "Desiree" opposite Jean Simmons.

AGREED TO "DESIREE"

Brando explained:

"My mother was very ill when the whole thing happened. She was very upset by the innuendo and sniping at me after I left the picture. She made me promise to patch up the trouble. So I agreed to do 'Desiree.'

"She's dead now. But the deal is still on."

He gave no indication that he is any happier with his current role than he was with "The Egyptian." I talked to him as two make-up women were fitting a wig on his head. He gazed placidly in the mirror as they curled the phony locks into a replica of Napoleon's hair. He was pleasant and affable and talked about a variety of subjects with the usual Brando frankness.

HE DISLIKES TV

While making "The Wild One," he had told me he planned to work in only one more picture. This could be it.

"I'd like to do a play," he remarked. "Maybe I'll direct one. I've always wanted to see what it's like on the other end of the stick. After that, I don't know what I'll do."

Is he interested in television?

"Nah! Are you?"

I asked him about his treatment of Napoleon, whom he much resembled in the wig. He wore a Napoloneic vest over his inevitable T-shirt—but all the buttons were buttoned.

Not Worried About U.S. Give-Away Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — Trade Minister Howe indicated Thursday he is not worried about the effect on Canadian farm prices of a United States plan to dispose of billion-dollar food surpluses.

The question was raised in the Commons by E. G. McCullough (CCF—Moose Mountain), who said the U.S. selling program again may force down Canadian wheat prices.

He referred to reports that the U.S. administration has agreed to sell $1,000,000,000 worth of surplus farm products and give away a further $300,000,000 worth, and that the U.S. Senate has passed a bill to dispose of another $500,000,000 in farm products.

Mr. Howe said he has known about bills before the U.S. Congress and they were similar to provisions already in force.

"Naturally we do not like give-away programs in other countries, but the Americans have used these programs with great discretion," he said. "I know of no serious result to Canadian agriculture from the operation of the bills up to the present time."

Fleet Coverage On City Cars Said Excessive

Under the present fleet insurance coverage of city-owned cars there is an additional charge of approximately $30 over and above what might be charged for insuring a car with no accident history, Dr. J. P. Wells, medical officer of health told the board of health at the monthly meeting, Wednesday.

If individually insured, the maximum additional charge on a car with poor accident history would be about $12.50, he said.

GOOD RECORD

Dr. Wells said that the health's department record with its six cars is exceptionally good as far as accidents are concerned. And yet with the present arrangement the department is being assessed with the same premium as are charged to other departments with poor accident histories.

The insurance company's regulations stipulate that where there is fleet coverage for a corporation all cars owned by that corporation shall be included in the policy. Between 60 and 70 cars are owned by the city.

This vetos any arrangement whereby individual departments may havet separate fleet coverages.

It has not been established that the alternative, which is individual coverage for each city- owned car, could cost the city more.

QUALIFIED FOR PREMIUMS

The purpose of fleet coverage of cars with good accident histories would qualify them for premiums less than might be available in case of individual insurance.

E. A. Outram, secretary of the board of health, said he would establish whether or not the city is saving money by fleet coverage rather than individual coverage. He will secure a departmental breakdown under present fleet coverage, which would show premiums currently applicable to each department.

"Then each department head and controlling committee would know their insurance status and give additional incentive to provide against accidents," said Dr. Wells.

Oppenheimer Review To Beat Inquiry

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources today said one reason the United States administration decided to conduct a security review of atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer was to head off a possible congressional investigation.

William L. Borden wrote to the FBI Nov. 7, 1953, after resigning as executive director of the Senate-House atomic energy committee, that his study convinced him Oppenheimer "more probably than not . . . is an agent of the Soviet Union."

The letter was made public Tuesday night in the transcript of the Oppenheimer hearings before a special three-man review board. Many scientists who testified called Oppenheimer, a principal developer of the atomic bomb, both loyal and an excellent security risk.

McCARTHY WAS SUSPICIOUS

Informed congressional sources who declined to be quoted by name said copies of Borden's letter came into possession of investigating committees headed by Senator McCarthy and Senator William E. Jenner (Rep. Ind.).

McCarthy, the Wisconsin Republican, has spoken of looking into Oppenheimer's past record and, before the security review was announced, mentioned an 18-month "delay" in development of the hydrogen bomb.

The informants said some congressmen fear any Capitol hill probe might throw the case into public "partisan politics," and that they led a backstage move to place it before the special board.

Prints Always Stay Fresh

BY GAILE DUGAS, (NEA)

NEW YORK (NEA)—The summer clothes that come out of a vacation suitcase fresh and crisp, that never wilt in the heat of the day, that are light, cool and airy are the fashions that women rightfully treasure from June to September.

For travelling, working or partying, the nylon print is a handy thing to have. A cinch to wash and a breeze to dry, these dresses offer prints in swirling geometrics, vivid flower blooms or handsome abstracts.

In solid color fabrics that have a cool and lacy look, permanent pleating is used, either grouped or spread over the entire skirt surface.

This year, nylon prints are designed for juniors, misses and the mature figure. Prints are scaled to size in each group.

Skirts for these pretty summer prints are kept wide and light, some of them held out by nylon net linings that provide gentle stiffening. Nylon velvet appears often as trim since it, too, is completely washable.

IN DEEP MIDSUMMER, dresses that are both airy and practical fill a wardrobe void. These three are in nylon, need only a light sudsing, make good travelling companions. Embossed print (left) with Empire bodice has skirt completely lined in nylon net for wide look. Nylon velvet trim on dress with gathered neckline (centre) is used to bind neckline and brief sleeves and to form front tie. This is a junior. For the mature figure (right), there's this brown-and-yellow print with crossed and folded front pleat for walking ease. All three designs are by Bloomfield. Prints range from geometrics to abstracts, are scaled to figure size.

DARK PLAID for summer has freshness, is shown here in full-skirted dress with scoop neckline and reversible cape stole that ties or drapes. Fabric is a long staple cotton by Lanella; the plaid is in black and gold. —(By Gaile Dugas, NEA)

Cape Collar, Outsize Sleeves Feature Latest In Coats

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP) — Moderately-priced winter fashions styled for markets at home and abroad have been unveiled in the seventh Fashion Fortnight, the first sponsored by British manufacturers without government aid.

The event, inaugurated in 1948, attracted hundreds of buyers from around the world. The top designers who cater to the higher income brackets will show their wares in late July.

Biggest fashion interest of the Fortnight's displays lay in the huge cape collars and outsize sleeves shown in loose and fitted coats. Most collars came below the shoulders, following the recent spate of cut-away necklines. They range from choir boy numbers, consisting of Peter Pan collars of fur set against mandarin neckbands of coat material, to cape styles almost waist deep.

WINTER SUITS

Tailored winter suits with classic lines had Quaker collars tipped with fur and fur-topped slit pockets. Many were buttoned from jacket neck to skirt hem and worn with matching swagger coats having straight fullness and big sleeves tucked into narrow cuffs.

Sleeves widened from raglan shoulders to end in folds of material tucked into deep tight cuffs. Some slimmed from batwing shoulders until they seemed too narrow for the deep collars.

Squared collars, rounded or pointed collars were trimmed with beaver or persian lamb. One loose coat in parchment white wool, buttoned from pocket height to throat, had a persian lamb collar in donkey brown coming almost to the waist.

Coat styles were fitted princess lines with full swirling skirts, fitted to a Paris-style corselet waist, or loose, straight and buttoned to the throat. Wrap-round tent coats are out and belts almost at a premium.

BUTTONED AT WAIST

Many princess coats are buttoned only at the waist. A black barathea with flouncing lines had deep, square collar covered in white ermine. Ermine extended down front lapels that stretched to a double-breasted waist fastening.

White arctic fox trimmed the front and collar of a loose coat in white and gold tissue lame with deep dolman sleeve. Many cheaper coats were trimmed with fur fabrics.

The most striking models were pony- and leopard-printed pile fabrics in black and white, styled in princess lines. These fabrics also had effective and warm linings.

Materials were light and not as hairy as last winter's. No velvet was used, even for trimmings. Soft suede took the place of velvet trimmings. Colors included sapphire and turquoise blues alternating with light browns and winter whites. Rough tweeds were at a minimum and came in grey mixtures.

Always give small children good example in disconnecting appliances. Be sure to grasp the plug, not the cord. This insures greater safety and also saves wear on the cord.

If the icing you've prepared for that special cake becomes much too stiff, don't fret. Add a few drops of hot water, but slowly, using only a drop at a time. Mix carefully, and you're all set to decorate your cake.

Readers' Friday Column

CONDUCTED BY MARY MOORE

QUESTION: . . . trouble is I don't clip the recipes until I am sure the family has read the paper . . . one was a recipe for a good genuine mayonnaise . . published about a year ago in a column on salad making . . . there was a wonderful potato salad in it . . I have it but not the mayonnaise . . we have a family picnic each Father's Day . . . my 3 sisters and parents all living in different cities are all together then to compare babies etc. There will be ten adults and twelve children from six months to twelve years . . I am to take the Potato Salad . . Nora R.

ANSWER: I shortened your letter slightly but you gave me a delightful picture of your plans.

GENUINE MAYONNAISE

All ingredients and the bowl should be cold. Into cold bowl put 3 cold egg yolks, 1 tablespoon each sugar, mustard and salt and 1 tablespoon vinegar. Beat with rotary or electric beater until thick. Have ready and measured 5 tablespoons lemon juice (may be part vinegar) and 2 cups cold salad oil. While beating begin adding oil 1 tablespoon at a time until you have added 4 tablespoons then add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, beating until oil, then lemon juice are incorporated before making another addition. Continue in this way until all oil and lemon juice are used and mayonnaise is very thick. During time when last cup of oil is being added 2 or even 3 tablespoons oil may be added at once. If desired and if mayonnaise is very thick 1 or 2 more tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar may be added. If desired pepper and paprika may be added too. Mayonnaise should be kept carefully covered in refrigerator. Happy Day.

LESTER: Sometime ago you received a request for a tart recipe making a kind of tarts that are purchased in bakery shops. I have such a recipe that my grandmother used and one we think is even better.

SPICED CAKE TARTLETS

(courtesy Mrs. John H. Smith)

One recipe for plain pastry; currant jelly; 2-3 cup shortening, ¾ cup brown sugar, 2 eggs well beaten, 2-3 cup molasses, 2 cups flour, ¾ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ cup raisins, 2-3 cup milk. Line individual muffin pans with pastry and put 1 teaspoon of jelly in each. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and molasses. Add the dry igredients, which have been sifted together, alternately with the milk. Add raisins. Fill tart shells ¾ full and bake in a hot oven of 400 deg. Fahr. about 25 minutes. Cool and ice with maple butter glaze.

ANSWER: Thank you for taking the time to send this recipe. Such recipes are a rare find. I also hope the lady who was seeking the bakery shop tart recipe sees it.

QUESTION: . . . perhaps you could tell me what I am doing wrong in plain cakes. I use an institutional size . . electric mixing mixer, but my cakes are always heavy, and sometimes have heavy streaks through them. I allow 40 minutes at 350 deg. Fahr. but this sometimes results in a dark crispy crust. Often my shortening, sugar and egg mixture appears very curdled after beating at medium speed for 5 minutes, and not giving the volume it should. I add the dry ingredients alternately with the liquid at low speed and mix only until well mixed. I often have large holes in my finished product . . . V. M. B.

ANSWER: In the first place I will have to have your formula—for it must be out of balance. Secondly dry mix and milk should not be mixed in electric beater. When shortening and sugar and salt are mixed they wil cream up fine and maybe the first 1 or 2 yolks, but more may cause curdling because emulsification has broken down and no amount of beating will bring it back. Once it is curdled there's no hope, and that is what causes heavy streaks the crust. Send me your formula and I will adjust it and return it corrected to you promptly.

When washing your toaster, never put it in water, because this will ruin its heating element. Just wipe it off with a damp cloth and dry carefully. Buy an inexpensive paint brush to keep all bread crumbs out.

DOROTHY DIX:

Criticism Disturbs Teen-Ager

DEAR MISS DIX: Can you give me some advice concerning how to make my mother understand things, without hurting her feelings I'm a high-school junior, help around the house quite a bit and make good grades in school. Yet mother tells them I do no housework, never study, and am very dull at school. She acuses me of smoking, drinking and seeing boys on the sly—none of which I do. I'd like to feel closer to my Mom, to be able to talk things over with her, but she never has any comment, except criticism. One of my aunts spoke to her about my problem, but Mom says she intends to raise her children the way she wants. How can I make her see things differently?

LOIS

PASSING A PRECIOUS EXPERIENCE

ANSWER: Your mother is cheating you and herself of one of the most precious experiences in life—the pleasure of companionship with a teen-age child. She is so concerned with the technique of child-raising that she forgets happiness is also an integral part of bringing up a family. Later on she'll regret her present attitude as much as you do now.

Young people in the growing-up stage need the assurance that they are loved and trusted by their parents. This security is, of course, of vital importance in all stages of life, but teen-agers need it most of all. They like to know that their friends are welcome at home, and they especially want to be proud of their families. Naturally, a parent who humiliates a child before the youngster's friends is well on the way to losing the confidence of her children.

Your mother's intentions are probably good, Lois; it's just that she's so bound with a sense of duty—and according to her definition duty can never include anything pleasant—that she is losing sight of the human factor. Parents who share the joys and sorrows of their adolescents are indeed blessed. It is the time of gradual nidependence and the time for solidifying the relationship of the future when the children, too, will have reached adulthood.

Wise parents will make the most of these fleeting years; the foolish ones are those who set up a wall between themselves and their young. Perhaps your mother will read this, and it may make her realize that her little girl is growing up and is entitled to more consideration than is forthcoming at present.

DEAR MISS DIX: Carl and I have gone together two years and, though nothing has ever been arranged between us, we have not dated others. Now he's going to Europe for three months and has asked me to wait for him, not dating anyone else until he returns. I must confess I don't like the prospect. I'm 17 and Carl is 20.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You might remind Carl that it's extrmely unlikely he'll go dateless while he's away and you prefer not to tie yourself down to a summer of social inactivity. If you two really care for each other, intervening dates won't cause a change of heart.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Though I'm only 15, I fell hard head over heels in love with a young man of 20. I am working for the summer in an office where he is a full-time employee. He is very pleasant but is never any more friendly to me than to anyone else in the office. How can I get him more interested?

DORIS G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Better take it easy, Doris. The young man may be married, engaged, going steady or just considers you too young for his serious intention. What you are undergoing is more a case of hero worship than love. It won't last long.

Terry Suit Needs No Ironing

BY ALICIA HART

Glancing at a girl on the beach, in fresh-looking beach fashions, you're inclined to think she spends all her spare time taking care of them.

Looking well-groomed on the beach is no difficult task when you have terry cloth beach clothes and accessories. Newest of the terry cloth items is a romper bathing suit in smart paisley print. A decorative and practical addition is a matching terry cloth beach towel.

You'll find that taking care of your terry cloth bathing suit requires little time and effort. Simply toss it in your washtub filled with warm soapsuds. Then, rinse in lukewarm water. To avoid creases, try to squeeze out extra moisture without wringing.

Shake your swim suit vigorously before hanging. This will help to fluff up its surface. It also gets rid of any wrinkles.

Finally, stretch the seams of your suit, close fastener and turn it right side out to dry. To speed up drying, hang your suit outdoors. To insure the fastest drying, be sure to squeeez out the water that might collect at the bottom of your suit.

When it's dry, you'll be delighted to discover your bathing suit needs no ironing.

THIS WELL-GROOMED GIRL relaxes on the beach in paisley-print terry suit that washes easily and requires no ironing. For extra smartness, she adds a matching beach towel.

CCF Crown Corporations Source Of Controversy

By WILF CHISLETT

REGINA (CP)—In or out of season, the CCF government's crown corporations are a source of major political controversy in Saskatchewan.

Wherever people discuss governmental problems of this agricultural province, the eight corporations and the 12 enterprises they control usually come up. There have been many debates in the legislature on the CCF's entry into business.

The government has set up 18 enterprises since assuming office in 1944. Six have closed, four after piling up substantial losses. The government also controls power and telephone corporations inherited from the former Liberal administration. One corporation, the government finance office, administers financing of all but power and telephone corporations.

VARIETY OF SERVICES

The CCF operates an air service into northern Saskatchewan and a bus company which has a monopoly on provincial routes. A timber board regulates cutting and sale of timber from crown lands, some of which goes to the government-owned box factory at Prince Albert.

An insurance office looks after the government's compulsory automobile insurance plan. Another insurance firm does extensive business in Saskatchewan and has been authorized to underwrite in Montana. There is a brick and tile plant at Estevan in the northwest, a printing corporation responsible for government bookbinding, and fish and fur marketing agencies. A trading division has stores at northern posts.

Enterprises closed were a woollen mill at Moose Jaw, a fish board which operated filleting plants on northern lakes, a tannery and a leather products division which made shoes.

These four enterprises, plus the box factory and the brick and tile plant which still are running, had run up a total deficit of $1,639,000 by March 31, end of the last fiscal year.

These are the cumulative deficits: Fish board $364,264; shoe factory $82,727; tannery $70,036; woollen miller $830,390; box factory $18,920; brick and tile plant $269,861.

Two other corporations which closed ran up a total profit of $485,000. They were the corporation set up to sell war surplus—$90,699—and an organization to handle housing—$395,094.

The auto-insurance plan was $1,881,000 in the red at the end of last year.

This so - called "CCF corporations" are financed by yearly advances from the finance office. No interest is charged. The Liberal opposition contends interest should be charged because corporations gain revenue directly from the public, the basis on which the federal government operates the Canadian National Railways.

Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines says advances should be interest-free because they are share capital—the system used by the federal government in financing the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation which receives no direct revenue from listeners.

Liberals also claim they are kept in the dark about many important matters on corporations and state it is hard to assess their true standing. Government leaders in refusing information on certain corporation activities at the last session of the legislature charged Liberal members sought details which would aid private competition.

BIG INVESTMENT

The CCF enterprises were set up under the crown corporations act which gives the government the right to bring under state control any business or industry falling within its jurisdiction. Only one, the box factory, was expropriated under the act and that after a labor dispute. Other enterprises have been organized individually or bought from private hands. Total investment, the government says, has been $10,500,000.

Mr. Fines says the experimental industries designed to use Saskatchewan products have proved "expensive" with losses higher than expected. On the other hand, he says, government enterprises have brought opportunity to employment, service and manufacturing potential to Saskatchewan.

The government insurance office in 1950 reduced its fire-loss premiums 40 per cent, and private companies followed suit. It went into Montana at rates 20 per cent below those current. John J. Holmes, state auditor, in a recent interview in Regina, said the government firm has brought about a "very substantial" reduction in Montana insurance premiums.

Opponents have blamed the collapse of the closed corporations on poor planning and management.

But Mr. Fines, in winding up affairs of the woollen mill during the last session of the legislature, said the condition of the Canadian textile industry in general was responsible for the closing of that corporation.

The fish board went under after three years of low fish prices and reported opposition from fishermen who were forced to sell their catch through it. The brick and tile plant was recently closed for five weeks after a shortage of orders developed and inventory piled up. The government says it may be closed again this fall if the same situation occurs.

Firefighters Holding 4 Bush Fires

SUDBURY (CP) — Four major forest fires which have burned over nearly 27,000 acres in the White River - Gogama areas are being held and none has spread during the last 24 hours, Ontario department of lands and forests officials said today.

The department said if conditions are favorable a large number of the 1,000 men who have been fighting the four major outbreaks should be out of the bush for the week-end.

Keith Acheson, Sudbury regional forester, said a number of pulp companies shifted men to fire fighting from pulpwood cutting.

16 FIRES BURNING

Two fires in the White River district are at Mobert and Odlum and two in the Gogama district, at Reeves township and Kenogaming township.

A department report at Toronto said 16 fires are burning but only one is not centralized, the 500-acre fire in Reeves township.

The department said a total of four fires are burning in the Gogama district, three in each of the Kapuskasing, Cochrane and White River districts, two in the Port Arthur area and one in Geraldton.

The hazard was termed high in the Cochrane and Gogama areas and medium in the remainder of the province.

Stirling Experiences Building Boom

STIRLING (ENS)—A building boom in the west end of the village is in evidence by the many operations under way or about to get under way.

Grant Montgomery, of Batawa, is erecting a new residence on the north side of Front St., west of the Frankford road. Gil Finkle, local carpenter, will begin operations at once.

Harold Wells is having his lots on Front and Amis streets levelled for erecting two new houses. William Webber plans to erect a house on the lot purchased from Mr. Wells on the corner of Church and Amis Street.

Robert Cooke has purchased a lot from Murney Scott on Church St. and Douglas Paterson has plans ready for a new home on the east side of Amis, between Church and Front streets.

F. Armstrong and son have building operations under way for a house on the east side of the Frankford road. Gilbert Finkle purchased a lot from Harold Johnson on the south side of Church St., on which he will build a new residence.

Civic Hospital

highest rates, because wages in hospitals are generally low.

"Wages in Peterborough are generally amongst the highest," he said, "and I believe that the hospital authorities should pay a fair wage in relation to other wages in the area."

INSIST ON INCREASE

At the Thursday night meeting when the conciliation report was rejected by the hospital workers, George Lindsell said that some rates are as low as 78½ cents an hour.

Frank Kitchen, NUPSE representative, said: "The employees . . . intend to insist on an increase. How this will come about we are not sure but the committee have full power to act. The hospital is not beyond a strike. The national office is quite in accord with the workers demands and will support them in their struggle to obtain a better standard of living. Should any ultimate action be taken we lay the blame squarely on the shoulders of the board of governors. They have not made any real effort to get money for the people who do the real work at the hospital."

Familiar Grounds

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Judge Alexander H. MacKinnon is sitting in for two weeks as a Cape Breton county judge. The former Nova Scotia mines minister started his law career here before he entered politics.

Veteran Doctor

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Dr. H. S. Atkinson received congratulations on the 50th anniversary of his entry into the medical professing. He has spent almost his entire practice at Bay Roberts since graduating from McGill University, Montreal, in 1904.

Appoint Provision

nursery school in the south end for two years, in Grove public school. It was forced to disband due to lack of leaders.

John Hamilton, a recent arrival from Scotland, felt the Board of Education should take a more active interest in YM-YW activities. "Schools are mostly empty after 4 o'clock every day, and we should make more use of them."

Speaking for Kenner Collegiate, principal Dr. E. P. Ray said that the gym is in use nearly every night of the week and bookings already have been made for the fall term.

"Where they have them, they like them." This was Mrs. Paige Rowell's summation of public opinion on combined YM-YWs. She said there was often some prior fear that women might be shoved aside by the men, but if directorates are kept on a strict 50-50 sex basis, "the differences are then not nearly so important as the similarities."

Mrs. Rowell, who has spent four years studying joint associations on the YWCA national council, also adjured the group "to make haste slowly, for you are building for a long time in the future." She noted that 400 members meet in three rented rooms in the Cornwall joint YM-YW and suggested that the south end "can't have everything overnight."

"I envy you the years ahead," said Miss Leta Brownscombe, now ending more than 35 years' service with the YWCA. She described the YMCA and YWCA as places "to grow in Christian character" and their function "to open up life to many, many young people."

While she agreed that the primary emphasis should be on the nine to 14 group, Miss Brownscombe hoped to see a young adult Y program developed in the south end. She felt more young adults would join if a Y were nearby, because baby-sitting problems would not be so bothersome.

Although he declined nomination to the board of directors, So-Ed chairman Tom Cook said the services of his group would be available to inaugurate young adult and So-Ed programs.

After the meeting, the ten directors gathered with Mr. Payne, Mrs. Rowell and Mrs. Rehill and the YMCA and YWCA professional representatives to discuss ways and means for effecting decisions made earlier.

Top Britisn, U.S. Diplomats Leave Geneva Conference

GENEVA (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith will leave the Geneva conference Sunday. There was no information as to whether either intends to return.

A U.S. announcement said Smith was flying back to Washington at the request of President Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles to make a personal report on the Indo-China peace talks.

Both will leave deputies in Geneva to carry on the Indo-China peace talks. The French had hoped the top-ranking American and British diplomats would remain at least a few more days until the new French premier, Pierre Mendes-France, had a chance to confer with them.

HOLD LATE TALKS

Eden and Smith conferred briefly this morning. Later Eden saw Red China's Chou En-lai and Smith talked with the foreign minister of Viet Nam, Nguyen Quoc Dinh.

The two western leaders planned to attend this afternoon's secret session of the nine-party Indo-China conference, which will make an effort to see what, if anything, the Communists and West have in common on their proposals for peace in Laos and Cambodia.

The nine Indo-China conference participants planned to examine various proposals already submitted by the Laotian, Cambodian and Red Chinese diplomats.

ASIANS MEET

Meanwhile, representatives of Red China, the Communist-led Vietminh, Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia scheduled another get-together today to continue their effort at settling the conflict in the French Union states.

Laos and Cambodia contend they have been invaded by foreign troops of Ho Chi Minh and call for their immediate withdrawal.

Chou En-lai declared earlier this week that "foreign troops" should leave the two small kingdoms. But both Chou and Vietminh foreign minister Pham Van Dong made clear Friday that this meant they wanted French troops to get out.

CNR Drastically Streamlining Corporate Setup

OTTAWA (CP) — A drastic streamlining of the Canadian National Railways' intricate corporate structure is in full swing.

The publicly - owned system, created out of a complex of railway, hotel and miscellaneous other properties, had consisted up to now of 78 distinct companies, tied together in a maze of interlocking ownerships.

All have been under the control of the parent Canadian National Railways Company, but in many cases the CNR held control through an intermediary company.

About two years ago, the CNR decided to pull together this loose setup, and so far a series of amalgamations has cut the number of companies down to 60.

More are in prospect, until eventually all rail operations will be run by a single company while single subsidiaries handle each of the major divisions such as communications, steamships, hotels and real estate.

"JUST GROWED UP"

The CNR calls the developing plan a "rationalization" of its structure, which topsy-like "just growed up" over more than 30 years.

Chief impetus behind the reorganization has been president Donald Gordon, who brought one of the country's keenest financial minds to the CNR when he became its head 4½ years ago. He had been deputy governor of the Bank of Canada.

Up to now, companies capitalized at more than $50,000,000 have been put through the amalgamation wringer. That is apart from the $1,700,000,000 parent company.

One big group of 12, consisting of railways in all parts of the country, has been combined under the name of Canadian Northern Consolidated Railways. Biggest in the group is the $25,000,000 Canadian Northern Pacific Railway Company.

COMPANIES LISTED

Others are:

Bay of Quinte Railway Company; Bessemer and Barry's Bay Railway Company; Canadian National Electric Railways; Canadian Northern Manitoba; Canadian Northern Western; Central Ontario; Halifax and Southwestern; James Bay and Eastern; Marmora Railway and Mining Company; Qu'Appelle, Long Lake and Saskatchewan Railroad and Steamboat Company, and the St. Charles and Huron River Railway Company.

Six others, which have been wrapped up directly with the CNR, are:

Lachine, Jacques Cartier and Maissonneuve Railway Company; Maganetawan River Railway Company; Montreal and Province Line; Ottawa Terminals; Canadian National Express Company and National Transcontinental Railway Branch Lines Company.

Two communications companies have been merged. They are the Canadian National Telegraph and Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph companies under the name of Canadian National Telegraph Company.

Howe Still Hopeful Gas Deal Possible

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe today held out hope that Canadian natural gas from the Peace river area of British Columbia and Alberta may still be piped to the Pacific Northwest area of the United States.

He expressed this hope in the Commons in commenting on a Friday ruling by the U.S. federal power commission rejecting an application by Westcoast Transmission Co., to import Canadian gas into the area. The commission authorized Pacific Northwestern Pipline Corp. of Houston, Texas, to build a $160,000,000 pipeline from the San Juan basin in New Mexico and Colorado to the Pacific Northwest.

Labor Board Counsel Dies In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Robert N. Denham, 68, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board from 1947-50, died in hospital here Friday night, apparently of a heart attack.

Denham quit the NLRB post at President Truman's request after a running fight with the NLRB over the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Moscow Given New Ammunition

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio today accused the United States of "preparing a provocation against Guatemala" because of a traditional hatred of Indians.

A Spanish - language broadcast beamed for Latin America said:

"In all his history the American Indians' worst and bitterest enemy has been U.S. monopoly.

"Now, the U.S. monopolists are plotting a fresh crime against the Indians.

"The U. S. state department hates Guatemala, the population of which is 75 per cent Indian, because the United Fruit Company has lost much of its land, now distributed among Indian peasants.

"The U.S. is preparing a provocation against Guatemala to retrieve the lost lands and reimpose the yoke upon the workers of that country."

Find Ex-Governor Shot In Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Lester C. Hunt (Dem. Wyo.), former governor now completing his first Senate term, died at noon today of a bullet wound which capitol police said apparently was self-inflicted.

He died at Casualty Hospital a few hours after he was found in his private Senate office.

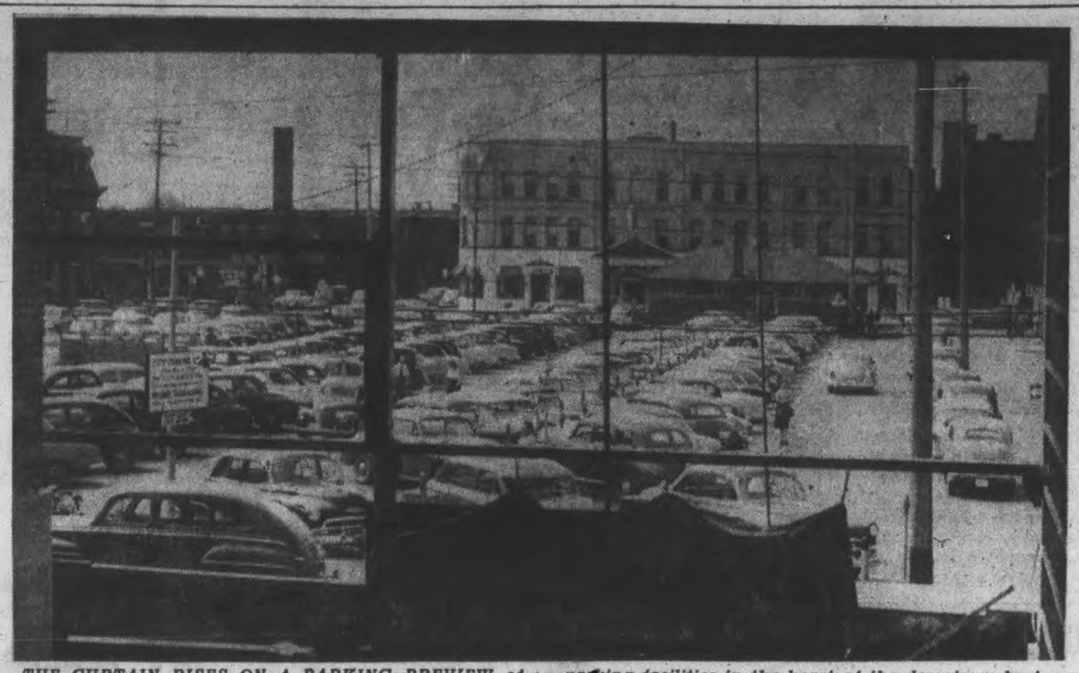
Hunt had been in ill health.

Hunt's death leaves the senate membership at 47 Democrats, 47 Republicans and one Independent.

Hunt, 61, a former governor of Wyoming, was elected to the Senate in 1948, for a term ending next Jan. 3. He announced Tuesday that he would not be a candidate for re-election because of "health conditions."

Engineers, Michigan Heads Dispute Great Lakes Level

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A midwestern states flood control conference ended Friday with a controversy between U. S. Army engineers and Michigan officials over setting a permanent level for the Great Lakes.



Col. W. P. Trower of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers told the meeting the army wants to set the permanent level on Lakes Michigan and Huron at 582.4 feet. This is only three-tenths of a foot below the 1952 high levels which raised havoc with shoreline property.

Col. Trower said, however, that the high level would aid navigation and power projects along the St. Lawrence seaway.

Milton P. Adams, secretary of the Michigan water resources commission insisted that the level should be allowed to drop to 581.3 feet. If it is not, he said, "property owners should not have to foot the bill for damage that will occur to their shoreline land and buildings."

If the level is set any higher, Adams said, the state would "bear down" for better means of regulating Great Lakes levels.

Col. Trower countered that the "few millions of dollars in damage" spread along Michigan's 3,000-mile shoreline would be offset many times over by the billions of dollars in increased commerce in the Great Lakes region resulting from the seaway.

French Premier Forms New Cabinet

PARIS (Reuters)France's new premier, Pierre Mendes - France, today announced he has formed his cabinet with himself as foreign minister.

Gaullist Gen. Pierre Koenig was appointed defence minister, and Radical Francois Mitterand minister of the interior.

Other posts are: Finance—Edgar Faure, (Radical—no change); reconstruction — Maurce Lemaire (Gaullist-no change); overseas territories — Robert Buron, Popular Republican who has joined the government despite a ban by his party in participation in Mendes-France's cabinet; public works — Jacques Chaban (Gaullist); labor—Claudius Petit (Near Radical).

GAULLIST APPOINTED

Gaullist Christian Fouchet becomes head of a new ministry for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs.

Guy Lachambre, Conservative, becomes minister for the Associated States of Indo-China.

Mendes-France, 47, won a vote of confidence as prime minister in the National Assembly on a promise to arrange a cease-fire in Indo-China within a month or quit.

QuebecReluctant To Join Project

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Duplessis has indicated Quebec is reluctant to join the federal government in developing power potential in the Montreal area in construction of the St. Lawrence seaway.

He said at his weekly press conference Friday the Quebec hydro-electric commission first wants to investigate the proposals fully before deciding if it will go ahead with the power phase of the $400,000,000 power and navigation development.

Mr. Duplessis said that Quebec's delay in reaching a decision on the hydro question would in no way delay federal work on navigation aspects of the seaway. The federal government plans to spend $120,000,000 in the Lachine section on navigation alone.

U.S.-France May Hold Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top-level French-U.S. talks on Indo-China, European defence and other critical issues appeared possible today as a follow-up to the Eisenhower-Churchill meeting opening here next week.

This prospect was brought out Friday in a letter from President Eisenhower to French president Rene Coty and made public by the White House.

Eisenhower, noting he would be meeting informally with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden the weekend of June 25, told Coty that he looked forward "to resuming with the government of France such intimate conversations as I have had in the past."

GESTURE OF FRIENDSHIP

The letter was regarded by diplomats as a gesture of friendship and reassurance by the U.S. leader in advance of a meeting in which the French will not participate, and at a time when the government of France had come into the hands of a new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, of whose ideas U.S. officials have in the past been critical.

The Eisenhower message was considerably more than an action of friendship, however, because in carefully constructed language it warned the French that so far as the United States is concerned time is running out for ratification of the proposed European Defence Community. The EDC is a U.S.-supported plan for a six-nation defence system in which Germany would take part.

The message advised the French government, moreover, that while the United States remains deeply interested in forming a "united defence" against Communist forces in Indo-China, it is reserving the right to judge what might be done under any future decision.

"In Indo-China our nation has long shown its deep concern by heavy financial and material aid which continues," Eisenhowe wrote. "The proposals for a united defence which we submitted to M. Laniel (the previous French premier) represented on our part a momentous and grave decision.

"Nothing has happened here to change the attitude thus expressed, even though the lapse of time and the events which have come to pass have, of course, created a new situation. But I assure you that we shall be ready in the same spirit to open new discussions as the forthcoming French

Declares Food Surpluses Not Mounting In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner Friday discounted opposition claims of mounting food surpluses in Canada.

He said in Commons that apart from wheat, government planning has brought a balance between farm production and what can be consumed and exported.

"We do have one surplus in wheat," Mr. Gardiner said during consideration of his department's estimates of spending. However wheat could be stored better than any other farm product.

"So if we have wheat in greater quantities than we need it in Canada or greater quantities than the world needs at the present time, it is one commodity that you can put behind an inch board and pile it up as high as you like, and it will stay there in good condition for 10 years or more. . . .

"If we can get the storage on our farms and elsewhere it will help everybody to carry on."

PLAN WORKED OUT

As for other products, the government's plan has worked out well.

"We are in a position today where we have no surpluses such as are being talked about on the other side of the house."

The plan, begun in 1935, had reached the point "where it has brought production up to where it is today, that is the production of all commodities of which we can dispose either at home or somewhere else."

Farm organizations were told in December of each year what products might best be produced. Farmers were guided by that. It had worked at the start of the Second World War in increasing bacon production for the United Kingdom, and after the war in decreasing output of bacon and dairy products when the U.K. market diminished.

SHOULD TELL PEOPLE

J. Angus MacLean (PC—Queens) said the government should advertise the fact that farmers are not responsible for high food costs.

Soviet Abolishes High Commissioner

LONDON (AP) — The Russians announced today they are giving the Germans in the Soviet zone a freer hand in running their own affairs and are abolishing the Soviet high commissioner's office in Berlin.

A Moscow radio English-language broadcast said the number of Soviet personnel in East Germany was being reduced by two-thirds. This was being carried out, the broadcast said, "in accordance with the decision of the Soviet government to establish with the German republic relations similar to those maintained with other sovereign states."

Drives Bandits Out With Hose

TORONTO (CP) — Art Bridle, slimly-built 26-year-old attendant, "washed" three hold-up men out of his service station on the New Malton road Friday night. A fourth man, driving the getaway car, was out of range of the attendant's hose.

"Their leader was wearing a white cotton mask and claimed to have a gun," said Bridle. "I asked them what they wanted. He said 'money'. I threw a handful, about $50, into their faces and they scattered around picking it up. Then I told them to watch out behind. They fell for the trick and I turned the hose on them.

"They looked just like scared kids and ran away."

"They tried to sound like Chicago gangsters," Bridle told police. "But they were just punks in jazzy draped suits."

Police Escort For Mercy Trip

TORONTO (CP) — A critically ill, three-day old girl was brought to hospital here Friday night in an ambulance which averaged 90 miles an hour on the trip from Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mary Joy Chicoski was kept alive in an incubator and with two and a half tanks of oxygen during the trip. Provincial police escorted the ambulance to the city limits where city police continued the escort. Ambulance driver Roger Hunt said he made two short stops, at St. Catharines and Burlington, where bridges were open for shipping.

Provincial police had alerted Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children that the oxygen supply was running out. However, one tank was left when the ambulance arrived.

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Uruguay today defeated Scotland 7-0 in the world soccer championships. The loss was the second straight for the Scots and eliminated them from further competition while sending undefeated Uruguay into the knockout quarter-finals.

2 Strategic Ports Held By Invaders; Ask UN Session

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Two strategic Guatemalan seaports were reported in the hands of invading anti-Communist "liberation army" forces today.

Local informants of the liberation army identified the two ports as Puerto Barrios on the Carribean and San Jose on the Pacific. The army, under command of Guatemalan army Lt.-Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, said two inland towns also may be in control of the invaders.

These towns were identified as Zacapa, which lies near the Honduras border between Puerto Barrio and Guatemala City, and the smaller town of Retalhuleu, in the southwest corner of the country near the Mexican border.

The informants said, however, that if the Guatemalan army has sent reinforcements into San Jose and Puerto Barrios the invaders may have been pushed back from initial gains. But, they added, no setbacks thus far have been reported.

SAYS PALACE GUNNED

(NBC correspondent Mac Bannell reported in a Tegucigalpa broadcast heard in New York this morning that the invaders then held about a third of Guatemala.

UNITED NATIONS, New York (AP) — Guatemala asked today for an emergency week-end session of the UN Security Council to consider "aggression" against her territory, her representative to the UN said.

He said two planes had machine-gunned the presidential palace in the capital.)

The invasion was the culmination of a long-standing effort to unseat the Communist-backed government of president Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

There are reports here that Castillo Armas has been in Guatemala since the invasion began, to lead his liberation army personally. But his movements have been kept secret and his headquarters twice has postponed without explanation a promised statement by the 40-year-old resistance leader.

The latest report of fighting inside Guatemala was at Quezaltenango, a good-sized city about 80 miles due west of Guatemala City.

The "liberation" troops, which attacked Guatemala by land,sea and air Friday were reported locked in bloody combat with defending forces at four important cities. There also were reports of internal uprisings throughout the embattled country.

Eduardo Castillo, a Guatemalan delegate to the United Nations, announced in New York Friday night his government had protested to the Security Council

Gov't Surplus Trimmed By Two-Thirds

OTTAWA (CP) — The government opened the 1954-55 fiscal year with a surplus trimmed to $29,600,000 in its April treasury accounts.

This was just a little better than one-third of the $79,400,000 surplus in April last year, reflecting rising expenditures and declining revenues.

April's revenues dropped to $245,421,000, down $23,353,000 from $268,774,000 last year, the monthly treasury statement showed Friday. Personal and corporation income tax collections declined, along with those on import and excise duties and the sales tax.

Expenditures, however, rose by $26,415,000 to $215,763,000 from $189,348,000. Spending was higher on defence, interest charges on the national debt, family allowances and veterans affairs and other departments.

AIMS AT SURPLUS

The government is aiming at a surplus of $4,000,000 for the full fiscal year on revenue estimated at $4,464,000,000 and expenditure forecast at $4,460,000,000.

In April, collections on personal income taxes dropped to $89,733,000 from $95,260,000 last year; corporation income tax declined to $63,149,000 from $75,134,000; import duties to $26,177,000 from $33,359,000 excise duties to $13,35[illegible] from $17,237,000; sales tax to $21,618,000 from $23,547,000.

Postal revenue increased to $9,500,000 from $9,000,000.

Biggest boost in spending was on defence which rose to $79,409,000 from $64,495,000.

Seize Firearms Aboard Plane

NEW DELHI (AP)—A government statement said today passengers on an Indo-China-bound French plane halted at Calcutta will be permitted to proceed, but firearms found aboard will be held for customs inspection.

The plane, carrying more than 80 persons, was held up at Calcutta Friday. The government said military uniforms were found in luggage of passengers dressed in civilian clothes, in addition to the firearms. The French said the passengers were civil service employees assigned to Indo-China.

Wedding Ends In Riot After Brides Switched

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — What should have been a happy double wedding at a village near Benares today nearly ended in a riot when the bridegrooms discovered the brides had been switched accidentally.

No one had realized which bride was which as they stood heavily-veiled before the altar.

The brides were aunt and niece and friends of the indignant bridegroom who got the aunt instead of the niece threatened to beat up the bride's parents, claiming he had been tricked.

After a meeting with village elders the bridegrooms agreed to accept their destinies — the wrong brides.

Trying To Arrange Date For Gold Smuggling Trial

BUFFALO, N.Y. (CP)—The U.S. government said today it will move to set a date at the Jamestown term of federal court next month for trial of three defendants whose arrest here led to the smashing of a multi-million dollar international gold smuggling ring.

Under indictment for alleged smuggling activities are Paul J. Lamothe, Niagara Falls, Ont.; Emanuel Lester of the Bronx and David L. Brown of New York City.

Capture of the trio by Tonawanda police and federal agents Dec. 4, 1951, climaxed 18 months of investigation.

The three men were indicted by a federal grand jury here on three counts of smuggling. They are specifically charged with illegally bringing gold, silver, nickel, platinum and tungsten into the U. S. from Canada.

BIG OPERATION

Canadian customs officials said the smuggled metals were part of an annual operation that resulted in the illegal shipment to the U.S. of about $3,500,000 in precious metals from the Timmins mining area.

The defendants were apprehended after a wild chase from Niagara Falls by secret service and customs agents. During the investigation Edwin Manning, agent in charge of the secret service here, posed as a room clerk in a Niagara Falls hotel where the suspects were registered.

Don't Look Directly At Eclipse—Warning

CHICAGO (AP)—A look at the solar eclipse June 30 through sunglasses could permanently damage your vision.

This was the warning Friday in the Journal of the American Medical Association which called attention to a statement of the join committee on industrial ophthalmology:

"No commercially marketed sunglass is sufficiently dense to permit direct gaze at the sun."

Gemmell DiesSuddenly After Speech

Ontario's Minister Of Lands, Forests For Two Years

NORTH BAY (CP) — Hon. Welland S. Gemmell, for two years Ontario's Minister of lands and forests, died here Friday of a heart attack. He was 43.

Mr. Gemmell collapsed in his hotel room shortly after addressing a Canadian Institute of Forestry regional meeting and died within minutes.

The body was taken later in the day to Sudbury, where funeral services will be held Monday. Rev. James A. Terry will conduct the service at St. Andrew's Unitd Church at 2:30 p.m. Burial will be at Park Lawn cemetery.

Mr. Gemmell's death, shortly before he was scheduled to make a trip to Trout lake three miles from North Bay to open a new chief ranger headquarters, brought tributes from political and industrial leaders throughout the province.

PREMIER SHOCKED

Premier Frost said he was "inexpressibly shocked and saddened" by the news. "He died in the course of duty and in action in the forefront of activity while going ahead with his task."

Clark B. Davis of Toronto, president of the Forest Industries Association, said Mr. Gemmell "demonstrated the keenest interest and understanding of the problems affecting the welfare of the forests of the province and the industries engaged in forest operations. He showed rare understanding of the need for close co-operation between government and industry in dealing with the problems common to both groups."

Mines Minister Kelly, only other northerner in the provincial cabinet, said in Smooth Rock Falls that "his co-operative attitude and general helpfulness have proven to be a bulwark to the government council. His advice and common sense, and his comradeship, will be sadly missed for a long time to come."

MADE INVENTORY

A former mines minister, Mr. Gemmell directed completion of a vast forest inventory of northern Ontario under his new portfolio. He was able to report, in his last address, that the inventory "will now make possible better integration of land use for wood crops, recreation and wildlife."

As lands and forests minister, Mr. Gemmell headed Ontario's elaborate system of forest protection as well as enforcing regulations designed to perpetuate the province's timber heritage.

Death came to the popular minister in this pleasant city known as "The Gateway to the North," far from the bustle of his Queen's Park office. After finishing his speech, Mr. Gemmell went immediately to his hotel suite to await the trip through summer sunshine to Trout lake.

He removed his jacket and lay down, complaining that he felt unwell. Two doctors were called, but, by the time they arrived, Mr. Gemmell was dead.

IN POOR HEALTH

The minister had been in poor health for several months.

Mr. Gemmell was a general merchant and tourist operator at Whitefish, his birthplace 20 miles west of Sudbury. He gained his first political experience as a township reeve in the Sudbury district, vainly sought a Commons seat in the general election of 1945 but won election to the Ontario legislature as Progressive Conservative member for Sudbury in 1943. He was re-elected in 1951.

His familiarity with the problems of the nickel-mining district helped fit him for appointment as mines minister in May, 1949. After successful handling of the mines portfolio, he became lands and forests minister in June, 1952, and at that time Premier Frost described him as a man familiar with the north country and its important lumbering industry.

FOURTH TO DIE

Mr. Gemmell was the fourth member of the legislature to die since the start of the 1954 session last February. Gordon MacOdrum, Leeds, and William B. Harvey, Nipissing, and J. D. Nault, Russell, died before the session ended April 6. All were Progressive Conservatives.

The house standing: Progressive Conservative 76, Liberal 6, CCF 2, Liberal-Labor 1, Labor-Progressive (Communist) 1, vacant 4. Total 90.

Surviving Mr. Gemmell, besides his widow, the former Freda Abberley of Pembroke, are their two daughters, Elizabeth Ann and Susan Marjorie.

Order Release

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson Friday ordered that Frank Costello, New York gambler, be released on $50,000 bail pending decision by the high tribunal on an appeal which his counsel plans to file. Costello, 63, was sentenced in New York last May 17 to five years in prison and fined $30,000 on income tax evasion charges.

Asks Rejoin Unesco

PARIS (AP) — Communist Poland said Friday it wants to be active again in the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. Poland has been a member, but withdrew co-operation in a political disagreement arising out of the cold war.

HIGH PRICE FOR A DIFFERENT VIEW—People who get tired of constantly seeing the same view of their city might have a new outlook after seeing these two views of the same location in Detroit, Mich. They were shot through an $1800 anamorphic lens. The top view was taken vertically and the bottom view was taken horizontally. Normal function of the costly lens is to unscramble squeezed-in images of a cinemascope picture for viewing on a movie screen.

MPs Criticize Scrawny Pigs

OTTAWA (CP)—Pigs is pigs.

And if they're a bit scrawny at the government's central experimental farm here, it's all in the cause of science.

An Ontario farmer, L. Elston Cardiff (PC—Huron), said Friday in the Commons he never saw a worse class of pigs than at the farm. They left a poor impression on visitors to the farm.

E. G. McCullough (CCF—Moose Mountain), a Saskatchewan farmer, agreed and said the experimental farm's pigs wouldn't encourage anyone to enter the hog-raising business.

Mr. Gardiner replied that the farm is experimenting with cross-breeding and in-breeding various types of pigs to see whether there can be any improvement in the white yorkshire hogs raised almost universally across Canada.

Some of the results haven't been good, he said. But it was better that the government find that out before private breeders made the same attempts.

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Rachel Cornelius, 38, of Muncey reserve, today completed one month in a coma in Victoria hospital after a truck accident.

Today is the 31st day since the truck in which she was riding was in collision with a road repairing machine in Delaware township. She has been unconscious since.

Menfolk At Ascot Wear Falsies Now

LONDON (AP) — Falsies have appeared among the menfolk at the swanky Ascot races.

Capricious fashion suddenly decreed that really smart men should have mustaches. Many were tipped off too late to grow their own.

"The rush for false mustaches, one guinea ($2.94) apiece, absolutely amazed us," said Gerald Rex, whisker-maker to the theatrical trade. "One gentleman wanted a white mustache with an artistic tobacco stain, and another required false eyebrows as well."

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fairly aggressive demand was in evidence in barley Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with exporters, domestic shippers and processors making purchases.

Trading generally was on more active lines. The oats trade disclosed domestic shipping demand and a few American orders and offerings were quite liberal. The flax trade uncovered some industrial support, while rye dealings were mainly local although a few American orders appeared. Lakehead prices for top grades of Class 2, IWA, and domestic wheat were unchanged.

Workers Call For Walkout

TORONTO (CP) — About 1,400 railway workers Friday night cheered two union leaders who called for a solid vote in favor of a country-wide walkout.

Frank Hall, chairman of the committee of 14 non-operating unions bargaining with Canada's major rail lines, told a mass meeting that gains by union members have been won only through strike action or threatened strike action.

"It is only by fighting for our rights that we have been able to get anywhere," he said.

The meeting was one of a series being held across Canada to present union issues in the railways' dispute with their 135,000 clerks, craftsmen, maintenance and other non-operating workers.

"There is no alternative for any right thinking man or woman but to vote for the strike," Mr. Hall said.

Ambrose Massey, chairman of the Toronto joint action committee, said the negotiations committee "needs a strike vote to secure a satisfactory agreement and it is our duty to see that they get it."

CITY SAID CAPTURED

A spokesman for Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, exiled Guatemalan leader of the invaders, said fierce fighting was in progress at two ports and two important inland rail centres. They were:

Puerto Barrios, Guatemala's big east coast fruit shipping port. (In New York, the National Broadcasting Co. said its Tegucigalpa correspondent reported Friday night Puerto Barrios has fallen to the rebels.)

San Jose, a naval-air base and commercial port on the Pacific coast. This city is a site of a large gasoline storage depot.

The spokesman said all four centres and Guatemala City had been bombed by planes before the invading troops hit. Capture of the four cities would cut virtually all the capital's rail connections.

The state department in Washington said it has received reports of serious uprisings in Puerto Barrios, Zacapa and Quezaltenango, 70 miles west of Guatemala City.

FEAR COMMUNIST INFLUENCE

The rebel invading force numbers a reported 5,000 men. The Guatemalan army is about 6,000 strong, but many of the officers are believed disgruntled by the leftist trend of the government. U.S. officials have expressed fears the Arbenz regime was creating a Communist beachhead within short range of the Panama canal.

First word of the fighting was announced here by rebel spokesmen after several days of open mobilization of Col. Castillo's troops throughout Honduras.

In Guatemala, foreign minister Guillermo Toriello told a press conference "the battle for Guatemala" had begun. The only fighting he reported, however, was the bombing of San Jose. He said the planes were of unidentified nationality.

Toriello accused Nicaragua of supporting the rebel forces which, he said, included nationals of Cuba, the Dominican republic and other Central American nationalities, as well as Guatemalan exiles.

NOT CHANGING FORCES

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain has no intention of redeploying her forces in the Caribbean as a result of the invasion of Guatemala by an army of exiles, the defence ministry said today.

However, a Foreign Office spokesman said Britain is watching the situation closely. Should British lives or property in neighboring Honduras be endangered Britain could call in the cruiser Sheffield and frigate Cygnet now stationed at Bermuda.

Britain is represented in Guatemala by a charge d'affaires, R. Andrews, since her recently-named ambassador to Guatemala, Richard Allan, has not taken up his post yet.

One reason for high retail prices was the housewife's demand for more canned and processed food.

Harry O. White (PC—Middlesex East) said that the farmer's share of a 12½-cent can of tomato juice is less than two cents.

He also expressed concern about a price drop in Ontario winter wheat, chiefly used for pastry flour. One wheat buyer had told him the opening price this year would be around $1.25 a bushel—a drop of 20 per cent from last year.

Mr. White said he doubts that will be reflected in lower prices for flour.

Cobourg Youths Sentenced For Assault

COBOURG (ENS) — William Gallagher, 17, and Wilfred Cavanaugh, 18, Cobourg, were sentenced to reformatory terms by Magistrate R. B. Baxter. Friday, Gallagher getting six months definite and three months indeterminate and Cavanaugh four months and two months.

They were found guilty last week of assaulting Willmott Taylor of Grafton whom they beat up on May 30 while he was parked at night with a girl friend on the lakefront. The pair said it was mistaken identity.

"For the welfare of the citizens of Cobourg and district and for your own good, I feel I must punish you to the extent upon which I have decided." The magistrate said "You beat up a chap before without provocation.

"You two feel that you are a couple of strong men who can lay down the law as you see fit and if allowed to get away with it, you are apt to end with manslaughter or murder charges against you."

HAD RECORD

"Gallagher has had two previous convictions for assault, as compared to Cavanagh's one, and I feel that Gallagher should receive the heavier sentence. I would strongly suggest that you realize how wrong you have been before it is too late," said the Magistrate.

Charged with assaulting David Wartman in Percy township on June 15, Tom Rogers of Hat township was remanded in custody until Monday morning.

Found guilty last week on an asault charge, Reginald Anderson of Hamilton township was placed on suspended sentence for two years and bonded in the amount of $1,000 to keep the peace. Complaintant was Elmer Grills.

TV NEWS TV

By Ken McCannan

There was a time when TV was the arch foe of school teachers. When the picture tube first came along, most teachers threw up their hands and lamented that their pupils would never do their homework, would tire themselves out every night and would be so full of Hopalong they'd have no room for multiplication tables.

I was glad to read the other day of the reaction of a woman named Gwen Horsman, who is the supervisor of language education for the Detroit Board of Education.

Since TV, says Miss Horsman, children are reading more. They go to the school library more often, to find out about things they've seen or heard the night before on the TV screen.

Children, she finds, are more interested in more things after they get a TV set in their homes.

You want to be kind to their eyes, of course, and to your own. That's why we recommend the satin-smooth pictures you get from the new Admiral. With the Admiral you get the best electronic equipment today in a handsome cabinet designed to fit into your living-room, and a a price easily within reach. That's at

Wrangling Cuts Short Dummer Schools Field Day

A sweltering hot day brought a rise in temperatures and tempers at the nine-school Dummer township field day staged at Warsaw school Friday.

From the beginning of the races and competitions in the morning, there was a marked show of dissension among the nine judges and for lengthy periods the events were held up by heated arguments. On several occasions OPP constable Stanley Smith was obliged to approach the group of arguing judges and shouting schoolchildren and restore some semblance of order.

At 4:30 p.m., with many events still not run off, the 10 teachers held a brief consultation on the grounds and decided unanimously to call off further competition.

At the Dummer schools field day last year there was considerable dissension among the teachers who were acting as judges. It was decided then that teachers would not act as judges this year. Instead, each teacher appointed an outsider to act in this capacity.

NO BETTER

However, this arrangement did not prove a happy one either. Friday, arguments began early in the day as to who had won races and the number of points to be allotted. Many parents and onlookers left early and the crowds of children seemed at a loss to know just what was going on.

At the conclusion of the events which were run off, Warsaw school was announced the winner with 67 points. Next in line were Mines school 61, Ninth Line school 50, SS No. 4 Dummer 29, Clarina school 14, South Dummer 13, SS No. 5 Dummer 12, Centre Dummer 3 and Cottesloe 2.

The fuse burned out and the thieves didn't come back.

Major construction is expected to start within a few weeks.

Experts from Ontario Hydro and the New York State Power Authority have set July 13 as the date for agreement on what should be done to relocate and compensate residents of nine Ontario communities to be flooded out by the power project.

Ontario Hydro officials plan to meet with civic leaders and planning consultants of the nine communities following the agreement.

The target date was set at a conference here on general rehabilitation problems and engineering details between New York engineers, Hydro chairman Robert H. Saunders and other officials.

The Movie Column

Quick Preview Of Current New Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Let's take a look at some of the current and forthcoming movies.

"Demetrius and the Gladiators" is a clear and unabashed attempt to cash in on the popularity of "The Robe." Using some of the same sets and actors plus a fragment of the original theme, the sequel tosses in a large supply of sex and violence for good measure. Vic Mature and Susan Hayward supply intensity as the erring hero and the pleasure-loving Roman lady. Jay Robinson's job as the Emperor is even worse than it was in "The Robe," is that's possible.

"Living It Up" is perhaps the best of the Martin and Lewis romps. For once they have a substantial vehicle — taken from the Broadway show "Hazel Flagg," which was taken from the movie "Nothing Sacred." Janet Leigh ably assists, and Sheree North provides the wildest movie dance in memory.

COLOR AND SUFFERANCE

"Magnificent Obsession" is a pleasant dose of message and sentiment. The old Robert Taylor-Irene Dunne movie has been remade with Rock Hudson, Jane Wyman and color. Miss Wyman suffers beautifully.

"The Student Prince" is yet another remake. (Don't they make any new pictures?) During the early moments, you wonder: Why on earth did they drag out this old piece of claptrap? But then you get into the swing of it and you see how these old operettas charmed an earlier generation. This one is glossed up with everything but a new plot and provides diversion. Edmund Purdom mouths Mario Lanza's song and is stiffly competent.

"SHEER DELIGHT"

"The Caine Mutiny" measures up to the bigness of its story. Not that it's perfect. Drawbacks: Jerkiness of the early narrative and the love story, which could have been scuttled. The film's best asset is Humphrey Bogart's portrait of Captain Queeg.

"About Mrs. Leslie" rambles on in the manner of a serial in a woman's magazine. What brings the tale alive is the glowing personality of Shirley Booth. Without her, this would have been a dull affair.

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" is one of those rare musicals that discard formula for originality. This handsome hunk of folklore tells how seven brothers won their wives in frontier days. Young, joyful players sing and dance for all they're worth. A sheer delight.

Mrs. Finlay Hostess To Fraserville WA

FRASERVILLE (ENS)—Fraserville United church WA met at the home of Mrs. Ray Finlay with an attendance of 11.

The missionary part of the meeting was under Mrs. K. Larmers' leadership. Mrs. Finlay gave a reading.

Fifteen visits to the sick and newcomers were reported. About $30 was realized at the recent baking sale in Peterborough.

A committee was appointed to investigate purchase of paint for the church floor.

Members of the committee are Mrs. R. Wood, Mrs. R. B. Lobb and Mrs. R. Finlay. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lough's Store To Be Sold

CAVAN (ENS)—Lough's store was about to change hands after being in the family for over a century. The store was started by Mrs. A. Baptie in 1850 in the same building which it now occupies.

Mrs. Baptie's daughter married Mr. Wm. Lough and he took over the store in 1880 and carried on with the store and mail route till the time of his death in 1927. His son Mr. Roy Lough then took it over and has carried on successfully ever since. But he and Mrs. Lough feel that the time has come for them to take life more leisurely and have time to enjoy their home and garden of which they are both very fond.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, Peterborough have bought the store and the modern new bungalow across the street which Mr. Lough built last summer and will take over the business on August 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Lough will continue to live at Ida in the family homestead.

Germany Going Places But France Tired, Envious

By HAL BOYLE

PARIS (AP)—What is the difrence tween France and Western Germany today?

There is a great difference in spirit between the two lands. The visitor today finds few scars of war left on the face of France, but detects many scars in the Frenchman's heart.

The war scars still stand on every hand in Germany—although rebuilding is going on everywhere —but the German keeps whatever post-war bitterness he has pretty much to himself.

The French give an impression of being tired and resentful and envious, like an old beauty who can't quite forgive time for taking away the empire of her charms. The Germans are like a club fighter who, knocked kicking, gets up off the floor and asks, "where do we go from here?" They want to hit the comeback trail as a people.

The visitor gets a feeling the Germans know where they are going, the French wistfully and fearfully are trying to hold on to something they are losing.

The most striking difference between Germany and France is the difference between this atmosphere of self-confident purpose and this miasma of painful self-doubt. The French still yearn for glory, and demand it on the basis of past performance, and the Germans are back on their feet reaching for power.

Road Signs To Elections

When scandal broke over the Ontario Department of Highways, Premier Frost, unfortunately for his health but fortunately for his political reputation, was sequestered from the public eye because of an ailment. He is now in circulation again, quietly but effectively appearing here and there in the Province to speak on non-controversial topics and shake hands with many people. Is an autumn election brewing?

* * *

There are several other indications that a Provincial general election is in the offing. In the first place, the present Legislature will be four years old in November. Although its term may be as long as five years, a Government seldom likes to run the full course. Economically, the times may be better—from the party in power's point of view—this year than next. A reasonably prosperous year generally disposes an electorate to support the existing administration. By November there may be quite a lot of extra work on account of the power development on the St. Lawrence; this would take up some seasonal slack.

* * *

A strong indication that an election may be held this year is that an issue is patently at hand: the Department of Highways. Premier Frost's name has not been directly associated with the disquieting and shaming affair. His hands are clean, he is known to be a man of strong integrity and not willing to put up with skulduggery in government. Although he loyally retains the Minister who heads the Highways Department and under whose apparently unwatchful eye some bad messes developed, a complete reorganization of the Department (below the Minister) has been ordered and is taking place. Premier Frost can say: 'When irregularities were unhappily discovered, see how quickly we acted to correct the situation!' He will, of course, run the risk of a severe indictment from Opposition parties; it is abundantly clear that his Government's Department of Highways has been seriously mismanaged.

* * *

So the election issue is ready—and Premier Frost is making a frontal attack now, in the theory perhaps that offence is always better than defence. There is the reorganization of the Highways Department and the removal of various senior officials. And to divert attention from things that ought not to have been done, a jack-pot of ten million dollars has been set up, to spread roads and road-work farther and faster. Mind you, this ten million dollars of extra expenditure has not been approved by the Legislature. Mr. Frost and his colleagues decided on it all by themselves, after the Legislature had voted $123,000,000 for roads and gone home. Where is the extra, unbudgeted ten million going? On new roads, so everybody can see how active the Government is for the driving comfort of voters, especially in the Toronto-Hamilton area. In addition to this, the Government has increased from $30,000,000 to $33,000,000 the amount of money to be spent on township roads. This will cater to rural residents . . . Are these road signs of an election ahead not plain as a pike-staff?

GATT Next Year

The Winnipeg Free Press which is traditionally a free trader and opposed to the "comfortable storm cellars of trade restrictions" calls attention to the saboteurs of GATT—protectionists in both the United States and Canada who are tyring to undermine the Geneva trade agreements system. "The enemies of international trade, in Canada and other nations, will exploit to the full President Eisenhower's postponement of action on tariffs for another year".

International trade may be a dry-as-dust subject to many Canadians, and in fact it is difficult to make it seem exciting, interesting or even important. Is this an oddity, when Canadians generally are vigorous traders in their own personal dealings and business, from the time they haggle with marbles until they want to trade off an old age pension cheque for tickets on Irish sweepstakes? International trade is remote, compared with the thrills of personal dickering, and yet it is the most important single element in the Canadian economy. A third of the income of Canadians comes directly or indirectly through exports, a third of every pay envelope. The question for Canadians then should be—and it should be a lively one—how best to promote Canadian trade? We believe, with the Free Press, that the best, and only sane long-term way of trade is the freest possible trade, the easiest international trade, trade with the fewest restrictions. "Protection" through embargoes, tariff walls, import taxes and by other means is a barrier to trade and therefore harmful to Canada.

And so to GATT, the alphabetic nickname of the Geneva trade agreements. This is a huge structure of international commerce erected after the war by western nations in consultation at Geneva. The purpose was to liberalize trade and thus to prevent the economic world slump like the one immediately after the Great War and to forestall if possible a world depression like that of the '30's.

GATT has worked well, for Canada and the world. With its help, Canadian business has surpassed all previous records, this country's prosperity has been phenomenal, there has been no collapse of the world's economy, the trading position of Britain and European nations has improved, and the "dollar gap" is closing. We are not so foolish as to attribute all these good things entirely to GATT, but we do say that without the agreements, the Geneva trading partners would not have fared as well as they have done.

Yet, because trade is not in perfect condition, Canadian protectionists are making propaganda for raising a tariff wall against wool imports (for example); are asking for special restrictions to protect another phase of business or industry; want restraints of trade in a third direction. Thus are they nibbling away at the bricks of GATT, the tariff schedules, in the hope of destroying the whole structure. More than one nation can play that game. This is the dang for Canada, dependent upon the British and American importing markets.

The GATT schedules run until next year in their present form; they must then be negotiated again. No new Canadian tariff restrictions should appear which would encourage retaliation in greater measure by other countries, particularly by the U.S. President Eisenhower is already in retreat from his liberalizing trade policies because of domestic and election pressures. Canada's example should not give the U.S. an excuse for insisting on upward schedules next year at Geneva. Canada needs free and easy avenues to trade, not pipelines from a cistern with valves that can be turned off after every rain.

Disasters In The Air

Any new means of locomotion brings disaster in its wake, because the way is novel, the machine practically experimental. We are prepared to believe that the invention of the wheel and its attachment to a cart was attended by risks frightening in the eyes of our primitive forbears. Today movement by jet plane has its own risks, and there have been serious accidents. The wonder is that there have been so few and that the disasters have not been greater. (Careful testing and hundreds of experimental flights of course have helped to obviate the risks and to find the danger points.

Bad accidents in jets have not been as numerous and terrible as disasters following the introduction and use of dirigibles. Consider this list: In 1912 the American dirigible Akron exploded over Atlantic City, and the builder and crew were killed. In 1921 the British dirigible ZR-2 broke in two on a trial run near Hull (England), and 62 persons were killed. Six months later the Italian Roma exploded and 34 people died. In 1925 the American airship Shenandoah broke apart; death toll 14. In 1930 the world's largest airship to that time, the British R-101, crashed over France, and the British Air Minister and 46 others were killed. In 1933 the second dirigible named Akron was forced down in a violent storm off New Jersey, fell into the sea and cracked up; there were 73 deaths. In 1937 the German dirigible Hindenburg exploded at the naval air station at Lakehurst, New Jersey, as it was tying up to the mast. It fell in flames and 36 persons died.

By this time Count Zeppelin's invention was thoroughly discredited and the use of airships for travel and transport ceased. Only a few countries now employ them—the United States, for instance, in conjunction with naval training bases and home-waters patrols. They are small balloons, compared with the R-101. The fact is that from the time of the first flying fatality, in 1908 when the plane of Orville Wright and Lieutenant Thomas Selfridge hit a bracing wire and the latter was killed, from that time until 1937 when the Hindenburg burnt, seven of the ten notable peacetime air disasters happened to dirigibles. (The three others were: collision of two cabin planes over the Pacific in 1930 when ten persons, most in the movie industry, were killed; a stunt flier crashing in 1935 into the Russian plane Maxim Gorky over Moscow, when 49 were killed; the 1935 aeroplane crash in Alaska when Will Rogers and Wiley Post were killed.) The 25-year black record of air ships doomed them. Jet planes, by comparison, are safe and the few disasters that have occurred with them have promoted further research and safety measures, not their relegation to the grave-yard of flying hopes.

"STRATEGY FOR THE WEST"

Does The H-Bomb Deter or Delude?

By JULES MENKEN

WHAT do hydrogen bombs and swift, long-range jet bombers really mean to the world? Does their fearful destructive power make a third world war impossbile, or merely fill the future with graver threat? Should our hopes of peace be disappointed and another major struggle develop, can we rely for victory on hydrogen and atomic weapons alone, or shall we need land and naval forces, and, if so, how many and what kind? And in the meantime what forces do we require for the "small wars," such as Korea and Indo-China, which have occurred repeatedly since 1945—and, incidentally, are often not really small either?

These questions are discussed in a slender new book by a man who has had great influence on Western strategy. The book is "Strategy for the West"; the man is Marshal of the Royal Air Force Sir John Slessor, who completed a most distinguished career by serving for the three years from 1950 to 1952 as British Chief of Air Staff and head of the R. A. F. During these years Sir John Slessor also represented the British Chiefs of Staff at meetings of the Standing Group and the Military Committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the senior professional military bodies in the North Atlantic Alliance. During these years he must have lived constantly with the strategic problems created by the atomic bomb— though the much more difficult problems of hydrogen bombing arose in serious form only after his retirement.

SIR JOHN SLESSOR'S views are clear and straightforward. Atomic and hydrogen bombing, if carried out, must obviously cause terrible casualties, destruction and disorganisation; and if done by both sides must inflict these losses on the Soviets and the West alike. Because of these mutual dangers Sir John Slessor regards the strategic use of air atomic power as "the Great Deterrent," which will prevent a third world war. He is so deeply convinced of this deterrent effect of the mere threat of atomic (and hydrogen) bombing that, so long as the West retains this superior weapon and the will to use it, he considers that "war has abolished itself."

✧ ✧ ✧

SIR JOHN SLESSOR gives four main reasons for what, if established, would be this encouraging conclusion. First he does not believe in the possibility of a Soviet surprise attack— a "sudden, unexpected blow out of a clear sky.'" Secondly, he regards effective general defence, even if scientifically and technically feasible, as beyond the economic capacity of both the Soviet Union and the United States. In the case of the long-range, atom-carrying jet bomber with top speeds approaching that of sound, this is because defensive weapons, though under development, are very expensive; in the case of the threat of the future— the long-range rocket-type missile (like the V-2 of the Second World War) fitted with an atomic warhead— because even a scientific solution to the problems of defence cannot yet be seen. Thirdly, while acknowledging that Soviet atomic and hydrogen bombing could inflict great hurt on the Untied States, Sir John Slessor does not consider that it could destroy the industrial power which makes the United States the arsenal of democracy Fourthly, he regards the Soviet Union as far more vulnerable than the United States to atomic-hydrogen attack— so vulnerable that, in his view, it would be defeated in the end.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT are ordinary people to think about all this? On some points Sir John Slessor's professional experience clearly has great weight. When he says that Russia, because of its great size, "can be attacked from almost all round the compass," no layman is likely to challenge him. On the other hand, whether American atomic-hydrogen bombing would damage Soviet war-making power more than Soviet bombing would damage the United States as the arsenal of democracy is a very complex question— and one, moreover, on which American views may well have changed and become less sanguine in the last couple of years.

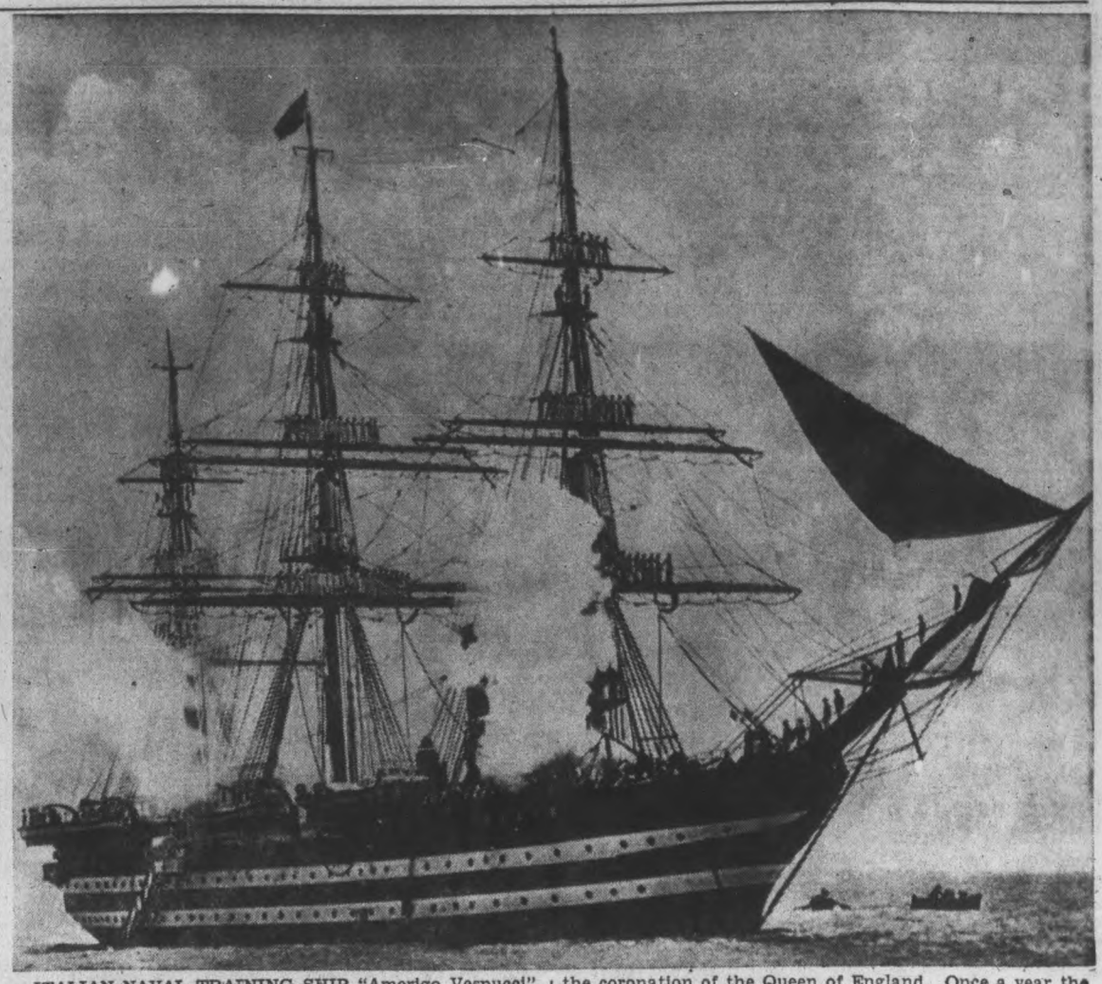
✧ ✧ ✧

MUCH MORE doubtful are Sir John Slessor's views about surprise, about the possibilites of defence, and about the effectiveness of deterrents generally to prevent war. None of these matters, of course, lie within the scope of his specialised experience; in all the appeal must be to history and to life —and to both in the dark, blood-stained realm where evil and ambitious men have sought down the ages to win domination and glory by the ruthless use of armed force.

✧ ✧ ✧

SURPRISE, for example, can clearly not be ruled out. If the Russians achieved surprise with atomic and hydrogen bombing, they could knock out the United States within days— perhaps at little cost to themselves. Does anyone think that the men of the Kremlin would resist such temptations unless they feared failure—and the dire punishment which failure would bring? Again, Sir John Slessor regards the cost of defence measures which are relatively effective (at least against piloted bombers) as impossibly high. But here, surely, he has applied the wrong measure; the right one was stated long ago: "All that a man hath he will give for his life;" and the duty of true leaders is not to coddle unwillingness to sacrifice, but to show that sacrifices are needed if men are to achieve the things they really desire. Yet again, any belief that deterrents can in general prevent war — as distinct from making men hesitate to launch a particular war— goes back to the fallacious political thinking of the period between the wars—thinking which produced Locarno, the Kellogg Pact, and Munich-thinking which did not keep even the pre-1939 world from disaster, and which promises nothing but catastrophe to an age bound by iron rigours like our own.

✧ ✧ ✧



SIR JOHN SLESSOR expects more "small wars"— and Indo-China is one reason for holding that he is right. In such wars, he says frankly, the main burden falls on the armies, though the part of air power — which gives ground forces mobility, increases their striking power, and can sometimes isolate the actual fighting area — is also important.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN THE EVENT of another major war he points out that modern weapons have given tremendous strength to the defence. Such weapons include the land-mine, recoilless anti-tank weapons with the shaped charge, the proximity fuse for artillery, the variable-timed air-burst fuse for bombs, and small atomic weapons for tactical use. As regards naval forces, he has doubts about the role of aircraft carriers —and particularly about the giant new American carriers— but in general he emphasises the importance of sea communications for a far-flung coalition like the North Atlantic Alliance.

One of the striking features of Sir John Slessor's book is the note of chivalry which underlies it. His whole attitude is that of the professional officer who is greatly skilled in the techniques of war, but who nevertheless dislikes war profoundly.

But where judgement of the enemy is concerned, this attitude is wholly out of place today. Neither in Moscow nor in Peking are the masters of world Communism men of delicate scruple. On the contrary, they use, and will continue to use, force, tricks, and guile as each best serves their ends. There is no easy way to defend freedom from their attacks. Against the power of the Soviet bear and the Chinese tiger the West must have not only the wisdom of the serpent but also the strength of the lion. Neither Sir John Slessor's book nor his central ideas will help the West to provide that strength in the full range that is needed.

ITALIAN NAVAL TRAINING-SHIP "Amerigo Vespucci" —During the summer months this ship is used in the training of officer cadets of the Italian Navy attending Leghorn Academy. It took part in ceremonies in connection with the coronation of the Queen of England. Once a year the "Amerigo Vespucci" makes long training voyages, touching ports on various continents.

Thought Control

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

ON the evidence of a recent debate in the House of Commons, Mr. Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. Member for Winnipeg North Centre, possesses an understanding of the role of the press in public affairs markedly superior to that exhibited by certain of his provincial colleagues. In a spirited exchange with Mr. Hansell (Social Credit - Macleod), the Winnipeg member effectively punctured the ease for the late, notorious Alberta Press Act.

The incident arose when Mr. Hansell, who had been loudly protesting his devotion to press freedom, was challenged by Hon. J. W. Pickersgill to state whether these remarks constituted a repudiation of the policy of the Aberhart Government as expressed in that Act. Mr. Hansell objected that the Social Credit legislation was "in no sense of the word control of the press," adding:

"What the Press Act did was this, that when a falsehood was given out in a news report of Government activity, then the Government had the right to correct that reoprt."

When various members insisted that this was thought control, Mr. Hansell drew a distinction. "What I say," he continued, "is that the Government claimed the right to correct that which was false, by a law."

But the Social Credit Member was not permitted to escape so easily. "You mean," interjected Mr. Knowles, "that which the Government said was false." Mr. Hansell endeavoured to argue that it was simply a matter of ensuring that newspapers "would print in equal terms the correct truth" but was promptly pinned down with the further question: "Who determines the truth?"

This, of course, is the heart of the matter. On the issue, curiously enough, the Social Creditors use essentially the same argument as that employed by Communists at international gatherings. They believe that a Government can be a disinterested interpreter and custodian of truth. In fact, Governments plainly have the strongest interest in colouring news in order that their actions will appear in the best possible light to the citizens affected. As the matter now stands, Ministers have every opportunity to state their case and rarely have reason to complain of their treatment by the press. The Alberta Act, on the other hand, would almost certainly have led to a standing watch — by Government — on the newspapers; it would have established ministerial interference as a matter of right. This was a deadly threat, halted only by a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada.

In this connection it is worth while recalling the words of a famous editorial which appeared over 100 years ago in The Times of London. "The duty of the journalist," observed The Times, "is the same as that of the historian — to seek out the truth, above all things, and to present to his readers not such things as statecraft would wish them to know but the truth as near as he can attain it."

This proposition, while it may not commend itself to Social Credit politicians, is still valid today.

New Way to Apply For Job

(From "Marketing" Toronto)

An ambitious worker in an advertising agency who wished to make a change got a 100 per cent response to twelve applications sent to twelve agency executives. His hobby is homing pigeons. He sent a bird and a carefully prepared folder about himself by special messenger to each executive. A note on the cage said: "Release the pigeon and he'll wing straight home with your answer inserted in his band."

LOVELY TIME

"Well, Dick, my boy," said his uncle, "my congratulations! I hear you're engaged to one of the pretty Robins twins."

"Rather," replied Dick, heartily.

"But," said his uncle, "how on earth do you manage to tell them apart?"

"Oh," said the young man, 'I don't try!"

Bible Message

(From The Authorized Version)

Now the Lord had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: and I will make thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. (Gen. 12:1, 2.)

And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am the Almighty God; walk before me and be thou perfect . . . Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shall be called Abraham; for a father of many nations have I made thee . . . And I will establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, to be a God unto thee and to thy seed after thee. (Gen. 17:1, 5, 7.)

Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds as of many: but as of one. And to thy seed, which is Chirst . . . For ye are all the children of God by faith in Jesus Christ. For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ . . . And if ye be Christ's then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise. (Gal. 3:16, 26, 27, 29.)

St. Mark's Church, Warsaw

Douro-Dummer Harmony: Roman Catholics Gave Work, Money To Anglicans

BY RICHARD F. CHOATE

(This is the second article on the subject.)

Perusal of the list of signatories to the building-fund of St. Mark's church, Warsaw, in 1853 brings into focus several features of singular interest on this centennial occasion.

The subscription list, written in a little brown "Memorandum Book and Ready Reckkoner" (with its compact table of weights, measures, etc., at the back), will repay study, especially in three of its aspects:

1. The list of local contributors in Dummer township includcluding Warsaw);

2. The signatures of residents of the Midland area (the old District of Colborne), who were in the main citizens of the town of Peterborough, and included a noteworthy list of the leaders in urban affairs who gave direction to business, professional and religious life. It would be difficult indeed to compile a more representative list of townspeople of genuine substance of the time;

3. The list of Douro Irish of the Roman Catholic faith who contributed out of their small means in those precarious days of land settlement, to establish the Anglican place of worship in Warsaw (just beyond the border of their township.

All, or virtually all, the Dummer township signatories were of Protestant faiths. Some were Northern Irish, some Scottish, and a great many were Cornwall and Wiltshire migrants who had paid their own passage overseas. Many who had been reared at home in the established church, desiring places of worship, became associated with Bible Christian, Wesleyan Methodist, Presbyterian or Baptist congregations, which multiplied rapidly close to their homes, after the first days of space settlement.

FAMILIES DIVIDED OR SPLIT

It would be an essay in futility to try to analyse fully the forces that were at work in the shaping of the township's religious life, forces which in a good many instances split individual families into two or more doctrinal groups. Such an inquiry would now be all but profitless, provoking only a smile, since the disputations that echoed up and down the concession lines in the formative days of the township have all but vanished. Some there were to whom the "Thirty-nine Articles" were a veritable bete noir; others thrived solely on "oatmeal and the shorter catechism"; still others could look for salvation only in a rather demonstrative "complete santification", or in total immersion.

Religious life in those roaring days of the "Cracker Bar'l Theologians" truly had its humors. For which, no doubt, we may thank Providence, remembering that a centennial observance should be, and is, a joyous occasion, not heavy laden with solemnity.

St. Mark's has always been a singularly indigenous religious body. While others were appealing for and receiving substantial monetary aid from overseas, the Warsaw church stood on its own feet, drawing its sustenance from Peterborough district soil. A glance at the list testifies to the breadth of the "rus in urbe" spirit which activated the leaders in the affairs of the fast-growing town of Peterborough. The names of those who gave primary help to St. Mark's are indeed names to conjure with in Peterborough history. Descendants of those on the honor roll of a century ago are numerous among the thriving and esteemed Peterborough families of today.

GOOD-NEIGHBOR SPIRIT

It would be an impertinence for the present writer to offer any comment on the inner springs of sentiment of the Roman Catholic people of Douro who manifested their good-neighbor spirit in their contribution to the Anglican building fund at Warsaw. His purpose is merely to cite the facts as they were written in the records a century ago, and to let the facts speak for themselves.

"Hands across township borders" is a phenomenon rarely met with in our day. Hence our contemporaries know life only as it is lived now are ill-fitted to appraise the bonds of human sympathy that linked the dwellers along the rough trails who were meeting toilsomely, but with good cheer, the challenge of the wilderness.

Dummer and Douro have been traditionally good neighbors. To North Dummer from Warsaw ran the English line; to the South, the Scottish line. The road through South Douro was veritably an Irish line. Through these arteries flowed life-giving trade with grists and timber hauled often by ox-carts for processing in the mills at Warsaw. Warsaw physicians supplied medical services, especially to those in eastern and southern Douro. Legal requirements then were largely notarial, simple agreements being attested before a magistrate or commissioner. Major disagreements happily were rare and local differences were resolved in the main by common sense and good-will, without recourse to courts.

The Dummer and Douro agricultural society which then held its own fall fair was long an active and useful social unit. The stage running in the Peterborough-Warsaw mail service was another harmonizing factor. Lakefield was "North Douro" until it was shifted (unlike Ashburnham) from East to West Peterborough. Economically it was a rather negligible place. Its population as shown in the directory of the United Counties of Peterborough and Victoria for 1858 was 80—that of Warsaw, 1550.

DEDICATED ON JULY 12

We have impressive evidence that among the earlier people of both Dummer and Douro there was a lively appreciation of the truth that "man does not live by bread alone." Transcending the stern regimen of the workaday world there was everywhere a yearning for a more abundant sharing in the life of the Spirit. Such aspirations were manifest in the growing endeavor to provide more seemly places of worship. While churches of Protestant denomination multiplied in Dummer, St. Joseph's parish in Douro also was moving toward higher levels of organization after its dedication on (of all days) July 12, 1846. Its first priest was the Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Lindsay. In 1892, the present imposing church was built of Warsaw limestone. And it is pleasing to recall that a good many Protestants were able then to give, a token reciprocation at least, for the help extended years earlier to St. Mark's, by turning out with horses and sleighs to give a hand in the Dummer quarry.

While what has just been said may seem like a digression from an account of the internal organization of St. Mark's church, it is surely desirable that the good-neighbor offering of the Douro people should not be forgotten on the 100th anniversary. The present writer finds it a pleasure to supply as a missing historical link, details from the original documents in his possession.

The simple fact of the documentary record speak volumes of the widespread desire of all our earlier people for a larger fulfillment of their vision of a Christian way of life.

Leading the list of subscribers to the original building fund of St. Mark's Church dated March 15, 1853, is the Hon. Zaccheus Burnham of Cobourg, with a contribution of £30. Next is Thomas Choate, of Warsaw, £5; and the third Rev. Mark Burnham of Ashburnham (son of Hon. Zaccheus), £5. (accounting of that time, of course, was in £.s.d.).

DOURO TOWNSHIP

Contributors include the following residents of Douro, a township in which the early settlers (in its southern section, at least) were mainly Irish people of the Roman Catholic faith who had migrated with the Peter Robinson party. Exact classification by municipalities is difficult but the list is believed to be substantially correct:

ANIMALS CARVED TO TASTE—The hands of George Alexander have been busy with simple tools like these since he was a sailor out of Wales, carving recognizable and attractive beasties, birdies and whatever his imagination concocts.

GEORGE ALEXANDER makes carving his hobby and Mrs. Alexander proudly delights in it but only as an observer. She has her own "light work" for busy hands in their King Street home. She takes pleasure in displaying her husband's work on knick-knack shelves.

A Whittle Here, A Whittle There: An Arty Dog Appears!

Photos and Story by Don Grant

Most people whittle a little. But George Alexander, 551 King St. whittles a lot, in fact whittling has been his hobby for years.

Most whittlers produce only a rough, mostly unrecognizable object. They also manage to whittle a little off their fingers.

When George Alexander whittles, his work becomes art and he doesn't manage to nick his fingers in the process, that is, not as much as the average whittler.

The former superintendent of steam and security forces at the CGE (he was retired a week ago after 24 years) considers himself an average whittler. But one look at his dogs, bears, eagles, horses and other animals in his menagerie clearly indicates that his work verges on professional.

Like most whittlers, George started by "just fussing around with a knife" while a young lad working on freighters between Swansea in Wales and Naples, Italy. There he saw whittlers, the natives, at their best.

His admiration for these beautifully carved works caused George to pick up a knife and start "fussin'." His fussin' became whittling to perfection under the eye of his bos'n who was a "whiz at it."

A forced rest six years ago actually made George take up whittling as a full time hobby. Before that he had made triple, double and single (often mixed too) chains from a single piece of wood and also many balls in cages. To make those, one has to be more than an average whittler.

Since then Mr. Alexander has really made a hobby of whittling. Armed with a jig saw for the roughing and many pen knifes, he'll spend his leisure hours whittling down a piece of mahogany, cedar, pine, cherry or walnut into animals, birds and people.

Sometimes his designs are from magazine photographs of a dog's or horse's head, sometimes from comics such as Pluto. But they're mostly out of Mr. Alexander's own creative imagination, which lacks neither beauty nor humor.

After three hours of whittling, the carver, stretched out comfortably over two chairs, will complete a masterly job on a goat, Scottie dog, or eagle. Each piece is left in the rough to show the workmanship. The strokes of the knife on wood, like those of a chisel on stone, or a painter's brush on canvas or a palette knife gouging oil paint, give special quality and character to a work. They help reveal the art that has gone into it and lend vitality which a polished surface often erases.

Now that he is retired after being "on call" for almost 24 hours a day for 24 years, George Alexander has more time to devote to his hobby, which may become slightly professional in fact as in appearance in the near future, should he go into the business of selling some of his creations.

A·F·I·E·L·D with NICK NICKELS

Summer, according to the calendar, arrives on Monday. For the past week or more the weather has been warming up to it with violent thunderstorms.

There is something majestic about storms once they get rolling into high; some of them are very dangerous. Preceded by sultry conditions that make corns and rheumatiz ache, high blood pressure press and tempers short, the immediate storm front brings lusty gusts of cooled air that relieves the tension at once. There are hectic preparations around the home to batten things down.

There is washing to retrieve from clotheslines, boats to pull onto docks, car windows to crank up and, at the cottage, empty tubs to shove under gutter downpipes. Increasing rumblings of thunder bring warnings to the children to keep away from the telephone and the cross draughts of open windows.

Thunderclaps increase in tempo, lightning stabs savagely across the sky and the rain, without warning, sluices down in white whirling sheets. The children who have been warned about open windows are hanging out of them to view the spectacle and, before you can stop them, don bathing suits, and run screaming into the downpour. The family dog won't share their fun; he crouches in the darkest corner of some back room.

The storm soon passes. Home gardeners view their flower plots and lawns happily at the thorough soaking they have received and discount their prize iris that have snapped off. And through the evening lightning flashes through receding piles of bright clouds that finally sink over the horizon.

There is promise of duck, geese and partridge hunters knowing where they stand well in advance as far as shooting dates are concerned this coming fall. A Federal-Provincial council of wildlife experts has met in Ottawa this week to settle those very questions. Let us hope for dope about mid-August this year, for a change.

A yellow-billed cuckoo was found dead on the north lawn of PCVS this week after classes by students Dennis Walton and Howard Hillson. The body, given a cursory autopsy by veteran science master V. R. Henry showed that this rare specimen had apparently crashed into a school window and broken its lower mandible, and its neck.

Turkey vultures, similar to an "unknown" bird shot by two lads last year, are reported to be quite numerous in the vicinities of Havelock and Norwood.

Though forest insect ranger Lyle McLeod of Minden reports very little general activity in the caterpillar tenting infestation this year, European pine shoot moths are becoming a far more serious menace. Planted pine forests in Durham and Northumberland counties are badly infested and the past winter was not severe enough to kill the parasites. Spraying, where it is possible to get between stands of young timber, is being carried out by the department.

More than four million 'lunge fry were successfully hatched at Deer Lake Hatchery, north of Havelock. Fry, now two inches long, have been placed in the station's rearing ponds and are being fed quantities of sucker fry to keep them from eating each other. Fry will be distributed into district waters in about two weeks.

Current dull weather this past week has hampered the arrival of American resident tourists in the Kawarthas. Cottage life is not too pleasant under these unseasonable conditions but the great influx will be upon us very shortly. With the Glorious First and Four running into a five-day weekend things in these parts will be bursting at the seams.

A note from artist friend Clarence Tillenius of Winnipeg tells that he has been commissioned to do a series of Canadian wildlife canvases for an insurance company which has given him a free hand in subject matter. Judging from the warm reception given his first picture by company executives he feels he will have no trouble pleasing them, he says.

Mr. Tillenius, by the way, was a top painter who lost his right arm in an accident in Northwestern Ontario several years ago. He had to start all over again and, with his left hand only, has achieved the rank of one of the foremost wildlife artists on the continent.

The village of Lakefield, in close proximity to the Otonabee river and marshes of its backwater, is literally crawling with turtles on the march to and from nesting grounds in hot sand and dry sawdust piles. We don't suppose there is a child under 13 years who hasn't brought home at least one, often two, painted turtles to keep as pets in boxes in backyards. They bring no snappers, however, and know the difference between these types from personal close operation.

Wren Blair, who piloted Oshawa Truckmen to our senior "B" group honors and to the OHA championship last winter, will be manager-coach of the senior "A" Chatham Maroons next season. He succeeds Jack Stewart who goes to coach the Sarnia squad. Blair's contract calls for him to get 65 per cent for the first $2,000 and 50 per cent after that. Jack asked for 70 p.c. However, the contract has a sting, the Windsor writer pointing this out: "The commission can give him a 10-day warning to produce and thereafter kill the contract if his team is not satisfactory. So all Blair has to do it come in cold, out of the senior 'B', bring his own bankroll and produce a first-rate club, or else. If he can manage this without Stewart's players, it ought to be about the neatest trick since Grant took Richmond."

Kickoff time for Orfuns' grid quarterback club campaign is July 5, Prexy Jack Harris advises. They'll erect a membership gauge at Charlotte and George that day, and the six girls' teams (20 and a captain to each city zone) will swing into action. Membership is a buck, entitling folks to various social functions with the club, films and later in the season a draw for two Grey Cup ducats. This first girls' football quarterback club in Canada meets Monday to map the campaign, and prepare for action. Sounds like a lively program and certainly a good thing for football here, home of COSSA and ORFU champions in recent years.

Oshawa And Batas

Weather being favorable, the Petes have two important VOBL games coming up under the Riverside Arcs. Oshawa Transporters, now atop the loop, show here tonight at 8:30, and it'll be Vern Goyer's Batas of Bella Villa up this way on Monday e'en. They're in a keen loop race. Rain has ruined the locals' last couple of contests, but they hope to pick up the slack from here in and start overhauling the league leaders. Jerry Frizzelle, Brian Wade and Joe Lowrey all are ready for slab service again, and could improve the Petes' position muchly by yanking out two weekend wins.

Last winter, old Satchel Paige turned down an offer of $20,000 to pitch for Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League. Approximately 50 years of age, Paige replied scornfully: "I can make from $25,000 to $30,000 with the touring Globe Trotters during the coming season, so why pitch for less in organized baseball?" The ageless flinger, with the trick windups, probably was one of the top two or three twirlers in history when younger, and even in '48 helped hurl Cleveland Indians into a winning world series. Won six and lost one that season with a brilliant run average of 2.47. Pitched last three years for St. Louis Browns. An amazing diamondeer, eh? He brings his Trotters here to play House of Davids on July 1.

Beauty In Baseball

Ben Swartz wants us to point out some of the rules re that baseball "Beauty Queen" contest put on by Toronto Leafs, with the Petes staging their own show to enter a contestant. Each girl must have passed her 17th birthday and must not have reached her 25th. She must be unmarried and agree not to marry till the winner has been announced. A resident of the province, she must agree to all rules governing her appearance, escort arrangements, chaperones, costumes and makeup during the big contest in Toronto on Sept. 11. The contest management will clear all photos and publicity material and she must not endorse any product without permission. A lot of big prizes up. Local contest arrangements are being made now.

Just a cake-walk in the last half of the lacrosse match here last eve for the Trailermen as they wrapped up a 12-2 senior win to keep ahead of the pack. It left the luckless Mounties of Mimico well in the cold, dank cellar. They made it a game for two quarters but faded under the steady attack of the Petes in the last half. Harry Wipper (who missed the fourth frame for a match penalty) and sharp-shooting Rusty Slater were the big guns with four goals apiece, the other counters being notched by Bobby Curtis, Don Ashbee, Lou Nickle and Bob Thorpe. Only Jim McIntyre and Chuck Simpson could fool Moon Wootton for a goal each. A rather good-sized crowd for this one, considering that the Mounties haven't been doing much so far this season, but then the weather was ideal and there's always some good action—if only in spots—in a senior OLA fray.

Red Wings Crush Montreal To 10-3 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a three-year hitch in military service, Joe Cunninghani, a rookie first baseman of Rochester Royals, apparently is finding International League pitching as much to his liking as his pre-Korean days in the Western League.

He was with Omaha of the western loop in 1951, his last year of baseball before the call to the colors and hit .307 with 77 runs batted in.

Friday night, he clubbed a pair of two-run home runs to lead the Red Wings to a 10-3 victory over Montreal Royals and remain 3½ games behind Toronto Maple Leafs who turned back Ottawa Athletics, 9-6.

GET 11 HITS

The Royals nicked Jack Fazholz for 11 hits, but they also stranded 11 runners. Bill Birdon also hit a homer for the Wings.

Archie Wilson provided the winning margin for the Leafs with a three-run round-tripper, his seventh of the year. Connie Johnson got the victory although he was tapped for homers by Luke Easter and Joe Taylor.

In other action, Syracuse Chiefs routed Havana Sugar Kings 6-3 to end a five-game losing streak, and Buffalo Bisons and Richmond Virginians divided a doubleheader. The Virginians won 7-5 in the afternoon encounter, but the Bisons came back to win the night game, 8-5, behind the steady pitching of Hal Erickson who was aided by homers by Danny Ryan and Mel Hoderlein.

Stanky Thinks Cards Ready

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Stanky thinks his St. Louis Cardinals are just about ready to make their move.

The fiery little manager appeared highly optimistic over his team's pennant chances Friday despite a recent home stand that knocked them out of first place clear into the second division.

"For the first time this year, our pitching is set," said Stanky. "Tom Poholsky and Gerry Staley are finally pitching the brand of ball expected of them. With Harvey Haddix and Vic Raschi continuing to look good practically every time out, we should finally have a Big Four worthy of the name."

The Cardinals currently are in fifth place. They've split 58 games down the middle, far below a pennant-winning gait.

McCants Gives Argos Promise

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says today in a dispatch from Detroit that Howard McCants has assured Toronto Argonaut coach Frank Clair that he will be with the Big Four club this season.

The story says McCants, six-foot-eight Washington State star caught in a tug-of-war between Argos and Detroit Lions of the National Football League, is torn between family loyalties as well.

His five brothers think his football future is in Canada. His three sisters think he should stay home.

The newspaper quotes the 245-pound McCants as saying he signed a Toronto contract first, although the Lions' Nick Kerbawy insists he has prior rights on the starry end.

The story says McCants told Clair he would be in Toronto early next week.

THE BLOCKBUSTER—Rocky Marciano turns the face of Ezzard Charles into a mass of quivering tissue as he lands a solid right in the 11th round of their recent title heavyweight bout at New York's Yankee Stadium.

UNBOWED—Marciano is bloody from a cut inflicted over his left eye by the Charles' fists. This gash, which came early in the fight, was almost the tide turner for Charles.

Seabrooks Drop Bell Bill's Lunch Eke Out Close One

Seabrook Electrics defeated Bell Telephone 5-0, Friday night, in the opener of the regular tri-weekly twin bill of men's Civic Softball at the East City Bowl, before a good crowd of fans. Bill's Lunch eked out an 8-7 win in the nightcap, to claim their seventh win of the season in eight starts and remain within a half game of Seabrook Electrics in the league van.

Both games were keenly contested to the finish, as the boys gave it all they had. Howie Dalton hurled winning ball for Seabrook's in the curtain-raiser, allowing but one hit, a scratch infield single, in the ninth, struck out seven, and walked none.

Burt Harrison twirled for Bell's and well enough to win an average game. It was Seabrook's eighth win of the season.

LED TO SIXTH

Topper Sanderson opposed Roy Moore in a thrilling nightcap that saw Watercraft leading until the sixth, when the Monaghan Road lads tied the score. "Petie" Peters took over the mound duties for Bill's in the sixth, and despite determined efforts, Watercraft were unable to solve his speed for further tallies. Lionel Bloom, Bill's leading slugger, scored the tie-breaker in the home seventh on a hit, and later a wild pitch.

Two postponed games will be played tonight. First game: Fairviews v. Bill's Lunch; second game: Army v. Police.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Joe Louis, making the 17th successful defence of his world heavyweight crown, knocked out Billy Conn in the eighth round at Yankee Stadium, New York, eight years ago tonight. Five years previously Louis had needed 13 rounds to dispose of Conn. For their second meeting a crowd of 45,000 paid a total of $19,925,500, a mark surpassed only by the $2,658,000 in gate receipts for the second Dempsey-Tunney fight at Chicago in 1927.

Many Shocks At Ascot During Races

By ALAN HARVEY

ASCOT, England (CP) —Royal Ascot, the ritziest race meeting of them all, wound up Friday after four days of chills and spills that railbirds will long remember.

There were all sorts of shocks—a photo finish decided by a judge's magnifying glass, a race in which the horses rolled round like drunken sailors, and a six-month suspension for Lester Piggott, rider of Derby winner Never Say Die.

On top of that came the shocked discovery that something is screwy on the famous old Ascot course. Races over the straight track in front of the grandstand proved beyond doubt that horses drawn on the stands side might just as well stay in the stables.

In these events, placed horses came exclusively from those drawn among the high numbers on the far side. Through some quirk, fanciest steeds on the inside invariably finished a city block behind the leaders.

EXPLANATION

Most popular explanation: When the track is heavy the going on one side gets extremely tough, slowing even the fastest runner.

The closest the draw came to being defied occurred Wednesday when Paul Hatvany's Chivalry, starting from No. 13 post position, won the Royal Hunt Cup. Chivalry edged over to the favored part of the course and just beat King of the Tudors in a finish that is still being debated.

To the naked eye, the photo showed a perfect dead heat. But the judge took out a powerful magnifying glass, detected a microscopic margin and gave the nod to Chivalry, which paid 50 to 1 in the pari-mutuels.

Elimination Faces One Soccer Team

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Elimination is in store for at least one nation today as the world soccer championships resume with eight teams in action.

The schedule: Brazil vs Yugoslavia; France vs Mexico; Austria vs Czechoslovakia, and Uruguay vs Scotland.

The loser of the France-Mexico game is the only certainty for elimination. If their meeting ends in a tie, both will be ousted, sending Brazil and Yugoslavia, the other two teams in their section, into the knockout quarter-finals.

Reaume Listening To Baseball Bids

WINDSOR (CP)—Marc Reaume, 10-year-old defenceman of last year's St. Michael's Majors in the junior A OHA and a candidate for a defence post with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL, Friday was reported listening to professional baseball bids.

During the last two weeks, the hard-hitting catcher has been slugging the ball at a .370 clip with Windsor West End Athletic Club in the Detroit Amateur Baseball Federation class A ranks. He was invited to Briggs Stadium early this week where he worked out under the eyes of Tiger officials of the American League.

SCOTLAND BEATEN

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—Pakistan conjured up a 10-wicket victory over Scotland Friday, recovering from a seemingly impossible situation by putting out the entire Scottish side in 1¾ hours.

When Scotland began their second innings half an hour after lunch, they led 353 to 295. A draw seemed inevitable. But behind the fast medium bowling of Mahmood Hussain, who captured six wickets for 17 runs, four of them cleanbowled, Pakistan quickly got their 10 wickets.

Petes Win 12-2 Over Mounties To Stay Atop Heap

The Petes' Trailermen waltzed through the Mimico Mounties to a 12-2 tune here last night to keep in front of the OLA senior parade and keep the Mounties down in the cellar. A crowd of 1,500 viewed a so-so struggle, not too exciting after the first half. Mimico took a 1-0 lead in the first quarter, but were behind 5-2 at the halfway mark and trailed 9-2 going into the fourth. They dressed 13 men, but were without their sparkplug, Don McPhail.

It was generally a clean contest, with the visitors drawing six of the nine penalties, one to them being a misconduct. Harry Wipper was chased with a match penalty in the third for swinging his stick at Pop Chard after the latter had cut him, the pair getting roughing penalties first. Had Referee Joe Murphy been on his toes, it would have been a slashing penalty to Chard, and Wipper would have finished the tilt.

FOUR APIECE

Russ Slater and Harry Wipper each rapped in four goals for the winners, with the latter also earning an assist in his three starry periods of play. Curly Mason was high man on assists with four, Denny Peterson clicking for three. Don Ashbee had a goal and two assists, Lou Nickle and Bob Curtis a goal and an assist each, and Bob Thorpe one marker. The whole team from Goalie Moon Wootton out clicked well after the first period, but didn't have too much trouble the last half as the Mounties ran out of steam and were outscored 7-0 in the final two quarters.

Chuck Simpson fired one one tally for Mimico and aided on the other one, which was scored by Jim McIntyre. The Mounties tried hard and made it a keen contest for half the fray but were well beaten the rest of the route. Stan Kapasky drew three of their six penalties, and Pop Chard (a regular pop-off player) got two, including a misconduct for lipping Ref Lou Vipond in the first chukker. Teams:

Mimico: Goal, Tomchisen; defence, Kelly and Barager; centre, Simpson; wings, Garbutt and Hartley; alternates, Downer, J. Kapasky, S. Kapasky, McIntyre, Meeke, Sandford and Chard.

Petes: Goal: Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and Allan; centre, Mason; wings, Slater and Curtis; alternates, Wipper, Ashbee, Thorpe, Powell, Burns, Batley, Killingbeck, Nickle and Peterson.

Referees, L. Vipond and J. Murphy.

Offer Marciano $275,000 For Bout

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Boxing promoter Manny Almeida of Providence says he'll guarantee heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano $275,000 to defend his title in Rhode Island next September.

Almeida Friday night telegraphed the offer to Marciano's manager, Al Weill, listing a privilege of taking 42½ per cent of the net gate for a title defence against Ezzard Charles.

Almeida, who has promoted 29 of Marciano's 46 pro fights, said he's sure a Rhode Island title bout would draw "at least 50,000 and do a million dollars at the gate."

Providence is only 34 miles from Brockton, Mass., home of the champion.

Cardinals Upset New York Giants With 5-0 Shutout

By BEN PHLEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer

If some of the major league's best pitchers turned up aching backs today they have a good excuse.

They're busy taking bows for Friday night's games when in every active park in the two circuits there was at least one hurler who covered himself with glory.

At the Polo Grounds it was Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals. The pint-sized lefthander snapped the New York Giants' six-game winning streak with his third straight shutout, 5-0.

In winning his ninth consecutive game Haddix ran his string of scoreless innings to 32, longest in the majors this season. He also increased his top-ranking strikeout total by 7 to 86 and his overall record to 11-3. Nobody else has won as many as 10. Stan Musial hit his 22nd home run, tops in both leagues.

THREE SINGLES

At Forbes Field Vern Law, one of the National League's brightest rookies, allowed Milwaukee only three singles and won the game 2-1 for Pittsburgh with a bases-loaded single in the last of the ninth.

Corky Valentine, another rookie, outduelled Curt Simmons as Cincinnati shaded Philadelphia 2-1. Wally Post collected four hits and drove in both runs for the Redlegs.

Joy in Flatbush came from Don Newcombe's first complete game since May 7. The big righthander turned back Chicago 6-3 as the Dodgers chipped the Giants' league lead to a single game. Newcombe struck out eight, all in the last six innings. Gil Hodges homered twice.

In the American League Cleveland beat Boston 2-0, New York shaded Chicago 7-6, Philadelphia edged Detroit 2-1 and Washington outlasted Baltimore 7-5 in 13 innings.

HOW THEY FARED

And here's how the pitchers fared:

Mike Garcia, the Big Bear of the Indians, turned back the Red Sox on four singles for his ninth victory, his club's ninth straight triumph and the Indians' ninth success in nine meetings with Boston this year.

The only solace for the Red Sox was the first pitching appearance since April 24 of Mel Parnell. The lefthander, recovering from a wrist fracture, pitched one inning in relief and retired the Indians in order.

At Comiskey Park in Chicago a pitcher starred in a different role. Bob Grim, called in as a relief man in the fifth, won the game with his hitting. He singled home two Yankee runs in the sixth and hit his first major league home run with one aboard in the eighth.

Grim needed help from Johnny Sain in the ninth.

At Briggs Stadium in Detroit young Arnold Portocarrero checked the Tigers on four hits and was in complete command after Ray Boone's first inning home run. Only a week ago the Tigers had beaten the rookie 16-5.

St. Kitts Edge Hamilton With Goal Barrage

Doug Smith and Ken Croft led the winners with two goals apiece. Jim McNulty, leading scorer in the league, tallied four goals for Hamilton.

Soccer Squad Blasted By U.K. Papers

LONDON (AP)—British sports writers used some scalding phrases Friday to describe the performance of the English soccer squad in allowing Belgium to gain a 4-4 draw at Basle.

The Daily Herald described the British players as "lazy-looking and completely without ideas in the first part of the game . . . English football suffered another deadly blow in Europe."

"England, this was pitiful," the Daily Sketch headlined describing the match as of "great, humbling humiliation," for England.

Belgian newspapers were enthusiastic Friday in their comments on the draw.

The daily sports newspaper "Les Sports" said: "Courage is not enough to explain this result. The undoubted decadence of British soccer can not explain it either. Even in bad form, diminished and stuck in a style of soccer now outmoded, the British players remain astonishing in their manoeuvre and control the ball perfectly."

Het Laatste Nieuws said: "The British team played an old and outmoded game . . . at no time did the British team really deserve victory."

HOUSE No. 64-5—While this photograph was unfortunately taken too early in the season to show completed landscaping and the blaze of springtime rockery bloom, it's not too hard to picture the charm this adds to the finished effect of this fine 3-bedroom Ontario home. Colours chosen by the owners for the exterior include: red roof, red brick, stained siding, natural finished door and white trim. House contains 1,600 square feet or 27,400 cubic feet. Garage contains 554 square feet or 5,600 cubic feet. For working drawings, write Home Building In Canada, 2842 Bloor St. W., Toronto.

Frost Shocked By Gemmell's Sudden Death

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost said Friday he was greatly shocked and saddened by the sudden death of Ontario Lands and Forests Minister Gemmell.

The premier was absent from Queen's Park when word came of the sudden death of the minister in North Bay. When told, Mr. Frost issued the following statement:

"I am inexpressibly shocked and saddened by the word of the sudden passing of my friend and colleague, the Honorable Welland Gemmell. Only yesterday we sat in cabinet council together and he seemed well and vigorous and expressed deep interest and satisfaction in the progress of his department and his work.

LOSS TO PROVINCE

"The passing of this young man, whose life was so full of promise and who was so well fitted in every way to the service of his country, is a loss to the public life of our province. He died in the course of duty and in action in the forefront of activity while going ahead with his task. He will be greatly missed.

"In this time of great sorrow, we all express our sympathy to his wife, who was ever his helpmate, and to his children and as well to the great constituency of Sudbury, which he had so ably represented since 1948 and for which he had such an abiding pride."

Will Not Move Experimental Farm

OTTAWA (CP) The capital's central experimental farm, 1,200 acres of fields, parks and gardens, will stay right where it is and the city will grow around it.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner told an applauding Commons Friday he has no intention of moving the farm, operated by his department as a testing ground for new agricultureal methods.

The farm, about two miles from the centre of Ottawa, is being steadily surrounded by housing sub-divisions as the capital grows.

Mr. Gardiner said he has received suggestions that it be moved into the country and the land opened for housing.

PETERBOROUGH HOME No. 13, one and one-half storey, chalet-style, on Sherbrooke St. W., owned by D. B. Hough and built by Ernest Dummitt.

Designed To Grow With The Family

Many young couples, financially unable to build the large home of their dreams, are turning to the expansible home—complete and adequate for the minimum family—but designed, planned and built to grow with the family.

The idea is not new—in its modern version the 1½-storey home with unfinished attic is familiar to us. Many types of ranch-style homes are to be seen specifically planned for the addition of more bedrooms at a later date. On the other hand, other homes may also be seen that have grown by unplanned additions with resulting poor room layout and exterior appearance.

PLAN FROM BEGINNING

A complete house is planned first. It is then separated into its logical parts and the sequences of additions is determined, always bearing in mind that the house must be complete in appearance and function at each stage. The basic unit must provide all the facilities for the normal life of a small family—living room, bedroom, bath, dining space, kitchen, closets and storage space, heating equipment, hot-water heater, and laundry facilities—even though some rooms may have to serve two purposes.

All stages in the progress of the expansion should be so planned that there is no waste space and so there is convenient circulation from room to room.

Additions should be designed so there is the least possible disturbance to occupants while building is in process.

Openings to later additions should be framed for their final purpose in the early stages; a window can be installed in a space framed for a future door.

Utility Services—pipes, ducts, cables—which will be needed for later additions should be roughed in at first, to save ripping out and rebuilding.

Placing the house on the lot is a prime consideration. Its livability is affected by the relation of rooms to sunlight, prevailing winds, and desirable views, which vary from one location to another.

The lot for an expansible house must be big enough to accommodate the basic house and all extensions. There must be enough space left over for side and rear yard areas required in the locality. Front yard restrictions, established by the local building line, should be checked for proper placement of the expansible house relative to future forward additions. The usual precautions should be taken with respect to survey, title and deed.

Mission Circle

NORWOOD (EUS)—The June meeting of the Mission Circle of Norwood Baptist church was held in the church with eleven present. The president, Mrs. Roy Nevins, was in the chair.

It was moved by Mrs. Robert Baker and seconded by Mrs. Gill that Mrs. Baptie go as a delegate to the convention at Ottawa.

Mrs. Patterson's group presented: scripture reading from Isaiah, 45th chapter, by Mrs. Patterson; a prayer by Mrs. Baptie; highlights of the Link and Visitors by Mrs. Dallman.

A missionary quiz by Mrs. Robert Baker ensued followed by silent prayer by everybody.

Seek Change

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Hotel Association announced Friday it will seek an amendment to the Criminal Code outlawing smoking in bed in hotels, which has resulted in "a steadily increasing loss of human life and damage to hotel property."

Your Garden:

Protecting Vegetable Garden From Rabbit Destruction

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

Hints for the Week-End Gardener: By now much of the vegetable garden is sown to seed and the tomato plants set out on the lee side of a stout stake. And by now perhaps Brer Rabbit has appeared and what to do is a yearly problem.

The real answer is to surround the garden with a 1½-inch wire mesh fence, three feet high with six to eight inches buried in the ground. A bale of poultry wire has 150 linear feet which will surround a 50 by 25-foot garden.

No assurance can be given that spray or dust repellants will give satisfactory rabbit control for more than a few days. If you want to try your luck consider two tablespoons of powdered alum mixed well with four cups wheat flour and applied to the plants as a dust — or spray the plants with aluminum sulfate — four teaspoons to a gallon of water.

The frequent rains of early spring, while beneficial in many ways, did cause an excessive leaching of the fertilizer applied last autumn and this spring. Thus additional applications are in order.

The secret of a good lawn, according to the old gardener, is to feed regularly, in June, July and August—and do not remove the grass clippings unless they are very long and heavy. The mulch so added and the fertility returned is responsible for more than half of the effectiveness of the feeding program. Use an organic fertilizer—if available—apply on dry grass and then rake in thorough before watering.

By now the flower border should be well established—but maximum results cannot be achieved without maintaining the fertility of the soil, using a fertilizer rich in phosphorus—and watering when conditions demand watering. A mulch of peatmoss, ground corn cobs or similar organic matter will conserve soil moisture and keep weeds at a minimum.

Watch out for these two pests—the iris borer and the rose slug. The borer is a large grub-like worm, cream to pinkish in color, tunneling through the fleshy root (rhizome) of iris, resulting in their eventual death, unless controlled. Sanitation methods should be followed to get rid of the eggs lain on the old tops — which should have been gathered and burned last autumn. To control, used either 5% DDT dust or a spray made of three level tablespoons of 50% DDT wettable powder in a gallon of water. Dust or spray plants and ground thoroughly in early spring just as growth starts and repeating twice at 10-day intervals.

Rose slugs are small greenish slugs about one half inch long and feed on the underside of the leaves. A DDT dust or spray, as prescribed for iris borer, will keep them under control.

A fence will keep destructive rabbits off your property.

Gardening Questions

Q—Which kind of cabbage is recommended for the novice home gardener?

A—The soft-headed green type is best for the novice. One of the best is Golden Acre.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—Our peonies, planted three years ago, again fail to show flower buds. What causes this?

A—It may be caused by planting the roots too deeply. Setting the crowns an inch and a half to two inches deep is the accepted practice. Peonies planted in the shade seldom produce flowers.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—How often should daffodil bulbs be dug up and replanted?

A—When planted in an enriched, well-drained soil one need not disturb daffodil clumps for ten years. We know of plantings in gravelly soil that have not been touched for 30 years.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—Does heavy cutting of blooms on old lilacs have any effect upon the health of the shrubs?

A—No. Cutting acts as pruning will. It encourages new growth.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—With limited space for vegetables, what kinds can be planted with some assurance of success?

A—Short rows of lettuce, green beans, beets and carrots; a half dozen staked tomato plants, three peppers, miniature corn in three rows, two feet apart, with hills a foot apart in the rows; and midget cucumber and Uconn squash, which is a bush type.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—Will the addition of rusty nails to the soil about our roses make the reds more brilliant in color?

A—Probably not, since the health of the plant is the governing factor.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—When should we stop cutting asparagus, and when should fertilizer be applied?

A—An eight-week cutting season is recommended for asparagus. Fertilize in midsummer with a complete fertilizer, using four pounds for each 100 square feet of bed.

✧ ✧ ✧

Q—Cutworms raise cain with our tomato, pepper and egg-plants almost as soon as we set them out. What can we do?

A—Use 5% chlordane mixture, dusted about the bases of the plants when first set out.

Natural Lumber Panelling Still Retains Its Prestige

By MR. FIX (NEA)

Man-made innovation in wall-panelling materials are all the rage these days, but natural-lumber panelling still retains its prestige. It compares favorably in price and is no more difficult to install.

The installatoin of either kind of wall covering would be simplicity itself if all rooms were built like boxes—without wall projections or openings. But where the smooth expanse of wall is broken by doors, windows or fireplaces, complications arise.

In the case of a fireplace wall, says the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, the answer is to start panelling directly over the fireplace. Since panelling there catches the eye first, it should start at the centre of the fireplace and go out in both boards should be used over the fireplace.

To prepare the walls for natural - wood panelling all molding, baseboards, picture or plate rails, etc., are removed. Then it is necessary to locate the wall studs behind the plaster.

Do this by driving a nail into the plaster until a stud is struck. When two adjacent studs are found the distance between them ca nbe determined and the rest will be easy to locate. Studs are commonly placed 16, 18 or 24 inches apart, centre-to-centre.

Now draw lines on the wall along stud centres from floor to ceiling. Using the stud lines as guides, nail three horizontal strips of 1 x 3-inch lumber to the wall. Nail one at the base of the wall, one along the top of the ceiling, and one level with the top of the fireplace mantel.

If the wall is perfectly true, with no humps or depressions, the nailing strips are easy to place. But if the wall is uneven it may be necessary to drive wedges behind them in spots so that panelling will lie flat against the strips.

Therefore, it is best to set the strips in place temporarily with just a few nails and test them with a straight-edged board. Then fasten the strips to studs with sixcan be determined and the rest inch penny commone nails long enough to go through the strip, plaster and into studding.

Then, starting at the exact centre line of the fireplace, fassten wood panelling to nailing strips. Four-penny common nails or No. 6 wood screws may be used at the top and bottom of each panel, since these will be covered later with molding. For exposed nailing use finishing nails, which have tapered heads.

Where screws are used, countersink them. To accommodate either screws or common nails, predrill holes in panels. The same diameter as screw or nail shanks, the holes reduce the chance of splitting and spoiling a beautiful board. It isn't necessary to predrill holes for finishing nails.

An attractive stock molding is then added all around the fireplace, and at ceiling and floor level. Molding gives a finished look and conceals small gaps and imperfections in the carpentry work—such as uneven lengths of panelling or ragged edges where a panel has been cut to fit around the side of the fireplace.

Since the installation of panelling was started at the centre line of the fireplace, boards at either side of the opening end up equal in width. This adds to the professional-quality look of the finished job and also simplifies the panel-board installation on the wall as a whole.

FIX-IT FORUM

Q—How can we remove a water stain from the top of a maple desk?—Mrs. B. G. M.

A—Rub gently with a paste made of finely powdered pumice and linseed oil. Apply with a soft cloth and rub only briefly, then inspect to see whether the spot is gone. Continue procedure until it is removed. With any such treatment there is always the chance that the finish may be damaged, but very gentle rubbing may prevent it.

YOUR FIREPLACE can be made the centre of interest in your living room by the addition of warm, elegant wood panelling.

Daddy Of All White Elephants Pacific Great Eastern Hopes For First Surplus In 1954

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's controversial foundling, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, expects to make a historic purchase this year—black ink.

For 42 years the government-owned line, traversing hills and valleys of central B.C., has ended each year in the red.

"But 1954 will be different," says the province's deputy minister of railways, J. S. Broadbent. "All expectations are that the PGE will show a substantial profit this year."

Adding weight to the prediction is the steady decline in operating losses recorded in recent years.

NEW CAPITAL SET-UP

In 1950 the PGE operated at a loss of $800,000. The figure included straight operating costs, maintenance and provision for depreciation but excluded fixed charges on the $130,000,000 debt largely wiped out by the government this year under a capital-structure reorganization.

Two years later, when the 347-mile rail link between the southern terminal at Squamish, B.C., and Quesnel in the Cariboo country had been extended another 82 miles northward to link up with the CNR at Prince George, the loss was $346,332. Last year it dropped to $70,000 despite a prolonged woodworkers' strike that drastically reduced the volume of traffic over the line.

In the first two months of 1954, the volume of traffic over the PGE was reported up 25 per cent over the same period the year before.

Founded in 1912 as a private venture designed to tie in with the old Grand Trunk Pacific system running between Prince Rupert and Red Pass Junction, near Jasper, Alta., the PGE went into bankruptcy five years later. The provincial government took it over in 1917.

Often called the daddy of all white elephants, the PGE paradoxically runs through one of Canada's greatest concentrations of breath-taking scenery.

EXTENSION PROGRAM

The PGE this year launched a long-promised $60,000,000 extension program, a 40-mile, $12,000,000 southern extension will bring the line from Squamish to North Vancouver replacing the present slow and costly barge system used to move freight cars to the present railhead. The first train is scheduled to chug into North Vancouver late next year.

The line, which will have taken 43 years to travel the 470 miles between its originally announced terminals of Vancouver and Prince George, expects to make a much more respectable showing on a new 270-mile northern extension into Dawson Creek, B.C., starting point of the Aalska highway and main distributing centre for the grain and oil wealth of the Peace river district.

The extension will link up with the Northern Alberta Railway that runs between Dawson Creek and Edmonton and will give the Peace river area a shorter rail route to Pacific coast ports. Construction will start next year and is scheduled for completion in five years.

PAYING PROPOSITION

Ralph Chetwynd, who joined the PGE in 1943 as a traffic trouble shooter and now heads the entire organization as B.C.'s minister of railways, says the southern extension will be a paying proposition, largely due to a speed-up in traffic and reduced handling charges.

Neither the government nor the PGE expects the northern extension to show a profit in the first few years of operation.

Mr. Chetwynd says he is confident the northern extension will have a sufficient traffic volume to defray straight operating expenses from the start, but he believes it will be some time before it will show a profit except on a low—or non-interest basis.

PROVINCE TO BENEFIT

But he sees over-riding benefits for the province as a whole.

"The northern extension will speed up the colonization of the north country.

"It will have a tremendous impact on trade and industry in the whole country and especially in B.C. It will provide a long-needed link between northern and southern B.C. and give the products of the Peace river a shorter outlet to tidewater for foreign markets and to the rich west coast market-in both Canada and the United States."

The PGE will also open up vast forest areas north of Prince George and spur exploitation of reserves of mineral wealth.

The northern extension will run through Pine pass, location of one of the greatest stands of virgin spruce remaining in Canada, and through the centre of a huge deposit of high-grade coal.

Gold is found in most sections of the central and northern interior. A limestone deposit suitable for manufacturing cement is located near Dawson Creek and elsewhere silver, zinc, lead, asbestos, iron and platinum exist in commercial quantities.

100,000 Visitors Expected To See Shakespearean Plays

By JOHN PATERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP) — Skip Manley's name can be added to the list of professionals who have combined to make the annual Shakespeare festival here an event that has gripped the imagination of the theatrical world—as well as a box-office success.

On the basis of advance sales, more than 100,000 visitors from Canada and the United States are expected to see the three plays this summer in the roomy smoke-blue canvas theatre built by Skip. They will see the result of a combination of talents from here and abroad.

Manley, a gregarious, middle-aged aristocrat of circusdom's high rigging hierarchy, is from Chicago. Tyrone Guthrie, director of "The Taming of the Shrew," and the Greek tragedy, "Oedipus Rex" is from the London stage, known also for his work at the Metropolitan Opera, the Edinburgh Festival and successful productions in Finland and Israel.

STAGE ON THREE SIDES

Another Londoner, Cecil Clarke, is the festival's artistic director and will stage "Measure for Measure." The unique stage — which thrusts itself into the audience on three sides—and costumes are by the talented Tanya Moisiewitch who has worked with Dr. Guthrie in many of his productions.

James Mason of London and Hollywood will star. His leading ladies include Frances Hyland of Shaunavon, Sask., and the London stage, and Eleanor Stuart of Montreal, whose lengthy career includes supporting roles to many stage greats in England and the continent.

The tent itself nestles among trees in a park which follows the soft-flowing Avon river. Tent capacity has been increased from last year's 1,500 seats to 1,900 for the festival opening June 28.

Last year the tent had the usual interior posts supporting the canvas roof. Two of the wooden posts were in the backstage area, but the other two were in the audience section.

After months of planning, Manley, who has travelled most of North and South America as a tent and rigging expert since he was 16, came up with the radical proposal to move the posts to the outside of the tent.

Engineers thought it couldn't be done. Manley convinced them it could.

TOWERING STEEL POSTS

Once he had it in blueprint form, it was Manley's job to translate it into reality. He directed the delicate tent-hoisting job from a bosun's chair atop one of the 95-foot steel posts which replaced the wooden ones.

The tent has the largest poleless area of any "big top" known, 100 by 108 feet.

Each of the steel poles was built to carry a load of 7½ tons of canvas, something never before attempted. The poles are eight inches in diameter.

Three miles of steel cable and 11½ miles of rope are used to take up the stresses caused by weight, and to take care of extra strain due to high winds or heavy rain.

Manley has made generous allowance for weather. In his calculation of safety factors he has, in his words, "put money in the bank."

Once erected, just before rehearsals began in mid-May, Skip Manley moved into his $23,300 tent and will live there until it is taken down after the Aug. 21 closing.

UNIQUE FESTIVAL TENT — Skip Manley (right), of Chicago, discusses problems of the unique tent at the Shakespearian Festival with Tom Patterson, festival founder and director of planning. Manley, dressed in his working clothes, is a veteran of more than 30 years as a high-rigging expert on circuses and big-tops throughout North and South America. The $23,300 tent has a capacity of 1,900, an increase of nearly 400 from last year. Two of the four supporting posts have been placed on the outside of the tent, giving additional space.—(CP Photo).

Defence Dept. Recruits 109 Teachers For Europe

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence department has recruited 109 single teachers, mostly women, eight principals and one superintendent for service in schools for children of Canadian army and air force men in Europe.

Eight Canadian schools now are being built at Canadian Army and RCAF stations in France and Germany. The army will have three in Germany, one near Soest, one near Werl and one near Hemer. The RCAF will have five, at Zweibruecken and Bad-Soellingen in Germany and at Metz, Gros Tenquin and Marville in France.

The teachers were recruited, the defence department said Friday, through co-operation of 40 school boards across the country.

LOANED TWO YEARS

They will be on loan for two years from the school boards and receive the same salary they would have got from the boards. They will receive free living quarters overseas and their transportation will be paid there and back. Their superannuation and seniority rights will be maintained.

The defence department, which will reimburse the school boards for the teachers' salaries, made only one stipulation. The teachers had to be single. This does not apply to the eight principals or superintendent, who will be able to take their families overseas with them. The superintendent, A. C. E. Ritter of Kingston, Ont., will be stationed at Metz, headquarters for the air division.

Commuter Trains Money-Losing Project

TORONTO (CP)—A spokesman for Canadian National Railways said the operation of commuter trains is a money-losing proposition and the railways would discontinue them if permitted.

Railway officials appeared before the board of transport commissioners which is meeting here to hear submissions on the commuter train situation.

There are nine railway lines leading into Toronto from the metropolitan and suburban areas but a commuter service is run on only one of these.

That service runs on the Hamilton-Oakville-Toronto line and the Oakville Commuters' Association in its brief, is requesting a better service. The railway is seeking an increase in rates for the service.

Ask Gov't Check Fertilizer Prices

OTTAWA (CP) The government was urged Friday to launch an investigation into fertilizer prices in Canada.

The suggestion was made in the Commons by E. G. McCullough (CCF-Moose Mountain) after he charged that prices are so high that many farmers have stopped using commercial fertilizer.

The government should investigate fertilizer prices and take steps to permit the product to be sold to farmers at a reasonable price.

Mr. Mcullough also said the government betrayed Canadian farmers when it sold its fertilizer plants at the end of the Second World War.

A LONG WAY FROM HOME—A catamaran, loaded with a group of Sea Scouts, heads out to sea from Biscayne Bay, Miami, Fla. Since their home town, Mercedes, Tex., is a long way from water, they had to come to Florida for a real cruise. The boys saved their money for a year and made the trip. Upon their arrival, Miami Sea Scouts presented them with this chance for a sea adventure.

A Cleric Comments:

What A Marriage Must Have

By A. C. FORREST

One of the most tragic items read about the newsworthy, the great, or the notorious, is the terse comment in a weekly magazine going something like this: "Divorced, after 30 years of marriage, four children, at Reno." There's enough drama packed into that to set any good writer off on a long novel.

It's not difficult to understand young married couples having their troubles. For many, the adjustments to married living are not easy. But it is hard to imagine what could happen to a couple who have lived together for thirty years, reared a family and then separated.

BIBLE ROMANCE

There is an old story in the Bible which dramatizes what has now come to be a common thing in society. It is the romance of David and Michal. There is a short romantic novel stuffed with the irony an dtragedy of life.

It starts off by saying Michal loved David. It ends with the comment that she despised him. What happened to bring about the change?

Michal the Princess was Saul's youngest daughter, and when David the shepherd lad attained fame and a welcome at the court of the King, Michal was attracted to him. We are told simply, "Michal loved David." All we know about David's reaction was that, "it pleased David well." So they were married.

The early days of marriage were exciting and full of promise as far as their love was concerned. Michal braved the neurotic wrath of the jealous King, and helped her young husband to escape his dangerous anger.

David had to flee and there followed years of separation. Eventually when David came to power a first request was that Michal be restored to him. She had been married off by Saul to another, and while we don't know how she felt about her second husband, he followed her along the trail to David, weeping. He must have loved her too.

Again the years rolled by, David prospered and became well established in his Kingdom. We are told nothing of Michal until the great festive day when the Ark of the Covenant was being restored to Jerusalem amid great ceremonial. David was leading the parade, "leaping and dancing before the Lord." Michal his queen looked out the window at her husband and she "despised him in her heart."

DAVID BECAME ANGRY

Later she told David what she thought of what had semed to her to be undignified conduct for a King, and David was angry and spoke bitterly to her. Their love story ends with the words, "And Michal the daughter of Saul had no child to the day of her death." We can imagine the sorrow of those years. She was in the palace of David but not of it. Hers was the greatest shame which could come to a Hebrew woman. She was a childless wife, and she was a wife in name only. Around her his other wives and concubines bore many sons and daughters to the man she once had loved.

What had happened that the flower of their youthful romance could wilt and die so soon?

In First and Second Samuel you can find it. There were the things which can corrode any marriage. In their youth there was war and long enforced separation. In addition there was bitter in-law interference. There was infidelity during their separation though it may not have been Michal's fault. There was too quick a climb for David. He had been humble and poor when he was young. By the time she despised him in her heart he had become powerful and also wealthy and a king. Perhaps that is enough to strain any marriage, if not break it.

SCORNED DAVID'S WAY

But in addition, Michal laughed at the religious faith and practice of David. She scorned the things which to him were important and she told him so with a sharp and bitter tongue. When she was hurt inside she found it necessary to hurt him, so she sneered at that which meant most to him, his faith in God. Instead of searching for the hurt which made her bitter, David retaliated with sharp words too. And his withdrawal from her was complete and final.

Such is the sad tale of an ancient broken marriage. With a comon religious faith it might have withstood the long separation and all the other things. But a marriage then, like a marriage now, has little chance of becoming what it is meant to be, without husband and wife being united in the deep things of a common faith in Almighty God.

Marmora

In the recent Arts results of the University of Toronto, John D. Brownlie, son of Canon J. W. and Mrs. Brownlie, student at Trinity College, was successful in obtaining his year with honors. For the summer vacation he is acting as a steward on the Princess Marguerite, plying between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

Roy K. Frost is suffering from a badly sprained ankle sustained in a fall while working at Stirling High School recently.

A dance was held at Marble Point Lodge, Crowe Lake, on Friday evening under auspices of Marmora Chapter IODE.

The Orange Walk for lodges of Centre Hastings County is to be at Marmora Saturday, July 10th. It being the only commemoration of the battle of the Boyne that day over a large area, several additional lodges from outside the county are expected to participate.

William Bonter is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, where he recently underwent an operation.

MAKING RECOVERY

Photographer Lewis R. Parks, who suffered a ruptured appendix last week, is reported well on the road to recovery from a serious condition.

EARLY SHOW

The goose pond flower bed on Water St. has already been putting on its fine show that it repeats year after year. Iris and peonies have contributed the largest splashes of color so far, but there is promise of much more to come in the abundant green plants.

VISITORS FROM ALOFT

Ten sportsplanes from Oshawa are expected to touch down at Peterborough's Skyboro airport early on Sunday morning. The pilots will be guests of members of Peterborough Pilots' Association, who will show the visitors points of interest around the city, from the ground.

MORAL SUPPORT

Neighborhood baseball around the Douglas Ave. area is going big time. Two groups of young sandlotters, playing a game Friday night, drew quite a crowd. But the big attraction consisted of two groups of cheerleaders, young girls of barely school age who whooped it up for the home teams.

STRAWBERRIES

Brought along by these fine warm days, backyard strawberries are ripening quickly enough to make picking worth while. There are a few signs of the wild variety being about ready for picking by the diligent as well. The season's first crop is usually the sweetest.

ATTENTION MAJORETTES!

The second Canadian amateur baton-twirling championships for the title, "Miss Majorette of Canada" will be held at the Norfolk County Fair on October 5. Entries are now being received by Harold I. Pond, secretary of the fair, at 55 Colborne St., in Simcoe. The title was won last year by Miss Doreen J. Bradt of Hamilton.

CAR HITS DITCH

Provincial Police in Lindsay found a car in a ditch on a county road four miles south of Lindsay early Saturday morning, resting against a hydro pole. The driver was not at the scene when police arrived but was identified as Donald Wesley Anderson, of Lindsay. He was not injured nor was the car extensively damaged. Const. Plumtree of the Lindsay OPP detachment investigated.

$4,000 Grant Made To Fair

A $4,000 grant to Peterborough was included in $494,000 earmarked by Agriculture Minister Gardiner in the Commons Friday night for capital and other grants for construction of buildings at agricultural fairs.

A ten-year agreement with the federal government provides for $3,000 a year, Exhibition Board Chairman John Kitney said today. Junior farmers are given $500 and there is a $500 grant for judging expenses.

Grants are given for capital expenditure rather than to subsidize prizes so that exhibition grounds may be functioning the year round, said Mr. Kitney.

The provincial government matches the $3,000 federal grant, although they have only a five-year contract with Peterborough, which expires this year. The contract with the federal government has another two years to run.

Lindsay, which has a parallel arrangement, was given $2,145 in grants. Other grants included: Galt, $1,090; London, $21,000; Ottawa, $4,500; London, $21,000; Toronto, $4,000; Simcoe, $20,937.

Sherbrooke Congestion Irks Citizens

Workers Park All Day, Block Laneways; Ask For Meters, Signs

Sherbrooke St. citizens are up in arms and feel the city should do something about cars parking all day (and sometimes overnight) between Jackson Park creek and Aylmer St.

W. J. Koster, a retired contractor at 200 Sherbrooke St., says he is "not against the individual drivers" who block strects and clog laneways, but feels the city should "do something soon."

If parking were allowed on one side of the street only, it would be easier to get out of driveways, says Mr. Koster. He also suggested more meters might relieve some congestion.

Sherbrooke St. is metered west from George St. as far as the creek and the Peterborough Automotive Supply. There are one-hour parking signs almost as far as the creek. Beyond that there is a six-hour limit, which Mr. Koster feels is "unenforced."

NOT PREJUDICED

"I'm not prejudiced against anybody," said Mr. Koster, and "I don't want to stir up any trouble with my neighbors." He said through traffic, was not a serious problem, nor transient parking, but those workers on George St. who leave their cars parked on the street all day."

Mrs. John Anderson, of 195 Sherbrooke St., feels more meters "would only make things worse." Meters, she says, "should never be installed in front of private homes."

Biggest problem, says Mrs. Anderson, is cars blocking laneways. She said she had had to call the police to have cars removed from in front of her driveway, and wondered what would happen in case of an emergency, with laneways blocked.

A proposed new civic parking lot on the north side of Sherbrooke west of the creek might relieve some congestion, says Mrs. Anderson. She added, however, that "people won't pay to park if they can do it free."

TWO-FOOT LIMIT

A two-foot no-parking limit on either side of all driveways was advocated by Mrs. C. E Sisson, of 187 Sherbrooke St. She describes cars parked too close to laneways, even when not blocking them, as a "regular nuisance."

Although her husband thinks more meters might relieve the parking problem, Mrs. Sisson feels that cars would then 'be starting up and parking all day." There is, she feels, at least some constancy in the fact that most cars are parked for long periods.

Since hers is the first house west of the Jackson Park creek bridge, Mrs. Sisson has a particular problem with motorists using her laneway to turn around. She feels this is an unwarranted invasion of property rights which is prevalent in the Sherbrooke St. area and worst at the Sisson home.

Mrs. A. J. Williams, of 194 Sherbrooke St., feels the proposed new parking lot "would only make things worse," since more cars would presumably travel along Sherbrooke St.

FRIDAY WORST

Daytime parking is bad, but Friday night is the worst, says Mrs. Williams. Mororists park "wherever they please," at the expense of Sherbrooke St. residents.

"Surely it is not to much to expect," says Mrs. Williams, "that a person should be able to get into his own driveway without any trouble."

Led by W. J. Koster, several Sherbrooke St. citizens sent a letter to city council, asking that the parking problem be investigated by city council. This letter, says Mr. Koster, was sent two months ago, but "nothing has yet been done."

Deputy police chief John Naples says the traffic committee of city council is working on the congestion problem, and signs limiting parking may be going up in the controversial area.

Ailing Children Taken To Camp For Holiday

Several Peterborough School children who have heart, diabetic, or chest disabilities will be attending Illahee Lodge at Cobourg for three weeks.

Two of them, under 10 years of age, leave Monday with a Kinette club member who is driving them down.

Raising money through fashion shows, rummage sales, and a variety show, the Peterborough Kinette Club made it possible for these children who need specially prepared diets and care to enjoy a camping experience.

Two doctors and nurses from the Hospital for Sick Children remain at the camp to check the children's diets, weights, and keep a watchful eye on their physical and mental well-being.

At the same time they explain to the children why they need special diets and how and why insulin shots are injected.

Before a child's application to the camp is accepted his medical record is checked by Dr. A. L. Chute, physician-in-chief at Sick Children's Hospital.

In Peterborough, the department of health assists in arrangements for these youngsters.

BEGAN IN 1949

Illahee Lodge was established in 1949 to make camp life possible for children who otherwise would never be able to attend camp. The lodge takes care of about 40 children for three weeks during a six-week period.

It is operated by the Neighborhood Workers' Association, a Red Feather organization in Toronto, in conjunction with various service clubs.

Located on the shores of Lake Ontario, and surrounded by well-kept landscaped lawns, the lodge was furnished by T. Eaton Co. Each child has his own bed and dresser and rooms hold between two and four children.

RECREATION DIRECTOR

A camp recreation director interests the children in leather crafts, woodcarving, and nature study. When it rains the children present concerts, act in and produce plays in the lodge's large recreation room.

Kinette club members who will be driving the children to and from Cobourg are Mrs. Howard Powell, Mrs. W. R. Godson, Mrs. Norman Kelly, Mrs. Clarence Boorman, Mrs. Arthur Black, Mrs. Cameron Craig and Mrs. Walker Jones.

Three Minor Accidents Reported To Police

About $250 damage was caused in three minor traffic collisions reported to city police Friday. At Water and London streets, James R. Black, Oshawa, and William D. Wilson, R.R. 4, Peterborough, were driving cars which collided. Constable Jack Wilson investigated.

Gregory Wilson, 450 O'Connel Rd., collided with a parked car owned by Allen Tendon, 559 Aylmer. The collision occurred on Park St. Constable W. A. Scott investigated.

A similar accident occurred on Bolivar St. when a car driven by Clinton Stockdale, 494 Bolivar St., collided with a parked vehicle belonging to Donald Roseburgh, 530 Bolivar. Constable W. G. Scott investigated.

Fire Fighters Seek Traffic Act Change

WINDSOR (CP) — The Federation of Ontario Fire Fighters has decided to seek an amendment to the Ontario Traffic Act protecting drivers of fire vehicles forced to go through red lights on emergency runs.

The resolution, approved at the annual convention of the federation, was approved after a Windsor fireman was convicted of careless driving. His fire truck went through a red light and was involved in a collision with another vehicle. The convention was told that firemen are violating the act in most Ontario centres on direct orders from the fire chief.

SEVEN MILES of road in the Douro district are expected to be straightened and paved before the end of fall this year. Already bulldozers have prepared a stretch of road on the Peterborough-Warsaw highway and in the top picture a motor-paver is seen laying down the preliminary asphalt foundation. This machine, one of only two in Canada, mixes, paves and levels in a continuous operation. Next to the machine an oil tanker is filling the tanks on the motor-paver. In the lower picture a D-7 bulldozer clears away rocks and stumps to allow a wider road near to the second Douro turn-off. —(Examner Staff Photos)

Douro Roads Being Paved

Contractors for the Peterborough county are going all out to complete the re-construction of seven miles of road in the Douro township before fall.

Operations on a stretch of the Peterborough-Warsaw highway between the second Douro turn-off and Warsaw were started about a month ago and already over two miles of road have received a first coating.

This particular stretch of road has proved very dangerous to drivers during winter months. However, it should be much improved in the future.

R. A. Gagne of Cobourg has the contract for widening, levelling and straightening three miles of the road.

Friday, one of his, machines, a 19-ton D-7 bulldozer, had just started work near the second Douro turn-off. With a blade which weighs three tons, the massive machine was making short work of the rocks and stumps along the outer fringes of the road.

Mr. Gagne, who has Pat Godfrey, of Young's Point, driving the bulldozer, said that a larger machine will start work on the road next week. Several corners have to be taken of and considerable filling is to be done in low patches along the highway. The contractor thought that three months would see the completion of his work in the area.

RARE MACHINE

The motor-paver, which is paving a portion of the highway nearer to Warsaw, is one of only two such machines in Canada. Once loaded with gravel and hot oil, it moves along the road laying several inches of course paving, which will later be covered with a finer and more durable coating of tar and gravel.

Besides laying the pavement, the motor-paver maintains a fairly strict level and straight edges. It lays the pavement down in two sections.

This machine is owned and operated by the Royal Asphalt Paving company from Guelph. Oil, which must enter the machine at about 160 degrees in temperature, is being trucked from Peterborough some nine miles away.

Besides the stretch of reconstuction and paving on the Warsaw road, contractors will be doing similar work on the highway from Tintown to Nassau. It is not known yet whether all the work will be completed this year.

Truman Suffers Minor Indisposition

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Illness prevented Harry S. Truman from filling a guest spot in the musical show "Call Me Madam" Friday night, but the former U.S. president was reported feeling better today.

Attending an opening night performance at Kansas City Starlight theatre, Truman complained of feeling weak and of a sharp pain in the side. He was driven home by Mrs. Truman.

Later, Mrs. Truman said her husband had suffered a severe attack of indigestion.

How Best To See Canada In One Weekend?

Americans Seek Much Information On Proposed Trips To Canada

You can't generalize about Americans.

This is the conclusion reached by James M. Fraser and Robert G. Hamilton of the chamber of commerce, as they plow through a daily sheaf of letters from United States citizens inquiring about vacation prospects in the Kawarthas.

One man from Ohio was quite specific in his request for a detailed map of the Burliegh Falls area. Another less well-informed wanted a brochure on how best to see Canada in one weekend, entering by the east coast and leaving by the west.

OLD CANADIAN REQUEST

Nor are all the odd requests from south of the border. One businessman from Sudbury wrote the chamber this week, wondering where his secretary's mother-in-law could enjoy an undistracted vacation. Some Canadians raved about Rice lake: but this man said "Absolutely any place but Rice lake."

A man in New Jersey writes asking best train schedules to Hudson bay. A travel agency in the Netherlands asks general information. A man in Ohio insists on Jack's lake near Apsley. A man in Connecticut wants storage space for his car and trailer so he can take his family on a canoe trip through the Kawarthas. All these requests have been received within the last week.

Each letter, whether referred by the federal and provincial travel bureau or sent direct to the chamber, is answered. Special attention is given to letters on business paper. Mr. Fraser or Mr. Hamilton answers these personally, usually sending along a copy of the Examiner's vacation issue.

In addition to out-of-town letters, "we've had more telephone calls than ever before," says Mr. Hamilton. One this week from Pennsylvania asked about tourist facilities on Stony and Pigeon lakes.

PROMOTE LOCAL ATTRACTIONS

Tourists are lured to the Kawarthas by ideal fishing, but the chamber hopes to promote local attractions as well. Posters are going to 200 district resorts publicizing the city's world champion lacrosse team, and calling attention to the city's summer theatre.

There's plenty of room in the Kawarthas for all the tourists interested, says Mr. Fraser. There are 588 resorts, not including private cottages, which can accommodate a total of 16,913 persons. Only 10 of these can take more than 100, while 89 have facilities for more than 50 guests.

TOURIST BOOTH

Many inquiries will be handled by the tourist booth near the CNR station, to be opened soon. This is jointly operated by the chamber and the Jaycees.

Some requests are vague, some show ignorance of basic Canadian facts but most offer a challenge, Mr. Hamilton says.

There's a man in Hamilton, a salesman, who wants to take a busman's holiday by selling a few weeks in the Kawarthas. A policeman in Willoughby, Ohio, will be introduced to the local constabulary. A man in Indiana will be told that there is no trailer camp in Peterborough, but there is one in Lakefield. A lumber executive in McKeesport, Pennsylvania, will be encouraged to visit his Peterborough counterparts.

FLIGHTS TO MUSKOKA

While Mr. Fraser and Mr. Hamilton were looking over the morning mail, a folder arrived announcing that the TCA is now offering flights to Muskoka. Ten Muskoka lodges, from Muskoka Beach Inn north to Lake Rousseau have joined in a co-op movement to bring in the TCA and the result, Mr. Fraser feels, may be more tourists to the Muskoka area than ever before.

Meanwhile the chamber of commerce is letting people, chiefly Americans, know of the Kawartha's existence. Chamber of Commerce folders are in most major American cities, and many of the letters refer to them. Other letters are written after discussion with people who have been here.

Ontario is zoned into 52 resort areas, with the Peterborough area in District 10. Local requests on other vacation spots also are handled through the chamber, which keeps folders on most of Canada's holiday spots.

Grand Jury Reports Building Unsuitable For Orphanage Use

The St. Vincent's Orphanage building no longer serves its purpose, the grand jury at the general sessions of the peace decided after an inspection.

A number of changes and renovations were suggested for the present orphanage.

St. Vincent's was one of nine county and city buildings and institutions inspected by the grand jury. They were generally satisfied with conditions but suggested a few improvements.

Following is a resume of their two-page report:

1. Peterborough County Old People's Home. The building and grounds are in excellent condition under the supervision of the superintendent and matron, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McConnell.

"The only recommendation that the jury makes is that the windows used for fire escapes be replaced with hinged doors secured with releasing push-bars. Television has been provided for the entertainment of residents."

SATISFIED

2. Anson House. "Found to be in first-class condition. Residents were spoken to and they all said they were well satisfied and happy. Television has been installed for entertainment."

3. St. Vincent's Orphanage. "It is the opinion of the jury that the Sisters are doing the best they can in a poor situation, considering the age and condition of the building. The plumbing is very much outdated and the only toilet facilities for boys are on the third floor.

"The roof is in need of repair. The indoor playroom is far too small. The window wells of the two north cellar windows should be cleaned out—at present they are full of straw and waste paper-creating a desperate fire hazard.

"A folding gate should be installed at the top of the stairway just outside the girls' playroom. A boys' toilet should be installed in the southwest corner of the fruit cellar.

"The general opinion of the jury is that the building is unsuitable for the purpose for which it is being used."

4. Peterborough Civic Hospital. The hospital proper, kitchen, laundry and nurses' residence were inspected.

REASON FOR PRIDE

"The jury has no recommendation and feels that the city and county of Peterborough have reason to be proud of the hospital and its modern equipment."

5. Court House. "Plaster is falling in large sections from the ceiling of the sheriff's office, surrogate court, sheriff's private office and registry office. It is, in fact, in a disgraceful condition and is a danger to persons using these parts of the building. The jury recommends that this condition be rectified by repairs and redecorating as soon as possible."

(Unknown to the grand jury this item has already been attended to. A contract was let on March 30 to Fred Parsons of 674 Lundy's Lane to do the plastering and he is expected to get on with the job in a week or so.)

"The judge's retiring chambers need a new table as the present one is so unsteady it cannot be used for writing. We also recommend a carpet for the floor.

"The grand jury room and adjoining waiting room need redecorating."

6. Jail. "The jail is clean and well kept."

VERANDAH REPAIRS

7. Children's Shelter. "Found to be in excellent shape except for the verandah. The jury recommend repairs to be made to the foundation and supporting structure of the main verandah. The grounds and gardens are in excellent shape. Slides and swings are provided for the children. The sand box needs sand as it is now empty. Mr. and Mrs. McMillan have done a fine job."

8. House of Providence. "Establishment is well run and residents expressed complete satisfaction."

Court Splits 2.8-Foot Strip To Settle Dispute

A boundary dispute between two neighbors has been settled in county court by splitting the narrow (2.8 feet) boundary strip in half.

One half of 1.4 feet goes to Raffaile Aspero, of 591 Downie St., and the other half, also 1.4 feet, goes to Thomas D. Pearson, of 349 Dublin St.

Both sides had surveyors to back up their claims and both surveyors gave plausible explanations for their findings. Settlement was reached after it appeared that a third survey — a costly operation—would have to be ordered by the court.

The property in question is at the southwest corner of Downie and Dublin Sts. Pearson, the defendant in the action, lives on Dublin St. and his property extends east to Downie St. Aspero lives south of him.

Aspero, the plaintiff, claimed that he bought a strip of land, 45 feet to the north of his old property, from George Blodgett, back in 1949. He then built a garage on it.

NOT TRESPASSING

After a survey was undertaken by Pearson, who acquired Blodgett's lot, Aspero was persuaded that he was trespassing on Pearson's land and moved his garage to the south.

Later Aspero had another surveyor to do the job and, using an old survey point and old fence lines, this surveyor assured Aspero he had been on his own land all the time. There had been no need to move his garage.

Aspero brought suit against Pearson who filed a counter-claim. The action was tried Wednesday and Thursday in county court with Judge John de N. Kennedy presiding.

After the conflict in expert evidence, the two neighbors were persuaded to settle their quarrel over the 2.8 foot strip of land, just over 100 feet long.

They will split the width and Pearson agrees to remove his wire fence now on the southerly half of the narrow strip.

W. J. Arthur Fair, QC, was counsel for Aspero. John W. Corkery was counsel for Pearson.

McCarthy Ready To Start New Battle

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a short rest Senator McCarthy can be expected back with a fresh box of matches to start another roaring fire under the Eisenhower administration.

The 36-day army - McCarthy hearings just ended may turn out to have been merely a warm-up for future McCarthy struggles with the administration.

He said after the hearings he would sleep till he woke up, take a brief vacation with his wife, and then get down to business again. It won't be quiet business, from the way he described it.

He wants his investigations subcommittee, he said, to have hearings on whether Communists have slipped into defence plants. Then, McCarthy said, he wants to consider looking for Communists in the super-secret atom and hydrogen bomb plants and the central intelligence agency, which does counter-spying on the Communists overseas.

There he runs head-on again into the administration which stiff-armed him when he tried to look into the intelligence agency before.

THRIVES ON CONFLICT

Over the last four years, McCarthy had hopped from sensational charge to sensation charge and from headline to headline, attacking both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations when it suited him. Only for a year and a half has he headed the sub-committee. Before that he was a lone operator.

Conflict has been his meat and potatoes. He has grown strong on it. The sensations and the headlines have been the breath of his political life. Without them he would be again just one of the 96 senators.

No one, he has said, can stop his search for Communists in the government. It may be that he won't stop, or can't stop, until the Eisenhower administration crushes him or surrenders to him the key to the government's inner doors.

Canada's Health Situation Never Better

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada's doctors today reviewed a week-long look at the country's over-all health situation.

The conclusion: It was never better.

The conclusion was based on more than 120 papers, reports and panel discussions delivered during the 87th annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association which ended here Friday night.

"The convention has left the medical profession with a tangible feeling of achievement and optimism," said Dr. A. D. Kelly of Toronto, newly-appointed general secretary of the 10,000-member association.

"Although a vast amount of research into both the cause and treatment of disease still remains to be done, tremendous strides have been made in medicine during the last half century," he said. "There has been a steady and marked improvement in Canada's health picture."

SAYS MEETING SUCCSS

He termed the five-day gathering, which attracted more than 1,500 doctors from all sections of the country an "outstanding success."

The convention saw the CMA climax a two-year drive to encourage and maintain the standard of the general practitioner by officially inaugurating the College of General Practice; approve fluoridation of community water supplies and use of aluminum for cooking utensils and flatly condemn the practice of fee-splitting as "unethical and dishonest." Fee-splitting is any arrangement between doctors where one receives a portion of the other's fee without the patient's knowledge.

Friday's closing sessions were devoted to a wide-ranging clinical program that saw some of Canada's leading specialists deliver 29 technical papers and chair three panel discussions. All were designed to give the general practitioner an insight into some of the latest developments and techniques.

Wren Planning To Make Minority Report

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP) Albert Wren caught up with the touring highways investigation committee of the Ontario legislature Friday and the Liberal - Labor member for Kenora and government members tossed after-dinner barbs at each other over the committee's work.

Mr. Wren said at a luncheon in Rainy River that a minority report will be handed in by opposition members when the select committee finishes its work.

From Clare Mapledoram (PC—Fort William) came the retort: "What does he know about it? He hasn't been with us."

Neither Mr. Wren nor Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver travelled with the committee on fact-finding trips to Albany, N.Y., and northern Ontario.

At Fort Frances Friday night, during the after-dinner speeches at a chamber of commerce banquet, C. E. Janes (PC—Lambton East) said he was "sorry" to hear that a minority report would be presented.

To this, Mr. Wren replied that neither he nor Mr. Oliver "are out to embarrass any person or to make undue political hay . . . but we are primarily interested in seeing to it that the highways department administers its affairs in the best interests of the province."

The committee heard numerous pleas from civic officials for extension of the new Atikokan highway, 90 miles west to Fort Frances, giving this rich agricultural and tourist resort area an outlet to the Lakehead.

In Rainy River, the members were called on to help implement construction of an international bridge between Baudette, Minn., and Rainy River to replace the present ferry service.

Don't Know Destination Of Pork Sold To Czechs

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe and Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Friday night they do not know whether Russia was the ultimate destination of 9,000,000 pounds of canned pork sold to Czechoslovakia.

Opposition Leader Drew asserted, however, he has reason to believe the pork went to Russia.

Disposal of the pork—part of 98,294,000 pounds bought and canned by the government during the 1952 outbreak of foot and mouth disease—was questioned in the Commons during consideration of agriculture department estimates.

ISSUED PERMIT

Mr. Howe entered the discussion because his department issued an export permit to Canada Packers to ship the 9,000 pounds of pork behind the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Howe, who said last week that the pork was sold to Russia, said Friday night that the permit was issued for shipment to Czechoslovakia. However, both Russia and Czechoslovakia were subject to the same controls concerning exports.

Mr. Drew asked Mr. Howe to provide the date of the application for the export permit, the name of the purchaser and to whom it was consigned.

"I'll do better than that," Mr. Howe replied. "I'll file a copy of the export permit."

Mr. Gardiner, replying to other questions by Mr. Drew, said the pork was sold to Canada Packers Jan. 25 at 15¾ cents a pound after it began to turn color.

DIDN'T KNOW

"We didn't know where they were going to sell it," he said. "As far as I know, they didn't know where they were going to sell it. They bought in on speculation."

Mr. Gardiner said the government took a total loss of $31,911.00 on the 98,294,000 pounds bought under price support when the U.S. market was closed following the foot and mouth outbreak.

Sales in Canada, at around 35 cents a pound, totalled 60,000,000 pounds. Another 4,000,000 pounds was sold in the United States.

Remaining stocks were sold to Canadian firms on condition it be sold outside of North America.

GM Cancels Journal Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The giant General Motors Corporation has cancelled all advertising scheduled to be run in The Wall Street Journal and cut if off from some of its news releases following a story in The Journal recently forecasting 1955 automobile models.

General Motors advertising in The Journal has been at a rate of more than $250,000 annually.

The situation became known today after Bernard Kilgore, president and publisher of the newspaper, issued a statement in response to a query from Advertising Age, national weekly marketing newspaper.

No immediate comment was available from General Motors.

The Journal used the story May 28. It purported to give details of new models of most of the leading automobile companies and contained sketches of the 1955 Chevrolet. Any information regarding new models is always closely guarded by automobile companies for competitive reasons.

New System Transmits 600 Words Minute

NEW YORK (AP) — A telegraphic system transmitting 600 words a minute, about 10 times faster than conventional teletype units, has been placed in experimental operation.

During a month's trial run, the high-speed system is transmitting stock market reports from The Associated Press in New York to the Boston Herald Traveler. The trial run will determine the reliability of the system and the degree to which it can be used generally.

The system was developed by the Teletype Corp. Transmitter equipment comprises two cabinets, one containing a high-speed tape "reader" and the other an electronic apparatus which speeds signals over the inter-city circuits. Receiving equipment consists of a high-speed "punch" which produces tape at the rate of 600 words a minute.

Drew Supports Saskatchewan Dam Project

OTTAWA (CP) — Saskatchewan members have been joined by Opposition Leader Drew in urging federal support of a $135,000,000 project to dam the South Saskatchewan River for hydro-electric power and irrigation waters.

A Liberal back-bencher, two CCF members and Mr. Drew spoke in the Commons Friday night in support of the project—a giant earth dam at Outlook, Sask., to irrigate 500,000 acres in the dry Palliser triangle and produce 500,000 horsepower of electricity.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, a consistent advocate of the project, had not spoken when the House adjourned with the topic still under debate during consideration of his department's estimates.

TRY FOR APPROVAL

The Saskatchewan government has not yet succeeded in its long-standing attempts to obtain federal government approval of the project. Prime Minister St. Laurent said recently he is not yet convinced the project is in the national interest.

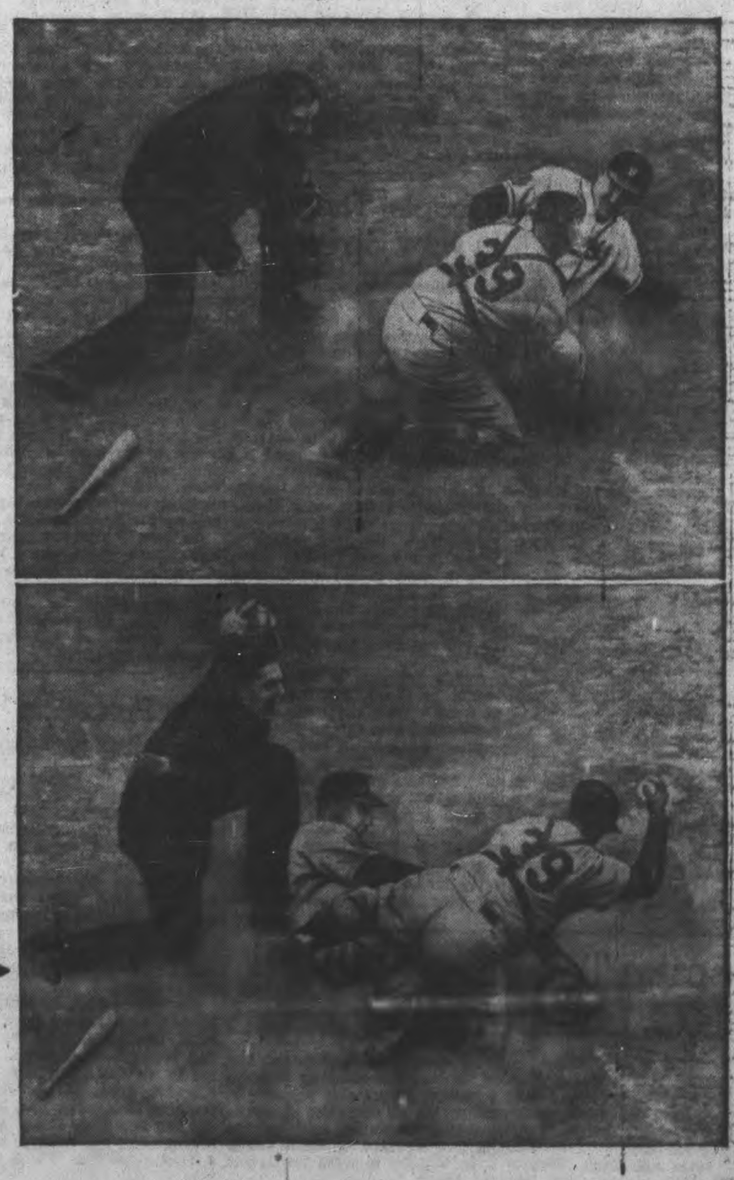
The government's position was set out earlier this month in a letter by Mr. Gardiner to Saskatchewan's Premier Douglas in which he said the government must be convinced a federal contribution will be in the national interest and will not subsidize in any way the provincial development of hydro power.

The letter asked that further discussions be held as soon as possible.

Premier Douglas has suggested a provincial share of $73,000,000 and a federal share of $62,000,000. The province's contribution would include $17,860,000 as the estimated value of the dam for power purposes.

FEDERAL VIEW

Mr. Gardiner's letter said the federal view is that the only satisfactory division of costs would be on a fixed percentage basis that would eliminate any possibility of federal subsidy for power and guarantee that any additional costs would be shared.



In Friday night's debate, Mr. Drew said there should be no question of sectional or partisan issues. Irrigation would reclaim rich land abandoned years ago following the drought of the 1930s.

Federal engineers of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration had concluded the project was practical. Either the government considered its engineers competent or it did not.

Other speakers, including Irvin Studer (L — Swift Current) described the hardships suffered in southwest Saskatchewan during the drought years of the 1930s, and said the dam should be built as a protection against another drought.

You always want a second look

How many times a day do you take a second look at something? If you have a chance—you do it every time something new comes along.

When your team wins, by skill or weird luck, it isn't enough to see it pictured—to hear it told—just once. You take a second look . . . in your newspaper. It's the only sports medium that gives you a chance to gloat and mastermind to your heart's content.

Whenever a politician, or a labor leader, or an act of God changes the traffic light for your business, you take a second look . . . at your newspaper. It's the only news medium that gives you a chance for quick complete re-evaluation.

When you want a house, or refrigerator, or television set, you look in your newspaper . . . at A's ad, then B's and C's, then back to A's. You take a second look. And your newspaper is the only advertising medium that gives you a chance to shop and compare, and see what's for sale here and now.

Everybody wants a chance for a second look—on the things that interest him most. That's why practically everybody reads the newspaper—every day.

Just as you read the paper now, your customers and prospects read the paper too—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose—for the advertising as well as for news or for fun.

• When your selling is backed by newspaper advertising, your story has a chance to reach almost everybody. Not just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans . . . but everybody.

That's why advertisers today invest far more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

Only the newspaper is first with the most news . . . first with the most people . . . first with the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Escapist Theme In New Styles

PARIS (Reuters)—French fashion designers turn to an escapist theme in the mid-season collections.

Retrospective ideas recall fashions worn before and after the First World War, as well as further evolutions of the shirtwaist dress of the 1930s.

The silhouette is full and feminine in many poses, with organdy and sheer materials propped out over buchram and petticoats.

High-waisted treatments continue to Jacques Fath, who shapes his belt-less waistline with narrow gores. Here, the 1912 feeling is strong in a model for day wear, with a tight sheath skirt, worn under its matching three-quarter-length ulster coat. The striped fabric is accentuated by a giant necktie evolved from the curved revers.

Fath's millinery is directly inspired by the 1912-14 era. Many of these giant platters and sloped brim sailor hats can be visualized jogging along in an early, horseless carriage. Crowns are piled high and swathed with organdy or veiling, matching the tone of the printed or pastel dress.

Bridesmaid's Dress Can Be Put To Good Use

NEW YORK (NEA)—The girl who acts as a bridesmaid at one or more summer weddings invariably ends up with some frilly-looking dresses for which she has no use.

Chances are very good that they're not her own taste at all. So the dress chosen by the bride goes into the bridesmaid's closet to stay.

By using a small amount of ingenuity, and a little time, a girl can redeem her lost investment and provide herself with a new dress for parties.

A frilly, baby-blue dress can, for instance, be smartened up by removal of ruffles, tinted any color she likes and transformed completely by use of plastic buttons as surface trim.

These melamine-type buttons, which can be sewn on by machine, will not, the makers claim, warp or melt in ironing. Further, they resist abrasion and keep their color. And they needn't be removed from the dress before it's dry-cleaned.

We show (above) a bridesmaid's dress that's been prettied up through use of gleaming white plastic buttons formed into clusters of grapes. Both leaves and buttons were sewn on with zigzag stitch.

Possibilities for such button designs are endless. They can be worked out to fit in best with the lines of the dress in question.

Drying, Brushing Hair Good Care In Summer

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

From now till fall, you should be taking advtange of the benefits gained by drying and brushing your hair outdoors in the sun.

For fresh air really helps to keep your hair and scalp in top-notch condition. And an outdoor hair beauty treatment will restore most of your hair's natural highlights, too.

First, of course, you'll have to shampoo your hair. Give it two sudsy latherings. Then, using a good, stiff massage brush, massage your scalp until it tingles. This will increase circulation and cleanse away any loose particles of skin on your scalp.

Rinsing is most important. To remove every bit of shampoo, you must rinse your hair several times with lukewarm water. For a really thorough job, use a spray attachment. But if you haven't one, a small pitcher or cup will do.

Then gather together your towel and hair accessories and go outside. Sitting in your lawn chair with a small table nearby (to hold your brushes, comb and hairpins) towel your hair vigorously.

After drying your hair, give it 200 strokes with your brush. And don't forget to massage your scalp outdoors. The combination of wind, sun and air, plus the scalp massage, will do wonders for your hair.

While you're outdoors, you can set your hair, too. Then, when you go into the house, you'll be ready to take out the pins and look your prettiest.

Women Doctors Given Chances

VANCOUVER (CP) — The new president of the Federation of Medical Women of Canada says there is plenty of opportunity for women doctors today, but "they should have someone to look after their home affairs."

Dr. Reba Willits of Vancouver, elected president of the FMWC at the annual conveption held here in conjunction with the Canadian Medical Association meeting, was supported in this opinion by Dr. Mary Bennett of Winnipeg, retired president, and Dr. Lucille Barnhouse of Winnipeg, treasurer.

The trio also agreed unanimously that a wife is the one big advantage held by most male doctors. "I've often wished I had someone to take care of outside business," said Dr. Bennett.

Teeners Guard Good Looks

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Teen-agers, you're probably very anxious to fulfill four plans for summer fun. By this time, you've taken last summer's wardrobe out of mothballs. Just looking at your bathing suit and play-clothes makes you wish you were on the beach.

It will be a wonderful summer, too, if you put in some work at your beauty routine. And eating the proper foods each day will provide you with all the necessary vitamins for those fun-filled beach parties and barbecues.

The skin and hair need special attention during very hot weather. If you're extremely fair, do not ruin your skin in trying to get a quick tan, Chances are you'll get a quick (and painful) sunburn. Time yourself on the beach. It's better to acquire a very light tan than a series of sunburns which can cause great damage to your fair skin.

Be sure to apply sun-tan oil several times while on the beach. This is especially true after leaving the water, if your sun-tan oil isn't waterproof.

If your hair is rather dry, it would be wise to include an oil treatment with your weekly shampoo. Apply baby oil to the scalp, then wrap a hot towel around your head. Keep the towel on for an hour, then shampoo.

Keep your brush and comb immaculately clean, or your weekly shampoo will lose its value.

Summer is for relaxation, but that doesn't mean letting yourself go beauty-wise. You should look the way you want to look on the beach — pretty, cool and well-groomed.

Woman Top Executive In B.C. Lumbering Concern

By KEN METHERAL

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—A slim, attractive brunette is proving daily that men have no monopoly on British Columbia's rough, tough lumbering industry.

Then years ago Mrs. Dorothy Ritson's chief concern was her home and the welfare of her son Jimmy. Today she is a top executive for a lumbering enterprise that annually cuts and ships $1,000,000 worth of lumber to domestic and export markets.

Dot Ritson describes her position as controller of the H. J. Gardiner Lumber Company as that of "a glorified bookkeeper."

But veteran lumbermen admit she can "handle any job from driving a truck to high finance as good or better than any man."

WARTIME OPENING

Dorothy was a bride of 23 with a two-year-old son when wartime labor shortages gave her an opening in the company founded by her father, the late H. J. Gardiner. With her three brothers, Alfred, Herbert and Harry, all serving in the armed forces, she offered to lend a hand in 1943. She has been working steadily ever since.

Her first job was driving a 12-ton logging truck hauling fresh-cut logs to the company mill. Quesnel business men still speak of the skill and daring of the dynamic, 115-pound woman as she manhandled the big trucks over rough, dangerous mountain trails. Soon she was helping to run operations in the woods and keeping the firm's records straight.

Her father, who walked into the Cariboo country from Vancouver with a pack on his back in 1899, established the company with the first sawmill to operate in the Quesnel area.

Today his daughter is controller of a widespread operation that last year marked 8,000,000 board feet of lumber. The company operates a number of portable sawmills in the woods, its own fleet of trucks, a subsidiary planing mill and has its own airplane to allow executives to keep in close touch with operations.

As controller, Mrs. Ritson is in charge of credit, financing and accounting.

Her brothers have taken over active management of the woods and mill operations and her husband, Jack, is in charge of the planing mill.

FUTURE BRIGHT

Mrs. Ritson sees a bright future for the Cariboo district in the announced plans for extension of the B.C.-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway from tidewater at Squamish, B.C., to Vancouver and construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Peace river district.

"Extension of the railway into Vancouver will be a great boop for the lumber industry," she says. "It will allow us to compete for the first time in the Prairie market and give more competitive rates in the United States."

Both the rail and pipeline developments should spark development of secondary industries in the Quesnel area and bring to the women of the interior more of the amenities of city life, she added.

"It will be wonderful to have the convenience of gas for cooking. And no furnace to stoke when hubby's away—oh my."

Mrs. Ritson thinks Canadian business women should stop forming their own clubs and take a more active part in such organizations as chambers of commerce and boards of trade.

"We should stop flaunting the fact we are women and just concentrate on doing a good job.

"That's the fastest way of making a man sit up and take notice."

Diplomatic Row Turns Out For Triple Ottawa Wedding

OTTAWA (CP)—Diplomatic row has been astir for weeks and today it turned out in force to see three dark-eyed sisters from the land of the Incas walk to the alter together.

The prime social event of Ottawa's summer, and its ripples extended right up into the government, was the triple wedding of the daughters of his excellency German Fernandez-Concha, Peru's ambassador to Canada, and Mrs. Fernandez-Concha.

The apostolic delegate to Canada officiated. The wife of Peru's president Delgardo de Odria looked on. And one of the brides came down the aisle on the arm of a Canadian cabinet minister.

The last of a long round of social functions in honor of the three South American lovelies was given Friday night by speaker Wishart Robertson of the Senate. He held a reception for the couples in his chambers in Parliament Hill's main building.

PRONOUNCES VOWS

Today in flower - decked St. George's Roman Catholic church, Msgr. G. B. Panico, the Pope's representative in Canada and an old family friend from Peru, pronounced the marriage vows over Victoria, 23, Luzmila, 22, and Amparo, 21.

Victoria married Peter Bonardelli of Montreal, executive secretary of the Inter-American Association, who plans to go into public relations.

Luzmila's groom was Dr. Roque Belido-Tagle of Lima, Peru, an eye specialist.

Amparo was married to Angel Carnevale of Caracas, a Venezuelan cocoa planter.

As the brides walked up the aisle, the church was crowded with more than 500 guests from Peru, Puerto Rico, the United States and many parts of Canada. There were diplomats and their wives and many from Ottawa society.

WEAR IDENTICAL GOWNS

The girls wore identical gowns of ivory lace and satin, and they carried bouquets of white roses. The bridesmaids, three for each couple, wore mauve, yellow and blue.

Victoria was on the arm of her father, Luzmila was escorted by Col. Sydney C. Oland, honorary consul of Peru in Halifax. Hon. Ralph Campney, associate defence minister, was Amparo's escort.

After the ceremony the guests converged on the tree-shaded lawn of the Peruvian embassy for a reception featuring champagne and a five-layer wedding cake weighing 130 pounds.

The three couples left on their honeymoons soon after the reception. For travelling Victoria wore a brown tailored suit with honey-colored accessories. Both Luzmila and Amparo wore grey suits with pink accessories.

QUESTION: ... I read your answer regarding wheat germ to Mary H...one in 14-oz. box at 50c, another in cellophane bag at 11c . . . my doctor explained that many more times of the latter are required to be equivalent in value (to the former). This difference of opinion confuses me... does one grind millet for porridge meal or to use it in baking?...my husband and I are on a diet...I have difficulty with dinner desserts, and supper dishes... I use brown rice but your recipes that I like best with rice have tomatoes or some other forbidden ingredients...I would appreciate it if you had time to give a little thought to my problem...Mrs. P. McF.

ANSWER: I have spoken to 3 medical doctors re the 50-cent package vs. the 11-cent bag of wheat germ. The contents of the package are sterilized. However all say that wheat germ must be fresh. That is why I buy it at the flour mill the day it is milled. Write to Mr. Russell Boyd, Carlsbad Springs, Ont. for millet meal.

PINEAPPLE RICE PUDDING

One-half cup unpolished or brown rice, ¼ cup sugar or honey, 1 cup canned (or fresh) crushed pineapple, 1½ cups each water and evaporated milk, 2 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt. Wash rice and soak in cold water 1 hour. Drain, put in double boiler and add milk and water and sauce and cook covered until rice is tender, over boiling water. Add sugar or honey, egg yolks slightly beaten and crushed pineapple. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and turn into butered baking dish and bake at 300 deg. Fahr. 30 minutes. Other fruits may be substituted for pineapple when in season. If using strawberries do not add to pudding, but slice raw over it when serving.

RISOTTO

One cup long grain or unpolished or brown rice, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons butter or fat, 1 quart meat stock (or diluted canned consomme), grated cheese. Wash rice in sieve. Heat butter and brown the chopped onion and raw rice in it. When browned add the seasoned stock or consomme and cook until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Just before serving grated cheese may be stirred in or sprinkled over.

LETTER: Someone asked for a recipe for "Fairy Buns" . . . I have one for Fairy Puffs: 3 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon melted shortening, 2 eggs, ½ cup white sugar, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt. Beat the eggs until light; stir in sugar, milk and lemon juice. Combine the two mixtures, beat well and then add melted shortening. Drop by teaspoonfulls into deep hot fat and cook until brown (a cube of bread will brown in 60 seconds when fat is correct temp.) Turn once during cooking. Drain on brown paper and when cold dust with powdered sugar.

I have been reading your column for quite a long time and have taken your advice and used your helping hints . . . since I was 12 (I am 16). I am still learning and hope to try white and brown bread soon. Evelyn S.

ANSWER: Good for you, and thank you. You are learning to be helpful very young Evelyn. Good luck with the Cream Puffs —recipe for which I have mailed to you.

QUESTION: . . . please tell me what monosodium glutamate is? Where do you buy it?. When you mention sucaryl tables, I presume you mean saccharin. If so when you say use 8 tablets do you mean 1 gr. or ½ gr. I use ½ gr. in a cup of tea. Do you have a recipe for Lemon Foam . . . with cornstarch? Grace B.

ANSWER: Monosodium glutamate is the pure protein of wheat and is called Accent commercially. No I mean sucaryl, not saccharin. Buy it at the drug store. Most folks use 1 tablet in a cup of tea or coffee.

LEMON FOAM

Two-thirds cup sugar, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1½ cups boiling water, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/6 cup cold water, 1/6 cup lemon juice, 2 egg whites. Mix together sugar, water and rind, boil 2 minutes. Remove rind. Mix cornstarch with water, stir into syrup until thick and cook, covered in double boiler 20 minutes, stirring twice. Remove from heat, add strained lemon juice and when cool fold in stiffly beaten whites. Chill.

THE FIRST THING our career girl (left) does after coming home from a weary day at the office is to take a lukewarm bath. She knows that pampering herself with rich soapsuds will help to erase any nervous tension that may have developed during the day. Then, in a comfortable robe (centre), she places a washcloth that has been soaked in witch hazel and ice cubes on her forehead and eyes. In a few minutes, she'll feel completely relaxed and rested. As a final step in her relaxation routine, our career girl (right) treats herself to a glass of frosty lemonade, even before she starts preparing her dinner. This hour at the end of the day is a real aid to her good looks when she uses it to pamper herself. It provides a needed break in the day's activities before the evening begins.

Relaxation Is A Must For Beauty

BY ALICIA HART, (NEA')

The most important beauty lesson a girl can learn is that of relaxation. A relaxed, attractive girl is always more appealing than her beautiful, but nervous and tense friend or sister.

So, whenever you have the opportunity, relax "Let go" physically and mentally. And if you haven't the opportunity, make it. There are several instances during the career girl's working day when she can take advantage of a restful minute or second.

For example, what about the time you waste waiting for that elevator or phone call? Instead of fretting and creating more nervous tension, you should be relaxing. Just let the tense muscles go limp and allow pleasant thoughts to occupy your mind.

Try this several times and as your brief relaxation periods increase, you'll notice you won't have that exhausted feeling at the end of the day. Your job will seem more interesting, too.

As soon as you arrive home from the office, try this simple routine for rest and relaxation. Start by taking a lukewarm bath filled with rich, foamy soapsuds. Allow yourself 30 minutes to relax completely, letting soothing suds to do the trick.

After you're completely dry and have put on a comfortable robe, pour some witch hazel over a deep dish of ice cubes and dip your washcloth into it. Then, seated in a soft chair (with footstool) lay the washcloth gently on your forehead and eyes. Instantly, you'll feel cooler and refreshed.

Treat yourself to a glass of ice-cold lemonade. Then gather all those letters you weren't in the mood to answer. Now that you're relaxed, cool and rested, handling your correspondence will be a delight instead of a chore.

Omemee News

OMEMEE (ENS)—Rev. Lewis McLean, Vancouver, B.C., recently elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, has been the guest of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Eric McLean, Mount Pleasant. He will be heard on the air from Toronto, Sunday at 4.30 p.m.

Members of the evening branch of Christ Church WA went out to dinner and a show to end their year. Feature of the dinner was a birthday cake in honor of Mrs. H. Bent, president.

Mrs. Drinnan, Medicine Hat, is the guest of Mrs. W. G. Stephenson for a few days.

When removing food spatters from your stove after cooking, use a crushed newspaper to wipe off the grease. Besides absorbing the grease faster, using the newspaper will save your dishcloth supply.

If you are following the do-it-yourself trend, you won't want to waste money on tools. Protect yours from rusting by giving them a protective coat of thinned shellac.

DOROTHY DIX:

Ingratitude Of Man Discourages His Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: It seems unfair to write about our troubles behind my husband's back. He doesn't believe in telling anyone our troubles; in fact he doesn't think I have any. He apparently believes he bears all of them. To him, I am young, inexperienced and stubborn.

However, I am proud of the way I've handled our trials. I admit I didn't know much about housework or training children when we were married, but I set my mind to learn as much as possible, and I think I have succeeded.

We had a tough time paying for our farm—but we did and it meant lots of hard work for me. We have five children—two by my husband's first wife, and three of our own. My husband does not give me any help in the house, and he even discourages the youngsters from doing so. Yet, I have worked in the fields with him, helped build the house and done extra work. He objects to anything I do for sheer enjoyment —such as reading, playing the piano, singing, or just listening to the radio. He is so suspicious of me that I'm not allowed to go to the store unless one of the children comes along. I am never given any money for myself; in fact, I have almost to beg for food and clothing money. Nothing I do pleases my husband and I am about at the end of my rope. There's probably no concrete advice you can give me, but I'd like your viewpoint; anyway.

WIFE AT 17

ANSWER: To my regret I had to shorten your very long letter to essentials. It is a fine letter with one of the best accounts of wholehearted co-operation and successful hurdling of obstacles I have read. You entered marriage with everything against you, yet you have succeeded in accomplishing wonders. After an acquaintance of only two months, you married a man more than twice your age. You were only 17, too young for marriage under even ideal conditions. Your stepchildren were 10 and 8 years old. How could anyone expect you to be fully experienced in housekeeping or child care?

That you undertook the care of two rebellious children, brought them up to fine maturity, raised three other youngsters, with absolutely no co-operation from their father, is a wonderful example of courage and persistence. Your husband should be everlastingly thankful that he is lucky enough to have such a wife. That he isn't is certainly a blot on his character. Since you have

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Small Boy Wants Daddy As Companion

By NANCY CLEAVER

A group of small boys were bragging about their fathers. Tom boasted his Dad had a brand new car — and he got a new one every year. Jimmie claimed his father worked harder and made more money than the other fathers. Bill said his dad won first place in the golf tournament at his club the week before. But Bob silenced them all when he said, "My Dad can catch fish—anad sometimes he asks me to come."

There is nothing a small boy appreciates more than his father taking time to do things with him. Giving him playthings or money or paying for a treat at the movies—none of these are substitutes for a father-and-son adventure. With his dad as a companion, a boy gets a glimpse of a man's world which is so fascinating—and which he must enter some day.

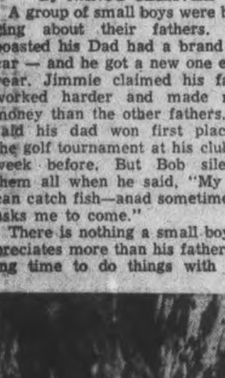
Small boys cannot keep up with grown men, but a father can moderate his pace so that his son won't be completely out of breath. It means so much to a boy for his dad to include him in his leisure time plans once in a while. How can they get to know each other if they are not alone occasionally?

A FATHER has a special role to play in his small daughter's growth.

When a boy reaches adolescence, he will be "off with the gang"—Father will not have the same chance then to spend time with him.

A father plays a very important part in a daughter's development. His word of praise about her appearance in a new dress gives her confidence in her feminine appeal. When she is upset over a quarrel with a little chum or if she is not getting along well at school, father can usually help her by just listening to her tale of woe. He is likely able to be more objective than a mother and he can encourage her to see that there are two sides to every story. A happy solution can usually be worked out for most childhood problems.

It is good for children, as they grow older, to know something about the way their father earns a living. If they have no opportunity to learn about his work, they are apt to take him very much for granted. It is partly his own fault if father becomes just "an animated pay cheque."



A father can often influence his children in their attitude not only to his own job but to all work. If Mother's task is home-making and Dad earns the money, he sees more of the outside world than his wife. For that reason he can frequently be more helpful to a son or daughter in the choice of their own life work—providing father realizes that this is a decision a young person must make for himself or herself!

Children need both parents. If they lose a father by death or divorce they are apt to be bitter. But it is quite possible for them to lose touch with a father if he is indifferent to them, if he is too preoccupied with making money or if he is away from home a great deal of the time.

The children who are unadjusted and unhappy frequently come from homes where father and mother have not given them loving understanding and guidance. The mother has the major responsibility for the children's upbringing, but the father provides necessary balance. In a family where parents work and plan and play together with their children, boys and girls are prepared for adulthood when they will have homes of their own. Building a home is a co-operative enterprise. Dad, are you an active partner in your household?

Discovery Of Ancient Boat Revives Interest In Egypt

WASHINGTON—Pharaoh Khufu's huge stone-encased "solar boat," discovered recently near his pyramid—the largest and most enduring monument in history—has renewed world-wide interest in the religious beliefs of ancient Egyptians.

To many people there is something pathetic in a great king's idea that a boat weighing tons and rowed through the heavens by spirit servants would be useful on the journey through eternity. But to Egyptians of Khufu's time, 2650 B.C., the notion came easily.

An analysis by William C. Hayes in the National Geographic Society's volume, "Everyday Life in Ancient Times," shows that Egypt's religion consisted of at least four unrelated cults or phases. None, in the opinions of archaeologists and theologians, ever passed beyond a primitive stage.

LIFE AFTER DEATH

The Egyptian had two important convictions: (1) that he was immortal and that not only his spirit but his whole ego would live on after his earthly existence ended; and (2) that his life beyond the grave was to be an exalted version of his life on earth.

The first conviction, eliminating as it did much of his natural fear of death, combined with his innately sunny disposition to make him one of the most cheerful peoples in the world's history.

The second led him to provide his spirit not only with a home in which to dwell but also all the material possessions and surroundings which it had needed and loved during its earthly stay.

The line of royal pyramids, stretching from Cairo some 60 miles up the River Nile, are the most striking expressions of these ideas. At the same time they are a poignant witness to the futility of it all. Built to preserve the dead at enormous cost to the living, the great tombs have almost without exception fallen prey to the ever-present grave robber.

CLIMATE SAVED RELICS

Both the kings and their treasures have been dragged from their resting places, leaving the empty stone monuments as memorials to man's beliefs. To this simple faith, however, the museums of the world owe their Egyptian treasures.

The dry climate of the valley of the Nile made Egypt a perfect storehouse for preservation of innumerable records and objects which its people loved to collect and put away. Thus was preserved the very chair in which Khufu's mother, whose name was Hetepheres, was carried on visits to her royal son. Her jewels and the chair have come down through nearly 5,000 years and are safe in the Egyptian Museum in Cairo.

From other tombs spared by ancient grave robbers have come filmy linen, delicate furniture of reed and wood, textiles, papyrus and paintings which would have perished in the damp climates of Greece and Italy. In Egypt they have survived with texture and color undimmed by time.

Mental Health Film Shown At Keene

KEENE (ENS) — A film entitled "Breakdown" was presented by Mrs. Clarence Coons, of Lakefield, vice-president of the Peterborough branch of the Mental Health Association, before a joint meeting of the Tillicum Class and Lang Home and School Association, in the United church basement on Thursday evening. Projectionist was E. E. Ingall, of the Peterborough Film Council.

The picture described the life of a young woman during the early stages of nervous breakdown to the climax, then back along the slow road to complete recovery in a mental hospital.

A discussion period followed the film, during which Mrs. Coons and Mr. Ingall answered questions regarding the film and work of the association.

President Edith Eason of the Tillicum class was in the chair for the opening exercises. The worship service was prepared by Margaret Short. Evelyn Anderson read the scripture.

Mary Tuthill read a poem. Alberta Drummond gave a reading. Donna Short and Caroline McNevan sang a duet. Isoble Wismer gave a paper.

Evelyn Richardson, Alberta Drummond, Mary Elmehirst and Grace Hawkes volunteered to assist at the fireside hour following the anniversary services on Sunday.

The silver anniversary of the Tillicum class will be held in August and the program planned for the August meeting will be brought forward to July.

Refreshments were served by the committee, Alberta Sexsmith, Marilyn McIntyre, Lois McFarlane and Alberta Drummond.

Township Seeks Clean-up Of Village Dump

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Reeve G. Fitzgerald and Councillors H. Beavis, C. Ireland and A. Mann, with clerk A. I. Edmison of Smith township attended this week's meeting of council to discuss the problem of the dump used by Ward C. Martin, sanitary contractor for the village.

The township delegation asked council to approve a bylaw which would permit Smith township to stop dumping if Mr. Martin did not keep the dump in a sanitary condition.

Council decided to advise Mr. Martin that he must comply fully with the wishes of the council of Smith and with their board of health regarding the dump. If he does not, the village will have no alternative but to withdraw objections to the passing of the township by-law prohibiting the disposal of night soil in the township.

Frank A. Payne also spoke to council about renewal of treasurer's bond at a premium of $34 and of a policy giving comprehensive coverage for public liability. The treasurer's bond was renewed but the latter policy left in the hands of th efinance committee for study and a report at the next meeting.

Clinton McCall was appointed weed inspector. The Lions Club was granted permission to hold a carnival on Queen Street, subject to approval from the Department of highways.

WATERWORKS

Reeve Grant and clerk Harry T. Hill, will contact the American Nepheline Co. about leaving the deed open to permit construction of the pumping station and filtration plant on the property which they are giving to the village. This property is adjacent to the Lakefield arena and it is proposed to use it for recreational purposes.

As a result of a petiton from park resident, the centre and east roads in the park will be oiled.

The finance committee recommended payment of accounts totalling $3287.89.

A special meeting will be arranged by Reeve Grant at which the council hope to meet with the road consultant engineer to discuss road problems.

Says Gardiner Has Held Post Too Long

OTTAWA (CP) — An eastern farmer said Friday night that Canada has had a minister of agriculture from western Canada for too many years.

L. Elston Cardiff (PC—Huron) made the statement in the Commons shortly before the House approved a $17,000,000 subsidy to assist the movement of western feed grains to eastern Canada.

He did not name Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who has held the agricultural portfolio in the cabinet since Nov. 4, 1935. However, he made the remark to the minister after a brief clash between the two on the cost to eastern farmers for western feed grain.

Mr. Cardiff said there is too great a spread between what the western farmer receives for his grain and the amount paid by the eastern fermer.

PAYS PART

Mr. Gardiner said the government pays part of the freight bill on the movement of grain east after it has been sold to eastern dealers by the Canadian wheat board. However, the government had no control over the grain after it was delivered to dealers.

The dealers ground the grain, mixed it with other feeds and packed it in fancy bags for sale to farmers. That type of handling undoubtedly would increase the cost of feed to farmers who wanted to buy it in bags. He could not understand why farmers did not buy in bulk.

Mr. Cardiff said the minister was not giving the whole story. There was too much spread and Mr. Gardiner was at least partly responsible.

Drew Pays Tribute To Gemmell

OTTAWA (CP)—George Drew, National Progressive Conservative leader, Friday issued the following tribute to Mines Minister Gemmell of Ontario, who died suddenly Friday:

"I have lost a close personal friend of many years whom I very greatly admired. Welland Gemmell was one of my closest associates in northern Ontario and even before he was elected as a member of the Ontario legislature he was of great assistance to the government and myself with advice based on long experience regarding the many problems about which he had such wide knowledge.

"As a member of the legislature, as minister of mines, and as minister of lands and forests he served his province well. He brought to those responsible offices unusual experience throughout the mining and forest lands of the North. As a representative of one of the most important mining communities he contributed greatly to the improvement of mining legislation and the transportation facilities into the new mining areas.

"Above all he was a warm and loyal friend who will be greatly missed by all who knew him. He was a fine citizen in every way, who served his community, his province and his country well. All his old associates in the Ontario legislature and the people throughout the province generally will extend their deepest sympathy to Mrs. Gemmell and her children in the tragic loss they have sustained."

Not Enough Houses, Many Bottlenecks Czech Communist Bosses Report

By DON DALLAS

LONDON (Reuters)—What is it like, for the ordinary man, living under communism?

Here, from the Communists themselves, is a picture of life today in Czechoslovakia, which has had a Communist government only since 1948. Before the war, Czechoslovakia was regarded as a model democracy in Europe, with a relatively high standard of living.

This report on current conditions comes from the best possible sources in Czechoslovakia.

The passages quoted are extracts from official reports made by the country's leaders to the congress of the Czechoslovak Communist party, which has been in session in Prague. They have been reported either by Prague radio or in official Czechoslovak newspapers.

Housing: The situation is bad, said premier Vilem Siroky. The government plans to build 40,000 new apartments this year and another 48,000 next year, but this is not sufficient.

PRE-FABRICATED HOUSES

The government is therefore going to support individual (as opposed to state-run) building. In view of a great shortage of bricks and timber, the erection of prefabricated houses is to be encouraged.

Railroad Transportation: The premier said there were far too many accidents, and passenger trains and stations were not kept clean.

Coal production: The present fuel situation is a bottleneck in the national economy, said Siroky. The state targets for coal production last year were not met.

Frequent breakdowns occurred in the power stations last year, resulting in 16 per cent of the equipment being out of commission and in power cuts, both for industry and private households.

The army was mobilized to help get the coal that Czechoslovakia needs. Last year they mined one-fifth of the coal output, said Gen. Alexj Cepicka, defence minister.

Food in plant canteens: Czech workers are making "just complaints" about it, said Premier Siroky. A considerable improvement must be made in its quality and taste.

RED TAPE

Agriculture: Red tape and bureaucracy in government departments has hindered agricultural output. A determined fight will be waged against it, said Siroky.

The supply of agricultural tools to the villages was insufficient.

Factory production: Siroky denounced shoddy work in some state-run factories.

Schools: They are too cramped for space, and the erection of new school buildings has been delayed, said Education Minister Ladislav Stoll.

Stoll said the work of hisown ministry must be improved, teaching methods revised, textbooks improved and the qualifications of teaching staff raised. He hinted that teachers in general had been unable to get over the Communist viewpoint successfully to their pupils.

Literature: There is "an inclination toward liberalism" in the latest literary works, complained Antonin Novotny, first secretary of the Czechoslovak Communist party.

Theatre: Vaclav Kopecky, minister of culture, indicated that satirists have been poking fun at the Communist party in theatre programs and said this must stop.

French People Unconcerned As Another Gov't Falls

By HAL BOYLE

PARIS (AP)—A man stepped into the hotel lounge and said quietly:

"The government has just fallen."

Perhaps there was frenzied excitement in French political circles over Premier Laniel's downfall, but the collapse of France's 19th post-war government created less stir in the hotel lounge than if a patron had risen and accidentally upset an ashtray.

The barman looked up impassively at the news, then bent down and finished mixing his drink without the slightest change of expression.

"NOT DE GAULLE"

A waiter came by. I asked, "Have you heard the government has just fallen?"

"Yes."

"You don't seem at all surprised."

"No."

"You don't seem very concerned either. Doesn't it worry you that another French government has fallen?"

"Why should it?" he shrugged. "I worry about what concerns me. I take care of myself first—then the other fellow."

"Who would you like to see run the government of France—General De Gaulle?"

"No, not De Gaulle," he said. "But it is a matter of little moment to me. They are all out for the money. Me, I take care of myself first, too."

SAME ATTITUDE

Later I asked an assistant manager of the hotel the same questions. He had much the same attitude as the waiter—that the goverumtnt of France was hardly his personal problem, and he had his own life to worry about.

When I asked him what he thought of present French political leaders, he said—very seriously:

"They are all too small. France needs a stronger man."

"How about De Gaulle?"

"De Gaulle?" he looked pained. "No, not De Gaulle. It is not necessary to be a general to be strong. France needs a strong man like Clemenceau — yes, another Clemenceau. But one does not meet many Clemenceaus in a lifetime, isn't it so?"

Lightweight Train To Reduce Costs

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rock Island lines Friday told of plans for a ligt-weight, underslung passenger train bearing the label "new and revolutionary."

The railroad said it was the first in the country to order such a train, tentatively called the Jet Rocket.

Some other lines have been interested in similar trains as a means of wiping out passenger deficits.

The Rock Island announcement pinpointed the economics of the move this way:

"The new train will be half the weight per passenger of the present type of streamlined equipment, with the result that its operating costs will be much reduced."

Pentagon To Be Pressed For Answers On Clearances

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.) indicated today he would go along with a Democratic demand that the Pentagon (U.S. defence headquarters) speed answers to requests for security clearances on two Senate investigations sub - committee appointees of Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.).

Senator John McClellan of Arkansas, senior sub - committee Democrat and speaking for the three minority party members, demanded publicly Friday that the sub-committee move fast to find out why the two have not received defence department security clearance to handle classified documents for which applications was made more than a year ago.

"I will second it," Mundt said in an dnterview, if McClellan will ask the Pentagon "to take up these cases and say 'yes' or 'no'" on the applications.

Aside from Mundt's comment, there was little sign of harmony between the Republican and Democratic members in the wake of the group's first closed-door meeting Friday following the hearings' end Thursday. The group plans future job of writing their report.

MEMBERS NOT NAMED

Mundt said he understands the two sub-committee staff members, who have not been named, have not specifically been denied clearances despite a delay of 14 months in one case and 15 months in the other.

But he said "is is manifestly unfair to the individual to take so long" because the delay raises possibly unfair questions about them.

McCarthy told a press conference Friday he knows of no staff members "refused clearance" by the military, and knows nothing about any of them that would raise doubts about their loyalty.

The issue cropped up late in the 36-day televised inquiry held by the investigations group iinto charges hurled between McCarthy and top army officials. Questions were raised about who had access sub-committee files, and the defence department sent a letter to Mundt reported to list as "cleared" by that agency all applicants but two.

Littler Takes Lead In Golf Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Gene Littler, 23-year-old 1953 U.S. amateur champion, now a professional, took early command of the 54th National Open golf tournament Friday with a sub-par 69 for a half-way score of 139.

The first-day leader, Billy Joe Patton, blew to a 76 after an opening 69.

Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., got around in 72 for a 36-hole total of 147.

Defending champion Ben Hogan and lame-armed Ed. Furgol of St. Louis are bracketed at 141, two strokes behind Littler, after par 70s Friday.

The low 50 players and ties qualified for today's windup.

Parliament Session Dull Lacks Any Big Fireworks

By ALAN DONNELLY

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament worked long and hard but blazed no major legislative trails during the current session. Observers view the first session of Canada's 22nd Parliament as comparatively dull and lacking in either political fireworks or surprises.

In more than seven months—the session began last Nov. 12—probably the chief accomplishments were three pieces of legislation, all of which required prolonged study. They were completion of a two-year job of redrafting the massive Criminal Code, the decennial revision of Canada's banking laws and a rewriting of the national housing legislation.

The few fireworks involved such proposals as a one-cent-an-ounce increase in postal rates, boosts in parliamentary pay and drawn-out debates on unemployment, wheat-marketing and foreign policy.

More than 6,000,000 words have been spoken in the Commons with a few days still to go. If the session lasts until Thursday it will set a modern record of 137 sitting days, exceeding by one the wartime top of 136 days in 1944-45.

ISSUES UNDECIDED

The streamlined Criminal Code will come into effect next Jan. 1. And despite detailed study certain issues still are undecided—retention of present laws on the death penalty, whipping and lotteries, which were investigated by a Senate-Commons committee, and questions involving the legal defence of insanity and criminal sexual psychopaths. Two royal commissions are reviewing those matters.

The revision of the banking laws brought chartered banks into the field of residential and chattel mortgages. Housing legislation provided for lower down payments, longer mortgage terms and a system of insured mortgages on which banks could lend.

Finance Minister Abbott's 10th and last budget brought almost no changes in federal taxation. Tax cuts, worth $36,000,000 in the 1954-55 fiscal year, were less than one per cent of the national tax bill. Reductions were centred mainly on excise and sales taxes.

Mr. Abbott has said he will leave the finance portfolio before budget time next year. It is speculated that he will become justice minister.

QUEBEC HASSLE

In the ensuing budget debate, opposition members criticized the size of the reductions but most of the speeches dealt with the announcement that the government would not yield to Quebec's request for full deduction from federal income tax payments of the province's new 15-per-cent income tax.

One measure, adopted after extended debate, raised parliamentary pay to $10,000 from $6,000 by doubling the $4,000 taxable indemnity, which is paid on top of a $2,000 expense allowance. Progressive Conservatives opposed the boost on the grounds it should receive further consideration. CCF members took a variety of positions—that the Senate should be left out of any increase, that there should be no increase or a partial increase. A few supported the measure.

Mounting unemployment during the winter months touched off a six-day debate in which 52 members spoke on two opposition motions of non-confidence in the government. Both motions were defeated.

COMMUNIST RECOGNITION

The question of diplomatic recognition of the Communist Chinese government was the main theme of a five-day debate on external affairs policy. Progressive Conservatives expressed fears that government policy might lead to recognition, which they said would be appeasement of aggression. Prime Minister St. Laurent said there is no thought of recognizing the Chinese Reds and the question would not be considered unless conditions changed.

The country's large wheat surplus and a decline in world wheat sales provided the background for several debates on government marketing policies. Two non-confidence motions, stemming from the recent export price-cut of 10 cents a bushel, were defeated.

The case of Igor Gouzenko had repercussions in the Commons, eight years after he left the Russian embassy here with documents which broke a Soviet spy ring in 1946. The occasion was a request by a U. S. Senate committee to interview Gouzenko. After refusing once, the government agreed to a second request on conditions that it approve publication of any evidence. The evidence, released after a secret interview in Canada, contained almost no new facts.

KURT MEYER CASE

Another brief controversy followed the announcement that an allied commission, with Canadian approval, had approved a reduction in the sentence of Nazi SS Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, once sentenced to death for inciting his troops to deny quarter to captured Canadian soldiers killed in 1944.

His sentence was reduced to 14 years, and with time off for good behavior Meyer can be released as early as next Sept. 7. An opposition demand for documents relating to Meyer's trial, sentence and release was defeated by 102 to 63.

The security screening of civil servants was a recurring theme. Government members refused repeated PC requests for figures on numbers of employees fired or transferred as security risks and denied opposition charges of unfairness in the lack of a system of appeals.

ACT EXPIRED

On the legislative front, the government allowed the Emergency Powers Act to expire May 31. The act, criticized often by opposition members, gave the government power to control the country's economy and security without reference to Parliament.

Four by-elections were held March 22 to fill vacancies since the Aug. 10 election. Two Liberals and two Progressive Conservatives were returned, leaving the relative strength of the two parties unchanged.

Since then, two vacancies have occurred with the deaths of Rodney Adamson (PC—York West) and Lionel Conacher (L—Toronto Trinity).

Party standings: Liberal 172; Progressive Conservative 50; CCF 23; Social Credit 15; Independent 3; Vacant 2; Total 265.

Fund In Red

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's old-age pension fund is still running in the red. It showed a deficit of $7,500,000 in April as payments out of the fund totalled $29,100,000 and revenues from income and sales tax levies amounted to $21,600,000, the monthly treasury statement reported Friday.

Western Oils Receive Sharp Setback On Market

By GEORGE LINTON

Stock market prices pushed forward this week, but a sharp setback in western oils at week's end took some of the steam from the advance.

The oils dropped suddenly on New York and Montreal exchanges and at Toronto took their greatest tumble in nine months. Prices reacted to the United States Federal Power Commission's decision on wheher natural gas would be piped to the U.S. pacific northwest from Alberta or New Mexico.

In Toronto's opening trading Friday a rumor hit the market that gas from New Mexico would get the nod. Stocks of three Canadian companies that had expected to supply the gas from Alberta—Canadian Atlantic, Pacific Petroleum and Peace River Gas, dropped about $1 a share within half an hour.

But they recovered some of their losses until the FPC decision, confirming the rumor, was made public 20 minutes before market close.

SHOW BIG LOSSES

Stockholders crowded the market and issues of the three companies principally interested fell as much as $3.50 a share. The stocks all hit 1954 lows and Pacific Pete closed at $6.90 for a $3.75 loss on the week; Peace River closed at $3.75, down $2.85; and Canadian Atlantic closed at $2.85 down $1.60.

The decision smacked hard elsewhere.

At Montreal, Pacific Pete dropped $2.50 and at Vancouver western oil stocks dropped as much as $3.60 a share. Brokers termed the session "black Friday."

At Toronto the whole western oil board followed the plunging issues. The board's index dropped almost five points on the day—its greatest loss since a general selloff hit the market Sept. 8, 1953.

Industrials advanced slowly after their big setback last week and their index gained 1¾ points. More than 20 issues climbed $1 or more. Papers led the advance.

METAL PRICES MIXED

Base metals had a week of mixed prices in which Noranda gained $1, Consolidated Smelters lost 87½ cents but Hudson Bay gained the same amount. Steep Rock lost 30 cents.

The Friday-to-Friday indices: Industrials up 1.74 to 343.99, golds unchanged at 70.40, base metals off .13 at 148.83, and western oils off 5.24 at 89.99.

At New York, the Associated Press average climbed by Friday to $125.90, highest since October, 1929. Industrials were the key features.

At Montreal all major sections of the market moved ahead. Papers led the advance. Pacific Pete lost $2.50 in final trading. The Friday-to-Friday indices showed banks up .31 at 41.00, utilities up .3 to 107.01, industrials up .13 to 203.9, combined up 1.0 to 171.6, papers up 7.1 to 925.62, and golds up .56 to 57.03.

Miss Leikucs said when she left Newfoundland she went to Montreal to live with her family. She returned to St. John's and it was indicated she may testify at the trial of her former boss.

Five-Cent Piece Of Nickel Again

OTTAWA (CP)—The nickel is going to be made out of nickel again.

A proclamation in the Canada Gazette said Friday the mint will start issuing five-cent coins made of nickel Jan. 1, 1955.

Nickel is nothing new in the nickel. But five-cent pieces have been minted from steel for the last three years to conserve nickel for defence purposes.

The proclamation said the supply of nickel for coinage purposes now is adequate.

The design will remain the same.

NATO Visitors

TORONTO (CP)—Nineteen visiting newspaper men from 13 NATO countries, who have been touring Canada since June 6, arrived here Friday. The group visited the A. V. Roe (Canada) aircraft plant at nearby Malton and the RCAF station at suburban Downsview.

FAMILY OF 3 LEFT TO DIE IN FLAMES

Find Bodies Of Mother, 2 Children

Killer Left Woman In Burning House With Hands Tied

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — A mother and her two children died Saturday night amid the flaming ruins of their home at a lonely northwestern Ontario railway siding. Police said there are signs indicating it may have been murder.

Their bodies were found by a train crew at the section siding of Kelly, about 80 miles northwest of here on the Canadian National Railways line from Port Arthur to Sioux Lookout.

Police said Mrs. Hedwig Kopplen 28, was found lying outside her blazing home. There was a rope around her neck and charred rope fragments clung to her wrists as if her hands had been tied behind her back.

FIND CHILDREN'S BODIES

In the ruins, their bodies charred beyond recognition, were a five-year-old son and a 10-months-old daughter.

Police said the rope around the woman's neck did not appear tight enough to have caused strangulation. One theory was that she had been tied to a piece of furniture inside the house but staggered outside and collapsed when flames burned through the rope.

An autopsy will be held today at Fort William to establish the cause of death. The children were so badly burned there was no immediate indication of how they died.

The father, Horst Kopplen, was working at Mine Centre near Fort Frances. He came to Canada from Germany three years ago.

Inspector Jack Craig of the OPP arrived from Toronto Sunday to head the investigation.

OTTAWA (CP)—The board of transport commissioners has recommended that Parliament quintuple to $5,000,000 the annual contribution to its fund for railway grade crossing construction.

The board's 50,000-word-report, drafted after a government-ordered study lasting more than a year, was tabled in the Commons today by Transport Minister Chevrier.

The board proposed that the recommended increase in the fund start from last April 1, beginning of the current fiscal year.

Expectations are it will not be implemented at the present session of Parliament—now in its last days—but that the government will bring in legislation at the next session.

MAJOR POINTS

Other major board recommendations:

1. For level crossings, the government's allowable contribution should be increased to 60 per cent of a single project with a maximum of $300,000. The present figures are 40 per cent and $150,000.

2. The fund should be made available to help improve grade separations — underpasses and overpasses — where they are inadequate for the highway traffic using them. In any one case, the contribution should not exceed 30 per cent of the cost or $150,000.

3. Contributions should be permitted — they are not now — towards the cost of maintaining and operating automatic crossing signals. The maximum for any crossing should not exceed $200 per year.

4. The Railway Act should be amended to eliminate a clause which prevents contributions from the fund for level crossings built after 1909 unless there is an agreement between the railway and a municipality. The board should be able to apply money from the fund towards the cost of work on crossings more than three years old.

5. The board should be allowed to order fund contributions towards the cost of highway projects involving construction of a grade separation and the closing of, or diversion of most of the traffic from, an existing level crossing.

6. Parliament should repeal a section of the Railway Act which imposes on the railways all costs of protection at railway - highway crossings where the railway was constructed after 1909 unless the board specifically says otherwise.

Plan Commission To Investigate Coastal Shipping

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government plans to set up a royal commission on Canada's coastal shipping trade, it was learned today.

The commission, informants said, will investigate particularly the question of whether coastal shipping should be restricted to Canadian vessels as a means of encouraging Canada's shipping and shipbuilding industries.

The coastl traffic involves the haulage of goods and passengers between Canadian ports on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards, the St. Lawrence river and the Great Lakes.

There would be no question of restricting traffic between Canadian ports and those outside this country.

Personnel of the commission, it was expected, will consist of one man from the Maritimes, one from the west coast and one from central Canada, with the Maritimes representative as chairman.

CAN ENTER FREELY

At present, Commonwealth ships may enter the Canadian coastal trade freely under the 20-year-old British Commonwealth merchant shipping agreement. Vessels of other countries may enter on payment of a 25-per-cent duty.

The government plans to set up a three-man commission to investigate the matter, developing in importance with the approach of a start on the St. Lawrence seaway, which would allow large ocean-going ships to ply the Great Lakes.

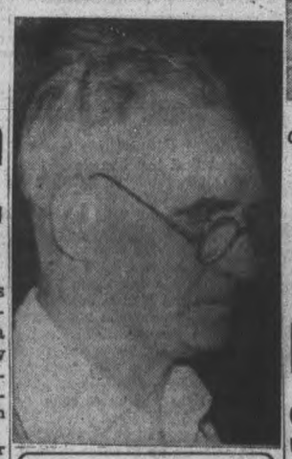
Martial Law In Guatemala

Government Mobilizing For Showdown Battle

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (CP) — President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman of Guatemala proclaimed martial law throughout his invaded country today as his government mobilized for a showdown battle with the invading rebels.

Insurgent leaders claimed their forces were pushing ahead today in a three-pronged drive aimed at key rail and road communications in the southern part of the country.

The martial law decree was announced late Sunday, following a government appeal for all private cars to be turned in for use in moving troops. Reports from Guatemala said the decisive phase of the battle for that neighboring Central American republic may come within 48 hours.



Jack Rutledge, Associated Press correspondent in Guatemala city, Sunday night quoted Guatemalan army officers as saying no field action had yet been fought. They added, however, that a battle could not be delayed much longer.

EVACUATE AMERICANS

The United States embassy in Guatemala City announced that it is making plans to evacuate wives and children of U.S. citizens in the country. With a wave of anti-U.S. feeling sweeping the city, the embassy feared violence might break out against them. There are about 1,200 U.S. citizens in Guatemala.

A spokesman for Col. Arlos Castillo Armas, leader of the "liberation army," said here that a drive toward the pan-American highway was aimed at Jutiapa, a town of

BULLETIN

TURKU, Finland (Reuters) — John Landy of Australia today set a world record for the mile with a time of three minutes, 58 seconds. The Australian became the world's fastest miler less than two months after Britain's Roger Bannister clocked the first four-minute mile ever run. Landy's time today was 1.4 seconds faster than Bannister's 3:59.4. Landy's record was made in a race with Chris Chataway of Britain, who helped pace Bannister to his record run at Oxford last month. The Australian's fastest previous mile had been 4 minutes 1.6 seconds.

Collapses At Funeral

TOKYO (Reuters) — Robert W. Mayhew, 74, Canadian ambassador to Japan, collapsed at a funeral service today and was taken to the United States Army hospital in Tokyo.

An embassy spokesman later said his condition was "not serious, but he needs several weeks' rest."

The ambassador was attending a funeral service for Francisco J. Del Castillo, Spanish ambassador to Japan, who died Friday.

Douro Boy 15, Accidentally Shot During Hunting Jaunt

James Howran, 15, of RR 1, Douro, died Sunday evening shortly after being accidentally shot while on a groundhog-hunting and swimming expedition with three young friends.

The accident took place two miles south of Douro, near the Indian river, and not far from the Douro-Otonabee township line. Howran and Carl Moher, 15, of RR 2, Indian River, were unloading their guns when a shell from Moher's gun apparently ricocheted from the ground into Howran's heart.

Moher told police he was using a 1906 model Winchester repeater, and was ejecting shells when the accident took place. A shell fell to the ground, Howran bent to pick it up, there was a shot and Howran fell mortally hit.

The Winchester "never worked right," said Moher. It was Howran's gun, but the two had exchanged weapons some time before the accident. Howran was carrying Moher's gun a single-shot Cooey .22. The Winchester, a very light gun, was covered with friction tape around the breech.

Howran had had supper at the Moher home that evening. The two set out at 7:30 with Carl Moher's brother, Stanislaus, 11, to do a little shooting enroute to a swimming hole in the Indian river. On the way they met Carl Tobin, also 15.

The four stopped at a fence by William Heffernan's farm, which

Strike Ballots Sent To Railmen

MONTREAL (CP) — With union and railway representatives still negotiating in Montreal, strike ballots go out today to 135,000 railway workers across Canada.

The men, who man the shops, freight yards, offices and express services of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways and two smaller lines, are being asked how far they are prepared to support their demands for fringe benefits.

Branches of 14 unions across the country will collect the votes as they come in and start reporting results to the union negotiating committee Aug. 2, the day polling ends.

Each ballot is accompanied by six pages of text explaining what the unions want, and why. Except for hotel workers, every union that took part in the nine-day nation-wide strike of 1950 is represented.

Basic wages aren't an issue. But the companies claim the men's demands for such things as longer vacations and more sick leave would cost them $60,000,000 a year if granted in full.

Duke Of Kent Hurt In Crash

LONDON (Reuters) — The Duke of Kent, 18-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth, was reported making satisfactory progress in hospital today following an automobile accident Sunday.

The young nobleman suffered a brain concussion in a head - on crash on a highway outside London.

Today's medical bulletin said he had a "good night" and is making "steady and satisfactory progress."

Britain's leading brain surgeon, Dr. Wylie McKissock, examined the duke again this morning. He had seen him soon after he was brought to hospital here Sunday night.

After two hours in a local hospital he was transferred to the National Hospital for Nervous Diseases here. There were no signs of complications at present.

The duke is an officer-cadet at Sandhurst military academy.

Girl Forced Down On Solo Flight

NORTH BAY (CP)—With only a kitten for company on her solo flight from Ottawa to Manitoba in a light plane, a pert 23-year-old Ottawa housewife made a forced landing on Tain lake, 20 miles from North Bay, Saturday night.

Mrs. Lorna Nichols was forced down short of her goal, the seaplane base at Trout Lake on the outskirts of North Bay.

Low on fuel and in poor visibility, Mrs. Nichols set her plane down without damage.

Cottagers on the lake brought her to North Bay.

Today, after refueling, she took off on the next lap of her journey via Englehart and Kapuskasing.

UN Requests Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations Security Council called unanimously Sunday for a cease-fire in Guatemala and for all UN members to withhold aid from the fighting forces there.

The action came after the Soviet Union cast its 60th veto in council history on behalf of Guatemala's leftist government. The veto defeated a motion to refer the Guatemalan complaint of aggression to the western hemisphere's regional organization, the Organization of American States.

Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States, council president for June, said the Soviet veto obviously showed the Russians have "designs" on the Americas. He warned angrily:

"I say to the Soviet delegate: Stay out of the western hemisphere. Don't try to start your plans and conspiracies here."

OAS MEETS TODAY

Despite the Russian veto, Guatemala has already asked the five-member inter-American peace committee of the OAS to help stop the invasion against Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's government. The committee scheduled a meeting in Washington late this afternoon to take up the request.

Lodge hotly defended his government and denied the charges. He said information available to the U.S. "strongly suggests that the situation does not involve aggression, but a revolt of Guatemalans against Guatemalans."

Duke Of Edinburgh Falls Off Pony

MIDHURST, England (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh fell from his pony during a polo match on Ambersham ground Saturday but was uninjured.

Just before the game ended the duke, riding in No. 2 forward, rode into the goal mouth. His foot got tangled in the stirrup of an opposing rider and he landed flat on the ground.

Queen Elizabeth wasn't present. She was at Ascot for the final day of the Royal Ascot race season.

The duke's team, the Mariners, lost to Whiphill in the Cicero Cup final.

City In State of Nerves

So Far Army Has Remained Loyal To Local Government

NOTE: The following dispatch was telephoned to New York early today by Paul Sanche, Reuters correspondent in Guatemala City.

GUATEMALA CITY (By Telephone) (Reuters)—I am telephoning from a city filled with nervous tension, a city blacked out at the moment because a rebel plane is circling overhead.

This is the first blackout since Saturday night when there were three and, although the nearest rebel troops are reported 150 miles away, this city is far from calm.

There are few automobiles on the streets; gasoline is banned from public sale. President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman has appealed for private cars and taxis to transport government troops to meet the rebels.

ARMY STILL LOYAL

Contrary to reports circulating outside Guatemala, the army is loyal so far to the local government.

The army has made no announcement of its own yet, as distinct from the government, but it is believed that there will be something later, concerning a movement of troops to the coast.

No news of the revolt is being printed in the local newspapers, of which there are nine. They print only official government bulletins.

DON'T JOIN BATTLE

During air raids, the government planes do not take off. One of the grounded planes, a transport, was damaged in a strafing attack Sunday morning.

A radio speech made by President Arbenz Saturday night was jammed by the rebel radio station so that it was heard only in part outside the country.

In it he attacked President Eisenhower and the American-owned United Fruit Company (Much of whose large holdings in Guatemala were expropriated by the Arbenz government).

Works For Rival Union AFL President Fired

KITIMAT, B. C. (CP) — The president of the AFL Aluminum Workers International Union local here was instantly dismissed from his post Saturday after admitting that he was actually an organizer for a rival union.

The surprise admission was made by Wally Ross after his dual role was disclosed at the Aluminum Company of Canada project's first conciliation board hearing.

The bombshell was dropped by Walter S. Owen, Alcan counsel at the hearing, who charged that Ross was an organizer for the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

The AFL union was certified as bargaining agent here recently following a dispute with the steelworkers.

DORCHESTER, N. B. (CP) — Liberal Senator Henry R. Emerson, 70, collapsed and died of a heart attack shortly after finishing his breakfast today.

He had been in apparent good health and had attended a funeral Sunday.

His death reduced the standing in the Senate to: Liberals, 77, Progressive Conservatives, 7, vacant, 18, total, 102.

10 CHILDREN SURVIVE

Senator Emmerson, a native of Dorchester, is survived by 10 children, Charles Faulein, Emily, Richard, Ruth, Barbara, Margaret, Marion, Eunice and John. Another son, Flying Officer Bertram Emmerson was listed as missing in action during the Second World War.

Prison Break Fails

6 Use Visitors As Shield, Kill Guard

LANSING, Kans. (AP)—Shielding themselves with six terrified prison visitors, six desperate convicts tried to force their way out of the Kansas State prison Sunday.

A veteran guard was killed and one of the hostages and two of the convicts were wounded in bursts of gunfire before the group surrendered in the administration building.

The convicts were armed with three crude .22 calibre pistols and six knives, all made within the prison. The pistol ammunition presumably had been smuggled in.

The six men rushed into the visitors' room where about 25 visitors were talking with prisoners. They seized the hostages, including two children, and rushed to the administration building.

VETERAN GUARD KILLED

Fred Kenaga, 58, an unarmed guard supervisor with 25 years of service, encountered the group at the administration building door and was shot to death.

Inside a vestibule the convicts were stopped by two gates. Threatening the hostages, they yelled for the gatekeeper to open the gates. He refused and they fired at him.

Warden Charles Edmondson rushed into the corridor and drew fire. The hostages screamed hysterically.

The warden got a rifle and stepped into the corridor again as armed guards approached from the yard in the rear.

"I knew we were going to have a showdown, and that we were going to have it right there," the warden said.

The convicts started shooting but surrendered when the guards opened fire. The warden said all six will be charged with first degree murder for Kenaga's slaying. Five had been serving terms for robbery; the other was doing 30 years for rape.

Private Talks In Indo-China

GENEVA (AP) — Indo - China conference delegates worked in private meetings today to arrange military negotiations for a cease-fire in the Indo-China kingdoms of Laos and Cambodia. The formal nine-power sessions were recessed until Tuesday.

Red China's premier - foreign minister Chou En-lai is the only leading conference figure still in Geneva. State undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, Foreign Secretary Eden and Foreign Minister Molotov all flew home during the week-end. Chou is reported ready to follow their example later this week.

Before their departure, Eden, Molotov and Smith agreed with the other conference delegates that separate, direct military negotiations be held on Laos and Cambodia. They already are under way for Viet Nam, the other Indo-China state.

A main question to be decided is who will take part in the direct talks and whether they will be held in Geneva or In Indo-China.

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—The Saigon post office said today that all radio contact with Bangkok, capital of Thailand, has been cut off since Sunday.

In recent years coups d'etat in Thailand have been preceded by radio silence for several days.

The post office here said it had no explanation for the break in communications.

Authorities said the Bangkok transmitter had not come on the air for over 24 hours.

No information was available from the Thai legation here.

Smash Way Through Villages

HANOI (AP) — French tank artillery, planes and gunboats and Viet Namese infantrymen Sunday smashed their way through a series of rebel-infested Indo-China villages 18 miles northwest of Hanoi in a mop-up operation still under way this morning.

A French briefing officer said mop-up crews pushed through eight villages on the south bank of the Red river, and more villages held by the Communist-led Vietminh were under fire today.

Small French gunboats stood in mid-river and pumped machine-gun fire into the suspected villages while planes and artillery pounded them with high explosives. Then Viet Nam infantry units, supported by light tanks, smashed their way through the communities.

Thirty-nine Vietminh rebels were captured and 38 counted killed, the briefing officer reported. He said there was no estimate of how many may have been killed or wounded by bombing, strafing, artillery and tank fire.

5,000, some 45 miles south of Guatemala City. It less 20 miles north of the El Salvador border.

Other rebel units also were reported heading toward Asuncion Mita, a town of 3,000, 13 miles northeast of jutiapa.

Another invading column was reported moving in from Macuelizo, Honduras, about 20 miles west of Puerto Barrios, Guatemala's chief Caribbean port.

The third was reported toward Zacapa, midway on the vital rail line between Puerto Barrios and Guatemala City.

Rebel sources said their planes also are dropping arms in western Guatemala where uprisings against the government have been reported.

Reporting the dropping of supplies to insurgents inside Guatemala, a rebel spokesman said small-scale uprisings had occurred at Tutonicapan, Retalhuleu and Huehuetenango. These towns range in population from about 6,000 to 9,500. They are located north and west of Guatemala City, nearer the Mexican border.

Rebel headquarters claimed government soldiers "are deserting to our side" and declared the Arbenz government has no confidence in its army. Spokesmen gave no estimate on the number of deserters, however.

In a statement, the headquarters said the "national liberation movement has taken a position inside the territory of Guatemala without the help or co-operation of any other country or any foreign entity." A spokesman said the rebel force consists of 5,000 men, all Guatemalans.

The Arbenz government has charged Castillo Armas received aid from Nicaragua. It also has asserted that the rebel force is composed of adventurers from other Central American states, in addition to Guatemalan exiles.

There was no immediate reaction to diplomatic developments at the United Nations and elsewhere on Guatemala's charge that it is the victim of aggression. The U.S. has charged that the Guatemala government is Communist - influenced.

Chilean students shouting pro-Guatemalan slogans burned the U.S. flag in downtown Santiago Saturday night. The demonstrators represented seven political parties, ranging from left-wing Socialists to conservative Social Christians.

In Buenos Aires, the pro-government newspaper Critica said Guatemala is "surrounded by enemies" giving help to "exiled Guatemalan revolutionaries. In the first Argentine newspaper comment on the uprising, Critica said the Guatemalan government "clashed with the powerful interests of the United Fruit Co. and its subsidiaries" while fighting for national sovereignty.

Guatemala spans the narrow isthmus of Central America south of Mexico, at the area where the isthmus is bent so that it lies east and west between the Caribbean and the Pacific. Honduras lies to its south and east, while British Honduras lies north and east and is separated from Honduras by a narrow corridor of Guatemala which reaches to the Caribbean.

On the Pacific side and south of Guatemala is El Salvador, a smaller republic, then south and east again lies Nicaragua, reaching down to the Panama canal zone.

5 In Family Die In Flames

LIVERPOOL, N.S. (CP) — Five persons were burned to death here Sunday when their home was destroyed by a fire which was blamed on an over-heated electric hot plate.

Dead are Tom Wills, 39, his wife Phyllis, 34, Sharon, 10, Gray, 8, and Freddy, 7. Two other children, Dennis, 13, and Stanley, 11, smashed their way to freedom through a first-storey window. Patricia, 9, was spending the night at a neighbor's home.

The body of Tom Wills was found with that of one child he was apparently trying to escape with to a window.

CAT WAKES RESCUER

Fifteen-year-old Celia Delaney, a neighbor, said she was awakened at 2:30 a.m. by cries from her cat and saw the flames spouting from the Wills' home. She screamed an alarm and ran half-clad toward the house where she helped smash glass and assist two of the children.

An inquest will be held today.

The tragedy is the worst in recent years for this south shore paper-making town 100 miles from Halifax.

Douro Boy

marked the entrance to the swimming hole. "We decided to leave our guns there," said Carl Moher, "so we started unloading them on the road."

The two boys were facing each other with their guns when the accident took place. Suddenly "Jimmy yelled 'I'm shot.' I thought he was kidding at first and told him to cut it out." Moher said he even tickled his friend, still believing it all a gag, before he realized he was hit.

Howran staggered over to the west side of the road, collapsed, and went into convulsions. Now realizing it was no joke, Moher ripped open Howran's shirt but could find no evidence of a wound. The boy was, however, "turning awfully white and pale."

The bullet from the repeater entered Howan's back, severing an artery near the heart. The boy then died of an internal haemorrhage. Dr. C. B. Waite dug the bullet out of the front of Howran's chest in a post-mortem performed this morning.

The post-mortem showed there was no doubt that a bullet from the gun carried by Carl Moher was responsible for Howran's death. It is expected, however, that an inquest will be held.

SENT FOR HELP

Carl Moher then sent his brother and the Tobin boy to the swimming hole to fetch William Towns, 56, Douro storekeeper, who was there with three children. Meanwhile Moher loaded the boy and the two guns into Mr. Towns' car.

Mr. Towns drove the dying boy and his friends half a mile north to the home of Richard Sheehan beyond the Heffernan farm. Mr. Sheehan phoned provincial police and Cpl. Frank Rawlings and Const. Thomas Armitage responded to the call.

Hoping there was still a spark of life, the police and Nisbett ambulance attendants quickly put young Howran into the ambulance. He was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital but was dead on arrival.

Apparently confused and frightened, Carl Tobin disappeared shortly after the accident, and was questioned at his home, R.R. 2 Indian River, at 10:00 p.m. by police.

Tobin told police Moher and Howran had been shooting birds and "fooling around" while walking south along the road towards the swimming hole. He said the boys were discussing western movies they had been, featuring fast draws.

Tobin, however, was in a highly nervous state when questioned by police. He said he heard the shot, but was looking in the other direction when the accident happened.

Scene of the accident was reconstructed at the Tobin farmhouse by Cpl. Rawlings and Const. Armitage. It was established that the fatal bullet came from the repeater held by Moher, likely as a result of a ricochet. At the accident scene there was a stone, chipped as if by a caroming bullet.

Carl Moher, who was present for part of police questioning of Tobin said: "What's he got to be nervous about. I'm the one who shot him." Moher, who celebrates his 16th birthday next week, feared the accident might prejudice his chances of making a career of the army.

James Michael Howran, son of the late Joseph P. Howran and the former Laura Cornellia, was one of 14 children. He was born in Ennismore township, spent some time in Bridgenorth and moved to Douro township with his family two years.

In addition to his mother, the boy is survived by eight brothers and five sisters: William and Ambrose of Peterborough; Lawrence, John, Thomas, Roland, Donald and Joseph, at home; Mrs. Thomas Spencer (Margaret) of Douro; Miss Betty Howran of Campbellcroft; Alma, Laura and Cecilia Howran, all at home. James was 10th of the 14.

The body was taken from St. Joseph's hospital Sunday night and is resting at the Duffus funeral home. The Rev. J. J. McCarthy will celebrate requiem mass at St. Joseph's church in Douro Wednesday at 9 a.m. Burial will be in the family plot at St. Martin's cemetery in Ennismore.

Cheaper Hospital Care Plan For War Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—A plan to make hospital care cheaper for war veterans in the low-income group was announced in the Commons Saturday by Veterans Minister Lapointe.

Veterans who draw a pension or who served in a war theatre will be able to receive treatment for non-pensionable disabilities in veterans' hospitals by paying rates calculated on their income. The government will continue to pay the full cost of treatment for all pensionable disabilities.

Treatment will be free in veterans' hospitals for veterans earning less than $800 a year if single, $1,200 a year if married. If their income is higher, they will pay costs on a percentage basis up to one per cent of their income for each $100 of income above $800 and $1,200. Allowances will be made for dependent children and wages lost due to illness.

FREE TREATMENT

Veterans who earn less than $800 or $1,200 now receive free treatment for non-pensionable disabilities but those earning more than these amounts must pay $12.55 a day.

Mr. Lapointe said that, as an example, a married veteran drawing a pension or who served in a war theatre, having two children and earning $50 a week, would pay no more than $45 for two months' hospital care and a month's convalescence. Similar treatment in a civilian hospital would cost $600 apart from doctor's fees and extra services.

The new scheme is already in force. It is embodied in an order-in-council passed two weeks ago.

Woman Hurt In City Collision

One woman suffered minor injuries in one of four motor collisions reported to city police during the weekend. She was Mrs. Howard Schill, 5 Park St., who received medical treatment for bruises on the right arm.

Mrs. Schill was passenger in a car driven by Howard Schill which was in collision with a vehicle driven by George Tindle, R.R. 2, Peterborough. The cars collided at London and Downie streets, Saturday, causing about $350 damage.

At Reid and King streets Clifford Storey, 5 Burnham Court, and James Ayotte, 260 Reid, were drivers of colliding cars. Total damage to the vehicles amounted to $360.

Constables W. A. Scott and Grant Gillespie investigated.

Thomas M. Dolan, 550 Spruce St., was driving his car on Charlotte St. on Saturday when it collided with a parked car owned by Howard J. Phillips of Omemee. Damage was light.

Asked To Be Jailed Has Change Of Heart

A man who said he twice phoned city police in the early hours of June 10 to get them to take him to the station, eventually got his wish.

After listening to 39-year-old Owen Medland swearing and shouting outside his Fairburn Ave. home, constables John Williams and Cecil Bowyer took him along to the cells.

However, according to constable Williams, once they placed Medland in the cruiser, he seemed to have a change of heart and vehemently disputed the trip. Amid much shouting, swearing and waving of arms, the constables managed to handcuff Medland.

In court Monday, Medland pleaded not guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace.

"I don't think anybody heard me at all," he told Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC. "My house is well back from the street."

The constables said that when they first answered the call to Medland's house, he was in the adjoining lane and refusing to let his wife enter the house. Besides shouting and swearing, Medland appeared to be in a very drunken condition.

The magistrate entered a fine of $10, costs $2.50.

A second charge of intoxication was dismissed.

Thieves Steal Safe, Cigarettes From 2 Stores

MARMORA (ENS — Thieves broke into two Marmora stores Saturday night and made off with a safe and a quantity of cigarettes and sundries. The amount of money contained in the safe has not been established.

They apparently gave up an attempt to rifle a huge vault in one of the stores after prying five layers of bricks from the top.

Don Marett, co-proprietor of the F. N. Marett and Co. store on the east side of Forsythe St., went to the store Sunday morning and discovered that entry had apparently been made through a rear window, which he found partly opened.

He saw where thieves appeared to have climbed to the top of the huge vault and removed five layers of brick, but gave up on arriving at the sixth. The intruders apparently took only a quantity of cigarettes and sundries. A paper bag containing cigarettes was left behind on a counter.

Mr. Marett notified the OPP at Madoc and Constable Tom Lummiss was despatched to Marmora to investigate the break-in.

OPPOSITE

The other break-in occurred across the street from the first one at Albert Mayne's dollar store.

Ed O'Neill, who lives in a trailer at the rear of the store, noticed at 11 a.m. Sunday that the rear door of the Maynes store was open. He notified Mr. Maynes who discovered that the safe had been removed.

As far as is known, nothing but the safe was stolen from the Maynes store. The OPP from Belleville are investigating.

On Friday night, a large plate glass window was broken in the front of Vaughan Glover's grocery store, not far from the Maynes store. A large stone with a rag wrapped around it was found lodged in the broken window, which has since been replaced.

Mr. Glover's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Glover, who live in an apartment over the store, said they did not hear the sound of the window being broken.

3 Western Oils Make Small Gains

TORONTO (CP)—Three western oil stocks that lost heavily Friday made small gains in light early afternoon trading today. The rest of the market moved irregularly.

The three issues advanced strongly in today's first-hour trading but fell back a bit later. The big decline that hit them Friday came after the United States federal power commission announced natural gas for the U. S. Pacific northwest would be piped from New Mexico rather than from Alberta.

Pacific Pete was up 40 cents on the day to $7.40; Pace River gas was up 20 cents at $3.95, and Canadian Atlantic up 20 cents to $3.70.

Industrials were narrowly ahead with strength in utilities, liquors, financial institutions, retail stores and the miscellaneous group. Papers, steels, refining oils and manufacturers were weak. Most price changes were small but Transmountain Oil Pipe Line and National Trust lost $1 or more.

Base metals were lower in both seniors and juniors. Golds were steady in scattered trading. Manitouwadge issues and uraniums were weak but Bathurst issues moved ahead.

Pleads Guilty

Arthur Wilfong, 26, of 133 Princess St., today pleaded guilty to forging a cheque for an amount of $35. Magistrate W. R. Philp, Q.C. remanded him until June 28 to appear for sentence. Crown attorney John A. Bradshaw intimated that other charges were to be laid.

Wilfong admitted to forging the Bank of Montreal cheque which was made payable to a Fred LeRoy and purported to have been signed by Norman J. L. Nisbett, on June 14.

Government Fights For Life

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A government which says it is not Communist but which has been suspect because it accepts support from the Communists is fighting for its life in the Central American republic of Guatemala.

A "liberation army" of Guatemalan exiles estimated at 5,000 men marched into Guatemala Friday from neighboring Honduras. It faces a Guatemalan army of about 6,000 men.

Reports from the scene have been clouded by censorship but it is believed the exiles have been joined by other persons inside Guatemala also opposed to the government of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

EXILE LEADS INVASION

The invading forces are led by Col. Castillo Armas, a foe of Arbenz who went into exile in Honduras where he formed a resistance organization called the anti-Communist front of Guatemalans in exile.

Guatemala spans the Central American peninsula from the Pacific to Atlantic and is bordered by Mexico and British Honduras on the west, north and east. Honduras and El Salvador border it in the southeast. The country lies 800 miles northwest of the Panama canal, a fact which led to some of the uneasiness displayed by the United States.

REDS IN COALITION

Although it has been estimated there are not more than 1,000 actual card-carrying Communists in Guatemala, Communists control many strategic areas of public life. A declared Red, Moscow-trained Manuel Gutierrez, heads the Guatemalan Workers Federation, A fellow traveller runs the powerful Landless Farmers Union. These two groups have a combined membership of more than 100,000.

The 40-year-old president and his government have consistently denied the charges of Red domination. They say there are no Communists in the cabinet.

However, the government's strength rests on a coalition in the National Assembly of which the party is a part. This fact and the existence of Communists in subcabinet jobs have been causes of tension in neighboring countries and have made Guatemala the object of U. S. suspidion.

ARBENZ LED REVOLT

Arbenz first came into prominence in 1944 as chief organizer of the army revolt which overthrew dictator Jorge Ubico that year. He was inaugurated president in 1951.

With the support of Communists and their allies, Abrenz has pushed an ambitious program for improving the lot of the landless peasant. All but 500,000 of the nation's 3,283,209 people depend on farming for their livelihood. Seventy per cent of the land, however, is owned by two per cent of the people.

About 400,000 acres have been seized, including some land from the United Fruit Company, a U. S. firm. The government has been arguing with the U. S. over United Fruit's claims for compensation and has said it suspects United Fruit may have helped arm the exiles now invading the country.

ARMS START TROUBLE

The U. S. indicated its concern over Guatemala when State Secretary Dulles took the question to the inter-American conference of foreign ministers at Caracas, Venezuela, last March. The meeting approved a resolution calling for joint action against any Red infiltration of an American government.

On May 17 the U. S. disclosed that a $10,000,000 arms shipment from behind the Iron Curtain had been delivered to Guatemala.

This roused new tension in Central America and the U. S., acting under its mutual security treaties, airlifted arms to Honduras and Nicaragua, another neighbor of Guatemala.

The Guatemalan government announced it had uncovered a plot to overthrow the Arbenz regime and arrested a reported 400 persons.

Scores of Guatemalans, many of them wealthy, fled to neighboring Central American countries, adding their support to exiles already there awaiting a chance to march.

Dispute Amount Of Damage In Car Fire

COBOURG (ENS)—Further adjournment was made in connection with a charge against William E. Snyder of Brighton township, charged with setting fire to a car owned by James Seymour of the same township.

On an earlier appearance, Snyder was remanded out of custody until last Friday and directed to pay for damages to the car, which had been estimated at $400 by the insurance adjuster, with a salvage value of $250.

Snyder told the court that Seymour wanted $600 for the damages and later scaled it down to $500. Snyder said he only had $100 and offered it as part payment for the car, but the offer was turned down. As he was out of work, he couldn't pay any more at the time.

Seymour told Magistrate R. B. Baxter that the car was damaged more than $500 and he didn't learn until afterward that there was no insurance on it. He said he had paid $395 for it and then put a lot of repairs on the car. OPP Constable H. Cook said the fire had not damaged the motor but only the right rear tire. Snyder insisted it was only good for scrap.

Magistrate Baxter commented that he could impose a fine and let them dispute the damages in civil court, but decided to adjourn the matter until June 30. He suggested that the accused and Seymour come to some agreement by that date.

A NEW PENTECOSTAL CHURCH had its cornerstone laid Sunday in Campbellford by the Rev. W. B. Greenwood, district superintendent of Pentecostal assemblies of Canada. Minister of the Glad Tidings Pentecostal tabernacle, the Rev. G. E. Leno, is shown in the lower photo with stonemason Frank Dahm, holding the cornerstone, who has done much of the work on the church. Cornerstone Laid For Pentecostal Church

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — The Rev. W. B. Greenwood, District Superintendant of Eastern Ontario and Quebec of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada came from Belleville on Sunday to conduct services during the laying of the corner stone of the new Glad Tiding Pentecostal Tabernacle here.

BEGAN IN 1941

The laying of the stone was a milestone in the history of the church in Campbellford. In 1941 the Rev. J. D. Piper, who was at that time pastor, completed a basement church on Bridge St. west, which was the beginning of the growth of the church locally. In 1951, the Rev. G. E. Leno became pastor of the church, and began making plans for the completion of the upper portion of the building, which has just recently been completed, with the exception of some of the brick facing.

The services began in the church basement at 1.30 Sunday morning with an open session Sunday school. The dedication services began at 11 a.m. when the corner stone was placed in position and officially dedicated by Rev. Greenwood.

The corner stone was donated by Mrs. George Godden of Campbellford, in memory of her husband. Before the stone was placed in position, a list of names of all deceased members of the church was placed in an opening behind the stone, along with a Bible.

The official opening of the church will take place on Sunday September 5th, when special services will be conducted.

Russians Only 6 Points From Victory

By GEOFFREY GOULD

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia's leading chess strategists, going into the second half of their match with the best United States players tonight, are just six points away from certain victory.

As the third round opens, the Russians lead 10½ to 2½. They were expected to win, but it is a matter of pride for the U. S. team to make it as close as possible. Anything over 16 points would cinch the test for the Russians.

The three youngest U. S. players, Donald Byrne, Arthur Bisguier and Larry Evans are even with their opponents.

EVEN WITH OPPOSITE

The No. 1 U. S. player, Samuel Reshevsky, also is even with his Russian opposite, Vassily Smyslov. They have drawn both their games.

The Russians picked up their big lead at the second and third boards, where the Americans lost all their games.

The visitors added another point at the fifth board, when American Israel Horowitz lost his first-round game and drew the second against Efim Geller.

The winner of a game gets one point, and a draw gives half a point to each player. Each player faces the same opponent four times in the tournament.

LONG GAME ADJOURNED

Robert Byrne lost his first game to veteran Alexander Kotov, but has a good chance of winning his still uncompleted second-round game. He had two pawns to Kotov's one, and two bishops to the Russian's black bishop and knight when play was adjourned after 72 moves and nine hours of play.

Experts agreed he has a winning game, but one that requires exceedingly skillful play to prevent a draw.

Byrne and Kotov will start their third round tonight before the second is finished. If the third round game also should be adjourned tonight, both will be played off Tuesday afternoon.

Car Collides With 2 Trucks Parked On Hill

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — No one was injured, but two trucks and a car were damaged about midnight Saturday, in an accident on the Warkworth Hill, on the outskirts of that village.

One truck, driven by Bernard Conveney, 41, of Campbellford, was proceeding from Warkworth and travelling up the hill. The second truck, driven by Evelyn Coveney, his wife, was proceeding in the opposite direction down the hill. The two drivers according to the police, stopped their vehicles abreast of each other.

A car driven by Carmen Carr, 23, of Toronto broke over the brow of the hill and saw the headlights of Mr. Coveney's truck, but didn't see the truck driven by Mrs. Coveney until it was too late. He swung his vehicle to the left at the last moment striking the left rear of the one truck and the left front of the other, doing about $25 damage to each. Damage to the side of the Carr auto amounted to approximately $100.

MONDAY, JUNE 21, 1954

The Rt. Hon. The Chief Justice

Chief Justice Rinfret, who retires today on reaching his seventy-fifth year, has the distinction of having been a member of the Imperial Privy Council (Right Honourable) before he became a member of the Canadian Privy Council (Honourable). This is a much rarer event than a rare day in this June. It has seldom happened before. True, the Rt. Hon. Sir Winston Spencer-Churchill was a member of the Imperial Privy Council years before he was sworn of the Queen's Privy Council of Canada (1941), but then, Churchill is not a Canadian.

• • •

Chief Justice the Rt. Hon. Thibaudeau Rinfret, born in Montreal on June 22, 1379, was appointed a member of the Imperial Privy Council in 1947, and only in 1953 was he sworn of the Privy Council of Canada. (He had of course been styled "Honourable" before 1947, by virtue of his appointment as a Puisne Judge of the Supreme Court of Canada in 1924.) Even his son, the Honourable Gabriel Edouard Rinfret was a Canadian Privy Councillor before his father because he became Postmaster-General in 1949 and therefore a member of the Canadian Cabinet and of the Canadian Privy Council. (The Hon. G. E. Rinfret resigned the office in 1952 to become a judge of the Quebec Court of the Queen's Bench but he remained a P.C.)

• • •

Chief Justice Rinfret is the senior judge of the Supreme Court in terms of years as well as office; as we have mentioned, he was appointed to it in 1924. (He was named Chief Justice of Canada in 1944.) He is senior by eleven years to the Hon. Patrick Kerwin. It is of some interest, perhaps, that the majority of the Supreme Court are of relatively recent appointment, except for Justice Kerwin, appointed in 1935. Justice Taschereau was appointed in 1940, Justice Rand in 1943, Justice Kellock in 1944, Justice Estey in 1944 (it is somewhat notable that both these 1944 appointees are Baptists), Justice Locke in 1947, Justice Cartwright in 1949, Justice Fauteux in 1949. This list of names calls attention to the fact that the Supreme Court is a small Bench, nine members in all. Further, while all its judges are lawyers by profession, some were inactive in practice before appointment to the Supreme Court, and active in political life.

• • •

Chief Justice Rinfret is as weighted with honours as with years; they seem to have come to him as bees to a honeypot, although it must be admitted that he has long cultivated the doing of prominent good-works—this sort of thing: Vice-President of the Federation de l'Alliance Francaise aux Etats-Unis et au Canada, and Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the King George the Fifth Cancer Fund. He is an honorary Doctor of Laws of many universities, Regent of Ottawa University and Patron of l'Association des Juristes de Langue Francaise, among other offices and dignities. We permit ourself to say that Chief Justice Rinfret has been an ornament of the Supreme Bench, his minority opinions have been characteristic, his stipend has been $25,000 a year (Puisne Judges have salaries of $20,000), and the position of His Excellency the Chief Justice of Canada is of greater importance than ever. Although he ranks only sixteenth in the official table of precedence, while he is acting in the place of the Governor-General when the latter is absent, the Chief Justice has precedence over all other Canadians. But it is not as Acting Governor-General that the position assumes new importance, but because the Supreme Court of Canada, over which he presides, is now in all but a few residual matters the supreme arbiter and final authority constitutionally.

• • •

The Rt. Hon. Chief Justice Rinfret retires with our congratulations and our wishes that he live to enjoy an unruffled, ripe old age. His going is attended also by a lively interest in the name and nature of his successor.

'Poison Label And Monkey Censorship'

A law numbered Act 888 was passed by the Alabama State Legislature at its last session last Summer with only one dissenting vote. Its purpose was to keep Communistic textbooks or writings out of Alabama schools. To that end the act ordered that publishers insert in each book used in any public educational institution in the state a statement that the author of the book, and the auhors of any books or writing cited there, "is or is not a known advocate of Communism or Maxist Socialism, is or is not a member or ex-member of the Communist Party, and is or is not a member or ex-member of a Communist-front organization (as designated by the United States Congress, or any Committee thereof, or the Attorney General.)"

W. J. Terry, State Superintendent of Education, liked the law and said it would be enforced in its entirety, but others disliked it and saw clearly that it would be impossible to enforce. The Montgomery Advertiser ran a series of editorials under the heading, "Education by Poison Label and Monkey Censorship", and dealt at length with the absurdity of the law's implications. What would happen to an anti-Communist book that referred, as such books must, to Marx, Lenin and Stalin? These editorials, and other protests, encouraged a court case, and The Montgomery Advertiser thought it would be a rare treat when applicants sought to "prove in court that the 1953 Legislature was, temporarily at least, insane".

The Legislature may not have been temporarily insane, but it certainly failed to conduct even a brief investigation into the demands the act might make. The Alabama Polytechnic Institute is a public educational institution. The law would require it to label 150,000 books, and the cost of labelling alone was estimated at a million dollars. Furthermore, each of these books averaged about 250 authors cited for parallel reading. That meant that about 42,000,000 authors would have to be checked and classified at that one institution alone. In another instance, a single standard psychology textbook widely used cited more than 1,300 authors as parallel reading.

There were numerous similar submissions before the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, and the court took little time getting to the core of the matter. "The inevitable consequence of Act 888," it ruled, "is not labeled textbooks but no textbooks . . ." and declared the act void, inoperative, and a violation of the Constitution. The general conclusion seems to have been that the 1953 Legislature was not temporarily insane, but rather suffering from that form of anti-Communism that leads to passage of stupidly arbitrary laws—such as the so-called padlock law of Quebec.

Summer And The Theatre

Summer used to begin with school closing and end with its opening. Now, so perennially popular has the Peterborough Summer Theatre become in this district that the opening of the Summer Theatre seems to mark the real beginning of summer delights and holidays, and its closing the end of those joys, the return to sober routine and the drawing-in of the cold, austere year. In other words, the Theatre has become the time-table of summer.

This is good—not merely because the Summer Theatre prolongs summer a little by opening before school closes, and by continuing for a week after the school building returns to pedagogy. It is good because no matter how happy school life is, the stage which reflects life is a more light-hearted, an easier, a less earnest aspect of the world. If the time of our life must have annual milestones, let the chronology be told by the relaxing theatre year rather than the disciplining school year. Ontario people as a whole stand in need of spiritual unbending. Too much of their way of life is bounded by chores, stern necessity. They move from duty to duty rather than from festival to festival. And so it is well for the soul to esablish the bounds of our happy summer season not by a school calendar but by a theatre schedule.

These few remarks have of course been occasioned by the pleasant fact that today the Peterborough Summer Theatre begins its sixth successive season. So summer has begun. Incidentally today is June 21st, the summer solstice.

Mr. Gemmell's Ministry

Only two years after he succeeded the Hon. Harold R. Scott of Peterborough as Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ontario Cabinet, the Hon. Welland S. Gemmell of Sudbury is dead. This is a loss to Premier Frost's administration. It is an untimely one, since Mr. Gemmell was only 43, and his Provincial political career had begun as recently as 1948 when he was first elected to the Ontario Legislature. He held the office of Minister of Mines from 1949 until his appointment to the Department of Lands and Forests in June 1952. The time was too short for Mr. Gemmell to round out policies in regard to the conservation and management of our forest and wildlife resources, but what are considered sound principles were put into effect during his tenure of office, which, in his own words delivered at the last session of the Legislature, "will now make possible better integration of land used for wood crops, recreation and wildlife."

A statistician says that there are seven women for every man who reaches the age of eighty-five. And exactly what is a man of that age going to do with seven women?

A PLANET COMES CLOSER

The Enigma Of Mars

By DAVID EVANS
(Chief Assistant, Royal Observatory, Cape of Good Hope)

NEXT Thursday, the earth and Mars will be closer together in space than they have been for thirteen years. Close approaches of the two bodies occur at regular intervals of rather more than two years. They come about when the relatively swift-moving earth, travelling round the sun in its own fixed orbit, overtakes and passes the slower-moving Mars, much as a runner in a race on an inside lane might overtake a slower competitor in an outside lane.

These approaches are not all equally close, and the most favourable ones occur only every fifteen or sixteen years. This year the two planets will pass at a distance apart of only 40 million miles, and in 1956 they will pass even closer, at almost the minimum possible distance of 35 million miles. Approaches as close as this will not occur again until the 1970s.

• • •

UNFORTUNATELY for observers in places as far north as Canada, Mars is in the southern part of its orbit at the time of closest approach, and they will only see Mars lifting briefly over the southern horizon in the middle of the short summer nights. For us, here in the southern hemisphere, the situation is far more favourable. During recent weeks Mars has been seen rising in the east a little earlier each evening, until now it rises near sunset.

Earlier this year, Mars passed near the bright red star, Antares, whose name means "Rival of Mars," and they are still visible together in the same quarter of the sky. The two are, indeed, similar in colour, but, while the brightness of Antares is almost constant that of Mars has increased, night by night, until it makes a bold splash of red in the sky, and the change, as the earth overhauls the planet, has been very striking.

• • •

IN these latitudes, Mars seems to spring almost straight up from the horizon, to pass almost through the zenith near midnight, and presents a fine sight in our winter sky. From the High Veld of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, where the winter sky is cloudless for months on end, and where the altitude of nearly a mile above the sea greatly reduces the absorption of the earth's atmosphere, as clear a view of the planet is likely to be had as from anywhere in the world. To the Lamont-Hussey Observatory at Bloemfontein, with its twenty-seven-inch diameter refracting telescope, especially designed for visual observation, have come Dr. E. C. Slipher, of the Lowell Observatory, Arizona, and his colleagues, to make observations of Mars during this favourable opportunity.

• • •

PLANETARY observation is a field of research where the human eye can still hold its own with the photographic plate and other physical aids. The expert eye can select moments of perfect steadiness of the earth's atmosphere to discriminate fine detail on the planet's surface and so build up a complete picture piecemeal. The faculty of selection is of particular importance in such problems as the vexed question of the canals of Mars. The difficulties of Martian observation have been well summarised by the young French astronomer, Dr. de Vaucouleurs, in his book, "The Planet Mars" (Faber), when he points out that Mars has only twice the diameter of the moon, and is never seen nearer than a distance of 150 times as great as that of the moon. We can never, even with the largest telescopes and under the most perfect conditions, hope to see Martian detail as fine as that which can be seen on the moon with a pair of good binoculars. The canals, if they exist, must lie right at the limit of what can be seen by the expert eye under the most favourable conditions.

• • •

THIS situation opens the door to controversy. The recent discovery of persons capable of seeing the moons of Jupiter with the naked eye is a public demonstration of a fact long known to astronomers, that some eyes are capable of seeing detail far finer than the average. But the possibility of optical illusion cannot be entirely discounted. The expert observer knows from experience that he must discount some of what he sees, and must overemphasise other details. When highly skilled expert observers disagree flatly, it is hard to know what to believe.

• • •

THE late Dr. Percival Lowell drew maps of Mars of great geometrical definiteness, with the canals as plain and straight as railway tracks. He went so far as to devise elaborate schemes in which he supposed that the visible canals were belts of vegetation bordering water courses, the water being pumped along them, as required, by intelligent beings having a command of engineering similar to our own. Maps drawn by others are of recognisably the same general features. There are the same great dark areas on the surface of the planet. There is agreement that the colours change with the Martian seasons; but the hardness of the detail, the suggestive rectilinearity, is no longer present, and few modern astronomers would probably care to go all the way with Lowell.

A very keen-sighted French astronomer, A. Dollfuss, observing from the observatory of the Pic du Midi at an altitude of more than 9,000 ft. above sea, saw the canals not as true lines but as aligned dark specks. At least one astronomer starting as an "anti-canalist" has been converted to the opposite point of view. Most astronomers, indeed, have never been in a position to form a first-hand judgement on the matter, and their views represent their personal synthesis of conflicting expert reports.

• • •

CONCERNING general physical conditions on Mars there is no real disagreement, and as the result of the work of Coblents, Adams and Dunham, and Herzberg and Kuiper, our knowledge is both extensive and precise. The climate at the surface is an extreme version of a terrestrial continental climate. Neither oxygen nor water vapour can be present in the atmosphere in amounts greater than a few thousandths of the corresponding concentrations in the earth's atmosphere, but there is a high concentration of carbon dioxide, and the main atmostpheric constitutent is possibly nitrogen. The polar caps which wax and wane with the Martian seasons, consist of frozen water, but so sparse in quantity that they can be no more than a layer of rime. The atmosphere contains clouds which may consist of ice crystals at great altitudes. The surface is covered with red or yellow dust whose optical properties have been matched by certain terrestrial minerals. There are green areas which suggest the presence of plant life; but, if this exists, it must be of a very low order indeed. Kuiper has suggested that only plants analogous to the terrestrial lichens could possibly resist the extremes of temperature and general aridity of conditions on the planet.

When so much is agreed, it seems strange that there should be room for so much controversy. Whatever the results of the present series of observations, Mars is likely to remain an enigma, so near a visitor that its challenge to the investigator cannot be ignored, so distant from us, at the best, that our knowledge of it can never be complete.

WHAT PARCELS TO SEND NOW?

Food Situation In Britain

By SENATOR RUPERT DAVIES

A week after I arrived in Britain I received a letter from Canada with an inquiry which may well be in the minds of many readers who have friends and relatives in the Old Country. It reads: "Will you let me know what the situation is with regard to food? I have been in the habit of sending parcels to some friends, and I want to put in things which they find difficult to get now. I know that rationing is over, but I think parcels may still be acceptable."

• • •

THEY are, indeed, acceptable to the weary housewife of this land who welcomes variety in her daily task of providing meals. But while they are acceptable, they are far from necssary. I was delighted and surprised to see the great improvement in the displays in grocery shops. We went into a high-class grocery shop in Chester on our way down from Liverpool the day we landed, and made a few purchases, among them tinned lobsters from Canada, delicious chocolate-coated biscuits made in Britain, Maxwell House coffee from the States, Kraft cheese and we were even offered corn-on-cob, tinned in New York! This was, admittedly, in a shop which has specialized in delicacies and luxuries for its customers — but a year ago most of these articles were not for sale. When we arrived in North Wales, we found that the same conditions prevailed. We were offered a very wide selection of dry cereals (most of the kinds that Canadian children enjoy), tinned Mandarin oranges, marshmallows, all kinds of dried fruits including California prunes in sealed boxes, and what is the greatest boon to the housewife, all the sugar and butter that she can afford to buy.

It will surprise Canadians, perhaps to hear that it is taking some time for the sales of the latter products to go up. The British cook has been for so long constrained to purchase confections such as cakes, synthetic cream puffs and scones, through shortage of the necessary shortening and sugar to make them at home, that she has almost forgotten the art of baking. The same applies to tea and to eggs: the demand for these has not yet greatly increased now that they are unrationed.

• • •

BUT, to return to the question of gift parcels, and what you can put in them: I think the most appreciated gift is good Canadian canned fruit. It is very much enjoyed by the British people, who have definitely a sweet tooth and who therefore prefer all their fruit stewed. With a constant shortage of tin, the supply of British tinned fruit is always much below the demand; and, writing to and for Canadians, I think I can tell you confidentally that Canadian tinned fruit is far ahead of that which is brought into Britain from any other country, though not better than what is made here. Then, after fruit, comes first-grade shortening, Crisco and pure lard; all cooking fats in this country are still rather under suspicion. And the last suggestion I would make is that if you really want to send a year-round popular item, you choose a fruit cake, the richer the better. If you are from the Old Country yourself, or your parents have come from here, you will know that fruit cake takes its place on the English tea table just as often in hot weather as at Christmas time; the light fluffy Canadian cake which the young domestic science student works so hard to learn to make in Ontario would be passed over every time for a good, solid slice of fruit cake, something to "stay by" a person!

Ants Collecting Rent in Brazil

(La Voz de Espana, San Sebastian)

Ants in Northern Australia have progressed far enough in technical ability to be able to build "sky-scraper" anthills. The same insects have evidently discovered the magnetic waves that run along the earth's meridians from pole to pole— they align their construction on a strictly north-south line.

Other ants in India are experts at sewing and use silk which they steal from silkworms as thread.

Now, however, Brazilian entomologists have found that certain ants in the Amazon basin practise another technique of economically advanced human societies: they pay their rent, with presentations of certain determined quantities of honey.

The Latin naturalists are studying this remarkable animal symbiosis with the hope of discovering how it came about, how rents are fixed and whether there is any ceiling on such rents.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals . . . And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, had prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof. And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. (Rev. 5: 1, 4-6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake . . . And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men and the chief captains and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; and said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: for the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand? (Rev. 6:12, 15-17).

And after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God, and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the sea, saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel. (Rev. 7:1-44).

Estate Pays

(St. John Telegraph-Journal)

This may give some drivers, careless of their own safety, reason to pause.

In Montreal a former RCAF corporal, P. E. Casgrain, has been awarded $24,000 damages against the estate of a man killed in a head-on accident. Casgrain had claimed $42,000 damages against the estate of Tony Minotti and an insuranec company.

The medical-legal expert who testified said the autopsy showed alcohol "sufficient to hinder a person driving" in Minotti's blood.

Risking one's own life may be one thing, but risking the economic condition of one's survivors as well would seem to disqualify anyone from the privilege of driving. Besides there is the matter of general safety of others using the highways.

THE INVENTOR

Sightseeing behind the Iron Curtain a visitor noticed two oil paintings. He inquired about the first, and was told it was a "picture of the great Russian inventor Ivanov," who invented radar, wireless, artillery, railways, X-rays, and so on.

After he had recovered from this, the visitor asked about the second portrait, which was considerable bigger. "That," he was told, "is a picture of Petrovitch, our greatest inventor."

"And what did he invent?"

"He invented Ivanov."

St. Catharines Wins Top Regatta Honors

TORONTO (CP)—St. Catharines Rowing Club won top honors with five victories at the Central Ontario Rowing Association's second annual junior regatta here Saturday. The Don Rowing Club of Toronto had four wins while Argonauts of Toronto and the Leander of Hamilton had three wins each.

St. Catharines crews finished first in the 135-pound eights, the 155-pound eights, the 135-pound fours, the 135-pound singles and the senior eights. The latter was a special race pitting the junior heavy eights winners, the Don Rowing Club, against the St. Catharines and Argonaut crews which will be competing in the British Empire Games trials at St. Catharines July 10. The smooth-stroking St. Kitts oarsmen won handily, finishing three lengths ahead of the second-place Argonauts.

DONS WIN

Don Rowing Club crews won team trophies for three of their four victories: the Argonaut Trophy, 155-pound fours, the Hunter Memorial Trophy, junior heavy Trophy, 145-pound fours.

The Dons also won the quarter-mile dash eights, run this year for the first time. St. Catharines Collegiate was second.

Singles winners were Jim Roche of Leander, 145-pound singles, Leander's Jon Pearce, son of former Diamond Sculls champion Bobby Pearce, heavy singles and Jim Albon of St. Catharines, 135-pound singles. Albon's only opponent, Bill Gray of Leander, tipped about 50 yards from the finish line but Albon was already sweeping across the line.

The Argonaut club won the St. Catharines Trophy for their victory in the heavy fours. This event was delayed after the Leander boat struck and damaged the Argonaut shell shortly after the start of the race.

Cliff Ross Drops Oil Kings' Support

EDMONTON (CP)—Business executive Cliff Ross, who bankrolled Edmonton Oil Kings to the Memorial Cup junior hockey final, has dropped sponsorship of the Western Junior League club.

The team lost money in the 1953-54 season—some quarters said it was between $10,000 and $20,000—but the final figure won't be known until the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association notifies the club about its share of the sparsely attended Memorial Cup final games.

"I can't go on being a party to said Sunday. "I would like to see the next sponsor get the team organized on a player-pool basis and cease paying 17- and 18-year-olds steady and healthy salaries."

Here And There In Sports

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

TORONTO (CP) — Chain Reaction, a big colt that got lost with the also-rans against Canadiana in the Queen's Plate last year, gave the bay filly one of the worst lickings of her great career Saturday by winning the $10,000-added Maturity Stakes.

Chain Reaction defeated E. P. Taylor's prized filly by 10 lengths in their first meeting since Canadiana took the Plate classic. The colt was only galloping through the last 70 yards but covered the 1⅛-mile distance in 1:50 2-5, two-fifths of a second slower than the track record.

The brown colt picked up $7,430 for his owner, Mrs. J. Tomlinson of suburban Oakville. Canadiana, appearing skinny and drawn since she last appeared in Canada, tired at the finish but was an easy second over Blue Scooter.

More than 14,000 fans turned up at Woodbine track for the Maturity, billed as a return run between the two horses.

NO MORE, BOYS

NEW YORK (AP) — National League president Warren Giles has notified all managers the payment of bonuses for outstanding performance on the field, and wagering of any kind, will no longer be tolerated, it was learned Saturday. Leo Durocher and Eddie Stanky, two of the three managers at whom this notice specifically was aimed, said they would hereafter comply with Giles' wishes. Milwaukee's Charlie Grimm, the other principal, had no immediate comment. The three recently presented members of their respective teams with bonuses for especially noteworthy performances on the ball field.

OUTBID 12 FOR 12

BALTIMORE (AP)—Washington Senators of the American League paid a reported $50,000 for Harmon Killebrew, 17-year-old batting sensation of Idaho semi-pro baseball. He is the first bonus player ever signed by Washington and the Senators had to outbid 12 other major league teams for the six-foot, 195-pound infielder. Ossie Bluege, Senators farm director, went after Killebrew after seeing him bat 12 for 12—four homers, three triples and five singles—in three semi-pro games at his home town, Payette, Idaho.

Northern Ont. Minister At Havelock Church

HAVELOCK (ENS)—The Rev. John Ayers, rector of the Anglican church, Atikokan, Northern Ontario, conducted the service at St. John's Anglican church, Sunday.

The local church, without a rector until September, the wardens requested Mr. Ayers, who with his wife and family are holidaying here with Mrs. Ayers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Campbell, to conduct the Holy Communion and baptismal services.

There was a large attendance of communicants and three children received the ordinance of baptism. They are: Stephen Joseph and Sanford Henry Peters, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters; Ann Frances Pollock, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pollock.

Mr. Ayers in his sermon referred to a group of war veterans he had met in Toronto and the debt Canadians owe to these men, making a comparison to the sacrifice Christ made for all mankind and how His suffering should be treated as a memorial so that all may realize the price that was paid at Calvary.

After the service the wardens thanked Mr. Ayers.

British Crew Captures Top Honors

MONTREAL (CP) — A British crew Saturday sailed away with top honors in the Royal regatta off suburban Pointe Claire, leaving 10 Canadian teams following in the wake.

Lt.-Cmdr. R. L. Hewitt and his two-man crew from the Royal Naval Sailing Association broke a tie with the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club to win the four-day races.

Hamilton was in second place and the Royal Vancouver yacht club was third.

An interesting feature of the regatta was the presence of the sleek Bluebottle, owned by Queen Elizabeth and her husband. Bluebottle came across from England aboard a liner at the same time as Cmdr. Hewitt and his crew.

The regatta was a test of seaman rather than vessel, however, as the teams exchanged boats after each race. The Vancouver team was taking its regular turn with Bluebottle in the final race.

On Sunday Bluebottle was loaded on a truck bound for Ottawa, where she is scheduled to go on display June 21-22.

Fredericton Girl Outstanding Track Performer

ST. LAMBERT, Que. (CP)—An unheralded young miss from Fredericton gave convincing evidence Saturday of her aspirations to compete in the British Empire Games.

Blonde, 17 - year - old margery Squires not only won the award as outstanding girl performer at the eastern Canada track and field championships but turned back two of Montreal's top-notchers in rounding out a classy triple.

The high school youngster gathered in the 100-yard and 60-yard open sprints and also won the open broad jump.

She shot from behind in the 100 to overhaul Joan Wood and win in a sensational duel over the last few yards by a scant foot. Rosella Thorne, who has represented Canada in Olympic and British Empire Games, was third. Margery's time was 11.6 seconds.

In the 60-yard sprint Margery broke in front and held a two-yard margin over Rosella at the finish, with Joan taking third place. The winning time was 7.3 seconds.

The same three ended the broad jump competition in that order, Margery's first and best jump of 17 feet 3½ inches giving her the victory.

Five open and native records were broken, mostly in the lower-age groups.

The featured Coronation mile was won by Ramon Lopez, a post-entry from New York university.

On the basis largely of the meet, the provincial track and field officials will go into a huddle and decide who will represent Quebec at the final trials in Vancouver next month for Canada's Empire Games team. Miss Squires will also compete in the finals.

John Phillips of Cornwall Collegiate finished second in two midget events. He was beaten in the 880 yards by Jim Ogilvie of Montreal, with Peter Boyd of Lachine third. Later in the 220, Paul Taylor of Westmount came in first. There were only two entries in this event.

Golfer With Crippled Arm, Ed Furgol Wins U.S. Open

By ORLO ROBERTSON

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Probably the most untalkative golfer ever to trod a fairway is the new U.S. open golf champion and he can credit much to a crippled left arm.

Ed Furgol, a lean six-foot, 155-pound, 37 - year - old professional from Clayton, Mo., put together consistent rounds of 71, 70, 71 and 72 over the long par 70 Baltusrol course for a 284—good enough to finish one stroke in front of 23-year-old Gene Littler, 1953 amateur champion from Palm Springs, Calif., now playing as a pro.

Through the four rounds, Furgol stepped down the carpet-like fairways at a pace that left his playing partners, officials, gallery and often his caddy trailing. It appeared as if the man with the crooked arm, frustrated time and again since turning pro in 1945, knew he was destined to win golf's biggest prize and wanted to accomplish the feat as soon as possible.

LITTLE TROUBLE

Baltusrol's narrow fairways and tough rough offered him little trouble. His left arm, 10 inches shorter than his right and stiff from the elbow down, guided the ball true to the target with few exceptions as his right applied the power.

"My left elbow was a little stronger than Hogan's," said Furgol jokingly. "It kept me out of the rough." Defending champion Ben Hogan, seeking his fifth title, finished five strokes off the pace with a 289.

Furgol injured his left elbow at the age of 12 when he fell off parallel bars. The injury never healed correctly and he was left with a crooked, cocked arm.

The crippled left arm proved valuable in one way. He didn't have to learn to hold it stiff as he guided the club head into the ball.

The arm came in good stead on the 18th hole Saturday when he hooked his drive into the trees. For a moment it looked as if the title was going to elude him. But the crooked arm guided a seven iron true as he came out on a fairway of Baltusrol's other course, hit the green from the side and took two putts to get down.

THEN HE TALKED

However, not until he had clinched the title, when Littler failed to drop an eight-foot putt on the 18th for a tie, did Furgol start talking. Not once during the three days had he engaged in a conversation of more than two or three words.

"Golf is my work," said Furgol, "and I didn't want anything to distract me from a shot that might make a difference. That is why I never talked to anybody, not even my caddy." The caddy received $1,000 of Furgol's $6,000 first prize.

Between Littler and Hogan in the final standings came: Dick Mayer, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., 286; Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, 288; Tommy Bolt, Houston, Fred Haas, New Orleans, Shelley Mayfield, Seguin, Tex., and amateur Billy Joe Patton, Morgantown, S.C., all with 289's.

Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., the Canadian entry, had 291, right behind Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff who finished with 290. Horvath won $240.

Complex Field As Wimbledon Tourney Starts

By STERLING SLAPPEY

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The 68th all-England lawn tennis championships opened today but the field is so big and complex it will be late Tuesday afternoon before all the players get started.

The first match today pitted defending champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia against Geoffrey Cash of Darlington, Eng., a club player and Oxford man. No. 1 seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati met Paul Wooller of England, another club player.

Men's singles and a scattered few doubles will cover Tuesday. From then on, through July 3, excepting Sunday, women and men will alternate. The men's singles championship will be decided Friday, July 2, and the women's July 3.

AUSSIE-U.S. FIGHT

The field of 128 men and 96 women was expected to shake itself down into an American vs Australian fight in practically all departments.

Of the first eight men in the seedings, four are American and four Australian. The men's doubles seedings are evenly divided and so are the mixed doubles. Only in women's singles do Australians fail to figure. England ranks second to the United States in production of women tennis players.

Americans have won every Wimbledon since the Second World War except in 1946 and 1952. Trabert is the 3-2 choice to continue the dominance. Lewis Hoad, the top Australian is seeded second and is picked by a few London tennis writers over the 24-year-old Trabert.

The only Australian winner at Wimbledon since the war was the great Frank Sedgman. Before Sedgman's victory, you have to go all the way back to 1933 and Jack Crawford for another Aussie winner.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., is the overwhelming woman favorite. Her first match is Tuesday.

Oshawa Swamps Petes 10-1 With New Pitcher

Howie Stoneback was a stonewall which Joe Lowrey's Petes' bats couldn't break down Saturday night. In fact they couldn't crack it.

Imported from LaFayette University, the 19-year-old left-hander allowed but five hits and received excellent fielding from his teammates as Oshawa Transporters handed the Petes a 10-1 setback at Riverside park.

The young university freshman who had a 3-0 record in college play this year in the states had hardly arrived in Oshawa before given the pitching assignment against the Petes.

For the first five innings Stoneback and young Jerry Frizzelle, the Petes' top pitcher and an interest of the Brooklyn Dodgers, became locked in a pitchers' duel. But this broke up in the sixth when the Transporters cashed in for five runs off three hits, a walk, an error and a hit batter.

Although realizing his youthful pitcher was in trouble, Coach Lowrey couldn't relieve him. In order to keep other pitchers fresh for Sunday's doubleheader in Toronto and tonight's game at Riverside with Belleville Batas, he could only hope for Frizzelle to pitch his way out.

Frizzelle did manage to hold his own, getting two Transporters to pop up while he struck out the other.

But that one inning noticeably tired the Petes' pitcher. With steady fielding and another strikeout he retired the side in order in the seventh only to face trouble again in the eighth for two runs and the ninth in three.

At the same time Stoneback was keeping the Petes' bats fairly quiet. In fact until the ninth he allowed the Petes to reach second only twice, the Petes scoring once in the fourth for a 1-0 lead.

Given strong pitching support, the Transporters fielded well and were enthusiastic at the plate, cashing in readily on Frizzelle's tiredness. John Joskoski had four hits for six while Bill Keller had three for five, including a ninth-inning double.

CLIPS DOUBLE

Brian Young, who relieved Coach Lowery in centre late in the game, was the only Pete to hit Stoneback's offerings for more than one base. He connected in a weak ninth rally with a double to the right field fence.

The night's top fielding play went to Fred Garvey, Glen Pagett and Bill Edger. McArthur grounded in the eighth to Garvey who relayed to Pagett at second, then to Edger at first for a double play to cut short an Oshawa scoring spree.

McArthur previously had thrilled the crowd with a neat one-hand stab of a high ball off Frizzelle's bat in the seventh. The Oshawa catcher lost the ball in the glare of the lights, staggered back, saw it coming down and grabbed it with a one-hand lunge.

The Petes took a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Garvey led off with a walk. Edger followed up with a bunt on which Stoneback errored, placing Garvey at second and Edgar at first.

After Bill Huntley popped up, Tony Kotowski singled over second, scoring Garvey. This was followed up by Lowrey being hit by a pitch, filling the bases. But Stoneback became calmer to strike out Lawrence Foley and Pagett to retire the side.

LOADED BASES

Singles by George Brabin and Bill Keller, plus a walk to Bill Gingerich, loaded the bases for Oshawa in the sixth. Stoneback sent a hard grounder to Pagett and the ball slipped through into right field, scoring Brabin and Keller.

Frank Vargo, hit by a Frizzelle pitch, filled the bases a second time before Joskoski singled to right, this time scoring Gingerich. Fred Etcher flied out to Foley at the right field and after tagging up Stoneback scored.

The fifth run in that sixth inning rally came on a double steal. Joskoski raced for second and Bill Huntley attempted to throw him out. While the throw went to second, Varga raced in to score.

Stoneback started the second Oshawa rally in the eighth with a single through short. After Varga popped up to Huntley Joskoski singled to centre, Etcher singled to right and Maeson to left, scoring Stoneback, then Joskoski. The double play stopped that rally.

Keller started the final drive in the ninth with a double to centre. He scored on Gingerich's triple down the third base line. After Stoneback struck out, Vargo looped a high triple to the light standard in left field scoring Gingerich. Vargo added the 10th run when Joskoski singled to short.

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

ONE MINUTE'S SILENCE, PLEASE.

That brief pause is for all those who suffer from Monday blues. They will be suffering even longer today, the longest day of the year.

Speaking of being blue, a number of lacrosse fans will be sad to learn that one Don (Scotty) McPhail is possibly retiring from active play. An equal number, both players and fans, will be glad of his retirement.

Scotty, a Mimico Mountie faithful then later with Toronto Orillia West Yorks as playing coach, had a colorful career in senior lacrosse, taking a lot of punishment, handing out lot of rough stuff, and sparking his teams to victory as a leading scorer.

This season Scotty's been having a tougher battle, one commonly known as the Battle of the Bulge. A teammate said Friday night that Scotty is about 40 fatty pounds over-weight.

That, besides other troubles including age, have slowed the rough, but likeable chap down to a snail's pace this season.

In recent weeks it's become increasingly apparent that Scotty may be through as a player. He hasn't been turning out to practices and games, even those played in Mimico.

Archie Dixon, Mimico coach, seems to think Scotty is ready to call it quits.

Just One Victory

Archie is also having his troubles with the Mounties, who are solidly holding down the cellar position with only one victory, that over lowly Hamilton.

The fomer starry player is really disappointed with his team He pointed out Friday that the boys seemed over enthusiastic early in the season, turning out well to practices and games. Since then they've been coming up with a variety of excuses to be absent.

The Mimico situation is peculiar. The area is one of the best lacrosse centres in Ontario and there are also plenty of senior calibre players there. But in recent years they've certainly bogged down.

The main trouble seems to be money. Mimico hasn't been able to keep up with the other clubs in the pay-for-play programs. The Mounties have only a split at the season's close.

That split, according to the players, likely won't materialize. The crowds there have been pitiful, not much more than 200 at times. It boils down to the fact that the Mounties are playing for the "love of it."

But there are other troubles too and these must be ironed out soon.

What will happen to lacrosse, if Mimico should be forced to drop out, leaving only three senior teams?

Athlete Of The Year

Going westward for a minute we'd like to point out that Fred "Whitey" Seversen of the Shamrocks has been chosen athlete of the year in Victoria. Sporting fans picked Whitey over veteran Arn Ferguson, also of the Shamrocks, in a contest conducted by our good friends, Bill Walker and Denny Boyd of the Victoria Times.

Along with Archie Browning, another former Brampton star, Seversen paced the Shamrocks into the Mann Cup finals last season. In doing so he won the Maitland trophy, emblematic of the Intercity Lacrosse League's most valued player, and also the George Blackstock memorial trophy, as the Rock's most valuable.

There's going to be greater competition this year for Whitey, Arn and Archie. Thre teammates, George Johnston, Don (Nip) O'Hearn and Jack Bionda, who now leads the western league scoring, will all be in the running and then some.

Still Under Suspension

But back again to Miller Bowl and the suspended junior Petes. Action has been slow in having the team re-instated in the OLA junior league since suspended for failing to show at the Newmarket game more than a week ago.

Dr. Jack Epping reports that a letter explaining reasons, such as exams for players, for Peterborough not sending a team, has been sent to the OLA. At the same time he expects some definite action by the OLA this week.

A strong lacrosse supporter, the Doc fully realizes the importance of a junior club in maintaining future senior teams in Peterborough. Therefore he doesn't want the junior setup to fold.

While speaking with several junior players we learned that the lads may move out of town if the junior club isn't re-admitted. Brampton has been looking this way for players to strengthen their club.

It's this corner's belief that Peterborough will really have to be persuasive with Newmarket, Long Branch, Brampton and St. Catharines if they won't back it. Those clubs feel they have a "good league without any weak sisters."

As a parting note we urge all sporting fans out to see Joe and his boys meet Belleville tonight in a VOBL game at Riverside. The team hasn't been getting the fan backing it deserves.

McCants Signs Two Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — Howard McCants casually announced Saturday that he has signed contracts with two professional football teams "and if there's a battle over it I just won't play football."

The flashy six-foot-eight Washington state end is right in the middle of a row between the Detroit Lions of the National Football League and Toronto Argonauts.

Both clubs previously had announced signing the 245-pounder. Here is McCants' version:

"The first contract I signed was with Toronto in April, but we had it post-dated to June 25. Then I decided I'd like to play with Detroit and signed a contract with them on June 11. I intended to play with Detroit until I saw some things I didn't like. Now I'm definitely going to play with Toronto and I'm leaving for there the first of next week."

McCants would not say what "the things I didn't like" about Detroit were. Lions general manager Nick Kerbawy said "I'll know Monday whether I'm going to sue McCants, Toronto, both or none. At the rate I'm going I'll probably spend all summer in court with Canadian players."

Rochester Trims Montreal In Twin Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rochester Red Wings are making a determined bid to get back on top of the International League and win their second straight pennant.

Manager Harry (The Hat) Walker's Red Wings moved to within two games of the first-place Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday by turning back Montreal Royals twice, 11-8 and 8-3.

Meanwhile the lowly Ottawa Athletics ended Toronto's six-game winning streak with an 11-8 victory in the first game. The second game was called because of the Sunday curfew law at the end of six innings with Toronto ahead 3-2. The game will be finished at a later date.

Syracuse Chiefs swept a doubleheader from Havana Cuban Sugar Kings 3-2 and 8-4, and Buffalo split a twin bill. The Bisons won the opener 8-7 while Richmond took the nightcap 5-3.

FOURTEEN HITS

Rochester collected 14 hits off loser Glenn Cox and his four successors, with Al Richter and Bill Virdon leading the attack with three hits apiece.

Seven errors by Montreal in the second game handed Rochester the victory.

Outfielder Joe Taylor of the A's drove in what proved to be the winning run in the seventh inning of the first game against Toronto with a triple. Luke Easter slammed a home run for the winners.

In the second game, the Leafs tallied three runs in the fifth inning. Mike Goliat's triple scored Archie Wilson and pitcher Vic Lombardi, and Loren Babe's double sent Goliat home.

England, Hungary Win Weekend Games

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—England and Hungary won their games Sunday in the world soccer championships and qualified for the quarter-finals.

England defeated Switzerland 2-0 in a scrappy game here while Hungary easily beat Germany 8-3 at Basel.

In other games Sunday, Italy beat Belgium 4-1 at Lugano and Turkey shut out Korea 7-0.

The Swiss must meet the Italians while Turkey plays Germany in playoffs to decide the remaining two quarter-final berths.

Yugoslavia, Brazil, Austria and Uruguay advanced to the quarter-finals on Saturday, eliminating Scotland, Czechoslovakia, France and Mexico.

England, which played to a 4-4 tie last Thursday with Belgium, got a goal in each of the halves of Sunday's games, Jimmy Mullen scoring in the 43rd minute and Dennis Wilshaw in the 70th minute. A number of changes were made in the English lineup before the game.

O'Neill Gave Canada First Scull Crown

By GERRY MARTIN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP) — John O'Neill gave Canada its first win in the American single scull championships 45 years ago. To look at him today you would never think it was that long ago.

His triumph in the 1909 American single sculls at Detroit wrote his name forever in the record books.

Now 76, he considers rowing the best way to keep in shape and although he hasn't done any competitive rowing since 1911 he still leads an active life. His rowing now is confined to weekends when he borrows a shell or scull.

AUTOMOBILE BLAMED

O'Neill is a car salesman and oddly enough blames the automobile for the lack of interest in his favorite sport.

Born at Ketch Harbor, about 12 miles from here, O'Neill was in his late 20s and a veteran of the Boer War before he took up sculling.

"It all started when a bunch of us were hanging around St. Mary's Club. I was planning to leave for Ontario when the fellows convinced me to stay around for the summer. I started rowing and started winning and the thing just grew."

Old timers around St. Mary's tell the story of the camp across the arm where the rabid rowing fans gathered. They paid 10 cents a week into the kitty and the money was used to help pay a top rowing coach for O'Neill and, later to help finance the champion's trips.

Less than five years after he started sculling, O'Neill was the top man in the Maritimes. He made his international mark in 1905 at Philadelphia where he won the Association senior single sculls.

In 1908 he won the National Association singles at Springfield, Mass., qualifying for the American the following year at Detroit.

HAS RECORD BOOK

An old tattered record book tells how O'Neill beat off two challengers in a bitter struggle that was called by experts the best race for the crown. O'Neill covered the mile and a quarter in 7:17 minutes, near record time for the course.

O'Neill's homecoming was the occasion for one of the wildest celebrations accorded a sportsman by the city.

It was a hot August night in 1909 and thousands lined the streets to cheer O'Neill along a torchlight procession. Supporters started him through the streets in a carriage but the crowd cut the horses loose and pulled the carriage themselves.

The City of Halifax extended an official welcome and he was presented with a piano and a set of cutlery.

"What happened after that?. . . Well, the boys seemed to think that I should retire and just give exhibitions and I never did compete in a national competition again. . . ."

Petes, Toronto Split Twin Bill Last Game Short

TORONTO (Special)—Peterborough Petes and Toronto Dependable Caterers split the Viaduct Ontario Senior Baseball League twin bill played in the open East Toronto Athletic field here Sunday afternoon before a small turnout. The Petes missed their chance of moving into third place with a clean sweep of the two contests, taking the opener 6-5 and dropping the abbreviated six-inning night cap 5-4.

Manager Joe Lowery struggled through the first game spacing 13 safeties while his mates put together their nine at the most opportune times to gain the verdict.

Bill Huntley was the lone Pete to get a pair of hits, one a triple that he could have easily stretched to a homer, but the heat must have bothered him as he reached third the big fellow just eased up. Lowery aided his own cause with a triple in the third and later scored on a long fly by Eddie Edger and Larry Foley chipped in with run-scoring hits.

Rookie outfielder Dave Speers was the shining light for the caterers with three hits including a homer. Veteran Ed (Gunner) Whitehill made his initial start on the hill for the Petes in the late game. It was a rough one for the coach to lose as he gave up only three hits. He gave up six walks, three of them leading counters.

The Petes showered Harry Collins, late of the St. Louis Cards farm system, with 11 hits, but he was the master in the clutches. Brian Young pilfered three bases and collected two hits. Fred Garvey, Bill Edger and Tony Kotowski also had two safeties.

Gale V Captures Maple Leaf Race

WINDSOR (CP) — Joe Schoenith of Detroit Saturday had a big boost from Lady Luck as he blasted his Gale V to victory in the fifth Maple Leaf unlimited power boat regatta.

The regatta, staged in the Detroit river is a primary for the Seattle Gold Cup races Aug. 7. Most unlimited entries are three-point copies of the world champion Slo-Mo-Shun of Seattle.

Miss U.S., driven and owned by George Simon, scooted to an easy win in the first heat but was disqualified when judges discovered she cut out two buoys.

This gave Schoenith first place. The race was run in three heats and judged on the point system.

Simon won the second heat going away with Schoenith second.

Giants Capture 7-6 Victory From Cardinals

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Warren Giles' embargo on the $100 home run bonus came just in time to save Leo Durocher from an acute case of C-note shorts.

Take Sunday, for instance. Two Giant pinch hitters, Bobby Hofman and Dusty Rhodes, set a record by hitting pinch homers in the same inning of New York's 7-6 victory over St. Louis. Wes Westrum also homered in the sixth inning and Al Dark hit one earlier.

The Giants needed them. Their National League lead was sliced to a half game by Brooklyn's double victory.

RELIEF DID IT

The Dodgers again fell back on relief pitching to knock off Chicago twice 6-4 and 6-3; with Clem Labine bailing out the first game and Bob Milliken and Ben Wade holding the fort in the second.

For the first time since Sept. 6, 1953, Pittsburgh actually won a doubleheader. First the Pirates downed Milwaukee 2-1 in 10 innings when Lew Burdette hit Curt Roberts with a pitched ball with the bases loaded, then Gair Allie's three-run homer gave the Pirates the second game 6-3 over Bob Buhl. The double defeated dropped the Braves seven games out of first place.

Cincinnati bumped Philadelphia twice 4-3 and 15-6, chasing their old teammate, Herm Wehmeier, as they scored nine runs in the first inning of the second game.

TRIBE ADVANCES

Cleveland hiked its American League lead to four games by beating their old Boston sparmates around the head 3-1 and 9-2, while New York and Chicago were dividing two. Bobby Feller's five-hitter and Art Houtteman's 10-hitter both had home run help from Al Smith, boosting the Tribe's season record to 11-1 over Boston.

The Yankees managed 20 hits, including home runs by Bill Skowron, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle and Joe Collins in thumping Chicago 16-6 in the first game before 37,075 at Comiskey Park. Then Bob Keegan squared matters for the White Sox 7-3, becoming the first American League pitcher to win 10 games this year. Sherm Lollar's two-run homer in the seventh was the second game's big blow.

Baltimore's losing streak ran to eight straight when Washington's Connie Marrero and Dean Stone pitched the Senators to a double victory, 7-1 and 7-2. A crowd of 17,149 boosted the Orioles' home attendance to 504,732 but the last place Birds were thoroughly booed.

RAINED OUT

A Philadelphia-at-Detroit doubleheader was rained out.

Eddie Stanky spent a frustrating afternoon at the Polo Grounds where his Cardinals left 17 runners on base, only one shy of the major league record, in a three-hour-and-16-minute contest involving 33 players. Matters became so involved that Monte Irvin, who started on the bench, got into the game as a pinch hitter and played left field, then wound up on first base after Whitey Lockman was chased by an umpire.

Roy Campanella collected a bunt single, double and triple and Carl Furillo hit a three-run homer in Brooklyn's first-game triumph in which Labine's stylish relief work saved the day for Erskine.

Ray Pella, Sudbury athlete now attending the University of Michigan, made a discus throw of 160 feet, 6½ inches, three feet better than the former record.

45 EVENTS

A total of 45 events were run off in the all-day competitions.

Carol Myers from Toronto's Silver Heels Club was the meet's top junior girl athlete with victories in the baseball throw, the discus and the javelin. Mary Lawrence, unattached but coached by Lloyd Percival of Toronto, gained the most points in senior girls competition, 16, one more than Gwen Hobbins who won the 80-meter hurdles in the morning without competition.

Big Power Project Opened At Niagara

By PHIL CALDER

More than 70 representatives of press and radio from East-Central Ontario and the Toronto area were shown the initial results of Ontario Hydro's 1,828,000-horsepower Niagara development on Saturday when they saw in operation the first 100,000 horsepower unit of the Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 2.

The unit, which was put in service a few weeks ago, was built at the Peterborough works of the Canadian General Electric Co.

It is the first of 16 such turbo-generators, standing approximately four stories high, in the huge new powerhouse at the base of the Niagara gorge near Queenston.

BEGUN IN 1950

Begun in December, 1950, the project will ultimately draw 15 million gallons of water a minute from the Niagara river two miles above the falls, through two 5½-mile tunnels under the city of Niagara Falls, along a 2¼-mile open-cut canal to a forebay above the gorge, from which it will plunge more than 300 feet through huge penstocks to the turbo-generators below.

One of the most complex engineering feats of its kind ever undertaken in Canada, the $343,742,000 project employed more than 7,000 men during the peak period last summer. Completion of the first 12-unit phase of the plant is scheduled for 1956. The four other turbo-generators will be added later.

Early in 1957 a huge storage reservoir containing 650,000,000 gallons of water will be put in operation near the forebay. A pumping plant will be installed to raise water from the open-cut canal to the reservoir.

The pumped-storage scheme will increase the generating capacity of the project by pumping water into the reservoir at night. At peak periods the water will be run back through the pumps which are, in reverse, turbo-generators with a capacity of 170,000 kilowatts (228,000 horsepower.)

BETTER SUPPLY

The reservoir will also enable fuller use to be made of all units of the station, particularly at times of high demand, when quantities of water allowed by the Niagara Diversion Treaty with the United States would otherwise place temporary restrictions on full capacity operation.

The new treaty is designed not only to protect the scenic beauty of the falls and gorge but to permit maximum available water for power generation.

From April 1 to September 15, between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m., a minimum of 100,000 cubic feet per second must flow over the falls. This period is reduced by two hours from September 16 to October 31. All water in excess of this amount can be used for power purposes. At all other times, a minimum of 50,000 cubic feet per second must flow over the falls, and the remainder may be used for power generation.

From November 1 to March 31, all flow in excess of 50,000 cubic feet per second can be used for power, except when it is necessary to flush ice out of the gorge below the falls.

Under the new treaty, half the diversion will be available in Canada and half in the United States. Canada is allowed an additional 5,000 cubic feet per second of water that the commission diverts from the Hudson Bay drainage area.

IMPROVING FLOW

The treaty also requires the building of remedial works to distribute more evenly the flow in the river over both the Canadian and the United States falls. Without remedial works, most of the water flows over the horseshoe falls, and of this amount, most passes over the middle third to the horseshoe. This leaves the flanks bare during low periods in the river.

The joint remedial scheme will create a more uniform flow of the Niagara River, particularly over the 2,600-foot crestline of the horseshoe falls, which are eroding at the centre, and contribute to the most effective use of water for power production.

This remedial work has now been started and entails construction of a 1,550-foot dam above the falls on the Canadian side to control the level of the water near the intake structure of the new power development. In addition, 64,000 cubic yards of rock will be excavated from the United States flank. Fills will be added to both flanks.

Work on the Canadian side is under the jurisdiction of Ontario Hydro. The United States Corps of Army Engineers is doing the work on the opposite side.

The sweeping extent of all this work was shown to the press and radio group on Saturday afternoon. The group who made the tour included representatives of daily and weekly newspapers and radio stations in Hydro's East-Central Region and representatives of the Toronto Region weekly press.

GREETED BY SAUNDERS

They were greeted at a noon luncheon in the Brant Inn at Burlington by Hydro chairman Robert Saunders, who announced that he had arranged for the official opening of the new generating station on August 30 by HRH the Duchess of Kent, who will also open the Canadian National Exhibition, of which Mr. Saunders is president.

"Bustling Bob" had that morning shown a group of representatives of the NATO nations through Hydro's scale model of the St. Lawrence Power Project, which will provide 1,100,000 horsepower of electrical energy. He appeared to be torn between a desire to continue speaking on this gigantic undertaking and the necessity of reminding himself that his latest audience had come to see a different project altogether.

"But see all you want to see and ask any questions you want to ask," he urged. "We've nothing to hide at Hydro."

There was lots to see.

Because the Niagara project was well ahead of schedule, Mr. Saunders said Hydro was fortunate in having available Gordon Mitchell, who has been appointed director of the St. Lawrence Hydro Project. He was formerly project manager at Niagara. William Hogg, presently at Niagara, will become Hydro's St. Lawrence Project field engineer. William Fraser becomes project manager of the Niagara development.

Co-hosts with Mr. Saunders on Saturday's tour were E. G. Gurnett, manager of the East Central Region and Adam W. S. Smith, manager of the Toronto Region.

PUT INTO USE

It was pointed out that it had been possible to put the first new 100,000-horsepower turbo-generator unit into operation this spring, before completion of the immense project, by making use of the canal and forebay system serving the adjacent Sir Adam Beck No. 1 plant.

The older plant is immediately adjacent to the new generating station and is served by the Chippawa Canal, which has its intake beside those of the new tunnels above the falls. It flows north of the city of Niagara Falls, crosses above the tunnels north-east of the city and crosses the open-cut canal of the new system just above the two generating stations.

Water was diverted from the old canal to the forebay of the new station at the cross-over and by an interconnecting channel between the forebays of No. 1 and No. 2 plants.

Early this month, preparatory to the watering of No. 1 tunnel in late June, a massive rock plug at the cross-over of the old and new power canals was blasted out. For the first time, this enabled water to enter the section of open-cut canal leading back to the exit portals of the twin tunnels. In filling No. 1 tunnel, the water from the new canal will be allowed to enter at the exit portal of the tunnel.

Seventy per cent of all the concrete for the project has now been placed, including the lining of No. 2 tunnel.

PETERBOROUGH WORKS OF THE CGE manufactured the first 16 turbo-generators to be put into operation at Ontario Hydro's 1,828,000-horsepower Sir Adam Beck Generating Station No. 2 at the foot of Niagara River gorge near Queenston. The $343,742,000 project was shown to more than 70 representatives from press and radio Saturday afternoon. Early operation of the first 100,000-horsepower turbo-generator was made possible by cutting a cross-channel (top left photo) from the forebay of Sir Adam Beck Generating Station No. 1, built in 1921, to the forebay of the new station, thereby allowing water from the old Chippawa power canal to drop more than 300 feet through the penstock of the new station. The upper right photo shows the four-storey turbo-generators being installed in the new powerhouse. In the lower photo, E. G. Gurnett (right), manager of Hydro's East-Central Region, points out the inner workings of the first turbo-generator's exciter to (left to right) McIntyre Hood of the Oshawa Times-Gazette, Miss Pat Bennett of radio station CNBQ, Belleville, and Ken Smith of the Picton Times.—(Ontario Hydro Photos).

Will Allow 15 Chinese To Return To Red China

By EDDY GILMORE

GENEVA (AP) — The United States agreed today to permit 15 detained Chinese nationals to leave the U.S. and return to Communist China.

This was the first concrete result of direct negotiations under way here between American and Chinese Communist representatives on the exchange of detained persons.

The Chinese Communists still have not agreed to release any of the approximately 83 American civilian and military personnel who are either in prison on the China mainland or who have been refused permits to leave.

The Chinese Reds have confirmed that they are holding 30 U.S. civilians in prison, but said one civilian and a number of military personnel listed by the U.S. as detained were either dead or missing.

The Chinese did not say when any of those detained would be released—if at all.

The Chinese Reds contend about 5,000 Chinese, mostly students, are being prevented from returning to China from the United States. This number is disputed by the United States, which says that perhaps 50 to 100 Chinese are involved. These were refused visas on security grounds.

Hostility Seen In Conciliation

WINDSOR (CP)—Hostility was evident Saturday during the final hearing before a conciliation board trying to settle a contract dispute between Ford of Canada and Local 200, United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO-CCL).

The board adjourned the hearing a week ago to give the union time to prepare a written reply to a sudden company demand for reduction of seniority rights. At the conclusion of the Saturday session, Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder of the Ontario Supreme Court, chairman of the board, said the board will start considering evidence June 28.

Thomas MacLean, assistant regional director for the UAW, questioned the accuracy of company figures and said decentralization was a meaningless threat.

The company statement said bargaining unit-wide or company-wide seniority was costing thousands of dollars. It was granted in 1949 after a bitter strike.

Graham Preaching Confuses Stockholm

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A capacity crowd of some 23,500 persons jammed Stockholm's Olympic Stadium Sunday night to hear American evangelist Billy Graham. About 200 followed his appeal at the end of the sermon to "turn to God."

The Graham party is scheduled to leave today for one-day stops at Copenhagen, Amsterdam, Duesseldorf and Berlin before going to Paris.

Newspapers here appeared somewhat confused by his dramatic style of preaching.

"Billy came, saw but failed to conquer," the afternoon paper Aftonbladet said.

Grooming Star To Take Over From Hayworth

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Columbia studios, weary of too much wrangling and too few pictures from Rita Hayworth, are quietly grooming a voluptuous Bohemian from Chicago for the Hayworth spot on the lot.

None of the Columbia brass will admit publicly that curvy Kim Novak, a former model, is getting such a build-up but the signs are unmistakable.

Kim, a green-eyed blonde with more curves than an Alpine pass, doesn't look the least big like red-haired Rita. That's as it should be because look-alikes never get very far in Hollywood.

The resemblance comes in that most marketable of Hollywood assets—basic, earthy sexiness. One Columbia topper, who pleads anonymity, believes Miss Novak will eventually take over for Rita. He explains why:

"Kim could not have come along at a better time. We know Rita Hayworth sells tickets and we know why, but first she has to be in a picture. She's made only three pictures since 1949 when she married Aly Khan. And we haven't seen her since she married Dick Haymes last fall."

MAY SETTLE ABROAD

It's entirely possible that Hollywood may not see her again. If the United States government can enforce its deportation order against Haymes, Rita may well settle abroad with her husband.

The public will first see Kim as a star, an unusual beginning for a young girl in this business. She plays a sexy moll in a detective drama filmed originally under the title "The Killer Wore a Badge," starring Fred MacMurray.

At the sneak preview, the Novak sex appeal registered so much that the title of the picture was changed to "Pushover" with the accent on Kim instead of guns.

Kim was discovered for the movies while riding a bicycle in Beverly Hills. She had come out here on a modelling job with a line of refrigerators.

Unmarried, she lives with her pet dachshund and a Siamese cat she claims can unlock doors. Kim is 5 feet 6 and weighs 125 pounds, well distributed over one of the better figures in town.

It's Lucky Tyrone Behaves

Bobbyetta Porter loves lions and shows it by keeping one as a pet in a room of her Herscher, Ill., home. To top it off, she is caring for three more full-grown lions left with her by a circus group and she is practising with them. Pictures below show Bobbyetta putting Tyrone, her favorite of the three "boarders," through a circus routine.

Bobbyetta Porter gets lion to sit up by commanding "Up, Tyrone."

Once in a whole she has to use a rod to get results.

Jumping through a hoop is rather easy for well-trained lion.

Lombardo Starts New Career Produces Seashore Show

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Guy Lombardo starts a new career next week with the connivance of a gay whale and glittering Chinese junk.

The this - side-of-heaven music man is not, let it be immediately understood, abandoning the devoted dance fans who have kept him among the favorite maestros of a generation. The band plays on.

But as a man whose varied enthusiasms include speedboats, realty, oil and restaurants, the Canadian-born Lombardo now is adding an exciting new activity as a theatrical producer.

He makes his impresario debut Thursday with a $200,000 extravaganza entitled "Arabian Nights." It will play nightly until Labor Day at Jones Beach, big seashore resort and branch of Broadway entertainment just 35 miles out on Long island from Times square.

SUCEEDS TODD

Lombardo hasn't picked a soft spot to sprout managerial wings, for his predecessor as producer of Jones Beach shows for the last two years was flamboyant Mike Todd, busy movie-making now.

After listening to Guy tell of the genesis of "Arabian Nights" as we sat in a corner of the Roosevelt Hotel grill (where his band has been busy since 1929) and hearing brother Carmen provide a few sample croons of its tunes, we can tell you the Lombardos are out to give the public sights galore.

In addition to the 65-foot mechanical whale, equipped with built-in public address system, and the giant replica of a Chinese craft which will come sailing into the lagoon between stage and audience, the show is to include two ballets, a disappearing water ballet and the dry-shod ballet theatre company, and 100-foot-high sets on the revolving stage that will variously depict a sultan's seraglio, a street in Baghdad and a mystical valley of jewels.

MELCHOIR STARS

The stars of the show include operatic star Lauritz Melchoir, Helena Scott, who has graced three Rodgers and Hammerstein shows on Broadway, ballerina Mia Slavenska, Ralph Herbert and Hope Holiday, a Betty Huttonish young dancer.

The 45-piece orchestra will be conducted by—nope, you're wrong—not Lombardo but Pembroke Davenport, a veteran theatre pitman.

The story of the entertainment is, of course, from the ancient "thousand nights and a night" and will primarily concentrate on the legends of Sinbad and Aladdin.

New Session Of Parliament Will Be Heavy

OTTAWA (CP)—The first session of the 22nd Parliament is expected to prorogue late this week but work already is building up for the next meeting of Canada's law makers.

One of the first items of business at the new session, starting in November, will be a government bill expected to boost grants paid to municipalities in place of municipal taxes on federal property. The government proposed the legislation for the present session but dropped it to permit the House to complete business this week.

Finance Minister Abbott told the Commons that the new grants would not begin until the start of next year and that municipalities would not be prejudiced by the delay.

During the last few months there has been considerable speculation that the government is planning to propose amendments to the Judges Act to increase salaries of judges. The rumored legislation was not proposed and observers now state that it may be introduced early in the next session.

Parliament also may be asked to adopt measures to streamline rules to speed up work.

Amendments to the Criminal Code also will be considered.

Lowly Copper Still Lures Prospectors In World

WASHINGTON—Copper, one of man's first metals, still lures fortune-hunters despite the competition of new, more exciting materials of the atomic age.

Several Canadian prospectors are reported to have become wealthy overnight in the frenzied copper rush now under way in the lake country of northwest Ontario.

Other prospectors tell of finding big nuggets of pure copper. From similar sources, they say, the Indians once fashioned spears, arrowheads, and tools found near Killala Lake, 40 miles southeast of booming Geraldton.

Canada ranks fourth among the world's copper producers, notes the National Geographic Society. About half her annual output, nearly 234,000 metric tons in 1952, comes from the Sudbury basin, 200 miles northwest of the Ontario's capital, Toronto.

U.S. NOW LEADS

From 1850 to 1880 Chile was the chief copper supplier. Now this South American nation is second. The United States leads. Northern Rhodesia is third. Ninety-seven per cent of C.S. production comes from Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Montana, Nevada and Michigan, in that order.

Uncle Sam is also the greatest consumer of the red metal found in a thousand and one everyday articles.

Whether in peace or war, copper is vital. It resists corrosion. It conducts heat and electricity. With ease it is drawn into wire.

Enormous quantities go into telephone, telegraph, radio and television equipment. Electric power, light and appliance industries find it indispensable. It is in high demand for building operations and for making automobiles, ships, locomotives and airplanes.

Man has used copper since the Stone Age gave way to the Bronze (copper) Age some 6,000 years ago.

Relics of prehistoric Egyptian and Chinese civilizations, as well as of the Phoenician, Babylonian and Assyrian, show that early peoples favored copper in art and industry.

Around the 6th century A.D. it was discovered that solid copper could be pounded or stretched into wires by slow, tiring labor. Then, in the 14th century, German craftsmen learned to draw copper through dies—a forerunner of efficient present-day processes.

It was not until the 1870's, however, that the commodity came into prominence to meet the needs of the newly invented telephone and the incandescent electric light. From then on, copper was one of industry's most sought after metals.

The Second World War and the Korean conflict brought a pinch in supplies, but today the metal is again plentiful.

Sunday Schools Hold Convention

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — The annual Sunday school convention of Lakefield village, Smith and Harvey townships was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church with the president, Braden Mann, presiding. There were two sessions, afternoon and evening and the ladies of the church served a delicious supper to the delegates.

The devotional period was in charge of the Rev. H. C. Wolfraim of Lakefield United church and the theme story "Of such is the Kingdom" was given by Mrs. P. H. Darling.

Miss Irish Daly of the Ontario Religious Educational Council of Toronto was guest speaker and at the evening meeting spoke on "Builders for Eternity."

Three discussion groups were formed and were led as follows, "That they all may worship", by the Rev. T. H. Fleetham of Bridgenorth United church; "So you are a teacher" by Mrs. T. Payton and "Securing allegiance to Christ" by the Rev. G. E. Downing of Lakefield Baptist church.

New Zealand Campaigning

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Vigorous campaigning is already under way for the New Zealand election in November—a contest between the National party government of Prime Minister Sidney Holland and the Labor party led by Walter Nash.

The voters are in for a long and bitter campaign, even before the actual election date is announced. For 14 years New Zealand had a socialist regime, followed by a "free enterprise" government for the last five years. The basic test at the next general election will be between these two systems.

But a third party is making a major electoral effort, something that hasn't been seen in New Zealand for many years. This is the Social Credit movement, which hopes to oppose government and labor candidates in every seat.

Present standing in the House of Representatives: National party 50, Labor 30. The Upper Chamber, the Legislative Council, was abolished in 1951.

BIG SOCIAL MEASURES

The Labor party held power in New Zealand from 1935 to 1949. During that time lengthy steps toward state socialism were made. New Zealand already had many public services owned by the state, including the railways and postal and telegraph services.

Under Labor the main trading bank, the Bank of New Zealand, was nationalized. Also brought under full state control were broadcasting services, most coal mines, air services, much road transport, workers' compensation insurance and other activities. The state entered the gasoline sale business in competition with private firms, took control of most overseas marketing of primary production, and established an internal marketing division which controlled the sale of much local produce.

Labor also built up the most complete welfare state then existing in any country and undertook large scale state housing construction for rental to tenants, making the state by far the biggest landlord in the country.

LABOR OUSTED

The National party finally ousted Labor at the 1949 election, winning 46 seats to Labor's 34. Parliamentary terms run for three years, but the new government held a snap election in 1951 after defeating a determine strike challenge to authority made by union extremists with strong Communist backing. As a result of its defeat of this effort, the government was returned with an increased majority, winning 50 seats to 30 held by Labor.

During its five years in office the National party has reversed some of the socialist steps taken by Labor, but in general has found it very hard to denationalize activities taken over by its predecessor.

Workers' compensation insurance has been restored to free enterprise and the airways have been offered for private sale. Labor threats to renationalize if it regains office have been a sufficient deterrent, however, to scare off would-be purchasers.

Most of the previous government's marketing structure has been discarded. External marketing has been handed over to producers' organizations and much internal produce marketing has been freed from state control.

The social security structure however has been left intact and even expanded in some respects.

The major move away from socialism was in the abolition of large numbers of controls and restrictions on private enterprise, and the progressive reduction of such checks as import control and price control. The present government has also campaigned vigorously to transfer home building as far as possible to private hands. The existing state homes have been made available for purchase by the tenants.

The government finished the financial year with a healthy surplus. Tax reductions were expected in the budget to be presented before the election.

COST-OF-LIVING FACTOR

The government is likely to campaign on its record and on a vigorous works policy to expand New Zealand's resources and prosperity.

Labor, on the other hand, seems likely to devote most attention to the rising cost of living. The government was returned with a slogan of "putting value back into the pound," whereas in fact the value of money has continued to fall.

The only third party at recent elections has been the Communist party, but its candidates have invariably lost their deposits and have had no influence on the results even in marginal seats.

It is still too early to say whether the Social Credit movement will be any more successful. It aroused considerable interest here for a few years after the depression of the 30s and there were a few members supporting Social Credit principles although not elected as outright Social Credit candidates. Since then isolated candidates have stood without arousing much support.

Most observers think the movement has slim chance of success in spite of the play it is making of the example of the Alberta and British Columbia parties. However, it may at least have a bearing on the balance in closely-contested electorates.

Modest Heroine

PERTH, Australia (CP)—When the Royal Humane Society awarded its bronze medal to 16-year-old Vanda Luganavicius that was the first time her parents learned she had saved a swimmer from drowning months before. Vanda explained she kept quiet "because Mom got so upset when I rescued a woman from drowning two years ago."

Topsy-Turvy

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (CP)—Ships' masters and officers seeking higher pay presented an inquiry board here with a pay sheet showing the cook on one vessel earned £111 a month, while the master got £107. They said the first mate on one ship resigned to become an able seaman at higher pay.

PROUD—Chester Cole, of El Dorado Springs, Mo., is mighty happy about the sturdy corn crop he planted in April. Cole is off to an early start in the 1954 Missouri Farmers' Association corn yield contest.

5,000 Miners Moving Into Lorraine

STRASBOURG (Reuters)—More than 5,000 miners from the largely exhausted coalfields of southern France will this year begin moving into Lorraine, in northeast France, as part of a vast resettlement plan organized by the French government and the European Coal and Steel Community.

The plan provides for the free transport of the miners, their families and belongings; the guarantee of comfortable houses or apartments on arrival; the guarantee of a better-paid job than they held in the south, and a special resettlement grant ranging from 75,000 francs ($210) for single men to 200,000 francs ($560) for those with families.

113 Years Old, California Second In Population

WASHINGTON—Only 113 years ago the first organized immigrant party crossed the Sierra Nevada into California. This year an estimated 5,000,000 visitors will stream into the Golden State — and many will stay for good.

California, already more populous than any State except New York, ranks today as the fastest growing of all 48, the National Geographic Society reports.

The Society now is distributing to its 2,150,000 member-families a new large-scale descriptive map of California. With it goes the first issue of the National Geographic Magazine ever devoted entirely to a single State. Both magazine and map give ample reason for California to call itself the State of superlatives.

"HIGHEST, LOWEST, TALLEST, OLDEST"

Natural landmarks shown on the map include the highest point in the United States, 14,495-foot Mount Whitney, and the lowest sink, 282 feet below sea level in Death Valley. Yosemite National Park frames the country's highest free-leaping waterfall, the 1,430-foot first drop of Yosemite Falls. The world's oldest living tree on earth, 364-foot Founders Tree, stands near Dyerville in the coast redwood belt. Lassen Peak remains the only United States volcano not yet extinct.

California's resources, climate, and human energy have added other "biggests and bests." Its farmers reap more cash incomes than any in the nation. Though they cultivate only a little more than two per cent of the country's cropland, they supply more than a third of all U.S.-grown fruits, nearly a fourth of all vegetables, nearly half its tree nuts.

Fabulous as the State's farm cornucopia is, its industrial output is worth three times as much. Leading aircraft producer and third-ranking shipbuilding State, California on the one hand ranks first in commercial fishing and on the other excels in its variety of mineral wealth.

BURSTING CITIES, SCENIC SPLENDORS

The new National Geographic map depicts in insets the burgeoning cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, and San Diego, as well as the overall San Francisco Bay region and the spectacular Yosemite Valley.

Scenic highlights are noted in profusion, from the Lava Beds National Monument in the north to the Salton Sea in the Colorado Desert, hottest part of the United States. Highways are clearly marked, including warnings in red letters of High Sierra passes that may be snowblocked part of the year.

More than a quarter of California's entire area lies within 19 national forests, four national parks, eight national monuments, and 127 State parks. With snow-capped mountain resort areas and sea-swept coast, modern metropolises and gold-rush ghost towns, California today is a true vacationer's paradise. For Californians, native or adopted, it is a land of boundless promise.

Gruesome Task

GLASGOW, Scotland (CP)—City magistrates have asked to be excused from attendance at executions. At present two junior magistrates are required to be present at all hangings.

On The Alert

OSLO (CP) — More than 11,000 tok part in a nine-day refresher exercise in this Norwegian capital. The concluding parade included thousands of wardens with several hundred motor vehicles.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CVII. No. 145 — MONDAY, JUNE 21, 1954

Main Street Topics

34 NEW MEMBERS

At the first communion service to be held in the new St. Giles' Presbyterian church on Sunday, 34 persons were admitted into the membership of the church.

RESORT OPERATOR

Popular Perry Alexander, proprietor of Oak Orchard at Gannon's Narrows, is recuperating after a short illness in a city hospital. Talking over a bedside phone today he assured that he is "just resting" but would rather rest at his lodge; he expects to be home within the week, he said.

TRUCKMEN MEET TONIGHT

Three hundred district and city truck drivers are expected to meet to hear a safety lecture at PCVS auditorium tonight at 7.30. Norman Garbutt of Belleville will be guest speaker and the meeting will be chaired by president of Peterborough Truck Drivers Association Tom Lister. A safety film is also to be shown.

JUNIOR RANGERS CAMP

Two district junior ranger camps at Apsley and Mississauga lake will open with about 30 boys each on June 28. The boys will brush out communication lines and enlarge public parking sites and other bushland work for the summer months. The camps are being sponsored by the department of lands and forests.

MADE ACTING PRINCIPAL

The Civic hospital board of governors has approved the appointment of Miss M. Nesbitt as acting principal of the school of nursing at the hospital. Miss Nesbitt is filling the position which is being left vacant by Miss Evelyn M. Robson, who is resigning at the end of June. Miss C. M. Wilson will fill the position of acting director of nursing service, which is also vacant at Miss Robson's resignation.

OLD PICTURES DISPLAYED

A series of pictures of Peterborough sporting clubs from 1903 to the present are on display in the showcase of the Centre Theatre. Football, lacrosse, baseball and hockey groups predominate. There are also several pictures of Charlie Banks first auto salesroom and his earliest bicycle shop. The first gas pump for cars in Peterborough (does any one know its exact location?) is also recorded on an 1911 curbside.

OUTDOORS ATTRACTED

City picnickers streamed out of the sultry city on Sunday to fill every available picnic table along the Trent waterways and, where beaches were available, to swim. Table space was at premium, lockkeepers along the canal system report. Life was busy at Kawartha lakes cottages, too. Storekeepers in the Stony lake area report that more than half the places were opened over the weekend. They estimate next weekend, July 1st holiday, will be bigger and busier than ever.

Citizens Are Invited To Chicken Barbecue

An invitation has come to the Examiner, perhaps representatively, from the Monadnock Region Association of Peterborough, N.H., to attend their annual meeting Tuesday, June 29 at the Peterborough Golf Club.

The agricultural committee is providing barbecue chicken dinner in the town's historical society building.

There is a contact between the Ontario and New Hampshire Peterborough which Prof. Carleton Wheeler tried to set up in bringing a municipal party to the official opening of Peterborough's city hall. The purpose of the Monadnock Association is to promote the common interests of that section of the state.

Hospital Bd. Rejects New Requests

Renews Offer to Adopt Recommendation Of Fringe Benefits

Civic Hospital board of governors has rejected the compromise demands of hospital workers for wage increases of seven cents an hour and a modified Rand formula, but has renewed its offer to accept the conciliation board's recommendations in regard to union security and a five cents an hour wage differential for workers on off shift hours.

The hospital board has also offered to set up a special committee of its own members to study transportation problems of the workers.

At a meeting Thursday night, some 75 members of Local 69 of the National Union of Public Service Employees voted to reject the majority report of the conciliation board. A minority report, signed by Henry Rhodes, recommended the modified Rand formula and a seven and a half cents an hour increase.

GIVEN POWER

The executive of the union had already been given power to act, but at Thursday night's meeting it was decided to delay any action until talks with the board of governors the following morning, when the union reduced an earlier demand for an 18 cents an hour increase to seven cents.

They wanted the increase incorporated into a two-year contract that would give them another five cents an hour next January. A one-year contract is now in force.

The board of governors held a special meeting Friday night to consider the workers' latest offer. Their decision was made known today in a letter from board chairman Max Swanston to George Linsdell, president of Local 19.

In effect, the board's decision was a re-affirmation of its previous offer to accept in principle the majority report of the government - appointed conciliation board, recommending no wage increase; a form of union security falling short of the modified Rand formula; an off-shift differential of five cents an hour and special consideration for the difficult transportation problem to and from the hospital.

CUT STAFF ONLY WAY

Mr. Swanston's letter stated that the board felt the only way it could meet the union's wage demands would be to curtail its services to patients. This would entail a reduction of staff which would most seriously affect those members of the staff represented by the union.

The hospital board's decision was contained in the following resolutions:

1. that the board declines to meet the demands of the union for a seven cent an hour wage increase retroactive to March 1, with a further increase of five cents an hour effective next January 1.
2. that the board declines to meet the demands of the union for introduction of the principle of the modified Rand formula, but is willing to accept the recommendation of the report of the conciliation board.
3. that the board agrees to implement in a new contract the conciliation board's recommendation that five cents an hour differential be paid to employees working off-shift hours.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

4. that the board will appoint a special committee from its membership to study the transportation problem.

In a statement of the board's position, Mr. Swanston said the board wished to make clear that DRAGGING OPERATIONS began early today for Herbert Wilson, 34, of Toronto, who was believed drowned off Viamede hotel on Stony lake Sunday afternoon. His boat was found going in circles by Jim Green (bottom left) and almost immediately a search of the district was made to see if anyone was missing. Walter Clarke of Toronto (bottom right) reported his nephew missing and identified the boat. Dragging operations were started by OPP Constable Roy Feeley but were stopped at nightfall, resuming early today. Brothers-in-law, David Smith, David Hillier, and Norman Dundas join cottagers and police at dockside (middle photo) to start dragging. Harry Bryan and his son, Harry Jr., both of Toronto, along with Mr. Douglas (top photo) drag in rough waters off Viamede hotel.

Thieves Wheel Safe With $500 Out Of Plant

Thieves wheeled Montgomery Bros. safe out of their cold storage plant on Robinson St., using one of the plants own push carts, down the railway tracks, loaded it on a black panel truck and drove away shortly after midnight Saturday.

Although all records of sales went with the safe, Frank Montgomery estimated today that there was about $500 in cash in the safe as well as a cheque for $1,700, ledgers, accounts and other valuable papers.

The robbery was first discovered Sunday morning when Frank Montgomery visited the plant about 10 a.m. He found an office window on the north side had been forced.

The 300-pound safe had been loaded on to a rubber-tired push cart used in the plant, and wheeled to the shipping door on the east side next to the railway tracks. From there it was about 75 yards to the waiting truck.

A neighbor reported that at 12.15 a.m. Sunday as he was going out for some cigarettes, he saw a black panel truck parked beside a box car about 75 yards north of the cold storage plant.

The push car was found a few feet from the spot by police. They also found tire marks that led north to Hunter St. and then west. Another neighbor had also seen a black panel truck three times driving around the district between 10:30 p.m. and 11:45 p.m.

An attempt was made about four years ago to rob Montgomery Bros. That time the would-be thieves knocked the combination dial off the door and then didn't know what to do with it.

Detective Sergeant John Stevenson and Detective Dennis Traynor are investigating.

Meet At Intersection Cars Hit; $650 Damage

Two cars reached a rural intersection at the same time and the result was a $650 collision on the fourth line of Otonabee township at 8:15 p.m. Sunday.

Travelling south along the fourth line, a car driven by Dalton Bannon, 23, of Keene, was in collision with the vehicle of another Keene citizen, Timothy Walsh, 44. Walsh was travelling east on the baseline road.

The cars reached the intersection together, the front of the Walsh car hitting the rear of the other vehicle. Walsh's damages were estimated at $350, Bannon's at $300.

Mr. Bannon's wife suffered minor injuries, while their infant child was bumped on the head. Walsh, uninjured, was travelling alone.

Const. John Cawood of the Peterborough OPP detachment investigated.

Big Shipments

VICTORIA (CP) — Provincial Trade Minister Ralph Chetwynd reports exports through British Columbia customs ports last year totalled $675,307,682. Among the shipments, exports to Japan jumped to $95,598,000 compared with $74,355 in 1952.

Fishing On Trent Bridge Man Hit By Passing Car

Professor John Halbus, of Hastings, was badly injured about 11 p.m. Friday, when he was struck by a hit-and-run driver while fishing on the Trent canal bridge on Highway 45.

Pro. Halbus was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital that night suffering a leg injury, loss of blood and severe shock. Officials said today his condition is improving.

On Friday evening, Prof. Halbus' old gardener, Samuel Bond, a keen fisherman, had gone out to the steel bridge on the Trent river, to do some night fishing. Later Prof. Halbus, who has been living in Hastings, since he retired from the Ontario College of Education last May, went up to see how the gardener was getting along.

Bond said he was cold and was going home for a coat, and the professor said that he would hold his fishing rod for him while he was gone.

Apparently Mr. Halbus was very close to the rail on the highway part of the bridge and had his feet tucked around the rail. The bridge has a sidewalk on the left side and the rest is the highway.

Next thing, Mr. Halbus remembered, was that he found himself doubled over the rail, heard a woman screaming and saw a crowd around him. Other people fishing, had come to his assistance. It is believed someone got the license number of the car which struck him.

Boy scouts from Akron, Ohio, camping in that district flagged a car down, driven by Mrs. Aida Hardgrove, of Rittman, Ohio, who was visiting relatives in Hastings.

After Mr. Halbus was moved into her car, Mrs. Rittman drove him to his home as he insisted on seeing his wife, then took him to Dr. William Campbell, who administered first aid to his mangled leg.

Jim Lindsay and Mrs. Lindsay of Norwood were called by Mrs. Halbus to drive her husband to the Peterborough hospital, where Dr. R. K. Magee operated on his leg.

A Hastings resident said, "It's a wonder more people don't get hurt on the bridge, as people fishing forget they're standing on the edge of highway and often move back unconsciously to swing their fishing tackle."

Oshawa Airmen Visit Airport

Peterborough Pilots' Association were hosts Sunday to a flight of seven aircraft from the Oshawa Flying Club.

The visitors arrived over the city about 9 a.m., flying in formation, and made individual landings at the Skyboro airport. They were led by George Slocum, manager of OFC. After breakfast at the Fireside restaurant, the Oshawa airmen were taken on a motor trip to the Liftlock and Little lake, to Chemong lake and other places of interest in the district. All the planes were airborne by noon.

GROUP WELCOMED

The incoming group were welcomed by Doug Robertson, treasurer, George Hutchison, secretary, and other members of the local pilots' executive. The types of planes were: Piper Cubs, Aeroncas, and Cessna 170. Oshawa has about 300 members and ten or eleven planes. There are 65 to 70 members in the Peterborough Pilots, who are equipped with four planes.

Mr. Slocum and other Oshawa members expressed their appreciation of the project and their reception. A similar flight is expected from Toronto within a few weeks.

Skyboro airport was in good condition, and is being used nearly every day by planes from out of town.

Charges Horses On Payroll

OTTAWA (CP)—The Currie report galloped into the Commons again today.

"The horses were on the payroll," Opposition Leader Drew said, thumping his desk for emphasis.

Heatedly, Defence Minister Claxton said the Opposition continued to repeat this though the prime minister had dealt effectively with it during the last session of Parliament.

"That statement is directly contrary to the Currie report," Mr. Drew said. The prime minister had skirted the question.

"The horses were on the payroll," the Progressive Conservative leader repeated. "And there were the hobby horses, the stolen siding, the fraudulent invoices and the general's fishpond."

Mr. Drew was referring to the 1952 report of George S. Currie, Montreal accountant, which disclosed irregularities in the army of heated controversy in the defence expenditures committee and the Commons at the last session.

Mr. Drew said that if there were no horses on the payroll at Camp Petawawa, then Mr. Claxton should say he doesn't believe Mr. Currie.

Sky Is Notably Lively

Sun Reaches Boundary In Northern Zone Christmas Day Is Six Months Away

The seasonal show in the sky goes on these nights indifferently to response from this minor planet and its people.

Venus is moving down the northwest this evening just before Mars appears over the horizon in the southeast. Another reddish spot in the south is Antares in Scorpio with just as deep a glow as the companion planet of midnight now closely approaching the earth.

This is the day of the summer solstice when the sun reaches its boundary in the northern zone, seeming to rest a few days over Cancer before starting back again over its familiar beat down to Capricorn, temporarily noting its passage over the equator at the autumn equinox, September 21; incidentally six months to Christmas.

Arcturus is brilliant overhead at midnight and slightly to the east is the constellation of the Northern Cross. The new moon next week is the second of the month. The sky is notably lively this month.

Drag Stony Lake For Body Of Man Believed Drowned While Out Fishing Alone

Boat Found Circling Near Viamede Hotel, Think Toronto Man Thrown Out, Hit As Outboard Passed, Strong Swimmer

Police were dragging Stony lake today for the body of Herbert Wilson, 34, believed drowned Sunday afternoon within sight of the Viamede hotel.

Mr. Wilson, of Condor Ave., Toronto, came to the lake Saturday evening to spend the weekend fishing with his uncle, Walter Clarke of 629 Broadview Ave., Toronto. His wife, Mrs. Marie Wilson, not wanting to come, remained behind in Toronto.

Mr. Clarke told police that Sunday they returned to their cottage, half a mile from the hotel, shortly after one o'clock to have a sleep before again fishing. Clark said he awoke at 2:30 and found his nephew gone.

FOUND MOTOR RUNNING

James Green, dock attendant at the Viamede, found Wilson's boat, its motor still running, circling aimlessly about half-mile off shore. Wilson had been seen fishing from the dock earlier in the afternoon, and was later observed heading along the shore with his motor running.

Wilson's boat, an expensive model, was equipped with an outboard noramlly connected with the steering wheel. The steering, however, had been disconnected and Wilson had been operating it from the rear.

Since Wilson was described by his uncle as an "exceptionally strong swimmer," police speculated he must have been thrown from the boat while it was circling, and struck either by the boat or the motor. With the motor disconnected from the steering mechanism, he would most likely have been thrown from the boat if he cranked it while it was in gear.

WHY ON GUNWALE

Only that morning, said Mr. Clarke, he had asked his nephew why he was sitting on the right gunwale to operate the motor, instead of on a seat. Mr. Wilson replied that the motor was easier to operate that way.

A blow on the head would have been damaging to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Clarke felt, because he was wounded overseas during the war and carried a metal plate in his head. He had spent nine days unconscious as a result of a war wound and only recently had been operated on for a brain tumor.

ASSIST IN SEARCH

Three brothers-in-law of Mr. Wilson — David Smith, David Hillier and Norman Dundas, all of Toronto — arrived at Viamede late Sunday to assist in dragging operations. Three boats were out today under Constables Roy Feeley and George Gray of the provincial police, assisted by James Green.

Mrs. Wilson also came to Viamede Sunday. Mrs. Norman Dundas, Wilson's sister, said she was under the care of Dr. H. G. Gastle of Lakefield this morning. Mrs. Wilson came to the lake apparently under the impression that Wilson's boat was also missing, and that he might be found, alive, on one of the islands in the lake.

In addition to his wife, and a son, Cameron, 12, Mr. Wilson is survived by his father, V. J. Wilson of Milton.

Samples Show Pollution Bad In Little Lake

Evidences of gross pollution in certain parts of Little Lake has been reported by the Peterborough department of health.

Thirty-eight sample tests were taken Monday night south of the railway bridge, by Dr. F. Harden, public health veterinarian, and Ken Spencer, sanitary inspector.

The specimens were sent to the provincial lab in city hall for bacteriological analysis. In 17 of these the results were definitely bad, that is the bacteria count in the water was way above standard. Six specimens were borderline cases and 15 were acceptable.

According to these tests, Dr. J. P. Wells, medical officer of health, said, pollution is particularly bad along Crescent St., the southwest part of the lake.

The situation has not improved any from last year and these recent tests show that none of the lake is safe or fit for swimming, Dr. Wells said.

More water samples will be taken immediately north of the railway bridge, as far as Nassau and also along points in the Trent canal, he announced. Jackson Park creek will be tested later.

Chief Justice Rinfret Favors Retaining Capital Punishment

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret favors the retention of capital punishment in the criminal law.

"If we are to abolish capital punishment, let the assassin be the first to begin," said the soft spoken blue-eyed jurist in an interview on the eve of his retirement from Canada's highest bar of justice, the Supreme Court of Canada.

The chief justice puts aside his court robes of ermine and velvet June 21 on reaching the retirement age of 75 years.

QUOTES FRENCH WRITER

"There was a French writer," the chief justice added, "who said about 100 years ago that if capital punishment is to be abolished, let the man who does the killing be the first to start. I agree.

"A man who kills another in cold blood must be prepared to pay with his own life. It is a lesson for those who might be tempted to do the same later."

The question whether capital punishment should be abolished was aired recently before a parliamentary committee. Varying views were placed before it. The committee came to no firm conclusions, and decided that discussion should be continued at the next session.

"In criminal cases," said Chief Justice Rinfret, "I have found that juries are inclined to be sympathetic with the defendant—always ready to give him the benefit of the doubt.

"In our system of law, there is ample protection for the man charged with murder. He can appeal right up to the Supreme Court and from there to the cabinet and the governor-general. His case is carefully reviewed by the highest authorities. Surely there can be no question of injustice."

LONG CAREER

Canada's chief justice, native of Montreal, touched on the death sentence issue as he recalled a half-century in the field of jurisprudence — 20 years before the Montreal bar and 30 years with the Supreme Court, the last 20 as chief justice.

Some of the great cases of his time flashed before his mind. He referred to the famous margarine battle which ended with the butter substitute appearing in stores in most provinces for the first time in many years.

There was the highway traffic control problem in which the court ruled that the federal government and not the provinces had control of interprovincial and international traffic. And there was the court's big wartime decision that the federal government had the right to deport Japanese.

But in the eyes of the chief justice the most important decision of all was that first handed down in 1940 and confirmed by the judicial committee of the Privy Council in London in 1947, that the Supreme Court of Canada could be the last court of appeal in Canada. Appeals to the Privy Council were abolished in 1949.

"I was always in favor of abolishing the right to appeal to London," said the chief justice. "It has been said that the judges in London are so far away from Canada that they sometimes lacked the atmosphere to decide questions of Canadian litigation. And of course, abolition furthered the autonomy of Canada."

APPOINTED IN 1924

The Supreme Court has grown to a membership of nine justices from six since the days when lawyer Rinfret was appointed in 1924. He was 45, the youngest bencher, he recalled, and in one case at least he was glad of his junior age.

That was in 1928 when the court was asked to decide whether a woman was a "person." The question arose over parliamentary doubt whether the constitution would allow women to sit in the Senate. Since there were six benchers, this could have led to a 3-3 decision and so the youngest bencher, Mr. Justice Rinfret, withdrew.

The court ruled 4-1 against appointment of women, but this was reversed by the Privy Council.

"It is just as well that I did not sit on that case," said the chief justice with a chuckle. "I would just as soon not have that stain on my name."

That Privy Council reversal led to the appointment of Canada's first woman senator, Cairine Wilson, a Liberal, in 1930.

Chief Justice Rinfret has great respect for Canada's law system and believes justice in the Commonwealth is the world's best.

SOME CRITICISM

But he has a few criticisms of current developments. In his earlier days, none but the country's best lawyers argued before the Supreme Court.

"Now the best lawyers do their business by consulting in offices and send their juniors to court."

And while he has respect for the court's formal attire, the black silk robes the justices normally wear and the robes of red velvet and white ermine donned on special occasions, he has no respect for the black, felt hat that goes with the red gown.

"It is hideous. I should have passed a resolution having it abolished."

The chief justice leaves the familiar court surroundings with a great deal of sorrow and regret. He goes with warm feelings, he said, of the "friendship, loyalty and respect" he has received from his colleagues.

Salary of a chief justice is $25,000 a year. Chief Justice Rinfret will retire with an annual pension of three-quarters of that amount.

A great traveller, he has visited Europe 32 times. And he plans to resume his travelling. He usually sits each year on the judicial committee of the Privy Council. He plans to make another trip to London next fall to sit again.

To Make U.S. Television Debut

NEW YORK (AP) — The late Leslie Howard's son Ronald is to make his American television debut next fall in the role of Sherlock Holmes.

The younger Howard, now 33, already is before the cameras in the new film series now being produced in England and France by Sheldon Reynolds.

Ronald Howard is a veteran of the London stage. He bears a close resemblance to Leslie in physical appearance, mannerisms and precise diction.

H. Marion Crawford, BBC radio and T star, has been cast in the role of Dr. Watson, Holmes' inseparable companion in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective fiction.

Reynolds says he hopes to steer clear of some of the stereotyped concepts of Sherlock Holmes that have developed through the years.

"For one thing we'll never have Holmes saying 'it's elementary, my dear Watson'—and Doyle never wrote it, either," explains the 30-year-old producer-writer-director.

Reynolds says the new Sherlock Holmes half-hour weekly shows will be carried by the BBC as well as by U.S. and Canadian stations.

African Tribe's New School Open To White And Indians

By FRED ZUSY

MOSHI, Tanganyika (AP)—The Chagga tribe of African blacks are building a school which will be open to whites—and to Indians, too.

SPEARED — Fred Tracy, of Lakewood, N.Y., bagged this 44-pound, 9 ounce carp with bow and arrow. Archers hunt for the scavenger in Upstate New York's Lake Chautauqua.

The Chaggas live on the southern slopes of 19,545-foot Mount Kilimanjaro, highest in Africa. They've grown rich in the last few years because their coffee shops have brought high prices.

The Chaggas number all told about 365,000. In 1932 they organized a co-operative society called the "Kilimanjaro Native Co-operative Union, Ltd." They were helped in doing so by Roman Catholic missionaries and district government officers.

The union has about 35,000 members. Last year the Chagga's 6,000 tons of high grade "arabica" coffee brought them more than $10,000,000. The coffee is marketed co-operatively.

COMMUNITY CENTRE

Three years ago the Kilimanjaro co-op group built a community centre—with its own offices, a public library, small hotel, shops and roof-top restaurant.

The four-storey building dominates this town of about 10,000 with its clusters of tin and thatch-roofed huts and low buildings. The town is at the foot of Kilimanjaro and one looks up at an angle to see the snow-capped dome.

The centre, built at a cost of $280,000—paid from co-operative profits—was itself a unique venture. It is used by all races.

Coffee auctions are held in the co-op's board room with all races participating. There are about 200 whites and several thousand Indians living in the area. Indians have dwelt in this part of Africa for 500 years.

Last March the co-op approved plans to build a new commercial school as an addition to the centre. It will cost $140,000 and will also be paid for from co-op profits.

Missionary schools have, in the same fashion, been open to all regardless of color of skin, but the moshi school is said to be the first built and paid for by blacks. The school will teach English, shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, office routine, secretarial practice and use of mechanized office equipment. Teachers will be brought from England. The school will handle 100 students.

The Chaggas are one of the most advanced of African tribes. They have in the past sent, through the co-op, a small number of their young men to England for education. This is expected to continue for the best qualified.

The British government of Tanganyika—a United Nations trust territory—is assisting the Chagga in their school venture.

Lack of Opposition Causes Turks Concern

By GERALD LONG

ANKARA (Reuters)—The virtual elimination of parliamentary opposition to the Democrat party government of Prime Minister Adnan Menderes in the recent general election is causing concern among political observers here.

The National Assembly is composed of 503 Democrats, 31 members of the Republican People's Party, five members of the right-wing Republican national party and two independents. The small Peasant party did not obtain representation.

One Turkish political commentator observed after the election: "In eight years of democracy, we have virtually voted ourselves back to the single-party system."

This result is due largely to the nature of the Turkish electoral system. Turkey has a population of 21,000,000. There are 10,259,542 registered voters, but only 64 constituencies, each corresponding to a vilayet (or department), the Turkish administrative division.

Voting is largely according to party lists in each department. This means that a difference of relatively few votes can decide the fate of a large number of seats. The largest constituency, Istanbul, returns 29 deputies, Ankara 21, and Izmir 20.

FAVORS LEADERS

The great advantage this system gave to the winning party was seen in 1950, the first election held since the Republican government introduced the electoral law which has served them so badly in two elections.

Then, the Democrats polled about 4,500,000 votes and won 410 seats, while the Republicans, with some 3,300,000 votes, won only 69 seats.

The number of deputies since has been raised from 487 to 541, under the electoral law which provides for one deputy for every 40,000 people. This increase represents a rise in the census figures since 1950.

Unofficial estimates of the popular vote in the May 2 election put the Republicans vote at about 37 per cent of the 8,000,000 votes cast. The Republicans themselves claim 40 per cent, or 3,200,000 against 4,400,00 for the Democrats. If Turkey had a proportional representation system, this would have given the Republicans about 200 seats.

May Soon Unlock More Medical Secrets

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (AP)—How much digitalis is a correct dose for a heart patient? Why does morphine kill pain. Can the may apple be used in tumor treatment?

The answer to these medical puzzlers may be growing in the University of Chicago's "atomic garden" project where plants breathe radio-active carbon dioxide gas. When the drug-producing plants are processed, scientists are able to trace their action by following radiation with sensitive geiger counters. Even the breath and secretions of mice injected with the "hot" drugs are captured and studied.

Such plants as the opium poppy, may apple and foxglove are grown inside glass chambers into which radio-active carbon 14 and plant foods are fed through rubber tubes.

The system, called biosynthesis of drugs, was devised by Dr. E. M. K. Geiling, professor and chairman of the university's department of pharmacology. The research project has been under way five years but scientists say results are inconclusive because studies are still preliminary.

Radio-active carbon 14, obtained from the atomic plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., is mixed with carbon dioxide gas. The plants are fed daily doses of the mixture and the amount is kept at a level where it will not damage plant tissues but will allow the plants to absorb radio-activity in normal growing processes.

The results are evident at harvesting. The plants produce radio-activity that stays with them through processing and is traceable.

For example, tracings of the foxglove which is used to make digitalis, an important heart drug, have enabled pharmacologists to calculate correct dosages with more accuracy.

It was found that digitalis is mostly excreted through the kidneys and can be detected from 40 to 70 days after a dose is administered.

Why and how morphine stops pain now is being studied through opium poppies made radio-active. No official results have been listed.

May apples are growing in the atomic garden to produce radio-active podophyllo-toxin, creating a traceable carcinolytic agent used in experimental treatment of tumors in animals and human beings.

Arthritis Victims Helped In Many Ways By Society

HAVELOCK (ENS) — "The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, was the subject Miss Gertrude Moloney, RN, chose for her health talk to the Belmont Women's Institute.

An arthritis society was necessary, Miss Moloney said, because 600,000 Canadians suffer from rheumatic diseases, 100,000 being partially or totally disabled and 15,000 confined to bed or wheel chairs. Eighty per cent of the victims of the most serious form, rheumatoid arthritis, develop their disease between the ages of 20 and 50, usually under 40.

Shortage of hospital beds and the need of prolonged care made it difficult, she said, to arrange hospital treatment for most patients with the disease. It affects all walks of life, all ages and both sexes. None are immune.

HELP GIVEN

Miss Moloney enumerated the ways in which the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society can help:

(1) By research, in an attempt to ascertain the causes of the disease and the effects of new treatments, including ACTH, cortisone, and compound Tr.

(2) By providing selected doctors with post-graduate fellowships for special training in diagnosis of rheumatic diseases.

(3) By preventing further crippling and helping to relieve suffering until a cure is found.

These treatments are given in the homes of those patients too ill to go to hospital treatment centres. The patient is treated in the home through the agency of mobile units.

Any patient with arthritis is eligible, Miss Moloney said, who is referred to the society by a doctor. Adequate treatment is not available to the patient otherwise. Treatments are free to all those who cannot afford to make a donation toward expenses. Those who can afford to do so pay up to a maximum of $3 a treatment.

SOURCE OF INCOME

The society is financed by government grants, public donations, fees for treatments, and an annual campaign for funds. The Ontario Medical Association and doctors in practice also help.

During the past year, 1,700 sufferers have received treatment in society-sponsored clinics. These clinics are seeing approximately 58 new patients a month.

Local branch offices are located in Ontario at Toronto, Kingston, Oshawa, St. Catharines, London and Ottawa. Miss Moloney expressed the hope that branches would soon be established in Sudbury, Belleville and Peterborough.

President, Mrs. W. Harris, presided. There were 19 members and two visitors present. It was decided to hold a strawberry festival program July 1, at the township hall.

"Home care of the sick," was the short course selected from the health education program.

Mrs. G. Wright was program convener. Readings were given by Mrs. W. Smith and Mrs. E. Goldsmith. A solo was sung by Lynn Anderson with her grandmother, Mrs. W. Anders as accompanist. Mrs. Rae Outwater was winner of a contest.

A detailed report of the district annual meeting at Warsaw was given by Mrs. G. Hartin.

Lunch hostesses were Mrs. W. Harris, Mrs. A. Hubble and Mrs. H. Salter.

Cochrane, Peterborough, and some of her pupils and a solo by Adelle Cochrane. A solo by Mr. Spensely, Bethany, with guitar accompaniment; a duet by Mrs. Spiers and Mrs. Winslow. Many Scientists Watch Eclipse At Kapuskasing

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—From the astronomer's point of view this pretty northern mill town will be the most important place on the continent for a few seconds June 30.

Scientists announced last spring that nature had chosen the town as the best place from which to view one of her most rare and beautiful phenomena—an eclipse of the sun.

Eighteen experts from observatories in Toronto, Ottawa and Victoria and many others from United States universities have started to arrive here to set up the sensitive apparatus they will use to probe the mysteries of solar energy.

The eclipse will last for 89 seconds while the moon passes between the sun and the earth.

This town of 5,000 also expects thousands of tourists. The Chamber of Commerce has persuaded many householders to take in guests for the night.

MINUTE AND A HALF

The eclipse will start at 6:17 a.m. EDT. At 7:10 the sun will be blotted from sight for about a minute and a half. At 8:10 the moon will have completed its passage across the sun's face.

John F. Heard, Dr. J. B. Oake and Jerry Longworth of Dunlap observatory, Toronto, have set up instruments designed by Longworth in the school yard at Mattice, 40 miles west of here. The Dominion observatory team under Dr. J. L. Locke will be located near Smoky Falls, 50 miles north.

Charles H. Tindall, professor of engineering research at Pennsylvania State College, will observe the eclipse from a lands department fire tower.

SCIENTISTS TO WATCH

Other observers will be from Ohio State University, Ottawa University and Palomar observatory.

A half dozen aircraft will carry representatives of the Dunlap observatory, the National Geographic Society, the National Film Board and the CBC.

Scores of photographers will record the event for newspapers and magazines throughout the world.

Hotel reservations booked up weeks ago show tourists from as far as Alabama, California and Cuba.

Canadian, U.K. Business Men Criticize Trade Restrictions

By FORBES RHUDE

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian and British business men hit at practices which they feel are damming the flow of world trade, in a series of resolutions adopted over the week-end.

The business men, members of the Canada-United Kingdom trade committee, jointly maintained by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, met in private session at the Seigniory Club, Que.

They criticized what they considered evasions of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, which most Western trading countries have signed; declared against price-wars in raw materials and foodstuffs; and asked that quantitative restrictions be abandoned as quickly as possible.

CHAIRMAN PRESIDES

C. Gordon Cockshutt, of Brantford, Ont., chairman of the Canadian section of the committee, presided; and British representatives included Sir Henry Hinchcliffe, chairman of the United Kingdom section.

Canadian ire was directed particularly at quantitative restrictions—a widely-used post-war practice under which countries set limits on the amount of an item or items which they will allow in. Under such restrictions, Canadian manufacturers, particularly, complain that even if they quote competitive prices, they still are cut down in overseas markets by the limit set on the total which may be imported.

British representatives, while going along with the Canadian stand against quantitative restrictions, did so, it is understood, with somewhat less enthusiasm; inasmuch as Britain, though progressively lowering her barriers, still maintains restrictions which Canadians would like to see removed.

In one resolution, the committee supported "the principle" of Imperial preference.

ADVANTAGES REDUCED

In another resolution, it said that for Canada and the United Kingdom, "the practical advantages of the Imperial preference system have been much reduced by import restrictions in the sterling area."

This resolution, on economic development, recognized that Commonwealth and Empire countries "naturally wish" to improve the balance of their economies and wish to build up secondary industries.

However, there was "grave danger" in the use of quantitative restrictions for this purpose, and the committee urged that such restrictions be removed "as soon as the pressing need on balance-of-payments grounds has passed."

A resolution on convertibility of currencies supported the "practical course" being followed by the United Kingdom in removing restraints and controls.

A resolution on agriculture reiterated the committee's belief "in the interdependence of agriculture and industry in the economic interests of Canada and the United Kingdom," and stated its belief that "it is desirable to stabilize the prices of basic raw materials and foodstuffs."

Mention of foodstuffs in this regard is understood to have had particular reference to wheat.

The resolution noted "with satisfaction steps taken to free restrictions which caused the decline in movement of agricultural products between the two countries" and recommended that all means be explored to restore traditional trade whilst seeking to ensure that the interests of primary producers are safeguarded "by the integration of production and marketing policies in both countries." Apples is understood to have been one of the items discussed.

The committee said personal contact and exchange of informed opinion were the most effective means means towards general understanding between peoples of Canada and the United Kingdom.

Pressure On Pocketbook Easing In United States

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—In the United States pressure on the pocketbook is easing a little here and there as summer comes. There's hope today that before the hot weather is over, prices may be still lower.

Competition among salesmen, and a growing abundance of raw materials and manufactured goods, are the underlying causes.

Wholesale food prices have dropped. Talk of lower prices for still more foodstuffs is being heard.

Bargains appear more frequently at the clothing counters. Gasoline cuts appear in scattered areas—despite the insistence of oil industry spokesmen that general price cuts are unlikely. Prices of a number of building materials are a little lower than a year ago.

Counter to all this good news for the consumer, however, is a good deal of talk of higher prices for the basic commodity, steel. Much of the talk is based on the bargaining just now between management and labor over new pay contracts.

The carpet makers are beginning to raise their prices. They cite an increase in the cost of carpet wool.

But thrifty shoppers have been doing pretty well for some time now in the stores in many lines—food, apparel, household appliances.

Some of the lower prices in the shops aren't reflected in the factory price lists. Merchants have shaved retail prices for promotion purposes, or granted discounts or generous trade-in allowances.

3½ PER CENT CUT

Some mechants say they are looking forward to seeing these unofficial lower prices openly listed by some factories this fall.

Mail order houses, whose sales have been trailing last year by a greater margin than retailers in general, are starting to lower their pices in the catalogues.

Prices in the new fall book of Sears, Roebuck, for example, average out 3½ per cent below its last fall catalogue. Sears says its prices this fall will be the lowest, on average, since 1950.

First French Text Book On Canadian Criminal Law

MONTREAL (CP)—Judge Irenee Lagarde of sessions court has achieved a lifetime ambition—to write the first French-language text book on Canadian criminal law.

The prominent Montreal jurist has completed a 700-page volume on criminal law, procedure and jurisprudence, and evidence. He spent many years preparing it, then took two years to write the finished work.

The only one of its kind in Canada, the book will serve to guide lawyers and French-language university students.

Judge Lagarde's ambition stemmed from his college days. He found that while legal phraseology was available, text books in French about established British criminal procedure and jurisprudence did not exist.

It was while lecturing on criminal law at the University of Montreal that he began gathering material for the book.

FINDS BOOK USEFUL

After reviewing the recently-published book, Joseph Cohen, McGill University professor of criminal law, said:

"I have found it extremely useful for the student bodies of both universities (McGill and Montreal) and as a guide to the better understanding of the rules of evidence, specially applicable in criminal cases to the active practitioner."

The book's 40 chapters contain a straight-forward explanation of the Criminal Code.

It deals with established practices of lodging complaints; issuing of warrants or summonses; arraignments; option allowed persons charged, and type of trials —summary, speedy or before a jury. The difference between indictable and summary cases also is defined.

Judge Lagarde explains that only in Quebec are judges specially appointed to adjudicate in criminal matters, unlike other provinces where county judges preside in both criminal and civil matters. In this province, judges are permitted to give full attention to study of criminals.

A WONDER DRUG HELPED CHANGE THIS...

Surgery will always be the answer to certain medical problems. But, in some cases, today's antibiotic wonder drugs have helped remove the need for such drastic action.

To grandfather, however, those same cases meant heavy doctor's bills, long hours in surgery, nurses, many medicines, and certainly a long period of convalescence. Even in his day of low prices all these costs were great.

It is only because truly staggering sums have been spent in research and development by the leading pharmaceutical houses that we can buy today's wonder drugs at all. And buy them, moreover, at prices that are very reasonable when compared to what grandfather had to pay for treatments—many of which are no longer necessary!

YOU CAN DEPEND ON YOUR NEIGHBOURHOOD DRUGGIST

You will always be sure of reasonable prices at your neighbourhood druggist's. He is highly-trained in the profession of pharmacy, a friendly man . . . and you can depend on him as surely as you can depend on the wonder drugs he stocks. See him soon for whatever you need.

Bath Powder Refreshes You

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

During the summer, a fragrant bath followed by a cool shower each day will help to keep you fresh as a daisy.

Your bath water should be warm, but not hot. Add to it bath salts or whatever softener you use. And a bubble bath is sure to take your mind off the weather.

If you have a favorite perfume, try matching your bathroom accessories to that fragrance. You could include bath oils, salts, soap, cologne and talcum powder.

After your bath and shower give yourself a good rubdown with your towel. This will leave your skin glowing.

Then, have a generous dusting with your bath powder. You'll find that your girdle slips on easily if you use the powder. Pay special attention to powdering your feet and legs. It acts as a soother for hot, tired feet, so pamper them with it.

Dusting your legs with bath powder will help you save on nylons They'll require less twisting and pulling if you can put them on over smooth legs.

If you suffer from those all too common "heat" rashes, a twice-weekly epsom salts bath will help you to restore your skin to its healthy condition.

Kinettes Enjoy Cottage Meeting

Kinettes had a fun-filled June meeting at the cottage of Mrs. Edward Henwood on Clear Lake, with swimming preceding a delicious buffet diner. President Mrs. Cameron Craig thanked Mrs. Henwood for her hospitality, and on behalf of the club, presented her with a token gift.

Mrs. J. Harris gave a report on the successful rummage sale she convened last week.

It was agreed to send a donation to the Children's Aid Society to assist an unfortunate bride and her children to return to her parents in England.

Mrs. H. Jones made final arrangements for transportation for the five children the Kinette Club is sending to Ilahee Lodge at Cobourg. The first two children will be driven down on June 21, the others in July and August.

Mrs. Wm. Godson outlined plans for the annual bridge and fashion show, to be held October 20, and committees were set up to carry these through.

This was the last meeting of the Kinette Club until autumn, and its success was due to conveners Mrs. Howard Powell and Mrs. D. Coughlin and their assistants.

The Rev. L. Pocock officiated.

Her bouquet was of buff color roses with stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father.

Of Interest to Women

SWEETIE PIE —By Nadine Seltzer

"What are you playing with now?"

DOROTHY DIX:

Wife Makes Home Attractive

DEAR MISS DIX: Many times I've read of women whose slovenly appearance and poor housekeeping were big factors in marital breakups, but how about the other side of the picture? What can be done with a husband who is totally lacking in concern over his personal appearance—shaves only after much persuasion, is careless about his clothing and parks cigarette ashes anywhere but in the ashtray. I have been married for five years and my husband is steadily getting worse. I realize now that signs were apparent before we were married, but I ignored them. Bert was never a careful dresser, or a tidy person. However, I never dreamed that the outward indications covered serious neglect. Because I kept silent so long, hoping he would change, I think he has firmly established a pattern of laziness that will be difficult, if not impossible, to change. His reaction to any remarks I make is that I'm making much ado about nothing.

D. D.

STUDY ADVERTISMENTS

ANSWER: The frankness with which modern advertising in magazines or newspapers, as well as the commercials of TV and radio, treat personal problems that once were absolutely taboo, comes in for considerable kidding, but fundamentally it has accomplished lots of good. It has made many people aware of social shortcomings that they would otherwise have been inclined to ignore.

Perhaps Bert could use a bit of such directness, pointed especially at him. By now he's gotten used to the sound of your voice, and your words of advice fall on unheeding ears. Try the printed word. Make up a scrapbook of all the offending males in current ads, together with the suggested cures. Ad writers can do this sort of thing much better than you can; perhaps their persuasive claims will make Bert realize what a distressing boor he is. The sight of a slovenly male cluttering up what would otherwise be an attractive domestic scene is enough to make any woman flee. What good is an attractive home to her, when the first sight that greets her guests is an unshaven husband, probably in an undershirt?

Perhaps some readers who have solved successfully a similar problem (though I'm afraid their number will be few) may help you with a remedy.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After two years of courtship, I find I do not love the boy. I was so carried away by the thrill of being important to somebody that I made promises I am no longer able to keep. I know the engagement was a mistake and I want to break it, but my family is appalled at the idea.

BRENDA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Breaking an engagement is a serious step, and a most disagreeable task yet it is absolutely necessary once the lack of love is evident. It may seem cruel to hurt the young man now, but it would be much worse to go on, only to deal a harder blow later.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently, I met a young man who goes to college. I only see him twice a week at choir practice, but I'd like to know how to capture his attention. He smiles at me, but has not spoken as yet. Should I be friendly and start a conversation, or ignore him?

MARIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since participation in a group activity constitutes an introduction, it would be gracious of you to speak to the young man. As you already have a common interest in the choir, conversation should not be too difficult.

Simple Styles Flatter You In Summer

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

In buying her summer accessories, the older woman should choose carefully. It's best to avoid any frivolous, girlish-looking shoes, handbags, or even sun glasses that give her summer wardrobe a "cluttered" look.

Linen shell pumps (in a neutral color) are very smart. You'll find they harmonize with all the summer pastels as well as black and navy. And smart, neutral pumps are more appropriate than the brightly - colored, bare sandals you'll see worn for daytime at this time of year.

Your selection of a summer handbag is very important, too. The "basket" type of handbag, trimmed with huge flowers, is for teenagers, only. A fashionwise linen handbag (neutral color, to match your pumps) is your best handbag bet.

To protect your eyes from harmful sun rays, and add that final touch to your summer costume, select plain, simply framed sun glasses. Again, let the teenage set wear the hand-painted, gaily-decorated sun glasses.

With the addition of carefully chosen pumps, handbag and sun glasses, your wardrobe should be in excellent condition. And so will your frame of mind, once you know you look "uncluttered" and extremely well-dressed.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Keep Cool With Frozen Desserts

In a letter last week from Helen P. she asked for grozen desserts not calling for whipping cream. I don't blame her. The cost is high and so are the calorie.

June 21st, the first day of summer, should be an ideal day to coolly blossom forth with such frosty froth.

The basic recipe for a plain sherbet seems to be a good starting point, fo ra sherbet is an ice wit hegg whites, milk (or cream if your rich and slim) and gelatin —the latter may be omitted, but I recommend SHERBET (basic recipe).

One cup sugar, 2 cups water, 2 teaspoons plain gelatin, ¼ cup water ,2 unbeaten egg whites, 1 cup fruit juice or ½ cup crushed fruit (if crushed pineapple is used it should be canned; fruit juices may include orange, pineapple, apple, cherry, raspberry, strawberry, ect. and crushed fruit may include crushed strawberries, raspberries, banana, orange pulp, peach or apricot pulp, etc); ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Soak the gelatin in the ¼ cup water 5 minutes. Add the sugar to the 2 cups water and bring to boil. Stir the soaked gelatin into the syrup, until dissolved. Cool. Add the fruit juice or crushed fruit, which includes the 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Pour into freezing tray. Freeze until firm all over. Transfer to cold bowl and add unbeaten egg whites and beat with rotary or electric beater until light and fluffy. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. This amount will serve 6 generously.

FRUITY SHERBET

(No gelatin)

Two cups mashed bananas, 1-3 cup lemon juice, orange juice, ½ cup lighet corn syrup, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 egg white, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup maraschino juice, ½ cup coarsely cut maraschino cherries, ½ teaspoon finely grated orange rind. As soon as bananas are mashed add the lemon juice to them then the orange juice, corn syrup, and salt. Beat the egg whites until stiff and gradually beat the sugar into it until stiff. Fold this into the banana mixture. Add the milk, cherry juice, cherries and rind. Turn into freezing tray and freeze until almost firm. Transfer to chilled bowl and beat to blend and make airy. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. 8 servings.

SIMPLE ORANGE ICE

Make a syrup of 2 cups water and 1 cup sugar by simmering together for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add 2 cups strained or unstrained orange juice, ¼ cup lemon juice, ⅛ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon finely grated orange rind. Turn into freezing tray and freeze to a mush. Turn out in cold bowl and beat until smooth, return to tray to freeze firm, then beat again in cold bowl, and return to tray to freeze firm. Serves 6.

BURNT ALMOND ICE CREAM

(evaporated milk)

One and one-half cups white spoon1 ½ cups hot water, 1 tablespoon flour, ⅛ teapsoon salt, 1 well-beaten egg, 4½ cup evaporated milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup finely chopped blanched and toasted almonds. In heavy frying pan slowly melt 1 cup of the sugar until syrupy and light gold, then slowly add the hot water stirring constantly, until caramel dissolves. Mix the flour with the remaining ½ cup sugar and the salt in the top of the double boiler, and stir in the hot caramel syrup gradually until thick. Cover and cook 15 minutes over boiling water, stirring twice. Pour this slowly over the beaten egg white stirring, then return to double boiler to cook two minutes. Cool. Add the milk, vanilla, and chopped almonds. Turn into freezing tray to freeze to a mush, then beat in cold bowl until foamy and return to tray to freeze again to a mush. Beat again and freeze firm. Eight to 10 servings.

Ordinary Water Highly Corrosive

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Research on the engine for the first atomic submarine has shown that ordinary water is highly corrosive when extremely hot and under pressure, a Westinghouse scientist said today.

Dr. D. E. Thomas of the company's atomic power division told an international congress on nuclear engineering that "superheated," pressurized water was found capable of "completely" distintegrating such metals as aluminum and magnesium during studies aimed at finding the best structural material for certain equipment to be used in the A-sub's power plant.

Fortunately, Dr. Thomas said, it was found that the metal zirconium was able to withstand the corrosive attack of "superheated" water.

Sees Military Clash Likely In Guatemala

LONDON (Reuters) — Foreign Secretary Eden said today "a military clash is likely" in Guatemala.

He was answering a request by Opposition leader Attlee for information on the Guatemalan conflict.

Eden said there "appeared to be about 6,000 forces on one side and 5,000 on the other."

He added: "We must reserve judgment in a matter of this kind until we have a little more information."

A Labor member, J. B. Hynd, asked why the British government did not support a United Nations inquiry into the situation instead of one by the Organization of American States.

Eden replied that he thought the British action was "absolutely correct."

Hospital Board

"it was under no illusion that salaries and wages in hospitals are the best in the world. The board wishes to provide for its employees the best living it can reasonably afford and has so acted in the past and will continue to do so."

Mr. Swanston pointed out that the board had two sources of revenue: payments for services to patients and grants from provincial and municipal governments.

"The board feels that the rates charged to patients are as high as can reasonably be charged and that the charging of higher rates would deprive a greater number of citizens of the needed service of the hospital and would not produce more revenue," he said.

The board received from the provincial government all grants for which the hospital qualified and at the same rate as other hospitals giving the same service. It received from the county the full cost of the care of indigent patients from the county.

In addition to the statutory rate for indigent patients, the board received from the city a substancial sum to offset the deficit. This sum would be $209,113.11 in 1954, or $5.26 for every person in the city.

HIGHEST IN PROVINCE

"This contribution is the highest per capita of any city in the province of Ontario and it is only closely approached by one other city, the city of Hamilton," it was pointed out in the letter.

The board therefore felt it could not justifiably ask the city to pay more, especially in view of the following circumstances:

Wages paid to members of the hospital staff represented by Local 19 were among the highest paid to hospital employees in any community in Ontario. In very few cases were the rates equalled by other hospitals for the same class of work.

The hourly rates paid by the board might not compare with industry, but in view of the security and regularity of employment, the average annual take-home pay was much more satisfactory than the comparison of hourly rates would indicate.

The rates were the same as deemed satisfactory by the union a year ago and there had been no increase in the cost of living in the meantime.

The board had agreed to certain fringe benefits.

The board was prepared to negotiate on the conciliation board's recommendations for improvement in the contract.

"In view of the lack of a reasonable source of revenue to meet the demands of the union," the board believes that the only method of meeting these demands is by a curtailment of service," the letter stated. "It does not believe any of its services should be curtailed, as all are necessary in the best interests of its patients.

REDUCE STAFF

"If curtailment is necessary, it must mean a reduction of staff, as over 77 per cent of the board's expense is for payments to staff. If staff must be reduced, the board will be required to dispense with those members of its staff who return least value to the patient for money expended.

"If forced on the board, the reduction in staff will most seriously affect those members of the staff represented by the union."

Atomic Plane Seen In 6 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert LeBaron, a government atomic specialist, predicts that the United States will have an airplane driven by nuclear power within six or seven years.

LeBaron is chairman of the military liaison committee to the Atomic Energy Commission but he devoted most of a copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report to a discussion of peacetime uses of atomic energy.

Predicting that an atomic plane may be a reality within six or seven years, LeBaron adds: "... There isn't any reason why you can't think of an airplane that could fly 200 or 300 hours in the air—you could go around the world several times."

LeBaron foresees a tremendous development of atomic power plants for generating electricity.

Charge Deputy In Rebellion

BANGKOK, Thailand (Reuters) Nai Fong, former Thailand deputy minister of education, has been charged with instigating internal and external rebellion and aiding the Indo-China Communists, it was reported here today.

He was said to have been working with Communist Laotians plotting to overthrow the government of Laos and to have planned to secede the northern Siamese province from Thailand and become prime minister of the new state.

Marshal Pibul Songgram, Thailand prime minister, said police have a list of 10,000 people suspected of being Communists or sympathizers, and such people will be arrested immediately if they start doing harm.

There was no indication whether the ex-minister's arrest had anything to do with a radio communications blackout between Bangkok and Saigon, Indo-China, reported this morning. Singapore and London said their communications with the Thai capital were normal.

Maine Puts Vote On Line In Dispute

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Maine puts its vote on the line today in a primary in which Senator Margaret Chase Smith contends that Senator McCarthy apparently planted the man opposing her.

That is the closest Mrs. Smith has come to openly accusing the Red-hunting Wisconsin Republican senator of attempting to engineer her defeat in the Republican senatorial primary. And it was her nearest approach to a direct attack on her competitor, Robert L. Jones.

Jones is a McCarthy supporter. Mrs. Smith definitely is not.

23-2 Win Ties Bill's Lunch In First Place

Bill's (Monaghan Road) Lunch swing into a first place tie with Seabrook Electric's, Saturday night at East City Bowl, as a result of a convincing 23-2 victory over Fairview's, in a one-sided Civic League softball struggle. The second game of the postponed double bill, involving the Army and Police, will be played at a latter date. Meanwhile, the regular schedule will proceed with Fairview's the "guests" of Police, while the Army will entertain Seabrooks in the nightcap.

Ellis Peters, smoke ball ace of Bill's, was Bob Welsh's selection to tame the Fairview crew on Saturday, and the Monaghan Road lad came through as expected with seven strike-outs and three safe bingles, to win going away. His support afield left little to be desired, as Mickey Hewie, Cack Pagett, et all, gobbled in the melon with the agility only youth can supply. Offensively, all hands clubbed in.

Bill's and Seabrook's each have won eight of nine games played as the hectic race takes on fever interest. Police are next with Army fourth.

Result—the car smashed through a fence, and rammed into the building carrying the safety lesson—$500 damage to the car, none to the passenger.

Engineer Contradicts Highways Deputy

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

RED LAKE, Ont. (CP)—The Ontario legislature's highway investigation committee Saturday heard evidence on material classification in road contracts that conflicted with an earlier statement made by the former No. 2 man of the highways department.

M. N. McEwen, division engineer at Kenora now being transferred to Peterborough, told the committee that the Kenora division engineer never approved material classification.

"You mean the responsibility was entirely head office?" asked Albert Wren (Lib-Lab—Kenora).

"That's right," replied Mr. McEwen.

Last month, J. D. Millar, former highways deputy, testified at a Toronto hearing that division engineers were responsible for approving classification of rock, earth and gravel.

CAUSED OVER-RUN

Mr. McEwen's statement was made while the committee, en route from Fort Frances to Red Lake, stopped to inspect a section of highway in which a $256,000 over-run of estimates took place.

The 1950 contract, held by Angus and Taylor Ltd., is not one of those now under investigation.

The over-run on the nine - mile stretch running west from Emo, Ont., was the result of a mile-long muskeg which had to be filled with 560,000 yards of granular base at a cost of $420,000 or a total of $345,000 over the original estimate. An under-run on earth excavation amounting to $89,100 reduced the final over-run on the original $458,765 contract. The final total reached $734,954.

In Kenora, the committee heard Mayor J. V. Fregeau protest the transfer of Mr. McEwen.

The group arrived in this northern mining town after a 385-mile bus trip. They were to receive a brief Sunday on behalf of the district. Today the committee will fly eastward to Pickle Crow for a car journey down the new Savant lake highway, from Savant lake it will fly to Fort William.

Will Expand Seaway Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representative John Dingell (Dem.-Mich.) plans to introduce today a bill "to expand and spread the utilitatian provisions" of the St. Lawrence deep waterway.

He said in a statement Saturday that the recent authorization for construction of the waterway "falls far short of extending the full benefits to such cities as Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, Duluth and others because the provisions are not sufficient to assure a 27-foot depth for the Detroit river and upper lakes."

He said the benefits from the St. Lawrence Act would be limited to Lake Erie ports and chiefly to Buffalo, Erie and Cleveland.

"Oddly enough," Dingell said, "Buffalo and Cleveland were the hot beds of opposition to the St. Lawrence through certain powerful interests which are located there."

Dingell said his bill would provide for simultaneous development of all the Great Lakes in the deepening of their channels to correspond with the maximum draught of ships which will negotiate the St. Lawrence and the lower lakes area.

Church Cornerstone Placed At Service In Havelock

HAVELOCK (ENS)— "To the Glory of God—1941-1954" was the inscription on the cornerstone placed in the new brick front of the Havelock Pentecostal Tabernacle Sunday afternoon.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. W. B. Greenwood, of Belleville, district superintendent of Pentecostal Assemblies. A box was put behind the stone, which was set in place by the minister the Rev. W. Stevenson. The box contained a Bible, a Pentecostal testimony, and a list of the members of the church, comprising 150 names.

The church was built in 1941, during the pastorate of the Rev. G. Holmes of Owen Sound, who was unable to be present. Prior to that time, services were held in what is now the parsonage. The congregation outgrew that building and the present church was built.

A few years ago, a baptismal tank was installed, over which was placed a painting. An orchestra was formed which officiated at the church services.

ALTERATIONS

This spring the church has undergone extensive alterations, including a modern front with glass brick on both sides of the four-door entrance, and a glass brick cross at the top, which will be lit up at night.

The entire basement has been dug out and now contains an auditorium, six Sunday school rooms, a new oil furnace, running water and wash room. A large portion of the work has been done voluntarily by members of the congregation.

Prior to the ceremony, the brass band of the Peterborough Pentecostal church, under the leadership of Bandmaster E. Johnston, played selections in the church auditorium and also at the cornerstone ceremony.

The service in the church was conducted by the Rev. W. Stevenson. The Rev. W. B. Greenwood was guest speaker, taking as his subject "The lively stones in the church."

Mr. Greenwood said it was right to rejoice in a new building and alterations, but he was more concerned that the chief cornerstone be in the right place, in the assemblies and the lives of individuals.

GUEST CLERGY

Other ministers present were the Rev. E. M. Ester of Bancroft, who conducted a short song service, and the Rev. R. E. Sternall of Oshawa, both of whom are former pastors; the Rev. W. H. Found, president of the Eastern Pentecostal College, Peterborough; the Rev. G. Leno of Campbellford, and the Rev. R. Jones of Marmora, who offered prayer.

E. Johnston, band leader, Mrs. W. B. Greenwood and Mrs. C. Ratz of Belleville expressed congratulations. A letter of congratulation was read from the Rev. W. F. Rourke of Halifax, N.S., a former pastor.

A solo was sung by Miss Helen Robinson, who jojined with Miss Elfrieda Jenkins, Earl Jenkins and James Laing in a quartet. A trio was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Morden McMillan and Dorothy Ann.

At the morning service, the Rev. R. E. Sternall of Oshawa was the preacher.

Musical numbers comprised a vocal solo by Mrs. Ross Richards and a duet by the Misses Elgrieda Jenkins and Helen Robinson.

The Rev. W. H. Found of Peterborough was speaker at the evening service. A solo was sung by James Laing.The quartet of the afternoon again sang two selections.

Accompanists were Miss Elfrieda Jenkins and Mrs. W. Stevenson. Large congregations attended the three services.

CBC Governors Finish Session

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The CBC board of governors Saturday completed public sessions here, considering applications for the establishment of two radio stations and a power increase in Ontario.

Station CHLO, St. Thomas, Ont., a 1,000-watt station, asked permission to increase to 5,000 watts for daytime broadcasting. The Forest City Investment Limited of London applied for a licence to establish a new 5,000 watt station, and a Leamington, Ont., group applied for a licence for a new 1,000-watt station in that town.

Decisions are not expected to be handed down until the board returns to Ottawa.

The London application, by Vincent Regan and J. Jeffrey, was strongly opposed by E. M. Warwick of CHLO. He said CHLO had opened a new studion in London and "if a new station is opened, one will have to go . . . and without London we can't survive."

Six Sunday Schools At Otonabee Meeting

Six Sunday Schools were represented at Hiawatha, on Thursday for the Otonabee Council of Christian Education convention. Lloyd Crane first vice-president was chairman and introduced Miss Iris Daly, the guest speaker.

Mrs. E. Adamson read the theme story. Groups were led by D. Edwards, the Rev. H. B. Herrington and F. Rogers.

An impromptu skit " Inviting a Newcomer to the Convention" was presented by Mrs. Herrington and Miss Daly during the discussion period.

A lovely supper was served by the ladies of Hiawatha and a vote of thanks was tendered them by Mr. Herrington.

The president Mrs. C. Irwin presided for the evening session. It was decided to hold the 1955 convention at Indian River or Keene. The date was left to the executive.

Mrs. Huston, the only new officer, was elected as leader of Girls work, to succeed Mrs. G. Sutton.

Girls of the Hiawatha Sunday School sang two musical selections.

"Builders For Eternity" was the subject Miss Raly chose for her address of the evening.

Mr. Herrington installed the officers and closed the convention with the Benediction.

Grace Church Wins By 105 Runs

In a council match on Saturday, Grace Church beat the local "B" team by 105 runs.

The visitors won the toss and opened the batting with Lovell and Cox against the bowing of Dyer and Illingworth, the latter getting a wicket with the total at 12. At 37 Grace Church lost 2 wickets but the score mounted steadily to 98 for 9.

At this point the last two batsmen, Brazier and Williams laid into the bowling, which made several changes, and added 74 before Williams was bowled, having made 50 and the innings closed for 172. The locals' fielding was good considering they were in the field for 2½ hours with the thermometer in the eighties. After the tea interval P.W. went into bat with Freeman and Bier, the former losing his wicket at 1 over. Tydd followed and be left with total at 6.

Twenty-one runs were added for the third wicket but the bowlers were on top and 8 wickets were down for 40 runs. Dyer D. then pounced on the bowling and hit 16 runs in a short time, the total finishing at 67.

Connell, Williams and Brazier were the pick of the visiting batsmen, while Brown and Connell starred with the ball.

For the locals, Illingworth had four wickets for 38 with Tydd and Dyer, F., giving good support.

D. Dyer behind the stumps again allowed no extras—a fine display. Bier with 13 and Dyer, D., 16 not out were the pick of the local batsmen.

Urge Restraint In Guatemalan Situation

NEW YORK (CP) — Leading newspapers in New York and London urged restraint in handling the Guatemalan situation in their first editorial comment since the outbreak of hostilities in the Central American republic.

The Times of London said anti-Communist countries must be careful not to weaken their own case against Communist intervention into the affairs of other countries.

"It is the more important therefore, that all powers not immediately involved, all, that is, except Guatemala and her immediate neighbors, should act and talk with great correctness and restraint."

The Daily Telegraph said "the presence in the New World of an outpost of the Communist empire presents a serious problem.

"The United States has powerful means of economic pressure at her disposal, but she must be wary of using it in a manner to alienate the always-suspicious Latin American states."

The New York Times said determination of the nature of the present Guatemalan uprising and of the responsibility of neighboring Honduras and Nicaragua requires an investigation that could not, under the most favorable circumstances, be made in a hurry.

The Times blamed Russia's veto Sunday in the UN Security Council for blocking referral of the problem "where it rightly belongs, to the organization of American states."

"Most of these states," the New York newspaper's editorial continued, "would accept a modern extension of the Monroe Doctrine and would consider it 'dangerous to their peace and safety' that Russian imperialism in any guise should gain a foothold in this hemisphere."

The New York Herald Tribune said the military situation in Guatemala remains obscure. One of the most important factors was the temper of the Guatemalan army, which had been withdrawn from contact with the insurgents.

The Herald Tribune said that while the government claimed it had avoided military action to sustain its charges of aggression against the revolutionaries, a more plausible theory is that the troops are being withdrawn to protect the capital.

CONFIDENCE QUESTIONED

"It may take time to reveal the precise pattern of events in Guatemala," the editorial concluded, but the government "has given few signs of confidence in the armed forces or in the loyalty of the population."

One British newspaper, the Manchester Guardian, was critical of the role of the United States government in Guatemala.

The Guardian said Guatemala "can hardly have served Moscow as much more than . . . a stick to beat 'Yankee imperialism with."

The question was never whether the Guatemalan government could be got rid of, the Guardian added, "but only whether it could be got rid of with more tact than the state department has shown."

Sparsely Settled Hinterland In For Great Development

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia's central and northern interior appears headed for its greatest boom in almost 100 years.

Spurred by the promise of increased rail facilities and natural gas, the vast, sparsely-settled hinterland is the scene of growth and activity unequalled since 1858 when the lure was gold.

Ralph Chetwynd, minister of trade and industry for B. C., summed up the optimism pervading the entire area stretching some 700 miles northward from Vancouver with the prediction that the present Cariboo and fringe-explored north country "will be unrecognizable in five years' time."

BIG DEVELOPMENTS

The contagious confidence of the hardy men pioneering settlement of this country of mountain valleys and high plateaus is based on the rail and gas developments and their impact on the natural resources abounding in the province.

The government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway now is constructing a 40-mile extension from its southern terminus at Squamish, B.C., to Vancouver. The $12,000,000 link is scheduled for use next year. Survey parties are at work on a $48,000,000 extension that will link the northern terminus at Prince George to Dawson Creek, 270 miles to the northeast in B.C.'s Peace river district.

Northwest Transmission Company plans a natural-gas pipeline from the Peace river through the Cariboo country to Vancouver.

Reflecting the optimism in a tangible sense is the tremendous post-war growth of central interior areas along the PGE like this terminal city that serves as a junction point with the Canadian National Railways and the villages of Quesnel and Williams Lake.

The population of Quesnel, once site of a Hudson's Bay Company post in the 1800s and now centre of a fast-expanding lumber industry, has more than tripled to 5,000 since the Second World War.

Alec V. Fraser, chairman of the village commission, says the rail and pipeline developments "will change the entire industrial and domestic outlook in the central interior."

CHEAP POWER

The pipeline together with the B. C. power commission's announced plans for a multi-million dollar hydro-electric development on the Clearwater river 150 miles to the southeast, will provide cheap power for a wide range of light industrial development.

Quesnel, with a new $3,000,000 plywood plant on its outskirts and about 160 sawmills operating within a 30-mile radius, soon may be the site of a new pulpwood plant. The village issued $1,000,000 worth of building permits last year and expects to exceed that figure in 1954.

The same picture of growth and industry is showing at the cattle-ranching centre of Williams Lake, 75 miles south of Quesnel, and at Prince George, almost the same distance to the north.

Population of Williams Lake, estimated at 2,500, is double what it was two years ago; Prince George jumped to nearly 12,000 compared with the 1940 figure of 2,500.

Prince George, with visions of eventually replacing Edmonton as the main distributing point for the Peace river and Yukon areas, this year will spend some $4,000,000 for school, hospital, water and other civic improvements.

In 1953, despite a three-months woodworkers' strike, a record total of 506,000,000 board feet of lumber valued at more than $40,000,000 was cut in the Fort George forest district that includes Quesnel and Prince George. The previous high of 486,000,000 feet was cut in 1952.

BIG SPRUCE STANDS

To the north of Prince George and within 35 miles of the route chosen for the PGE's northern extension lie virgin stands of spruce which forestry officials estimate will give a perpetual yield of 100,000,000 board feet annually.

Pulp companies are interested in sites at both Prince George and Williams Lake for erection of $2,000,000 plants to manufacture low-grade pulp used in the manufacture of wallboard and similar products. Spruce in the Prince George area has been tested and found ideal for processing into synthetic fabrics.

Williams Lake ranchers are confident that the rail link to the Peace river, expected to be completed in five years, will provide a source of cheap feed that will lead to establishment of packing plants in their area. Last year they shipped $1,250,000 worth of livestock to the lower B.C. mainland.

Williams Lake, like all central interior points, boasts a booming lumber industry. Twenty new sawmills were established in the area last year, boosting the total to 160 and further expansion is anticipated in the industry that last year produced $5,500,000 worth of lumber.

But it is at Dawson Creek, starting point of the Alaska highway, that the boom wave reaches its peak. Its population, only 518 in 1941, has zoomed to 5,500 making the grain and livestock shipping centre the largest village in B.C. Its population exceeds that listed for 17 of the 34 incorporated cities in the province.

HUGE SHIPMENTS

During a normal crop year, more than 3,000,000 bushels of grain are shipped from Dawson Creek, a greater volume than that from any other single shipping point in the country except terminal ports like those of the lakehead, Montreal and Vancouver.

Although grain ranks as the major industry, more than $3,000,000 worth of lumber was shipped from Dawson Creek last year together with livestock valued at some $2,000,000.

Added to that is a fast-growing oil and natural-gas industry in the Peace river that, still in its infancy, already possesses sufficient known reserves to warrant construction of a pipeline to the west coast.

One oil company has taken an option on a site on the outskirts of the village for a $3,000,000 refinery and another company is contemplating a similar step.

Nearby is a big limestone deposit suitable for making cement and almost unlimited supplies of high-grade coal are close at hand.

Roger Forsyth, whose Northern Freightways serves as an 1,800-mile extension of the PGE from Prince George through Dawson Creek to Fairbanks, Alaska, left a responsible position with an aircraft firm in Toronto about 10 years ago to establish the trucking line.

"I chose northern B.C. because it looked like one of the coming sections of the country," says Mr. Forsyth whose company now is the largest operating along the Alaska highway.

"Every section of Canada offers wonderful opportunities. But this place . . . it's tremendous."

Plan Democratic Gov't Facade

CAIRO (Reuters)—The National Assembly, intended to put something of a democratic facade on the present authoritarian military regime in Egypt, is to consist of about 260 members elected by decree.

It is proposed to call the Assembly into session July 23, the second anniversary of the military coup d'etat.

An outline of the Assembly and its functions has been published on the instructions of Lt.-Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the prime minister. He said criticism will be welcome "provided it is constructive."

Biggest single bloc in the assembly, according to the draft law, will represent the land. Seventy-two seats will be reserved for those engaged in agriculture, including landowners, tenants and workers.

Next biggest blocs in the assembly will be 50 members representing the liberal professions, and another 50 representing religion, leaders of opinion and others with experience of economic and social affairs.

Segregate Workers

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (CP)—Skilled and semi-skilled native building workers in future will be allowed to work only on native housing schemes while white workers only are employed in European areas of South Africa. One builder explained the system would safeguard jobs for both classes.

B.C. RAIL DEVELOPMENT—British Columbia's central and northern interior appears headed for its greatest boom in almost 100 years spurred by promise of increased rail facilities and natural gas. The government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway is spending millions of dollars on line extensions opening up new sections or developing present facilities. Here one of the trains winds through scenic mountain country and across a swift-flowing river.—(CP Photo).

Is Universe Evolved By Atomic Force?

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" was the subject of the Bible lesson-sermon read at Christian Science services on Sunday

Man's dominion over all materiality is stressed in the readings from the King James' version of the Bible as well as those from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. The Scriptural selections included the account as given in Matthew (14:22-32) of how Christ and Peter walked on the sea.

Readings from Science and Health included the following: "In proportion as matter loses to human sense all entity as man, in that proportion does man become its master. He enters into a diviner sense of the facts, and comprehends the theology of Jesus as demonstrated in healing the sick, raising the dead, and walking over the wave. All these deeds manifested Jesus' control over the belief that matter is substance, that it can be the arbiter of life or the constructor of any form of existence."

The golden text was from Pslams: "God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God." (62:11).

Beginning Film On Highway

OTTAWA (CP)—A National Film Board crew has started taking pictures for a film on the trans-Canada highway.

Pictures will be taken of places of interest from beginning to end of the highway, an NFB official said. Some of the shots will be seen on newsreels and television, probably late this fall, but most of the film will be saved for a feature on the highway when it is completed.

Director Ron Dick and cameraman Bob Humble, both of Ottawa, are first working at Toronto, London and St. Catharines, Ont. From June 25 to July 8, they will be in Moncton and Fredericton. They will also tour Montreal, Sudbury and northern Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. They expect to finish shooting about the middle of September.

Commons Begins Study Of Defence Estimates

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today turns to a study of the government's big defence - spending program as the session's end approaches.

Before the House are expenditure estimates of $2,000,000,000 for the defence department, $40,000,000 for the defence production department and another $6,400,000 for civil defence in the 1954-55 fiscal year. A number of items of defence department spending already have been approved.

Today's program is part of a schedule outlined Saturday night by Citizenship Minister Harris, government House leader. If members stick to the plan, he said, Parliament can prorogue Thursday night.

WORK AHEAD

The work involves passing one minor bill and approving estimates of 13 departments, the cabinet and parliament itself. Estimates in part of most of the departments involved have been approved.

Debate may prolong the session a day or two, however, even if the House sits late at night beyond its present daily sitting of 8½ hours.

Members, meeting on a Saturday for the first time this session, dealt with planned expenditures of the health and fisheries departments.

National health insurance was a major topic and members of all opposition parties supported their versions of it. Health Minister Martin, however, said only one provincial government is prepared to adopt a federal-provincial health insurance program. He said later he was referring to Saskatchewan.

STATEMENT READ

He read a statement of government policy, made last year by Prime Minister St. Laurent, that the Liberal government is committed to a policy of contributory health insurance, administered by the provinces.

It was up to the provinces to work out plans, the statement said, and federal assistance depended on satisfactory agreements being made with the provinces. Mr. Martin said the subject is being given close attention and study.

Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) said health insurance has been a plank in the Liberal party platform since 1919.

"When is that commitment going to be implemented?" he asked.

Health insurance should be placed on a universal basis covering all Canadians if the cost were to be kept down.

CLAIM SOCIALIZED

Dr. William Blair (PC—Lanark) and F. D. Shaw (SC—Red Deer) criticized the CCF plan for national health insurance which they described as socialized medicine.

Dr. Blair said the agreement and good will of doctors must be obtained if any plan is to work.

"We believe a contributory plan could be introduced which would cover the situation without having state medicine in Canada."

Several opposition members criticized the size of federal grants to voluntary health organizations, referring to an amount of $164,450 in grants to 14 organizations.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood) said the amount was "beggarly in the extreme" and added that a $10,000 grant to the Health League of Canada, for instance, should be larger.

Mr. Martin replied that the amount does not include all the grants. This year grants to voluntary organizations would total some $3,000,000.

Another member urged larger federal contributions for construction of hospitals. Mr. Martin said he can give no encouragement that there will be an increase. Health was primarily a provincial responsibility. However, federal grants had helped in the building of 62,000 hospital beds in the last 5½ years and the country's shortage had been reduced to about 23,000 hospital beds.

Historic Siege

LONDON (CP) — The house in Stepney where three Russian anarchists died in the "siege of Sidney street" in 1911 is to be demolished. Sir Winston Churchill, then home secretary, directed operations against the gunmen who slew several policemen in the battle.

Enlarge Port

OSLO (CP)—Under a costly program of repairing war-time damage and adding new improvements, covered warehouse space in the Port of Oslo is being increased by 50 per cent to a total of 2,250,000 square feet. Part of the project is a new 730-foot pier.

Players All Wet

BRIGHTON, Eng. (CP)—Members of the British Sub-Aqua Club in this seaside resort settled down to a game of whist under 10 feet of water in the public pool, using a steel table and metal cards.

POLICE CATCH 3 IN LINDSAY BREAK-IN

Owner Spoils Getaway With 5 Shots

One Man Wounded, Car Wrecked With Shotgun Blasts

LINDSAY (ENS) — Three Toronto men caught a tartar when they broke into Bob Miller's service station, two miles east of Lindsay on Highway 7, at 1.15 a.m. today, and stole a large quantity of cigarettes and some change.

When they tried to flee after being challenged by Miller, an RCAF veteran who has had his service station burgled 15 times in the last eight years, the thieves were met with five shots from Miller's single-barrelled shotgun. His score:

One man was felled with a blast of buckshot and the getaway car for one of the others was so badly riddled that both tires went flat and it had to be abandoned a mile east of the service station. The two other men were later arrested by the OPP.

Wounded and in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, with gunshot wounds in his right thigh and left calf, is 23-year-old James Walton of 113 John St., Toronto. He is in good condition.

Captured by Lindsay OPP at 3:45 a.m. while making his way toward Omemee along the CNR railway tracks, was Keith Selig, 30, of Centre Island.

CAUGHT AT BUS

Captured by the OPP at 11 a.m. while trying to get to Toronto by bus, was Kenneth Force, 23, who lives with Walton at 113 John St. He was arrested at Dale Corners by the OPP who were checking all southbound buses.

Ontario Storms Claim 3 Lives, Damage Heavy

TORONTO (CP)—Thunderstorms swept across southern Ontario Monday night, causing at least three deaths, disrupting some communications and resulting in widespread destruction.

Though there was no official estimate of total damage, some reports said it might go into millions.

Near Woodstock and London, three barns were struck by lightning and crops valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars ruined.

Less than an hour after the official arrival of summer, 60-mile-an-hour winds struck parts of Toronto and outlying districts of Oakville and Clarkson at nightfall. A second storm hit the city early today.

HIT WIDE AREA

Weather observers said a series of disturbances occurred over a wide area in the seething mass of hot, moist air.

Telephone lines and telegraph wires went down in sections of the Owen Sound district. Both Meaford and Dundalk experienced hydro interruptions.

A spokesman for the Ontario department of agriculture said the rain will probably delay haying. He said that at some points the storms damaged wheat and, at scattered points, caused loss to fruit and vegetable crops. He declined to estimate the value of crops damaged.

HELPS STRAWBERRIES

P. M. Schweyer of the Vineland Co-operative Association said the rain helped the strawberry crop in the Niagara peninsula.

"The moisture was needed and it will mean a longer picking season."

Two barns valued at $7,000 each were destroyed by fire and lightning in Elgin county. Another barn was torn from its foundations and wrecked near Woodstock with loss placed at $3,000.

Twety tents, including those of the officers and sergeants messes, were blown down at the tank range just outside Meaford, 20 miles east of Owen Sound. About 150 soldiers, housed in tents were driven into the pelting rainstorm. There were no injuries.

Guatemalan Army Claims Insurgents Sent Reeling In Initial Battle Clashes

GUATEMALA CITY (Reuters)—The Guatemalan army signalled a powerful offensive against invading rebels today, and announced that victories in the initial clashes of the conflict have set the insurgents back in a "retreating battle."

The army said "well-trained regulars, armed with modern weapons" pushed the rebel forces of exiled Col. Castillo Armas into retreat when the two sides clashed for the first time Monday at Gualan, near the key military base at Zacapa, 75 miles from here.

(Meanwhile, the rebel radio heard at Belize, in adjoining British Honduras, claimed its forces won the battle and "completely surrounded" the army of President Jacobo Arbenz.

(The rebel Radio Liberation called for the surrender of the government forces because "we don't want to shed unnecessary blood.")

SAY REBELS TRAPPED

In addition to claiming victory in the Gualan battle, the government high command said its forces at Puerto Barrios, Caribbean port and site of some of the country's vital oil reserve storage tanks, surrounded rebel groups trying to enter the port "after a brief skirmish."

(Rebel forces previously claimed to have captured the port when they began their invasion-revolt last Friday.)

The high command said a Honduran-registered schooner carrying arms was captured in the port by government forces and its crew taken prisoner.

It said that rebel planes, supporting the Castillo Armas forces at Gualan, strafed military installations and railroads at Zacapa.

CAPITAL NORMAL

Here in the capital the situation was almost normal today, with stores open and no air raids early in the day.

Private automobiles, kept off the streets for three days by a gasoline ban, reappeared when the government allowed filling stations to sell each customer five gallons.

There appeared to have been little response to the government's call for cars and taxis to carry government forces to the battle zone.

The interior ministry announced the capture of a group of people and a case of explosives allegedly intended for blowing up gasoline storage tanks after a small plane landed at Balgia, near the port of Champerico on the Pacific coast.

Associated Press dispatches from Guatemala City Monday night said Arbenz' troops were massing in the area of Zacapa, a city of some 8,000 on the main rail line between the capital and the Caribbean port of Puerto Barrios.

A rebel flier interviewed near the Honduran border said Castillo Armas' men also were moving by truck towards Zacapa. He said the invaders headed for the rail

$242,000 Fines In Paper Fixing

TORONTO (CP)—Fines totalling $242,000 were imposed today on seven paper mills, 21 wholesale paper merchants and a trade association secretary convicted June 4 of conspiring to fix the price of fine paper in Canada. All announced that they will appeal.

The "big four" mills in the Canadian fine paper industry were each fined $10,000, the maximum penalty, by Mr. Justice W. F. Spence of the Ontario Supreme Court. They are Howard Smith Paper Mills Limited, Montreal; E. B. Eddy Company, Hull, Que.; Provincial Paper Limited, subsidiary of Abitibi Power and Paper Co. Ltd. of Iroquois Falls, Ont., and Toronto; and Rolland Paper Co. Ltd., Montreal.

Also fined $10,000 were Alliance Paper Mills Limited, subsidiary of Howard Smith, and Don Valley Paper Co. Ltd., Toronto, owned by Alliance.

ONE FINED $4,000

Canada Paper Company, another Howard Smith subsidiary, was fined $4,000. The court was told it withdrew from the conspiracy after going out of the fine paper business in 1940.

Fined $10,000 each were the wholesale firms of Buntin Reid Paper Co. Ltd., Toronto; Fred W. Halls Paper Co. Ltd., Toronto; Kruger Paper Co. Ltd., Montreal; T. B. Little Paper Limited, Montreal; McFarlane Son and Hodgson Limited, Montreal; La Compagnie J. B. Roland et Fils, Montreal; United Paper Mills Ltd., Toronto; Whyte-Hooke Papers Ltd., Toronto; and the Wilson Munroe Co. Ltd., Toronto. These firms were described as the nine largest wholesalers.

Other wholesalers fined $10,000 each were Buntin Gillies and Co. Ltd., Hamilton; Canada Paper "Wholesale" Limited, Toronto; Federal Paper Co. Ltd., Montreal; and T. Havill Paper Company, Montreal.

Duke Gets Briefing On Europe's Defences

PARIS (AP) — Wearing the uniform of an admiral of the fleet, the Duke of Edinburgh visited Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe near here today for a series of top-level briefings on Western Europe's defences.

He was greeted by NATO's supreme commander, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, and the deputy commander, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

The duke smilingly posed for five minutes with the Western commanders.

The duke's program today included briefings from both Gruenther and Montgomery and a tour of SHAPE facilities. He flies to Germany Thursday.

Reserve Army Shakeup, Units Substantially Cut

OTTAWA (CP)—The reserve army is to be shaken up.

Announcement was made in the Commons Monday night near the end of day-long scrutiny of the $2,000,000,000 defence appropriations, which were approved.

Number of reserve force units will be substantially reduced but there was no immediate indication which units will be disbannded or merged with others.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC — Esquimalt-Saanich), Progressive Conservative military critic, said names of units to be merged, disbanded or otherwise affected should be published as soon as possible so that commanders can plan training schedules.

Earlier, Opposition Leader Drew said the 57,000-member reserve force—to be renamed the militia—is less capable of assuming its responsibilities in case of emergency than at any time in the last 50 years.

Mr. Claxton said:

"There will be an extensive reorganization of militia units to re-

Ask UN Act On Complaint

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) The Guatemalan delegation to the United Nations reported today government forces are driving back the invaders on all sectors of the fighting in Guatemala. But the delegation said agression against Guatemala continues and asked the Security Council to take further measures against it.

Ambassador Eduardo Castillo-Arriola announced through a spokesman that nothing had been done by the agressors to comply with the Security Council resolution approved Sunday requesting an end to the bloodshed.

In Washington, it was disclosed that Guatemala had withdrawn completely her complaint of "foreign aggression" lodged with the inter-American peace commission. Apparently this was done pending the effect of the cease-fire requested by the UN.

Crushing Victory For Senator

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Maine Republicans overwhelmingly renominated Senator Margaret Chase Smith in Monday's primary election and cut down in crushing defeat the challenger she said Senator McCarthy apparently put up against her.

It was a crushing victory, by a margin of more than 5 to 1, over political novice Robert L. Jones, the Wisconsin Republican senator's 34-year-old apostle.

Nomination on the Republican ticket is normally tantamount to victory in Maine.

ALMOST SHUT OUT

Jones carried only four of 626 precincts, one of them his home city of Biddeford. In 19 others he failed to gather in a single vote, and was almost shut out in many more.

While the balloting bestowed a heavy vote of confidence on the 56-year-old Mrs. Smith and the record on which she ran, the Jones defeat scarcely could be translated into one for McCarthy, too. The Wisconsin senator never was a solid issue during the campaign, and neither contestant contended he was.

Matriculation Results Released August 9

TORONTO (CP)—Senior matriculation results for about 15,000 Ontario students will be released Aug. 9, Education Minister Dunlop announced Monday.

Dr. Dunlop said results of the marking of about 85,000 papers cannot be ready sooner if the work is to be done accurately and each candidate receives every consideration to which he is entitled.

About 600 markers will move into the University of Toronto buildings July 2 to start marking the papers.

Maj.-Gen. Keller Dies Suddenly, Headed 3rd Div.

OTTAWA (CP)—The man who commanded the first Canadians ashore when the Allies invaded Europe during the Second World War has died on his way home from a visit to his former battle ground.

The army reported the death Monday night in London of Maj.-Gen. R. F. L. Keller, whose 3rd Canadian division was the first of this country's forces to hit the Normandy beaches on D-Day.

The general suffered a severe heart attack in Caen earlier in the month which prevented his attending with other veterans the beach-head anniversary ceremonies June 6.

The army said it believed the 53-year-old retired professional soldier died of a heart attack. Gen. Keller, who lived in Kelowna, B.C., in recent years, led his troops through the Normandy landing and the battle of Caen, but within two months of the invasion's beginning, a misdirected bomb from an Allied plane ended his military career permanently.

Gen. Keller was severely wounded in the arm Aug. 9, 1944, as he and his men fought toward Falaise. He was evacuated to hospital in England and when sufficiently recovered was sent back to

Disarmament Talks End In Failure

LONDON (Reuters) — A secret five-power conference on world disarmament in session here since May 13 ended today in failure.

The conference held its last meeting this afternoon under the chairmanship of the Soviet ambassador to Britain, Jakob Malik.

Its final task was the approval of a report recording disagreement on atomic and conventional disarmament to be submitted to the United Nations disarmament commission.

The report will be published Thursday.

Iowa Battles Greatest Flood

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP) — The greatest flood crest in Iowa's history rolled down the Des Moines river valley today as state-wide peril from marauding rivers continued.

The only cheerful note was a forecast of generally fair weather for several days.

New rains in central Iowa Monday added to the flooding strain of the Des Moines river, while in the northwest the Floyd river was expected to crest today for the second time in three days at Sioux City.

More than 1,000 families are homeless and the number is expected to multiply. One drowning has been reported.

Loss in property and rich farm land will total millions of dollars.

Continue Lake Ontario Search For Missing Oshawa Youths

OSHAWA (CP)—The search continued today for two fishermen missing and feared drowned Monday night when a violent storm upset their motor boat on Lake Ontario.

Missing are Doug Stone and Fred Lewis, both of Oshawa.

Two other occupants of the boat survived. Robert Bickle, 20, swam 500 yards to shore in an effort to get help when the boat overturned on the return trip from Bowmanville to Oshawa. Vincent Gorman was picked up by a tug as he clung to the overturned craft.

VOLUNTEERED TO SWIM

Bickle said he volunteered to swim to shore after the four failed in attempts to row the boat. He left the other three clinging to the craft.

"I thought they would all be able to hang onto the boat," he said. They were all clinging to it when I left."

Gorman was taken to hospital here, suffering from exposure.

Bickle said the storm caught them at Bowmanville during a fishing trip. They waited out the worst of the wind on the beach but finally decided they could make the return trip safely.

Frost Tells Ontario:

Take Stand Against U.S. Non-Cooperation

SUDBURY (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said Monday the time has arrived for Canadians and their governments to take a firm stand against the uncooperative attiude of the United States in attempted partnership development of Canada's national and provincial resources.

"I'm sick and tired of stalling and bickering," he said.

"All we have had is trouble. During the war years when natural gas was in short supply in southwestern Ontario we had all kinds of trouble trying to get a little gas from the states.

"We try to co-operate and we make concessions," said Premier Frost. "But Canadians can develop their own resources. We have the brains and the ability—just look at the St. Lawrence seaway."

The premier made the remarks at an informal party dinner and later approved their publication.

Premier Frost asked why Canada should wait for another country to build a pipeline for gas from western Canada.

"Why should Canadians worry about the line going down into the United States?" he said.

"Why don't we just go ahead and build the pipeline through this province from Western Canada ourselves? You would soon see our neighbors to the south coming in with us. The same thing happened with the St. Lawrence seaway when we decided to go ahead anyway. I would liked to have seen that built by us."

Premier Frost was in Sudbury to attend the funeral of Ontario's lands and forests minister Gemmell who died suddenly Friday in North Bay.

Mother, Children Murdered

Police Question Two Men Along Railway

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—A second man was held for questioning today by provincial police investigating the week-end slaying of a young German immigrant mother and her two children, found dead at a smouldering backwoods cabin.

Police described him as a 30-year-old railway section worker who once was employed at Kelly Siding, 80 miles west of here on the Canadian National Railways' main line from Port Arthur to Sioux Lookout.

Previously they picked up for questioning a 48-year-old transient who formerly was a farmer near Georgetown, Ont.

Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin, 28, and her two children were found dead Saturday among the smouldering ruins of their home near the siding.

SKULL FRACTURED

Police termed her death murder fter an autopsy showed she died of a four-inch skull fracture. There was a loose rope around her neck, fragments of burned rope on her wrists and slashes on her legs.

The bodies of her children, Rhynhart, 5, and Hedwig, 10 months, were too badly burned for the cause of their deaths to be established.

Police believe Mrs. Kopplin was killed by blows to the head as she walked from an outbuilding not far from the family cabin. They believe her attacker then set fire to the cabin where the children were sleeping. The body of the mother was clad in a night-gown, housecoat and bedroom slippers when found.

Her husband, Horst Kopplin, was working at Mine C[illegible]e 200 miles from the cabin at the time. He brought his family to Canada three years ago.

Visits Council To Ask Renewal Of City Licence

Mercer V. Cooper of 769 Monaghan Rd. made a personal application to city council Monday night to have his barber licence renewed.

Mr. Cooper said the city's department of health had turned in an adverse report on his application for licence renewal, but he didn't think there was anything seriously wrong with his premises. He had water put in and now everything was "up to date."

In a meeting of the committee of the whole council later on, the medical officer of health, Dr. J. P. Wells reported that Mr. Cooper's application had been turned down because of complaints and because he had proved unable to maintain adequate health standards.

REPEATED CHECKS

Dr. Wells estimated that repeated inspections of the shop had probably cost the city about $100. Mr. Cooper had cleaned up his shop after each inspection but had then neglected it.

Ald. Stan McBride pointed out that lunch counter proprietors had been given a period of grace in which to bring their facilities up to the required standards. He wondered why the same couldn't be done for Mr. Cooper.

Dr. Wells replied that Mr. Cooper had previously been given a period of grace on the understanding that his lease would expire this year, but now he had revealed that his lease would not expire until next May. Furthermore, Mr. Cooper's shop had adequate plumbing facilities but he apparently was unable to maintain the required health standards.

The committee of the whole council approved Ald. McBride's suggestion to inform Mr. Cooper that if he complied with the city's health regulations they would consider his application for renewal of licence provided it was approved by the medical officer of health.

Barn Destroyed Loss Is $10,000

COBOURG (ENS) — A barn fire during Monday night's storm at the farm of Donald McQuaig, west of Grafton on Highway 2, incurred a loss of $10,000. Thirty-five loads of 1952 hay and 300 bushels of grain stored by neighbour Irwin Drumm were destroyed.

The fire broke out at both ends of the barn following a loud clap of thunder and a bolt of lightning. Cobourg fire department arrived at the scene quickly and, though there was sufficient water in both creek and well, they could not save the building. Flying embers endangered the McQuaig home but firemen were able to keep the building dampened down. It rained heavily during the fire let up for a while and started again today at 5 a.m. The barn was partly covered by insurance.

Pleasure Launch Explodes 3 In Hospital With Burns

STURGEON FALLS (CP)—Three persons were sent to hospital suffering burns and two others escaped serious injury Monday when a pleasure launch exploded in Minnehaha bay of the Sturgeon river.

Owned by Hendry Brothers Cartage Company of Toronto, the Roderick Dhu III was being readied for the arrival of the Hendry family for their annual holiday on Lake Nipissing, when the explosion occurred.

Leo Arcand, 25, said he saw Richard Goulais, 27, adjusting the spark plugs on the gasoline engine. Suddenly there was an explosion and Goulais was seen crawling to the edge of the dock, severely burned.

THROWN ONTO ENGINE

Mrs. Lola Galipeau, 24, a sister of Arcand was cleaning the outside walls of the cabin. The explosion threw her back onto the blazing engine. Arcand jumped from the dock to the boat and entered the inferno to take his sister out. She was badly burned on the face and body. It is believed she may lose the sight of one eye.

Mrs. Girard Arcand, who had been cleaning inside the cabin, was blown through a window.

Leo Arcand and Armand Galipeau, 25, escaped serious injury.

The fire department was unable to save the boat.

Chou Confers With Nehru

GENEVA (AP) — Red China's Chou En-lai, last of the big-name figures at the Geneva conference, will leave Wednesday for private talks with Prime Minister Nehru in India.

This was confirmed today as representatives of the six non-Communist participants in the Indo-China peace talks met to review developments of the last few days and to consider their next steps.

Included in the meeting were the delegates of Britain, France, the United States, and the Indo-China states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

They are understood to be preparing a proposal to set up a series of committees to take up specific problems, such as supervision of the proposed cease-fire, control of elections and guarantees against violation of agreements reached here.

By the time Chou leaves, direct military talks between the warring parties in Indo-China probably will have been arranged, and the major problem of halting the conflict will be in their hands.

An Indian Constellation aircraft left Bombay today to pick up Chou and his party. The group is scheduled to arrive in New Delhi Thursday.

Ontario Storms

EXPECTED TO LINGER

Forecasters said today the warm humid air in which the storms were brewed is expected to linger over most of the region throughout the day.

Two Oshawa district men were reported missing after a motorboat was capsized on Lake Ontario. In Etobicoke township, a Toronto suburb, a man was killed when two trucks collided head-on-in driving rain.

TWO STORMS IN NIGHT

One severe storm hit Toronto at dusk. Another, which weather observers said caused less damage, swept the city between 3 and 4 a. m. with thunder that awakened many residents.

Four Americans from upper New ork state were rescued by Toronto harbor police after their 21-foot sloop capsized in Lake Ontario, four miles from shore.

The four, who were sailing from Wilson, N. Y., to Toronto, are: AC3 Frank Lauer, 22, Wilson, N. Y.; his fiancee, Rose Marie Prorok, 19, Buffalo; AC1 Jack McGee, 26, and his wife, Helen, 24, bot hof Buffalo. The men are stationed at the U. S. naval air base at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

"Our big problem," said McGee, "was to stay together in the heavy swell. Frank stuck a finger through the fairlee and held Rosemarie with his other hand.

"I had quite a job keeping Helen from slipping away. It was a good thing we were wearing lifejackets and had flares."

One-Third Of World Population Constantly Faces Famine

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que. (CP)—Despite food surpluses in Canada and some other countries, one third of the world population constantly faces famine, Sir James Scott Watson of Britain told the 34th annual convention of the Agricultural Institutes of Canada today.

Sir James, director general of the national agricultural advisory service of the British ministry of agriculture, said one-third of the world's 2,500,000,000 people is "more or less" hungry and only one-third adequately fed.

To add to the problem, the world population increase has been estimated at nearly 40,000,000 a year, while in the meantime there is a "continuing attrition" of soil resources.

In densely populated areas, there was a diversion of farm lands to other uses, but the great loss was from erosion.

Despite efforts of conservation services in many countries, the over-all rate of loss through erosion is higher today than at any time, said Sir James in a prepared speech.

One estimate placed the world erosion loss at 13,000,000 acres a year—equivalent to half of England's farm lands. The bringing in of virgin land could not long continue to make good this loss.

Touching on Canada's great productivity of wheat and other grains Sir James said there was reason for fear that "agricultural protectionism and balance-of-payment difficulties" may delay any considerable expansion in effective demand for a long time.

Speeder Chased Caught In Court Pays $55 Fines

At 2:45 a.m. on the morning of April 10, OPP Constables Bob Feeley and Jim Healey were patrolling th section of highway 7 near Norwood, when a car passed them at a great rate of speed.

They chased the car all the way to Havelock village, at times reaching speeds of 80 mph. The car did not slacken its pace noticeably while going through the village of Havelock, and according to the speedometer in the police car, was then travelling at 75 mph.

Two miles past Havelock the OPP vehicle stopped the car and interviewed the driver, J. Edward Lavender of Marmora.

In court Tuesday, Lavender faced charges of exceeding speed limits on the highway and in Havelock township.

SPEEDOMETER CHECKED?

W. J. Arthur Fair, QC, representing the accused., asked Constable Feeley if he knew when the police cruiser's speedometer had last been checked, and if he could be sure it was showing a correct reading. The constable said he did not know.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, QC, asked the constable if he could perhaps give details of Lavender's speed without referring to speedometer readings.

"It was the speed that kills," commented the constable.

"Oh, no, don't give us anything dramatic," said Mr. Fair. "Tell us about the actual speed."

"Well, I am positive he was exceeding the speed limit, but I wouldn't like to give an actual estimate of the speed," said the constable.

Mr. Fair: "You will agree, constable, that it is not an unusual thing to see these Ford products travelling along at 60 to 65 miles per hour."

Consable Feeley: "It's not unusual, but it is still against the law."

Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, fined Lavender $25, costs $2.50, for exceeding the highway speed limit and a similar amount for exceeding the limit in Havelock village.

Guatemalan Army

centre after seizing the cathedral town of Esquipulas in a five-hour battle. Three Guatemalan soldiers were reported killed in that engagement.

FIGHT SEEN COMING

An informed source in this neighboring Honduran capital indicated that a fight for Zacapa is shaping up. He predicted the rebels would abandon their guerrilla tactics within the next 24 hours and seek a pitched battle with Arbenz' army.

The source also said:

1. At least two Guatemalan pilots have fled their country in training planes since the invasion began Friday.

2. Two railroad bridges at Gualan have been destroyed; sabotage along the line between Gualan and Puerto Barrios has increased; a train which left Guatemala City for the port of San Jose "simply disappeared."

3. The rebels have taken over the rail town of Morales, some 50 miles from Puerto Barrios.

4. A rebel plane machine-gunned and dropped grenades on San Jose. The rebels also announced that their planes had bombed Coban, a garrison town in central Guatemala, from a base inside the country.

The rebel radio broadcast a threat to bomb Guatemala City for the fourth time since the invasion began. The previous three bombings were by single planes and apparently did little damage.

Owner Spoils

About the same time as the OPP caught the last of the trio they found the loot—cartons of cigarettes that had been cached in a field, three miles east of the abandoned car.

As pieced together by police, here's what happened.

RENTED CAR

The three Toronto men gave a fictitious name as Selig on Monday night rented a Hertz Driv-Ur-Self car from a dealer in Toronto. They then drove to the Miller service station that has been a rewarding source of loot for thieves over the last eight years.

They drove their car into the laneway and parked outside the door, between the office and the gaoline pumps, shortly after 1 a.m. Miller who lives in a house north of the station, heard the burglar alarm bell ring as the men broke a pane of glass in the door in order to get in.

He put on a coat and pulled on a pair of pants over his pyjamas. Then he armed himself with a single-barrelled shotgun and some shells and set out to investigate.

Miller went out to the highway and edged into the driveway from the north. He approached to within 40 feet of the men, saw them filling the trunk with cigarettes, and hollered:

"Drop that stuff, you blankety-blanks."

At this challenge two of the men (in the dark Miller thought it was three) ran for the car which drove away in a hail of buckshot. Miller fired four shots at the rear tires and then Walton, who had apparently been left behind, dashed out of the service station office and tried to get in.

The fifth and final shot struck him in the right thigh and knocked him down, some 20 feet from the garage door.

"The fellow was lying there moaning and holding his leg," Miller related. "He kept asking me to get a doctor. I told him to shut up or he'd get it in the other leg."

When the injured youth fell he spilled a stolen bag of change.

RAN IN DARKNESS

Cpl. Ken Dennis of Lindsay, who was in charge of the investigation and search for the suspects, said at noon today that actually only one man, Selig, got away in the car. Walton was downed by the shotgun blast and Force ran away in the darkness.

Eighty-five pellets had struck the rear of the rented car and both tires were so badly perforated that they went flat. The vehicle was abandoned by Selig at Cunningham's Corners, a mile east of the service station.

He is believed to have carried loot (cigarettes) another couple of miles and then hid them in a farmer's field. Probably trying to get his directions Selig started walking south on the CNR tracks east of Lindsay, and that was where he was arrested by the OPP at 3:45 a.m.

OMEMEE ROADBLOCK

A Peterborough detachment under Cpl. Jack Munro and Constable Ken Barber put up a roadblock in Omemee but Selig was captured before he got that far. The search then continued for Force.

He was taken off the Peterborough - to - Toronto Colonial coach about 11 a.m. at Dale Corners. He offered no resistance and was brought back to Peterborough OPP headquarters for questioning.

Miller is an RCAF veteran who came originally from the Sunderland district. He bought the service station in 1946 and lives just north of the station wih his wife and four children.

Since operating it he has counted 15 burglaries, one as recently as a month ago. It was his first success in catching a thief.

"Miller certainly surprised those boys," chuckled one police officer. "If this was repeated a few times it would put an end to that sort of game."

late them more closely to possible wartime requirements, effective peacetime training and local support.

"The changes proposed are planned to tap the resources of interested and available personnel so as to provide the best basis for the build-up of forces that may be required in the second or later stages of another world war."

Some of the major changes:

1. Maj.-Gen. H. F. G. Letson of Vancouver, one of three reserve force officers who wrote the report is to be adviser on militia matters to the chief of the general staff.

2. Minimum attendance equivalent to 15 days' training will be necessary before a militia member is entitled to receive pay.

3. A new bonus will be paid each member attending annual camp provided he has attended not less than 75 per cent of local unit training in the six months preceding camp.

NEW TAX SYSTEM

4. Income tax will be deducted at source for all members unless a member claims that his total net taxable income is below the minimum taxable and requests that no deductions be made.

5. Present brigade and other formation headquarters will be replaced by a new type to be known as militia group headquarters.

6. A number of artillery units will be converted to armored units; "excess" anti-aircraft will be converted to other types of artillery or amalgamated with units of other corps; coast defence units will become harbor defence units.

7. A new directorate combining militia and cadets will be set up at army headquarters.

8. Additional facilities will be provided for the militia "as funds permit."

FAVORS NEW GUN

During the long debate on the service appropriations, these were some of the points made:

1. Mr. Claxton said Canada would be expected to supply a full division in Europe in event of war.

2. Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre) said the Canadian army has too little armor.

3. Mr. Claxton indicated that he favors adoption of the Belgian .300-calibre Fabrique Nationale rifle as the army's standard infantry weapon. The standard rifle now is the .303 Lee-Enfield.

4. Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North) contended that the army's equipment is inadequate and outdated.

UE Delegation Urges Seaway

A delegation from Local 524 of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (Indep.) Monday asked city council to urge the federal government to construct the St. Lawrence seaway without United States assistance.

It was decided to discuss the request at the meeting of the committee of the whole council next Monday night.

The 11-man delegation comprised the executive of Local 524. Local president Harold Signorotti was spokesman.

It was very important to the Canadian people that Canada should go ahead with construction of the seaway without United States help, especially in view of the current unemployment situation, Mr. Signorotti told council.

Between 12 and 15 thousand workers would be employed in the project, he said, and if Canada and the United States build it jointly, the United States would control the construction and the machinery would come from the United States.

He pointed out that the Wiley bill had authorized the United States government to spend $105 million on the seaway, but Canada's share of the cost was to be $300 million. Although it was mainly a Canadian waterway, except for the international rapids section, the United States would want the locks on their side of the river.

He suggested that the seaway would benefit Peterborough both in its construction and in the development of new industries. Quantities of electrical machinery, lumber, cement and other commodities would be required.

Storm Tragedy

PARIS (Reuters)—Violent hailstorms in central France Monday destroyed 70 per cent of the vineyards producing the well-known white wine of Pouilly-Sur-Loire.

Deny Hostility At Meeting

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The Ford Motor Company said Monday that a Canadian Press story was erroneous in reporting that hostility was evident Saturday at a conciliation board hearing in Ford's contract dispute with the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CL).

Ford officials said the hearing was one of the quietest in their experience.

The company said the CP story was erroneous in its summary of the seniority issue, a key point at the Saturday hearing.

Under the present contract, seniority applies to all seven Ford plants in Windsor as a group. The company asked that for seniority purposes each plant be considered a separate unit. It argued that the present system, under which a man from one plant could claim seniority in another during layoffs of more than 14 days, was expensive and wasteful.

CP described Ford's seniority demands as sudden—the company says these were given to the union in negotiations months ago.

Labor Pledges To Fight Reds

MONTREAL (CP) —John P. Burke, president of the 150,000-strong International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers (AFL), said Monday organized labor will fight communism "no matter what it takes, no matter what it costs."

Within 10 years labor would see the struggle against world communism develop until it dwarfs all other fights, he told the annual convention of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents Association.

Prof. James C. Cameron of ueen's University, Kingston, said in a paper read in his absence, that management needs to study carefully the virtues and failings of compulsory retirement.

Some employers would discover that their policies regarding older workers were "contrary to fact."

Suffers Cut On Head During Collision

Minor injuries were suffered by Samuel Keller, 684 Frank St., when the car he was driving was involved in a collision at Albert and Alfred streets Monday. Driver of the other vehicle was Gordon Stencell, RR 1, Indian River. Keller was treated at the CGE clinic for a cut on his head.

A vehicle driven by Robert Fontaine, 336 King St., collided with a car parked outside 509 Donegal St. and owned by Peter Russell, 501 Donegal St. Damage to vehicles was very light.

Constable G. J. Gillespie investigated both accidents.

Funeral Service Held For Newspaperman

CAP SANTE, Que. (CP)—Funeral services were held here Monday for Paul de Saint Georges, 54, well known Montreal newspaper man who died from a heart attack Friday at his home in Dorval, near Montreal.

Mr. Saint Georges figured in a National Hockey League controversy last winter as the ghost writer, in Samedi-Dimanche, for Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal Canadiens.

Mr. Saint Georges began newspaper work with Le Soleil of Quebec City. He later moved to Montreal and served with La Presse, Le Petit Journal, Radio Monde and Samedi-Dimanche.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Country Gentleman," oldest farm publication in the United States, will change its name to "Better Farming," Robert H. Reed, editor, announced Monday. Reed said the change, which will become effective later this year, is "more indicative of the magazine's contents." The magazine has been published 101 years by Curtis Publishing Co. Its circulation exceeds 2,600,000.

Finn Twins Jailed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Finn twins were sentenced Monday to a year in jail for what a judge called their "utter disregard of the due process of law" in making a "citizen's arrest" of a United States attorney. The twins made the unofficial arrest of U. S. Attorney Laughlin E. Waters by handcuffing him as he left a hotel last Jan. 21. The "arrest," they said, was to bring to public attention of a long, involved fight over possession of an airplane.

Not A Knock-Out In Guatemala

Compared with most revolutions in Latin American countries, the affair in Guatemala is a feeble coup d'etat: low, indecisive, a right hook which did not result in a knock-out. Generally these uprisings are over and done with in a day; the old president has fled to a neighbouring embassy and the new dictator has taken his seat, his army and his dinner—to the huzzas of henchmen below the palace balcony. Not so in Guatemala. It seems to have been a mismanaged revolution.

* * *

The apparent fumbling may be only superficial. The existing government which is being threatened is strongly Left and includes Communists. They are not ordinarily caught unprepared dissidents. Thus there is a Red core of government in Guatemala city not easily pierced. The rebellious forces of the Right have not been able to seize power over-night. Their fuse may have been too long. To invade from Honduras rather than to use a Fifth Column right in the capital is too slow for a bang-up revolution. The powder may have been a bit damp, too. The Rightist crowd has lacked harmony and cohesion.

* * *

It is possible at the moment to look at the Guatemalan affair with detachment but if it blows up into a full civil war, the involvment of outside nations might be serious. The matter is already referred to U.N. The fact that the opposing forces are Left and Right gives it an international alignment, and since Guatemala is a North American state the U.S.A. is intimately concerned. Already Russia and the U.S. have tangled over Guatemala. The U.S., unofficially of course, is in sympathy with the would-be overthrowers of the government. The U.S.S.R. supports the present regime. The U.S. tried to have the affair referred to the U.S.-dominated Organization of American States, which has its headquarters in Washington. Russia vetoed this plan. Instead, the Security Council of U.N. has intervened and asked for a cease-fire.

* * *

In order to cut the Guatemalan trouble down to local size it is important that no more foreign arms and armament be sent or lent to either side. The United States has already asked for the right to search at sea all ships likely to be bringing military equipment into the area. It has not, we note, asked to search over-land conveyances (plane, truck or train) which could easily supply arms to the revolters through Mexico, Honduras or Nicaragua.

* * *

And what of the Guatemalans themselves? We suspect that a majority of the people in that small country know little about the affair and care less. Many of the peasants are illiterate and some have never heard of the H-bomb, the Second World War, or even of New York.

Clean Milk

It may seem odd that the city of Peterborough should pay money to ensure that produce sold in town is good enough to be used here. Surely, one may ask, the producers have sufficient honesty and pride in their product to send only good and suitable material? Yet the city employs a doctor, a veterinarian, to inspect farms where milk is produced for sale in the city. On the whole the dairy-products industry is conscious of its responsibility to supply good, clean milk, and some of the dairy farmers are far more scathing in their criticism of negligent dairy farmers or dirty barns and cattle than the city's inspector. They recognize that if users of milk do not have full confidence in its safety and cleanliness the whole industry suffers.

We are pleased to note from Dr. Harnden's recent report that he has found 86 per cent. of the milk received in the city to be "satisfactory"; this compares with his finding of only 65 per cent. satisfactory at the same time last year. There are still a few farmers whose standards of cleanliness and the care of the milk between the cow and the city creamery are so lax as to make other milk producers ashamed; the reputation of the industry is marred by the carelessness, dirtiness or indifference of a few farmers.

Pasteurizing does not make dirty milk clean; it merely kills the bugs already there. Pasteurizing does not improve the quality of milk already affected by wrong temperatures at the farm, where the can of milk awaits the creamery truck. We are interested in the suggestion that a "Certificate of Quality" be issued to those dairy farmers who are really trying to give milk users excellent milk, milk from clean, tested cows, in clean milking barns, where the equipment is sterilized, the milkers are scrupulously clean themselves, and the fluid is properly stored and cooled until delivered to the creamery. The quality of milk should be beyond question.

Sweet-Toothed British

We have been surprised to learn that the British are munching candies at the highest rate in the world. If we had been told this a year ago we would not have been startled, because a general hogging of sweets then would have been due, we would tell ourself, to psychological reaction to the end of rationing.

British people did stuff themselves with candies when fourteen years' rationing ended fourteen months ago. It was compensation for years of doing without. But now the appetite for sweet should have been satiated, according to our theory. Instead, Britons are continuing to eat candy as if they were starved for it. On the average they are eating, every man, woman and child, nine ounces a week or more than twenty-nine pounds a year.

Ah! you may say, but nine ounces of candy a week is nothing compared with what the average Canadian or American consumes. That is a mistake. Americans eat, on the average, about five ounces a head each week. Canadians eat somewhat less. The Danes, Swiss, Belgians, Dutch and Swedes all eat only between three and a half and four and a half ounces a week. The French eat only two ounces. As far as comparative figures can be had, the British therefore are the biggest candy-eaters in the world.

What is the explanation? Greed? Need? We suggest the latter. Sugar is a very important source of energy. Canadians and Americans get a lot of sugar in their food—which is on the whole much sweeter than British food. Britons take more sugar directly, to the joy and profit of British candy-makers. Another part of the explanation is this: Canadians and Americans smoke more cigarettes than Britons, because the price of cigarettes is very high in Britain; cigarettes are even more heavily taxed there than here. Candy is a notorious consolation of non-smokers and of smokers who want to limit their use of cigarettes.

Characteristic Ottawa

The Ottawats are going to celebrate the centenary of their town on July 1st Plans were made for a big show. As is to be expected of the citizens of Ottawa, the affair was to be a combined federal-civic enterprise; in other words, the Federal Government would provide a good bit of the show free, at no cost to the municipal rates. Perhaps there is nothing wrong with this. Government is Ottawa's chief industry, and when places like Peterborough, Perth or Penticton have Old Home Week or some such, the chief industries there are expected to provide a float or two; or to let their veterans off work for a couple of hours so that they may parade.

A parade was planned for July 1st in Ottawa. The city's regiment, the Cameron Highlanders, were to lead the march past. That is all right. But—and this is characteristic of Ottawa—Mayor Whitton planned to take the salute. This is of course against custom and propriety—not because Mayor Whitton is a woman, but because the salute on July 1st in the capital can be taken only by the sovereign, the sovereign's representative, the Minister of National Defence, or high-ranking officers. Miss Whitton is none of these. But she is Mayor of Ottawa. As such she or somebody on her behalf around the non-existent Ottawa City Hall, decided that the city's part in the centennial observances would take place on August 2nd. Whether or not the Cameron Highlanders will march then and Miss Whitton take the salute we do not know.

The situation now is that the big civic centenary celebration of July 1st will be staged completely by the Federal Government. We suggest, therefore, that the centenary be put out of mind completely on that day, and that the Government concentrate on its proper Federal festival observance, the 86th birthday of the Dominion of Canada. And when August 2nd (Civic Holiday), comes along, let municipal Ottawa stage the whole show—at municipal Ottawa's expense.

NOTES AND COMMENT

So often the trouble with a man who is trying to stage a comeback is that he never went far enough in the first place.

In August in Toronto the Fifth International Congress on Mental Health will be held. The theme of the Congress is "Mental Health in Public Affairs", which, according to a publicity handout, is "a topic worthy of the attention of all good citizens". Sure is, what with all those crazy politicians and grandeur-deluded civil servants in Ottawa and Queen's Park.

RESULTS OF GENEVA

What British 'New Look'?

By NORA BELOFF

IT IS NOW almost two months since Sir Winston Churchill, British Premier, told the House of Commons that Britain would undertake no new commitments in Asia "until the results of the Geneva conference are known." His decision to call on President Eisenhower next week, according to British officials here, implies that he and Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, now feel that at least enough of the "results of the Geneva conference" are known to enable British and Americans to start plotting the way ahead.

Broadly speaking, proceedings of this conference, and Communist China's first public appearance on the international scene, have seemed to confirm that the Chinese will push local Communism in neighbouring countries by every means short of war, and that they are ready even to risk war itself rather than to allow pro-American forces to re-establish themselves on their Korean or Indo-Chinese frontiers.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE FIRST public result of Geneva has been the failure of the conference not only to unify Korea but even to reduce tensions and consolidate the truce.

On the contrary, when the Korean conference broke up last Tuesday the chances of the peaceful co-existence of North and South seemed slighter than when the conference began. Within twenty-four hours the South Koreans announced that they no longer felt bound by the armistice terms, and drew attention to the fact they now have an independent army of twenty divisions which they feel free to use. The Northerners, without directly threatening force, called a Press conference to denounce South Korea's Syngman Rhee's alleged "fascist reactionary regime," and indicated that they would be happy to support resistance and revolution against it.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE WEST came out of the encounter in astonishing disarray. When the Russians proposed a non-commital resolution simply favouring the maintenance of peace in Korea, Mr. Bedell Smith, the U.S. delegate, turned it down on the grounds this was already provided for under the armistice. In next to no time, his own South Korean friends announced that the armistice no longer applied.

A Chinese proposal for a resolution favouring renewed efforts by this conference to unite Korea at a later date was turned down by the Americans in favour of turning the whole problem back to the U.N.; but most of the delegations present privately sympathised with the Chinese retort that they were not in the United Nations, and that it was nonsense to discuss the pacification and unification of Korea without them.

The West lost on propaganda points, although there was an overwhelming case for winding up a conference which never had a serious chance of uniting Korea. The Communists and the UN had fought to a standstill and sacrificed hundreds of thousands of lives rather than accept giving up their slice of Korea to the other side. It was inconceivable that what they had refused at such high cost on the battlefield would be tamely handed back round the conference table.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT WAS instructive to note that though the Communists were evidently anxious to keep the conference going and would probably have given a lot to reduce tensions and get the Americans out of Korea, the Chinese never made the least concession on the central issue of the role of the United Nations. Even though the UN delegates pointed out that the UN control on which they insisted could be implemented by UN members who had not fought in Korea, and even though on other issues the Chinese seemed ready for concessions and even agreed to foreign supervision of free elections — a principle no Communist had ever conceded before — they remained adamant in their boycott of the UN.

Their whole attitude seemed to confirm the case pleaded by India's Mr. Krishna Menon, Mr. Nehru's representative here, and privately backed by certain British delegates, that effective negotiations would be impossible until Communist China replaces the Nationalist Government on Formosa at the UN.

✧ ✧ ✧

ON Indo-China the results of Geneva are not yet finally known, and the situation is less embroiled and perhaps less dangerous than it was when the conference began. The French, as the last Parliamentary vote showed, are evidently determined to wind up the war on the best terms they can get, and it seems reasonable to expect that the Vietnamian nationalists will remain in possession of part of the country and receive assistance and encouragement from the Western allies in the hope that the country can be progressively detached from China and organised to resist the encroachment of a regime which would put China in effective control.

What the line between the Communist and non-Communists zones will be will depends on the military balance of power: at no point since the siege of Dien Bien Phu began have the prospects of foreign aid to the French seemed more remote.

On Laos and Cambodia, the other two Associated States of Indo-China, last week's proceedings open up a hope that the Communists may be ready for a deal which would involve neutralising the two little kingdoms in return for the withdrawal of the Vietminh battalions which have crossed their frontiers. There is no serious military possibility of defending the jagged and prolonged frontiers of Laos and Cambodia, but the British at least feel that if both sides agree at Geneva to follow a hands-off policy, the two kingdoms may, with economic and material aid, be able to hold down internal opposition; otherwise they are virtually indefensible.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE CHINESE ATTITUDE at Geneva has convinced the Western delegates, Americans included, that the real Communist threat in South east Asia is not overt aggression but Chinese support for internal Communist movements wherever they are effective in neighbouring States. This plainly demands a new kind of thinking and preludes ready-made defence lines and declarations of "so far and no further." This was the principle on which the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation was formed; but none of the Nato countries would fall to Communism unless they were occupied by foreign Communist armies: in Asia the danger is disintegration from within.

The "new look" which the British, anyway, hope will be clarified after next week's Washington talks, and for which the background has been prepared in Geneva, would place the principal emphasis on organising and helping non-Communist countries in dealing with the internal threat. Countries would be protected against external aggression only so far as they sought and seemed to deserve protection, and not as a condition of co-operation and aid.

The Western Powers would then hold firmly to commitments based on the recent assessment of what is militarily possible, and avoid sabre-rattling and bombastic threats of massive reprisal against any Communist success anywhere which could only end at Dien Bien Phu — when the enemy called the bluff — or else in the beginning of the next world war.

The Hundred Fields

By LORD DUNSANY

(This new essay by the famous Anglo-Irish man of letters, Lord Dunsany, is here published by special arrangement.)

I WENT the other day through a garden, past all the last of the peonies, where the veronica was blooming still and the roses were in their glory, and then through a little wood and out among briar-roses and thorns of a wild hillside whose grasses are no longer cut for hay, because the hill is so steep that only man could mow it, and man has grown tired of late and on this hill the machine is unable to help him. And here one is tempted to say that the world was happier under the dominion of man, before he gave that dominion to the machine, as the mammoth and the sabre-toothed tiger had to yield it to him. But I check myself as I realise that the reader is able to do his own moralising.

On this hill, then, among the plumed grasses, above my head as I sat amongst them lazily, is to be seen the view of the hundred fields. As I like accuracy, I began to count them and have so many times, from which I have slowly learned that it is impossible. I will not therefore tell of them in any order, for they are not laid out in any order at all, but are just thrown down by the ages, in such a way that one wonders that the ages could be so hap-hazard.

Sometimes, as Mother Earth closed her eyes in a moment of weariness in her old age, though whether her sister planets count her old or young I don't know, a listlessness is over the hundred fields. Then a high field under dim woods that lie on the skyline shines out and the shadows of clouds drift slowly away, and field by field catches the sunlight and it as though dimple by dimple Mother Earth smiled, until all her face was shining. In that smile one sees so clearly the colours of all her fields that one can guess what crops they hold, but no more than guess.

The orderly jungle of hops one can see in one field for certain. Beside it is a neat and tidy field that is evidently meadow, and adjoining it is a wild one tinged with brown and dotted with little bushes, across which something goes that is like a rather large ladybird, but which must really be a child in a red dress. Above that shines a field of uncut hay, with an old scar in it upon which the grass still grows with a darker green, the scar of a wound that is nearly twelve years old. And to the left of that is a field with nine straight stripes, brilliant green, darker green, and sienna-coloured soil, as though Mother Earth had decked herself with a little bright scarf.

One of these stripes, the dullest, would be strawberries, as one can guess from the number of people working there; and the dark-green one might be potatoes, and the brilliant green over which the wind is running must be some corn-crop in its young days. In that field is a smaller scar, round and white where the chalk was blown up through the soil, and where nothing grows yet.

NEXT to that field, still going to the left, is a field of hay half cut, and with a haystack already standing by its hedge, with sunlight on its southern slope as well as its northern one, and shadow lying on its eastern side. Above that lies a field so blue that it might hold cabbage, were it not for a waft of the wind which now and then changes its colour, as the touch of a hand will change the colour of velvet. But even without the wind it might not be hard to tell that that blend of jade and turquoise could only be wheat.

Always to the right lies a park, still sheltered by old woods, but with thrifty cultivation where once there were herds of deer; so that it looks like a great robe lying upon the hills, patched but still serviceable to the needs of a changed age. Outside its noble folds lies a field with some humble crop, turnip or cabbage, illuminated by the pale-gold flash of mustard which has somehow strayed among it.

And down below all these the Darenth flows, hidden beneath its banks, through pastures from which the larks arise to sing, high up above the uncounted hundred fields. But, hidden though Darenth is, one little strip of her water shows clearly from where I sit, as though a naiad glanced at me over her shoulder, while all but her smiling face was discreetly hidden by reeds.

Shadows, silvery grey, glide down from woods and steal over every field from single trees; amid the deeps of the elms the darker shadows grow bluer, and the mystery of far hills comes nearer the valley, a mystery I was about to try to interpret, when a wood-pigeon called from a beech tree, and I suddenly felt, and how rightly, that the pigeon was familiar with all such mysteries, taught by some lore beyond aught I shall ever learn.

India To Build Own Tanks

By PHILIP DEANE

TANKS for the Indian Army will no longer be imported but will be built in India in an effort to modernise the armed forces and make them independent of seaborne supplies in the event of a blockade.

This development coming at the same time as indications that the Communist advance in Indo-China are worrying the Indian Government, is giving rise to speculation here and may cause some reaction in Pakistan.

One British firm, Leyland's, and one German firm, Daimler-Benz, are competing for the contract to build tanks and the Indian Government is expected to choose between the two at a Cabinet meeting in the very near future.

The German firm has bought a thirteen-and-a-half ton French prototype, the DMX built by the Forges Et Chantiers De La Mediterranee. This tank has been brought to India and has been exhibited to the Army. With extra armour and a bigger motor it would weight seventeen tons. Indian military experts, I am told, would however, like a heavier tank with more belly-armour against land-mines. They are also aware of the fact that the Germans, although they have the blueprints for the DMX, have no actual experience in building it. The German firm, it is pointed out, has not had any tanks in production during the last ten years. The Daimler-Benz factory at Stuttgart, which would be the parent plant, was completely destroyed in World War Two, and has since been rebuilt with American help. Constructing a tank in India would enable German technicians to become familiar again with tank production problems and might be useful in the event of German rearmament.

What the Germans offer as inducement to the Indian army is their willingness to plan for the eventual complete manufacture of tanks in India with no imported parts.

Leyland's plan apparently also has the ultimate objective of constructing a tank using all Indian parts. The tank offered by the British is the thirty-five ton Centurion, which can fire while in motion thanks to its stabilised turret. The Centurion, would, of course, cost more than the DMX.

If either firm gets the contract it will be because both are willing to fall in with Mr. Nehru's wishes to make the Indian industry independent to imports.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version).

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd. Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; prey ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest (Matt. 9: 35-38).

✧ ✧ ✧

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. (Matt. 10: 1).

✧ ✧ ✧

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth! . . . The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God. (Isa. 52:7, 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven . . . O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day . . . Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart. (Ps. 119: 89, 97, 111.)

Doctors Denounce Fee-Splitting

(Windsor Star)

The Canadian Medical Association has acted in conformity with the fine traditions of the profession when, in convention in Vancouver, it forthrightly denouced fee-splitting and put on record its offical opposition to the practice.

It is an evil which has caused serious concern to those who have pride in the high ethics of the profession, and who wish to maintain those ethics without blemish.

It is a practice which has become prevalent in certain parts of this continent and against which action has been taken elsewhere. It is recognized that, unless checked, it could envelop the entire profession.

Fee-splitting is a system whereby a general practioner, having a patient requiring surgery or special medical attention, recommends a surgeon or specialist. Then the surgeon or specialist collects his fee from the patient and makes a rebate of part of it to the doctor who referred the patient to him.

The dangers are obvious. Unless the private doctor is exceptionally ethical and strong-willed he is tempted to recommend the surgeon who will make the most substantial rebate. Conversely, there is a temptation for surgeons to outbid each other in making rebates, to secure plenty of patients.

This system has been described by one doctor as "sale of patients to the highest bidder." This perhaps is an extreme statement of the situation but has an element of truth in it. The Canadian Medical Association itself now says the practice is "unethical and may lead to dishonesty."

Speculating Why U.S. Remains Silent

By SYDNEY GAMPELL

LONDON (Reuters) — As the week-end lull in the international wheat council's conference ended Monday many delgeates speculated on why the United States has taken none of the initiatives expected of it.

Last Wednesday there were serious suggestions that the U. S. would offer wheat at the minimum price and call upon importing countries to honor their obligation to take up their quotas at that price.

But apparently the U. S. has done nothing of the sort. The American delegate, who was expected to be the most eloquent person here, is reported among the most taciturn.

Instead, the importers have taken the initiative, with the Belgian proposal for a United Nations conference to frame a new international wheat agreement more comprehensive than the present one, which covers only about a third of the total international wheat trade.

IT MIGHT NOT WORK

Informally, various delegates and other experts consider that as the present agreement year is nearing its end, there is no time to enforce the import quotas. If the U. S. or any other country wants to cut its wheat export price to the minimum, all that the conference could do would be to tell it to go ahead. Some remarkable things might happen, but nobody can know in advance.

Until it had offered wheat at the minimum price for at least some months, the exporting country plainly could not complain at lack of response by importers. There might not be any lack of response.

There has been no suggestion that any importing country would want to evade its obligation. But the agreement does provide certain escape clauses—particularly for currency of payment and for quality of the wheat. Among lawyers and civil servants it might take months to sort out, and by that time the agreement year might have ended.

Lt.-Col. Harkness Asks Casualty Lists Speeded

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. Douglas Harkness (PC — Calgary North) Monday night asked that the armed forces take steps to relieve the anxiety of close relatives by announcing quickly the identities of servicemen killed in air crashes.

He said in the Commons that he realizes the need for first notifying the next-of-kin of a serviceman killed in an air crash. But until a general announcement is made of the identities all relatives suffered considerable agony of mind reading and listening to reports of fatal crashes.

Defence Minister Claxton said every effort is made by the forces to notify next-of-kin as quickly as possible. The fastest means of communication available was used to locate a service padre or clergyman who could break the news of death.

Mau Mau Continues Despite Hangings

By FRED ZUSY

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — The young man sat in the prisoner's box, his black skin shining with sweat, his legs shackled in irons.

Behind him in the high-panelled courtroom stood two African policemen armed with rifles, red fezes cocked on their heads. The voices of witnesses droned in the heat like persistent flies, echoed by the voice of the translater who added each time, "Yes, m'Lord," or "No, m'Lord" to the wigged and black - robed judge on the bench. Barefoot native assessors, who act as advisers to the court on questions of fact, listened gravely.

The man was Miano, son of Ngemwe. He had been caught up in the reign of terror known as Mau Mau which may some day be a mere footnote in the annals of the Empire. But today, in the dense forests and dry uplands of Kenya, it is a life-or-death struggle between the whites who came to tame the land and the blacks who would drive them out.

STOPPED SYSTEM

A patrol of the King's African Rifles — black troops with white officers — captured Miano on a banana plantation last Feb. 6 as they chased a gang of suspected Mau Mau.

From the witness stand a corporal and a sergeant testified that Miano raised a home-made rifle to fire at the pursuing troops but dropped it when he saw the corporal was armed with a Sten gun.

No, protested Miano, when he took the stand. The gun was not his. The troops forced it on him. Speaking quickly in Swahili, Miano said he was an unwilling captive of the Mau Mau.

"I have betrayed Mau Mau and would be killed by them," he said. "I will point out the medicine man who advises Mau May where and when to attack."

The native assessors looked at Miano thoughtfully. The judge was silent.

Now Miano cried he's been hung from a tree with his wirsts bound so that a confession could be wrung from him.

BUT MIANO WAS HANGED

The court and the assessors studied his wrists. They noted mark "of some sort." But there were no marks on his neck.

His court - appointed counsel rose and said that many innocent Africans were used by Mau Mau as carriers and coolies.

But the prosecutor cited the damning evidence: Miano and his gang were in a prohibited area when the King's Rifles found them.

On a recent evening Miano, son of Ngemwe, was marched out to a scaffolding. The hangman's rope was placed around his neck. The trapdoor was sprung. Presently Miano was dead.

He was one of 14—their ages ranging from 24 to 37—hanged between 8 p. m. and 5:30 a. m. that night after being duly tried before justices of the Kenya Supreme Court.

Since Mau Mau erupted in October, 1952 a total of 390 Kenya blacks have been executed in this fashion. They die for illegal possession of firearms or ammunition, for murder, for consorting with unlawfully armed persons, or for taking part in Mau Mau oath ceremonies.

The Mau Mau ritual includes bestiality, cannibalism, such acts as picking out a dead person's eyes and drinking the fluid from the sockets.

Mau Mau have killed close to 1,000 Africans, more than 20 Europeans and more than 20 Asians. Crown forces are steadily making inroads in the ranks of the fanatics, killing about 200 and capturing about 50 every month. Yet still the Mau Mau bathe Kenya in blood, raiding remote ranches and settlements.

The most difficult problem of the settlers is the fact that the Mau Mau draws its membership from the Kikuyu, the tribe from which Europeans have drawn most of their farm and domestic workers. Thus Kikuyu, who by day appear to be passive workers, at night may be taking part in the ghastly rites and grim activities of Mau Mau.

Many Candidates In Cabinet Shuffle

By FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Political pundits around Parliament hill now are engaged in one of their favorite pastimes—shuffling the cabinet.

Likelihood of a shuffle has been bandied about since last April after Finance Minister Abbott said he had brought down his 10th and last budget.

The pundits agree about one thing—that there will be a shuffle. Unanimity ends there.

Some say it will be done in one quick upheaval; others that it will come in two stages—a minor shift now and a bigger rearrangement before members gather again in the fall.

It's impossible to sort fact from fancy.

SAY GARSON HAPPY

Let's start with 55-year-old Mr. Abbott. The gossip has three versions: that he will become chief justice of the Supreme Court, succeeding Hon. Thibaudeau Rinfret who retired today; that he will become a junior member of the court with Hon. Roy L. Kellock becoming chief justice; that he will switch jobs with either Justice Minister Garson or Revenue Minister McCann.

Some observers say Dr. McCann, 67, would like the finance portfolio because Mr. Garson is quite happy with justice where the big job of revising the Criminal Code has been completed; others say the revenue minister is headed for the Senate where there now are 18 vacancies.

Then there's Transport Minister Chevrier. He has been mooted as the choice to head the St. Lawrence seaway authority.

Others think Mr. Chevrier will decline the seaway job and that it will go to General A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the international joint commission.

During the last few days Defence Minister Claxton has been rumored as getting out of the government to become president of an insurance company. Mr. Claxton has made no comment.

The possibilities have caused confusion among the pundits and probably a headache for Mr. St. Laurent who also has come in for his share of speculation.

It was suggested after his round-the-world trip that the 72-year-old prime minister was ready to retire.

North Toronto Triumphant Over P-W Club By 50 Runs

North Toronto defeated Peterborough-Whitaker "A" cricket club by 50 runs in a match at Toronto. Clark and F. Booth opened the attack against T. Foster and W. Leach, the home pair gradually gaining the upper hand and it was not until a double bowling change was made that Peterborough had its first success. Leach was caught by W. Cridland off G. Smith for 36. In the next over, Foster was bowled off his pads by Smith for 26, making it 67 for two. J. Goddard was getting into his stride when caught at fine leg by sub-fielder D. Bloomer for 15.

The fall of three wickets put P-W bowlers on top. E. Cotton and Smith bowled steadily to give batters trouble then, five wickets falling cheaply, three being clean bowled by Cotton with Smith taking the other two. The scoreboard read 95 for eight and, though R. Sutton went after the bowling, the North Toronto inning closed for 117 with Sutton 13 not out. Cotton and Smith bowled well, having three for 19 and five for 35 respectively, with W. Cridland giving good support behind the stumps.

A POOR START

Peterborough got off to a bad start with E. Bedford and D. Whittaker losing in the first two overs for five runs, both clean bowled by D. Gooding and Sutton respectively.

Booth and G. Smith gradually mastered the bowling and took the count to 45 before Smith was caught by Goddard off B. Topping for 24. T. Smith joined Booth in a useful stand which saw 18 more scored before Booth was caught behind the wicket for 34 off Goddard.

At this point, the P-W batting collapsed badly, the next five falling for only four runs. Goddard and Toppin did the damage for the home side, Goddard having three for three, and Topping four for 14. The Peterborough inning closed at 67, five of the players having got "ducks".

TICKET AND CUTS

NEW YORK (AP) — Hoyt Wilhelm, workhorse relief pitcher of the New York Giants, was in his customary place in the bullpen Monday despite injuries suffered in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Original reports on the 20-year-old righthander's injuries indicated they were serious but a later examination showed no harmful effect. Wilhelm suffered leg lacerations and bruises on the right arm.

The accident, which occurred on the Waw Mill river parkway near Yonkers, N.Y., involved the car driven by Wilhelm and one driven by a parkway policeman. The policeman and two others also suffered slight injuries. Wilhelm was given a summons for failing to yield the right of way to a police vehicle.

A GOOD TEST

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Giel, the $50,000 bonus baby of New York Giants; will pitch against Boston Red Sox in the Red Cross exhibition game here next Monday night, manager Leo Durocher said Monday.

Giel joined the Giants 10 days ago and has been working out under pitching coach Frank Shellenback.

"The time has come to test him under competitive conditions and the Red Sox game is ideal for the purpose," Durocher said. "I'm sure he'll be able to help us."

Anne Sharp Strong Threat In Ladies' Open

TORONTO (CP) — Defending champion Anne Sharp of Lookout Point Golf Club, Fonthill, loomed as a strong threat to repeat her 1953 performance as she shot a three-over-par 80 in the qualifying round of medal play in the Ontario ladies' open golf championship Monday.

Marion Walker of Toronto, Mississaugua was only one stroke off Miss Sharp's pace with an 81.

Of the 134 entrants competing in the medal play Monday 110 are from Toronto and suburbs and 24 from out of town. They go into match play today.

Four players turning in scores of 83 included Mary Gay of Kitchener.

DOUBLE ELIMINATION

The tournament is a double elimination event. Losers today will go into consolation eights the next day. The semi-finals will be played Thursday, with the 36-hole final scheduled for Friday.

The championship flight card, with the scores posted by the players in the qualifying medal play Monday, includes:

Rose Kampman, Kitchener, (43-44—87) vs. Mrs. J. R. Godson, Toronto, (44-41—85).

Mrs. J. H. McCarter, Toronto, (43-40—83) vs. Mrs. L. Ross, Cobourg (43-46—89).

Noreen Laing, Toronto (44-44—88 vs. Mary Gay, Kitchener, (39-44—83).

Furgol Overcame Handicap To Capture Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Furgol's surprising victory in the United States national open golf tournament last week-end is a monument to a flaming, unbreakable spirit which wouldn't accept defeat.

Few, if any, national champions have had to overcome the handicaps, hardships and vicissitudes which blocked this lean St. Louis golf pro's road to final success.

"It seems I've always been trying to prove something to myself," Furgol said. "I knew I some day would and I did."

As a boy of 12, he fell from parallel bars on a playground and smashed his left elbow, leaving a withered arm 10 inches shorter than the right.

ALMOST DIED

For years after that he was virtually one-armed. He couldn't button his shirts or tie his shoes. Once he nearly died from poisoning, which he attributed to anaesthetics given him to kill the intense pain of his injury.

Son of an immigrant Polish machinist, he was one of five children two boys and two girls who had to help the family make ends meet. He helped his father hand-hoe a 1½-acre plot of ground for food. He caddied and worked as a metal polisher for additional funds.

He beat his physical handicap by strengthening his hands and his shoulders. He became a good golfer, but not a great one. For seven years as a touring pro he played in every major tournament more than 200 of them—and never won a first prize.

But he never quit hoping—"I knew some day I'd win the open," he said.

Cricket Board Names Team

TORONTO (CP)—Final selection of the team to represent Canada in the United Kingdom this summer was made Monday by the Canadian Cricket Association board of control. Fifteen players will make the trip.

The names of 13 players had been announced previously, but Leslie Wight, Toronto, former West Indies test player, was unable to accept and his place will be taken by Ken Trestrail of Toronto. The team was completed by the naming of two others, Harold Padmore, captain of the Verdun, Que., club, and E. H. M. Burn of St. Catharines.

Padmore, a fast bowler, played against the touring Marylebone Cricket Club in 1951 and Burn, Ridley College master, is a former captain of Manitoba. He is a good opening batsman.

That heavy thunderstorm that hit around seven o'clock last evening not only caused the Tip Top Tailors games to be postponed but also forced the committee to change the setup of the tournament.

As far as the men are concerned, they will play two 10-end games this evening in the Tip Top Tailors' competition, commencing at seven o'clock sharp, and most likely the Thursday game will be as first scheduled.

Regarding the ladies' section, they will play tonight as scheduled before and further announcements will be made regarding future games.

All players are requested to make note of these changes.

GRANT'S SPORT CORNER

By DON GRANT

Joe Lowrey is a little man with a big beef today, one which we think he's fully justified in having.

Joe's just a little peeved about the conditions under which the baseball Petes were forced to play in Toronto Sunday. From start to finish the doubleheader with Dependables wasn't too pleasing.

First of all the Petes, especially Coach Lowrey, didn't know they had to play Sunday until Joe saw the announcement of the doubleheader in the Toronto morning paper Thursday.

But that way of informing Peterborough teams about games is not unusual in baseball or other sports. It seems league officials prefer to notify the Toronto scribes first, the teams second.

But most important, Joe's biggest complaint, is about the facilities at the ball park. Since Millen stadium was in use (the soccer boys were playing) the games were switched to the park at Main and Gerrard Sts. The facilities there were terrible.

No Place to Change

"When we got there," said Joe, "there were no facilities to change. The game didn't start until 1:50 p.m.; the park caretaker hadn't been notified. And to make matters worse there weren't any showers."

Apparently the players had to change into ball clothes either in the cars or behind a shed.

"What we're beefing about most is the lack of showers. We go a 100 miles to play ball and then have to come home dirty. There's a new arena going up there, they could have let us change there."

With heat still under his collar came to his punch line.

"We pay $35 for them to come here and then we go there for that treatment."

With a what's-the-use sigh Joe finished up by saying: "We probably won't have to play there again, but once is enough."

The whole business, no caretaker, no place to change and no showers (there was a hose for washing hands and feet) shows poor management on the part of league officials. They knew the games were scheduled and also knew the games were slated for the alternate stadium.

Therefore we see on reason why arrangements weren't made to have accommodation at a nearby YMCA or hotel for changing and showers.

And in all it's poor publicity for the teams, players, the league and baseball.

Pitching Trouble

The Petes are having other troubles. The pitching staff isn't as strong as they would like to see it. Several recent games would probably have been saved if a good reliefer had been available.

The scarcity of jobs has much to do with the pitching troubles. The Petes would have imported several players, including at least one pitcher, if jobs had been available. Since the players get little or nothing (usually nothing) for playing, they like to have a job to make their stay in Peterborough a profitable one.

The situation at present is acute for both the senior baseball and lacrosse teams. They have "home" players without work already without importing others.

Just the same the Petes are hoping for some improvement in the pitching staff, quite probably soon.

When someone sends in a newsy item, we make every effort for it to hit the paper, but Monday we slipped up. So today we'll make a special mention of the UEW-Belleville game.

Our lads who have been a powerhouse in soccer for several seasons and turned on the current for a 4-1 victory Saturday. Hoyle first with Strong, then with Holroyd, gave UEW a 2-0 half time score. In a close second half Biddle took over the UEW scoring, combining with Hoyle for his first making the score 3-0 before Belleville finally scored. Biddle also finished the scoring with his second goal.

Quite a following now attend the soccer games at Morrow and King Edward parks and they see some pleasing action from the three Peterborough entries. We suggest you joining them along the sidelines.

Swimmers On Show

Pansy Forbes reminds us that the ornamental swimmers perform tonight, Wednesday and Thursday at the Lions' pool in Ashburnham. The wizard of synchronized swimming will have some 68 girls, plus a few boys from the YMCA leadership training course, portraying the fairy tale, the Wizard of Oz.

Proceeds from the three-night show (there's also a show in Lindsay on Saturday) will be for the club's travel fund which takes them to Chicago (the U.S. indoor championships) and to Mexico City (the Pan-American Games).

The club team, making appearance in the British Empire Games and the Canadian championship in Vancouver in July, have been asked to perform at Banff. But there's no definite decision as yet.

Marlene Back In Britain Finds Difference This Time

LONDON (CP)—Marlene Stewart, the Fonthill golfing lass who specializes in championships, is back in Britain to defend her amateur crown but somehow "it's different this time," she said Monday.

The bronze-haired 20-year-old, dubbed "Little Miss Maple Leaf" last year by British sports writers on her first appearance here, arrived Sunday by air to defend her title. She talked today about how it feels to be defending champion.

"Last year, I didn't know what to expect and I just played golf.

STARTS PRACTICE

"Of course, that's all I have to do this year if I want to win.

"Confidence? I guess I have it. It just seems different this year."

Her arrival—in her Stewart plaid suit—was a front-page item in Monday's newspapers. She immediately joined up with her mother and younger sister Dolly who crossed earlier by ship.

The Stewart trio left Monday for Ganton, a few miles inland from the Yorkshire coastal town of Scarborough, where Marlene anticipates six days of stiff practice. She doesn't plan to concentrate on any one part of her game.

Dispute Has Good Effect, Zernial Clicks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—And so Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial were reconciled, and the Philadelphia Athletics lived happily ever after.

The time element in that statement is somewhat exaggerated, but the fact remains that since manager Joost reinstated Zernial in the A's line-up following their recent flare-up, the A's have won seven of nine games.

Moreover, Big Gus has been playing better than ever. He's hit safely five times in 10 trips to the plate, and was largely responsible for three of the Philadelphia wins. Joost hopes he does as well against the first-place Cleveland Indians tonight.

Some second-guessers are saying the Joost-Zernial tiff was one of the best things that could have happened to the sliding, hapless club.

DUGOUT DISPUTE

Their row was a publicly-conducted affair 10 days ago. Gus and his manager were seen in the throes of an arm-waving hassle in front of the A's dugout in the early stages of a game with Detroit Tigers.

Zernial was more than a little put out about being benched previously, and the fact he was that night put into the sixth spot in the batting order instead of his customary clean-up position. The dispute ended with Gus being sent to the showers.

The next day Joost, after a conference with Zernial in the office of general manager Earle Mack, announced Gus had been fined $250.

Two days later, a much-cooled-off Zernial stated publicly that he was ready to take orders. He said he was prepared to play when asked, sit on the bench if necessary and keep his mouth closed.

Sacrifice Fly Restored, Works Out Fine

NEW YORK (AP)—The sacrifice fly, revived after 14 years to hike baseball's batting averages, is doing its job in a big way.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that the restored rule generally has increased hitting percentages three points over what they would have been without the regulation.

A total of 314 sacrifice flies have been hit in the majors, lifting the over-all average in both circuits from .257 to .260. The National League has accounted for 160 SFs and the American 154.

Three players—Gil Hodges of Brooklyn, Andy Pafko of Milwaukee and Mickey Vernon of Washington—have better than .300 because of the sacrifice fly.

LEADS LEAGUES

Hodges has hit the most sacrifice flies in the major leagues—eight—and is 11 points to the good with a current mark of .309. He would be batting .298 under last year's rules.

The revived regulation gives a sacrifice, instead of a time at bat, to a player who scores another with a fair fly ball. It was written into the rules last November after having been dropped prior to the 1940 season.

When the rule was revived, experts said long-ball hitters would benefit the most from it. Yet Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, Ralph Kiner of the Cubs and Ray Boone of the Tigers have still to hit their first.

Papers Remake For Landy Story

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australian morning papers remade their front pages today to report in late editions John Landy's record-smashing 3:58 mile at Turku, Finland.

"Landy does it," said the Sun in its top story.

"Another miracle" said the Daily Mirror in letters 1½ inches high.

For more than a year Australians had been expecting Landy to break the four-minute barrier. They were surprised when Roger Bannister beat him to it, but remained confident that their boy also would turn in the miracle mile.

Landy's mother, Mrs. C. G. Landy, was awakened at 3:30 a.m. by Melbourne newspapers telling her of John's feat. She promptly cabled him: "Thrilled with superb run. Love, mother."

Three-Horse Entry Finishes 1-2-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran trainer Jim Fitzsimmons sent out a three-horse entry that finished one-two-three in Monday's fourth race at Aqueduct, the first time such a thing has happened at the New York track in 30 years.

Gallair, the winner, is owned by Mrs. Whitney Stone; First Flower, which took second money, is owned by the Belair Stud; and Searching, third to finish, is owned by Ogden Phipps. All are trained by Fitzsimmons, who will be 80 on July 23.

Winnie Roach Suggests Channel Swimming Rules

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It is generally known that there are set regulations governing such arresting endeavors as weight lifting and marathon running, and even wrestling on television has a certain pattern of rules. But there is a shocking shortage of uniformity in still another appealing activity.

This is in channel swimming, and this laxity concerns Canada's leading swimmer of channels, Winnie Roach of St. Thomas, Ont.

Miss Roach is an authority because she has swum the English channel and is out here getting ready to do likewise to the Catalina island channel in July.

Miss Roach—in private life Mrs. Morris Leuzler—is peculiar in the channel - swimming sorority because she is a pretty blonde. The mother of three tots, she is streamlined more like a porpoise than a tugboat.

The 28-year-old Winnie says there are such variations of race conduct as knee-to-knee competition and beach-to-beach. Also shore to-shore.

MAY BE EMBARRASSING

Knee-to-knee, it may be explained, means a swimmer starts out in water up to the knee and is considered finished when water the same depth is reached on the other side.

It is understood a contestant must not be standing on his head when he attains the knee-depth mark at the finish. The rule here is vague, however, if it exists at all.

Beach-to-beach means just that. This is important because if you aim for a beach and miss, due to tides or driftwood or something, it can be most embarrassing, especially to whoever is sponsoring the swim in the first place.

Miss Roach thinks it may take something like an international convention of channel swimmers to iron out the problems.

Winnie negotiated the English channel in 13 hours 25 minutes in 1951, just two minutes slower than Florence Chadwick's time.

Florence holds the Catalina record at 13 hours 47 minutes, made in September, 1952. Winnie hopes to beat it, but she pointed out that July is a worse month than September for swimming channels—this one, anyhow.

And here again was the lack of rule uniformity.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

The baseball season is in full swing on all fronts. A thousand wordy battles have already been fought with umpires on diamonds the width of the continent. For, as in all sports where the contacts are close and split-seconds divide the issue, no two persons ever see a close play alike.

Baseball hasn't made many changes of playing rules in half a century. But in one respect the game has, since 1912, undergone some notable improvements. That's in its umpiring.

Fancy, in these days of from two to four umpires per game, the job of the single umpire in 1912. The hardy official of that era began his arduous day's toil behind the plate, calling balls and strikes. But when men were on base, he hurried out from behind the bat and took his stand behind the pitcher, calling the close one from distances of sixty feet or more.

For, he also had to decide the plays at all the bases. Not having eyes in the rear of his cranium, he had to turn when a fly ball was hit, so that he could watch the fielder, the ball, the men running around the bases, and then perhaps turn to call a slide into the plate.

He had to run out to the foul lines to watch whether a fly ball was fair or foul. And he had to make a long range judgement as to what happened to the batted ball when it was or wasn't a homer because of various ground rules.

In some games decisions were so many and so difficult that it was certain he could make only snap judgement decisions, then hope for the best, knowing that he had tried to be fair.

After it was all over, the umpire made his troubled way to the dressing-room. En route, the players abused him, the crowds baited him and quite often attacked him. He didn't have anything like the supreme authority of today's umpires.

For all his troubles he received around $2,000, and expenses per year. Times have changed for umpires and umpiring, and all for the better.

Your comments and suggestions for this column will be welcomed by Elmer Ferguson, c/o Calvert House, 431 Yonge St., Toronto.

Giants Pull Game Ahead With 8-5 Win Over Cardinals

By ED CORRIGAN, Associated Press Sports Writer

While the New York Yankees stagger and flounder five games off the pace, the Cleveland Indians confidently awaited an invasion by the Philadelphia A's tonight. In fact, they weren't even thinking much of the A's. The weekend series with the Yanks occupied their thoughts.

Casey Stengel's New Yorkers also were thinking of the Cleveland series, but they were far from confident.

"This is the year the Indians' Al Lopez has been waiting for. No one in Cleveland thinks the club will fold as it has an annoying habit of doing in the late stages. Silenced are the critics who have been howling for Lopez' scalp because he insists on using Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia both as starters and relievers.

Now, when the stretch run comes Lopez will have a couple of good relievers to send in when the going gets hot. Both Don Mossi and Ray Narleski have filled a big void in the bullpen.

As for the Yankees, Stengel is saving his aces, Allie Reynolds, Whitey Ford and Ed Lopat for the Indians, but he doesn't even know who is going to take the hill today against the Detroit Tigers, ordinarily a club against whom the Yanks fatten their averages.

IMPORTANT TEST

If the Yanks can get past the Tigers, the coming series with the Indians will be their most important since they swept that two-game set from the Boston Red Sox on the final days of the '49 season.

In the National League, the New York Giants pulled a game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers with an 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, in the only major league game scheduled Monday. Willie Mays hit two home runs, but the Giants still required the services of three pitchers — Jim Hearn, Windy McCall and Marv Grissom — to dump the Birds.

In recent weeks, the Giants have been beating the top contenders, while the Dodgers have been whacking the second-raters. Leo Durocher's team eventually will catch up with the Brooks in the number of games to be played against second division clubs and should be able to lengthen the margin if they, too, can belt the weaker teams around.

Players Admit Entering School By Fraud

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of City College of New York Monday verified as "substantially accurate" published reports that his secret two-year probe had revealed more than a dozen basketball players on coach Nat Holman's CCNY teams were admitted to the school by fraud.

"The story is substantially accurate in its facts," said Dr. B. C. Gallagher in commenting on a New York World-Telegram and Sun story. "But most of the facts have been known for some time.

"All of the information given was released by the college itself on previous occasions, some of it as far back as three years ago."

The newspaper reported high school records were forged deliberately to allow unqualified athletes to enroll and one academic official received $1,000 a year to "meet the needs of boys with plenty of basketball talent but with a minimum of brains."

Canadian Filly Wins Hamilton

VERNON, N.Y. (CP) — Magda Hanover, one of the leading two-year-old trotting fillies ever to come out of Canada, took her second straight stake event Monday night as she won the featured Hamilton event in 2:09.2 over a select field at Vernon Downs.

Reined by veteran Delvin Miller, the filly owned by the Armstrong brothers of Brampton, had the race all the way and was never in serious trouble. Miller took the daughter of Hoot Mon away from the No. 10 post position and grabbed the lead right away and stayed there for the entire distance to win by more than two lengths over Fred Egan's Miss Rodney with Harry Miller's Florette third.

Last Tuesday night Magda Hanover set a record of 2:09 flat over the fast three-quarter-mile Vernon track.

The Armstrong brothers are the owners of Helicopter, winner of last year's Hambletonian.

Blake Drives In 5 Runs In Leaf Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Blake, ace of the Toronto Maple Leafs' pitching staff, has shown he also can do his part when it comes to hitting.

The 29-year-old righthander who spent last season with the Cincinnati Redlegs and Indianapolis put on a sensational one-man show Monday night with a grand slam home run and two singles, driving in all the runs in the Leafs' 5-1 victory over Buffalo Bisons.

Blake, who had a combined 14-7 pitching record in the National League and American Association, hit his homer in the second inning and drove in Sam Jethroe with a single in the fourth. His single in the sixth gave him three hits in four attempts.

INCREASE LEAD

The Leafs increased their lead to 2½ games over Rochester Red Wings, whose game with Richmond was postponed because of rain.

Blake gave up eight hits, struck out one, walked two for his sixth victory of the season against three losses.

Montreal collected 14 hits and backed up lefty Tom Lasorda's six-hit pitching as the Royals trounced Syracuse Chiefs 11-1.

Wally Fiala, playing second base for the first time, paced the Montreal attack with three singles and a double in five trips to the plate.

Hal Bevan's single in the seventh inning scored the winning run as the last-place Ottawa Athletics nipped Havana Cuban Sugar Kings 4-3.

TITLE BOUT PLANNED

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Doug Harper of Calgary will defend his Canadian light heavyweight title against Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., in a July 7 bout at Newcastle, N.B. The announcement was made by George K. Garnett, president of the Canadian Boxing and Wrestling Federation.

Works Dept. May Take Over Northern Roads

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said Monday night consideration is being given to having the federal works department operate and maintain the northwest highway system.

He told the Commons that the system—composed largely of the Alaska highway and tributary roads—is becoming more and more a civilian undertaking. It had been under the defence department now for eight years but it was felt that it would be more economical and practical to turn it over to the works department.

He made the statement at the request of J. M .Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood) who also asked for figures on the amounts paid men operating and maintaining the roads.

Mr. Claxton said pay and allowance for 60 officers, 400 army men and about 100 civilians totalled $1,215,000 in 1953-54. The estimate for the 1954-55 fiscal year was $1,550,000.

Will Try To Reduce Advertising Expenses

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said Monday night an effort will be made by his department to reduce expenditures on recruiting advertising.

The department has budgeted for an expenditure of $936,000 during the 1954-55 fiscal year on films, displays, broadcasting and advertising, compared with $936,700 in the previous year.

He told the Commons, however, that advertising would be kept at a level which would ensure the present rate of recruiting and increase it slightly.

Company Founder Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Andre Folt, 53, president and general manager of Domex Company Limited, which he established, died in hospital Monday. A resident of Queensville, he previously lived in Victoria, B.C.

Red Propaganda Enters Canada Too Easily-MP

OTTAWA (CP)—John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) said Monday that unless some check is put on Communist propaganda entering Canada by four or five sources the government's defence planning is of no use.

"The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is indoctrinating the people in Canada with communism," he said in the Commons during study of defence estimates.

He did not elaborate on his reference to four or five sources of Communist propaganda entering Canada.

CRITICIZES WRITER

Mr. Blackmore also referred to a series of articles by Bill Boss, Canadian Press correspondent who spent five months in Russia. He said almost every article tended to make the people feel that communism is not so bad after all.

He asked Defence Minister Claxton if he has considered the impact of Communist propaganda on the morale of the public.

Mr. Claxton replied that as a member of Parliament and of the cabinet it is his duty to do so. However, the matter did not come within the discussion of defence estimates.

Cigarette Smokers Die Sooner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cigarette smokers die sooner than other men aged 50 to 70 and they die mainly from heart attacks and cancer, an American Cancer Society study reported today.

It finds an effect from cigarettes on cancers other than lung cancer. Numerically, the biggest effect could be in heart disease, since far more people die of coronary disease than die of lung cancer.

Just what the effect of cigarettes is upon men under 50 or upon women can only be guessed at until more studies are made, the authors of the report said.

The report is based upon interviews in 1952 with 187,766 healthy men aged 50 to 70 about their smoking habits, and a check-up upon causes of death of 4,854 of them who died within 20 months.

It shows the death rate—from all causes—among the cigarette smokers to be up to 75 per cent higher than among the men who never smoked.

For men who smoked a pack a day of cigarettes or more, the death rate from heart disease and cancers is at certain ages double that of non-smokers.

Pay Tribute

TORONTO (CP) — All Toronto buses, street cars and subway trains came to a halt for half a minute Monday in tribute to the late W. C. McBrien, chairman of the Toronto Transit Commission who died Friday. TTC operators climbed out of their vehicles and stood quietly with their hats off as the funeral service for Mr. McBrien began.

HIS FIRST MASS was conducted Sunday by the Rev. Francis Maloney in St. John the Baptist church. Son of Mrs. and Mrs. George Maloney, 177 Montgomery St., he was ordained the previous Thursday.

75 mph In City Not Sufficient For Conviction

Speeds of up to 75 m.p.h. in the city and over 85 m.p.h. in the country were not considered sufficient to convict Geoffrey Feeley, 1035 Western Ave., when he pleaded not guilty to a dangerous driving charge before Magistrate W. R. Philp QC on Monday.

Detective Sherman Keliele and Dennis Traynor said that they had noticed Feeley's car being driven down Park St. about 1:50 a.m. April 11. The car had slowed down to about 5 m.p.h. and then rapidly pulled away. The detectives had given chase through several city streets. The police cars had been unable to pull alongside Feeley's vehicle, which had been travelling at speeds up to 75 m.p.h.

The two cars had then headed out onto highway 28 and Feeley had managed to keep in front. At this stage the detectives said that they were travelling over 80 m.ph. Further out along the highway the chase had been given up.

V. P. Colletti, representing Feeley, argued that the only thing proved by police was excessive speed. The magistrate agreed with him that excessive speed did not alone constitute dangerous driving. There had been no evidence of other cars being endangered or forced off the road.

Suggests Soldiers Help Build Seaway

OTTAWA (CP)—Henry Hosking (L—Wellington South) suggested Monday in the Commons that the Canadian army help build the St. Lawrence seaway.

Mr. Hosking, an engineer and an army captain during the Second World War, said such construction work would provide invaluable training for army engineers, electricians, mechanics and signalmen.

If the army would help build the trans-Canada highway, he added, it would have some of the best-trained troops in the world. The U.S. army did a great deal of civil engineering.

Hide-And-Seek War Of Terror Starts Across Tunisia, Growing In Strength

NOTE: Tunisia is half way between Gibraltar and Suez. A Second World War battleground, today it is the scene of terrorism that threatens France with another problem on the scale of Indo-China.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

TUNIS (AP) — A five-year-old boy was murdered in cold blood, and Frenchmen wondered if they were going to have another Indo-China on their hands.

The boy was the son of a Tunisian farmer and former member of a new "army of liberation." The child was slain out of vengeance and as a warning to others.

In May this "army of liberation," known simply as the Fellagahs and once considered only bandits, started hit-and-run warfare against the French with naked terror as a weapon. The terror is still going on.

I have seen Indo-China and I have seen nationalist movements in action in many parts of the world. In North Africa there are all the elements for a future bloody hide-and-seek war. The nervous peace enforced by guns in Tunis is broken frequently by violent death which stalks Frenchman and Moslem alike.

ORGANIZED FORCE

The French say the Fellagahs number only about 600 but admit they now are organized. Tunisians say the Fellagahs number many more, an organized force which can march miles on almost no food under harsh conditions in a type of guerrilla warfare .

Fellagah reinforcements are believed to train in a school near Tripoli, in Libya. This report came from many sources, both French and Tunisian. They agree that the Fellagahs are being trained with modern weapons, although they use leftover guns of the Second World War. The Fellaghs are often uniformed and often wear insignia of rank.

Some belief is expressed that North African soldiers captured in Indo-China by the Communists have received "political re-education," and been sent to Tunisia to train and possibly even lead Fellagahs.

Other sources believe former Nazis from Egypt are active. Both Tunisian and French sources agree that the Fellagah army is paid regular army pay and is trained by non-Arabs. Arms, say both French and Tunsisians, come from Libya.

GROWING STRENGTH

Until recently the Fellagahs attacked in small groups of 20, slinking away into the night. Now the attacks are growing in strength. A pitched battle with a force of about 100 was reported recently.

The Fellagahs live off the land, forcing themselves on colonists who are obliged to shelter them or suffer death.

Many of the things the Fellagahs do are not characteristic of Moslems—wanton killing for political vengeance and the suicide of men facing capture, for instance. But the French say inspiration has been given the Fellagahs from Moslem Cairo and the Arab League, whose stated ambition is to extend Islam's influence from Pacific to Atlantic. Radio Cairo has kept up insistent propaganda against the French in North Africa. It hailed French defeats in Indo-China as victories for "liberation forces."

The French also suspect that there may be help from Communists, but they still cannot lay their hands on conclusive evidence.

SUDDEN TERROR

Fellagah terror erupted suddenly in May after a six-month period without a single major incident in Tunisia. The French at once sent troops into the area. They stationed Foreign Legionnaires at big farms to protect farmers and deny supplies to the Fellagahs.

The Fellagah leader is identified as Sassi Lassoued. This name might indicate he is Sudanese, but the French say he is Tunisian. His name was signed to notes pinned to bodies of recent terror victims, warning of assassination to come for certain Tunisian government figures.

To add fuel to dangerous fire, French farmers of southern and western Tunisia are talking about organizing vigilantes to fight the Fellagahs. That could build into a pattern of terror and counter-terror.

Senator Wants More Formality

OTTAWA (CP)—A Scottish-born senator who believes in the retention of ancient traditions wants a return of the pre-war formal openings of Parliament.

Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) said Parliament and the country lost a great deal when the government decided to eliminate the traditional formalities associated with the opening of Parliament.

(The formalities were eliminated at the start of the Second World War and have not been restored.)

"I know there are those who say it is all very well to put on a show, but I am advocating that we go back to former days in the opening of Parliament and have a formal opening," Senator Reid said. "At one time this chamber (the Senate) was the scene of a full-dress opening, attended by the chief justices in their robes of office, and by the military. It was one of the great events in the life of Ottawa."

SARNIA (CP)—Cheques worth $11,896 will be sent to 35 Lambton county residents this week, winding up the rural tornado settlement committee's work which began when a tornado destroyed property in the district last May. Committee secretary John Huey said Monday the payment will bring to $82,742 the amount paid to rural property owners. Payments cover loss of buildings only, Mr. Huey said.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only $1.19 a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember — if not entirely satisfied — your money will be refunded promptly.

2 TV Stations Recommended To Government

OTTAWA (CP) — Establishmen of new privately-owned television stations at Brandon, Man., Moncton, N.B., and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., was recommended to the government Monday by the CBC board of governors.

At the same time, the board sought permission to establish a CBC television outlet at St. John's, Nfld., but added that if this is unacceptable to the government an application by a private broadcaster should be approved.

A lengthy list of decisions following a week-end meeting at St John's included favorable recommendations on applications for new radio stations at Peace River, Alta. and at Galt. The board recommended that the government deny radio licences to applicants from Leamington and London, Ont.

It recommended deferment for further study of radio applications from two Sault Ste. Marie groups. Each proposed to establish a station at 1400 on the dial with a 250-watt power.

These television recommendations would bring to 20 the number of applications from private broadcasters on which the board has suggested the government license stations. Private broadcasters are on the air in Sudbury, London, Kitchener and Hamilton in Ontario and Saint John, N.B.

Other areas where private broadcasters are preparing stations include Peterborough, Kingston, Port Arthur and Windsor in Ontario.

In its recommendations on radio broadcasting, the board said concerning the Galt application by Mrs. Margaret Gourlay Spohn, wife of a Toronto lawyer, that in its opinion there is place for a community radio station serving Galt, Hespeler, Preston and surrounding rural area.

Army Accepts Some Germans

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian army has enlisted "a very small number" of German immigrants, Defence Minister Claxton said Monday, but he knows of none who have the Iron Cross.

Mr. Claxton was replying to a Commons question by H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West).

Mr. Herridge asked whether any German immigrants, former members of the German army, have been enlisted; if so, whether any received the Iron Cross decoration from Hitler's hands for aggressive actions against British or Canadian troops, and if so, whether any have asked permission to wear the decoration on Canadian uniforms.

Mr. Claxton said he knows of none who have the Iron Cross for any reason, and could not imagine a soldier silly enough to ask permission to wear the decoration if he did own one.

Armor-Infantry Row Blazes In House

OTTAWA (CP)—An armor-versus-infantry argument was the focal point in a Commons debate Monday on defence estimates.

Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre), commander of the 1st Canadian Armored Carrier Regiment in northwest Europe in the Second World War, took the side of armor. Defence Minister Claxton, an artillery sergeant-major in the First World War, stood for the infantry.

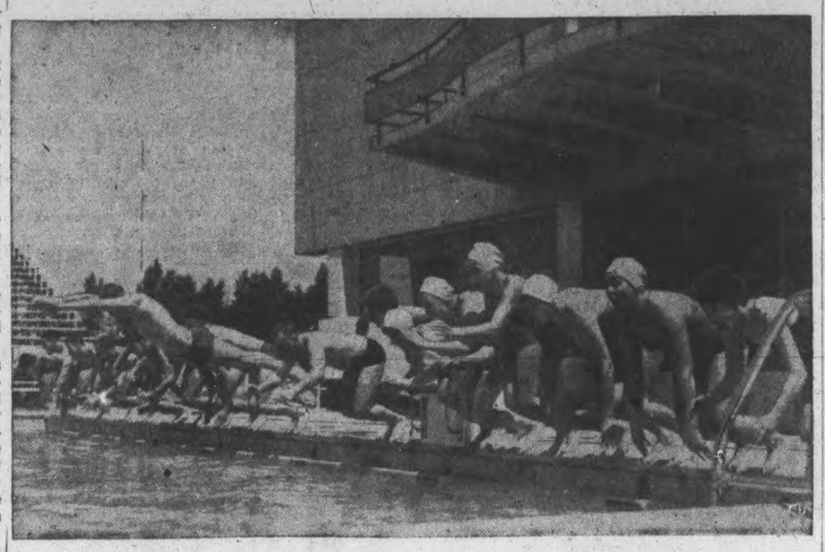
Mr. Churchill contended the army is being patterned along the lines of the 1914-18 army—mostly infantry and too little armor.

(Canada has two armored regiments. The Royal Canadian Dragoons recently replaced the Lord Strathcona's Horse in Korea).

Mr. Claxton said Canada has worked out with its allies requirements to build an over-all balanced force in Europe. Each country made its most effective and economic contribution and in the case of Canada this was three infantry battalions.

An armored brigade would be difficult to maintain abroad in peacetime.

An armored brigade group—a brigade of 232 tanks with supporting arms—would cost $159,000,000 compared to $74,000,000 for the infantry brigade group now stationed in Germany.



Mr. Claxton said the army now is trying to develop a new armored personnel carrier. The defence department was not satisfied with carriers so far developed in other countries and had decided to try to develop one itself.

Earlier, Opposition Leader Drew renewed attempts to have the government make public a report on the reserve army prepared for the defence department by three reserve force major-generals.

Henry Hosking (L — Wellington South) said Mr. Drew is a barrack-room lawyer who always complains and does much to break down the morale of the troops.

Julian Ferguson (PC — Simcoe North) said Mr. Claxton hides behind an iron curtain as far as information about his department is concerned.

Mr. Claxton said no other Parliament in the Commonwealth had been given so much information on defence as Canada's during the last several years.

Kingston Choir Draws Crowd In Capital

OTTAWA (CP)—The male choir from St. George's Cathedral in Kingston, Monday night drew an over-flow crowd to a special evensong at the capital's spacious St. Matthew's church.

It was a preview of what will be heard at the regular services in Westminster Abbey during August. The Kingston singers have the distinction of being the first choir in the British Commonwealth to be invited to take the regular services in the ancient Abbey.

The choir, directed by choirmaster and organist George Maybee, sang seven anthems that it will sing at the Abbey when it goes there this summer.

Following the service, alderman Noel J. Ogilvie presented the choir a scroll bearing the greetings of Mayor Charlotte Whitton to the lord mayor of London. It will be presented to the lord mayor during the choir's stay in the United Kingdom.

The choir sang settings of the Magnificat and the Nunc Dimittis by Sumsion, the Parry anthem My Soul There Is A Country, the Te Deum for double chorus by Vaughan Williams, and the Gibbons Amen after the blessing.

Canoeist About Half Way On 5,000 Mile Junket

Mrs. Frank Casper of Melbourne Beach, Fla., must be one of the most understanding of wives. She not only approved of her husband's great dream to make a 5,000-mile canoe trip but made him a pup tent and canoe spray cover and helped with all preparations. Mrs. Casper saw Frank off in Florida on April 1 and on Monday he sailed up the Trent Canal on just about halfway on his great cruise.

A retired electrical engineer, Mr. Casper, 50, spent many years working in and around New York City. He made enough to retire modestly in Florida with his roving hobby, long canoe trips.

His first junket was from New York to Florida in 1950 via the inland waterways system along the eastern seaboard. Given about three years for this to get out of his system, he started planning the cruise of his lifetime; back to New York, up the Hudson to Troy, Erie Canal to Oswego and across Lake Ontario to Trenton.

COMPANY

He arrived there on Saturday and fell into company with young Fred Eaton and two friends who, in a converted cabin lifeboat, were cruising to Parry Sound to his father's summer home on Georgian Bay. They locked their boats through together and plan to stay together until they part company at the Trent's outlet, Port Severn.

At this point Frank Casper will soon have reached his northernmost point before turning south down Lake Michigan, the Mississipi and home via the Gulf of Mexico and Okeechobee River, Fla., and home.

Frank's canoe is a 16-foot aluminum job No. 10P347 powered by a 2 h.p. outboard. Three-quarters of the space amidships is crowded with camping duffle and the last third with cans containing three gallons of gas mix and fresh drinking water. He steers with two long tiller lines from either a sitting or standing position and uses outrigger-rigged oars if, and when emergencies arise. None have yet.

ALL FIGURED OUT

Being an engineer Frank has everything figured to a fine point. On his 5,000-mile cruise he will use 160 Imperial gallons of gas and 7 and one-half gallons of oil. He expects to sail into his home port by the end of November. And, being a man of great assurance, he no doubt will.

The Trent waterways intrigue him.

"People are so friendly and co-operative," said he as he spun his motor cord in Lock 24 and followed young Eaton's cruiser up the reach towards Lakefield.

"Send my wife this story if you print it," he yelled above the noise of the motor, "my forwarding addresses are sketchy.

There, the reporter thought, goes a lone wolf that has all navigators stopped. There was little doubt in his mind that Frank Casper is the type that would be heard from again, when he reached Melbourne Beach, Fla., perhaps a card saying:

'Had a wonderful trip.'

INTREPID AMERICAN CANOEIST Frank Casper, 50, of Melbourne Beach, Fla., (left) passed through the Trent Canal system at Peterborough on Monday on his 8-month, 5,000 mile canoe trip from home, up the Trent to the Soo, Chicago, Mississippi river and home. His aluminum craft powered by a light outboard motor tagged through canal locks with a converted lifeboat cruiser en route from Toronto to Parry Sound. Both craft are shown right, entering Lock 24; the cruiser was skippered by Fred Eaton, son of John David Eaton, of Toronto. (Examiner Staff Photos)

Amateur Gardeners Hardest Hit By Pelting Rain

"Amateur gardeners have had it," as a result of Monday night's rainstorm says W. C. Wilks, secretary of the Horticultural Society.

Gardeners specializing in peonies have been especially hard hit by .64 inches of lashing rain, said Mr. Wilks. Peonies have such large blossoms that they more than triple their weight in rainstorms, thus snapping the stems like toothpicks. Mr. Wilks lost 75 peonies.

Roses, though battered, may have fared better says Mr. Wilks. A rose show scheduled for the YWCA next Monday, June 28 will go ahead as planned, because "we've already postponed it once, and we can't die in despair."

Florists seem less depressed by the rain. Says George Sorenson: "There would have to be a heavier wind than there was last night to cause any serious damage." He said some beds might be hard hit, "but the roses can stand it."

There may be less colorful displays on Decoration Day next Sunday, says Mr. Wilks. Each year at this time graves at Little Lake cemetery are decorated by the Oddfellows and citizens.

HELP TO FARMERS

The rain was "for the most part beneficial" to spring and growing crops, said Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative. Haying "may be set back a bit, and the quality of the hay cut has been lowered. but it would take a prolonged siege of wet weather to spoil the hay crop." Most farmers have quite a bit of hay cut, and most hay is near maturity.

The Bell Telephone Co. had a busy Monday, though not entirely as a result of the storm. Water from scattered Sunday showers poured into telephone conduits in the Reid St.-Parkhill Rd. area, disrupting phone service for three hours early Monday morning. A pump was used to clear the water out.

Monday night's storm damaged a 50-pair cable (from 25 to 100 customers) at Bolivar and King Sts. This trouble, says Bell manager William Lettau, was uncovered by Bell engineers before any complaints were registered with the company. Service was off from 9:00 to 10:45 p.m.

NO UTILITIES DAMAGE

"We were lucky," says Howard Powell of the utilities commission. No damage was reported except to flowers on PUC grounds.

There were a dozen cases of blown fuses in the district, Basil Richards, chief clerk of the Ontario hydro reported today. But there was "no major damage" and no trees fell.

The rain started calmly enough late Monday afternoon, grew to a pitch of intensity between eight and ten o'clock. Little wind accompanied the rain and the fire department reported no lightning calls.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES PICNIC

Employees of the city and their families will hold their annual picnic Wednesday at Birchmuir lodge on Stony lake.

70,000 To Use Nicholls Park For Picnics

Nicholls Oval will be used this year by approximately 70,000 people in picnic recreation, Parks Superintendent Armar Butcher estimated at a meeting of the parks committee this morning.

Most of these groups are from Sunday schools of the city and country, also primary school children, Boy Scouts, several family reunions and three of the industries, Canadian General Electric Co., Western Clock Co. and De Laval Co.

HELD AT KNOX HOME

This morning's meeting was held in the basement recreation room at the residence of the chairman, Ald. R. E. Knox, 523 Homewood Ave. With him were: Aldermen A. B. Burrows, Gordon Powell, Stan McBride, Acting Mayor Dewart, and Mr. Butcher, with M. Thomas, assistant city clerk, as recorder. Coffee and refreshments were served by Mrs. Knox at 11 o'clock.

Some of the remaining picnics in the near future at the Oval have been listed: June 28, 4 p.m., School Safety Patrol, Constable Don MacKay arranging it; Western Clock, June 29; De Laval, Aug. 14; June 22 (today) Woodview School, Otonabee; Kidd family reunion Aug. 2 and so on.

Riverside Park has 13 on its list; three at King Edward, including St. Giles' Sunday School, June 26, and Braidwood Gospel Chapel, July 7; and there are two at Inverlea.

REMOVE VERANDAH

The chairman had thirteen topics on his agenda. A perennial problem of what to do with the old house at the Oval brought out the suggestion that the verandah should be removed and a painting job done. That work is being referred to the property committee, and Acting Mayor Dewart said it would probably be dealt with Thursday.

Ald. Knox reported that the committee is keeping within its budget with the prospect that expenditure would be less than the appropriation to the end of the year.

For the safety of the public the committee decided to try to enlist the co-operation of property owners in the trimming of hedges more or less blocking view of traffic at street corners. Mr.

Outboard Marine Criticizes Pot Holes

In a letter to city council, the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Co. Ltd. has complained that the condition of Romaine St. is "deplorable" due to both large and small potholes.

The company asked the city to repair the street, between Monaghan Rd. and George St.

Writing on behalf of the company, Bruce Payne, secretary-treasurer, pointed out that the street was a main artery for traffic to and from the plant. In its present condition, it created a bad impression on visitors to Peterborough.

The letter was referred to the board of works by city council Monday night.

Child's Find Leads To Return Of Stolen Safe

A four-year-old girl unknowingly assisted police in the recovery of a safe which was stolen from Montgomery Bros. cold storage plant on Robinson St. over the weekend.

Heather, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hughey, who live on River Rd. about 1½ miles north of Parkhill, was playing near her home when she found an old cashbook.

Her parents noticed the cashbook, but did not think anything of it until they read The Examiner's report of the theft. They then realized the caption, "Montgomery Bros." was stamped on the book and immediately informed city police.

FOUND IN JUNKYARD

Sergeant Leo Murphy and Constable Grant Gillespie went out to ie Douro township Monday evening and located the safe lying abandoned in Albert's junkyard on River Rd.

The police also recovered most of the ledgers, accounts and other valuable papers which had been stored in the safe. A cheque for $1,700 was also found, but $500 in cash, which is believed to have been in the safe, was not recovered.

Police consider that the thieves, who made off with the heavy safe sometime Saturday night, used crowbars to force open the door.

Detectives are investigating.

BARS AGAINST CARS

Motorists are closing the road between the terrace and the bandstand at Nicholls Oval. Not that they are going to have an actual hand in the exclusion other than that they have been a nuisance too long during the Sunday night concerts. Parks committee decided this morning that the bands and their audiences have endured the distracting cars long enough. "We're going to have the bars up by Sunday night if we can," said Ald. R. E. Knox, "and a road west of the stands will be available for traffic."

1954 Paving To Cost $85,603

City council Monday night awarded its paving contract to the Warren Bituminous Paving Co. Ltd.

The Warren tender for $85,603.60 was the lowest of any received. Board of works chairman Ald. Art Burrows told council the tenders had been opened Monday morning in the presence of city engineer A. E. Chalmers and his special committee, comprising Ald. Burrows, Ald. Harold Rehill, and Ald. Pat Anglesey.

2 Women Are Candidates For Curve Lake Band Chief

Two women, Mrs. Cecil Knott and Mrs. Reg Muskrat, and one man, Dalton Jacobs, are candidates for chief of the Curve Lake Indian band. The election will take place at the council hall on Monday.

Six members were nominated for council, Cecil Knott, Clifford Whetung, Eldred Coppaway, Merrick Taylor, Mrs. Elwood Coppaway and Mrs. Austin McCue. The first three have been members for the past two years.

The band has been without a chief for eight months when Jimmy Coppaway, believed to have been the youngest chief in Canada when he was elected in 1952, resigned. Council members have carried on band business since that time without a head man.

Following the election on Monday night, which will take place between 6 and 8 p.m. a buffet supper will be served in the council hall to be followed by dancing.

BAND CONCERT POSTPONED

The Salvation Army band concert scheduled for tonight at King Edward Park has been postponed.

Transient's Body Found In Scugog River

LINDSAY (ENS)—The body of a transient, James Wilfred McCaffrey, 62, of Parliament St. Toronto, was found floating in the Scugog river near the CNR bridge early today.

The discovery was made by Terry Campbell, 11, of Lindsay. He called police and Sgt. Gord Eberts and Constables Bill Mosley and Ralph Fountain responded to the call.

Dr. W. R. Crowe, acting as coroner, pronounced the man dead. McCaffrey had appeared in Lindsay magistrate's court on vagrancy charges. It is expected that an inquest will be held.

MOST REV. BENJAMIN I. WEBSTER, DD, will be installed as the eighth bishop of Peterborough in St. Peter's cathedral Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. His Eminence, James Cardinal McGuigan DD Archbishop of Toronto, will preside and will also be the speaker. Thursday morning Bishop Webster will sing his first pontifical mass in the cathedral at 10:30. The sermon will be delivered by Most Rev. Joseph A. O'Sullivan DD, Archbishop of Kingston.

Will Hold City, McGillis Responsible For Any Floods

Cherney Brothers intend to hold both the city and D. A. McGillis responsible for any flood damage to their property resulting from Mr. McGillis eliminating the curve in Jackson Park Creek.

Mr. McGillis has purchased a lot with 121 feet frontage on King St. extending in depth for 260 feet to the rear of his hotel. The western portion is behind the Greene building and is intersected by the creek.

Until a few weeks ago, the creek, which flows under the Greene building on Charlotte St. described an arc through the McGillis property, curving to the west towards the new post office property and back towards the east at the middle of the lot at King St.

Mr. McGillis has cut a new channel for the creek, straightening it out. When construction is complete, the creek will flow over a concrete floor 25 feet wide with six-foot concrete walls and will be bridged by steel and concrete.

In the same structure, footings will be placed that will eventually take the load of a four-storey building when required. Meanwhile, the completed area will be used for hotel patron parking.

In a letter to city council, Walter Howell, solicitor for Cherney Brothers, said his clients would hold the city responsible for any flood damage to their property resulting either directly or indirectly from Mr. McGillis' venture.

Enclosed was a copy of a similar letter addressed to Mr. McGillis, pointing out that the new 25-foot structure would be narrower than the 28-foot bed of the creek and lower than the King St. bridge.

Cherney Brothers' store at King and George streets, is on the opposite side of King St. and south-east of the McGillis property.

City council Monday night referred Mr. Howell's letter to the legal and reception committee.

Find Many Latin Americans Support Guatemala Gov't

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Numerous Latin American officials, newspapers and student groups have thrown their support behind the government of Guatemala in its fight against invading rebel forces who claim they are anti - Communist. Britain meanwhile is adopting a wait-and-see attitude, while Russia has accused the United States of actually touching off the fighting which began during the week-end.

In London, the Churchill government refused under prodding from the Labor opposition to say whether the leftist Central American republic has been invaded or torn by civil war.

Foreign Secretary Eden called the trouble "a confused situation" and refused to elaborate under a barrage of questions in the House of Commons.

UPHOLDS DELEGATE

He upheld the action of Sir Pierson Dixon, British delegate on the United Nations Security Council, that the world organization "could not remain indifferent to this situation."

Eden said "The leader of this incursion"—Lt.-Col. Carlos Castillo Armas—and "many, if not all, of those invading the country" are Guatemalan exiles. The House laughed as he added "something of this kind is not absolutely unique in Central American history."

Britain has a stake in the sort of government that rules Guatemala. One of her colonies, British Honduras, borders on the little republic, and Guatemala in 1948 threatened to invade, disputing Britain's claim to the colony.

Moscow's newspapers joined today in a bitter new propaganda blast against the U.S., and Moscow radio quoted articles from Pravda, Izvestia and Trud blaming the Americans for the Guatemalan fighting.

U.S. BLAMED

"No matter how U. S. propaganda distorts the facts," Pravda asserted, "the whole world sees that the armed attack on Guatemala has been instigated, prepared and carried out by the U.S. ruling circles and are using their hirelings for this purpose.

"Before world public opinion, American ruling circles stand exposed as aggressors against little Guatemala."

Pravda said the "imperialists in the U.S.A., having forgotten the lessons of the Second World War, are hatching plans for a new war."

In New York, The Times says today in an editorial that the Guatemalan situation is "part of a developing hemispheric situation which directly involves only the 21 nations of North and South America."

"If the Communists were to control Guatemala," says The Times, "that little nation would be more than ever a source of infection and danger to all her neighbors.

"We cannot deal with this infection and danger in the old-fashioned way of sending down battleships and landing marines. We have grown beyong that stage."

MUST USE LEADERSHIP

But the U.S. "cannot avoid responsibility." It must use its leadership "to see to it if we can that orderly procedure—a kind of international due process — is followed."

Many Latin American groups have openly accused the U. S. of sparking the invasion. The Uruguayan parliament condemned the "aggression" against the Caribbean land.

Student demonstrations continued to spread. In Ecuador, Chile and Cuba, student groups, some of them Red-inspired, pledged support of Guatemalan president Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's regime.

However, in Mexico, which generally sympathizes with Arbenz' regime, a leading newspaper came out firmly against his government. In Havana, Ernest de la Fe, a member of President Fulgencio Bafista's cabinet, urged recognition of Col. Carlos Castillo Armas' rebel regime.

In Quito, Ecuador, the Federation of University Students began enrolling "volunteers" to "defend Guatemala's sovereignty" and sent messages of support to Arbenz.

The semi-official newspaper La Epoca in Buenos Aires, which usually reflects the views of the Argentine government of President Juan D. Peron, said the situation in Guatemala began to take shape when the leftist regime there proclaimed its desire to throw Britain out of British Honduras and to end the "inhuman exploitation of the fruit trust."

Seek To Prevent Accidents

More People Above Ground If People Gave Ground

If more people above ground, gave ground, there would be fewer people under the ground.

And if all drivers learn to "anticipate the unexpected" and come to realize that a man is just as dead whether right or wrong, the accident toll may materially be reduced, Norman Garbutt of Belleville, district manager and safety supervisor for the Brewers Warehouses Co. told the Peterborough Truckdrivers' Safety Association Monday night.

There are sound economic reasons for cutting the accident toll, said Mr. Garbutt. There were 63,000 accidents in 1953, up nearly 10,000 from 1951. "If the accident rate were cut 50 per cent, your car insurance premiums would fall 50 per cent too."

Each able-bodied citizen, Mr. Garbutt estimated, is worth at least $100,000 in terms on his own and the national production. Thus any accident drains away money which could be better spent constructively.

"We should work just as hard to avoid accidents as we do to avoid wars," said the speaker, pointing out that any average year in Canada will produce more traffic deaths, half of them in the cities, than the total death toll of the Korean war.

PIONEER IN TRAFFIC SAFETY

Education is "the key to better driving." The public must be made aware of the need for traffic safety through such "excellent organizations" as the newly formed truckdrivers' group. Public awareness can be crystalized through the newspapers, said Mr. Garbutt, who saw the Examiner as a pioneer in traffic safety.

Mr. Garbutt thought that reporters are logical candidates to lead traffic safety programs, "because they see the results of carelessness every day." The press should not be criticized for "overdramatizing" accidents for this "is the only way they can get across the message of safety."

Safe driving is largely a matter of mental attitudes, said Mr. Garbutt, noting that most citizens become changed personalities when they get behind the wheel of a car or truck. Care, caution, courtesy and common sense, the speaker felt, are more likely to cut traffic accidents than "horn-blowing, invective and insinuations".

Citizens should also recognize that without police protection, traffic snarls would be hideous, said Mr. Garbutt. He thought it cynical to assume that policemen are interested in traffic safety "just because that's what they get paid for."

"People are resentful of safety measures because they are afraid of being subjected to discipline." This is an "unreasonable" attitude, and people should realize that the radar controls on Highway 401 and the Queen Elizabeth are designed to help the public, not hinder them.

Peterborough is "ahead of most communities" in traffic safety, said Mr. Garbutt, "largely because of the work of Constable D. Mackay." Const. Mackay heads the school safety patrol and is active on the Peterborough traffic safety council.

Although rain was teeming down in the proverbial buckets, the PCVS auditorium was well-filled with truck drivers, their wives and friends. Mr. Garbutt was glad to see the wives on hand, observing that "safety begins in the home."

Mr. Garbutt was introduced by Const. Mackay who described local safety programs as "getting stronger all the time." He was thanked by Ed Redmond, vice president of the association.

William Tidy, also connected with safety and accident prevention showed a film on traffic safety. Sports films also were shown.

Tom Lister, president of the recently formed truckdrivers' association, felt truckdrivers are a maligned and slandered lot. Commercial drivers, said Mr. Lister in his introductory remarks, "show more courtesy, common sense and adherence to the rules of the road than the general public."

Omemee Churches Join In Flower Service

OMEMEE (ENS) — Trinity United church joined with Christ Church (Anglican) for the annual flower service sponsored by the Omemee and District Horticultural Society. Rev. A. W. Smith read the service, Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt the lessons and preached the sermon.

The organist was Melburn Jones.

Pink and white peonies decorated the altar and in front of the chancel were massed great bouquets of flowers from the members' gardens.

Sunday evening the annual parade of Lorne Lodge AF and AM 375 to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church was held. In the absence of Rev. Kaye, his place was taken by Rev. J. A. Steed of Peterborough. Mr. Steed addressed the 35 Masons present.

Mrs. Karl Atwell was at the organ and the soloist, Mrs. Harry Fowler of Lakevale sang.

Baskets of flowers sent by the Horticultural Society from the Flower service and also memorial flowers from the family of the late C. R. Hart, decorated the church.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Sted and prayers by the Rev. A. W. Smith.

Ryff Outclasses Brian Kelly

BROOKLYN (AP)—Frankie Ryff unbeaten New York prospect, easily outclassed Brian Kelly of Niagara Falls, Ont., in a 10-round televised bout at Eastern Parkway Arena Monday night. Kelly weighed 140½, Ryff 138.

In scoring his 12th victory, the 22-year-old New Yorker opened cuts over both of his opponent's eyes and floored the Canadian in the eighth round with a right to the chin. Kelly was up at two and shook his head disgustedly while taking the mandatory eight-count.

The votes, all for Ryff, were: referee Mark Conn and judge Americo Chiavone, 9-1 each, and judge Joe Eppy, 8-2. The AP card had Ryff the winner, 9-1.

A crowd of 1,060 paid $2,430 to see the local youngster give the 21-year-old invader a pasting.

Landy Sets New Mile Record In Finland

By STIG HAEGGBLOM

TURKU, Finland (AP) John Landy, second man in history to crash the four-minute-mile barrier, rested today after his record-shattering 3:58 performance and announced that he pobably won't do better—at least this year.

"I have kept my present top shape for more than nine months," said the 24-year-old Australian. "Now I believe some sort of reaction will set in. I think I have done what I can for this year."

But he left no doubt that he is looking forward to his duel in Vancouver with Roger Bannister of England, whose 3:59.4 performance of May 6 he surpassed in the blazing sun of Turku stadium Monday. They meet in the British Empire Games in the Canadian city next month.

"I'm almost too happy to be able to speak," added Landy. "If it hadn't been for Chris Chataway chasing me around the track I never would have made it."

LOWERED SECOND MARK

Chataway, an Englishman, was the runner who also pushed Bannister to his 3:59.4 effort.

In the process of breaking the mile record, Landy also lowered the world 1,500-metre mark to 3:41.8. Both records must be recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, but there is no doubt that the recognition will be a mere formality.

In London, where he still is working for his medical degree, Bannister took the news of Landy's race with his usual calm.

"It is a wonderful achievement" he commented. "Landy has tried as hard as anyone to run the mile under four minutes and I am glad he has succeeded. This shows there is no finality in records. They can all be broken."

Find Scandinavians Strong Contenders

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The Davis Cup-monopolizing Australians and Americans won easy victories in opening rounds of the all-England lawn tennis championships Monday, but players from Scandinavia demonstrated they will have to be considered among the top contenders.

Of all the top rankers only little Ken Rosewall of Australia had much trouble. The soulful 19-year-old from New South Wales had to struggle grimly to overcome Abe Segal of South Africa 7-5, 4-6, 8-6, 8-6.

Two Canadians were also among the winners. Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver defeated H. Billington of Great Britain, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2 and Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., downed G. L. Forbes of South Africa 6-3, 7-9, 6-1, 6-3.

Will Apply To Close Street Not Yet Opened In N. End

City council Monday night decided to apply to the county judge to have Willow St. closed.

Never heard of it?

Actually its existence has been almost exclusively confined to the map. The city has never done any work on it and city engineer A. E. Chalmers pointed out that a ditch runs down the centre of it.

Even so, it has had two names throughout its inauspicious lifetime. It was formerly known as Hall St., but this was changed to Willow St., because there was another Hall St., one block long, running from Reid to Rubidge St., between Brock and Hunter streets.

Willow St., as it is now called, theoretically runs off McLennan St., north of the Queen Elizabeth subdivision.

R. J. Chandler appeared at the council meeting Monday night to ask council to apply to the judge to have the street closed.

Mr. Chandler said his clients, whom he did not name had made an offer to purchase a block of land north of the Queen Elizabeth subdivision. They intended to register a plan of subdivision of the land.

(It is understood Sands and Bateman are agents for the new subdivision.)

One of the conditions of the proposal, Mr. Chandler said, was the closing of Willow St. and its replacement by an extention of Philip St. northwards. Philip St. is 150 feet east of Willow street.

The plan of subdivision was in the hands of the Ontario municipal board, who were expected to give their approval later this week. It was hoped to have the order to close Willow St. contemporaneously with acceptance of the offer to purchase, after approval of the municipal board had been obtained.

The city engineer said the proposal met with the approval of the planning board. He also pointed out that it was necessary to have a right of way through the new subdivision in order to get to the land assembly area.

City solicitor W. F. Huycke, QC, explained that ordinarily a bylaw would be required to close a street, but since no public monies had been spent on Willow St., it was necessary to apply to the county judge. The application could be made by the purchaser of the property, but in this case, the offer to purchase had not yet been accepted.

Fruit Company Announces It Will Not Take Sides

BOSTON (AP)—The United Fruit Company, which has its head offices in Boston, has been growing bananas in strife-torn Guatemala for the last half-century.

The Guatemalan operation actually is run by the Compania Agricola de Guatemala, a subsidiary of the American company. And only a handful, about 25, of the 10,000 employees of the company in Guatemala are Americans. Native Guatemalans on the payroll number 9,794.

Guatemala is far from being one of the "banana republics" of the American tropics. It is largely coffee country, with coffee beans accounting for 82 per cent of the value of all exports. The fruit company's exports of bananas, abaca (hemp fibre), oil palm, and other products make it the second largest exporters, with about 16 per cent of the dollar value of products shipped out.

Company executive officers here insist they are taking no part and no sides in the current warfare in the Central American country.

The company has been engaged in its own dispute with the government headed by President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman over the expropriation of 413,000 acres of its properties during the last year.

The government offered in payment what the company termed a "wholly inadequate sum" of $610,000 in "agrarian" bonds bearing three per cent interest and payable in 25 years, for the 240,000 acres of property near the west coast of Guatemala.

The company has filed a claim for $16,000,000 with the United States state department on the basis of that expropriation.

A spokesman for the company in Honduras says the strike of Banana workers in that republic adjoining Guatemala already has cost the company at least $10,000,000.

Some 25,000 workers have been out since May 3, paralyzing the company's big operations in the country. A government commission has been trying to mediate between the strikers and the company.

Chess Tourney Erupts Into Dispute

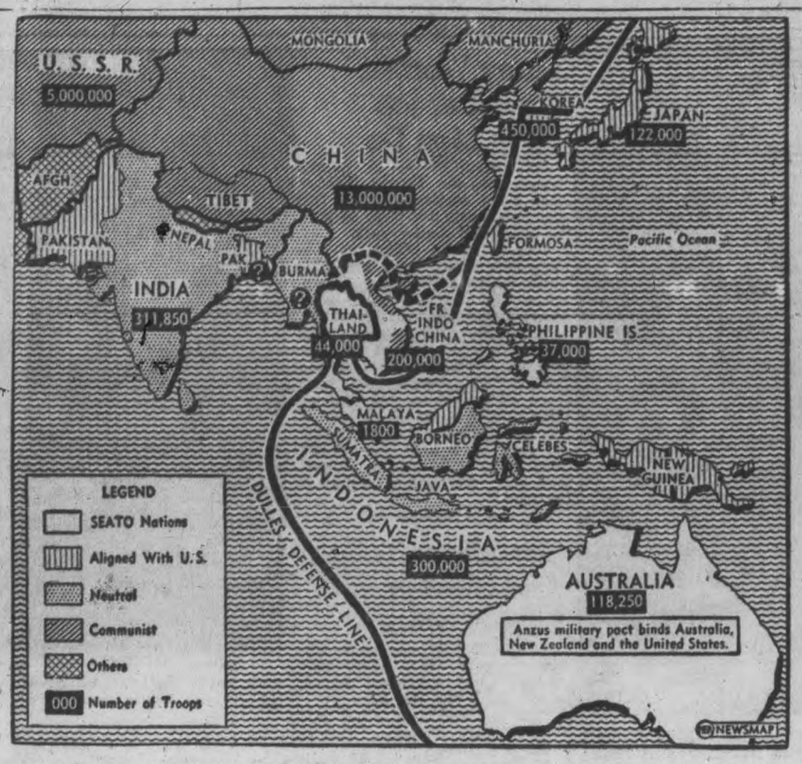
By GEOFFREY GOULD

NEW YORK (AP)—The Russian-American chess tournament, hailed as promoting cultural understanding between the two countries, erupted early today into a heated and wordy argument over time clocks.

Two protests were lodged, one by a Russian player and one by the leading American. Referee Hans Kmoch, an American, overruled the Russian, but argument on the other protest went into the early hours of the morning. A final decision was left until later today.

The Russians, meanwhile, pulled into a commanding 13-6 point lead midway through the third round of the tournament, which had been completely decorous and polite in the six days up to this point. They need just 3½ points more to clinch the 32-game tournament.

The American protest was lodged by Samuel Reshevsky when it was discovered that a faulty time clock apparently gave his opponent, No. 1 Russian player Vassily Smyslov, 35 extra minutes. The game still is not completed.



HAD LOTS OF TIME

Reshevsky, as the evening session neared its end, had to move feverishly to get in his required 40 moves. The Russian, because of the out-of-kilter clock, was not pressed for time at all.

In the other protest, Russian Yuri Auerbach forfeited his game to Donald Byrne because he made only 39 moves when the time ran out. He said he hadn't understood that his 40 moves had to be completed before a small flag on the face of the clock dropped down.

Kmoch overruled him on the basis that the flag signal was plainly described in the written ground rules.

The American chess authorities and Russian players and officials carried their argument over the Reshevsky dispute upstairs to the Russian suite in the Hotel Roosevelt, where the tournament is being held. An hour of voluble and futile argument and discussion produced no results.

"FENCE" FOR UNITED FRONT AGAINST REDS—One of the important items which Prime Minister Churchill and Anthony Eden will discuss when they meet with President Eisenhower will be creation of SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) to curb any further Red aggression in Asia. Also included is the new Dulles defence line running from the northern tip of Japan and including all the island chains, including the East Indies. Indo-China will be included in the defence pattern if she requests it or if China commits "open military aggression." Map shows defensive strength in Asia.

Massey Plans To Take Part In Centenary

OTTAWA (CP) — Governor-General Vincent Massey will take part in the centenary celebrations of the city of Roberval, Que., on June 24, during a tour of eight Quebec and Ontario centres, it was announced Monday.

From Roberval, Mr. Massey will go to Chambord, St. Felicien and Dolbeau, Que., all on June 25. On June 26, he will be in Chicoutimi, Que., June 28-29 in Stratford, and June 30 will visit Brantford and Ohsweken.

At Stratford, he will attend the 1954 Stratford Shakespearean festival. He will tour the city, attend special luncheons and see the plays "Measure for Measure" and "The Taming of the Shrew" during the two-day visit.

At Brantford, Mr. Massey will place a wreath at the Brent county war memorial. He will also visit the homestead of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone. Later, at the town hall, he will meet members of the city council and their wives.

At Ohsweken, he will visit the Indian reserve of the Six Nations of the Grand river. The governor-general will be invited to become an honorary member of the Six Nations elective council and will be presented with an Indian headdress.

Unique Law

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Mrs. Valerie Hirshmann, 62-year-old widow, was fined $100 Monday for leaving three abandoned ice boxes in the back yard of her house. She was the first person arraigned under an ordinance adopted last Thursday, inspired by reports from various parts of the country of children being suffocated in abandoned ice boxes.

Reserve Army Armories Called "Glorified Bars"

OTTAWA (CP)—Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) says reserve army armories "are glorified bar rooms for leading citizens to consume liquor in for hours at a stretch."

What's more, he said Monday in the Commons after an interruption by State Secretary Pickersgill:

"Yes, I have (personal experience) and enjoyed it."

Mr. Ferguson said armories were not built for the enjoyment of anyone, but to train troops.

He added:

"Why try to satisfy a handful of people in the militia in a small community by putting up a luxury building with beautiful furnishings, lovely drapes and a bar, and have the members of that particular section of the militia go out and solicit people to come in and have a drink of liquor in those places?"

Mr. Ferguson said this was competition against the civilian beer parlors.

"I have no objection to drinking liquor, not at all," he said. "I have drunk it on every occasion all my life, and I will continue to do so. . . ."

But that had nothing to do with preparedness. For example, in Barrie, the armories were not big enough for sea cadets or the air cadets in which to train "one-tenth as properly as they should train."

You can't go ALL-OUT If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 53

Charges Removal Of Crown From Badges Insults Queen

OTTAWA (CP) — Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) repeated Monday in the Commons that removal of the crown from some RCAF cap badges is a slur on the Queen.

Defence Minister Claxton retorted that the charge was ridiculous.

The comparatively new badge on airmen's wedge caps is simply a gold eagle. Previously, the badge comprised the letters "RCAF" surrounded by a laurel wreath and topped by a crown. This badge is still in use in some branches of the air force, such as service police and bands.

"You're tearing down the tradition of the Empire," Mr. Ferguson said. "It's not too late to give back to the men the crown, the symbol of this Empire."

"You take tradition out of the army and you have no army. I think it is despicable." He waved a sheaf of papers which he said were telegrams and letters from persons who supported his view.

Mr. Claxton replied: "I have not interfered in any way with the traditions of the armed forces, and have done everything possible . . . to build up in them a feeling of affection and pride in their country."

"It may be recalled that the ships of the Royal Canadian Navy carried maple leaves on their funnels during the war. Soon after I came into office I found that when the ships were being repainted the maple leaf was being painted out. As soon as I found that out I told them to paint the maple leaf back and keep it on . . ."

Mr. Claxton said he directed all officers and men always to wear "Canadra" flashes on their uniforms.

HERO PAYS A PRICE—The cost of being a hero is high and Carleton West, of St. Paul, Minn., will be the first to agree. While he was saving a drowning woman, police gave him a ticket for illegal parking.

WHEN THE Wright Brothers first took off at Kitty Hawk fifty years ago, weight-saving aluminum was already in on the act. Their tiny engine had a single cast aluminum crank-case and cylinder block. Aluminum has been growing with the aircraft industry ever since. Now strong aluminum alloys are helping to combat the heats and stresses of supersonic flight, and Alcan is busier than ever supplying aluminum for Canada's busy aircraft plants and other metals users looking for lightness and strength . . . at a fraction of the price that the Wright Brothers paid. Girl 9, Youngest Amateur Radio Operator

NORTH BAY (CP)—Believed the youngest amateur radio operator in the country, nine-year-old Judy Kannegiesser has received her government licence.

To get her licence, she had to master the theory of radio and electricity, draw a circuit for a three-tube radio and send code at the rate of 13 words a minute.

Henceforth on the airways, she is VE3ERJ.

It took Judy just three months to master the theory and code.

TAUGHT PROPERLY

Daughter of Gordon Kannegiesser, 34-year-old railway passenger conductor, Judy first became interested in radio in her father's basement radio "shack." After trying in vain to keep the youngster from toying with his equipment, the father decided to teach her to use it properly.

Judy's mother received her licence on the same day. Mrs. Kannegiesser said she has been preparing for her examination off-and-on for the last two years.

The father was a wireless operator in the RCAF during the war. He is VE3ACZ while his wife is VE3DUZ.

Many Women Do Better Job Than Men Do

OTTAWA (CP) — A woman lawyer told the Senate Monday that many members of the fair sex in business are twice as good as men doing similar work.

Senator Muriel Fergusson (L—New Brunswick) made the comment during debate on a government bill providing compulsory death benefits for civil servants.

She said many women work harder than members of the opposite sex with similar positions. She added: "We women who have been in professions and in business know it is one of the facts of life that if we are to be considered as good as a man we actually have to be at least twice as good and we have to work at least twice as hard."

Canadians Taller, And Sleeker, Says Powers

TORONTO (CP)—A man who knows plenty about pretty girls Monday said Canadian women aren't short and dumpy.

"It's just the other way," said John Robert Powers. "They're taller and sleeker."

Mr. Powers, head of a model agency in New York, said in an interview that results of a recent Canada-wide survey which announced that Canadian men and women were shorter and dumpier than most people figured, were just so much bunk.

"Whoever in the world could say they're short and dumpy?" Mr. Powers asked.

He is in Toronto surveying models for the Canadian National Exhibition fashion show. Looking around a hotel room at some of the Canadian models gathered for the exhibition, Mr. Powers added:

"The girls in this room are taller than the average American. As for being dumpy, it certainly doesn't look like it to me."

He said Canadian girls have a little edge on their American sisters in another way, too.

"They have the natural look. They have natural beauty."

Margaret Griffin, Ontario-Born In Theatre Cast

The lovely young actress who takes the leading part in the Summer Theatre's first presentation of this year, Peg O' My Heart, has an interesting family background possibly known to some in the district who frequent the upper Kawartha lakes.

Margaret Griffin

Twenty-year-old Margaret Griffin is a great granddaughter of Sir Wm. McKenzie and the family spent the summer at their cottage on Balsam lake, situated on the estate land known as McKenzie Point.

It is from her grandmother, Mrs. Scott Griffin, daughter of Sir William, that Margaret inherits her great interest in dramatics. She played her first ingenue role in the Ottawa Summer Theatre at 16, and after that grandmother sent her to study at the Conservatory at Toronto, where she also took singing.

The singing lessons, taken mainly to help her voice promotion, are useful in this particular play which required her to sing the title song. She is also a pianist, and six years ago tried her piano exam at St. Cecelia's Convent. That was her only previous visit to Peterborough, though the family lived at Kirkfield at that time.

She was born in Toronto but has lived in many places in Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Griffin and Margaret's six brothers and twin sisters are now located at Ottawa. She says all of the family has a flair for dramatics but she is the only one who has developed it.

Two years a professional now, she worked on CBC television during the past winter, in Oakville Summer Theatre last summer and with Ottawa radio station CRT the previous winter.

"I love South American music" says Margaret, "and I just adore dancing, especially the samba and the tango." However her family is very proud of a Scottish ancestry and she says "We really love doing Scottish dances, and square dancing at our cottage on Saturday nights."

Her uncle, Mr. A. G. S. Griffin, made himself famous as a "caller" when he called off for the square dance enjoyed by Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh at Government House in Ottawa. Later when Mr. Griffin was in England the Queen requested him to make some records for her. He and Margaret's father both call for the square dances at Balsam lake.

Another summer pastime the family enjoys to the full is sailing, and Margaret's uncle is a navy man who like telling her how to handle the boat in a sailor's technical language.

Miss Griffin expects to be in Peterborough most of the summer season. With the launching of the first week's play last night, she began rehearsing today for her part is next week's presentation, "A Lady Mislaid."

Fife-Hamblin Wedding

Gladiolas with other summer flowers provided a lovely background for the wedding in Knox United church Saturday afternoon of Beverley Ann Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Hamblin of Peterborough, to Howard Porter Fife, son of Mr. Howard Fife and the late Mrs. Fife of Hastings.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas minister, officiated, and the wedding music was played by Mr. E. Potter, organist.

The bride's gown of nylon net and lace over bridal satin was embroidered in the skirt with sequins around appliqued satin designs. A matching lace jacket was finished with Queen Anne collar trimmed with sequins and long lily point sleeves. A tiara of lace trimmed with seed pearls held her embroidered net veil in Queen Anne style. She carried a nosegay of white sweet peas and Shasta daisies centred with red roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Douglas Simpson who was wearing nile green net over taffeta made similarly with bodice of Chantilly lace and matching jacket. Her heart-shaped headdress was of matching net and seed pearls and she wore gloves of net. She carried a nosegay of yellow 'mums centred with carnations and roses.

The groom was attended by Wayne Dodds of Hastings and ushers were Stanley Joyes, brother-in-law of the bride, and Gordon Fennell.

They will live at 468 Bolivar street.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 468 Bolivar street. The house was decorated with pink streamers and white bells and the bride's table with hand-crocheted cloth was centred with her wedding cake. Girls serving were Misses Esther Brown, Marie Healey, Margaret Lawless and Joan O'Brien.

Mrs. Hamblin received her guests in a navy sheer and lace dress and wore a navy straw hat with white trim and a corsage of white carnations. Also receiving was the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Fife of Norwood, who wore pale blue shantung with a white straw hat and corsage of pink roses.

When leaving later to go to Toronto Niagara Falls and points in United States the bride was wearing a light blue linen dress with matching cape, white hat and accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The couple will live in Peterborough.

McGee-Waddell Wedding

BETHANY (ENS)—A lovely arrangement of pink and white peonies, roses, iris, orange blossoms and fern was the setting in Bethany United Church on Saturday when Irene Elizabeth (Betty) Waddell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. S. Waddell of Bethany became the bride of Melville Edgar McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McGee of Lindsay. The Rev. Lawrence Norman performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor length gown of white satin with strapless bodice, bouffant overskirt of nylon net with insert of chantilly lace worn over a crinoline and matching jacket, with lily points sleeve. Peter Pan collar and tiny self-covered buttons to the waist. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught to a tiara headdress trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor for her sister, was Miss Agnes Waddell of Orono, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Gordon Smith of Colborne, Mrs. W. Ritchie of Lindsay, sisters of the bride and groom. They wore similar gowns of yellow, pink and blue nylon net over taffeta, with matching mittens and halos of flowers, and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Little Judy Hancock, niece of the bride, wore a floor length gown of rose taffeta with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mr. Mervyn McGee of Toronto was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Ronald Hancock, nephew of the bride, and Alvin McGee, brother of the groom.

Mr. Jon Miller of Toronto played traditional wedding music. Before the bridal party entered the church, Mr. Fraser Carr of Cavan sang "I'll Walk Beside You", and during the signing of the register he sang "Because".

A reception was held in the church parlour where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of navy crepe with multicolored embroidery trim, a white hat and accessories, and corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother, wore a gown of powder blue crepe, also with white hat and accessories and corsage of red roses.

Seventy guests were present from Toronto, Oshawa, Lindsay, Peterborough and Orono. They were served by the Misses Marie Carr, Peggy Reynolds, Marie Finney Velma Cochrane, Wilma Hamilton, Margaret Lowes, Betty Ogden, Eleanor Rowan, Vivian Rowan and Grace Bigelow.

When leaving for their honeymoon motor trip through the United States, the bride was wearing a two piece suit of navy linen with white hat and accessories and corsage of red roses.

Knee-high Nylons Flatter

(By ALICIA HART, NEA)

During hot and humid weather, it's a rare girl who'll sacrifice her own comfort for appearance sake. So, it's not unusual to discover that full-length stockings disappear from the summer scene at times.

But for the many girls who feel stockings are necessary to complete a summer costume, knee-highs offer a solution. These stockings are elasticized to stay up just below the knee. They're shown in a variety of colors, knits and styles to suit your summer outfit, be it dressy or casual.

Cobwebby sheer knee-highs, in delicate shades of pastel pink, blue or green, will harmonize nicely with your pastel cotton dresses.

For your dressier dresses, you'll find nylon knee-highs trimmed with frilly pink or blue lace ruffles. And even more feminine are those with sparkling rhinestone trimming the elastic top.

These "very fancy" knee-highs are delicate-looking, but fun to wear. And they'll add the final feminine touch to that special dress for an important summer party or date.

If your summer wardrobe consists chiefly of sports clothes, however, you're in for a fashion treat. Ribbed knee-highs, of textured nylon, look and feel like cashmere. They come in soft summer shades: strawberry pink, cornflower blue and soft yellow. Or, if you prefer neutrals, choose your knee-highs in grey, beige or white.

These knee-length stockings are proportioned for varying leg lengths. And, in addition to the various colors and textures, there are, for street wear, plain nylon, both seamed and seamless.

SHEER NYLON knee-trimmed with lace ruffles, are cool and pretty, too. They add to the well-groomed appearance of this girl, who wants to look her best on dressy occasions during the hot-weather days.

Wharry, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fallis, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Girven, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Outram, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fashion Show At Garden Tea

A new type of social event in Peterborough is the Garden Tea and Fashion Show to be held this Wednesday, June 23rd, from 5.30 to 8.30 o'clock in the evening, at the home of Miss Beverley Martyn, 582 Waterford Street.

Edith Carlton Chapter, IODE, is the sponsoring organiaztion of which Miss Martyn is vice regent. The regent, Mrs. Graham Donaldson, will receive the guests with the hostess.

Fifteen local models will display 15 different summer outfits selected from a dress shop and a specialty shop downtown, and each will appear twice during the tea hours.

The models will be, Mrs. Hugh Sullivan, Mrs. Russell Cole, Mrs. J. A. McNeill, Mrs. James Campbell, Mrs. Max Comstock, Mrs. Ben Swartz, Miss Bunny Hutchinson, Miss Mary Addyman, Miss Joyce Campbell, Miss Jackie Rose, Miss Rosemary Parker, Miss Beverley Goodman, Miss Dorthy Langley, Miss Marcel Coulas and Miss Andrey Oliver. The commentator will be Mrs. Louis Zacks.

Conveners of the tea and show arrangements are Mrs. Donald Barrett and Mrs. Roy Mounce.

Chapter members will serve the refreshments, with tea poured by Miss Florence Hutchinson, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and Mrs. George Stevens, president of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary.

If weather conditions on Wednesday evening should be such that this event cannot be held outdoors, it will be cancelled until Thursday evening so that the anticpiated effect of a fashion show in a real garden setting need not be sacrificed.

Ex-Hockey Player, Crooner Becomes Versatile Actor

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP)—Paul Carpenter, a Montreal man who has dabbled in hockey, crooning and medical studies, may become one of the most versatile actors in London.

The French-speaking Canadian has just finished his biggest role in two years of busy film making. He has the lead in a movie called "Young Lovers," starring France's Odile Versois.

Carpenter, formerly Carpentier, admits that his stint in filmland has been both meteoric and more profitable than some of his previous jobs.

"It really is the best screen role I've had yet," said the 32-year-old in an interview.

CHANGED CAREERS

Film work seems far removed from Carpenter's early plans. Originally, he said, he aimed to become a surgeon like his father and attended the University of Montreal with that in mind. He was sidetracked by athletics, including a spot of hockey in Montreal.

During the Second World War, Carpenter came to London with the intelligence division. Later he teamed with the army show. It was here he met British band leader Ted Heath, whose band he joined as announcer on demobilization in 1946. He wound up as crooner.

"I was a dreadful singer," Carpenter said. "But the kids seemed to like me." He stayed with the band for several years.

GOT BREAK

His acting career started when he went to visit actress Lana Morris, a friend, at an out-of-town theatre where she was booked for "Streetcar Named Desire." Miss Moris convinced the management that Carpenter was right for the leading man's part. Since then he has been acting in stage, radio, television and films in keeping with "my favorite hobby, which is working."

Since the completion of "Young Lovers," he has worked on location in "The Sea Shall Not Have Them," a story of air-sea rescue technique in which he plays a pilot. He also went into rehearsal for a four - epic television production, "The Liberators," playing an American sergeant.

"Some torrid stuff from Paul Carpenter," said Mark Johns in the Daily Sketch review of the play. The Daily Mirror said playwright Iain MacCormick's crisp, no-words-wasted dialogue made the evening. ". . . Paul Carpenter and all did a realistic job. . . ."

Carpenter previously had bit parts in such films as "Albert R.N.," "Duel in the Jungle" and "The Weak and the Wicked."

Toronto Girl Nearly Makes Royal Academy Exhibition

By ARCH MacKENZIE

LONDON (CP)—A tall, talented young Toronto girl who came to Europe "to paint until my money runs out" nearly made the Royal Academy's summer exhibition with her first submission.

The academy, shrine of traditional British art, finally decided that Rosemary Kilbourn's portrait of a friend was the wrong shape to hang.

The dark-eyed artist, 23, took the incident calmly. She was more concerned with the mass of old world art she had just seen on a two-month trip through Italy and Sicily, and with the painting she hopes to do this summer in the color-blazing Provence country of southern France, where painter Paul Cezanne was born.

RUSTIC RETREAT

"I'll stay until it gets too hot—probably about July—in a chateau nine miles from Aix-en Provence. It's really rustic with no plumbing nor electricity.

"Then, I have a commission to paint a portrait back here in Somerset. I hope to go to Scotland in August." Miss Kilbourne's plans after that depend on how her money holds out.

The pretty Toronto girl, graduate of the Ontario College of Art and medallist there, smiled in recounting the details of her first RA submission.

"The picture was of Vice-Admiral John Durnford, retired, with whom I'd stayed in Chelsea. It was four feet tall and rather narrow.

"I got a note from the academy saying it had been accepted and then another saying it was the wrong shape to hang in the exhibition. That's all there was to it."

LOVER OF COLOR

Miss Kilbourn, who started taking lessons at 12 after having her own portrait done, arrived last September to continue her studies. She briefly attended classes in Chelsea, London artists colony, and painted hard all winter. Then she accompanied her parents on the Italian trip.

Her main impression after a steady diet of old art masters was of color.

"There's nothing like it in Canadian or British painting," she said. "I've always loved the post-impressionists but you can see they knew what they were doing after looking at the old fellows."

Miss Kilbourn admitted being just a shade "saturated" with cathedrals and she came away with "a renewed interest in portraits." She sketched but did no painting, hence her preoccupation with the stay in sun-soaked Provence, made famous by Cezanne.

Miss Kilbourn's Canadian painting was done mainly in the Toronto area with some in the Georgian bay region. And she had two summers on Vancouver island in the Ucluelet area where Emily Carr did much of her Indian painting.

At this stage of her European stay, Miss Kilbourn finds it difficult to gauge her Canadian painting ambitions.

"I haven't reached the stage yet where I want to go back. Not that I doubt that I eventually will."

DOROTHY DIX:

Boy Friend No Trouble For Girl 18

DEAR MISS DIX: I am really mixed up, I met Leon a year ago and fell quite in love with him—or so I thought. We went together for two months, then he met somebody else and began to go steady with her. However, he wanted to go out with me the nights he didn't see her. I didn't like the idea, and refused. In a few weeks he was back, having broken with the other girl. In the meantime, however, I had met Harvey, a pleasant young man and very good company.

It would be foolish for Harvey and me to become serious, as we are of different religions, each being very devout. I'm afraid to trust Leon too much after what he did before, and I'd hate to lose Harvey's friendship. I'm 18, if that's important.

W. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

BIDE YOUR TIME

ANSWER: At 18, getting or shedding a boy friend isn't such a serious matter. The best thing you can do is bide your time a bit longer. Perhaps Leon will show by real devotion that he's more than ready to atone for his lapse, or perhaps a third boy will come along with charm you find irresistible. It would be better to see less of Harvey, since any serious intentions involving him would be fraught with too many complications.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: After being friends for 14 years, Guy and I had a misunderstanding and decided to call it a day. We are both stubborn, and neither of us will give in easily. Each is afraid to take the first step toward reconciliation. What can be done?

L. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, what can you do? Sit around your respective living rooms from now on waiting for the other to make a move? Or are you willing to be the appeaser, take the telephone off the hook and call Guy? You may get some satisfaction from being the stubborn martyr, but certainly there's nothing else you'll get out of it. The childish habit of trying to force the other fellow into giving in has caused much unhappiness and many broken romances. Don't add yours to the scrap heap; salvage it now.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: A very dear friend of mine is soon to have a birthday and I'm in a quandary about what to give her. She has a beautiful home, but it is quite cluttered with novelties, figurines, and other bric-a-brac that people have given her. As she's an older woman, she's tired dusting and caring for these things.

MARY T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you know the lady so well, how can you have come to the conclusion that novelties of this type are the only possible gifts? Surely you know her taste in other things. A book is a perfect gift. Does she like nice personal things? A handsome apron or hanky, flowers candy, perfume, powder, purse, costume jewelry—the list can go on and on. There's no reason why the bric-a-brac problem should concern you at all.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Since your column is read mostly by women would you please tell them that they look like the dickens in slacks and jeans. Men just don't like them. We much perfer attractive dresses.

DISILLUSIONED MALE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, you have told your tale, but I doubt if it will do much good. Ladies have sold themselves on the idea that such attire is the thing for warm weather and, looks or no looks, they'll not forego comfort. Wouldn't you be satisfied if the attire that offends you was restricted to appropriate figures and locales. I would.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I've been going with a boy for the past year, and he has stood me up several times. However, he always came back, and I'd go out with him again. He has often told me he loves me, and I love him, but recently he said he didn't care anything about me. We parted, but I do so hope he comes back. Do you think he will?

HELENE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If he did, Helene, you'd be very foolish to take him back. Since the beginning of time people have had to get over broken romances, and I'm sure you'll do a good job of picking up the pieces on this one. Other boys will come along, and let's hope their natures will be more constant.

BETHANY GARDEN PARTY

BETHANY (ENS)—The ladies guild of St. Paul's church held a successful garden party on Friday evening with many from outside points in attendance. After supper the Rev. T. S. Gault was chairman for the evening program which featured the "Note Wits" barbershop quartet from Peterborough. Local talent assisting were Mrs. Earl Argue, elocutionist; Leone Smith with several tap dancing numbers; Creighton Carr and Miss Marie Carr with several songs and their own guitar accompaniment.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Emergency Snacks Are Handy And Quick To Make

It's a good thing to live with young people—especially the try-anything-once type.

For instance would an old fogey like me even think of toasting a sandwich in the waffle iron? No sirree not unless I was pestered to do it by Pete who seems to have learned more than just fraternizing by living in a fraternity.

WAFFLE-IZED CHEESE SANDWICHES

You take fresh slices of 60 per cent whole grain bread. Cover one slice with a slab of process cheese, spread the other side with mayonnaise and put them together. Then butter the outsides not too generously, and put them in the waffle iron to bake until they are pale gold and crispy. He made them for lunch todya and they were nifty. It seems the fellows eat these—two or three of them each—for a midnight snack in the fraternity kitchen.

MARY J.'S EMERGENCY SNACK

Dave's home for the summer too so Mary J. has to keep some supplies hidden. She had a cellophane package of hamburg buns in the refrigerator. When we dropped in late one evening—hungry as always—she quickly grated some old cheese and mixed and softened it with some cream, spread a little on the split buttered buns, sprinkled it with diced bacon and broiled them until cooked and toasted.

KOMPASS' SPECIAL

Once when Mrs. Kompass only had enough cold chicken to put in your eye she chopped it and added it to half a can of condensed mushroom soup and spread it on halves of those underbaked "heat 'n serve" rolls and broiled them. A delicious tidbit.

MARIANNE'S ICED MOCHA

If it calls for chocolate it's Marianne's private property. In the winter she concentrates on cocoa, but when it is hot she gets more venturesome. Make 3 cups double strength coffee. Put it in top of double boiler with 2 squares of bitter chocolate and ¼ cup sugar and heat until chocolate melts. Beat with Rotary beater to blend. Chill. Add 3 cups whole milk, and slip in a little cream if you have any and if all the guests are bean-pole - shaped. Pour into tall glasses and garnish with whipped cream or plop big spoonful of vanilla ice cream in.

Since my young people always seem to have an excess of energy they still like making candy. This is their current sweet:

RANCH CANDY

Three cups white sugar, 1 cup each light corn syrup and milk and chopped walnuts, grated rind of 1 orange, 2 squares bitter chocolate, 2 tablespoons icing sugar. Mix together the sugar, syrup, milk and boil gently until it forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. (230 deg. Fahr. on candy thermometer). Remove from heat and cool to room temperature. Meanwhile melt the chocolate in top of double boiler. Remove from heat and add the icing sugar to it. When the first mixture is cool, add the grated rind and nuts and beat until it begins to stiffen, then pour onto buttered pan, and when nearly set, spread the chocolate over it. Mark into squares.

Name Vendor Or Go To Jail For 3 Months

Faced with an alternative of up to three months in prison, Norris Newton, R.R. 2 Havelock, today told Magistrate W. R. Philp QC how he had acquired a dozen bottles of beer from a Havelock district house at midnight June 13.

Newton pleaded guilty to having possession of liquor not purchased on his individual permit and for this was fined $100 and costs $2.50. (Under the criminal code a convicted person is obliged to give details of the purchase, and on refusing can be given up to three months in prison).

Newton said that he had travelled to a house about six miles east of Havelock village in company with two other men. They had stopped at the house of a Joe Hill where a lady had answered their summons.

According to Newton the woman had given him a dozen bottles of beer and he had given her $2. The beer had been placed in the car when the police arrived.

Simple Approach Best-Graham

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (CP) Evangelist Billy Graham Monday told an overflow crowd in Copenhagen Cathedral that he has confirmed that the average American has the intelligence of a 12-year-old boy.

"I have found the best approach is not the intellectual approach, but the most simple way," he said. "I have been told that the average American person has the intelligence of a 12-year-old boy.

"I have found out that was true. We must talk to the people in the language they understand."

Monday night about 12,000 persons gathered in Copenhagen's vegetable market in the heart of the city for a revival meeting, despite heavy rain.

At an earlier meeting, 5,500 Danes heard Graham's message while another 2,000 gathered in churches to hear broadcasts of the sermon.

Graham flew to Amsterdam, Holland, today for a one-day crusade. He then goes to Frankfurt, Germany, to address United States troops.

John Landy Celebrates Victory At Dance

TURKU, Finland (Reuters)—The best legs over a mile distance danced until the early hours this morning in a picturesque summer resort set in rocky, wooded islands near here.

Their owner, Australian John Landy, was the hero of the long, rollicking night. He stood the foxtrot pace with the same stamina that carried him over a mile earlier in the day in three minutes, 58 seconds—swiftest ever achieved by man.

Today, the 23-year-old agricultural student slept off his big day and night while mountains of letters and cables piled up outside his hotel room. His fans also sent dozens of bouquets.

Carries Wounded Man Out Of Bushland

BROCKVILLE (CP)—A Korean war veteran Monday carried his wounded hunting companion from the bushland seven miles north of here and brought him to a Brockville hospital.

Stanley Preston, 18, formerly of Victoria, B. ., suffered a stomach wound when a .22-calibre rifle held by John Taylor accidentally discharged, police said.

The youths were hunting woodchucks.

Preston was reported today "in good condition" after removal of a bullet from his stomach.

Reservist Sailors On 10-Day Cruise

HAMILTON (CP) — A large group of young reservist sailors left here today on a 10-day training cruise on five Canadian navy ships.

They will call at Port Colborne, Port Dover, Leamington, Windsor and Kingston before returning to Hamilton July 2.

The ships will be in Kingston for Dominion Day celebrations at old Fort Henry.

The 64 reservists were drawn from naval divisions in all parts of Canada.

THE EXILES—A group of political exiles head for a plane at Guatemala City airport as they prepare to leave the capital. A total of 18 were forced to leave the country. The anti-Communist exiles were reported to be behind the revolutionary movement attacking from Honduras on Guatemala in Central America.

Every Effort Made To Store Wheat

OTTAWA (CP) — Every effort will be made to provide storage for Ontario's winter wheat crop, Trade Minister Howe said today.

He was replying in the Commons to a question from E. Blake Huffman (L—Kent).

Mr. Howe said he recently conferred on the matter with Transport Controller Roy Milner and the board of grain commissioners.

Looking Forward To Wide Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill said today he is looking forward to wide talks on "all subjects of major current importance" when he visits President Eisenhower this week-end.

There will be no formal agenda for the talks, Churchill told the House of Commons, "but I hope we can have an exchange of views on all subjects of major current importance."

Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden leave for Washington Thursday. They will spend the week-end as guests of Eisenhower.

WILL VISIT OTTAWA

They will pay a short visit to Ottawa following their talks with Eisenhower, informed sources confirmed today.

When the announcement was made of the Churchill-Eisenhower meeting, Prime Minister St. Laurent issued an invitation to Churchill and Eden to come to Ottawa if time permitted.

Bulk of Prisoners Have Made Escape

SAIGON, Indo-China (AP)—The bulk of 500 Vietminh war prisoners held in a French union detention camp at My Tho have broken free in an uprising staged with the help of a guerrilla attack on the guards, informed military sources said Monday.

About 100 were reported killed, wounded or recaptured after the action before dawn Saturday. But 400—potential reinforcements for the Communist-led rebel campaign to overrun Indo-China—melted into the tropical bush and marshlands of the area 30 miles southwest of Saigon and vanished.

Fear Red China Will About-Face

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith was reported today to fear that the Communist negotiators at Geneva may stage a dramatic about-face and offer Indo-China peace concessions, perhaps in an effort to feed neutralist sentiment in France.

Smith returned Monday after seven weeks as chief United States delegate at the Asian peace conference where he dealth face to face with Chinese, Russian and other Red diplomats.

The undersecretary was said to be drafting a gloomy report for President Eisenhower and a group of congressional leaders at a White House briefing Wednesday. Smith found, it was said, that instead of lowering their price for peace settlements in Korea and Indo-China, the Red negotiators actually raised their demands.

Report No Change In Envoy's Condition

TOKYO (Reuters)—A Canadian embassy spokesman today said there has been no change in the condition of Ambassador Robert W. Mayhew, 74, taken to hospital after collapsing Monday, but the spokesman added that his condition is "not serious."

He said the ambassador will remain in the hospital for the time being and then take a rest of several weeks ordered by his doctors.

Reports that Mayhew suffered a cerebral haemorrhage were denied by the embassy spokesman.

May Unearth Skeleton Of Mastadon

CHATHAM (CP) — The complete skeleton of a mastodon, prehistoric member of the elephant family, may be unearthed from its 35,000-year-old grave near Tupperville, 13 miles north of here.

Already the jaw, parts of the tusk and seven teeth have been uncovered and Wallaceburg science teacher S. R. Balkwill says there is a good chance of unearthing the monster's entire frtme.

Probing with a five-foot steel pole, Balkwill has found the bones in an irrigation cut through John Ferguson's Chatham township farm.

At the same time, oversized bones have been discovered in a sandpit on the farm of Carman Parry, two miles northeast of the Ferguson farm.

Balkwill assumes the animal is a mastodon because of the gently curving tusks. The only similar beast, the mammoth, has sharply curved tusks.

History of Kent County ground structure indicates it may be the graveyard

3 Hurt As Car Crashes Tree During Storm

LINDSAY (ENS)—Three persons were injured and the car in which they were riding extensively damaged during Monday evening's heavy rainfall when it left the road on highway 35 north of Lindsay and skidded into a large tree.

According to provinical police-officer constable Jim Hall who investigated, the car was driven by Albert Euller of Water St., Kitchener. It apparently skidded on the slippery pavement, travelled backward for some distance on the shoulder and struck the tree.

$1,200 DAMAGE

The vehicle sustained damage of some $1,200. In the Ross Memorial Hospital with undetermined back injuries, concussion and shock is Mrs. Donald Farrell of Kitchener. 700 Involved In Test Case

OTTAWA (CP)—The Exchequer Court of Canada Monday opened hearing on a test case involving some 700 persons at Newfoundland's Gander Airport. It is estimated that a decision against the federal government could cost it $2,000,000.

The case, "Chesley Samson versus the Queen," involves pay received for federal government work since union of Newfoundland with Canada. Mr. Samson, a carpenter with the air services branch of the federal transport department, claims he was not paid at a rate comparable to that paid by the department for similar work elsewhere.

This, he argues, is contrary to the terms of union with Canada, and since April, 1949, when union was consummated, the government owes him $3,468 in back pay.

The federal government contends that the terms of union do not make the government liable for the extra payments.

The trial is continuing.

Increased Government Aid For Civil Defence Urged By Industrial Vets

The need for increased government and municipal financial assistance and participation in civil defence measures was expressed by members of the provincial council of industrial war veterans' associations when they held their annual meeting at Stony lake during the weekend.

Delegates from eight groups in Ontario agreed to a resolution stating that sufficient urgency existed in the international situation to indicate the need for protective measures for the people of Canada in the event of a military disaster.

Details of the resolution are to be forwarded to the prime minister and to other government and civil defence authorities.

Representatives of some 15,000 war veterans who discussed the resolution, expressed alarm at the apathetic attitude being displayed in many quarters towards civil defence.

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

S. G. Buckley of Hamilton was re-elected president for the ensuing year. James Rennie of Toronto was elected to the office of vice-president and Stewart MacLaren, Peterborough, was returned as secretary-treasurer of the council. Delegates also appointed operating committees headed by Lawrence Melville, Michael Kane and Donald Weaver. Plans were laid for activities to increase the usefulness of member organizations as service clubs in their communities, and the council as a central source of service to its member associations.

The two-day conference was attended by delegates representing veterans' organizations in Canadian Westinghouse, National Steel Car, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Hamilton; Anaconda American Brass, Lever Brothers, Toronto Hydro Electric System and the T. Eaton Company, Toronto; Canadian General Electric, Peterborough. The CGE organization was host for the occasion.

Plans for the following year, formulated at the weekend session, indicated that the Provincial Council will increase its membership of affiliated veteran associations, and extend its program of providing a central representative service to those associations.

Children Pray Project Success

MATTICE (CP)—Nuns are leading schoolchildren in this northern Ontario outpost in daily prayers that the skies will be clear the morning of June 30.

That's the day of a total eclipse of the sun.

Already, observers from the David Dunlap Observatory in Toronto, headed by Dr. John F. Heard, are setting up five special cameras in this community 120 miles northwest of Timmins and 575 miles north of Toronto.

As the technicians mount the elaborate equipment valued at $5,000 on concrete footings in the yard of St. Francis Xavier school, 245 French-speaking children watch wide-eyed.

Each day the children pray for the success of the project and are confident their prayers will be answered despite weather observers' gloomy pronouncements that chances are three to one that the day will be overcast or rainy.

The eclipse will last for 89 seconds while the moon passes between the sun and the earth. Experts say this section of northern Ontario should have one of the best possible views of it, if the weather is favorable.

Grandmother Saves Grandchild In Fire

OTTAWA (CP) — A courageous grandmother who ran back into a burning house saved the life of her year-old granddaughter here Monday.

Mrs. James Moloughney, who declined to give her age, was asleep in her living room when a neighbor who had noticed the fire called to her. Mrs. Moloughney went outside to see where the fire was and only then realized it was her own house ablaze.

She ran back upstairs and grabbed the baby from her cradle a few seconds before flames broke through from the bathroom, where the fire started.

Wheat Council Ends Five-Day Session

LONDON (CP)—The 47-countr international wheat council, which has concluded a five-day session devoted to a general review of world wheat problems, produced "no tangible results of any significance," The Times concludes today.

"The meeting was reduced to an exchange of views. Agreement was reached on only one point.

"This was that the difficulties of the council would be lessened if all the largest exporters and importers would come into the agreement—that is, in short, if Britain would return to the fold and Argentina could be brought in."

People of Blueberry Don't Like New Home

FORT ST. JOHN, B. C. (CP)—The town at mile 101 on the Alaska highway—also known as Blueberry by everyone in the area—has been given the name of "Wonowone" by the post office department, it was reported Monday.

But residents aren't happy about it. They would prefer the town be named after Brig.-Gen. James A. O'Connor of the U. S. army, who worked on construction of the Alaska highway, Wop May, pioneer northern airman, or Sir Winston Churchill.

At Ottawa, a post office official confirmed that the department authorized the name change, and said it has been approved by the Canadian geographic board.

Begin Plotting Eclipse Point

KAPUSKASING (CP)—Six amateur astronomers, members of the Milwaukee Astronomical Society, Monday began plotting the point that will be the exact centre of the shadow cast when the moon passes between the sun and the earth June 30.

The party is from Ohio University, headed by William Albrecht and expects to set up its equipment near the village of Mattice, about 40 miles west of here.

Working with similar Ohio University parties stationed in Greenland, Faroe islands, Shetland islands, Norway and Iran, the group will gather geodetic data of the eclipse for the United States armed forces.

They hope to measure the distances between each of the parties to within 150 feet, and fix exact intercontinental measurements.

The eclipse will start at 6:17 a. m. EDT, and will last 89 seconds.

Also beginning preparatory work Monday in Kapuskasing, chosen by scientists as the best spot on the continent to view the eclipse, was a party of three from Brown University on Rhode Island.

Scientists from Toronto, Ottawa and Victoria, and from universities across the United States, have chosen some unusual seats from which to observe the eclipse.

Says U.S. Role Shameful One

OTTAWA (CP) — Lorne Ingle, CCF national secretary, said Monday night that in Guatemala the United States has played and is playing one of the most shameful roles in its history.

"Our neighbors to the south are using the excuse of a Communist threat in Guatemala to justify their use of town-bully tactics against the people of this tiny country," he said.

Mr. Ingle spoke in an address prepared for delivery at an Ottawa district CCF meeting.

He said that, after the Ubico dictatorship was overthrown in 1944, the government that took over was dedicated to high ideals of social and economic reform.

"If they had secured American assistance in those days," Mr. Ingle said, "The Communist influence in Guatemala would have remained negligible . . . but instead of assisting the government, the U. S. sided with the big landowners, the United Fruit Company and the military clique who wanted to re-establish their old military dictatorship."

Constable Receives Sharp Set-Back

OTTAWA (CP)—Police constable George Constantineau of Ottawa received a sharp set-back in the Supreme Court of Canada Monday.

The judicial body reduced to $3,000 from $18,000 the amount of damages he can claim from his aunt's estate.

He claimed that original sum for doing a number of odd jobs for his late aunt, Mrs. Laura C. Brunet. He said his aunt had promised to leave him a property or $10,000 for his work, but he got neither. He had no contract.

They were rhinoceroid mammals outwardly resembling the modern rhinoceros, but bigger, attaining a height of 15 feet.

Union Proposal Turned Down

OSHAWA (CP) — Dorland Windover, president of the Oshawa Street Railway Employees' Union (AFL-TLC), said Monday night the Canadian National Railways has rejected a union proposal that could have ended the four-week-old strike here.

Mr. Windover said the union, through the efforts of Mayor John Naylor, had agreed to arbitration for its bus drivers and to hold the terms for 18 railway workers in abeyance until settlement had been reached in a dispute between major railway organizations and the CNR.

The union is holding out for eight paid statutory holidays and other fringe benefits.

Will Begin Work On CNR Hotel

MONTREAL (CP)—Work will begin Wednesday on the new Canadian National Railways $20,000,000 hotel here and the building should be ready for use in the fall of 1957, Donald Gordon, president of the CNR, said today.

The announcement followed third reading in the Senate Monday of a bill authorizing the government-owned CNR to borrow money for construction of the 20-storey building.

Rain-Soaked Committee Has Rugged Trip

By WALTER GRAY

PORT ARTHUR (P) — Mud-spattered, rain soaked and reeking with insect repellant, the Ontario legislature's touring highways investigation committee straggled into Port Arthur early today.

The arrival ended a 700-mile hop by airplane, boat and car that began 18 hours earlier in Red Lake, 400 miles northwest of the Lakehead.

The fact that the committee toured the 83-mile Savant Lake-Pickle Crow, and Ignace-Fort William highways involved in the highways department investigation was incidental to the hectic trip made by the 15-man party.

The day's journey began at Red Lake where the committee flew beneath rain-laden clouds to Pickle Crow,, 150 miles to the east.

LOST ON LAKE

At Pickle Crow the committee transferred its 500 pounds of luggage to two outboard motor boats and a launch for a 10-mile trip down rain-swept St. Joseph lake, made necessary by a washout of approaches to two bridges.

Three times the launch stalled in the middle of the lake. The wheelsman lost his way and had to be guided through the twisting channel to the landing dock.

Leaving the boats, the sodden group slogged through ankle-deep mud to cars which had to be transported by scows around the washout. For the remaining 83 miles south the committee bounced over pot holes to Savant Lake.

NO COMMENT NOW

At Savant lake, committee chairman Kelso Roberts (P—Toronto St. Patrick) said any comment on the investigation of the highway constructed by Bergmann Contractors Ltd., one of the three firms charged with conspiracy, would be withheld pending completion of criminal proceedings.

Bergmann's three contracts involved $1,400,000. The 1950 contract cited in last month's interim report by Harvey Cotnam, provincial auditor, showed the original estimates called for a $288,000 expenditure. During execution of the contract an additional $531,000 was approved. Mr. Roberts said the large estimate over-run was due to the fact that the highway, built to serve the Pickle Crow gold mining camps—approximately 60 vehicles use it—was originally designated as a winter road.

"However, later by stages and for reasons appearing during construction it was turned into an all weather road," said Mr. Roberts.

Following the start of the highways investigation, work on the highway was suspended in March.

The committee was accompanied Monday by Jack West Jr., son of John West, general manager of Bergmann's.

ESCAPE OVERNIGHT STOP

The committee was faced with the prospect of an overnight stop at Savant Lake, the southern terminal of the highway and a divisional station on thhe CNR line. However, clearing skies allowed the two department of lands and forests planes to ferry the committee to Ignace, 200 miles southeast, where the group commandeered private cars to drive them to Port Arthur.

Mr. Roberts deferred study of the Fort William division construction until today's round trip to Atikokan.

Call First Tenders Next Week—Hydro

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Hydro is expected to call first tenders on the St. Lawrence river power project next week.

First tenders are expected to seek bids for construction workers' camps and other phases of the work which do not require international approval.

Hydro chairman Robert H. Saunders will visit Ottawa today to iron out minor problems with federal officials.

SEEKS CO-ORDINATION

From his experience as chairman this year, Ald. Knox said he would like to see some co-ordination of the parks committee and recreation commission.

"I may not be here next year (members—"Don't say that") and it seems to me that something worth while could be accomplished by bringing these two groups together at least for supervision effect," Ald. Knox suggested. "I think it is something we should consider, as provided for under the Parks Commission Act."

Discussion ended on a motion by Acting Mayor Dewart and Ald. McBride requesting City Clerk Outram to furnish the committee with pertinent facts from legislation in regard to scope and other aspects of setting up a parks-recreation commission. This is only a tentative idea which will likely be elaborated by the chairman in further discussion when the information is obtained.

Rain Cancels Visit To View Possible Park Site

Rain this morning prevented the parks committee from looking over the proposed park site at the foot of Lock St. That trip set over to some other day when the sun is shining.

The project is only in the preliminary consideration stage. Once upon a time the property on the west side of Lock and north of McKellar St. was acquired by the old street railway company for an outdoor skating rink. Its form has been erased, but its companion across Parkhill Road from Jackson Park is still clearly outlined.

Skaters had their choice, the west end or the south, but the rink at Jackson Park was combined with a toboggan slide that descended steeply to the southeast in a long sweep to the Jackson Park creek across the site of the Dominion Woollens plant.

Eventually, the street cars folded up as one of the assets to the Peterborough Light and Power Co. acquired by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission and later by the city. Years went by, and the Lock St. circle became a frog pond in the spring with rushes surviving into the summer.

Possibly it was Herbert I. Bradburn who suggested as an alderman some years ago that the old skating rink could be converted into a public park. There was also some mention of securing for similar purpose the former H. B. Rye boat delivery on the east side of Lock St., with the advantage of river front.

At any rate, Ald R. E. Knox, parks chairman, has put the park idea on his list of unfinished business, although it is his first experience in delving into its merits. One suggestion that has cropped up conceives the closing of the junction of Lock and McKellar Streets as a means of enlarging the parks scheme by bringing the two properties on either side of Lock into one block.

That is only an excursion into the first stage of approach to planning, and before any further consideration is given to the park project Ald. Knox wishes the committee to go over the ground and visualize its practical possibilities.

CELEBRATE CENTENNIAL—Kitchener, Ont., this year marks the 100th anniversary of its incorporation as a municipality. Nurtured by a hardy German people, who retain some of their old customs, the city has become one of the most highly-industrialized centres in Canada with a population of 52,773. Kitchener Marking Its 100th Anniversary

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Kitchener, Ontario's sixth city, founded by Mennonites from Pennsylvania, this year marks the 100th anniversary of its incorporation as a municipality.

Nurtured by a hardy German people, forced by public opinion in 1916 to change its name, the city has grown into one of the most highly - industrialized centres in Canada. The present population is 52,773.

The community actually had its beginning 148 years ago when Abraham Weber rode through Indian country to select land for a farm. Soon, Benjamin Eby and Joseph Schneider drove their Conestoga wagons up from Pennsylvania to settle on land under British rule which they felt gave them security for their homes and their religious.

Others followed from Pennsylvania and from Germany. Mr. Eby called the hamlet Berlin to make the newcomers feel at home. In 1854, Berlin was incorporated as a village.

VILLAGE THRIVED

The village thrived, It became the Waterloo county seat. It had a weekly newspaper, several trades, four taverns, nine church congregations, a German band, a choral society.

The construction of the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway through the community brought more people and more business. In 1870, Berlin became a town. It had a population of more than 3,000.

Pacing Berlin's growth was that of neighboring Waterloo and the two towns grew closer together, both physically and culturally.

Their international saengerfests drew thousands to hear the bands and choirs.

During the 80s, Berlins population almost doubled. The townspeople prospered; 80 per cent owned their own homes.

HYDRO PIONEER

Modern - minded business men pooled their efforts in proposing electric power from Niagara falls and as a result the Ontario hydro-electric power commission was created. On Oct. 1, 1910 Sir Adam Beck who piloted the hydro bill through the legislature, pressed a button that flooded Berlin with light, the first distant municipality to receive electricity from Niagara.

Development never stopped. In 1912, Berlin was proclaimed a city.

Then Canada entered the war against Germany. Manufacturers began getting complaints from customers who said they couldn't sell products with made-in-Berlin labels. Newspapers called Berlin pro-German.

The city was split over the issue, but finally citizens voted to change the name. The new name was chosen from thousands submitted in a city-sponsored contest. Kitchener was selected in honor of the famous British soldier and war minister in the First World War.

Earl Kitchener had been lost at sea shortly before.

On Sept. 1, 1916, Berlin officially became Kitchener.

Following the war's end, Kitchener went back to the business of expanding. New industries came to the city. The end of the Second World War brought thousands of immigrants — mostly from Germany. Recently, it annexed 3,000 acres of adjoining land, doubling the size of the city.

Kitchener has sired many a famous name—the late Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, Louis Breithaupt, Ontario's lieutenant-governor, Mabel Dunham, author of the "Trail of the Conestoga," Walter Zinn, one of the top five atomic scientists in the United States, and Kenneth and Margaret Sturm Miller, crime novelists.

The city has never stopped thinking of the future. The planning commission is preparing for another 100,000 people.

Killed In Fall

TORONTO (CP)—Josef Schybka, 33-year-old glass company employee, was fatally injured Monday when he fell 68 feet while nailing steel moding around a buiding in suburban North York. A fellow worker sais Schybka was preparing to put away his tools when he lost his footing on a scaffold.

Mayors Unable To Take Salute

OTTAWA (CP)—H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) wants to know what army regulation bars Ottawa's Mayor Charlotte Whitton from taking the salute of an army regiment.

Mr. Herridge, speaking in the Commons, referred to a report that the army has refused Miss Whitton the right to take the salute of the Cameron Highlanders on the grounds that the privilege is reserved for the Queen, her representatives, the defence minister or senior military officers.

The Cameron Highlanders will parade July 1 as part of the city's centenary celebrations.

Later, Defence Minister Claxton said regulations permit salutes for a long list of persons, but mayors are not included.

He said Governor-General Vincent Massey will be present at the ceremony and added:

"It is completely unthinkable under military practice and tradition that either before or after the governor-general receives military honors the same unit on the same parade should give military honors to anyone else."

Says RCAF Building Depreciates Property

OTTAWA (CP)—Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto-Eglinton) said Monday night the defence department was thoughtless and unfair when it built a three-storey red brick building in the centre of a Toronto residential district.

He said the building was erected on Avenue road property acquired from the city in 1940 for an RCAF station. The property was formerly occupied by the Eglinton Hunt Club.

Construction of the building, which looked like a factory or a warehouse, had resulted in depreciation of homes in the residential area.

Defence Minister Claxton agreed that it was too large a building for the size of the Toronto lot.

Murphy Enacts Own Life In New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How does a modest man enact his own amazing life on the screen?

Actor Audie Murphy is not sure he'll live through it, but he is undertaking to portray the soldier Audie Murphy in "To Hell and Back." The autobiography is being filmed with a nexpensive production by Murphy's home studio, Universal-International.

Murphy's record as a soldier in the Second World War is unparalleled. He won 23 decorations, including the Congressional Medal of Honor. In the course of killing 240 German soldiers, a mortar shell burst at this feet, he was perforated by an artillery shell blast and shot in the hip by a sniper's bullet.

"KIND OF SILLY"

The former farm boy from Kingston, Tex., is modest about his war achievements. Director Jess Hibbs told me he and producer Aaron Rosenberg have met opposition on some points in the script.

"I think it's kind of silly to show me getting the medals at the end of the picture," Murphy reasoned. "Those who know I got the medals will understand. And for the others, the events will speak for themselves."

Audie remarked that the rest of the script is shaping up well, but he'll take a stand on that matter.

STORY OF INFANTRY

Hibbs said that two thirds of the picture would be shot on location near Yakima, Wash., where the army will supply troops and full co-operation. The terrain approximates the settings of Sicily, Italy and France, where Murphy fought.

Audie said that the story would cover his life from the time he was a small boy in the family of nine children on a Texas farm.

The story will cover all his war achievements and draw from real life characters for his buddies, although the identifications will be clouded.

"The main thing I hope this picture will do is present the story of the infantry," he remarked. "I don't think it has ever been adequately done in films."

Senator Reassured Rights To Be Kept

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) Monday received assurance that the House of Commons has no designs on the traditional rights of the Senate.

Senator Reid asked Solicitor-General Macdonald, government make a report on Senate-Commons talks involving the amalgamation of post office and other services. He said he views with some alarm that the Senate might lose some of its rights to the Commons.

Senator Norman Lambert (L—Ontario), who took part in the discussions, said they related only to the question of co-operation in the administration of the reading room and the Senate and Commons post offices. Any decisions made would be placed before the senate for approval.

Angry MP Decries Making Guards New Top Regiment

OTTAWA (CP)—Julian Ferguson (PC—Simcoe North) Monday night decried designation of the Regiment of Canadian Guards as the senior regular force infantry regiment in Canada.

"Shame on you," he shouted, waving his finger at Defence Minister Claxton.

The Guards, formed in October, take precedence over the other five infantry regiments, the Royal Canadian Regiment, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, Royal 22nd Regiment, Queen's Own Rifles and the Black Watch.

"It is a disgrace to the famous regiments of this country," said Mr. Ferguson, red-faced and angry. He paid particular tribute to the Queen's Own and the Winnipeg Rifles, the Black Devils.

NOT INCLUDED

(The Winnipeg Rifles, as a reserve unit, is not included in the list of precedence).

"The torch those men carried in Flanders Fields, you've thrown in the gutter," he said, pounding his Commons desk.

Mr. Ferguson rose through the ranks to officer during the First World War and won the Military Cross. He was wounded in 1918.

Lt.-Col. Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre) said that, according to recruiting advertisements, the Guards were going to place emphasis on parade ground and ceremonial drill.

There was a place for ceremonial drill but this was no time for emphasis on it. The emphasis must be on fighting qualities.

BOY KILLED, 14 YOUNG PEOPLE HURT

Pickup Truck Spills Load Of Ball Fans; To Charge Driver

Alvin Boast, 14, a grade eight pupil from Burleigh Falls, was killed and 14 of his companions were injured at 9 p.m. Tuesday when the open pickup truck they were riding in skidded and toppled on its side, three miles north of Buckhorn.

The truckload of softball fans and girl players—all 15 of them from Burleigh Falls — were strewn along the rocky bank on the east side of Highway 36 like so much cordwood. They were returning to Burleigh Falls after a game of softball with a Rockcroft girls team when the truck went out of control on a sharp curve.

The OPP said today that the driver of the pickup truck, 34-year-old Jesse Spencely, will be charged with both dangerous and careless driving. Because a charge is being laid there will be no inquest.

A shuttle of ambulances from Nisbett's in Peterborough and Hendren's and Anderson's in Lakefield went back and forth over the 22 miles of highway between Peterborough and Buckhorn bringing the injured to Civic and St. Joseph's Hospitals.

TWO CRITICALLY HURT

At press time today the toll was one dead, two critically ill, one in fair condition, four in hospital with lesser injuries, and seven others nursing cuts, bruises and brush burns after receiving out patient treatment.

Following is the casualty list.

Dead:

Alvin Boast, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boast of Burleigh Falls, killed almost instantly from the effects of a fractured skull, facial and other injuries.

Injured and admitted to Civic Hospital:

Stewart Whetung, 17, critically ill with scalp wounds, undiagnosed head injuries, and injured left arm and right knee.

Kenneth Boast, 15, critically ill with a fractured jaw, fractured wrist, and head injuries.

Gweneth Boast, 16, in fair condition with chest injuries and shock.

Grace Brown, 21, in satisfactory condition after suffering concussion. She was unconscious when removed to hospital.

Mrs. Lloyd Brown, 28, a knee injury.

Jesse Spencley, 34, driver of the truck, a broken collarbone.

Injured and admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital:

Larry Boast, 18, two cut fingers on his left hand, and shock. He will be released later today.

Seven others were given outpatient treatment at the two hos-

Danger Of War Spreading In S.E. Asia

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons today that the situation in Southeast Asia carries "risks of a wider conflagration."

Eden, who led the British delegation at Geneva conference, was greeted with cheers as he opened a one-day foreign policy debate on the eve of his departure with Prime Minister Churchill for weekend talks with President Eisenhower.

Eden admitted that "no real progress" had been made at Geneva toward settlement of the Korean situation.

"All that can be said is that we have brought out more clearly than before the real points of principle which divide the two opposing sides."

INDO-CHINA THREAT

Referring to Indo-China, he said:

"Seldom have I known a situation in which the risks of wider conflagration should be more apparent to all."

Of the two tasks entrusted to the Geneva conference—Korea and Indo-China—that concerning Indo-China was the more urgent, Eden said, "if only because war is being waged in that country with all its attendant perils."

"We have therefore very good reason for this conference to succeed. We have done everything in our power to get agreement."

Eden gave his report even as the new French premier, Piere Mendes-France, met behind closed doors with the premier of Red China, Chou En-lai, in Bern, Switzerland.

Employment In Canada Rises In May To End Worst Period Since War

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian employment spurted ahead in May, the government reported today. The government's periodical survey showed that employment—full and part-time—passed the 5,000,000 mark in the week ended May 22, though it was lower than a year earlier.

At the same time, unemployment declined sharply as the spring pickup in jobs got into full swing after a winter that saw Canada's heaviest unemployment since the Second World War.

On an estimate of the bureau of statistics, there were 5,070,000 persons at work during the week of May 22, of whom 4,729,000 were employed full time and 351,000 for part of the week.

DOWN FROM 1953

This compared with 4,880,000 in the week ended April 17 and with 5,108,000 in the corresponding May week of 1953.

The bureau, which samples 30,000 households, estimated that actual unemployment during the week under review amounted to 217,000, made up of persons without jobs and looking for work.

This was down from 303,000 at April 17 but was almost double the bureau figure of 114,000 for the same week a year earlier.

The top point of seasonal unemployment—in March — showed 318,000 persons out of work and seeking jobs. At that time, the bureau estimated there were 4,805,000 persons at work.

In figures released with the bureau's statistics, the labor department said today that at May 20

Polio Patients To Get Gov't Aid

BURLINGTON (CP) — Ontario Health Minister Phillips announced new regulations for provincial aid to hospitals for poliomyelitis sufferers Tuesday while addressing the official opening of a convalescent hospital two miles east of here.

A grant of $8 a patient day will be paid to all designated hospitals to help cover the cost of polio patients; $2 a treatment to be paid for physiotherapy when prescribed; outpatients may be carried on the books of the hospital for a specified period of time and receive $2 for prescribed physiotherapy treatments.

Department grants to all designated hospitals will begin on the 11th day after admission of the polio patient;

Payment will be made for nursing care when the patient is confined to a respirator and for special nursing care when necessary.

Dr. Phillips said he preferred the term "convalescent" to "incurable" when referring to polio patients.

Lured To Canada By False Promise

RICHARDS LANDING —(CP)—A 20-year-old German immigrant said in an interview today he had been lured to Canada by promises of immigration officials in Germany of "a job for every man within 48 hours."

Peter Herkratch, a precision mechanic from Uhlm who arrived in Montreal May 18 on the ship Reinar, said he has been living on hamburgers and milk.

He was befriended by Rev. D. Dixon of St. Joseph Island, who found him hitch-hiking near this community, about 20 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie. Herkratch said he had no particular destination in mind.

He said his case is typical of many immigrants who came here in good faith. He said he was only allowed to take $45 in German marks out of Germany. He added the majority of the 250 other immigrants who arrived in the same ship found themselves without funds when the promised jobs failed to materialize.

THE TALLY: ONE KILLED, 14 INJURED —A light truck (top left) loaded with 15 young Burleigh Falls people, turned over three miles north of Buckhorn Tuesday night killing one, Alvin Boast, and injuring 14 others. Strike Talks Called Off

OSHAWA (CP) — A meeting planned for tonight to seek an end to a strike at the Oshawa Street Railway, now in its fourth week, was called off today.

Canadian National Railways officials said F. A. Gaffney, general manager of the CNR road transport division was unable to attend the meeting. James Robertson, international representative of the Oshawa Street Railway Employees Union (AFL-TLC) was scheduled to meet with Mr. Gaffney and a city committee headed by Mayor John Naylor.

Dorland Windover, union president, said the striking employees now are not agreeable to a meeting. He said it has become clear that the CNR is "playing the same old record." He did not elaborate on his statement.

US Investigating Illegal Entries

BUFFALO, N.Y. (CP) — Agents of the United States immigration and naturalization service Tuesday launched an investigation to determine whether aliens are receiving organized assistance in attempts to enter this country illegally from Canada.

The enquiry was touched off by the arrest at the Peace bridge last Saturday of two men, one of whom, officials said, presented a false birth certificate to border inspectors.

It was the second time in less than two months that an alien carrying a fraudulent American document had attempted to enter the United States in the Buffalo area, the inspectors reported.

Arrested Saturday were Karel Melno, 25, of Audrey, Sask., and Bernard Crossleu, 39, of Buffalo. Melno is charged with attempting to enter the country by scheme. He was jailed in default of $1,000 bail after arraignment Monday.

Will Have To Negotiate

U.S. Not Included In Seaway

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has indicated to the United States she considers a 1952 agreement for an all-Canadian St. Lawrence seaway is still in effect and that negotiations for a joint undertaking now sought by the U. S. should start from that point.

External Affairs Minister Pearson conveyed this view to the U. S. in a note, tabled in the Commons today, in which he suggested that discussions for U. S. participation in the project's navigation works open here next week.

The exchange of notes followed recent Congressional legislation authorizing the U. S. administration to join in the navigation works on the river's international section, after many years of U. S. delays during which Canada got authority to do the job alone.

JOINT POWER PROJECT

The power works of the project are to be constructed jointly in the same area by the Ontario government and New York state.

In a note preceding Canada's latest one, the U. S. had advised the Canadian government of Congress' action and observed that the navigation works in U. S. territory were to be in accordance with a 1941 plan drawn up by a joint Canada-U. S. committee.

In his June 16 reply and in a statement to the Commons as he tabled the exchange today, Mr. Pearson made it plain Canada considers a Canada-U. S. agreement of June, 1952, for an all-Canadian seaway supersedes the 1941 arrangement.

However, he reiterated the Canadian government's willingness to negotiate from the later agreement with a view to modifying it, provided there is no hold-up of the power or navigation works.

REVIEWS ARRANGEMENTS

"You will recall," he said in the note to U. S. ambassador R. D. Stuart, "that our two governments made arrangements . . . for the construction by Canada of works to allow uninterrupted 27-foot navigation between Lake Erie and the port of Montreal.

"The Canadian government assumes that the suggestion for discussions contained in your note is made with a view to re-examining the arrangements for the construction of the seaway now existing between our governments and confirmed in the notes exchanged on June 30, 1952."

"The government of Canada is prepared to discuss this matter provided . . . that such discussions do not seriously delay construction of either the power project or the seaway," Mr. Pearson's note added.

In the Commons, Mr. Pearson laid equal emphasis on the 1952 agreement, saying it would be necessary to modify it before implementation of congress' legislation, which calls for building the navigation canals on the U. S. side of the international section.

Oliver Attacks Roads Committee Head

NIPIGON (CP) — Opposition leader Farquhar Oliver today accused Kelso Robert (PC — Toronto St. Patrick), chairman of the Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee, of adopting a dictatorial attitude in conducting the affairs of the committee.

Mr. Oliver made the accusation during a bus conference while on the way from Port Arthur to Marathon on the north shore of Lake Superior.

Mr. Roberts had previously told the committee what briefs will be presented and what work will be done when the group meets in Toronto next week.

Mr. Oliver and Albert Wren (Lib-Lab—Kenora) objected to a proposal that the committee turn in an interim report to the government upon its return to Toronto.

"We have to have information of a much more definite character before such a report could be turned in," said Mr. Oliver.

French Premier Pleased At Talks

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

BERN Switzerland (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France said today that his talk with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai gave him reason to hope that the Geneva conference might "produce a happy progress" toward peace in Indo-China.

The French premier received reporters immediately after the two leaders had concluded their private conversation.

He said:

"We have had, Mr. Chou and myself and our collaborators, not a discussion but a completely free conversation on affairs concerning the re-establishment of peace in Indo China.

"This frank conversation gives reason to hope that the conference will produce a happy progress."

12 Forest Fires Under Control

TORONTO (CP) — Twelve forest fires burning in Ontario were all reported under control by the lands and forests department today.

Officials said three fires are burning in the Gogama district, two each in the Kapuskasing, Cochrane and White River districts and one each in Sioux Lookout, Port Arthur and Lindsay districts.

The hazard was rated as normal across the province.

Missing Four Years Truck Found In Harbor

OSHAWA (CP)—A truck, stolen from a motor sales firm at nearby Whitby four years ago, was recovered by a dredge from Oshawa harbor today.

The truck had apparently been used by thieves to cart a safe from the firm's office and was later ditched in the harbor. The safe was recovered shortly after the theft near a sideroad north of Whitby.

U.S., Canada Considering Seaway Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada, in line with a suggestion by the United States, has proposed that representatives of the two governments meet Monday in Ottawa to discuss construction of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The proposal was contained in a June 16 note from External Affairs Minister Pearson to R. Douglas Stuart, U.S. ambassador to Canada. The note was made public simultaneously here and in Ottawa today.

Pearson, in proposing the meeting, made it clear his government does not want discussion to "seriously delay" the building of either the 27-foot-deep seaway or its allied $600,000,000 New York-Ontario power project.

U.S. participation in the Atlantic-to-Great Lakes waterway was authorized in legislation signed by President Eisenhower May 12, which provides that a St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., headed by an administrator, be nominated by the president to direct construction and operation of the U.S. portion of the waterway. The president has yet to make the nominations.

WANTED TALKS SOON

Stuart said he had been "requested" to suggest to Canada that detailed U.S.-Canadian discussions on the seaway begin "as soon as convenient" after formation of the American corporation.

Pearson, obviously aware that the corporation has not yet been named, nevertheless proposed that the initial meeting take place Monday. He said the meeting might lead to the preparation of a list of specific topics "which might form the basis for subsequent intergovernmental discussion."

Pearson implied that his country is prepared to proceed with construction of an all-Canadian seaway if delays develop.

MORE ABOUT—Employment

there were 358,080 persons registered for jobs with National Employment Service, compared with 549,000 at April 15 and with 222,485 a year earlier.

It was learned the jobless rolls continued to shrink after May 20. Informants said that at May 27 there were 336,000 persons registered with NES. This was down about 213,000 from April 15 but well up from 202,000 a year before.

The NES figure at the 1954 period of greatest unemployment indicated 570,000 persons looking for jobs through the service in March.

SOME NOT JOBLESS

The NES totals do not necessarily indicate absolute unemployment. An unknown number—the department says it is small—are merely looking for better jobs. On the other hand, some without work will not have registered.

In commenting on the employment situation, the labor department and the bureau said in a joint statement that outdoor work increased slightly more than is usual for May, after a slow start because of bad weather affecting construction and farming.

"While manufacturing was somewhat below last year's level," the statement added, "employment in trade, finance and services, as well as in some outdoor activities, made small year-to-year gains. The number of persons at work increased during the two months by approximately the same amount as last year and unemployment dropped at the same rate as last year.

WORST IN CITIES

"Although labor requirements increased substantially during May and thus reduced labor surpluses in most labor market areas, unemployment continued to be considerably higher than last year, particularly in a number of larger urban centres.

"Reduced employment in a number of manufacturing industries such as iron and steel products, textiles, clothing, aircraft and parts, motor vehicles and parts, railway rolling stock, leather and rubber products contributed largely to the higher unemployment levels."

Government To Provide Financial Assistance For Civil Defence Projects

OTTAWA (CP)—A new system of federal civil defence grants has been devised which will provide federal funds to municipalities not receiving provincial aid.

The formula, announced in the Commons Tuesday night by Health Minister Martin, will be of special help to municipalities in Ontario, Quebec and Prince Edward Island which up to now have received neither federal nor provincial civil defence grants.

Mr. Martin, the minister responsible for the federal government's civil defence effort, said that for certain civil defence projects the federal government will pay at least 25 per cent of the cost of municipal programs.

MATCH CONTRIBUTION

The government also would match any provincial contribution, bringing the federal share to a maximum of 50 per cent for projects in which all three levels of government participate.

With the new formula Montreal, for instance, which has the second-largest municipal civil defence budget in Canada, will receive a 25-per-cent federal grant.

Until now, federal grants have been paid to match provincial spending on civil defence projects. There have been no direct federal payments to municipalities.

Not all of the $1,400,000 provided last year for matching grants was taken up by the provinces. Mr. Martin said the new formula will bring about more effective use of the $2,000,000 provided in the current fiscal year.

DIDN'T BUDGET

Quebec and Prince Edward Island do not budget for civil defence and most of Ontario's spending is on a program of standardization of fire hose couplings, in which the federal government has paid one-third of the cost.

Mr. Martin said the new formula will apply to specific projects including organization, administration, training, equipment, warning communications, other equipment with no peacetime use, and civil defence construction.

The old formula of matching only provincial grants will be continued for purchases of equipment having a peacetime use and for clothing for civil defence workers.

The minister said Ontario is making a serious civil defence effort. It has 200 communities with organizations at various stages of preparedness.

He said he talked with Premier Frost of Ontario recently and is satisfied a satisfactory arrangement can be worked out with the province.

A list of grants available in each province, with last year's figures in brackets, was tabled by Mr. Martin. It showed Ontario $692,035 ($492,008).

H. P. Cavers (L—Lincoln) said local effort and individual initiative are the most important factors in the development of civil defence organizations. Civil defence should not be a fourth arm of the defence forces but should be guided by the civilian population in the interests of self preservation. Industries could help municipal civil defence planning by organizing civil defence units in their plants.

OPPOSITION CRITICAL

Mr. Martin spoke during study of civil defence estimates after opposition speakers had criticized past financial arrangements with the provinces.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes VC (PC—Esquimalt-Saanich) said the haphazard method of matching provincial expenditures should not continue.

He urged passage of a civil defence act to provide uniform planning across the country and define the responsibilities of various levels of government. The federal government should assume full responsibility for planning civilian action in the event of an atomic attack.

The chief of civil defence should have the authority of a deputy minister and attend meetings of the chiefs of staff. The work of departments involved in civil defence should be co-ordinated.

He suggested that in the field, full-time civil defence workers be organized in flying columns on the outskirts of large cities and equipped with airplanes and helicopters. Pending an attack, they could be used as instructors.

Opposition Leader Drew, who spoke following Mr. Martin, said the minister disregarded Gen. Pearkes' suggestion for civil defence legislation similar to that of the United Kingdom. The British act set out in detail what was to be done.

Canada had not approached the problem realistically. He asked how effective informal co-operation will be in the event of sudden attack.

Mr. Martin said federal spending on civil defence is not limited to grants to provinces and municipalities. It had purchased much equipment outright and had trained more than 4,000 key instructors who in turn had trained more than 40,000 persons.

More than 600 communities had civil defence organizations in various stages of readiness and some 163,000 persons in Canada were connected with civil defence work.

The Commons, which approved civil defence spending estimates of $6,498,000, also approved estimates for the departments of defence production and veterans affairs.

Conscription Not Possible

OTTAWA (CP)—For both political and financial reasons, there is no chance of peacetime conscription in Canada, defence officials said Tuesday.

Sectional opposition to conscription forms a long and well-known chapter in Canadian history. And the expense for conscription would be heavy.

The officials were commenting on a Saint John, N.B., report quoting Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds as saying he feels the majority of Canadian officers share his view that every youth in the country should receive two years' training.

The chief of the general staff added that conscription is a matter for political, not military, decision and that it would work only with the whole-hearted support of the government and the people.

These views of Gen. Simonds have been well known for some time. They are the views of a commander who would want available as many trained men as possible in event of an emergency.

Defence Minister Claxton said he could not comment until he had seen the report or talked with Gen. Simonds.

Some officials here say they believe that conscription would be essential for Canada in the event of a third world war, particularly if Canada itself were attacked with atomic weapons. It is difficult to judge what percentage of officials hold this view.

The Saint John report did not make clear whether Gen. Simonds was referring to compulsory training in the reserve or in the regular amy.

OTTAWA (CP) — A government-guided program of industrial decentralization to give the Maritimes and western Canada a better break was urged Tuesday by members of all opposition parties.

The theme was stressed in the Commons by Clarie Gillis (CF—Cape Breton South) for the East and George Hahn (SC—New Westminster) and Colin Cameron (CCF—Nanaimo) for the West.

An Ontario member, Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton), also argued against over-centralization of industry in Ontario and Quebec and said the whole country would benefit if defence purchases were spread throughout Canada to boost industries in other provinces.

TRYING TO DO IT

Defence Production Minister Howe said his department is attempting to do that, and places defence orders in East and West wherever practicable.

Replying in particular to Mr. Gillis, he said the department has gone to some expense to help the economy of the Maritimes. Recently he had persuaded a British aviation company to open a plant in Halifax. An electronics industry also had been established.

If Mr. Gillis would look around Nova Scotia, "he will find that the department has supported existing industry and has brought in any industry willing to go to the Maritimes and capable of surviving after the war."

NEEDS BUSINESS

However, it was useless to establish industries to do a war job that could not survive under peacetime conditions. Having an idle plant was more harmful than not starting the project at all.

Mr. Howe, initiating a study of defence production department estimates, also announced the government will seek Parliament's approval next session to put the department on a more permanent basis.

He said the department, set up in 1951 on a five-year basis, has to be geared to a "long haul" approach to rearmament.

The government's expectation of substantial defence expenditures for a number of years meant a continuing need "for an efficient procurement organization."

Mr. Cameron said government defence buying provides an opportunity to disperse industry as a defence measure. Southern Ontario's industrial concentration was an ideal aerial target.

Reduced Butter Prices Cost Government $800,000

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has lost about $800,000 in disposal of 1953 butter at reduced prices, but sales have stopped and likely will not be resumed until next fall, federal officials said Tuesday.

The government supports the butter market by offering to buy all surplus production at 58 cents a pound wholesale. It usually sells its accumulated surplus to the trade during the slack winter production period at a slightly higher price to cover storage and handling charges.

However, on May 31 it began offering its 33,000,000-pound stockpile of 1953 butter to the trade at 55½ cents a pound, absorbing a loss of about four cents a pound which would include the difference between the buying and selling price as well as storage and other charges.

AMOUNT HANDLED

Though no complete figures have been disclosed officially, it is believed the government disposed of some 20,000,000 pounds in the two-week period, deciding to carry the remaining 13,000,000 into the fall-winter period.

Officials estimated the loss at roughly $800,000. But they emphasized that consumers had the advantage of the price drop since it helped reduce retail butter prices in many Canadian communities.

They did not know what price the remaining 1953 butter will be sold at next fall, but there is a feeling that it may form part of 1954 supplies to be sold at regular government prices—perhaps 60 or 61 cents a pound wholesale.

In other words there will be no more "cheap" butter, unless, of course, there is an unusual heavy summer production season and a big pile-up of surpluses in government warehouses.

pitals: Viola Boast, 12, brush burns on her face; Shirley Johnson, 14, bruises and shock; Kay Boast, 19, brush burns on her knees and legs; Joseph Johnson, 11, brush burns and bruises; Margaret Brown, 15, cuts on her arms and shock; Sandra Jacobs, 9, a cut on the back of her head; and Andy Brown, 5, brush burns on his face and arms.

Six members of the Boast family were involved in the accident, Alvin was killed and his brother Kenneth is critically ill. Others of his brothers and sisters who were injured were Gweneth who is only in fair condition today; and Viola and Kay who sustained only brush burns and were given outpatient treatment.

The fatally injured boy died at the scene of the accident before he could be removed. He was attended by Dr. H. S. Dunham who examined him and pronounced him dead.

Five vehicles — two trucks and three cars — had taken the Burleigh Falls team to Rockcroft for a game of softball. It was the two teams' second meeting of the year, and Burleigh Falls downed their opponents, 36 runs to 24.

Their sense of triumph was short lived.

On the way home some of the fans stopped in at Flynn's store for a soft drink. The one-ton pickup truck driven by Jesse Spencley continued on. Four, including Spencley, were crammed into the cab and 11 squatted as best they could in the open box.

Three miles north of Buckhorn there is a sharp curve to the right.

"I guess I was going too fast," said Spencely who suffered a broken collarbone. "The truck went out of control on the bend and skidded along. Then it turned over on its left side.

PINNED UNDER TRUCK

"One of the girls and myself were pinned under the truck and we were there until somebody was able to rock the rear end of the truck. The others in the cab managed to climb out the passengers' door on top."

As the truck rounded the bend it veered to the east side of the road, struck a rock and bumped and skidded along the rocky bank for more than 200 feet. A swathe of flattened bushes indicated the path it took before turning over.

The 11 passengers in the box of the truck were tumbled onto the rocks over a distance of 100 feet or so.

John Boyle of 531½ Park St. was in the first car that came along after the accident.

TRIED TO HELP

"They were lying all over the rocks when we drove up," said Boyle. "We did as much as we could for them — lifted the heads of those that were badly hurt and made them comfortable."

A number of the less injured children were dazed and scrambled up from where they had tumbled on the bank and started running about. A couple of minutes later another car of baseball fans from Burleigh Falls came along and took some of them into the village where they went to see the Rev. Willard Day, of The Church on the Rock.

COMFORTED INJURED

Mr. Day came back to the scene and spent the next two hours and a half comforting the injured who had not yet been taken away by ambulance. He also made a tally of all those in the accident to be sure that nobody dashed off into the bush in a fit of panic after the accident.

"This is a terrible blow to our community," said Mr. Day. "Every one of the injured was from Burleigh . . . Think of it . . six in one family."

Investigating were OPP Cpl. Fred Rawlings and Constables Tom Armitage and John Cawood of Peterborough.

A student in the entrance class at the Burleigh Falls school, Alvin Boast, 14, was born in Burleigh Falls, the son of Arthur Boast and Daisy Taylor. He is survived by eight brothers and sisters, Catherine, Gweneth, Viola, Emily, Renatta, Larry, Kenny and Ronald.

The body will be resting at the Church on the Rock (which he attended in Burleigh Falls) from Thursday morning until the funeral service in the church Friday at 2 p.m. The Rev. W. B. Day will conduct the service. Burial will be in the Curve Lake cemetery.

Jailed 2 Months On Charge Of Bootlegging

John A. Loucks, 61, an unemployed painter of 301 Townsend St., was given a two-months' sentence on a bootlegging charge by magistrate W. R. Philp.

William Lackie, earlier fined $100, and costs, for illegal possession of liquor, said he was "pretty foggy" when he reached the Loucks house on June 6. He said he didn't know who he bought the liquor from, that he did not recall seeing Loucks in the house, that there had been no argument about the alleged cost of the liquor ($10), and that he had not asked for any particular type of liquor.

A statement made by Lackie at the time of the incident was admitted. Lackie said his memory was "better now than when he made the statement." Then he read the statement, and after Mr. Bradshaw asked "in the light of this statement, do you want to change your testimony," he told the court that he had bought the liquor, two bottles of rye, from Loucks.

UNDER INFLUENCE

Cross-examined by Gordon H. T. Farquharson, Lackie said he had had "quite a bit" of liquor through that weekend, had a "pretty good hangover," and had consumed, in addition to the liquor, 24 bottles of beer "with some help." Lackie said, "I was under the influence to quite a degree."

Lackie said he "could not recall" testimony he had made 15 minutes earlier, which was in direct contradiction to his subsequent statements.

At his own trial Lackie had said the statement given to police was true. Magistrate Philp wondered how he could then contradict it in Loucks' trial and revert to his original story a few minutes later.

He said his confusion over conflicting evidence "could be" partly due to drink. Mr. Farquharson thought Lackie was "pretty breezy about it all."

Detective Dennis Traynor testified he had the Loucks home "under observation" for several months. He said he saw Lackie coming from the rear of the Loucks home, arrested him two minutes later with liquor in his possession. He did not see him enter the house, although he had been stationed on the street for some time, and Lackie said he was in side "only a minute or so."

When Det. Traynor started to describe "traffic" to the Loucks home back as far as January 16. Mr. Farquharson wondered if his client's "whole life is on trial." Mr. Bradshaw said his reason for bringin gin past events was "to show a pattern. The magistrate ruled that events as far back as March 6, three months before the alledged offense, could be admitted.

MORE FRIENDS?

After the detective testified he had watched the Loucks home on five separate occasions in this three month period, and had said that Loucks had had "more traffice than any of his neighbors," Mr. Farquharson thought it possible that Loucks might have more friends. The detective agreed it could be.

On the stand in his own defence, Loucks said his wife had been taken to hospital, seriously ill, two days before the alleged offence. He said he had visited her four times on that Sunday, June 6, his second visit from 3:30 to nearly six o'clock.

Lackie testified he bought liquor from Loucks "between four and five o'clock."

Detective Traynor and Const. Doug Farthing searched the house at eight o'clock, after Loucks' third trip to hospital. They found a bottle of gin, two small bottles of rum in the room of a boarder, Harry Nugent, there 10 years and in the house that afternoon, three bottles of beer and two-thirds of a bottle of beer in the refrigerator.

Loucks said he sold no liquor to Lackie, had not seen him that day, had no agents acting for him, and that his wife would coroborate his story if she were well enough to be in court.

Asked by Mr. Bradshaw if he were aware he had been "under suspicion" for some time, Loucks shrugged and said "Anything can happen."

DID NOT SEE LACKIE

J. Earl Paquette, whose wife is Loucks' grand-niece, said he was at the Loucks home from 3:45 to after seven o'clock. Loucks, he said, had returned "around six". He said he had not seen Lackie during the more than three hours he was there, with his wife and his brother.

In summation, Mr. Farquharson argued it was "most unfair" for the Crown to base its case on the "completely contradictory evidence of an unrealiable witness." He thought it possible that if liquor had been sold, the roomer or any of the half a dozen people Lackie claimed to have seen at Loucks' home might have sold it.

Mr. Bradshaw agreed that Lackie's evidence was "not as solid as one might wish" but called the court's attention to Det. Traynor's evidence that Lackie had been seen leaving the house.

Magistrate Philp said that Lackie had, in fact, contradicted himself but "when confronted with his statement returned to his original story," he said the time of not "conflict in any degree" with Loucks absence (3.30 to six) did Lackie's statement that he made his purchases between four and five.

After the conviction, Mr. Farquharson suggested that "if ever there is a conviction of this sort which should merit a fine, not a jail term, this is it." The magistrate then imposed sentence. It is expected that Loucks will appeal.

Honduras Town Reported To Have Been Bombed

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—The Honduran government said Tuesday night that mystery planes have bombed a town in this Central American republic. The report touched off speculation that invaded Guatemala may be striking back at the neighbor from whose soil Guatemalan rebels launched their drive against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's regime.

The foreign ministry said the planes bombed the town of Santa Rosa de Copan, key road junction 21 miles from the Guatemalan frontier. The terse announcement made no mention of casualties or of how many planes made the raid.

Guatemala has accused Honduras and adjoining Nicaragua of being the bases for land and air "aggression" against her government, which the rebel forces say is Communist - influenced. Both countries have challenged Guatemala to prove the charges.

Guatemala pressed demands in New York early today for a second urgent session of the United Nations Security Council, charging Honduras and Nicaragua with continuing to aid the invaders. Council president Henry Cabot Lodge of the United States said the Organization of American States, not the UN, is the forum for action, and by pressing appeals to the UN, Guatemala could appear a "cat's-paw" for a Soviet conspiracy to meddle in the Western Hemisphere.

The Inter - American Peace Commission of the OAS scheduled a meeting today to discuss the Guatemalan charges against Honduras and Nicaragua. Guatemala withdrew the charges in preparation for her renewed appeal to the UN, but the other two republics demanded vindication.

Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, exiled leader of the rebel forces, moved his headquarters Tuesday night from Honduras to Esquipulas, about six miles inside this homeland.

SAYS FIGHTING REDS

The insurgent leader said his forces are "not fighting the Guatemalan army or the Guatemalan people, only the Communist government."

Castillo Armas said he is not pushing the fight faster because he does not want "unnecessary bloodshed." He said there have been no heavy battles with federal troops so far, but that there have been several minor skirmishes and some casualties.

Reports from various points Tuesday night told of scattered light action. Guatemala City reported that a rebel plane strafed gasoline tanks there and harassed a military encampment at the edge of the capital.

Informed sources in El Salvador, a republic adjoining Guatemala on the southwest, said an airlift of U.S. citizens out of Guatemala would begin today, but dispatches from Guatemala City made no mention of evacuation plans. There are some 1,200 North Americans in the country.

SEE BATTLE COMING

Associated Press correspondent Jack Rutledge reported from Guatemala City that interest there is centred on the battle building up for possession of Puerto Barrios.

Rutledge said there is growing belief among Guatemalan officials and even rebel sympathizers in the capital that the invasion has proved a dud. He said a reporter who talked to Arbenz Tuesday found him confident and seemingly unworried.

The dispatch said hostility towards the U.S. is growing in the capital, with both the press and radio accusing Washington of masterminding the invasion.

"In my view there will never be any real security in Southeast Asia without the goodwill of the free Asian countries," Eden said.

"If peace is once restored in Indo-China, then I think these countries will be willing to take their part in supervising and guaranteeing a settlement. If so, there will be a good chance for the settlement to last."

Eden reviewed the course of the Korean negotiations at Geneva and the differences between the two sides.

On the Chinese proposal for a neutral nations supervisory commission composed of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland, to assist in supervising an election in Korea, Eden said:

"Experience has taught us that a commission composed of two Communist states and neutrals simply does not work. The neutrals are neutral and the Communists are Communists."

"We have failed to reach agreement to unite Korea, but the offer to continue negotiations remains open."

"But the two principles upon which we must insist still stand and will, I hope, be upheld by the House.

"These are the authority of the United Nations and the holding of genuinely free elections."

"It is still our object and view of the government that the United Nations cannot expect to settle the Korean question without agreement of China as well as of the two Koreas."

Turning to Indo-China, Eden said:

"The story is an intricate one and the most encouraging feature of it from our point of view has been our intimate co-operation and consultation with the other governments of the Commonwealth."

Cheers greeted his reference to Commonwealth co-operation.

Eden said Anglo-Chinese contacts at Geneva have already been of benefit to Britain and have been a "real contribution to peaceful coexistence, which is still our aim and object with every country."

Albert College Described To Rotarians

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Guest speaker at the Monday noon luncheon of the Campbellford Rotary Club was the Rev. Andrew McKenzie, principal of Albert College, Belleville. Mr. McKenzie showed pictures and told Rotarians of life at the college.

The only co-educational residential school in Ontario, the institution was founded in 1857 and became a university in 1871, with the privilege of conferring degrees. In 1884 the college relinquished its privileges when Victoria College moved from Cobourg to Toronto and became a university within the federated University of Toronto.

Fire destroyed the administration building in 1917, and the city of Belleville deeded 50 acres of land to the college for new premises.

The value of the college now stands at nearly one and a half million dollars, with everything except the girls' residences under one roof.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Twenty students from other countries go to make up the 170 students attending the college. A large percentage of the graduates go on to universities.

The institution has practically no trouble with discipline and the staff take a friendly and informal attitude toward the students. Daily records are kept on all the students.

The slides shown by Mr. McKenzie emphasized the completeness of the curriculum of the college, socially, scholastically and athletically.

Russians Lead In Chess Match

NEW YORK (CP) — Russia's chess aces need a single point to lock up their victory as their tournament with the best American players goes into its fourth and last round tonight.

The Russian team led 15½ points to 7½ after all but one of the third-round games were completed Tuesday.

A verbal tempest over whether the No. 1 United States player, Samuel Reshevsky, was the victim of a "long count" in his third game with Vassily Smyslov was resolved when Reshevsky fought to a draw.

Reshevsky had charged that Smyslov's time clock failed to work, giving the Russian an extra 35 minutes to complete the required 40 moves in the Monday night session.

The longest game of the tournament—one that was left over from the second round—ended in a draw after nearly 13 hours of gruelling competition. It had been adjourned twice.

Twenty-six - year - old Robert Byrne stood off Alexander Kotov, who had won his first-round game.

Agitated Motorist Takes Police Keys

Water Rate Hike Seen In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS)—The water contract between Hamilton township and the Cobourg public utilities commission, which expires in October, will be reviewed with the possible result that the rate will be raised. Increasing needs of the township may make it necessary to add another filter to the water pumping station in Cobourg, it was revealed at last night's meeting of the utilities commission.

A letter from the Eyre housing sub-division asked the commission for permission to hook on to the main which supplies Hamilton township. The owner said he would build a six inch main from the sub-division to connect with the main servicing that part of the nearby township. However the letter did not state whether permission had been received from the township of Hamilton and the commission deferred action until this was ascertained.

Members of the commission, after the receipt of the application from the sub-division, discussed the growing demands on the water system as a result of housing activity in the township of Hamilton. It appeared that another filter would be necessary with the accompanying heavy capital expenditure. In view of this, members of the commission indicated that when the contract expired in October it was possible that the rate would be raised for Hamilton township.

At present Cobourg consumers pay a rate of $2.00 as compared with $3.75 in Hamilton township and after 4,000 gallons, the increase is twenty-five cents per thousand.

Commissioner Bob Love commented that it seemed only fair that Hamilton township consumers should be asked to pay more.

Banks In Cobourg Grow With Town

COBOURG (ENS) — Banks are expanding their premises in Cobourg to take care of the increased business that has followed the growth of the town.

Atomic Scientist Dies In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Karl T. Compton, 66, leading American scientist who in wartime helped develop radar and worked on the atomic bomb, died Tuesday.

For 18 years he was president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, one of the country's foremost scientific institutions. Compton had been chairman of the corporation of M. I. T. since 1948 when he gave up the presidency to supervise American scientific preparedness in the cold war with communism. He was named by President Truman that year to head the national military establishment's research and development board, which had over-all supervision of scientific projects affecting military readiness. He resigned a year later, giving poor health as the reason.

During the Second World War he was cited as being "personally responsible for hastening the termination of hostilities."

SAW NO CONFLICT

A brilliant scientist, Compton saw no conflict between science and religion. "The fundamentals of religion . . . " he once said, "are not opposed to science, and they are as essential today as they ever were."

Compton stoutly defended use of the atomic bomb against Japan, saying it saved the lives of at least 50,000 Americans who would otherwise have died in an invasion.

Clock Tower Needs Additional Repairs

COBOURG (ENS) — Workmen who have been fixing up the clock tower on the town hall, preparatory to installing new clock faces, have encountered several things which reveal the toll taken by time on the structure.

For instance, the heavy weather vane which is supported by a heavy steel pole that runs through a thick column of wood, is precariously situated, due to the fact that the wood has rotted so much that the steel pole wobbles back and forth.

Heavy wooden scroll carvings used to decorate the cupola, have rotted away in several places and considerable repair work will be needed to put the clock tower back in shape.

Health Report

COBOURG (ENS)—Eighteen new cases of communicable diseases were recorded for the week ending June 19 by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. Of these, eight are chickenpox, with four of the cases in Cobourg. Nine cases of scarlet fever are listed in rural sections and one case of mumps in Alnwick township.

Beaverbrook Gives Party For Canadian Newspapermen

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook, in a mellow and nostalgic mood, threw a luncheon party Tuesday for Canadian newspaper representatives in London. He said he did it to kill a legend.

"There's a story in the newspaper world that I made Fleet street safe for Canadians by hiring so many of them to work on my papers," said the 75-year-old publisher. "Well, I invited you all here to prove that it's not true. Look around you and see."

The guests looked, and remained unconvinced. Beaverbrook himself is a Canadian, born in Maple, Ont. Other Canadians present from his staff include his nephew, William Aitken, who once worked for The Canadian Press in Toronto and Montreal, and E. J. Robertson, top-ranking Beaverbrook executive from Lanark, Ont.

HAVE BIG JOBS

Aitken now runs a news service for Beaverbrook's Daily Express. Robertson, one of the key men in the Beaverbrook newspaper empire, owes his present job to a chance meeting at the old Queen's Hotel in Toronto in the First World War. As a clerk at the hotel, Robertson helped carry the bags of a visitor named Sir Max Aitken, now better known as Lord Beaverbrook.

In an informal speech Tuesday, Lord Beaverbrook cast his mind ruefully back to the days between the wars when his newspapers campaigned hard in a losing cause —Empire free trade. At one time, he said, he had hoped that trade links between Canada annd Britain could be made firm and durable, but because of United States influence it was probably too late for that now.

UNPREDICTABLE

At one point in his talk he lived up to his reputation for impish unpredictability by taking a card out of his pocket and reading out the precise salaries of his assembled editors—£15,000 a year for Arthur Christiansen, editor of the Daily Express, £12,000 a year for John Gordon of the Sunday Express, and so on.

"You can use those figures if you want to," he said, waving the card gaily.

The luncheon was held at Claridge's Hotel. The Canadian guests included Andrew Cowan and Matthew Halton of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Dave Legate of the Montreal Star-Standard bureau, Jack Stepler of Southam Newspapers of Canada, Jane Armstrong of the Toronto Telegram and Alan Harvey, London Bureau, The Canadian Press.

CNR Officials To Meet AFL-TLC

OSHAWA (CP)—Top officials of the Canadian National Railways and the Oshawa Street Railway Employees Union (AFL-TLC) will meet tonight with a city council committee in an attempt to end a strike now in its fourth week.

The officials include F. A. Gaffney, general manager of the CNR road transport division, and James Robertson, international representative of the parent union. They will confer with a group headed by Mayor John Naylor.

The 115 striking busmen and railway workers are employed by the CNR-owned Oshawa Street Railway Company.

Union officials agreed Tuesday to put in writing the major points of dispute between the strikers and the company. These included statutory holidays, vacations with pay and other fringe benefits. Wages were not an issue.

Remanded In Death

BARRIE (CP)—Yolanda Danko, 29, of New Lowell, Ont., was remanded to July 21 on $5,000 cash bail Tuesday on a charge of manslaughter. The charge resulted from the traffic death of Karl Hayden, 36. The car which struck and killed him failed to stop.

Cub Bites Boy

LINDSAY (CP)—On a school picnic at nearby Norland, Richard Smither, 8, walked too close to a bear and its cubs. The mother was caged, but the cub was running on a chain. The cub snapped at the boy's right arm, leaving its teeth marks and taking off some flesh.

Army Reorganization

Only the outline of the proposed reorganization of the Reserve Army has been made public, so that it is too soon to comment on it in detail. We might point out, however, that there is nothing so useless, and nothing so dangerous, as an out-of-date defence system. Despite fine traditions, regimental pride, the conservative army language (official terms, we mean, not the slang and bawdy, but even that is much the same from one generation of soldiers to the next), despite the cultivated air of timelessness which uniforms, traditions and custom give, military practices are constantly changing to meet new strategical and tactical situations. An army is always in a state of flux, if it is any good. So a reorganization should not be greeted with dismay by either the citizenry or the soldiery.

* * *

New dress, new weapons, new practices, new formations, new techniques—these are essential to armed services if they are not to be static and ineffective. Military thinking which is in a rut is not thinking; military practices which are carried on because they used to be good are not good enough. Often the trouble with the military in peace-time is that there is too little change, and when war comes, the army is ill-equipped physically and mentally to meet it, in the changed circumstances from the last war it was engaged in. Hollow squares, thin red lines and forming fours have their day.

* * *

Among the changes proposed in Mr. Claxton's announcement were reductions in the number of reserve units, as well as in the total strength (officers and men) and the conversion of "excess" anti-aircraft units to other types of artillery, or their amalgamation with units of other corps. The Prince of Wales Rangers of Peterborough are an A/A unit . . . If this unit is required to change its role, or to amalgamate with another, let it not be thought locally that the change is necessarily bad or derogatory.

Whither Mendes-France?

Premier Pierre Mendes-France has created his cabinet and won the endorsement of the French National Assembly on his pledge to end the war in Indo-China by July 20th, or resign. This seems like a bold payment for power, but in fact M. Mendes-France has been advocating a truce in Indo-China for years; he is not merely trying a political trick in order to win support. He has described the Indo-China war as a "cruel burden" on France and has advised time and again that France should make a detente from it, postpone any other commitments on armaments and any alliances which would require re-armament, until "first assuring France's economic recovery."

Since the defeat at Dien Bien Phu, M. Mendes-France's doctrines have won the ears and hearts of tired, disillusioned and unsettled French people. It is notable that he was able to secure the necessary votes in the Assembly without counting on the Communist bloc. In fact he refused Communist support.

Why do the French Communists favor this former De Gaullist, right-wing financier? They vote for him because he is pledged to a truce in Indo-China—and a truce at this time could be favourable to the Reds. He is opposed also to E.D.C., the European Army and other commitments which in essence, are defences against Communist advances in Europe.

In forming his cabinet—whose members are collectively unusually young for a French ministry—the new Premier kept for himself the French Foreign Office, presumably so that he personally can bring about the truce he has promised. How this can be accomplished—and in only four weeks—is difficult to comprehend, unless the new Premier is prepared to surrender Indo-China completely and to reduce French control in Asia to nothing. Yet Premier Mendes-France has said that "France will remain in the Far East". Certain it is that with the policy known ahead of time to the Russians, Chinese and other Reds no favourable truce can be obtained without a national humiliation greater than was suffered when Dien Bien Dien Phu fell.

Perhaps M. Mendes-France will find out the terms of peace today, during his Berne conference with the wily and ruthless Chou En-lai, Chinese Communist premier. Will Chou En-lai play the role of Bismarck, who, in 1871 dictated to France what schoolboys have traditionally been taught were "the harshest terms in history". It was thus that France came out of her defeat in the Franco-Prussian war. Will it be thus now, after Dien Bien Phu?

You Can't Make It Illegal

We are opposed to the making of laws which cannot be enforced. Therefore, though we understand and sympathize with the aim of the Canadian Hotel Association in pressing for a law which would make smoking in bed a criminal offence, we do not think that the Government should heed their cry. It is true that smoking in bed causes much damage to property and sometimes loss of life, but we do not see how it can be made illegal.

Such a law would mean, in effect, the prohibition of smoking in hotel bedrooms. If it does not mean that, how can the hotel keeper know whether his guests are in bed or sitting in chairs, when smoke is coming through the transom? And how can a hotel keeper investigate such a matter without offending his guests.

The best that a hotel keeper can do is to place notices, worded politely but strongly, in every room, warning against the danger of smoking in bed. We doubt if such notices would have much effect on people who are addicted to this practice; the smoker-in-bed, like the smoker-in-the-bathtub, is not an easy person to argue with.

If a thing is to be made illegal, there must be some way of investigating and checking it. Investigating what people do in bed is not possible if you hope to remain in the hotel business. And laws which are broken more often than they are kept only serve to bring the law into contempt. Education, not prohibition, is the only way to meet this problem. And, we repeat, we are sympathetic toward the wish of the Hotel Association to protect foolish people, and their own property, as well.

Midsummer Day

The sun entered Cancer at five minutes to six o'clock (Peterborough time) on Monday afternoon and thereupon summer began. It was the summer solstice—but not Midsummer Day, as might be thought. Midsummer Day, one of the old English Quarter-days, falls on June 24th. Tonight therefore is Midsummer Eve. It is also the eve of the feast of St. John the Baptist, the prelude to a great day in the Province of Quebec, for tomorrow is the popular French-Canadian holiday, the nativity day of their popular Saint John the Baptist—St.-Jean-Baptiste day.

How French-Canada took to itself St. John the Baptist's festival is a long and uncertain story. Really, the patron saint of New France was St. Joseph. By 1837, before the rebellion, the patriotes were casting about for a national holiday similar to St. George's day, St. Andrew's day and St. Patrick's day. They decided to make use of the habitants' already-popular 'Johnnie Batise'. The Society of St.-Jean Baptiste was founded in 1834, and tomorrow its flag and organization are central to the parades, fun and frolic from Montreal to Gaspe.

Midsummer Day! It has an air of fantasy. There should be a little moon (if the sky is clear) on Midsummer Night—Thursday evening—since today the moon entered its last quarter. And if the atmsophere is soft—certainly the earth is green and tender and redolent after the rains—it should be a night for Oberon, Titania and Puck—the fairy-land of the beauty and magic of nature.

Tropical Disease In Canada

Servicemen, Canadian as well as British, returning to England from duty in tropical or semi-tropical countries, were given a special medical card and instructed to carry it with them at all times during the next six months. The card reported quite simply that the bearer had returned from a tropical country. The purpose was to warn medical officers, should the men fall ill, to be on the watch for some disease or bug uncommon in the temperate zone. Thus the doctor has a tip when making his diagnosis.

We recalled this small item of wartime lore on seeing a report that tropic diseases are spreading in Canada and other cold-weather countries. The reasons seem to be: speedier and more air travel from one region of the earth to another; the increased imports of southern fruits, and the high, post-war rates of immigration. The Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal reports that amoebic colitis is now frequently appearing. The hospital has set up a parasitology laboratory specially equipped to deal with the new threat to Canadian good health. Amoebic colitis is amoebic dysentery, an acute or chronic ulcerative disease of the large intestine. The sole cause is an amoeba called Endamoeba histolytica and the disease is prevalent in tropical India, the Philippines, and the West Indies, but is met sporadically in temperate zones.

There are more diseases now in more places than when people stayed at home and their horizon was the woods around their own mediaeval villages. The difference is that in the old days the fewer diseases were crueller, and there were few cures. Amoebic dysentery can be relieved by treatment and cured by drugs.

ANGLO-AMERICAN TALKS

Churchill Wants New Ringing Call?

By ALASTAIR BUCHAN

THE FACT that President Eisenhower has invited Sir Winston Churchill and Mr. Anthony Eden, the British Foreign Secretary, to Washington and the genuine sense of relief with which their acceptance has been greeted here, shows that the cracks that have occurred recently in the Anglo-American alliance have worried American officials as much as they have the British.

* * *

MR. DULLES, U.S. Secretary of State, it is true, has shown a very cool attitude towards both Britain and France since he returned from the Geneva conference at the beginning of May. In a speech at Los Angeles last Friday he gave his support to the myth, which has been gaining ground with American opinion even though it has been exploded by his own colleagues in private conversations with journalists, that it was the British Cabinet which prevented the American Administration from intervening in Indo-China to save Dien Bien Phu. But President Eisenhower is, I understand, seriously worried by the current outbreak of transatlantic recrimination. In his letter of invitation to Sir Winston he made it clear that he wants a long and friendly talk with the British leaders about the whole range of their common problems.

* * *

ALTHOUGH the invitation was actually issued by the President, it seems clear that the original initiative for the meeting came from Sir Winston. Such meetings are characteristic of Sir Winston's conduct of diplomacy. American sources in Washington believe that Sir Winston, having given up all hope of a three-Power meeting with the Soviet Premier, Mr. Malenkov, wants to round off his career by working out with President Eisenhower a new and ringing declaration of Western aims and principles—a sort of new Atlantic Charter for the cold war.

It is also characteristic of Sir Winston that no experts will accompany the two British Ministers. This may cause difficulty since President Eisenhower likes to have his expert advisers with him in all important conversations.

* * *

THE BRITISH MINISTERS, who will arrive on June 25, are expected to stay here for five days, lodging first at the White House and then at the British Embassy. Although there will be no agenda it is assumed that their conversations with the President and Mr. Dulles will turn around principal topics. These are the steps that must be taken to "contain" Communist China in South-East Asia and the new policy towards German rearmament which Britain and the United States can no longer avoid considering in earnest, if, as now seems virtually certain, the French Assembly fails to ratify the European Defence Community treaty this summer.

* * *

BOTH American and British officials find it difficult at this stage to predict within what frame of reference the question of South-East Asia will be discussed, since the final outcome of the Geneva conference and the French political crisis is as yet unknown. One great advantage the statesmen will have is that they can discuss the political problems of the area, including a South-East Asian defence pact, in the light of the military appreciation worked out last week in Washington by the Chiefs of Staff of Britain, Australia, New Zealand, France and the United States. This appreciation deals with the basic steps which must be taken by the Western Powers if South-East Asia's defences are to be improved. It is hoped that Mr. Eden and Mr. Dulles can work out, in the light of the Geneva conference and other evidence, a common appreciation of the aims and power of Communist China; it is the difference in British and American estimates of these points which has tended to divide the two Governments on questions of policy.

It is also hoped that the British Ministers will be able to impress upon American opinion the vital stake in the security of South-East Asia which Britain's responsibility for Malaya gives to her.

* * *

THE TWO Governments are not so far apart on the question of German rearmament. But Sir Winston will clearly have to explain to the President the way in which the growing opposition to German rearmament in the British Labour Party inhibits the British Government from considering alternatives, to E.D.C. Equally the President will make plain to Sir Winston that the U.S. Administration will not wait beyond this summer for France and Italy to ratify E.D.C. or delay the finding of a new formula which will permit German rearmament. Presumably that part of their discussions will consist of a rather worried survey of the various alternatives to E.D.C. which are now in official circulation.

* * *

THESE QUESTIONS are merely off-shoots of the central problem of the Anglo-American alliance itself. Sir Winston is still a deeply-beloved figure in the United States, and can speak to American opinion with an authority which no one else, even President Eisenhower, can achieve. Perhaps the most significant aspect of his visit will be the chance it will give him to remind the United States Administration of the special obligations to consult and coordinate policy which the alliance imposes on both Governments. He may thus be able to steer Anglo-American relations back towards the successful intimacy which was achieved between 1948 and 1952, and which has been noticeably lacking in the past year.

Misleading the Tourist

(Le Progres de Hull)

We are in complete accord with the editor of the Ingersoll (Ontario) Tribune who asks why we find in our motels, restaurants and other tourist places such names as Detroit, Arizona, Michigan and Uncle Sam. "They seem to think that in this way," writes the editor of the Tribune, "they welcome the American tourist better by giving him the impression that he is at home." And our confrere adds: "But the tourist doesn't want to feel at home." After all, what the tourist seeks and appreciates most is what we have to offer that is distinctive. It is a great mistake to try to conceal our particular face which the tourist wants to get to know. In a city like Hull, don't be afraid to give French names to our hotels, restaurants, stores and other public places.

An American Opinion: SAFARI

Competition Might Start At Home

(CALGARY HERALD)

MR. HOWE frankly told the Commons that there would, very likely, be "significant declines" in export sales of an imposing list of manufactured goods, especially those goods in which the labor, or finishing, content was high.

Why does Mr. Howe expect that Canadian-made goods in these lines will not be in such hot demand abroad in the coming year? Because, simply, Canadian industry is unable compete in these lines in international trade "under normal competitive conditions." This means, if it must be spelled out, that Canadian-made manufactured goods cost too much, and the only time the outside world will rush to buy them is when the outside world cannot get anything else. Under abnormal conditions, meaning in a seller's market where the buyer takes what he can get and is more or less grateful, Canadian industry with its high-cost, high mark-up background, can do fairly well. But under normal conditions, where keen competition in price and close attention to production costs are the determining factors, Canada shows up badly.

The warnings of this have been coming more and more frequently of late. Canada has saddled itself with a high-cost economy to match a standard of living far higher than the size of its population warrants. This has been all very nice during the period when anybody could sell anything for any price. But times are changing, even if it cannot be said that they are exactly normal, and there is more genuine competition in industry now than at any time since the war. Canadian industry is not in a good condition to compete.

Hardly anybody who buys anything in Canada needs to be told that Canadian prices, especially on manufactured goods, are too high. It is the general belief that this is because production costs and mark-ups are too high, and the people on both sides of this picture might take a good hard look at it all if they are interested in the continued survival of Canadian industry.

We would like to see Canadian goods competitive abroad. But for a start, we would like to see them competitive even at home.

The Archbishop and Crockford's

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

THE Archbishop of Canterbury recently opposed, before a Royal Commission, the liberalized tendencies toward divorce which permit the marriage of divorced persons in some dioceses. And in the next issue of Cockford's Clerical Directory he was severely criticized for this attitude. Crockford's is a book most British clergy find indispensable as a reference. Writers of articles for it remain anonymous, but the critic is believed to be a prominent cleric in the Church of England, and his criticism was directed as much at a pending amended canon of the church as at the Primate. This amendment would ban re-marriage in all cases, rather than leave the matter to the discretion of the individual clergyman, as it is at present.

* * *

Some excerpts from the criticism in Crockford's are we think, well worth reproducing. "By what Christian principle," the writer asked, "can the church propose to make no distinction between a spouse who seeks divorce on the ground of persistent and wilful refusal to consummate a marriage and the man or woman (whether married or single) who deliberately wrecks a marriage by seduction or yielding to seduction? . . . Among the opponents of a liberal attitude to divorce in the church are some who argue that, according to Christian theology, sexual intercourse is tantamount to marriage, and therefore that any man and woman who have had such relations should be bound exclusively to each other."

* * *

The editor of Crockford's was caustic about the doctrines of these theologians. "Are we to say that a single act of inexperienced and impulsive youth, even if unfruitful, renders any later marriage with another than the partner in the early sin an adulterous union, notwithstanding sincere repentance and later genuine love?" he asks. "Does the raped woman act contrary to a law of Christ if she marries another than her raper?" . . . Marriage vows "are not made independently to God, but by the partners" to each other "in the name of God as a pledge of utter sincerity. But either party has the power, if there be the will, to render impossible their fulfillment by the other. What reality is there in a vinculum (bond) when every link in the fetter has been broken? Is it not then reduced to a word without content, as near to nothing as it is possible to get?"

* * *

We agree with Crockford's critic. We would dislike the establishment in this country of anything like the divorce mills in a number of other countries, but we firmly believe that divorce is necessary and rightful in certain cases. If that is correct, the right of remarriage must also be recognized.

VERY UNFAIR

A "self-made" business man was in serious trouble and called up his lawyer. "It's a dirty trick," he screamed into the 'phone; "a dirty trick."

"Calm down, calm down," said the lawyer, "and tell me what's the trouble."

"That girl's husband has made a terrible mistake," screamed the man. "He's named me as correspondent in a divorce case and I can't even write!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is a everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away and his kingdom that shall not be destroyed. (Dan. 7: 13, 14.)

And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Rev. 11:15.)

* * *

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: and she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born. And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (Rev. 12:1-5.)

Democracy in Japan

(Christian Science Monitor)

After World War II a great deal was said about 'democratizing" Japan. Constant directives from General MacArthur's headquarters brought a series of sweeping "democratic reforms" in the government and social structure of the nation.

Many people recognized at the time that democracy must strike deep roots into Japanese thinking if it was to survive the storms that would undoubtedly arise when the hot-house atmosphere of the military occupation disappeared. The storms are already blowing up; it remains to be seen how far the roots have gone.

The recent bitter rioting in the Japanese Diet is a test case. Japan has had many years of parliamentary government in the past, but prior to the adoption of its postwar Constitution it was more on the Prussian model than the English. And the evidence is that there is still little understanding of how democratic parliamentarism works.

Madness of Preventive War

(Victoria Times)

If a preventive war is unthinkable its mere mention in official quarters is certain to shock the United States' foreign friends. Nothing could be better calculated to undermine the alliance of the free world and erode the United States' worldwide leadership.

Nevertheless, if such lunacy is actually being considered it is best considered in the open where all its consequences can be examined by the American public. Many similarly insane proposals on a lesser scale have been advanced from time to time in the United States but once they were subjected to public scrutiny they were quickly forgotten.

If, therefore, preventive war is to become a subject of public debate, as Mr. Harsch forecasts, it will be painful and alarming in foreign nations but its result cannot be doubted. When the American people are asked to pull the atomic trigger on humanity we may be sure they will refuse to commit the ultimate and unimaginable crime. A small minority of desperate men may advocate universal suicide. The great majority will regard it as sheer madness. The sooner it is thus examined and dismissed, the sooner Mr. Eisenhower repudiates it, the better for the free world and American leadership.

Rubber Firms Seek Appeal Combine Charge

OTTAIWA (CP)—Five Canadian rubber companies Tuesday sought leave from the Supreme Court of Canada to appeal a sentence in connection with charges of illegal combine operations. The court reserved decision.

The companies were fined $10,000 each in a Toronto court and in addition the trial judge issued an injunction prohibiting them from engaging in practices similar to those leading to the combines charges.

Companies counsel John J. Robinette of Toronto argued that the federal law authorizing the courts to issue such an injunction is ultra vires of Parliament. It was an invasion of rights reserved exclusively to the provinces under the Canadian constitution.

D. H. W. Henry of the federal justice department, representing both the federal government and the attorney-general of Ontario, opposed the companies' views, arguing that the trial judge was clearly within his rights.

Companies represented in the motion are: Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Canada, Dominion Rubber Co. Ltd., Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Co. Ltd., Gutta Percha and Rubber Ltd., and B.F. Goodrich Rubber Co. of Canada Ltd.

FREIGHTER STUCK—The Norwegian freighter Bonanza is firmly held by a girder after it struck the Second Narrows bridge at Vancouver. The ship was placed in drydock and the bridge also will have to be repaired.—(CP Photo).

B.C. Appeal Court Upholds Decision

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal Tuesday dismissed the appeal of Blair Fraser, Ottawa editor of Maclean's Magazine, from an order striking out his defence to the libel action of Gordon S. Wismer.

Wismer, former B.C. attorney general, is seeking unstated damages from Fraser and Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co., Ltd., for libel as a result of an article entitled "B.C. Coalition Commits Suicide," published in the Feb. 15, 1952, edition of the magazine.

Tuesday's ruling was the latest development in the involved legal case that has not yet come to trial.

Fraser was appealing a decision of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane of the B.C. Supreme Court striking out his defence arguments contending that the case should not go before the courts. Mr. Justice Macfarlane based his decision on the grounds Fraser had refused to comply with a Supreme Court order that he disclose the sources of information on which he based his article.

GUELPH (CP) — A Guelph district mother and her two daughters were injured Tuesday when their car was hurled against a tree after a two-car collision here. Mrs. Betty Dixon, 39, of Glen Williams, suffered head injuries, cuts and bruises; Rhoda, 14, a fractured right shoulder; Donna, 10, concussion and shock.

Police said driver of the second car was Clarence Hagey of Kitchener.

Ceremony To Start Road Construction

WELLAND (CP) —Sod-turning ceremonies were held Tuesday to officially start construction of a $700,000 highway which will link Welland and Port Colborne.

The highway, being constructed on the west side of the Welland canal, is aimed at relieving congestion over the canal bridges. Seven years of planning preceded the beginning of the six-mile link.

Protest Made On Assessment

Archie Patterson of North Monaghan complained to the township council at its meeting of Monday about the assessment on his 74 acres of property. Last year Mr. Patterson paid a tax of $117.60 on the 74 acres, but this year his property is assessed in two parcels, one of 69 acres and the other, which includes a gravel pit and garage of five acres. The gravel pit and garage are assessed for $2,450 with a tax bill of $174 while his total taxes on the 74 acres is increased more than $200.

Council with Reeve Willard Waterman presiding and all members present decided to consider the question at the July meeting.

Reeve Waterman was instructed to get prices on the paving of Harper Rd. from the CPR crossing north to No. 7A Highway.

D. A. Richardson, tax collector, returned the 1953 tax roll to the council with a statement from Edward Humpage, township auditor and council accepted the same.

Fred Stinson's plan of a subdivision immediately south of Highway 28 and west of Western Ave. was submitted to the council with various amendments made by the planning board and a deed of one foot of land given the township and was accepted by council.

Accounts as follows totalling $1,655.54 were passed for payment: salaries $865.00, councillors' idemnities $299.00, roads and streets $161.95, auditing fees $200.00, tax collector's bond $15.00, insulin $1.25, sundries $16.00, expenses collecting dog taxes $34.20 and refund to tax collector overpayment on 1953 taxes $5.00.

Seabrooke's Win With UEW In Men's Tussles

Fascinating softball featured Tuesday's men's twin-bill at the East City Bowl as UEW and Seabrooke Motors rang up victories over their respective rivals; the Union men by a margin of 8-4, the Motor lads from East City, by a score of 8-5, in the nightcap. A fair crowd weathered chilly air to witness the first of a tri-weekly regular set of games; the regular schedule calling for twin sets Thursday and Saturday this week.

Jack White sent Jerry Killingbeck to the Union hill in the first game, and the slick right-handed ace tossed a neat game, to earn a decision over Dick McCracken, who also performed creditably. A late rally in the final inning of play to net three runs, spelled defeat for the lowly Kingdons. Coach White opened the rally with a long homer over the left-field fence; and a walk to Bill Wood, plus a sharp triple by Leon Shortt with Jim McGrath's fly to centre for his fourth run-batted-in of the game, told the story with the home team unable to rally in the final half.

TIED THE SCORE

UE held a 4-2 lead to the seventh, when Kingdon's tied the score, but the White-Robson pack went ahead in the eighth as Jack Donoghue scored UEW's fifth run and thus merited victory, after a tough struggle, with twirling and fielding honours fairly even, over the route.

Jim McGrath hit two for five for the winners, a double and homer for four RBI's; Jack Donoghue hit two for six; while Neil Wasson had two RBI's for the Lakefield nine; Jerry Burger hit three for four, a double and triple and Red Wasson hit two triples. The win was UE's fourth against two losses.

SEVENTH WIN

Seabrooke Motors came from behind to gain their seventh victory in eight starts in the nightcap, after a sizzling duel with Reg. Leether's hard - working Marines'. Coach Leether sent the veteran Jack Crowley to the Outboard slab, and the speedballer performed well for five innings, to hold a 5-2 edge. Seabrooke's dynamite fuse reached the end in the sixth, however, and after Red Sullivan doubled to right, Kotowski grounded, and Wyatt walked. Spencer was out on a fly to short; but Jensen hit safely, and pinch-hitter Mark Donaghue blasted a three-bagger to deep left-centre to score Wyatt and Jensen. Then Doris scored the lean, all-round Seabrooke star with his 2nd hit and RBI. Thompson was safe on an error to score Doris, and Curry singled to left but died on the pond as Sully flied to Downer, to end the nightmare.

Jerry Driscoll replaced Crowley as Thompson batted; but Marines, after hitting Doris a little in the early stages, were unable to further dent his armour.

Doris led Seabrooke's offensive with two for four, one a triple, with Donaghue's two RBI's. Gord Mongraw and Ball each had two RBI's for Marines; with Corrigan Spencer and Thompson one for their respective clubs. Sullivan, Leether and Spencer all fielded well.

GOLFING FANDANGO— These weird antics on the greens are forms of contortions most golfers go through at some time during a round. At left, this lady tries a little body English to swing the spheroid into the cup. The lady in the centre figures a little dance may woo the ball on its way. But that gal on the right just gives up in utter disgust.

Lawn Bowlers Open Play Tip Top Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

Two hundred lawn bowlers — ladies and gents — teed off around 7:30 o'clock last evenig for the first round in the annual competition for the Tip Top Tailor trophys. It was an ideal night for bowling and the bowlers made the best of it.

So close and hard fought were the games that in the ladies' section, two games went overtime and in the men's section, four games went the same way.

The final round for both trophies will be played on Thursday evening.

Now about tonight. Its mixed doubles and choose your own partners. Play begins at 7 o'clock sharp. The committee will accept your entry up until '7 o'clock. There was a nice entry listed on the black board last night — and there's room for more. As one chap puts it 'Come on, jump in and get your feet wet.'

SATCH ON TOUR — Leroy (Satchel) Paige, famous Negro pitcher, has forsaken major league baseball to go on tour again, figuring he can earn more money barnstorming. His team plans a tour of Ontario centres next month. Satch is still an active moundsman, though believed to be nearly 50 years old.

Say Head Blows Do Not Injure Boxers' Brains

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Blows to the head in "well-conducted fights" apparently do not produce either punch-drunkenness or other brain damage, two New York University physicians reported today.

In co-operation with the New York state boxing commission, Dr. Harry A. Kaplan and Dr. Jefferson Browder studied the brain waves of 1,043 professional boxers. The patterns changed little over long periods, the two physicians told the American Medical Association.

If a boxer is punch-drunk, they added, the chances are that hereditary factors play a greater role in his condition than the punishment he has taken to his head.

Brain-wave records failed to show any significant change in boxers who lost their fights by knockouts, the doctors said. They did confirm, however, that some fighters are more susceptible to head blows than others. These are the types referred to as having "glass jaws." They just can't take blows in that area, but this doesn't mean they suffer greater brain damage than others.

Loss of consciousness by a boxer frequently comes from blows on parts of the body other than the head, they reported.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Eddie (Gunner) Whitehill doesn't believe in letting Satch Paige take all the credit for being a marvellous veteran moundsman, though we hurriedly add that the Gunner hasn't dwelt upon planet Earth as long as Satchel. But Ed has pitched a lot of good ball for a lot of seasons with the Petes in COBL and VOBL campaigns, going back before the Second World War, and he can still chuck 'em in there. In the nightcap of a twin bill 'gainst Dependables in Toronto last Sunday, Whitehall came up with a three-hit hurling chore, but still lost the game 5-4. Errors hurt his cause as it should have been a 4-3 tilt on earned runs. At that, the Gunner issued six walks, something rare indeed for him, the calm righthander having excellent control as a rule.

Joe Lowrey pitched the opener of the double-header at Millen Stadium and southpawed his way to a 6-5 decision with some timely hitting behind steady flinging. Jerry Frizzelle ran into rough luck here the night before, some rather cheap hits dropping among his mates, and import Howie Stoneback tossing a five-hitter for Oshawa. The VOBL standing at the start of the week showed Oshawa atop the heap with nine wins and but three losses. Belleville Batas (whose game here Monday was washed out) are next with five and two. Hoskings won seven so far and lost six. Dependables are next in line with five and seven. The Petes have four victories and eight reverses. Oakville rest presently in the cellar with three verdicts in 10 starts. They're here next Monday.

Prizes For Pulchritude

Plenty of prizes up for the "Miss Baseball Queen" contest put on by Toronto Leafs, with the Petes staging their own preliminary round of it here this summer. Ben Swartz is lining up local prizes. Each preliminary winner gats a matching skirt and blouse, with every participant winning a pair of hose. Winner in the finals at Toronto gets all this: Mink stole, seven-diamond dinner ring, engraved trophy, a modelling course, a professional modelling contract, and a chance to compete in the States' competition. Second prize gets a suit and a camel hair coat. Third one wins a cashmere sweater set and a camel hair coat. Also, some local prizes, as mentioned before. More info as we get it.

Trailermen will be busy enough for the next week in OLA senior competition. Hamilton Tigers are here tonight, weather permitting, for a midweek fixture, and St. Catharines come to Millar Bowl on Friday. These same top squads clash in the Garden City on Saturday, and Bob Thorpe's team treks to Mimico the following Tuesday. Hamilton could be tough enough, but certainly the Athletics will extend Petes in both weekend tussles, as defeat does not rest lightly with the bolstered A's this season. Only the Petes have beaten them so far this campaign. Ike Hildebrand was due in this week and ready for early action with the champs, club prexy Bob Peirson advised a few days ago. He will be most welcome.

Vics Pacing The Pack

Rolling the eye westward o'er the Rockies, we note where Victoria Shamrocks still lead the B.C. senior lacrosse loop, several starry easterners (including Petes' Nip O'Hearn) keeping 'em atop the pack as they seek their fourth league title in a row. Indians are next while Nanaimo (where Arn Dugan plays defence) and Vancouver Pilseners are tied for third spot, ahead of New Westminster. It will be recalled locally that Petes beat Vancouver in 1951 and '52 for the Mann Cup and dumped Victoria last year to retain the Canadian crown. Nanaimo has signed Gogie Stewart, former star of Vancouver, and the guy clobbered out of the '51 series by Nip O'Hearn. Wonder how he and the Nipper will get along in circuit clashes this season.

Eastward at the Bowl by the bridge last cool e'en, UEW beat Lakefield 8-4 behind steady twirling by Jerry Killingbeck. Homers boomed off the bats of Jim McGrath and Jack White, the winners finishing in robust fashion. Nightcap saw Seabrooke's take the scrappy Marines 8-5 with Left Doris the victorious flinger. It blew up in the sixth chukker with Mark Donaghue's three-base blow the telling punch. Some good softball in the City League with the schedule having but three more weeks to go. Games tomorrow: TPT-ers vs. Seabrooke's, and UEW vs. Marines. Also two tilts scheduled for Sat'day: UE vs. TPT, and Marines vs. Lakefield.

Turley Pitching Great Ball For Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The ways the Baltimore Orioles find to lose games are bad enough for him, but manager Jimmy Dykes thinks "it's a crime" that they can't at least help pitcher Bob Turley win one more.

"He's pitching great baseball," said Dykes after Turley took his seventh loss Tuesday night because one run wasn't enough for him to beat Boston Red Sox.

"Turley can't make a mistake," said Dykes. "If he does, he's beat, because we can't score for him. He's got to be perfect every time or lose."

Turley gave up only three hits for the regulation nine innings and then lost the game 3-1 in the 12th when the Red Sox coupled two more hits with two walks.

It was the third time this American League season that Turley was forced into extra innings. He won a 10-inning game 2-1, then lost in 12 innings by the same score.

In two of his other losses, the Orioles also scored only one run. Three of his six victories have been by the same nerve-wracking 2-1 score.

He lost 2-1 to Cleveland after pitching 8 1-3 innings of no-hit ball.

St. Catharines Beats Mimico 15-6

MIMICO, Ont. (CP)—St. Catharines Athletics defeated Mimico Mountaineers 15-6 Tuesday night in an Ontario Lacrosse Association senior league game.

Derry Davies of the Athletics was high scorer with three goals. Bill Bradshaw, Roger Smith, Doug Smith and Fred Martin each tallied two goals.

High scorers for the Mountaineers were Ken Dixon and Les Digby with two goals each.

TO SUCCEED SMYTHE — Clarence (Hap) Day will succeed Con Smythe as general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs hockey club midway through the next National Hockey League season. The change is expected to take place officially Feb. 1, Smythe's 60th birthday. Day has been assistant general manager for the last four seasons after a coaching career that spanned the most successful seasons of the club. (CP Photo)

Penalty Plan Turned Down

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — The men who make the rules of international soccer Tuesday turned down a plan that would bring more penalty goals.

They urged the indirect free kick for obstruction in the penalty area be abolished but the idea ran into stiff opposition from England and Northern Ireland and was dropped.

The board made two small changes in the laws of the game.

One makes clear the ball cannot be changed during a match without the referee's permission. The other provides the player who comes on to the field late or returns after injury can go straight into the contest from the sideline without reporting to the officials once the referee has signalled him on to the field.

One Lamb's Opinion

In the sports section of a Glasgow publication recently appeared a little rhyme concerning a soccer referee named Malcolm, who requires no "seeing eye" dog, but does have a lamb for a mascot, one which follows him almost everywhere:

Malky has a little lamb,
That's why he's looking sheepish;
And there's a rumor going around
Though it sounds somewhat steepish:
They say that Malky asked the lamb,
Just for a bit of fun:
"What do you think of referees?"
"Baa!" said the woolly one.

Waterloo Royals Fighting Hard To Get Out Of Baseball Cellar

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Guelph - Waterloo Royals are making a bid to get out of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League cellar. And even though it's a tough climb, they're making headway.

The Royals won their fourth consecutive game Tuesday night—the second in a row by extra innings—by shading the league-leading Terriers 4-2 in 11 innings in Galt.

London Majors missed a chance to climb into a first-place tie with the Terriers when they were walloped 7-1 by the Panthers in Kitchener in the league's other game. The Majors have suffered eight losses so far this season and half of them have been to the Panthers.

CREIGHTON WINS

The first-place Creighton Indians downed Garson Greyhounds 10-7 in the only Nickel Belt Senior game at Sudbury. The game was halted twice by rain.

Two Toronto teams saw the only action of the Viaduct Ontario Baseball League. Hoskings scored two runs in the ninth and another pair in the 10th to salvage a 4-3 decision over Caterers.

Although the Royals still remain in last place by a few percentage points their victory over Galt hoisted them to within three games of the first-place Terriers.

A pinch single by playing coach Irish Miskimmons in the 11th sent home the winning run, Jeep Jessup who gave up eight walks to the Royals suffered the loss—his first of the season after five victories. Gord Ariss, after taking three straight losses, won his first victory. He gave up the game's only homer—a two-run clout to John Imbra.

SIX HITS

In Kitchener Johnny Maldovan, a former International League hurler held the Majors to six hits, four walks and struck out seven men to chalk up his third straight win since joining the Panthers. He has no losses.

The Panthers spotted London one run in the third and then scored seven runs to go away with the victory. A London error with the bases loaded in the fourth gave Kitchener two unearned runs, including the winning tally.

Five games are scheduled in the Intercounty tonight. Galt meets Guelph in a doubleheader at Waterloo and Brantford Red Sox play a twin bill with the Elgins in St. Thomas. Kitchener returns to London for a single game.

P.G. & C.C. CHIP SHOTS

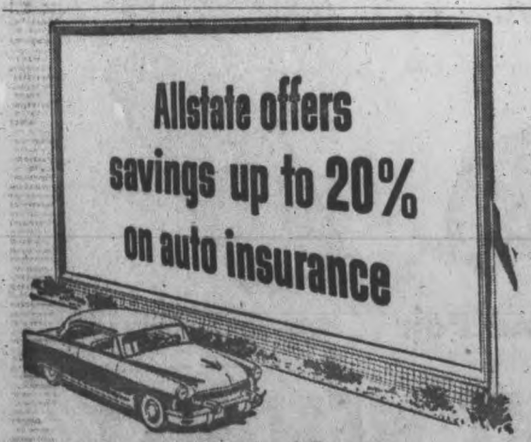
Jim Clarkson seems to be stymied by that old man "par". He carded another 71 Sunday so possibly we soon shall see an even 70. Let's hope it will come this weekend as Jim, Alf and Frank Vyse play in the Ontario Open at Cedar Brae. Best wishes, fellows.

One week ago the first mixed two-ball foursome evening was held. Thirty-eight players participated in a very successful event. Low gross went to Alf Hill and Eleanor Pue with Marie Tanner and Dick Ouimet second. Gladys Mortimer and Stu Williamson, Madeline Hill and Slim Pearson won prizes as they tied for third. Low net went to Marg. McCulloch and John Lavictoire (a dark horse). Second low net was won by Elva Boate and Lyle Peterson while Mary Sullivan and Frank Jobbitt were third. Honesty paid in prizes for Agnes Bowler, Don Vyse, Marg. McManus, Ben Parr, Marg. Behan and Barb Williamson. All are patiently awaiting the second meeting; the date will be announced later.

Frank Jackson and Ted Cragg won first and second low net in the ball sweeps on Saturday in the first division. Les Reid captured low gross honors. Second flight winners were Tom Rodger, with low gross, and Howard Simon low net.

IN SECOND ROUND

Cec. Campbell and Jack Hardill advanced to the second round of the club championship as they eliminated Mac Campbell and Dick Ouimet. Activity in competitions is moving into full swing with draws for nearly all events now posted.



Mrs. Marg. Hollowell won the competition, low gross and tied for low net with Mrs. Jean Lamers in the regular ladies field day. Mrs. Betty Hardill and Mrs. Gert. Pearson tied for second low net honors. Mrs. Mona Roy and Mrs. F. Hall represented the club at Oshawa in the ladies' senior event. Congratulations are due to Mrs. Hall who won low net honors. Barb Williamson, Gert. Pearson, Evelyn Baptie and Vi Watson all won prizes at Cobourg on Saturday.

The B.G.'s entertained the Kawartha girls Tuesday evening. Over 90 atended and, judging from the appearance of the first tee, the visitors were adequately welcomed. Outcome of the competition was still in doubt at sunset but a complete report will be given later when scores, girls and clubs are untangled . .

RAIN HITS SOCCER

BERN (AP)—A 20-minute cloudburst over sweltering Switzerland Tuesday threatened soggy ground for today's replays in the first round of the world soccer championship.

A half-inch rainfall left puddles on the pitch at Basel, where Switzerland plays Italy for a quarter-final place against Austria, and at Zurich where Germany meets Turkey for the right to play Yugoslavia.

Orioles Losing Steadily In American Loop

By BEN PHLEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer

Browns or Orioles, St. Louis or Baltimore, the sad fact seems to be that it's a last-place ball club. More than $5,000,000 have been spent on the franchise since a year ago today. The net result in the won and lost columns is a game-and-a-half improvement.

The Orioles have won 22 games and lost 42. A year ago today the Browns stood 21-44.

The Orioles of 1954 lost their ninth in a row Tuesday night, 3-1 to Boston in 12 innings. It also was their ninth straight loss at home, starting June 1.

ONE DIFFERENCE

The only outstanding difference is in the crowds. The Browns lost in privacy. More than 130,000 have suffered with the Orioles through their last nine defeats.

The Orioles are 22½ games behind the Cleveland Indians who lost one game of their American League lead Tuesday night. The Indians bowed to Philadelphia 4-1 while Chicago was beating Washington 7-5. This moved the White Sox within three games of the Indians.

The New York Yankees lost at Detroit 4-1 and stayed five games behind.

In the National League the New York Giants continued to come up with hair-raising finishes, shading Milwaukee 3-2 on a bases-loaded single by Monte Irvin with two out in the ninth. Cincinnati mauled Brooklyn 13-1 for its fifth straight victory. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 4-1. St. Louis and the Pirates were rained out.

Al Sima did his ex-Chicago teammates a good turn by pitching the Athletics to a four-hit victory over Cleveland. It was the first victory for the lefthander who was traded 10 days ago. He drove in two of the A's four runs off Early Wynn who suffered his fifth loss.

Virgil Trucks joined Bob Keegan as the American League's only 10 game winners in Chicago's victory over Washington. He needed help from Morrie Martin, however, as the Senators fought back from a 7-0 deficit. Roy Sievers and Jim Busby homered for Washington. Chicago stole three bases for a total of 40, tops in both leagues.

Manager Casey Stengel was bounced for arguing for the third time this year as his Yankees bowed to Steve Gromek and the Detroit Tigers. The Yanks collected eight hits but couldn't score until the eighth off the righthander who won his ninth game.

The Giants came up with another climax that Hollywood wouldn't dare to offer. They trailed 2-1 going into the last of the ninth. A walk, a sacrifice, a single by Don Mueller and a double by Willie Mays tied the score. With the bases loaded and two out Leo Durocher sent up Irvin as a pinch hitter. He was hitless in his last 26 times at bat but Monte met the first pitch for a single and the Giants won again.

The Dodgers were helpless against a combination of two-hit pitching by Bud Podbielan and a 17-hit Cincinnati attack. Jim Greengrass hit two home runs and Andy Seminick hit one for the Reds.

Robin Roberts, who had to go 15 innings his last time out, struck out 11 and walked only two as the Phillies whipped Chicago. A two-run double by Smoky Burgess in the eighth clinched the contest. Hank Sauer hit his 21st homer for the Cubs.

Maple Leafs Beat Buffalo 3-1 For Ninth Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the other teams in the International League aren't careful, they won't even be able to see the Toronto Maple Leafs and Rochester Red Wings by the July 4 halfway mark.

The league-leading Leafs are only two games ahead of the Wings who in turn, are six in front of the third-place Montreal Royals. And both are on rampages.

The Leafs whipped Buffalo Bisons 3-1 Tuesday night for their ninth victory in their last 10 starts, while the Wings swept a doubleheader from Richmond Virginians 5-4 and 8-3 to run their winning skein to six.

In other action, the Royals outslugged Syracuse Chiefs 13-9 and Ottawa A's stopped Havana Sugar Kings 4-3.

THREE-HITTER

Connie Johnson hurled the Leafs to their triumph over the Bisons, spinning a three-hitter. His shutout was spoiled when Ron Northey hit a home run in the ninth.

The Wings won the opener of their twin bill by scoring five runs in the last two innings, erasing a 3-0 Richmond advantage. In the nightcap, Jack Faszholz won his eighth game with the aid of reliefer Niles Jordan.

The Royals spotted the Chiefs seven runs in the first three innings but still came on to win it. Glen Cox held the Chiefs to three hits and one run in the last six innings to get the victory.

Joe Taylor was the big man in the Ottawa triumph when he singled home two runs in the eighth to give Art Ditmar his first win.

Roads Committee Slow Pace To Crawl On Bus Trip

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—The Ontario legislature's highways investigation committee travelling in high gear through the northwestern United States and Ontario this last week slowed down to a comparative crawl Tuesday—a 270-mile bus trip to Atikokan and back.

En route committee chairman Kelso Roberts (PC—Toronto St. Patrick) and Albert Wren (Lib.-Lab.—Kenora) sparred mildly over the questioning of witnesses before the committee.

Today the 15-man party is scheduled to travel 103 miles east to Terrace Bay on the north shore of Lake Superior and after an overnight stop at the lumber and rail community it will inspect new highway construction between Beardmore and Jellicoe returning to Port Arthur Thursday.

INTRODUCES SUBJECT

Mr. Wren brought up the subject of witness-calling shortly after the committee left Port Arthur. He said it is his impression that the committee is on a fact-finding tour.

"However some people up here think we are here on an investigation," he said.

Mr. Roberts replied that there is no restriction on the committee in the gathering of information.

"I think that's the view of the committee generally," he said. "And the same applies when it meets in Toronto."

SAID PREPARED

Mr. Wren intimated in a committee hearing in Toronto last month that he is prepared to bring witnesses before the committee when it reaches the Lakehead. Prior to a later meeting, he and Opposition Leader Farquhar Oliver conferred with Attorney-General Porter and agreed to turn over to the attorney-general's department the names of witnesses and their relevant information for study by the crown.

C. E. James (PC — Lambton East), in joining the bus conference, said it would be "foolish" for the committee to interrogate witnesses who might offer evidence that would prejudice the criminal proceedings now before the courts.

Replying to a question put by Mr. Wren, Mr. Roberts said the books seized from contractors who were investigated but not charged have since been released.

INFORMATION SECRET

However any information obtained by investigators from those contractors was classified as secret.

Mr. Wren argued that the absolved contractors might offer valuable information to the committee but Mr. Roberts said there is a possibility the evidence might be implicated in court proceedings.

Mr. Oliver interjected that he will abide by the "gentlemen's agreement" made with the attorney-general on the refraining of questioning until the current court cases are completed.

During Tuesday's trip the committee inspected the Oskondiga river bridge 30 miles west of Port Arthur, built under sub-contract from Tomlinson Bros. Ltd., by R. F. Petjrsson, a federal engineer charged along with Tomlinson with conspiracy.

For the rest of the day the committee peered at highway construction on the Atikokan highway, accepted a brief on local road problems from the town of Atikokan and toured the neighboring Steep Rock iron ore development.

Suspect Grain Exporters May Lower World Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — A question being raised in world grain markets following the recent international meeting in London is whether major wheat exporting countries will cut prices to minimum levels permitted under the International Wheat Agreement in an effort to boost lagging export sales.

There have been indications that the United States, a major exporter, would like to cut its export prices in a move to reduce a surplus supply. But opposition has been encountered from Canada, and the U.S. hesitates to act lest relations with Canada be disturbed.

A large portion of the wheat sold in world trade moves under provisions of the IWA. This pact sets up export quotas for major surplus-producing countries and import quotas for about 40 countries which do not produce as much wheat as they need. It also sets maximum and minimum prices.

Export and import quotas totalling 421,000,000 bushels were set for the marketing year ending July 31. But, with only little over a month to go, importing countries have taken only 215,000,000 bushels. The U.S., for instance, has sold only 105,000,000 bushels of its 209,000,000 export quota, and Canada 85,000,000 of her 163,000,000 bushels.

Importing countries are obligated to buy their full quotas only if wheat is offered them at the minimum price, which is $1.55 a bushel. The top price is $2.05. Both Canada and the U.S. now are offering wheat at about $1.70.

OBLIGATED TO BUY

A further cut in the export price would adversely affect Canadian wheat growers, but not those in the U.S. That's because the wheat programs of the two countries are sharply different.

The U.S. government maintains a support price for wheat, which for this year's crop is a national average of $2.21 a bushel. Wheat that cannot be sold for this price is turned over to the government under the support program.

In Canada, a government board controls the marketing of wheat. It sets sales quotas for individual growers and sets a buying price at the start of the marketing season. This price is usually considerably below the amount the board believes it will be able to get for the grain.

Textile Workers Appeal To Public

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Only by persuading persons to buy Canadian-made textiles can the 26,000 unemployed textile workers of Ontario be reinstated to their jobs, Harold Daoust, Canadian director of the Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) said Tuesday.

"We no longer depend on the government to assist us," he said. "Our plea is to the people. Our purpose is to make them conscious of the seriousness of the situation and of the fact that they have it in their power to help us by refusing to buy imported textiles."

Wage Settlement Prospects Seem Remote

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospects of a quick agreement on a new wage contract in the United States steel industry now seem remote, Iron Age, the national metal-working weekly, says.

The attitude of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) has stiffened and their position has strengthened by improvement in business as the negotiations near the showdown stage, says Iron Age.

Chances of a strike were increased, it says, by the union's rejection, disclosed Tuesday, of a management offer calling for improved pensions but no wage increase. The current contract expires June 30.

The publication adds that it is still expected that the eventual agreement will comprise a "package" costing the industry about five to eight cents an hour, followed by selective increases in steel prices averaging $2 to $3 a ton.

Honors Nurse

LONDON (Reuters)—The Queen Tuesday awarded the George Medal, one of Britain's highest awards for gallantry, to Freda Holland, 41-year-old nurse who rescued 15 infants from a smoke-filled maternity hospital ward in Reading, England, April 18.

TCP increases acceleration up to 15% within 400 miles

Shell-discovered additive, TCP*, blended into Shell Premium Gasoline, breaks through power barrier set up by pre-ignition and spark plug "miss"

... the greatest gasoline development in 31 years

WHETHER yours is a new car barely past the 2000-mile mark—or an "old faithful"—it's almost certain that you're getting less response than you should when you step down on the accelerator — as much as 15% less.

The power barrier

There's a wall between you and full engine power. It is caused by lead and carbon deposits that glow red hot in combustion chambers to pre-ignite fuel before the piston is in proper firing position.

These same deposits form on spark plugs and act as electrical conductors to short-circuit them. Then your spark plugs misfire.

These twin power thieves, pre-ignition and misfiring, are most active when you need power most, during acceleration or on hills.

TCP, the unique Shell-discovered fuel additive, corrects both pre-ignition and misfiring. It "fireproofs" deposits in the combustion chamber, prevents them from glowing red hot to pre-fire fuel. It makes the deposits on spark plugs non-conductive, and ends misfiring.

TCP breaks through barrier—fast

So quickly does Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP go to work that you'll feel the difference – up to 15% more power, more acceleration—by the time you've driven 400 miles. But engine deposits accumulate constantly. Continued use of TCP additive is necessary to maintain your power and performance gains.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead. It is available only at your Shell Dealer's.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Methuen Farmer Acquitted Stealing Calf

A Methuen township farmer, Craig Sopha, 26, who said he picked up an untended calf on a township road allowance and took it home to care for it, was charged in court Tuesday with the theft of the calf. After lengthy evidence, Magistrate W. R. Philp, QC, dismissed the charge.

The magistrate quoted from the doctrine of recent possession in delivering judgement, and said that possession did not necessarily give presumption of guilt unless a reasonable explanation of procuring was not given.

REASONABLE EXPLANATION

Sopha was charged with the theft of a calf purporting to belong to his neighbour, Chester Cole, but Sopha's explanation of why and how he had acquired the calf was reasonable. Although some persons might not regard the explanation as being true, it had to be accepted by the court if it was reasonable.

Sopha told the court that he had found the calf in a very sick condition lying on the road allowance between his property and that of Cole. He had taken the calf to his barn, given it medicine and fed it. This had happened on June 7. The next day he had twice visited Cole's house and found no one at home. A boy had been despatched to another neighbour, Douglas Johansen, with enquiries concerning the calf.

When OPP Constable Archie Eady and Chief Constable Robert W. Hall visited his farm on June 9, Sopha showed them the calf and the place where he had found it. However, in a written statement made to the officers, Sopha had said the calf belonged to him and that it's mother was out in his pasture. The constable had called a veterinary surgeon and the cow had been put with the calf. There had been no show of affection between the two.

CALF ANOTHER BREED

The constable told the court that Sopha had admitted that his cow was of the Durham breed and that the calf was a Holstein. Both Constable Eady and Chief Hall said that Sopha had been most obliging in showing the calf, which he had placed in a locked barn.

Cole testified that he had let out one of his Holstein heifers early in the morning of June 7. He expected that a calf had been born soon after. In the evening he discovered his heifer had given birth to a calf, but that there was no sign of the calf. The next day he had turned the heifer out in the pasture and from 8 a.m. until about 5 p.m. had stayed on a nearby hill, watching to see if she would find the calf.

Cole said that he did not know anything of Sopha coming to his home. He thought that his wife was at the house all day, but could not be certain of that fact.

Cross-examined by defence counsel W. B. Gordon, Cole admitted that his cattle and horses had strayed into Sopha's property on occasions and that there had been some dissagreements about ownership of wood. However he considered that there was no bad feeling between them. (Sopha held the opposite opinion).

TOKYO (AP)—Heavy rains lashing the Japanese islands for the last 24 hours touched off floods and landslides, derailed trains, flooded rice lands and homes and caused at least 14 deaths. Wakayama Prefecture, a flatland at the foot of high mountain ranges, bore the brunt of the early flood damage. Police said 13 were killed there and 1,000 homes and 800 acres were flooded.

Set Maximum Salary $8,500

The committee of the whole city council Monday night recommended granting the medical officer of health an annual salary increment of $200 up to a maximum of $8,500.

The decision, which requires formal council approval, will be retroactive to January 1.

The committee did not vote on a board of health recommendation to raise Dr. Wells' salary to $8,000 with annual increments of $500 up to a maximum of $9,000.

The $200 increment was the substance of an amendment by Ald. Harold Rehill to a motion by Ald. Stan McBride that Dr. Wells' salary be raised to $8,000 this year, without considering the question of an increment at this time.

The vote on the amendment was a 4-4 tie, with Aldermen Rehill, Holt, Beggs and Knox supporting it. Ald. Anglesey cast the deciding vote in favor of the $200 increment, so that neither the board of health recommendation nor Ald. McBride's motion were put to a vote.

COMPARATIVE SALARIES

Absent for the vote was Ald. Gordon Farquharson, who previously had failed to get a seconder for his motion not to change the salary of the medical officer of health. He made the motion in view of a schedule of salaries in other cities.

Comparative salaries were: Guelph (population 29,544) $6,400; Kingston (pop. 44,888) $6.916.25; Kitchener (pop. 52,773) $7,400; Oshawa (pop. 44,101) $5,900 ($6,-100 recommended); Brant county health unit (including Brantford) $8,000 (under review); Lambton health unit (incl. Sarnia, total pop. 50,882) $7,523.80; St. Catharines-Lincoln health unit (pop. 100,000) $9,000.

STAFF DOUBLED

Dr. Wells told the committee his staff had doubled and his work had trebbled since his arrival. The main addition to his work had been incorporation of the school health services, including higher standards of secondary school services.

The board of education had insisted on the same high standard of health services as they had provided and this entailed the employment of an assistant to the medical officer of health. As a result, Peterborough's standards of school health services were as high as any in the province.

All the department's work was now on a "report and notification basis," entailing considerable increase of office work. For example, farmers supplying milk to the city were supplied with the public health veterinarians's reports on tests.

There had been considerable additional work such as investigation and recommendations for remedying the pollution of Little lake.

Revival Meeting Held In Norwood

NORWOOD (ENS)—In spite of heavy rain a great Penecostal Church Rally was held in Norwood town hall Monday night at 8 p.m. with the Peterborough Pentecostal Church Brass Band supplying the music.

The Rev. W. B. Greenwood, the District Superintendent of Belleville spoke briefly. He mentioned the great revival sweeping the British Isles and dweit at some length on the revival in South America where there were not enough Bibles in Spanish to fill the orders of the people who had given their lives to Christ in the great revival in that continent. He said that in Argentina on the first night of the Revival meetings 50,000 people made their confession to Christ.

The Rev. Fred Parlee, of Peterborough, who was guest speaker played a few accordian selections and songs. Mrs. Jean Johnston, the pastor's wife of Madoc, sang a vocal solo with Mr. Parlee at the piano.

Announcements for the week for the Pentescotal Assembly in Norwood were made by Miss M. Ellis, one of the pastors of the Norwood Pentecostal Assembly. She also welcomed the band and other visitors to the revival meeting. Mr. Parlee said he was glad to see that there was going to be a new church built in Norwood beside the Pentecostal parsonage. He told the people that they need not be apologetic for the gospel. He mentioned that the present Pentecostal church in Norwood was only a tmporary structure and was glad to see the permanent church going up. He hoped that Norwood's church would be the best in the countryside (next to Peterborough's).

Mr. Parlee told the people of the great need for deacons in the church like Stephen the first Christian martyr. He told them that God hears even sinners pray because if he didn't, nobody could be heard by God. There are people in every town who would give over their religion, family, and town for communistic ideologies and we must be very careful of them. The church is only as strong as its congregation. The two disciples on the road to Emmaus believed that Jesus was a man with a lost cause but their hearts burned within them when Jesus expounded the scriptures to them. Man has turned his back upon Christ. We are already deep within the clouds of tribulation. Sometime the storm is going to break upon a Christ-rejecting world.

Gov't Announces Army Appointment

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. D. B. Buell, 48, of Brockville, Ont., who won the Distinguished Service Order on the Normandy beaches, has been promoted colonel and appointed director of militia and cadets, the army announced Tuesday.

Formation of the directorate of militia and cadets as part of a sweeping reserve army reorganization was announced in the Commons Monday night by Defence Minister Claxton. Formerly, reserve force and cadets were handled by separate sections in the directorate of military training.

Col. Buell, a graduate of and former instructor at Royal Military College, was commissioned in the British Columbia Regiment in 1928 and appointed to the permanent force in 1930. He led the North Shore Regiment ashore in Normandy on D-Day, June 6, 1944. He was wounded two months later and was invalided home. After the war he commanded the Royal Canadian School of Infantry at Camp Borden, Ont., and latterly has been general staff officer in the directorate of military training here and responsible for army cadet activities.

HECHINGEN, Germany (AP)—Eighteenth-century funeral flags and standards, missing from the coffins of Prussian king Frederick the Great and his father since 1945, have been recovered, it was learned today. But where they were found is still a secret. The flags disappeared when the coffins were removed from the Potsdam royal vault and taken to West Germany.

Swimming Club Pleases Crowd With Wizard Of Oz

"The Wizard of Oz" is a name of a book as well as a movie, but Tuesday evening it was the theme of a colorful water ballet, performed by the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, in the Lions' Pool.

The club interpreted the story with a modern twist as they presented their annual water show which ends Friday.

Sixteen juniors, 24 intermediate and 26 senior girls swam through their parts gracefully and with precision. Four boys from the YWCA leadership training course, were an added feature to this year's show.

The ballet opens in a schoolroom where 18 little girls who are patiently waiting for the summer holidays, find the days long and in the midst of their lessons drop off to sleep.

They dream that their teacher is a wicked witch, and they are saved by fairies who show them the road to the Land of Oz.

FAMOUS CHARACTERS

On the way they meet the Tin Man, Straw Man, and the Cowardly Lion, played by Jean Russelle, Joan Lynch, and Mrs. Pansy Forbes, the club's swimming coach, respectively.

Although the witch played by Joan Craig, tries to lead them astray, the children finally find the Wizard, acted by Ken Hicks, who make all their dreams come true.

Joan Lynch plays the fairy queen, disguised and Ken Hicks the prince.

Lorne Hale, a Peterborough diver, won the crowd's admiration with his dives from the low board and his execution of the one and half sommersault and touch off the high. Don Gibson and Bill Waters also took part in the show.

The 12 Jumping Jacks, in black and white suits, received applause for their synchronized water wheel act which they did in the North American Amateur Athletic Union competition held in Florida last August, and were named international champions.

They will take their act to the British Empire Games in Vancouver in July. Money raised from the show will be for the club's travel fund which also takes them to Chicago, Mexico City and Vancouver.

MOTHERS IN THE WINGS

Helping to run things smoothly in the dressing rooms, were the mothers of the swimmers. All the costumes had been made by them and head of the sewing committee was Mrs. J. Young.

The mothers play an important role in these evening shows, as they take turns lining the children up, zippering up their suits, finding things the children are always losing and serving hot chocolate to them between the acts.

As the children come running in the door, wet bathing suits are thrown off and there's a mad scramble while new ones are put on for the next scene. The mothers are there to make adjustments.

The official swimming suits of the seniors are white, the intermediates, turquoise, and the juniors, rose.

George Ludgate was the commentator and the music was in charge of Mrs. Norman Douglas.

Evelyn Buchanan of Toronto, dominion diving champion, will perform at tonight's show.

CIO-CCL To Seek Equal Pay For Packers

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) said Tuesday the union will seek equal wages for its members in packing houses across Canada in 1954 contract negotiations.

The union, which represents 19,000 workers employed in plants of Canada Packers, the Swift Canadian Company and the Burns Company of Calgary, is due to open contract talks with the companies shortly. The present contract expires July 31.

The spokesman, who was not identified, said in an interview hourly wages in Montreal and other cities now are below those paid in Toronto. Basic wages in Montreal was $1.37 for men and $1.14 for women, three cents less than in Toronto.

He said the union also will seek a standard 40-hour five-day week from coast to coast in the Big Three plants which employ approximately 85 per cent of workers in the industry.

Two Ohio Tourists Lost Car In Fire

ROSENEATH (ENS)— Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Tice, 193 North Union St., Salem, Ohio, were driving along highway 45 on the one-mile stretch of road between Alderville and Roseneath on Monday afternoon when they thought they had a flat rear tire. Mr. Tice got out and could see nothing wrong. Starting on they heard a hissing noise. Getting out the second time Mr. Tice discovered flames at the left rear wheel spreading rapidly. Bill Whitefield, Cobourg, driving an oil truck, was the first on the scene. Using his fire extinguisher, they thought he had the fire out twice, when it broke out again. He ran out of fluid for the extinguisher, and another passing motorist went to the Down Bros. garage in Roseneath for more fluid, but it was too late. All that is left of a grey 1949 Cadillac sedan is a badly burned frame.

Mr. and Mrs. Tice were able to save their suit cases of clothing, the radio, motor for a boat, and fishing rods.

A large crowd gathered and heard the tires blow out separately and the 20-gallon gas line tank go with a bang.

Mr. and Mrs. Tice left Salem on Sunday on their holidays to be spent at Belmont Lake at the summer cottage of Mr. Charles Bonnell, also of Salem.

Provincial Police were called from Cobourg.

The fire was thought to have been caused from leaking inflammable brake fluid.

Strike Talks Break Up, No Comments

MONTREAL (CP)—Talks aimed at averting a possible nation-wide rail strike broke up Tuesday without any plans for further meetings.

Representatives of 14 non-operating unions and railway officials said a report on the meetings has been forwarded to the federal labor department in Ottawa. Neither side would comment further but both union and railway spokesmen said there are no plans for further talks.

Labor Minister Gregg called for a resumption of negotiations last week after earlier talks ended in a stalemate. One session was held last Thursday and another Tuesday.

BALLOTS OUT

Strike ballots have already gone out to the 135,000 employees represented by the unions. Results of the vote are expected to be known around Aug. 15.

The workers constitute virtually the same group that went on strike for nine days in 1950—a walkout that tied up transportation. They are asking for fringe benefits. The railways say the requests, if granted, would cost $60,000,000 yearly. No demands for pay increases are involved.

Workers involved are those who man the shops, freight yards, offices, express services and other non-operating costs. The commercial telegraph systems are also involved.

"Our Sunday school maintains classes for pupils up to the age of 20, and everyone is welcome to attend our Sunday services and Wednesday evening meetings."

The local church holds its Sunday services at 11.00 a.m. at 305 Water. St. The Wednesday evening meeting is held at 8.00 p.m. The Sunday school convenes at 11.00 a.m.

Construction Expected Equal 1953 Boom

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Raymond Brunet of Hull, Que., president of the Canadian Construction Association, said Tuesday that construction in Canada this year is expected to equal last year's boom proportions despite an early season lag.

Last year's construction was valued at a record $4,500,000,000 major portion of which was spent in heavy industrial and engineering projects, Mr. Brunet said in an interview.

Of the total—which about equalled Canada's annual budget—$1,200,000 was spent on construction of 104,000 housing units.

He said this year the building tempo is expected to increase so that the over-all picture will be equal to last year's record although construction contracts for the corresponding period of the year so far are valued at about 10 per cent lower.

He forecast particular emphasis on housing construction during the next two years, estimating that 1,250,000 homes would be built due to changes in regulations permitting wider borrowing of funds for home building.

Maritimes Fight Unemployment By Development

HALIFAX (CP)—The maritime provinces are stirring in the construction and development fields to an extent greater than any since the Second World War and the tempo is helping to combat unemployment in the old-established industries.

Commercial mainstays like the apple and coal industries of Nova Scotia are wrestling with production and marketing problems but the advent of their ills has coincided largely with ambitious undertaking in other lines.

Latest items:

Five construction companies will share in a $2,500,000 government contract for clearing 10,000 acres of the new Camp Gagetown military training site in south-central New Brunswick. Hundreds will be employed in the project which will occupy several months.

Atlantic Sugar Refineries, Ltd., has assured board members it will start a $3,000,000 addition to its Saint John, N.B., plant shortly, probably in the fall. Tenders will be called shortly.

A new federal building will be started in Sydney soon. The job will absorb many persons thrown out of work by slowdowns in the steel and coal industries which because they are so vital to highly industrialized Cape Breton island, have affected other businesses.

Officials of the town of Shediac, N.B., are optimistic over the prospects of the federal government dredging the Point du Chene harbor entrance to make it available to ocean-going shipping. The start of that development would employ hundreds of persons in the actual dredging and in phases of it.

The National Gypsum Co., is building a $6,000,000 plant at Shubenacadie, N.S., 30 miles from Halifax. A current expansion of dock-landing facilities at Dartmouth, N.S., will cost about $1,500,000.

MONSTER MUSKELUNGE—Bob Malo (right), of Port Arthur, holds the 70½-pound muskelunge, believed a world record, which he hooked at Middle Eau Claire lake, Minn. Helping hold the huge fish is George Cruise, of Chicago, who shot the fish after it had been hauled into shallow water. —(CP Photo).

Iron Shipments Expected Next Month

TORONTO (CP)—Shipments of Labrador iron ore are expected to start about the end of July.

W. H. Durell, general manager of the Iron Ore Company of Canada, said Tuesday in a statement that preliminary shipments may be made before then but a 20,000 ton ore carrier is expected to be loaded at Seven Islands dock installations about July 31 in conjunction with ceremonies marking the start of production from the Labrador iron ore deposits.

The ore will be caried to an Atlantic port, possibly Baltimore or Philadelphia.

Reaches Port Late

HALIFAX (CP) — Tired and dirty, and two days late, Angus Mowat, director of the public library service for Ontario, sailed his 34-foot yacht into Halifax Tuesday. He sailed the Scotch Bonnet from Oakville, Ont., to here to attend the annual conference of the Canadian Library Association but was held up by fog and headwinds.

Fire In Plant

DETROIT (CP) — A five-alarm fire burned in a section of the sprawling Lincoln - Mercury plant Tuesday but only a section of the building was affected by the blaze. The plant has been abandoned for production since 1952. No estimate of damage was available. Two firemen were slightly injured.

Denies Report

BERLIN (AP)—The press office of Soviet zone Premier Otto Grotewohl Tuesday night denied Western newspaper reports that Soviet atomic cannon were stationed in East Germany.

$3,000,000 Heir On Theft Charge

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's "wealthiest young man," John Leonard Smallman, was remanded Tuesday to Aug. 3 on a charge of assaulting and robbing a man of $41.

The 21-year-old heir to a $3,000,000 fortune was dressed in a natty gabardine suit as he appeared with his counsel, G. Arthur Martin.

It was his second remand, and his second release on $1,000 bail.

Smallman was named by Lawrence T. Nash as one of three men who beat and robbed him Dec. 17 after he met them in a downtown cocktail bar.

The others have not been located by police.

Smallman fell heir to a $2,800,000 fortune in April 1948, on the death of his aunt, Mrs. Eleanor E. B. Morgan, member of a prominent London, Ont., family.

Graham Leaves

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Billy Graham, the American evangelist, left here Tuesday for Amsterdam, The Netherlands. He said he received a better response to his meetings in Denmark than in either Finland or Sweden.

New Minesweepers To Cost $4,000,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Tuesday that the 14 new minesweepers built under the defence program are expected to cost about $4,000,000 each.

All of the vessels have been launched, 10 have been delivered and the remainder will be completed by the fall. Some of the ships have been turned over to Canada's North Atlantic Treaty partners and replacement orders have been placed with shipyards.

Mr. Howe said the $4,000,000 estimate does not include the cost of armament, fire control equipment and stores. He also said that experience in building the vessels should result in cost reductions in future.

House Prorogues

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — The Newfoundland legislature was prorogued Tuesday after a long and hectic session that started March 24.

Murder Victims Buried

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Mrs. Hedwig Kopplin and her two children, Reinhard, five, and Rita, 10 months, were buried Tuesday, while police still searched for their slayer.

Their charred bodies were discovered Saturday in the ruins of the family's home at remote Kelly Siding 80 miles northwest of here.

The husband and father, 26-year-old Horst Kopplin, German immigrant, said he spent Saturday preparing a new home for the family, at Mine Centre, 100 miles west.

"I have worked and fought for six years to make a home and security for my wife and my children," he said Tuesday. "Now I have nothing."

Must Buy Armaments From United States

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said Tuesday Canada must buy large amounts of armament in the United States to meet the requirements of the armed services.

However, he told the Commons that it is the government's policy never to lose an opportunity to buy military equipment in the United Kingdom.

"Where it has been possible to buy in the United Kingdom we have done so," he said.

Mr. Howe was commenting on a plea by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) for the government to place more defence orders in the U.K. to enable that country to earn dollars to increase purchases in Canada.

Brantford Soldier To Head Corps

OTTAWA (CP)—Lt.-Col. Michael R. Dare, 36, of Brantford, Ont., will return from Korea this summer as a full colonel, to head the Royal Canadian Armored Corps School at Camp Borden, Ont.

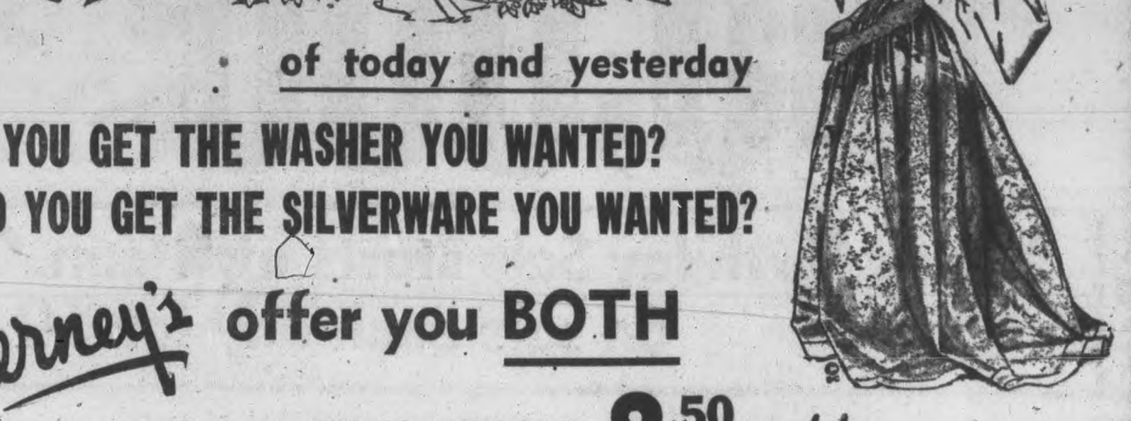
Now serving as general staff officer at 1st Commonwealth Division headquarters, he will succeed Col. G. J. H. Waptsford of Ottawa, whose new appointment will be announced shortly.

Born in Montreal and educated in Brantford, he has been in the army sice 1937 and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for service overseas in the Second World War.

Not Purchased From Government

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Production Minister Howe said Tuesday that a Toronto firm, which this spring offered surplus bearings for sale at cut rates, did not get them from the Canadian government.

He said in the Commons that the firm probably purchased them from a United States surplus disposal company. It had not purchased them from the government's Crown Assets Disposal Corporation or its predecessor, the War Assets Disposal Corporation.



Mr. Howe was replying to Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) who said earlier that the Toronto firm had offered new "government surplus" bearings for sale at one-quarter of the current retail price on the same day the defence production department asked tenders on a government purchase of bearings.

Mr. Fleming did not identify the Toronto firm, except to say it was a second-hand auto parts company.

SERVED CITY 16 YEARS

Sixteen seasons of use in slushing and cleaning the streets entitle the mobile water tank of the board of works to some kind of respect. The city bought that motor truck in 1938 according to the information of the driver of the last five years, Jack Behan. He averages 40 miles a day or better, but part of that driving is too and from the refilling hydrants.

Stolen Safe Found Opened

MARMORA (ENS)—A safe stolen from the Albert Mayne store in Marmora over the weekend was recovered Monday afternoon and returned to the store.

A member of a party of prospectors found the safe under some bushes near a road a mile east of Havelock. The bottom had been chopped out of the safe and whatever money was there, had been taken.

The same night, Saturday, an attempt was made to break into the vault of the F. N. Marett and Co. store, but was abondoned and some cigarettes and other merchandise taken.

City Market A Disgrace Says Ald. Holt

Suggests Committee Be Formed To Raise Standard

Clogged with mud or Sahara-like sand the farmers' market is a disgrace to Peterborough in the opinion of Ald. Alene Holt.

Earlier in the year Ald Holt complained in city council of the muddy conditions at the market. On Monday night she altered her criticism to suit the season.

"I went down to the market on Saturday and it was a disgrace to this city of Peterborough," she said. "I've never been on the Sahara but I imagine it is similar."

Ald. Holt said it was impossible for the farmers to display their goods to the best advantage at the market. She wondered if a special committee could be appointed from council to meet with a committee of the farmers to see if something could be done to bring the market up to a higher standard.

Acting Mayor John Dewart said the market was the direct responsibility of the property committee and ought not to be dealt with by a special committee.

BEING CONSIDERED

Property committee chairman Ald. Gordon Farquharson said Ald. Holt could rest assured that the matter was receiving earnest consideration.

The matter was under discussion but "another problem has entered into it that made any permanent settlement impossible for the time being."

Some weeks ago Ald. Farquharson suggested to exhibition board chairman John Kitney that the market might be moved to the drill shed at Exhibition Park. Mr. Kitney said he was personally in favor of the proposal but it was turned down by a majority of the board.

Citizens Band To Play In Windsor

In the midst of a busy season of engagements, Peterborough Citizen's Band is looking forward to a trip to Windsor on July 1, when they will take part in a monster parade in connection with that city's centennial celebrations.

About 40 bands will take part in the parade, in addition to historic floats, costumed figures, veterans' organizations and military units. Bandmaster Wally Parnell expects 37 members of the Peterborough band to make the journey to Windsor.

The band played twice on Sunday, at the Lakefield Decoration Day service in the afternoon and at a public concert in Nicholls Oval in the evening.

Today, the band will play at a strawberry social in Centreville, at another concert in Nicholls Oval next Sunday evening and a strawberry social at Mark Street United church on Monday.

THREE-WAY TRAFFIC TANGLE occurred at the intersection of Park and Charlotte St., Tuesday afternoon, when a harvest combine pinned a passenger car to curbside while a following truck hooked bumpers with the car ahead. Happening at the front doorstep of the Provincial Police headquarters, provincial and city policemen staffed the accident with many patrolmen. In the lower close-up photo it can be seen where the protruding elevator mechanism of the combine crunched into the side of the car owned and driven by N. A. Moore of Lakefield.

Business Section To Become City's Great White Way

George St. will soon be the great white way of Peterborough.

City council has approved a suggestion from the utilities commission to instal mercury vapor lights on the city's main thoroughfare between Hunter and Charlotte streets. The rest of the business section may get the new lights in the future.

Mercury vapor luminaires emit approximately three times the light of ordinary incandescent lights, last three times as long and cost only one and a half times as much to operate.

Several types of mercury vapor lights have been tested at various points throughout the city. The first three were installed on Aylmer S. near the PUC office, but aroused complaints that they cast a ghastly blue glow on the complexions of people passing underneath.

SECOND TYPE

As a result, another type was tried out on George St., between King and Sherbrooke streets, with an extra glass envelope around the bulb that corrected the light distortion. This one met general approval, and is the type that will be installed between Charlotte and Hunter streets.

Installation of the new lights in the two blocks between Charlotte and Huner Sts. was recommended by the PUC, who have placed underground wiring in that section and will have to put up new poles in any case. The old poles on the east side of the street will be replaced and 16 modern steel poles will line both sides of George St. for these two blocks.

PLAN AUTHORIZED

The suggestion was passed on to the fire, water and light committee of city council who gave their approval. The plan was authorized by city council Monday night.

The city's special traffic committee has also been asked to submit a list of intersections where it would be advisable to install mercury vapor luminaires as an added traffic safety factor.

E. L. Burnham, PUC engineer, recently returned from a course on street lighting in the United States, where it was recommended that, in order to reduce night accidents at dangerous intersections, a high level of illumination should be installed. Mercury vapor luminaires are considered ideally suited for this purpose.

Experience had shown, it was reported, that two of these units at a standard street intersection would increase the illumination to such an extent that drivers approaching it would be warned in advance of its importance.

TRIED AT CORNER

To show what results could be obtained in this way, the PUC has already installed mercury vapor luminaires at the intersection of Park, Reid and Sherbrooke streets.

General-manager W. Howard Powell of the PUC said today that as soon as orders from the manufacturer could be filled the commission would begin installation of the new lights along the two blocks of George St. between Charlotte and Hunter streets.

Cost to the city of the new lights will be $49 a year for each light on steel poles. Cost of the same lights on wooden poles is $41 a year. The PUC charges the city $27.50 a year for standard incandescent luminaires on steel poles and $30 on wooden poles.

Car, Truck, Combine Collide In City Traffic Scramble

A car, truck and combine machine were involved in a collision at the Park and Charlotte streets stop-light intersection about 3:40 p.m. Tuesday.

No one was injured. Estimated damage to the car was $400, the truck $25 and the combine $5.

The combine, owned and driven by Harold R. Thompson, of RR 7, Peterborough, was travelling north on Park St., and approaching Charlotte St., where Mr. Thompson had the green light.

He told police he started to turn left onto Charlotte St. He said a vehicle which was following him pulled out to his left while the combine was making the turn, passed it and proceeded north on Park.

To avoid hitting this car, Mr. Thompson swung the combine back but the combine couldn't straighten and he lost control of the machine.

WAITING FOR LIGHT

A 1951 model car driven by N. A. Moore, waiting for a red light, to proceed east on Charlotte was struck by the combine. As the car was pushed over, it jammed into a Bell Telephone truck, driven by W. L. Wood of 506 Murray St., also waiting for the light to change.

The left front door of the car was dented as well as right back fender where it banged into the front left fender of the truck. The truck's fender was badly crumpled. Little damage was done to the combine.

Constable Jack Wilson investigated the accident.

Start Building New Substation

Arnold Steele, contractor, began today excavation for the building on Bellevue Ave., of the fifth electrical substation of the series planned by the utilities commission to relieve the load on their main transformer plant at Aylmer and Sherbrooke Sts.

The others are situated on: Romaine St., west of Park St., Clifton Road, Ashburnham, and two on High St., one north of Lansdowne St. and the other at the top of the High St. hill. The Bellevue unit is the first to be enclosed in a building, which will be of brick construction 43 ft. by 20 ft. It will take some of the load off the Aylmer St. substation for distribution in the northwest section of the city, particularly north of Parkhill Rd.

The four other units are enclosed in steel housing, and it is expected that a saving of $7,000 or $8,000 may be realized in the brick, which dispenses with the type of steel containers designed to withstand the weather and other factors. The utilities commission also have a small transformer in use in the Auburn area.

BUS TERMINAL

A joint meeting of the committee of the whole city council with officials of Colonial Coach lines regarding the establishment of a new bus terminal in Peterborough has been deferred until August, pending the return of company officials who are away.

Most Of Fifty Years Wed, Worked For City

City employee Charles Henry Barton, retired from work in February this year after completing 46 years; his was the longest term of them all.

On Wednesday he and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their neat, modest home at 206 Edinburgh St. It was a gala day. Gifts, cards, flowers filled their small sitting room leaving little space for the sons, daughters and grandchildren who came to offer their congratulations.

Charlie Barton is a well-known figure in Peterborough. Stocky, erect and with weatherbeaten features, he appears to be a fine figure of a man for his 74 years. Citizens hurrying about city streets in winter will remember Charlie in his ear-lugged cap and puttees working away under the most severe conditions.

He and his wife, the former Angelina Elizabeth Orrow, were born in the Fulham district of London. They were married at a registry office and came to Peterborough 47 years ago to look around. They liked the place and in the spring of 1908 Charlie joined the board of works; it has been his career. The late Harry Rush was mayor then, Harry Evans, street commissioner, and T. A. S. Hay, city engineer.

Charlie Barton worked hard. For 35 years with pick and shovel, and sometimes driving Fire Chief Dan Howard's old chestnut horse in the hight-wheeled buggy. But he never learned to drive a truck. For the 10 years preceeding his retirement he worked at street cleaning on the night shift. The work kept him in excellent health and neither he nor his wife have had a serious illness.

The Bartons have been members of St. John's Anglican church for the past 40 years and Mrs. Barton belong to the WA, and attended Bible Class for 25 years.

THREE CHILDREN

There are two daughters, Mrs. Edwin Taylor (Annie) of this city, and Mrs. Arnold Pammett (Lily) of Pembroke, and one son, Charles Henry, who works at the CGE. There are also four grandsons and two granddaughters.

Mr. Barton's hobbies are his canaries and budgie birds, his garden, radio and TV while his wife still keeps busy with housework. They both think young people today have too much fun and they sum it up in their own fashion, that they live a fast life and a merry one, by saying:

"The present generation will not make old bones."

OLDEST CITY EMPLOYEE (retired) Charles H. Barton of 206 Edinburgh St., and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday. None seemed happier—perhaps it was the promise of a meal—than "Barney" the budgiebird who posed, back to camera, with the happy couple. Mr. Barton, 74, was an employee of the city streets department for 46 years; he retired just last February.

CGE Drops Appeal, Settles $4,200,450 Assessment; $248,220 Below Original

Company Also Retracts Application For Injuction To Restrain City From Collecting Taxes Under New Assessment

The Canadian General Electric Co. on Tuesday afternoon dropped their assessment appeal to the county judge, settling for a reduction of $248,220 in their 1953 assessment.

This reduces the total assessment from $4,448,670 to $4,200,450 on the Peterborough CGE works, and ends the appeal from the court of revision. The agreement was initialled in judge's chambers by county judge J. A. McGibbon of Lindsay.

At the same time the CGE have dropped their application to the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the city from taxing the company's property on the 1953 assessment. There was no hearing on this application.

In effect, the settlement of the county court appeal and the dropping of the Supreme Court injunction confirm the controversial 1953 assessment for the city. The CGE was the last appellant.

ALMOST DOUBLED

The CGE's assessment jumped from about $2,500,000 in 1952 to $4,753,88 in 1953. Like many other ratepayers and companies the CGE appealed the findings of the assessment department under assessment commissioner Ed Davis. (The assessment roll of industrial firms was actually prepared by a private firm. Charles Warnock Co. of Hamilton and the assessment department took their figures.)

The court of revision confirmed the assessment, subject to the correction of certain errors acknowledged by the city's assessment department. This was a net reduction of $124,579.

Not satisfied, the company appealed the revision court's decision to the county court and asked for an injunction from the Supreme Court setting aside the city's 1953 assessment and asking that the 1952 assessment be considered the last valid one.

EXTENDED NEGOTIATING

After more than two and a half months of desultory negotiating the city's assessment department and the company finally reached a settlement Tuesday afternoon. A further $248,220 was lopped from the company's assessment, making a total reduction of $372,799 since they first raised their objections.

Following are the reductions:

Main plant—$4,301,830 to $4,072,580.

Porcelain plant on Wolfe St.—$94,270 to $85,060.

Porcelain plant on Townsend St.—$52,570 to $42,810.

Before a settlement was reached a check was made on the 21 buildings assessed in the Peterborough works.

GENELCO BUILDING

The largest reduction was in the Genelco buildings which were originally built high for the construction of 3.7 anti-aircraft guns during the Second World War. The CGE doesn't need that height for present production so the buildings are not being put to their best possible use. This was taken into consideration by the department in agreeing on a further reduction.

In wartime building 16A, the reduction was $47,738; in wartime building 18, the reduction was $42,815. In the small mofors building, on the basis of useable height, there was a $17,673 reduction. And in the heavy assembly building, now partly used for storage purposes, there was a $18,777 reduction.

On the two porcelain plants, where few people are now employed, there was a $18,974 reduction.

The CGE were represented by Stanley Adamson, manager/accounting; J. A. Girven, manager of the motor and generator department; and Fred Parkinson, QC, legal counsel.

Ed Davis, assessment commissioner was present at the agreement; so were Murray Thomas, deputy city clerk; J. A. Dewart, acting mayor; and T. J. Carley, QC, legal counsel for the city.

Summer Theatre Opens Sixth Season In City

The Peterborough Summer Theatre has opened its sixth season with Hartley Manners' "Peg O' My Heart," and audiences both at the CGE Theatre Night on Monday and on Tuesday, have put the seal of their approval upon it.

The play was written in 1912, for the late Laurette Taylor. She presented it for over 600 performances, which was a phenomenal run in those days, and she revived it with great success in 1921. It has been seen in film and musical versions, and in every conceivable sort of stage performance. The present writer first encountered it in a Chatauqua tent in 1927. The vitality of the play lies in the character of Peg, which is a typical "star" part; she has all the opportunities, she scores off everybody, she laughs, weeps, sings, makes political speeches and generally dominates the stage. The other characters are very simply drawn and exist to throw Peg into relief.

GREAT DEAL OF CHARM

Miss Margaret Griffin brought a great deal of charm, and an attractive appearance to the title roll. Modern players are more generous toward one another than was the case in 1912, and she refused to concentrate attention upon herself to the degree that the part permits, and this gave the play a vitality which a more conventional performance might have inhibited. Peg is, by modern standards, a little too sweet and ingenious; Miss Griffin gave her a touch of acerbity at times which was very welcome. She gave us a performance of a star part without any of the objectionable egotism which often mars such performances.

The remainder of the company, in their rather thin roles, played with ability. It was good to see Margaret Braidwood and Harry Geldard, whose finished work was one of the pleasures of the 1953 season. Miss Braidwood's voice and Mr. Geldard's sense of timing are unfailing delights. Ronald Bailey, whose work we have seen grow in Peterborough, plays with ease and quiet command. We look forward to his appearances in larger parts this season.

UNREWARDING PARTS

Robert Shirriff, in a rather unrewarding part was suitably attractive, and Julia Hand played well as the foil to Peg. Mr. Manner's highborn English folk date badly, and skill is needed to make them credible; Miss Hand made Ethel believable, which was no small feat. John Douglas was perhaps a little young for the unprincipled despoiler of innocence, but he carried the part off with assurance. The cast was capably completed by Alan Raeburn and Peggy Spenser.

"Peg O' My Heart" is, by this time, a period play, and it would have been interesting to see it in the costumes of 1912. Indeed, Peg was very sensibly dressed in the costume of that time; she would have been less acceptable in modern dress. Considered as a voice from the not too distant past, the play was a good evening of sentiment and fun, and may be confidently recommended.

Sultan Spark Which Set Fire Blazing In Morocco

NOTE: William L. Ryan has surveyed the French empire in Indo-China, North Africa and in France itself, seeking the reasons behind the upheavals that threaten a keystone of Western unity. Today he tells of the smouldering fire in Morocco.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

CASABLANCA (AP)—He is the sultan of the realm of Morocco, but he is a weak, half-blind old man, living in fear in his palace at Rabat.

Sultan Moulay Mohammed Ben Arafa is a reluctant ruler, brought to the throne as a puppet of the French. Few in Morocco recognize him as either a spiritual leader or a sovereign.

His story is a symptom of the ailments that plague the French empire. The political pattern of Indo-China is taking shape once again. Morocco is smouldering. The situation may not be so immediately critical as that of France's other North African protectorate, Tunisia, but the elements of prairie fire lie beneath the surface.

THE SULTAN STORY

To understand the story of the sultan, you have to go back to 1918. The French were establishing their authority in Morocco. Hadj Thami el Glamoui Mezaouri, pasha of Marrakech and ruler of the Berber tribesmen, threw in his lot with the French. He would remain unchallenged ruler of the whole region of Marrakech. In theory only, he was the instrument of the sultan.

The pasha's fortune came from many interests all the way from mines to levies on brothels, plus a feudal system of taxation. When the sultan visited a city, he would announce how much money the city should give him.

In 1927 Sidi Mohammed became sultan after the death of his father. A shy boy, he had not expected to rule because he had two elder brothers. But the French sized him up as manageable, an instrument to ensure their grip on a land rich in mineral resources and teeming with possibilities for development.

VANITY WON SIDI

Sidi Mohammed remained shy until 20 years ago, when the Istiolal (independence) movement, looking for a rallying point, began calling him "our beloved king." Sidi Mohammed liked that.

During Sidi Mohammed's rule, the French ended tribal wars and united Morocco. But the sultan was not popular, nor did he get his ideas until after the Second World War. He leaned closer to Istiolal while continuing a long-standing feud with local chieftains, the Caids and Phashas, and particularly the pasha of Marrakech.

Nine months ago Sidi Mohammed felt strong enough to balk at signing reforms announced by the French to appease nationalist feeling. The French, using the threat of the pasha's 3,000,000 Herbers, deposed him and exiled him to Madagascar.

THEN CAME TERROR

Morocco's native population of 8,500,000—about 8,000,000 of them illiterate—had disliked the sultan as a money collector. The Berbers, Moors rather than Arabs, had paid little attention to him. But the moment the French removed him, the non-Berber population suddenly and avidly supported him. He was their hereditary spiritual leader and they insisted the French could not remove him.

The situation worsened at once. By day life went on normally in the flourishing cities built by the French. By night in dark alleys mysterious groups of three men were hiring poverty-stricken Arabs for a few thousand francs to murder and terrorize.

In the distance, French business men could see a threat. Some appealed to Paris for a change in policy, but old-line colonists called for more firmness. That meant force, arrests, curfews, repressions. Moderate nationalists were becoming less and less moderate, even though they admitted Morocco had few people able to administer what has become a modern nation in 40 years of French rule.

Twice the new sultan was almost killed in terror attacks, and now he prefers to stay within his palace. Moslem nationalists insist there is "nobody on the throne."

MOSQUES BOMBED

The Marrakech region, with its Berber population, had thought itself immune, but even there the terror is spreading. Bombs defiled the Marrakech mosques, once in an attack on the glaoui and once in an attack on visiting sultan Ben Arafa. The terror grew.

As France weakened in Indo-China, extremists grew bolder here. Radio Cairo, apparently under Arab League sponsorship, hailed "liberation" in Indo-China. The Moroccan Communist party became extremely active, using imported Moscow propaganda.

The French have brought in a new civilian resident - general, Francis Lacoste.

Lacoste faces a tough job. If he cannot make concessions, extremists will exploit that and the situation will worsen. The French say their prestige will not permit the return of Sidi Mohammed, the raging issue today. That is a bridge burned.

Mission Band Picnic

KEENE (ENS) — The United Church mission band gathered Saturday afternoon and were taken by cars to the home of one of their leaders, Mrs. Donald McFarlane, to hold their closing outdoor worship service and picnic. Forty members were present and each child wore a gay paper hat, carried a gaily decorated lunch box and presented a layette article to be included in the WMS bale. Four games were played — balloon battle, whistle stoop, lion hunt, and ball game. Words of thanks were given to Mrs. McFarlane by Gayle Anderson for the use of the lawn. Mrs. Herrington gave a Bible reading and told a story about "The Chapel," which is an outside church she had attended. The inseparable twins 'Work and Worship' were Isabel Elmhirst and Linda Pearson. Lunch was enjoyed from the decorated boxes which each member had made.

Sunday School Entertained By WA

ROSENEATH (ENS) — The spacious lawns at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Timlin were the ideal spot for a picnic on Saturday afternoon when the members of St. James' Anglican W.A. entertained the members of the Sunday School and the Little Helpers. The committee in charge of the program of sports and races were: Mrs. Ray McCracken, Mrs. James Robins and Mrs. Jack Webb. There were also games for the older folks present. A peanut scramble concluded the card of sports.

Preceding the program of sports, the W.A. members held a worship service and a brief business period.

The president Mrs. Jack Webb presided with Mrs. J. L. Timlin as pianist. Mrs. Ray McCracken gave the scripture reading.

The various secretaries and treasurers presented their reports.

The rectory committee reported having purchased a new rug for the kitchen floor of the rectory.

Final plans were made for the annual bazaar to be held on July 31.

It was decided to discontinue the meetings for the summer months.

Mrs. F. W. Burnham invited the society to her home for the September meeting.

Mrs. Jack Webb and Mrs. James L. Timlin, delegates to the annual diocesan W.A. meeting in Toronto, presented their reports. The W.A. members served a picnic supper.

French Canada To Observe Feast Of Patron Saint

By BERTRAND THIBAULT

QUEBEC (CP) — Business will come to a halt in the cities and villages of Quebec province Thursday.

Flags and banners will fly as French Canada celebrates with dances, parades and patriotic speeches the feast of Saint John the Baptist.

The annual celebration, like many other French-Canadian customs, follows the pattern of the Middle Ages when in France the "Confrerie de St-Jean-Baptiste" organized civic and religious functions on June 24, the feast of its patron saint.

On the eve of the feast minstrels played until the wee hours and citizens danced in public places in the light of a huge bonfire.

On the day itself, mass was celebrated "with the greatest of pomp" and in the afternoon a big parade wound through the streets of French cities. Musicians from all over the province joined the parade and were paid and fed during the two days of rejoicing.

Today, centuries later in Quebec province, little has changed.

OPEN-AIR MASS

In Montreal tonight the "Harmonie Metropole" presents a band concert and Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger celebrates an open-air pontifical high mass in Lafontaine Park. Later he will bless le Feu de Saint Jean, which Mayor Camilien Houde will light. And the day will be ushered in with fire works.

"Devotion to Mary" is the theme of a Thursday parade in Montreal. (Roman Catholics this year are paying special devotion to the mother of Christ).

Nineteen floats will display historical events in French Canada's history. More than 1,000 will attend a banquet at the chalet atop Mount Royal to end the day's celebrations.

In Quebec City, old and young will join in folklore dances on historic Dufferin Terrace which overlooks the St. Lawrence river, and as Msgr. Maurice Roy, Roman Catholic archbishop of Quebec, blesses the St. Jean-Baptiste fire from the heights of Quebec's Citadel, five parishes across the river and on the island of Orleans will light giant fires.

Archbishop Roy will celebrate pontifical high mass Thursday and in the afternoon a parade with the theme "the St. Jean Baptiste Society and its works" will be held. In each parish evening concerts marking the feast will end the day's celebrations.

CELEBRATE DISCOVERY

In New Brunswick, the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the Saint John river by Samuel de Champlain, in 1604, will be celebrated, with special ceremonies planned in Saint John.

French-speaking Canadian communities sprinkled across Canada also plan celebrations.

St. Jean Baptiste day has been celebrated in Canada ever since the first pioneer set foot on Canadian soil. It was in 1636 that the first bonfire was lighted in the eve of the feast.

French Canadians in those days had a great devotion to the precursor of Christ and every family named at least one boy Jean Baptiste.

How did Jean Baptiste become the patron of French Canada?

The Quebec writer, Hubert Larue explains it this way:

"ALL JEAN BAPTISTE"

In the war of 1812 between England and the United States, a British officer was placed in charge of a group of French recruits. He began to call the roll and discovered that nearly every second man answered to the name Jean Baptiste. The officer threw up his hands in dismay and exclaimed: "They're all Jean Baptiste!"

From that day on, French Canadians in the army were referred to one and all as "Jean Baptiste."

Larue says this anecdote might have prompted Ludger Duvernay to adopt St. Jean Baptiste as the patron of French Canadians when he founded the society of that name in Montreal in 1834. Today it has 60,000 members across Quebec province.

CALLS ON WORKERS—The Guatemalan government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman (shown above with his wife) has called upon the capital's transport workers and the farmers from the surrounding area to help defend Guatemala City against "rebel invaders."

19 Replacements For Arctic Post

OTTAWA (CP)—Nineteen navy volunteers will go north this summer for a year of service at the radio station on Padloping island off the east coast of Baffin island, the navy said today.

They will replace RCN personnel who took over operation of the Arctic station last September from the United States Air Force and are now completing their year's tour of duty.

The station was established during the Second World War by the USAF with the approval of the Canadian government to gather and transmit weather data.

The RCN mans the station now, but eventually it will be taken over by the transport department, which will be responsible for its operation.

Truman Better

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former president Harry S. Truman Tuesday "had his best day" since an operation early Sunday in which his appendix and gall bladder were removed. A supervisor at Research Hospital said "Mr. Truman's condition remains satisfactory. He is steadily improving."

Real Estate And Building

By Eileen Sklar

May was a good month for building in Peterborough. In the city 39 houses were started, 25 completed. This includes all houses built, not just those financed under the National Housing Act.

John M. Bowes, manager of Ridout Real Estate Ltd., informs us that 10 Peterborough families already, have bought homes in the group of 150 lots which were recently sold to the Toronto subtractor, T. J. Colbourne, by Ridout in the Westmount Farms housing subdivision.

"The contractor, beginning excavation by the end of this week, will build 50 homes, orders for which are being taken now," Mr. Bowes said.

"A new architect-designed house is being introduced in this housing project by the contractor. It is a three-level house, priced $11,500 to $12,400. When you come in the front door foyer, you find the living and dining room and kitchen on one level.

"From the foyer you go up four steps to the three bedrooms and bath. From the kitchen you go down four steps to the basement with recreation, furnace and laundry rooms. The basement has picture windows.

In many of the plans for the flat level houses the ceiling follows the contour of the roof and windows form one house-wall.

"No house will be duplicated by the contractor except perhaps one in 50 lots," said Mr. Bowes.

In many of the homes, car ports —a wall-less shelter for cars—instead of garages are being built.

"Its ideal for people who leave their cars parked outside their garages," he said.

To House Shoe Store

Now that Woolworth Co. has left its old building, the Dolcis Shoe Company after redecorating, will move into this property which they bought last March for a reported $160,000.

The shoe company will occupy only the south-half of the store and will rent the north half to another firm. Several firms have expressed interest in this space, but no decision has been reached, said Gordon Hancock, Peterborough real estate broker.

In talking to a real estate broker, we found that nothing makes real estate brokers more irritated than to be called real estate dealers. According to the broker's definition, dealers can deal for themselves. Brokers must write an examination before they are licensed and bonded under the Real Estate and Business Brokers' Act, and can lose their license if they buy lots on speculation without informing the seller of their full intentions.

New Federal Building

The new federal building under construction on Charlotte street, caught our eye the other morning.

Why it looks almost finished we thought, and finding a door through the boarded sidewalk partition, we decided to inspect.

We found Harry Scholey, superintendent for the general contractors, M. Sullivan and Son, in one of the office shacks, making out the payroll.

"If you wait until I finish, I'll show you around," Mr. Scholey said.

No sooner said than done, Mr. Scholey joined us.

"Things are going very well, and the building should be finished by November—we hope," he said.

He recalled that construction began in 1952 and cost of the building will be around one and a half million dollars.

Outside the building he pointed out the two vestibules which lead into the main lobby, where stamps, money orders, etc., will be bought. On one door a steel-lettered sign says "Post Office" while the other sign says "Post Office-Customs." The latter door opens next to the elevator.

The roofs of the vestibules as well as the high roof canopy are now being covered with aluminum. Starting the tour at the top storey (second) we picked our way through plaster-covered cement floors.

"All the rooms on this floor have been plastered and 50 per cent have the finished coat," he said.

We heard a plasterer singing a French song.

"Oh, we have about 14 plasterers and lathers from Montreal, six ornamental iron workers from Kingston and the eight terrazo people come from Ottawa. They're all extremely skilled workers. About 70 men are working here," the superintendent said.

"The window ledges will have a terraza finish. The cement working space floors are ready for battleship linoleum, but floors where the public will enter, will be finished in granite.

White Queenston limestone mark the building's outside walls and black marble columns interspaced in the front, provide an effective contrast.

Double glazed thermo-pane windows, which keep out 65 per cent of the heat take up three-quarters of all wall space, and give tremendous light to the offices.

Mr. Scholey explained, "Three elevators, the passenger, the freight and the plunge — operates from basement to first floor — have been installed but not completed.

"Three stairways have been put in, one of them from the first floor to the mezzanine, where the lecture, staff lunch, locker, and washrooms will be found."

"The iron grill for the mezzanine has not been put up, and that big hole in the first floor, which can be seen from here, is for the weighing scales, not yet installed.

"No plastering has been done in the main and mezzanine floors, where the men are setting accoustic red-tiled partitions.

"The telephone wiring, the air conditioning, the installation of furnaces and other undercover work, has been completed," Mr. Scholey said.

The spring issue of Building Trades, put out by the Canadian Gypsum Co., reports 98,900 homes built in Canada in 1953 as compared with 44,000 in 1938. This, despite a big boom, is still low since it is estimated that an average of 150,000 houses a year will be needed for the next several years. Population, increasing two and a half per cent a year, is expected to hit 25 million in 1970.

Keene United Church Marks Anniversary

KEENE (ENS) — A beautiful floral bank of pink, white and red peonies graced the altar of the United hurch on Sunday for the morning and evening anniversary services. Guest speaker at the morning service was Rev. A. B. B. Moore, BA, BD, DD, president and vice chancellor of Victoria University, Toronto. His text was chosen from 1 Peter, 2nd Chpt., vs. 9, 'Ye Are a Royal Priesthood.'

'How do we regard the church?' asked Dr. Moore, 'look back and see what it means to you, to your community and what can be done about it. The word Protestant means 'Witness on behalf of.' What can we do to serve the church? Serve the church wherever you are, in whatever you do, where you live and where your work lies. What constitutes your church is a community of priests."

The Rev. N. D. Patterson, MA, BD, DD, of Mark St. United church, Peterorobugh, was guest speaker at the evening service. Dr. Patterson based his sermon around the text: 'Behold I Stand at the Door and Knock,' found in Revelations, hapter 3, verse 20, and spoke of the unfounded fears and misgivings a knock on the door may bring.

F. R. Cotton of Peterborough was guest soloist at both services. In the morning he sang three numbers, 'Arise O Sun,' 'Prayer,' and 'Fear Ye Not O Israel.' His evening solos were 'Today on the Highway' and 'Now the Day is Over.' The choir under leadership of Walter Morrow sang two anthems, 'I will Praise the Lord' at the morning service, and 'call Upon His Name' in the evening.

Following the evening service a fireside hour was held in the basement. Mrs. Herrington led a sing song of favourite hymns, with Mr. Morrow at the piano. Nine young ladies from the choir sang two choruses, 'He Whispers His Love to Me' and 'Lead Me to Calvary,' and later on the program 'Sweet Hour of Prayer.' Mr. Herrington called on David McIntyre to bring a message from the official board. Mr. McIntyre expressed thanks to all those who had assisted on the anniversary occasion and referred to Dr. Moore's remarks that each and every one of a congregation is important toward making the church a success. Mrs. C. Irwin spoke on behalf of the Sunday school. "It is a splendid thing to have such days when everyone put his hearts into it, and the inspiration should be carried on through to other Sundays," said Mrs. Irwin. Mrs. N. D. Patterson of Peterborough sang a solo 'There Were Ninety and Nine' and Thos. Gall gave a few remarks.

Ladies of the women's association and Tillicum class served refreshments.

Frills Peep Under Tennis Skirts At Wimbledon

By FERN RICH

LONDON (Reuters)—Pettipants, the most frilly nylon petticoats ever dreamed up by British designer Teddy Tinlong, peeped from beneath nearly every flaring tennis skirt at Wimbledon's first ladies' day Tuesday.

One of the few exceptions was Mela Ramirez, Mexico City's petite entrant. Reason: At Sunday's pre-tennis party her pettipants dropped.

"I did not want trouble today," Miss Ramirez said. "So I just wore a skirt." She didn't amplify this intriguing statement.

But to save other women players from red faces, orders were issued to sew on an extra button to keep the pettipants up.

WHITE POODLE

Maureen Connolly, the American star, wore a salmon-pink sweater with a white poodle on the pocket for her opening match with South Africa's Joan Scott. Little Mo's cream dress had a scalloped flared skirt with a tightly buttoned bodice and a Peter Pan collar.

The dapper Tinlong, who was watching, smoothed his abstract-print tie and murmured: "Little Mo has another skirt embroidered with turtle doves—because she's in love."

Miss Scott chose a classic cream dress with groups of pleats at the side and back.

But why no ruffled panties this year?

"Well, my dear," Tinlong replied "That was for 1949. Time marches on. We wanted to introduce the petticoat into tennis fashions this year—and the girls love it."

If you own a hair dryer, here are a few other uses you might put it to: Speeding drying of nail polish with blast of cool air; speeding defrosting of refrigerator with hot air; drying damp spot on upholstered furniture.

For hot-weather refreshment, save your leftover coffee and tea. Freeze it in cube form or delicious iced drinks. This is both a time and money saver.

Barbara Kelly Headliner On Television

By MURIEL NARAWAY

LONDON (CP)—Barbara Kelly of Vancouver is a vivacious, green-eyed blonde actress, a mother of three, a devotee of exotic earrings—and a headline habit in London newspapers.

A busy figure for several years in the British entertainment world, Miss Kelly earned a fair portion of publicity.

Now, as a regular member of British television's most popular program, the panel game "What's My Line?" she usually rates the front page.

Part of the reason lies in the easy informality of "What's My Line?" which attempts to guess occupations and features a gruff ex-constable called Gilbert Harding who ranks as No. 1 British radio and television personality.

ENTHUSIATIC FANS

But the main reason is Miss Kelly herself, who gets 100 or more letters a week praising her cheerful Canadian disposition—and flair for injecting a human element into proceedings.

Recent sample: when contestant Mrs. Mary Bullough, 72, was identified speedily as a proof reader, the old lady was disappointed. Her boss had promised her a "pair of ear-rings larger than Miss Kelly's" if she won.

Miss Kelly whipped off her big, chandelier-like danglers and screwed them on Mrs. Bullough's ears. Miss Kelly was on the front page again next morning. The ear-rings cost her £7 because they were borrowed.

There hadn't been anything like it since Miss Kelly was kissed by a contestant with a handle-bar moustache.

Ear-rings have become a sort of TV trademark for the good-looking actress-matron who is in her early 30s.

FREQUENTLY BORROWED

Sometimes she wears ear-rings loaned for television by jewellers. Sometimes she uses one of her many pairs or borrows from friends. The same principle applies to her TV garb, which is based on one evening skirt and a dozen evening tops of her own, supplemented by loans.

Miss Kelly, wife of Vancouver actor Bernard Braden, stepped into "What's My Line?" regularly less than a year ago and was rated TV favorite No. 2 late in 1953 in a newspaper popularity poll.

"I've been lucky this year," she said at the Savoy theatre where she's been playing the lead in the farce, "Angels in Love." Directed by her husband, it was the first team stage production for the Bradens who came to Britain in 1949 and have been prospering in radio, stage, television and films.

"Love in Pawn," a film starring the Bradens, is still showing in London. In the works for Miss Kelly is a TV comedy program of her own, still unnamed, but which has "got to be good."

Graduation Day events, in honor of the 28 young women graduating from Peterborough Civic Hospital School of Nursing today, commenced with a breakfast given by the nurses and student nurses at the hospital this morning.

Each graduate received a silver spoon bearing the School of Nursing crest as a gift from the intermediate class. Each also received a nurses' thermometer set as a gift from the Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

After the graduation ceremonies this afternoon, held in the Collegiate auditorium, the nurses received their relatives and friends at a reception on the lawn besides the nurses' residence. The guests were made welcome by the director of nursing Miss Evelyn Robson.

This evening the graduates will be guests of honor at a graduation dance given by the Board of Governors of the Hospital. The nurses and their escorts and other guests will be welcomed by board chairman Mr. M. J. Swanston and Mrs. Swanston and hospital superintendent Mr. John Hornal and Mrs. Hornal.

To remove stubborn white rings from waxed furniture, place a clean thick blotter over the rings and press with a warm iron. Do this two or three times if necessary, but do not use a hot iron.

McCann-Brook

The wedding of Janet Irene Brook, daughter of Mr. H. Brook and the late Mrs. Btook, to Mr. Hugh Joseph McCann, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCann, all of Peterborough, took place Saturday in St. John's Anglican church, the Rev. F. G. Ongley officiating.

The bride was gowned in blue antique taffeta made with a petal-shaped strapless bodice and waltz length bouffant skirt over a crinoline and worn with a short jacket with Queen Anne collar. Her small cap was encrusted with flowers and she carried a nosegay of pink roses with bachelor buttons.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brook, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, attended the couple. Mrs. Brook was frocked in coral beige pongee, styled with portrait neckline and small cape jacket, and she wore a white straw hat and carried pink carnations and bachelor buttons in a nosegay.

Mr. H. Brook and Mr. M. McCann, brothers of the bride and groom were ushers. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

The reception was held at 98 Princess street, where the couple will reside. Mrs. A. Brook, sister-in-law of the bride, received, wearing pale blue nylon with a white straw hat and corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted, dressed in grey and also wearing a white hat and pink rose corsage.

To go away the bride donned a grey suit and mauve blouse and white accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Two Communities Honor Young Couple

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The Coldsprings and Plainville communities honored Miss Grace Wilton and Ross McKinley with a miscellaneous shower on Monday evening at the Coldsprings hall. Their marriage is scheduled to take place on July 10, at St. Paul's church, Coldsprings. There were many lovely gifts received, including a corn- flower vase from the pupils of Stone school where Miss Wilton has taught for the past two and a half years. The 18 pupils gathered around their teacher singing an appropriate song while each put a tulip or daffodil in the vase.

Dorothea Bowman read an address and presented Miss Wilton with a gift from the members of her Sunday School class. Jean Willis read an address on behalf of the Coldsprings Y.P.U. and Bruce McIntosh presented her with a table lamp.

Community addresses were read by Sheila Ritchie on behalf of Coldsprings, and Robert Tinney on behalf of Plainville. Miss Wilton and Mr. McKinley thanked everyone for the lovely gifts, and to the committee who had arranged the evening's entertainment.

The hall was tastefully decorated with many baskets of pink and white peonies.

The Rev. V. M. Gilbert, was chairman for a short program which included readings by Roger, May and Huisti Ven Huizen; vocal solos by Mrs. Ross Timlin, Marlene Turk, and Elaine Minifie, Piano duets by Miss Stevens and Mrs. M. Herriott; Jean Bowman and Larry McIntosh; vocal duet by Linda Turk and Grace Ven Huizen; recitation by Mrs. Jack Buttar, a boy's chorus, and a television mock wedding by ten of Miss Wilton's school pupils; Margaret Buttar, Ivan Minifie, Grace Ven Huizen, Linda Turk, Wayne Buttar, Allan Minifie, Robert May, Brian Minifie, Winston Jibb, and Frankie Mullen. Mrs. Paul Harris was pianist. The committee in charge were Mesdames C. Minifie, E. Turk, and H. Minifie.

A lunch was served.

The bride's parents, the Rev. L. E. Wilton and Mrs. Wilton, Toronto, who have just returned from Missionary work in India were present.

Women Writers Awarded $100 Prizes

TORONTO (CP)—Four Canadian women writers were awarded prizes of $100 each Tuesday night at the golden jubilee meeting of the Canadian Women's Press Club. They were winners of the Press Club memorial awards contest in the fields of radio script, newspaper feature and magazine writing.

The winners: Judy Cross of the Winnipeg Tribune for her news story, "New Method of Ascertaining the Age of Man;" Anne Francis (Mrs. John Bird), Ottawa, for a magazine article appearing in Geographic Magazine, "Canada's Slavic Seasoning;" Kay Cronin, Vancouver Province, radio script, "Women in Hard Hats;" and Bella Cousineau Kerr, Montreal, newspaper feature "Conversation Litteraire," in L'Autorite, Montreal.

Awards were made by Marjorie Oliver of Toronto, national president of the CWPC.

Contest judges were Tania Long Daniell, of the New York Times Bureau, Ottawa; Dr. Lorne Pierce, editor of Ryerson Press; Arthur Gerrard, International program service of the CBC, Montreal, and Clyde Blackburn, chief of The Canadian Press bureau at Ottawa.

Jo Aldwinckle, women's editor of Oshawa Times-Gazette, was chairman of the contest committee.

Bride-Elect Feted

MILLBROOK (ENS)—Miss Jean Smith popular bride-to-be, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower, for which Misses Anne Dawson and Yvonne Richards were hostesss at the former's home to about 40 friends.

Miss Smith was seated in decorated chair under a pink bell and streamers. Miss Francis Dawson presented her with a corsage of yellow roses before she opened the gifts.

A mock wedding ceremony proved very amusing. Taking part were Mrs. Lawrence Winslow as the minister, Mrs. Lloyd Jewison, the bride, Miss Dorothy Hutchinson, the groom, Mrs. Harry Freemantle, the father and Miss Frances Dawson the bridesmaid. Mrs. G. A. Spicer contributed a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Anne Dawson, and also played the piano.

If you enjoy trying something different, you might add a bit of grated orange rind to your tea. It gives an exotic flavor, and you may find you'll use less sugar.

The linoleum on your kitchen floor will wear better if you don't wash it too often. It's best to wax it after a washing, then use dry mop daily to take up dust.

Herbs are wonderful for flavoring roast, stew and soups. You can store fresh herbs in cheesecloth bags and pack in a freezer carton in your freezer.

DOROTHY DIX:

Girl Disappointed In Beau Only Likes, Not Loves, Her

DEAR MISS DIX: I've been dating Brian for the last 2 years. When I met him he was attending college, but is now in service with 6 months more to serve. I am very fond of him and feel that if I continue seeing him I shall become more involved, and may eventually be hurt. He has often said he likes me, but is at present in no position to become serious. He doesn't add anything encouraging about the future. On two or three occasions we've broken up for a couple of months, then he calls, and we begin dating again.

My family thinks I should continue seeing him until he is discharged from the army and then decide if there's any change in his attitude. I feel I should settle the matter now, and, if he has no intention of making our relationship a permanent one, stop seeing him.

R. R.

BE SYMPATHETIC

ANSWER: Take your family's advice and wait the six months. When the boy has finished his military duty, he'll be in a much better position to plan his future. A young man, situated as Brian is must work out his future, economic as well as emotional, from the time he gets out of service. Having gone into the army directly from college, he has no business experience, and probably no idea where he'll be able to get a job. He may not let you know that he's worried about this angle, but believe me he is. He prefers not to commit himself to romantic entanglements until he is established at work. If you will show a little sympathy and understanding for his problem, it will help you considerably in overcoming his reluctance to make definit plans. At present, you are thinking only of your problem, n his!

The possibility of being hurt one you must take a chance or In fact, even if Brian had mac promises, or exacted them fron you, there's no guarantee that h couldn't change his mind. An man worth having is worth wait ing for and doing a bit of worrying over; seldom does the dream-boat of love sail along without making a ripple or two.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 and have been in poor health nearly all my life. Recently I have begun to show signs of definite improvement. I was only able to go through seventh grade, and now I'd like to get a job. I can play three instruments. What kind of work do you think I could do?

PATTY J.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your first task is to improve your educational background. Have Mom or Dad talk to the principal of your school and try to make arrangements for a speed-up program. You are an intelligent young lady, and you should be able to finish grade school work, at least, with no difficulty. A business course in high school, or business school, would be my next recommendation. You are apparently quite a talented musician; keep up your music studies after school.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: When I was 16 I had a date with a girl named Louise. She was my first date. I haven't seen her for almost two years, and though I've gone out yith other girls, I am constantly thinking of her. Is it because she was my first date, or could I be in love with her?

ALEC

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Could be either or both. The best way to find out is contact Louise and see if she's available for another date.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Change Pattern Of Weekend Shopping

Once more in my borrowed role of Mrs. Peepers, I did the weekend shopping—this time on Thursday about 5 P.M.

Because Thursday is usually an extra busy day for me I had forgotten the advantages of Thursday shopping.

As I have mentioned before my yen for change overcomes me most when I shop for food. When my hand automatically reaches for something that I buy ever week I pull back and reconsider. It took me three-quarters of an hour to do this reach and reconsider type of shopping, but it was worth the time.

All the fresh and all of the varieties of merchandise seem to be in evidence abundantly on Thursday—and don't have that picked-over look.

Watching the young couples trying to make decisions between high and low priced items, I wondered how Marianne and Herbie would fare in just such a settled-down married couple atmosphere.

Would Marianne be confident enough of her cooking to buy two two freshly-cut veal kidneys (25c)) and one Bermuda onion (5c) to make them into a delicious little fricassee for two? Or sure enough of her sense of smell to select an overripe-looking honey dew melon for 29c? Or thrifty enough to save the coupon for a new cake mix just being launched on the market (saving of 8c)? Or venturesome enough to buy beef soup instead of consomme or black bean soup instead of her tried and true cream of chicken? Or a small piece of smoked jowl and some yellow split peas in place of a can of pea soup and make her own?

I don't know. What about you? Do you change the pattern of your grocery buying each week or do you buy the same old things week in and week out?

I'm only asking you so you will ask yourselves—and avoid getting into a rut.

The veal kidneys costing 25c were the basis of a little jewel of a dinner. We like these so well (and do you know they are rich in Vitamin B?) if I can buy them then, I often serve them for a buffet - style Christmas breakfast. They would be delicious for a summer Sunday brunch.

FRICASSEED VEAL KIDNEYS

Peel off the thin tissue encasing the veal kidneys, and trim off the excess tags of fat at the centre and slice them in ¾ or 1-inch slices crosswise. (You don't have to trim out the veinous portion of such small kidneys.) Soak in cold water for 15 minutes. Drain and dry and dredge in salted peppered flour. While they are soaking melt 2 tablespoons butter in large frying pan over low heat and add to it 1 medium-sized Bermuda onion chopped coarsely. Saute until onions are saturated with butter but not at all brown. Push them to one side of the pan and add the kidneys and lightly saute on both sides. Cover and reduce heat as much as possible. Turn in 5 minutes. After the kidneys are added this requires about 20 minutes slow cooking, covered. This amount serves two generously and three rather skimpily. If you added a few rashers of bacon there would be plenty for three.

I'm going to give considerable thought to low-cost delicious cooking for two—so June brides might like to keep an eye open for a brain wave or two I might conjure up shortly.

U.S. Soldiers Hear Graham

FRANKFURT, Germany (reuters) — Evangelist Billy Graham was greeted by Maj.-Gen. Thomas W. Herren, northern area commander of the United States army in Europe, when he arrived in West Germany today to preach to American soldiers.

At the army's Christ chapel, which holds 400 persons, extra seats to accommodate an additional 1,700 were set up around the building to provide space for soldiers wanting to hear him. Special loudspeakers were installed to carry his message from inside the chapel.

After his visit here, Graham will go to Duesseldorf and Berlin to preach to German audiences.

Earlier today, before leaving Amsterdam, Graham said the 1,000 "Witnesses for Christ" who came forward at his meeting there Tuesday night constituted the biggest response to any of the meetings of his current European tour except for the first one he held in London at the start of his three-month "crusade" there.

A crowd of 45,000 heard him through a translator at an open-air meeting in Amsterdam.

CARLINGFORD, Northern Ireland (AP)—Seven persons were drowned Tuesday night when a motorboat on a pleasure cruise capsized in the rough waters of Carlingford lough. The dead included Hugh O'Hare, one of North Ireland's best-known racing bookmakers, his wife and son.

Warns Against Wine For Youngsters

PARIS (AP)—France's academy of Medicine has warned parents not to start children on wine too early. It makes them bad-tempered, and they even see strange things.

The astonished academy came out in favor of a prohibition after Dr. Suzanne Serin told them about some of the juvenile bibbers she's encountered.

Seven-year-old Pierre was known for his bad humor, and for seeing "white wings and other figures" dangling over his bed. His parents admitted that they gave him about a quart of red wine daily and a glass of port each night to "strengthen" him.

Yvonne, 3, also was bad-tempered and didn't want to go to bed because it was "full of frogs and snakes." She got several glasses of wine with each meal.

In Normandy—apple country—many parents start their tots on hard cider at 18 months.

One farm couple told a social worker their two children, aged 2 and 4, looked agitated "because it was a holiday yesterday and they had a little more triple sec (a powerful fruit brandy) than usual."

Doctors Testing Drunk Driving

LANGLEY, England (Reuters)—Five women and 35 men here are helping doctors to find out how many drinks it is safe to have before driving a car.

Five times a week they come to a government road research laboratory here to drive non-stop for 2½ hours while being dosed with alcohol.

They drive a dummy car in a darkened room, with a screen reeling the "open road" before them. The drinks are chemical cocktails mixed with alcohol, so that the drivers will not know how many they have had in terms of the real thing.

Instruments record driving mistakes, and every 20 minutes blood tests are made. Results will be reported next year.

Keene Drops Game To Millbrook 8-5

MILLBROOK (ENS)—In a game in which unearned runs outnumbered the legitimate variety, Millbrook took an 8-5 win over Keene in a North Durham League fixture. Millbrook handed Keene some easy runs in the fourth inning but the boys from Otonabee handed them right back in the fifth and added a few bonus counters in the sixth. Coit went the distance for Keene while for Lunn's Lions Wright came to Charles Smith's rescue when indifferent support put him into hot water in the fourth. Mackness tallied two of Keene's five runs as well as playing a class fielding game at third. For Millbrook Ginn and Wright registered a pair each.

135-Ton Ferry Built In 22 Days

KINGSTON (CP)—A new 70-foot, 135-ton ferry boat whose keel was laid only 19 days ago, will be launched Friday.

The Prescott and Ogdensburg Ferry Company announced Tuesday the Windmill Point, built by the Kingston Shipyards Limited, will augment ferry service across the St. Lawrence river between Prescott, Ont., and Ogdensburg, N. Y. She is expected to go into service in mid-July.

The new diesel-powered ferry, with a capacity of 12 vehicles will permit the company to provide service from the United States and Canada every seven minutes.

J. G. Dubrule, the firm's general manager, said the ferry is part of a $500,000 expansion program designed to improve service along the shortest and most direct route between Canadian vacation areas and New York state population centres.

Senior Officers Switch Places

OTTAWA (CP)—Four senior officers figure in a switch of appointments announced Tuesday by army headquarters. All appointments will become effective in September.

Col. G. H. Spencer, 37, of Kingston, Ont., and Toronto, now director of weapons and development, will be appointed commander, headquarters Canadian base units in Europe.

He will replace Col. H. A. Phillips, 43, of Victoria, who will take over as chairman of the army establishment committee at headquarters.

Col. K. H. McKibbin, 38, of Port Arthur, Ont., now chairman of the establishment committee, will become director, quartermaster-general operations and planning at headquarters.

He will replace Col. W. P. Shirreff, 43, of Kingston, who will succeed Col. Spencer as director of weapons and development.

$9,000,000 Hospital Contract Awarded

MONTREAL (CP)—Construction contract for a new Montreal children's hospital at a cost of $9,000,000 has been awarded to J.L.E. Price and Company, it was announced Tuesday.

Hospital president John H. Molson said the new 13-storey building will replace the Children's Memorial Hospital. Construction is slated to start in July.

The 383-bed hospital will be located on Dorchester street.

Astronomer Discovers 900 New Planets

By FRANK CAREY

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Discovery of almost 900 new asteroids or "pipsqueak" planets—and rediscovery of some of those that have been "lost" for many years—was reported today by an Indiana University astronomer who said the findings should help reduce a potential traffic hazard of any future travel in space ships.

Dr. Frank K. Edmondson told a meeting of the American Astronomical Society that many more tiny heavenly wanderers, ranging in diameter from two to 50 miles, have been spotted during a five-year search.

And he said work now is progressing to compute their orbits to try to add them to the list of some 1,600 other baby planets whose orbits are well known.

Asteroids are believed to be fragments of a planet which exploded ages ago—or perhaps even chunks of planetary material which never got assembled into a full-size planet. The biggest known asteroid is 480 miles in diameter.

AID SPACE NAVIGATORS

Edmondson said the new discoveries should help in an charting of the heavens to assist space navigators—if and when such travel comes along.

Edmondson said the work of the Indiana researchers was supported successively by the United States office of naval research and the army's office of ordnance research, and now is being supported by the National Science Foundation.

He said the avowed interest of the military services, aside from an interest in fundamental research, was in training students in an astronomical photographic technique which might be applied to photographic studies of high-altitude research rockets.

Police Rush Plasma To Save Woman's Life

OAKVILLE (CP) — Racing at speeds up to 95 miles an hour, police cruisers Tuesday night carried plasma from the Red Cross blood bank in Hamilton to save the life of a young mother in hospital here.

Hospital authorities said the mother, whose name they declined to reveal, began to haemorrhage badly after a premature birth. A checkup showed her blood was a rare type, ORH negative.

The Hamilton Red Cross responded to a call for the special plasma with the last supply of its type in their bank. It was relayed provincial police cruisers.

Dr. J. C. Worrell, attending physician, reported the woman in satisfactory condition after the transfusion.

Farmers Satisfied With Spring Crops

TORONTO (CP) — Farmers in nearly every county of Ontario report satisfaction with the progress of their spring crops and some are well into their haying, the Ontario department of agriculture said today in its weekly farm report.

Haying is under way in western, northern and central regions. Most counties forecast heavy crops.

Rain was needed in many areas prior to the thunderstorms this week. However, reports Tuesday said the storms, besides bringing welcome moisture, damaged crops in some areas and interrupted the haying.

Three Deaths Result From Violent Storms

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Electrical and wind storms, riding on hurricane winds in places, roared across scattered parts of sweltering New York state Tuesday, causing three deaths, tumbling trees and power lines and nearly isolating one village.

A $250,000 fire in an Oneida county furniture plant was laid to the topsy-turvy weather. Liverpool and other Syracuse suburban communities were without power from two to six hours.

The village of Clyde, Wayne county, was lashed by heavy rains and gale winds that toppled hundreds of trees and most power lines and brought village life to a standstill.

Jailed For Insult

ROME (AP)—Otello Benedetti, Communist mayor of Vallerano, Tuesday began an eight-month jail sentence for insulting the Pope. Benedetti, in a speech last September, referred to the Pontiff as "that criminal." Italian law gives the Pope the same protection from insult as the president of the Italian republic.

One Of World's Strangest Wars In Guatemala

By BEN F. Meyer

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the world's strangest wars is being fought in Guatemala.

Five days after it started, neither side has reported a single one of its soldiers killed in action on any battlefront.

Up to now, the bloodiest battles apparently have been those described on the radio. Both the government and the anti-Communist invader forces have been busy on the air waves.

There have been reports, second hand through British Honduras, that the Guatemalan army chiefs are claiming to have inflicted heavy casualties. These reports didn't mention that their side was suffering casualties itself.

The government has reported widespread bombing and strafing attacks by rebel planes in Guatemala city, the capital, and in other parts of the republic.

PALACE NOT TOUCHED

The government palace, a great, green building covering a full city block offers a sizable target. In the frequent revolutions, the palace has been an easy target for some of the worst shots in Guatemala. Even the presidential office bears bullet marks, and the front of the building for years was pocked with them. But in this war, it has not been touched, according to news reports.

Censorship, the upheaval caused by an emergency, and a government never famed for its efficiency have not permitted a clear story of events to get out of Guatemala.

It may be that the invaders have a timetable and an operations plan which has not yet come to light, but at this date and distance, it appears very much like a Latin American revolutionary attempt which failed.

Several elements usually necessary for success have not appeared in the reports reaching the outside world.

ATTACKERS ILL-EQUIPPED

Regardless of the course and the extent of financial backing, and of the amount and quality of war weapons, the reports indicate the attackers are ill-equipped to fight a war.

Another element usually necessary in the overthrow of a government in power is a widespread uprising of popular support—that is, fighting help—inside Guatemala itself.

The radio announcements of the "liberation" forces have claimed some defections, but apparently they have not been numerous.

Each side has accused the other of sending out tall tales about what's going on. There appear grounds to indicate that both, in making these charges, are telling the truth.

The farther from Guatemala, the worse the war appears.

One Guatemalan here offered one theory about the war:

"Maybe," he said, "everybody down there is shooting blanks."

Secret Meeting

LUXEMBOURG (Reuters)— The foreign ministers of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg met here secretly Tuesday night to discuss the prospects of France and Italy ratifying the treaty to set up a European army including German troops. The meeting was disclosed in a communique today stating only that the ministers discussed the general situation.

Archaeologists Ready To Open Ancient Tomb

SAKKARA, Egypt (Reuters) — Egyptian archaeologists reported Tuesday that they are almost ready to open a recently-discovered sarcophagus which they believe holds the body of a pharoah buried 4,700 years ago with a vast fortune in golden funeral ornaments.

The tomb will be opened in the next few days. After the contents are examined and the ancient king identified, work at the site will end for this season because of the intense heat.

GUATEMALAN EQUIPMENT—World War anti-aircraft gun trucks like his are part of the Guatemalan arms. But Communist arms shipments in recent months have been heavy to the government of President Jacabo Arbenz Guzman. Nevertheless, attacking anti-Communist leaders say that the nation is in sympathy with the civil war, and so the equipment makes little difference.

Lakefield Organizes Swim Pool

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — "Swim for fun, but swim safely", will be the slogan of the swimming and water safety program, under the supervision of the Lakefield Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society and the village recreational committee.

With Mrs. A. R. Gariepy as chairman, the beach will open for registrations only on Monday and Tuesday between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and 2 p.m. until 5. During these two days the beach will not be supervised and children swim at their own risk.

Supervision for the season will be convened by Mrs. Roy Farrow who will be assisted by a number of ladies. Kenneth R. Jakins is chairman of beach maintenance.

Jack Stackhouse of Norwood will be instructor and will be assisted by a councillor.

Classes for those over 16 years of age will be given as follows: learn to swim; senior Red Cross; bronze medallion; bronze cross and award of merit. Under 16 years the classes will be: Red Cross water safety for beginners, juniors, intermediate and senior; royal life saving; elementary life saving; intermediate life saving; bronze medallion and bronze cross.

New equipment has been added to the beach this year including an expensive diving board of the latest type. The committee in charge hopes that those using the beach will look after the equipment to the best of their ability.

A demonstration of the rocker method of resuscitation will be given by Mrs. Jakins at the beach on June 29 between 8:30 and 9 p.m. and anyone interested in learning how to use the resuscitator is asked to attend. Plans are being made to have a group of people from Peterborough present.

See Big Crop

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Growers predicted Tuesday that the Annapolis valley apple crop this year will total about 2,250,000 bushels. The average crop the last two years has been 1,500,000.

Highway Plan Criticized

OTTAWA (CP)—A government plan to allow the provinces to exercise jurisdiction over interprovincial and international highway traffic was criticized Tuesday in the Senate by government and Opposition members.

However, the bill—drafted at a recent conference between federal and provincial governments—was given second readig—approval in principle. It is slated for final passage later this week.

Senator John T. Haig, Opposition leader, said he believes control of this type of highway traffic should remain with the federal government, under the board of transport commissioners or a similar body.

Senator Thomas Reid (L—British Columbia) said that since Confederation the federal government has upheld the principle that the provinces have no right to interfere with interprovincial movement of goods. The courts upheld that view. Why, then, was this being changed.

He said the bill provides for no appeal from the decisions of local or provincial boards.

ATOM BAN TIMING BREAKS UP TALKS

French Begin Talks With Rebels

See Settlement Now Reasonably Good In Indo-China War

GENEVA (AP)—The French have started private talks with Vietminh Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong. An informed source said today chances of settling the Indo-China war now seem "reasonably good."

The direct talks between the two warring elements were arranged at Geneva by a third party, this source said. He made the hopeful estimate on the basis, also, of Wednesday's parley between French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai in Bern.

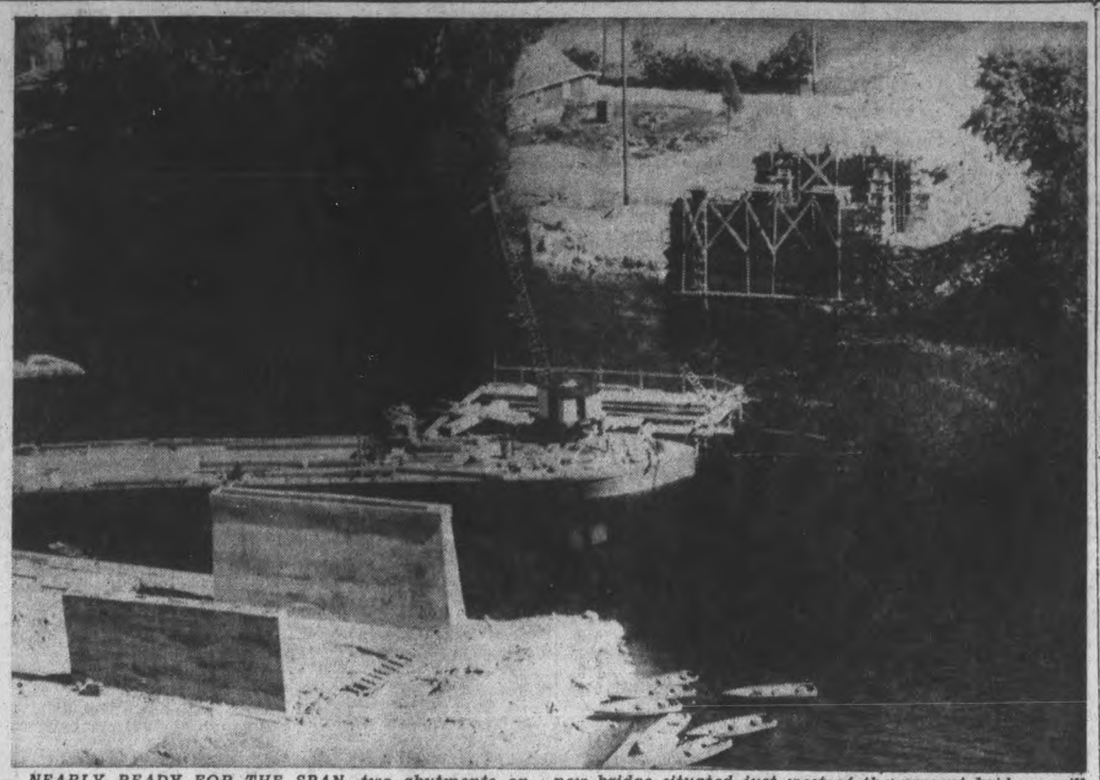
Chou took off this morning for New Delhi and a meeting with Indian Prime Minister Nehru. He intimated he would return to Geneva to complete the Indo-Chinese peace talks. Chou and Mendes-France expressed belief jointly Wednesday that their meeting will permit the Geneva conference "to make progress."

DONG NOT TOO PLEASED

Jean Chauvel, French ambassador to Bern and now head of his country's delegation to the Geneva parley, met with Dong on instructions from Mendes-France.

The rebel politician's reaction to what Chauvel had to tell him, it was reported, was less encouraging than Chou's attitude at the meeting with Mendes-France.

The information here was that Chauvel told Dong that, while France is anxious to end the war, there are limits beyond which she cannot go in arranging a settlement with the Communists.



Britain and the United States were furnished accounts of the talks.

Intimating he would return to the Geneva parley, Chou in a brief farewell statement said he was leaving "for the time being."

The conference, he added, is "still in progress" and the world's "peace-loving peoples hope our work will lead to the eventual establishment of peace in Indo-China."

Chou made no mention of his two-hour meeting in Bern Wednesday with France's new premier-foreign minister, Pierre Mendes-

Soviet Plan Rejected On Controls

Western Powers Want Prohibition In Gradual Stages

LONDON (Reuters) — The recent five-power disarmament talks in London broke down on a clash of view between East and West on the timing of proposed prohibition of atomic weapons, according to conference documents made public today.

The United States, Britain, Canada, France and the Soviet Union attended the conference, which ended Tuesday after five futile weeks.

The Western powers rejected a basic Soviet plan for the prohibition of "atomic, hydrogen and other weapons of mass destruction" to take effect simultaneously with the setting up of an international control system, the documents on the hitherto-secret talks revealed.

FOR PEACEFUL USE

Russia rejected an Anglo-French plan for the introduction of total prohibition of atomic weapons by stages. Each stage, from cessation of expenditure on atomic weapons to cessation of production and conversion of stocks to peaceful use, would depend on actual steps taken to limit conventional types of armaments.

In the Anglo-French plan, stages in the prohibition of atomic weapons would also depend on firm progress being made in the functioning of the control organ which would enforce a general disarmament treaty.

A U.S. plan proposing that future disarmament and atomic development authority was also considered.

THREE OBJECTIVES

The Anglo-French plan, proposed as a compromise between the previous Soviet and Western positions and backed by the U. S. and Canada, had three objectives.

1. Eventual total prohibition of the manufacture and use of all atomic, chemical and bacteriological weapons of mass destruction, and, where possible, conversion of existing stocks to peaceful purposes.

2. Major reductions in all armed forces and conventional armaments.

3. Setting up of an international organ empowered to insure that these prohibitions and reductions were carried out.

Commons Gives Churchill, Eden Firm Mandate

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons has given Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden a firm mandate for their important weekend talks in Washington.

Churchill and Eden, scheduled to leave for Washington tonight, both place great emphasis on what parliamentarians call the "feeling of the House".

Wednesday night, in a Commons debate on Southeast Asia, there was no doubt what that feeling was.

Leaders of both opposition warmly applauded Eden's exposition of Britain's policy. Labor leader Clement Attlee and Liberal leader Clement Davies in effect said amen to the underlying theme of Eden's remarks—that the United States could make things easier by relaxing its present attitude toward Communist China.

Eden's speech was devoted to outlining the progress made at the Geneva conference on Korea and Indo-China. His chief new proposal was that in addition to a NATO-type organization for Southeast Asia there might also be a kind of Locarno pact for the area.

NO REAL PROGRESS

On Korea, Eden said "reluctantly" that no real progress had been made at Geneva toward bridging the gap between the contesting sides.

On Indo-China, there still seemed a "chance" of agreement. He called the proposed Southeast Asia pact a future safeguard rather than a present panacea, thus again underlining the difference of approach between the U.S. and Britain on ways of meeting Communist infiltration in Asia.

"It should be clear to all," the foreign secretary said, "that the hopes of agreement will be jeopardized if active military operations in Indo-China were to be intensified while negotiations for an armistice are proceeding at Geneva."

Eden referred to the absence of normal diplomatic relations at Geneva, something which he said was unique in his experience. This was obviously a reference to the lack of contact between the Chinese and U.S. delegations at Geneva.

Eden acted as a kind of liaison man at Geneva. A Canadian delegate called him the "indispensable man" of the conference.

Newspapers of all political complexions today expressed hope that the Washington trip will smooth over differences and bring new accords with the U.S.

"The politicians on both sides of the Atlantic who believe that the alliance is expendable fly in the face of all the facts," declared The Times.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, which usually supports the Conservative government, noted that Eden Wednesday did not once mention the name of State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. during his speech. The Express gave a seven-column heading to, "The missing name: Dulles" and added in a subhead: "Not one mention in Eden's speech."

Gypsies Gather As Matriarch Feared Dying

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON Jr.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A gypsy matriarch lay in the hospital, and out on the lawn her dark-skinned tribe camped, waiting and praying.

Sometimes the clansmen laughed aloud as their children darted squealing among the trees. Mostly they talked softly, in small clusters, and changed from English to a rapid flow of gypsy dialect when a stranger came near.

They kept watch over Mrs. Rosie Evans, 75, injured in a car wreck Sunday night.

"She is our elder, the leader of our tribe," said Joe Evans, a coppersmith. "That is why we wait."

"KING" STORIES FOOLISH

Evans, a slim, middle-aged man whose brown mustache almost matches his skin, is the oldest of the gypsy leader's seven sons. If she should die he would become the tribal head.

"No, of course I won't be the 'king of the gypsies,'" he said. "That's foolishness. There are many gypsy tribes, and there is no 'king' or 'queen.' That's just something people like to say about gypsies.

"But she is our mother—and she is a queen to us."

The tribe began gathering the next day.

"Some came here from Nebraska and New Mexico and Indiana. And a couple stopped their vacation and flew in from Canada," Evans said.

"We sleep on the lawn at night. We're afraid to leave. She is in very bad shape."

There are about 30 gypsies keeping watch at the hospital—only part of Mrs. Evans' tribe.

Dewey Opens New York State Thruway

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (CP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, in one of a series of speeches opening part of the New York state thruway to toll traffic today, called the superhighway "a dream that became a magnificent reality."

Dewey made his remarks in an address prepared for delivery here, launching a full day of ceremonies to open the section.

A "cavalcade of transportation" comprising more than 500 vehicles of every description, with Dewey at the head, was to travel the 115-mile route from Lowell to a point on route 15 south of Rochester.

TRAFFIS STARTS TONIGHT

Toll traffic over the strip will begin officially tonight when the governor presses a button in Rochester.

The Thruway Authority lists the cost of the 115-mile stretch as $84,094,386, or $718,755 a mile. It figures the cost per mile of the entire 427-mile Buffalo-to-New York City thruway as $1,340,000.

Dewey broke ground for the highway at Liverpool, near Syracuse, in 1946. Construction was delayed first by shortages of materials and manpower, then by rising costs.

Find Murder Theory Upset

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Police said today they have established that the five-year-old son of murder victim Mrs. Horst Kopplin was alive several hours after his mother was believed to have been slain.

Investigating officers said they have located at least two persons who saw the boy, Rhynhart, at the window of the family's cabin home beside the CNR railway siding at Kelly, Ont., on the afternoon of June 19.

This, they said, put a new light on the case since the body of the mother was clad in a housecoat, nightgown and slippers when found later outside the burned ruins of the cabin and it was believed she had been slain early in the morning of June 19. The charred remains of Rhynhart and his 10-month-old sister, were found in the burned ruins of the cabin.

Persons who saw Rhynhart at the window in the early afternoon of June 19 were aboard a train passing through the siding toward Port Arthur.

When the next train came through its crew found the Kopplin cabin levelled by fire and the body of the mother lying outside.

She had died from a four-inch skull fracture police believe was inflicted with some heavy instrument.

Investigation of the ruins indicated that Mrs. Kopplin's last act in the cabin was preparation of breakfast for the children.

Police have questioned a number of men known to have been in the remote Kelly area at the time of the slaying but so far no charges have been laid.

Find Wheat Farmers Hit Hardest By Income Drop

OTTAWA (CP)—Wheat farmers were hit the hardest as farm cash income for all Canada dropped by $31,800,000 in the first three months of 1954.

The bureau of statistics today estimated the first quarter income at $504,311,000, down $31,800,000 from the 1953 first quarter of $536,150,000 and a drop of $51,400,000 from the 1952 peak of $555,700,000.

Six provinces—the prairies, Ontario and the maritimes—felt the decline, but by far the biggest drop was in Saskatchewan, heart of Canada's wheat belt, the bureau said. Wheat was the big cause of the decline.

Farmers received smaller returns from such other products as barley, Rye, potatoes, cattle and calves. Offsetting this slightly were larger returns from dairy produits and eggs, hogs and poultry meat.

Cash income from barley sales dropped to $11,800,000, down almost 40 per cent from last year's $19,122,000. A sharp drop in prices reduced income from potatoes to $5,800,000, about half the 1953 income.

Ontario's farm cash income dropped to $181,448,000 in the first quarter from $182,449,000 last year.

Opposes Henry As Engineer

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition Leader Drew suggested today in the Commons that R. A. C. Henry, Montreal consulting engineer, not be appointed a member of the St Lawrence seaway authority.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said no decision has been reached on such an appointment.

It has been rumored here for some time that Mr. Henry, now head of the transport department's special projects branch, would be appointed to the authority, possibly as temporary chairman until that job is taken over by Transport Minister Chevrier. The authority is the federal agency which will supervise Canada's part in building and operating the navigation works of the seaway.

HAS SOREL INTERESTS

Mr. Drew asked the prime minister if it could be assumed that Mr. Henry would not be appointed, in view of another position held by Mr. Henry that would be in conflict with such an appointment. He said Mr. Henry is a director of Marine Industries, Ltd., of Sorel, Que., which does shipbuilding and other marine work.

Mr. St. Laurent said he knows of no consideration that would bar Mr. Henry from the authority, but in any event no decision has been made. In making appointments to the authority, the government would try to give consideration to every factor that possibly could affect the efficiency and prestige of the board.

Two Schoolgirls Held For Murder

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (AP)—A second schoolgirl was charged today with murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Honora Mary Parker, mother of one of the pair.

The new charges were filed against Juliet Marion Hulme, 15, daughter of the former rector of Canterbury University College here. Mrs. Parker's daughter, Paulin, 16, was charged Wednesday. Both girls were ordered held for preliminary hearing July 1.

The woman's body, battered about the face and head, was found in the Cashmere Hills Tuesday after the girls reported she had been hurt in a fall while walking with them. Police said they found a brick and a knotted stocking near the body.

Duke Arrives In Germany

LUENEBURG, Germany (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh, piloting his personal plane, arrived today from Paris for a one-day inspection of units of the British Army of the Rhine.

He also included a visit with his sisters, who are married to German princes.

The duke was greeted by bagpipes playing a Scottish air as he walked slowly along the ranks of a guard of honor of kilted troops drawn up on the tarmac.

Colonel-in-chief of the regiment, the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders, he wore its uniform kilt as he inspected the guard and stopped to talk to several men.

He came to Lueneburg after a two-day visit to Allied defence headquarters in Paris, where he saw Gen. Alfred Gruenther, the Allied supreme commander; Lord Ismay, secretary-general of NATO, and Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to France.

Churchill Visit To Be 28 Hours

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden will be in Ottawa about 28 hours next week.

The RCAF said today it will fly Churchill and Eden here from Washington Tuesday afternoon. Definite time of arrival is not yet set. Sir Winston and Eden will leave here at 9:30 p. m. EDT Wednesday for New York.

The RCAF will use its luxury plane, the C-5, to transport the British statesmen.

Guatemala Asks Special Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) Guatemala has asked that the UN Security Council meet today in an urgent session to discuss "intense air attacks" on open cities in Guatemala.

The UN made public a message from Eduardo Castillo-Arriola, Guatemalan ambassador to the UN, who already has unsuccessfully attempted to have the council meet today on the Guatemalan case.

In the message, dispatched late Wednesday night, Catillo-Arriola said:

"In view of intense air attacks on open cities in Guatemala, where civil population has been machine-gunned and bombed with 100-pound explosives, and the warning of the aggressors broadcast through their clandestine radio station of being about to unleash heavy bombing of Guatemala City and other important cities, I officially request an urgent meeting of the Security Council not later than tomorrow, June 24."

Postmistress Guilty Of Theft

SUDBURY (CP) — A woman who has been a postmistress near here for the last 30 years was convicted Wednesday of charges of theft of public money and making a false entry and return in a postmaster's cash book.

Mrs. Mary A. L'Heureux, of Naughton, 15 miles west of here, was fined $100 for making the false entry and drew a six-month suspended sentence for stealing $533. Restitution has been made.

John Henry Kline, post office inspector from North Bay, said he discovered that a $230 entry in the cash book hadn't been deposited in the bank. The woman admitted taking the money and admitted an earlier theft.

French Assembly To Delay Debate

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly voted 433 to 23 today to postpone debate on the makeup of Premier Pierre Mendes-France's new cabinet.

Several deputies had asked for such a debate and were critical of Mendes-France's ideas for running the nation.

The premier gave deputies only a brief fill-in on his trip to Switzerland to meet China's Chou En-lai. He repeated previous statements that Indo-China was the only subject discussed.

Won't Let Quebec Delay Project

MONTREAL (CP)—J. G. L. Langlois, parliamentary assistant to Transport Minister Chevrier, said Wednesday the federal government will go ahead with navigational phase of the St. Lawrence seaway even if Quebec is not willing to build a hydro-electric project at Lachine at the same time.

Mr. Langlois, Liberal member of Parliament for Gaspe, spoke at the closing banquet of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendants Association's annual convention.

He said if provincial authorities are not interested at this time in building a 1,200,000-horsepower hydro plant the federal government will dredge the 27-foot deep ship channel on its own.

No final decision will be reached until talks with the provincial government are concluded, he added, but plans for the canal are already well advanced.

All-Expense Tour Becomes Grim Search

MONTREAL (CP)—What was to have been a glamorous, all-expense tour of North America has turned into a grim search for work for Naomi Wolfson, a willowy English chorine.

Miss Wolfson came to Montreal earlier this month on the invitation of a wealthy Texas contractor, who promised to act as her guide and sponsor. They quarrelled shortly after meeting and the 20-year-old Lancashire girl was deserted.

She started hunting for a job as a chorus girl but soon found Montreal night clubs had their acts booked well in advance. The modeling field was also packed to capacity.

So she dropped her hemlines and started looking for a job as a typist or receptionist.

There have been endless appointments, she said, "but I don't speak French." There were even more proposals but "none of them honorable."

Will Need Rowboat

Believe Ocean Of Water Covers Planet Of Venus

By FRANK CARE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — If and when any space navigators ever reach the planet Venus, they'd better be equipped with rowboats—because two Harvard astronomers today offered a new theory that "an ocean of water completely covers the planet."

But take heart, you would-be space men. The astronomers said it may be an ocean of "carbonated" water—not too bad for a sociable scotch and soda as you pull on the oars.

"Because of the large amount of carbon dioxide in the Venusian atmosphere the ocean would probably consist of seltzer water, although I daresay it would be rather flat," Dr. Donald Menzel smilingly told a reporter.

DISPUTE DUST THEORY

He and Dr. Fred Whipple presented a joint report on the subject to the annual meeting of the American Astronomical Society, convened at the University of Michigan here.

Their concept differs sharply from a common one that Venus is an arid desert with little or no water, and where the temperature may be more than hot enough to boil water anyway.

The scientists offered a series of arguments against a common concept that the thick bank of clouds that entirely envelopes the planet consists of dust—not of water as do he earth's clouds.

Diplomats In Quandry OverEtiquetteProblem

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Several diplomats here are sending cables to their governments for instructions on a ticklish problem of etiquette.

Dr. Rajendra Prasad, India's president, has invited all members of the diplomatic corps to a reception Friday night for Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

Half the diplomats here are from countries which do not recognize the Communist Chinese government. At the same time, it is unheard of for an invitation from the president to be refused.

Among the diplomats in the quandary is E. M. Reid, Canadian high commissioner.

No Time For Meeting

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Churchill was so busy with preparations for his departure for Washington that he had to call off a special last-minute meeting with the cabinet today.

The meeting had been scheduled for 90 minutes before take-off time.

Will Co-Ordinate Efforts

Hope Eclipse Will Aid Space Travel Data

MATTICE, Ont. (CP) One of the team of scientists gathered in this northern Ontario district for the total eclipse of the sun the morning of June 30 hopes to learn new facts on dust particles floating in interplanetary space.

"Further knowledge is important to plans for space travel — man's next great conquest over environment," says Dr. John F. Heard, whose group from the Dunlap Observatory near Toronto is one of the three Canadian teams on hand for the event.

"We might be able to learn something of the size and composition of the particles," he says. "Interplanetary space is known to contain these particles, but the sun's glare hides them from view."

The Dunlap party has been planning and working for a year to record the eclipse in this community 120 miles northwest of Timmins and 575 miles north of Toronto. The other Canadian teams are the Dominion Observatory party, which will be stationed at Smoky Falls, 50 miles north of Kapuskasing, and the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory expedition from Victoria, which will work at Hansen, 17 miles north of Oba on the Algoma Central Railway.

The area of the total eclipse will extend in a belt 30 miles wide half way around the world, from Nebraska to Pakistan. The path of complete darkness passes through northern Ontario and Quebec in a northeasterly direction. The weather must be clear for best results of the observations during the eclipse, which lasts for 89 seconds while the moon passes between the sun and the earth.

FOUR IN ONE

A polarigraph — a four-lens camera so designed that each lens will take pictures through a different polaroid filter — will be used by the Dunlap party. The operation of the polarigraph, designed by Jerry Longworth of the Dunlap group, is timed to concentrate on the extreme outer envelope of the sun — the spectacular corona which is seen only during an eclipse.

"We don't know how much of its light actually belongs to the sun, and how much belongs to the scattered particles in the void between sun and the earth," says Dr. Heard. Infra-red photography of the corona during the moments of absolute totality will help us sort out light from the sun and reflected light of particles in space."

The data gathered here will be co-ordinated with that obtained by parties in Greenland, the Faroes, Shetland islands, Norway and Iran.

William Albrecht, leader of the Mattice party, said the seven groups should be able to figure their distance from each other within 150 feet.

Doesn't Cost Much To Collect Income Tax

OTTAWA (CP)—Revenue Minister McCann says it doesn't cost the government much to collect income and corporation taxes.

He told the Commons Wednesday night the taxation division of his department collected $2,613,000,000 for the 1953 tax year at a cost of 86 cents per $100. Everyone would agree that was a low rate.

The total number of refunds paid up to May for 1953 totalled 1,900,000. Value of the refunds was $100,591,000.

Claxton Puts General In The Clear

Compulsory Army Service Talk Queried By CCF

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton Wednesday elaborated on a report quoting Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds as stating that he feels that the majority of Canadian officers share his view that every youth in the country should receive two years' military training.

CCF Leader Coldwell asked in the Commons whether the chief of the general staff had discussed the question of military training with Mr. Claxton before making a public statement on the question yesterday in Saint John, N.B.

Mr. Claxton said he made inquiries after reading the report and received a telegram from General Simonds explaining the circumstances of his statement and "also stating more fully and perhaps more accurately what he said."

ASKED FOR VIEWS

General Simonds was at a meeting of officers of the Canadian Army in Saint John. After giving a talk he was asked to express his views on the subject of national service.

"He made a reply which I think you could expect almost any officer to make, namely that he would welcome every youth in the country receiving two years' military training. Then he went on to say:

"'I believe the vast majority of experienced soldiers would agree with me. But such training was impossible unless it received the whole - hearted support of the people of this country and that was a matter for judgment and decision by political leaders, not soldiers. In any event experience tended to show that a period of universal military service of less than two years increased rather than diminished the problem of meeting commitments overseas. Further a system of universal military service was not a substitution for voluntary service; it could only supplement and never replace the voluntary system.'"

Commuter Services May Be Improved

TORONTO (CP)—The board of transport commissioners Wednesday ended hearings on railway commuter services in the Toronto area and set in motion action that may improve service here.

Mr. Justice John Kearney, chief commissioner, recommended that the CNR produce within a reasonable time, which he suggested be 15 days, a proposal for improved services on the Toronto-Oakville route; and that the CNR and CPR produce within a reasonable time, which he suggested be six months, a proposal for services in the Toronto area generally.

Import Drop Sharp In May

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian exports and imports dropped in value in May compared with the same month in 1953.

However, the drop in imports was sharper than that for exports and the result was a reduced import surplus both in May and the January-May period, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday.

May exports were valued at $363,600,000 compared with $385,000,000 in the same month last year. Imports had a value of $365,900,000 compared with $420,500,000 in May, 1953.

The greater drop in imports reduced the import surplus to $2,300,000 compared with $35,500,000 in May last year.

Nephew Surrenders Police Drop Charges

BARRIE (CP) — Police Wednesday withdrew charges of manslaughter, dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident against Yolando Danko 29, of nearby New Lowell, after her nephew gave himself up and admitted he was the driver involved in the accident.

The charges were laid against Arthur Roczie, 21, who walked into the provincial police office here with his lawyer.

The accident occurred Saturday and caused the death of Karl Hayden, 36.

Roczie appeared in court shortly after he was charged and was released on $5,000 bail.

Miss Danko was arrested after the car owned by her mother was taken to a garage for front-end repairs. Miss Danko was charged and later released on $5,000 bail. She denied being involved.

License Suspended Drove, Jailed 6 Mos.

LINDSAY (ENS)—William Lower, 20, Cambray, was sentenced to six months in jail Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a car while his licence was under suspension.

The charge was laid last Saturday when Lower was apprehended by Lindsay police officers. His license was suspended earlier this spring following a conviction under the highways traffic act.

The car Lower was driving which belonged to another man was seized by the crown.

Flier To Stand Trial For Manslaughter

BARRIE (CP)—Gregory David McGinnis, a 20-year-old RCAF airman, Wednesday was committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter.

The charge arose from the death of Lloyd Fulton Barrett, 21, of Back Bay, N.B. in a traffic accident May 19. Barrett and Victor Gow, 23, another member of the RCAF, were passengers with McGinnis during a ride from the Edgar radar station, north of here.

Testimony during the preliminary hearing was that the three airmen had been drinking before the accident.

2 Youths Arrested

BOWMANVILLE (CP) — Two Chatham youths, Vernell Crosby and Charles Vansickle, both 17, were arrested Wednesday by provincial police and charged with breaking and entering in connection with two break-ins at Ajax. They will appear in court at Oshawa Friday.

Fired As Clockwatcher

BERLIN (AP)—A policeman was sentenced to seven weeks in prison—and fired—for being a clockwatcher. Witnesses said the cop, Erwin Plessor, was on duty outside a food shop when a thief burst into the street and ran away. Clerks rushed out and told the policeman the thief had seized food. They said Plessor looked at his watch and said: "In three minutes, I'm off duty. It wouldn't be worthwhile chasing him."

Most Fighting In Guatemala OnlyPropaganda

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) The Guatemalan war today entered its seventh day with most of the fighting still apparently raging over the propaganda air waves and in the diplomatic arena. There was no indication of a major battle shaping up.

The invading "liberation army" seemingly is bogged down by lack of transport just north of the Honduran border. The government army of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman still hasn't made an appearance in force in the field.

There were these developments:

1. Seven persons were reported wounded, three gravely, when Honduran police fired on a crowd watching a pro-Arbenz, anti-United States demonstration by students in this Honduran capital Wednesday night.

2. Honduras charged that a Guatemalan airplane bombed a Honduran airfield Tuesday. The Tegucigalpa government said it is protesting to the United Nations and to the Organization of American States.

ASSURED SAFETY

3. Guatemala promptly denied the bombing charge.

4. The OAS' inter-American peace commission, meeting in Washington, referred to Guatemala a proposal by Honduras and Nicaragua that the five-country body make an on-the-spot investigation of charges by the Arbenz government that the two neighboring central American republics supported "aggression" against Guatemala.

5. Nicaragua formally denied it was guilty of any aggression.

6. A Guatemalan broadcast said Arbenz has assured U.S. ambassador John Peurifoy in Guatemala City that the safety of American citizens living in that country will be assured. There had been reports earlier that the embassy was planning to airlift out the nearly 1,200 Americans there. It is believed that about two dozens Canadians live in Guatemala.

MAKE NEW CLAIMS

Meanwhile, a rebel broadcast claimed the insurgent forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas were moving on Guatemala City from three sides. A government broadcast said the rebels had been repulsed and were fleeing back toward Honduras.

Castillo was reported to have moved his headquarters from Esquipulas, six miles north of the Honduran border, to a town near Chiquimula. This city is about 20 miles south of Zacapa, a key town on the vital railroad from Puerto Barrios and an obvious target of the invaders.

In Guatemala City, Associated Press correspondent, Jack Rutledge described the situation as calm. He said the army still claims that the government holds completed control.

In Tegucigalpa, however, the situation remained tense this morning following the shooting at the student demonstration, called by university students in support of the Guatemalan government. Speakers said Honduras was at fault in not stopping Castillo's forces from launching their invasion from Honduran territory. They also condemned the U.S. and the United Fruit Co., claiming both are mixing in the internal affairs of the central American countries.

Turn Down Proposal To Abolish Network

OTTAWA (CP) The CBC disclosed today that it recently turned down a proposal that the corporation's Dominion network should be abolished.

A return tabled today in the Commons for Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops) said the corporation decided instead to "continue the operation of the Dominion network to the fullest possible extent."

The Dominion network consists of a chain of privately - owned radio stations across the country. The Trans-Canada network is made up entirely of CBC stations.

sia's delegation, accepted these aims in principle, but refused to allow the control organ sufficient powers to assure the Western powers of its effectiveness.

MERE OBLIGATION

Russia proposed an immediate international declaration assuming an obligation not to use atomic and other weapons of mass destruction.

This was to be followed by the preparation of an international convention which would:

1. Unconditionally prohibit the "use, production and conservation of atomic, hydrogen and other types of weapons of mass destruction."

2. Reduce by one-third the conventional armaments of the U. S., France, Communist China, Britain and Russia, and cut military budgets by one-third from the 1953-54 level of expenditure. The five powers would also undertake to liquidate—and not in future to maintain—military, naval or air bases in foreign states.

3. Provide for simultaneous establishment of international control machinery.

REFERRED TO UN

Russia insisted that evasions or breaches of the convention should be referred to the UN security council, in which the permanent members have a veto. But diplomatic sources said the Western delegations refused to allow the use of the veto in such cases.

The Western delegations maintained their previous opposition to the proposed one-third reduction in conventional arms. In the Western view, future levels in conventional arms could only be decided after full disclosure of existing strength.

Haymes Gets Good News On Deportation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dick Haymes crooned happily today after testimony of a former United States immigration official pictured him as complying with the law before taking a trip to Hawaii.

The trip, to visit his then sweetheart and present wife, Rita Hayworth, touched off deportation blues for the Argentine - born singer.

The reopened deportation hearing was adjourned until Friday morning to allow both sides to look for a court reporter. The testimony proved too weighty for the immigration service's regular stenographic help.

Richard Cody, a lawyer who formerly headed the service's local border-crossing unit, said Wednesday Haymes was issued a temporary alien registration receipt card in May, 1953. He said he told Haymes the receipt met the documentary requirements of the law.

HAYMES NOT WARNED

Cody testified that later his superiors said the crooner had signed a draft waiver as a neutral alien during the Second World War and this might make him ineligible for re-entry.

Cody said he asked Herman Landon, district director of immigration for the Los Angeles area, if he should warn Haymes that the draft waiver might affect his re-entry from Hawaii.

The witness testified that Landon told him it was not necessary, and Haymes was not told of this until he returned from Hawaii. Cody added that it was local immigration policy to forewarn aliens of such difficulties.

Before the hearing Haymes ducked process servers and almost got caught in the middle of a melee as the lawyer for one of his ex-wives, Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes, tried to attach him for $3,800 back alimony.

The U. S. internal revenue also had one of their servers ask Haymes for an accounting of his 1951-52-53 income.

Recover Body Of Second Victim

OSHAWA (CP)—Body of the second victim of a Monday night motorboat accident, Douglas Stone 23, of Oshawa was found by searchers in Lake Ontario Wednesday night off the shore of nearby Courtice.

The body of his companion, Fred Lewis, 22, also of Oshawa, was found Tuesday night.

The two were in a boat which capsized during a severe thunderstorm. Robert Bickle, 20, swam to shore. Vincent Gorman, 20, still in hospital was rescued by a tug after he was found clinging to the overturned boat. Oshawa is 25 miles east of Toronto.

France. But both men after their talks issued brief statements saying they believed the delegates at Geneva would make progress toward an armistice as a result of their meeting.

RESUME SESSIONS

Neither French nor Chinese sources, however, gave any indication of what the two premiers said to each other. The results of their meeting — on which the entire outcome of the Geneva peace talks appears to depend — may not become known for several days.

The nine delegations at Geneva were to resume their closed general sessions this afternoon after a one-day recess.

Mendes-France, in winning National Assembly approval last week of his premiership, promised to obtain a peace agreement for Indo-China by July 20 or resign.

There were some indications that Mendes-France was ready to show more elasticity in dealing with the Reds than did his predecessor as foreign minister, Georges Bidault.

Plan To Form Civic Choir

The nucleus of a future Peterborough choral group met at St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening, to discuss plans for the formation of a civic choir.

About 45 people who are interested in a combined choir turned up to present suggestions.

Aubrey Bland, organist at St. Paul's, who will direct this proposed group, did insist that the choir, whatever its size, must have a proper balance of parts.

Mr. Bland said in many choirs the tenor section was usually weak and the ultimate strength of a choir depends on its tenors.

"If the choral group has between 80 to 100 singers, there must be at least 18 tenors," he said.

Mr. Bland was pleased at the turnout at the first meeting and the enthusiasm which has been shown by many citizens.

The first chorus work has not yet been decided but it quite possibly will be one of Mendelssohn's oratorios, he said.

Rehearsals will begin the third week in September.

Mr. Bland said the main aim of the group will be to perform large-scale works with a "finish" possible only in a body of singers which is capable and really enthusiastic. Necessary requirements for membership are an ability to read music and a strong desire to make the choir's standard a high one.

Blakeslee won the George Westinghouse prize of the American Association for the Advancement of Science for the best newspaper science writing of 1952. He is a son of the late Howard W. Blakeslee, a former president of the science writers' organization, and science editor of The Associated Press for many years.

Jailed One Year On Theft Charges

LINDSAY (ENS)—Grant Kelly, 27, Fenelon township, was sentenced to a year in reformatory in magistrate's court Wednesday on each of two charges of breaking, entering and theft from summer cottages on Cameron lake owned by Toronto men.

Kelly was also sentenced to six months on a charge of attempted theft of gasoline from a storage tank owned by Wilfred Havery near Fenelon Falls and was fined $10 and costs or 10 days when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having liquor in a place other than his residence.

At the consent of crown counsel all the sentences are concurrent and at the request of defence attorney A. T. Lacey a recommendation was made by Magistrate R. I. Moore that Kelly be sent to an institution for treatment as an alcoholic.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

The offences were alleged to have occurred on the night of June 14 when Mr. Havery surprised Kelly and another man in the act of trying to take gas from his storage tank on Highway 35 just outside Fenelon Falls. Havery followed the marks of the car from his home to Kelly's. The old vehicle was running on one rim and three tires and the marks were easily discernible.

Provincial Constable John Williams of Fenelon Falls while investigating Havery's complaint, found Kelly in possession of beer which proved the next day to have been stolen from the cot- of J. O. Mitchell of Toronto. A flashlight proved to have been stolen from the cottage of I. E. Epps also of Toronto was also found with Kelly. Another cottage owned by Arthur Sedgwick of Toronto was entered but no charge laid in connection with it.

Kelly pleaded guilty to all four charges laid against him.

Stock Market Prices Move Irregularly

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market prices moved irregularly in a narrow range today with moderate early afternoon trading.

Trading up to 1 p. m. EDT was just under 1,200,000 shares.

Most price changes were minor fractions. Aluminium continued as the industrial feature with heavy trading which raised its price to a 1954 high of $61.50—a gain of $1.62½ on the day.

Noranda and Consolidated Smelters pulled the senior base metals ahead, but juniors were down. Light trading in golds left seniors and holding companies steady. Uraniums were strong but Manitouwadge and Bathurst stocks were down. Brunswick lost 50 cents in the latter group.

Vagrants Useful Keep Police On Toes

LINDSAY (ENS)—The usefulness of vagrants as factors in keeping a police force "on its toes" was pointed out by Magistrate R. I. Moore in magistrate's court Wednesday when Edgar Weaver appeared on a vagrancy charge. Weave pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs or 10 days.

Chief John Hunter, when questioned told the court that though Weaver did not bother him personally he did "get on the nerves" of some of the officers.

"That's all right," replied the magistrate, "what would we do if we had no one like Weaver to keep the officers on their toes at times."

Guards Purchase Toys For Boy In Penitentiary

OTTAWA (CP)—Prison officials say a 12-year-old boy in the St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary near Montreal probably is better off and better cared for than he has ever been, the Commons was told Wednesday night.

Justice Minister Garson reported on the boy whose case was raised earlier during the session by CCF members. A. M. Nicholson (CCF—Mackenzie) asked Mr. Garson what prison officials had to say about the boy.

Mr. Garson said the officials report the boy was transferred to the federal training centre at the prison the day after his admission to prison in March, 1953. Due to his youth and need for special care, a scooter was provided for him.

GIVEN PUPPY

He also was given toy trucks, other toys and, on the theory that all boys want to own a dog, a young puppy.

Mr. Garson said public funds were used only for the scooter; the other toys were bought with contributions from the prison employees and officials.

He said the officials say the boy seems to have adjusted quite well to his new mode of living and that he is probably better off than he has ever been. He is segregated from older prisoners and has a room of his own in the hospital wing. He dines in the chief steward's quarters under supervision of a prison trusty.

When the question was first raised by members who saw the boy during a visit to the prison last fall, Mr. Garson read a report on the boy from Solicitor-General Rivard of Quebec. The letter described repeated attacks on children and older persons, homo-sexual tendencies and several escapes from reform institutions and hospitals.

Cabinet Changes Announced Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent indicated Wednesday that a successor to Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret will be announced shortly after the end of the session, expected to finish this week.

"It is not intended that we shall all get away for our holidays before it is done," he said in the Commons.

It is anticipated that changes in the cabinet will be announced at the same time as the announcement of a new chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada. Chief Justice Rinfret retired on Tuesday.

It has been speculated that three members will be leaving the cabinet—Finance Minister Abbott to be appointed to the Supreme Court Bench, Transport Minister Chevrier to become head of the St. Lawrence seaway authority and Defence Minister Claxton to join an insurance company.

Mr. Abbott completed Wednesday what was probably his last parliamentary task as finance minister, that of answering questions on the expenditure estimates of his department. Liberal members applauded.

But city officials warned that levees would be subjected to maximum pressure for several hours, and ordered increased vigilance against any breaks which could put a fifth of the city under water.

28 Nurses Graduated In Civic Hospital Exercise

Twenty-eight young women from the Peterborough Civic Hospital school of nursing on Wednesday afternoon were presented with diplomas and pins at the school's 62nd graduation exercise.

Eight of the newly-graduated nurses are from Peterborough county—five of them from the city itself. The others are mainly from the Peterborough district, though one comes from as far away as Nassau in the Bahama Islands.

The colorful ceremony took place in the PCVS auditorium which was filled almost to capacity with the nurses' relatives and friends who came to see this culmination of three years of training.

Top honors went to Miss Dorothy Jane Connell of Omemee. She received the board of governors' bursary for post-graduate study in nursing; she took first prize in the board of governors' awards for third year general proficiency; she had the highest standing in obstetrical nursing; and she had the highest standing in medical nursing.

GREAT AUXILIARY

The guest speaker, the Rt. Rev. F. H. Wilkinson, coadjutor Anglican bishop for the diocese of Toronto, described the role of nursing as "that great auxiliary to the medical profession."

"I know of no profession that makes a greater contribution to human welfare," said Bishop Wilkinson. "Your skill and influence will be felt . . . wherever you go."

The bishop illustrated his point with a number of instances of exemplary nursing service that he had met in his experiences which included being wounded overseas in the First World War and later holding clerical posts across Canada.

He outlined five characteristics that the lady nurses would find necessary in their profession.

1. Skill. A high degree of technical training is necessary in nursing. "There is no substitute for skill."

2. Wisdom. "This is a word often ignored and rejected these days . . . You will need judgment and tact . . . Often people with skill fail because of lack of wisdom."

4. Courage. "Think of what a gallant woman—a nurse—did at Dienbienphu:"

He discribed courage as "a ray of the divine," and he counselled them to remember the source of courage. "It comes from the good Lord himself."

5. Sympathy. "Avoid cynicism because it leads to callousness, and callousness leads to insensitivity and blindness."

6. Faith. "I've been struck by how close this word comes to healing . . . This is an historical fact . . . particularly in the world of today when many of our illnesses are related to our state of mind."

The observation of a doctor to a clergyman: "Most of the people coming to see me should be coming to see you."

Bishop Wilkinson described nursing as a royal profession and said its influence goes beyond any crude measure of dollars and cents.

QUEEN'S EXAMPLE

He advised them to follow the example of the late Queen Mary of whom it was said that she was "never late, never unkind, never discourteous and never afraid."

The bishop was introduced by T. J. Carley, QC, and thanked by Max Swanston, chairman of the board of governors.

Other speakers were John A. Dewart, acting mayor, and Miss Evelyn M. Robson, principal of the school of nursing, who delivered her annual report.

Graduates were Beryl Joyce Aker, Peterborough; June Marilyn Baldwin, Port Perry; Ruth Marie Blakely, Tweed; Evelyn Grace Brooks, Deloro; Muriel Anne Buck, Norwood; June Noreen Bullied, Peterborough; Mary Elizabeth Burnett, Fenelon Falls; Dorothy Jane Connell, Omemee; Sheilagh Evelyn Corrigan, Deloro; Autumn Joan Creighton, Lakefield; Beverley Anne Dawe, Toronto; Marilyn Ruth Davidson, Peterborough; Margaret Isabel Forsyth, Willowdale; Joan Graham, Havelock; Marian Alberta Jones, Peterborough; Florence Laurene Keeting, Peterborough; Margaret Gwendolyn MacTaggart, Port Hope; Muriel Joan Maxwell, Bancroft; Jean Isobel McKague, Woodville; Anna Doreen Rogers, Frankford; Annie Minnie Rose, Nassau, Bahama Islands; Jean Estelle Sanders, Port Hope; Mary Susan Slater, Lakefield; Phyllis Eleanor Teskey, Orillia; Betty Jean Thomson, Lindsay; Jacqueline Eunice Tyndall, Clarksburg; Nancy Elizabeth Varcoe, Bowmanville; Joan Evelyn Zufelt, Omemee.

Prince Charles Pays Visit To Zoo

LONDON (Reuters) — Youngsters crowding around the monkey cage at the London zoo Wednesday were too interested in what they saw behind the bars to notice that royalty was present.

Young Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, was having a look at the simians just like all the other kids. Nobody recognized him as he moved on to watch the seals being fed, or when he rode around happily on the back of a shaggy shetland pony.

The prince's visit was unannounced. Zoo officials hastily assigned an escort when five-year-old Charles arrived in the company of his governess.

Russians Win Chess Match In 4th Round

NEW YORK (AP) — Russia's vaunted chess team, as expected, has conquered the best players the United States could muster.

The Russians clinched their victory Wednesday night in the fourth and final round of a 32-game tournament that stretched over eight days. The score stands at 18½ points to 9½, in favor of the visitors, playing here for the first time. Four more games will be completed today, but they can't change the result.

Samuel Reshevsky, only U. S. player of grand master rank, broke even against Vassily Smyslov, head man on the Russian squad. They drew all four of their games. And 23-year-old Larry Evans, youngest U. S. player, came out ahead of Mark Taimonov. Evans won two games, lost one and drew one.

A win scores a point, a draw half a point. Each player played the same man four times.

BRONSTEIN UNBEATABLE

Evans won Wednesday night with a strong attack on the king's side. "It was the best game I have played so far," he said happily.

The No. 2 Russian, David Bronstein, swept all four of his games against Arnold Denker and alternate Arthur Dake. The Soviet Union's third-ranking man, Paul Keres, won three and seemed on his way to a fourth against Max Pavey when time ran out and the game was adjourned to this afternoon.

Donald Byrne, 24, still was struggling against Yuri Auerbach, champion of Russia, when their five-hour session ended. Byrne won two of his previous games and lost one.

An Act To Protect Our Past

The discovery of the Burleigh petroglyphs and the excavations on and near the Serpent Mounds at Rice Lake have stimulated wide interest in the archaeological and historic remnants of this Otonabee watershed. They have also aroused local anxiety for adequate examination of the sites, the care of what has been discovered and the protection of what may be found. The plan to establish a picnic area at Serpent Mounds has occasioned some concern, there where old Indian burials may be traced and near which there is evidence of prehistoric human life.

* * *

The Examiner is able to report that Queen's Park is now actively interested in the preservation and examination of the historical material indicated at these sites and further investigation is expected to be made soon.

* * *

A year ago last April the Legislative Assembly of Ontario passed an "Act for the Protection of Archaeological and Historic Sites". This Act (Bill No. 66) is set forth on page seven of the Statutes of the Province of Ontario, 1953, being those passed in the third session of the present (24th) Legislature. The two pages of the Act may be perused in this volume, which is available at the Public Library. We need not recite all the clauses here, but do wish to point out the Act exists and is sufficient authority by which the public may secure the preservation of historical and archaeological sites. Clause 2 states that "The Minister may designate any land as an archaeological site or as an historic site", and Clause 3 that "No person shall excavate or alter an archaeological site or an historic site or remove any archaeological or historical object therefrom unless he is the holder of a permit". (The Minister issues the permits.) Other clauses elaborate the protective plan and provide penalties for infringement to a maximum of $1,000 and six months in prison.

* * *

It is well to have such an Act in the Provincial Statutes, and while little use of it has been made yet—we believe that only one place was designated last year as an "archaeological site"—it does provide, for our posterity and the fuller knowledge of Ontario's past, the means of protecting such areas and objects as the Burleigh township petroglyphs and Serpent Mounds. What must be established, of course, is that these are really valuable historically or archaeologically, and worthy of protection under the Act. In other words, investigation should precede the designation as historic sites. The Act does not make specific provision for such examination, although it does allow the Minister to establish an advisory board of not more than seven members "to advise him upon all matters to which this Act refers". The Minister presently charged with administering the Act is the Minister of Education.

* * *

The interest of Queen's Park in both the Burleigh and Rice Lake sites, allied with local concern about them, should ensure that what needs investigation and protection will get it. Incidentally, land designated as an historic or archaeological site is not expropriated. It remains the private property of its owner, who has control of it except that he may not alter or interfere with the archaeological evidence or remove any historic objects—nor may anybody else who is not given a permit to do so.

Fluoridation Here And Now?

Officially Peterborough still sits on the fence; whether to fluoridate or not to fluoridate. It may therefore interest our Council and its public health advisers that not only the Canadian Rental Association has approved of municipal fluoridation of water, but also the Canadian Medical Association, which at its recent meetings strongly advocated its beneficial results and minimized the so-called risks. The Ontario Department of Health has not yet given its kiss of approval and perhaps that is the reason for the fence-sitting locally. Peterborough does not like to be in advance of other places in any but the most conservative ways.

Brantford was the first city in Canada to introduce fluorine in controlled quantities into its munipical water system. This was in 1945. The improvement in tooth health has been notable. When Brantford statistics are compared with those of other cities where fluorine is not present in the water supply in similar quantities, it is clear that the decline of tooth decay in Brantford children has been due in a significant part to the fluoridation. Some cities do not need to add fluorine to their water; Stratford, for instance, has enough naturally present in its supply to markedly preserve teeth from decay.

Peterborough's water has fluorine in minute quantities; not enough to do the work that Brantford and Stratford's water does. Kitchener's Board of Health three years ago approved the fluoridation of the city's drinking water, and now the Water Commission of Kitchener is being urged to put in the necessary equipment without further delay. As the Kitchener-Waterloo Record remarks, the cost is low enough to make it a good bargain in dentistry.

Income Tax And Secrecy

We do not agree with those newspapers which say that the Supreme Court of Canada has wrested from the Department of National Revenue its power to keep Income Tax returns secret. If the Minister feels deeply that his department should have this power, he may be able to persuade the Cabinet, and Parliament, to amend the law in that direction. Let us not forget that the Supreme Court exists to interpret existing laws, and not to make them.

The case which brought about the Supreme Court's decision related to some gambling charges in Vancouver. The trial court ordered that Income Tax returns be produced, and the Minister of National Revenue refused to give them up, taking the line that his Department promised secrecy to all citizens. The Supreme Court is of the opinion that this promise must be broken when necessary for the administration of justice; the interest of the state comes first.

We fear any move which weakens the trust that the citizen may place in any supposedly confidential body or profession. A man ought to be able to repose absolute trust in his clergyman, his lawyer, his banker, his doctor and several other persons who perform for him services of an intimate nature. And above all he ought to be able to trust his government.

The arguments on both sides of the immediate question are many and deserve the most careful consideration. But we do not think that the Supreme Court has won a permanent victory.

Bishop Webster Is Installed

Last night the eighth Bishop of Peterborough, the Most Reverend Benjamin Webster, was installed at St. Peter's Cathedral in an impressive ceremony in which Cardinal McGuigan was the principal officiant. We are sure that the whole city welcomes the Bishop, hoping that he may live long and happily among us. We have the most friendly recollections of Bishop Gerald Berry, now Archbishop of Halifax, who, during his time with us, built so many edifices which added to the dignity and amenity of the city; his successor inherits the goodwill which Bishop Berry created by his interest in everything that was for the improvement of Peterborough, and by his genial and expansive personality.

The new Bishop comes to Peterborough with a reputation as a scholar and an administrator. Since 1946 he has carried much of the burden of the diocese of Toronto—a task possible only to a man of experience in the world of affairs. We have been told, however, that his personal interest lies in the world of scholarship, and we hope that his duties here will leave him a measure of time in which to pursue what gives him greatest satisfaction. The position which he occupies is necessarily a somewhat lonely one, but a scholar has resources which can make loneliness a positive pleasure.

Bishop Webster is now a part of the city of Peterborough, and we are sure that he will find all of Peterborough ready to welcome him.

Rich Mixtures

Mixing metaphors is as old a habit as the giving forth of tongue, and even masters of the language have perpetrated metaphors which, on analysis, are a confusion of nonsense. For instance, how can one 'take up arms against a sea'—even against Shakespeare's 'sea of troubles'?

In Parliament last week there was a healthy crop of mixed metaphors. Perhaps the most notable growth came from the mouth of the member for Meadow Lake, Mr. J. H. Harrison. (Meadow Lake is in Saskatchewan.) During the debate on wheat marketing Mr. Harrison pointed out that fish peddlars did not go around selling their wares by crying "rotten fish". So it was with wheat. "But these honourable gentlemen opposite come down here and shout 'rotten fish'. They have done that for several days and on several occasions. And now the chickens have come home to roost."

This was unwittingly capped by a Social Credit member from New Westminster (F. G. J. Hahn) who asserted that: "We believe that the turkey raisers have a legitimate beef."

The hand that rocks Parliament Hill with oratory has not, obviously, kicked the bucket; he has merely stubbed his toe.

PARIS LETTER

Actresses & Dromedaries

By DENNIS BLOODWORTH

VISITORS to the Tuileries Gardens over last weekend would have thought that Parisians, convinced that their city was doomed, were throwing themselves into a final f nzied orgy. Overnight this notable patch of formal garden and gentle parkland in the city's centre was transformed into a monstrous fairground, and then crammed with the biggest and most incongruous collection of sideshows it is possible to imagine.

Tens of thousands of Frenchmen paid two hundred and fifty francs apiece to get into this "Kermesse des Etoiles" whose proceeds this year were devoted to ex-servicemen and war-widows, and they certainly got their moneysworth.

✧ ✧ ✧

INGRID BERGMAN, Danielle Darrieux, Gregory Peck and Zsa-Zsa Gabor are reported to have been among the thousand stars of screen, stage and radio who lined up to fight a long, losing battle against hordes of autograph-hunters. The three winning cars of the gruelling twenty-four hour Le Mans race — Italian Ferrari, British Jaguar, American Cunningham — arrived at the fair. Hundreds of famous authors signed interminable copies of their books for anyone who bought them at the booths, and the most renowned artists of France personally displayed and sold their latest paintings.

✧ ✧ ✧

I NOTED the supercilious faces of fifty dromedaries, ridden by Moroccans, peering above the heads of the crowd, and watched ten feathered birdmen from New Guinea perform the weird native dances in which they often leap more than six feet in the air. Paris's Abbe Pierre was there collecting money for housing the poor; Andre Maurois presided over a stand of his works; a Rumanian virtuoso played the oldest musical instrument in the world, and fifty volunteer Boy Scouts cleaned the shoes of visitors as they left the ground.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL popular newspapers had stands and distributed more than one hundred thousand signed photographs of every sort of celebrity from Marshal Juin to Ludmilla Tcherina, the Russian ballerina. The main course in this varied repast was a non-stop seventy-two hours' revue of one hundred and thirty attractions and turns which exhausted the combined energies of 1,800 dancers, 180 musicians, 990 singers and 130 variety artists. All-in wrestling and boxing and basketball matches provided the side dishes.

It was rather as if three Hollywood superspectacles were being rushed across the same screen simultaneously at twice the normal speed, to the accompaniment of a Prokofiev symphony played backwards. But it was all in a good cause.

✧ ✧ ✧

AT TIMES like this the traffic in Paris becomes more insupportable than ever, and the rate of accidents increases alarmingly. Almost every week the authorities invent new ways of improving road discipline, and if you see a white car in the city streets flagrantly disobeying the traffic laws it is worth reporting it to the police for it may be a test vehicle which the authorities have put on the road for the purpose.

Every day the first person who knows the highway code well enough to spot this car's misdemeanours gets a Louis d'Or gold piece, as does the fellow-motorist who shows the best road manners towards it. The idea is to make people road conscious and polite.

Another new scheme is to give children training in road sense and award prizes to the most disciplined among the city's drivers of tomorrow. Unfortunately something has obviously gone wrong with the system for allocating these awards. The winners of the first ten prizes this year have all been girls.

✧ ✧ ✧

ROAD TRAFFIC has also increased with the opening this week of the fishing season. Nearly three million anglers take out licences in France, paying about four hundred million francs to the tax office. In the past few days, rods have been multiplying steadily on the cosy banks of the River Seine in Paris and the turbulent waters of the River Allier, and the first stories are now coming in.

The best so far is of two men fishing from a boat. Casting violently against a strong wind and rocking the boat dangerously, one of them felt a tug on his line and struck — only to find that he had hooked the left nostril of his companion who had been somersaulted into the water by the boat's sudden motion. The angler was able to land his catch as his friend was rather small. He may have thrown him back, of course, for exactly the same reason, but this is not recorded.

✧ ✧ ✧

SOME HUNDRED and sixty years ago the leaders of the French Revolution, as uncertain in their new-found power as any twentieth-century Government in Paris, stamped out by force a Royalist movement in La Vendee.

Today La Vendee is getting its own back on the capital of the Republic, for the Parisian administration is faced with a veritable house-to-house battle against a vast invading army from that district. The enemy, who have established three main bases already in Passy, the Place des Ternes and the Latin Quarter, almost literally used Trojan Horse tactics to enter the city. For the enemy are the formidable wood-eating termites of Saintonge, in La Vendee; and technical experts believe that the advance guard was brought to Paris in a vanload of furniture from that area.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE termites have since multiplied greatly and are attacking houses on a large scale. Scientists say that if allowed to continue unchecked, the insects will in time munch their way through all the wooden cross-beams and floors of Paris until they collapse into powder.

The health service of the Seine Prefecture have summoned all available help and introduced measures to combat the menace. They say they have found only one effective way of exterminationg the six-legged pest: isolate him and "starve him to death."

LONG ROAD

O'Malley got a job as roadsweeper in Dublin, and the foreman said: "All you've got to do is keep on sweeping in the gutter —keep plodding on and you'll be all right."

That evening all the other roadsweepers turned up at the depot. There was no sign of the new man.

Three days later a telegram came from him stating: "Please send another brush—have arrived at Drogheda."

BISHOP BENJAMIN WEBSTER, seen here in a formal photograph taken in his residence in Toronto, was last night installed as eighth Bishop of the Catholic diocese of Peterborough, by Cardinal McGuigan and local clergy, in St. Peter's Cathedral.

Celestial Catastrophe

(NEW YORK TIMES)

ABOUT twenty million years ago a catastrophe occurred in the constellation Virgo, which lies beyond the Milky Way. A star exploded. We are only now hearing about the explosion, which took place long before man appeared. That explosion equalled only by detonating literally billions of hydrogen bombs. Hydrogen is the most powerful element in the universe, and there is little doubt that its transmutation played some part in the catastrophe that has come to our notice at this late day. So the comparison with the hydrogen bomb has more substance than may be supposed.

Why a star should blow up and become a nova or a super-nova for a time, only to fade again, is not yet clear. There are many hypotheses. Dr. W. Baade and F. Zwicky have suggested that a nova flares up when a star in a critical state of equilibrium collapses, with the result that the released energy blows off the outer layers. Others believe that a super-nova occurs when two stars collide. According to the late Sir James Jeans, such a collision may occur in our Milky Way about once in a million years, which is not long in astronomy. Since stars are not stable structures, ordinary novae and supernovae must have flared up hundreds of times since the solar system was created. It is possible that our sun may be all that is left of what was once an exploding nova—or that it is destined to become one. one.

It may be, too, that those outer layers which are flung off in a stellar explosion — layers which appear as shells of gas— may condense into planets. What happened in Virgo twenty million years ago may well have been the destruction of a solar system like ours — a system composed of worlds inhabited by sentient creatures like ourselves. We have a right to speculate on the possibility that whenever a nova or a supernova flares up a planetary system may have come to an end and that the long process of creating a new one is about to begin. Astronomers form no such romantic speculations, yet they cannot refrain from indulging in them and even treating them mathematically. If we never speculated on what is likely to come out of a discovery, science would not be worth nursing.

Baseball Spies

(WINDSOR STAR)

Espionage normally is thought of as an international activity, with sharp men and seductive women in the pay of one nation trying to ferret out the secrets of another. Or, a device used in Communist or other dictatorships where secret police spy on their own compatriots.

The startling disclosure involving the Phillies baseball team illustrates, however, this despicable practice can be, and is, used in private industry— if baseball can be called an industry. And it operates right within the "land of the free."

Granny Hammer, the second baseman, had an idea he was being followed the other night. He was right. He called police and had the man arrested. It transpired he was a "private eye," hired by the management to spy on the private lives of its players. The idea was to ensure players kept in shape to win games. Why Hammer should have been picked on isn't so apparent. He was leading his team in batting at .365.

If baseball magnates think spying on their players is proper, what is to prevent other employers using the same tactics? It could be used as a form of blackmail, to justify turning down a request for a pay increase.

If employers can spy on employees, what is to prevent employees hiring a "private eye" to spy on employers? In fact, it would be a good idea for the Philadelphia team to put a smart man on the trail of the team owner Bob Carpenter, just to see how he likes it.

Though the incident has its humorous aspects, it is no joke. It really is an outrageous thing, with serious implications. If this practice became prevalent the country soon would be full of secret police, informers and other such characters — just as in Russia.

The Strike Vote

(Montreal Star)

The Federal Government has asked the railways and their non-operating employees to get together again to negotiate some settlement and thus avert a threatened strike. The leader of the Unions, Mr. Frank Hall, has answered this proposal by making a fiery and unbending speech to his followers along "No Surrender" lines. This is hardly a promising start.

Nor is it promising that the negotiations will be held while the unions are sending out their strike ballots. The employees are obviously not being given any specific proposal on which to vote, for the negotiations, which might lead to some compromise, are not yet ended. The ballot, in such circumstances, means nothing but a vote of confidence in Mr. Hall and the other union leaders, empowering them to call a strike, whther er or not that strike is justified. The men are being asked to vote blind.

EMBARRASSING

A wealthy man was showing a friend over his new house.

"I can have my bath in my bedroom if I choose," remarked the proud man. "I just touch a button, and the bath, ready filled, runs into the bedroom on those two rails. Let me show you how simple it is."

He pressed a button, whereupon the bath, filled with water, glided in—but it also contained his wife!

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband . . . And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof. (Rev. 21:2, 15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations . . .

* * *

And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God . . . Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city . . . And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. (Rev. 22:1, 2, 8, 9, 14, 17.)

COMMENT ON BREAD

Sir:

I do not like the modern loaf
Do you?
There is no golden crust to chew,
No nobby lumps, or crusty bumps in Which to sink an hungry tooth. Tis
Victim of an age of speed, an art
Forgotten, gone to seed. And yet they Take it! Say nothing. This ghost in Waxen shroud that once was wheat and
Now is dead. But still my simple cry
Resounds, give us I plead some decent Bread.

TEACH CHILDREN KINDNESS TO ANIMALS

Sir: Every little while we read of some young person being injured, blinded or killed by a gun, usually a .22 calibre rifle or even an air or B.B. gun. These guns are not toys, but dangerous weapons, and it is illegal for them to be in the hands of children up to the age of 16 years.

Also, many years ago a law was passed making it illegal to discharge any kind of gun anywhere on Sunday, so that people who do not get pleasure out of killing or injuring birds and animals might wander in safety through the fields and woods on Sunday.

Are young people, such as Boy Scouts and school children in both city and country school taught Gun Laws? And do they learn that birds, except crows, starlings, house sparrows, blackbirds and cow birds are protected? There is a heavy fine for molesting song birds in any way.

We do not read of parents being fined when a child wounds a robin with an air rifle, then shoots it several more times just for fun when it is helpless on the city street, or when a boy loads an air rifle with small stones and shoots point blank into his dog's face!

How can children have a love for the beauties of nature when they are brought up on wild "Blood-and-Thunder" shows and allowed to be cruel and destructive in their formative years?

Thanking you, I am

Yours truly,

STARRED FOR PETES — The above three players turned in a standout performance for the Petes' Trailermen here last night in a losing cause, the local club bowing to Hamilton Tigers 13-11 in a sizzling OLA senior fray. Bobby Allan, left, fired home three fine goals for Thorpe team; as did tall Harry Wipper (shown centre); while Bob Curtis, at right, aided on three and did some hustling checking all the way through the heated tilt.

Bill's Take Lead Civic Loop And Bell Victors

Chum Gillespie's Bell Telephone men defeated Police 11-2, in the opened of Wednesday's Civic softball doubleheader at East City Bowl, to move within a half-game of the third place Coppers; while Bill's Lunch took over first place in the league standing by virtue of a 13-8 victory over Army, their ninth win in 10 starts. A fair crowd viewed the struggles.

Gordon twirled for Bell's, opposing Wainman in the curtain-raiser, a rather one-sided tilt, as Police bats were charmed by Gordon, who scattered four hits. Police scored their only runs in the seventh. Fraser Wade hit thrice for the winners; while Keith Harrison, Smith and Bullied each had two safeties.

GETS FIVE HITS

Bob Welsh took a personal part in his teams victory over Army in the nightcap as he led his Monaghan Road lads offensively with five hits in five trips to the platter—a triple, double and three singles; while Jack Gaskill and Jerry Bradley had two apiece for three, as Bill's Lunch rattled in 13 runs in the seven-inning finale.

Army fought hard and had their moments; but were unable to equal the powerful red-and-black crew.

Topper Sanderson hurled the route for the Lunchmen; while Nicholls and Art Smith pushed the melon platewards for the Cardwell gang, in a hectic duel.

Games Friday: Fairviews vs Pet. Canoe and Pet. Canoe vs Seabrook's.

AWARD FOR SUPER MILER—Aussie John Landy, first prize in hand, bows to receive the congratulations of Miss Simelius after his record-shattering 3.58 mile at Turku, Finland. At left is Britain's Chris Chataway, who paced Landy to the new mile mark. Miss Simelius is the daughter of the Finnish charge d'affaires in Australia.

150 Entered In Ontario Open Golf

TORONTO (CP)—The 31st Ontario Open gets under way Friday with 80 amateurs and 70 pros. scheduled to tee off for the first day's 18-hole medal play at the Cedar Brae Golf Club here.

The 50 lowest scores carded on the first 18 will qualify for the final 36 holes Saturday.

Of the 150 entries 18 are from the United States and the remainder from Ontario.

Rudy Horvath, the Windsor Essex pro who finished in a tie for 13th money in the U.S. Open last week, only seven strokes off Ed Furgol's winning pace, rules as pre-tournament favorite.

Last year's winner, Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, is in England and will not defend his title.

Horvath, who earned approximately $3,000 in prize money on the U.S. tournament circuit since January, can expect tough competition from former Open winners Gord Brydson, Toronto Mississaugua pro, Nick Weslock, amateur ace from Windsor Essex, and Toronto Scarborough pro, Bob Gray.

Scots Blanked By UEW In Soccer Tilt

UEW blanked The Scots 4-0 last evening in a city soccer match at King Edward Park. The losers kept pegging away to make it an interesting duel, with play scrappy toward the close, but UEW earned the victory with a solid performance.

Early in the game, Scots put on the pressure with Peters, Caldwell and Gilchrist going well, but UE broke away from a corner knick and Strong shot one from close. The same player put one over the crossbar from a corner by Holt right after. Following 40 minutes of play, Biddle opened scoring from close in for UE. A minute later, it was almost evened up by Gremer from Peters.

After the interval, Holroyd broke through and scored a nice one. The Scots' defence was steady but the forwards could do nothing against the UE defences, which had settled away to a quick clearing style. Scots missed several good chances, and Biddle scored No. 3 with Hoyle getting one more later on a perfect pass from Strong. Teams:

UEW: Jones, Gibbons, Davies, Hardie, Buchan, Campbell, Strong, Ryan, Hoyle, Biddle, Holt, Holroyd, Croll.

Scots: Hammell, West, Boyd, Murray, Burnette, Ballantine, Peters, Gremer, Daly, H. Gilchrist, Caldwell, Simpson, J. Gilchrist. Referee, E. Cotton.

Hamilton Tigers Claw A Win From The Petes

Hamilton Tigers clawed the Petes' Trailermen 13-11 here last night before more than 1,000 OLA senior fans to keep well up in third place in the standing, leaving Petes and St. Catharines deadlocked in top place as the race becomes hotter at the halfway mark. St. Catharines are here Friday, and the Petes play in the Garden City the next evening.

Though listing a full team on the score-sheet, the Tigers actually had but four spares, and one of them (Stu Scott) was not used, owing to a sore leg. They also drew eight of the 11 penalties, but still came up with the close win. Their last goal came with 15 seconds to go in the game and Goalie Moon Wootton taken out of the net as Petes tried a gamble in a vain effort to sew it up at 12-all.

A SCRAPPY EFFORT

The Tigers turned in a battling effort and had starry netminding from Doug Smith. The Trailermen fought hard but only went good in spurts, missing a lot of passes, failing to check back as well as usual and being poor around the rival net. They fired most of their shots right at the goalie, instead of picking corners. But they rallied strongly in the fourth quarter—by far the most exciting game—and nearly pulled it out of the fire.

It was a rather rough tussle at times, with plenty of slashing seen, and two fights. Tony D'Amico and Lou Nickle were chased with match penalities in the third quarter for swinging sticks after they tangled when Tony started the mixup by clipping Lou from behind. In the fourth quarter, Bob Dobbie and Curly Mason drew majors for fighting as they threw fists following a cut Dobbie received when checking a shot by Mason. Tigers scored once when a man short, and they took advantage of a Peterborough shortage for another, besides counting twice on free throws to Petes' once.

A BIG EVENING

Jim McNulty lengthened his league scoring lead by cuffing home three goals and aiding on four more for a seven-point effort. D'Amico tallied three and helped on another. Jay Jay Hill and Dobbie each scored twice and had one assist. Tony Capula and Jim McMahon had a goal and assist each, with Willie Logan (late of the Petes' juniors) getting one marker. Joe McNulty came up with an assist.

Harry Wipper and Bobby Allan stood out on the Trailermen's attack with three counters apiece. Denny Peterson and Russ Slater hit the mark twice each, and Don Ashbee got a goal and two assists. Bob Curtis clicked for three assists, with Bob Thorpe, Lou Nickle and Jerry Fitzgerald each in on one. Up from the minor ranks for this game in the local lineup was husky Jim Telford. Teams:

Hamilton: Goal, Smith; defence, Capula and D'Amico; centre, Dobbie; wings, Jim McNulty and Scott; alternates, Hill, Joe McNulty, Logan, McMahon, Brown, Rankin, Dorney, Passmore and Walton.

Petes: Goal Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and Slater; centre, Mason; wings, Curtis and Allan; alternates, Nickle, Ashbee, Peterson, Thorpe, Wipper, Killingbeck, Burns, Batley, Powell and Telford.

Referees M. McDonald and J. Williams.

P.G. & C.C. CHIP SHOTS

A large banner welcoming the "Ditch Diggers" from the Kawarthat Golf Club was displayed on the first tee at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club Tuesday evening when the B. G.'s of the Peterborough Club were hostesses to the Kawartha Business Girls.

The girls enjoyed a two-ball foursome watching all along the fairways for humorous signs which had been placed by the host club. On the 4th green appeared a "team of horses" which did not help the Kawartha B.G.'s in their putting on that green. The Kawartha girls seemed to be in good form and comments were heard to the effect that the reason the hostesses in one foursome in particular, averaged 6 over par, was due to the continuous heckling of the visitors. A most enjoyable buffet supper was served on completion of the golf. The dining table was centered with a bouquet of peonies and orange blossoms with candelabra holding yellow tapers.

Esther Might, captain of the Peterborough B.G.'s welcomed the Kawartha girls and announced that the K.B.G.'s outshone the Peterborough B.G.'s by one point. Low gross winners from Kawartha were Ruth McKee and Barbara Siddall; Peterborough low gross were Jean Castle and Marg Behan.

The Peterborough captain then introduced James Wharry who showed the girls colored slides he had taken of many places including, one of our own local hunting districts; British Columbia; British Isles; Africa; Belgian Congo; Nairobi; Egypt; Lebanon and Rome.

Dorothy Harle, captain of the Kawartha Business Girls expressed thanks to the Peterborough B.G.'s for a most delightful evening.

They may have a lot of fun, the Ontario sports scribes and sportscasters, at their couple of parties a year and their big annual dinner each winter in Toronto. But they do a lot of good. Two camps for crippled children of the province will be opened July 11 and July 18 respectively near Kirkland Lake and near Port Colborne due to funds raised at this dinner. The scribes and radiomen planned to raise $42,000 in three years toward construction costs, but in less than one year have $34,000 ready, requiring only eight grand more to cover all costs. Britt Jessup of North Bay this year is prexy of the OSWSA, or spill out the alphabet soup and spell Ontario Sports Writers and Sportcasters Association. Rex Stimers, Laurie Brain and Wes McKnight are the VP's.

Asked recently whom he thought was the greatest batter in his lengthy diamond career, Satchel Paige—ageless Negro twirler—said: "Ted Williams. All kinds of ball. Joe DiMaggio? He went nothing for 66 against me. Good pitchers? Not many around now. I'd put Robin Roberts up there with great ones like Dix Dean, Gomes and Feller. Best pitcher I ever saw was a guy named Slim Jones. He played in the Negro leagues around Philly in the 30s. He came along too early. Just like me." At that, ol' Satch had a fling in the majors before returning to barnstorming tours. He'll strut his tricky mound stuff here 'gainst House of David on July 1.

Minor Lacrosse Front

Local OLA juves go to Brampton tonight and open their home schedule against Long Branch here Saturday eve. Angus Bradley and John Barry handle the Peterborough crew, with Ira Dundas aiding on the coaching. Nothing new at the moment on our juniors. Meantime, the PMLA is operating evenings and Saturday. They'll go full time in another week when schools are out. Walt Murphy took over from Ken Kingston this year as PMLA president, with George Ludgate and Len Symonds vice-prexies, Roy Renwick secretary, and Keith Sedgewick treasurer. Bantam, midget and juvenile conveners and coaches include: Walt Firth, Ed Woodcock, Jim Terrall, Jack Burns, Bill Post, Neil Oliver, Bob Oliver, John Parry, Angus Bradley and Henry Jay. They're doing a good job.

Trailermen had to go overtime in Hamilton last week for a win o'er Tigers and that was a case of "coming events cast their shadows before"—yes, indeed. Because the Tigers took the local lacrossers 13-11 right in the Petes' home lair last night in something of an upset. An upset to local fans, anyway, though the Tigers have a lot of good players aboard now. Jim McNulty, Tony D'Amico, Bob Dobbie, Jay Jay Hill and others were well up on the scoring totem pole last gloaming, McNulty lengthening his OLA points' lead plenty with a seven-point effort. They had stellar netminding also and generally excelled Petes in all department but that of fisticuffs. Dobbie and D'Amico lost decision to Mason and Nickle respectively in a couple of lively fights.

Not Quite Up To Form

Harry Wipper, Bobby Allan, Bob Curtis, Russ Slater, Denny Peterson and Don Ashbee were in on most points for the Petes, but the club didn't club, as a whole, quite up to form. Missed too many scoring chances in close, only turned it on in spurts, fouled up passing plays too often and weren't glued to their checks all e'en. At that, they came on in great style in the fourth to almost knot it up, Tigers' last goal being on an empty net with Moon taken out. Petes and St. Kitts are still tied for first place and clash twice this weekend, here Friday and away next night. Tigers nestle safely in third slot, with Mimico last. A fairish crowd of fans for a cool evening, and likely a jam-packed arena will greet the cocky A's on the morrow.

Victory Hi, noted blind harness racing horse, sustained a broken ankle earlier this week in the final dash on a card down in Sydney, N.S. The 10-year-old chestnut gelding won a lot of races here and around Ontario for Stan Blewett of Indian River before being sold to Lorne Ratchford of North Sydney about a year ago, and often ran heats also on Quebec tracks. Victory was just rounding the last turn when it slithered and went down, a local veterinarian pronouncing a fractured ankle. So, it likely will be the last lap for a fine equine competitor which ran valiantly in every start, despite being blind. May Victory Hi pasture well in declining days.

Milwaukee Scores 5-2 Triumph Over Fast Giants

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dave Jolly, a lean Irish right-hander from Stony Point, N. C., is the Milwaukee Braves' "saver," the pitcher who gets the call when the going is the toughest.

So far this year he has been in 23 games, more than a third of the Milwaukee total. In 36 innings Jolly has given up only 23 hits and four earned runs for a sparkling earned-run average of 1.00. His personal record shows four victories and two defeats.

But one of his most spectacular performances won't appear on his won and lost totals. This came Wednesday in Milwaukee's 5-2 triumph over the fast-moving New York Giants.

THREE RUNS AHEAD

Jim (No-Hit) Wilson sailed into the last of the ninth with a three-run edge en route to his fourth straight victory. But the Giants, wo think they own the copyright on Frank Merriwell finishes, got rid of Wilson with successive singles by Monte Irvin and Don Mueller.

With the dangerous Willie Mays at bat, Jolly strolled to the rescue. He worked the count to 2-2 on Mays, who had homered earlier, before hitting him in the back to fill the bases.

Then Jolly applied the pressure. Pinch-hitter Hank Thompson lofted a short fly. Wes Westrum fouled out. And Bobby Hofman, who has hit three pinch-hit home runs this season, popped up in front of the plate.

Brooklyn took advantage of Milwaukee's success and cut the Giants' first-place margin to a single game by beating Cincinnati 6-3. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 as Harvey Haddix won his 12th game. Philadelphia whipped Chicago 5-3.

TRIBE WINS

In the American League Cleveland tripped Philadelphia 5-2, Chicago outlasted Washington 8-6, New York defeated Detroit 9-4 and Baltimore broke its nine-game losing streak, shading Boston 8-7 in a 17-inning marathon that ran four hours, 58 minutes, the longest game ever played in the American League and one minute short of the longest night game in major league history.

The Dodgers broke Cincinnati's five-game winning streak with a 13-hit attack. Duke Snider drove in four runs, three on a bases-loaded triple and one on a single. Don Newcombe picked up his fifth victory with his second consecutive complete game.

The Pirates broke Haddix' string of scoreless innings at 37 but the little lefthander had no trouble in winning his 10th straight. Rip Repulski homered for St. Louis.

Willie Jones doubled home two runs in the eighth inning for the Phillies' winning margin over Chicago. Two of the other Philadelphia runs scored on errors.

PITCHER HOMERS

Cleveland stayed three games in front of the White Sox with the help of a home run attack on the Athletics. Homers by Larry Doby, Al Rosen and pitcher Bob Lemon accounted for all of the Indian runs. The victory was Lemon's ninth.

Chicago wasted a five-run first inning lead but finally beat Washington on Sherm Lollar's two-run pinch hit single in the sixth.

The Yankees came from behind at Detroit as Gil McDougald pounded three doubles and a single, good for four runs. The Yankees received 10 walks and converted six of them into runs.

Four Boston runs in the ninth sent the game at Baltimore into overtime and the Orioles finally won in the 17th on a single, a fluke double, a walk and a successful dash for home by Jim Brideweser on a grounder in the infield. Boston executed the season's second triple play in the first inning.

Toronto Leafs Win 9-6 Over Buffalo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

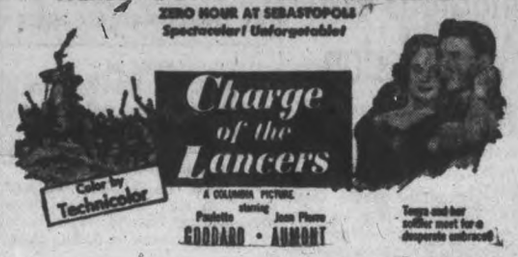
Elston Howard, sent to the Toronto Maple Leafs by the New York Yankees to gain more catching experience, is making a strong bid to return to the majors as a possible replacement for Yogi Berra.

The big Negro, who spent last season in the outfield on the Yanks' Kansas City farm in the American Association, is one of the chief reasons the Maple Leafs have won 10 of their last 11 games and hold a two-game margin over the Rochester Red Wings in the tight International League pennant race.

Howard has hit three homers since the Leafs went on their current winning spree and they were hit at the opportune time. Wednesday night he banged out a three-run homer to lead the Leafs to a 9-6 victory over the Buffalo Bisons.

NEEDED WIN

The Leafs needed the victory for the Wings came through with a 9-7 decision over the Richmond Virginians for their seventh straight win.



With the third-place Montreal Royals rained out of their game with Syracuse and the fourth-place Havana Sugar Kings splitting a doubleheader with the Ottawa Athletics, Toronto and Rochester pulled further away. The Cubans won the opener from the A's 11-8 and the A's took the second 9-2. The first game, scheduled for seven innings, went 10.

A four-run rally broke a 7-7 tie and gave the Cubans their first-game victory. And in the second Joe Taylor homered and tripled and Tom Giordano hit a three-run homer to pace the A's.

Haddix Pleased Game Won, Loses Shutout

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinal southpaw who's leading the majors with 12 victories, says he isn't disappointed because he lost his bid for a fourth consecutive shutout by an eyelash.

"I just want to win 'em all," Haddix explained after his sparkling 7-1 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night. "No, I'm not disappointed I didn't get another shutout. We won, didn't we?"

Haddix allowed only five hits to the last-place Pirates as he hurled his 10th consecutive victory. It was a particularly pleasing win for Haddix because the last time he was defeated, his third of the season, was by the Pirates April 29.

IN FINE STYLE

Haddix was rolling along in fine style Wednesday night, having given up only two hits until Dick Cole came up in the sixth. The Buc infielder sent a drive to right field that went for a triple. A moment later he scored on an infield out to mark the first run tallied against Haddix in 37 consecutive innings.

With Cole's hit went Haddix' chances of beating the record of 46 consecutive scoreless innings set by Carl Hubbell, ex-New York Giant pitcher. And the bingle kept Haddix from trying to tie the National League record of four consecutive shutouts held by several pitchers.

McCormick Expects To Be Inducted Soon

HAMILTON (CP) — Coach Carl Voyles of Hamilton Tiger-Cats disclosed Wednesday that Tom McCormick, all-conference end with East Texas Teachers' College last season, expects to be inducted into the U.S. Army shortly and will not be able to play with Hamilton.

The coach of the Big Four Football Union club also was not too optimistic that all-American end John (Rocky) Ryan would be able to join the Tiger-Cats. Ryan, with Illinois the last few seasons and the first draft choice of Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, probably will be drafted before the Big Four season opens.

KITCHENER (CP) — Twenty players have been signed so far to play for the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen next season, coach Harvey Johnson said Wednesday.

He said he expects "plenty more" to sign before the Dutchmen open the Ontario Rugby Football Union season in Sarnia Aug. 25.

MONEY FOR B.E.G.

VANCOUVER (CP) — A cheque for $100,368 was received Wednesday by Mayor Fred Hume from the British Empire Games special events committee. It is to go towards financing the games, opening here July 30. The committee made an initial payment of $100,000 last December. The committee worked under the chairmanship of Jack Diamond, Vancouver sportsman, and staged a series of events to raise the fund.

TO CAPTAIN TEAM

MONTREAL (CP)—Laird Watt of Montreal, former Canadian Davis Cup player, will captain Canada's team in the tie against Chile at Toronto July 15-17, it was announced Wednesday. President Harry Marpole of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association said the make-up of the Canadian team will be announced later, probably next week.

SET UP CLINIC

TORONTO (CP) — A coach-referee clinic to establish uniform interpretation of football rules by officials at all Ontario secondary school games will be held at Hart House at the University of Toronto Sept. 18. Ted Jarvis, chairman of the Toronto District Referees' Association, is the chairman of the committee setting up the clinic.

GOOD GATE ASSURED

OWEN SOUND (CP) — Owen Sound Mercury are assured of good support for every home game of the 1954-55 Ontario Hockey Association senior A schedule. The Mercurys have sold 1,207 season tickets to their home games next year. Their arena has 2,000 seats.

Combine Daily Double

HAMBURG, N.Y. (CP) — The Bachelor and Market Value combined to pay a daily double of $172.60 at Buffalo Raceway Wednesday night. The Bachelor, a Mitchell, Ont., trotter owned by Gordon and Lloyd S. Farm, went the mile in 2:13, the four-year-old gelding's best time yet.

Carl Smith's 10-year-old pacer, Minda Dillon, won the fifth race, a $1,000 B event in 2:08 2-5. The Harrow, Ont., mare was driven by Harold Wellwood.

STICK TO RUGBY

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — When an education board member asked why boys at elementary schools in New Zealand play only rugby football, the chairman said they were free to choose any sport they liked. "But rugby is almost a religion here," he said.

Canada Sending Best Tennis Team In Years

TORONTO (CP)—A top-ranking member of the Davis Cup committee predicts that Canada will send its "best-conditioned team in years" into Davis Cup competition this summer.

Paul Haynes, former National League hockey star, now one of Montreal's leading tennis authorities, emphasized that Canada "never has had a team so well trained."

Haynes arrived Wednesday to run over details with officials of the Toronto Cricket Club where the first round of the North American zone cup tie against Chile will be played July 15th. He said that the official makeup of the Canadian team will be announced this week.

NOT OFFICIAL

Although not official, it is almost certain that Lorne Main of Toronto and Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke Que., will rank one-two on the squad that will clash with the Chileans. Main and Bedard are currently engaged in the all-England lawn tennis championships at Wimbledon, the climax of an extended tour of Florida and Europe.

Rated strong contenders for remaining spots on the team are Paul Willes of Vancouver, who was on last year's Cup squad and is seeded fourth; Don Platt and Jim Bentley of Toronto seeded fifth and ninth, respectively.

HOW HE PREPPED—John Landy is seen here in a Finnish gymnasium as he worked on an endless belt, which determined his capacity to absorb oxygen. He beat all known records at oxygen absorption and then stepped out to a new world record for the mile at 3.58.

3 Redskin Players Cause Owner Worry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of the Washington Redskins' defensive standouts are threatening to become serious holdouts over a matter of miles. Three thousand of them.

The unhappy football trio is made up of end Gene Brito, tackle Paul Lipscomb and Halfback John Williams. They live on the west coast and don't want to pull up stakes for half the year to play for the eastern club.

George Marshall, Redskins owner, said he would be willing to work out trades involving Williams or Lipscomb or both. But it's no dice as far as Brito is concerned.

"Brito is the best defensive end in professional football," Marshall said. "If he won't play for us, we don't want him playing against us."

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Batting—Duke Snider, Dodgers, drove in four runs and raised his league-leading average to .376 with a single and a bases-loaded triple in Brooklyn's 6-3 victory over Cincinnati.

Pitching—Harvey Haddix, Cardinals, ran his victory string to 10 and his over-all record to 12-3 with a 7-1 St. Louis triumph over Pittsburgh.

Orioles, Red Sox Play Game 17 Innings

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles may not be giving their fans any better baseball than they did as the St. Louis Browns, but they offer more of it.

The Orioles and Boston Red Sox Wednesday night played 17 innings for four hours and 58 minutes as if they were battling for the pennant instead of the cellar.

The marathon was two innings longer than any played in either league this season and nine minutes longer than any game ever played in the American League. The longest game in baseball records was a 5¼-hour contest between Brooklyn and Boston in the National League in 1940 for 20 innings.

USED 42 PLAYERS

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Red Sox and Jimmy Dykes of the Orioles contributed to another record when they used 42 players, one more than the previous high for an extra-inning game.

Boudreau used 22 players, including Ted Williams as a pinch-hitter for the first time since June 5, and six pitchers. Dykes called on five hurlers. Fortunately, the teams are off today.

Husband Held

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cecil Terry 41, charged with the hammer-slaying of his wife, was arrested Wednesday near police headquarters. His capture ended an extensive manhunt that started Tuesday night after the death of his 38-year-old wife in hospital. She was found unconscious in her home Monday by her 13-year-old son.

MARITIME POET

John McPherson, Nova Scotia poet and school-teacher who died in 1845, styled himself "the harp of Acadia."

Expect 6 Teams In Relay Swim

TORONTO (CP)—Six teams, including one from Egypt, are expected to enter a relay swim across Lake Ontario in September, George Duthie, sports director of the Canadian National Exhibition, said Wednesday.

Prizes total $20,000, with $10,000 going to the first-place team. Rules call for a minimum of four swimmers, with a maximum of five, for all-male or mixed teams, and a maximum of six for all-women groups.

Florence Chadwick's attempt at a solo swim across the lake will be made shortly before midnight Sept. 6 from Fort Niagara, N.Y., Duthie said. She is expected to finish the 32-mile grind about 6 p.m. the following day.

If the San Diego, Cal., girl completes the swim, she will win $10,000.

Janowicz Tired Warming Bench

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher Vic Janowicz, tired of warming the bench for the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates, said Wednesday he is giving serious thought to playing professional football.

Janowicz, a triple-threat halfback at Ohio State and a 1949 all-American, signed for a reported $25,000 bonus with the Pirates in 1953.

"But you can see for yourself I'm not getting anywhere playing professional baseball," he said. "I love baseball better than football but apparently I'm not making the grade.

"I haven't talked to Branch Rickey (general manager of the Pirates) about playing professional football because I haven't made up my mind what I'm going to do. I have received several feelers from a Canadian team."

Switzerland Moves Into Quarter-Finals

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland and Germany moved into the quarter-finals of the world soccer championships Wednesday with two impressive victories.

Switzerland eliminated Italy with a thrilling 4-1 win at Basel that sent the spectators wild with joy. Germany swamped a reshuffled Turkish team 7-2 at Zurich.

Switzerland now meets Austria in a quarter-final match Saturday at Lausanne. Germany meets Olympic finalists Yugoslavia at Zurich Sunday.

Italy made two fatal mistakes—overconfidence and fiddling with the ball in front of the goal.

Team officials rested several star players to await the quarter-final they now won't play. The disjointed forwards seemed hesitant to shoot.

Buttars Family Holds Reunion

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The annual reunion of the Buttars family was held Saturday at Coldsprings, with 55 in attendance.

Dinner and supper were served by the ladies, in the basement of the hall.

In the afternoon races and a ball game were enjoyed in the park.

A short business meeting was held, and the following officers were elected: President Hayden Buttars, Cobourg, secretary-treasurer, Mr. Charles Hogg, Harrwood, Directors Mrs. Clayton Buttar, Port Hope, Mrs. Douglas Harris, Gore's Landing, Grant Carruthers, Plainville, and Wallace Davidson, Baltimore.

No 40-Hour Week In Penitentiaries Yet

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Wednesday night that the five-day 40-hour week is not expected to be introduced in federal penitentiaries for some time.

He told the Commons the shorter week probably will be made applicable to penitentiaries at the same time it is introduced in provincial prisons, mental hospitals and similar institutions. Administration difficulties prevented introduction of reduced hours at present.

Prisoners Riot

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—Waves of tear gas Wednesday night quickly quelled a riot of 450 prisoners in the Pontiac state penitentiary, 80 miles southwest of Chicago. One prisoner was killed, apparently by another convict, during the disturbance, according to warden David Bergan.

Death Accidental

NEWMARKET, Ont. (CP) — A coroner's jury ruled Wednesday night that the death of Anne Foster 9, of Ravenshoe in hospital here last May 18 was from unknown causes. No blame was attached to anyone. The child died the day after she had been given an anesthetic in preparation for the removal of a cyst from her wrist.

Dies In Operation

CHATHAM (CP)—Janet Marion Millar, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Millar of Ridgetown, died Wednesday under anaesthetic while undergoing a minor eye operation in hospital here. Coroner Dr. Fred W. Hall said it is not likely an inquest will be held.

One-two-three —HUP!

EVER GIVE a "leg up" to a knight in full armour? In a recent film about Joan of Arc the movie makers got over this weighty problem by dressing the actress who played the title part in a suit of armour made of aluminum. Result: shooting, including scenes showing Joan mounting her horse, proceeded on schedule.

Canadian manufacturers use a lot of weight-saving aluminum not only because it makes things lighter to handle and cheaper to ship but because it makes up into more products per pound. Helps them market their products for less. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

START OF NEW LIFE for 17-year-old Bernard, who fled Germany's East Zone, is a job and home with this farmer near Mainz.

END OF WANDERING for these boys is at Jugendsozialwerk camp in West Germany, from which refugees will go to new life.

German Youths Get Jobs Counselled By Organization

By CORRINNE HARDESTY

MAINZ, West Germany (NEA) —A boy named Heinrich is working for a prosperous Mainz farmer today, learning to till the vineyards. Some day he hopes to have a vineyard of his own.

But 10 years ago, when his parents were killed in East Prussia, he was deported to Russia. In 1948, he was brought back to Germany's East Zone to become an interceptor for the People's Police.

In the Red Zone, getting to know too much is an occupational hazard. Last year, under pressure to join the Communist Party, Heinrich decided he know too much and fled to the West.

FEW RESOURCES

Like thousands of others who have fled across the same border (21,000 so far this year alone), Heinrich had few resources but his wits. Many of the young refugees from 14 to 25 become vagabonds, living from hand to mouth in shacks and ruins.

But Heinrich got a break. He found his way to the Jugendsozialwerk unit in Mainz, and became one of the nearly 6,000 boys that organization has helped back from the edges of society into a useful life with a future.

The Youth Social Work group got its start five years ago with two young refugees who had little money but a lot of faith in other "wandering youth" like themselves.

In the Black Forest near Tubingen, George Eberspach and Arnold Schroeder heard that foresters needed extra hands. They asked the foreman to hire a few young wanderers they could personally guarantee.

From this small beginning, almost without capital, grew an organization of 134 counselors and a skeleton office staff.

In addition to the 6,000 already on the road to a new future, Eberspach and Schroeder are presently processing 2,250 more. Today they have the help of some German government funds and a small grant from the American Friends Service Committee in the U.S.

First step is to bring boy and job to gether, with a counselor or leader coordinating groups of boys working in the same area at similar jobs.

SHAKE-DOWN PERIOD

It takes about six months for the "shake-down" period — to overcome the vagabond attitude of the boys and the skepticism of employees toward refugees.

After that, like Heinrich, they generally find their own niche.

"We work at this because we believe in the boys," says counsellor Pritzlaff.

A refugee himself, he fled his job as agricultural instructor in the East Zone when he found he "was not expected to teach the boys to plow and sow, but to instruct them in political doctrine."

Not all make the grade like Heinrich, but failures are less than ten per cent, says Jugendsozialwerk founder Schroeder.

"For the boys," he says, "we do not want them to be 'Jugendsozialwerk boys.' We want them to be contented members of their own communities. We will never have an alumni association."

Eisenhower To Run?

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Leonard Hall, Republican national committee chairman, said Wednesday President Eisenhower "absolutely" will be a candidate for re-election in 1956.

Cavan News

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dyer, Allen and Patsy, Creemore, were visitors to Cavan this week.

Mrs. Thomas Douglas is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Donald Caldwell, Newmarket, for a few days.

Col. A. J. and Mrs. Earchman went to Toronto on Saturday and exhibited some of their wire-haired terriers at the Scarboro dog show.

Mrs. W. Elson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. Donevan, Gananoque, this week.

May Allow Letters

OTTAWA (CP)—The justice department is considering relaxing slightly the prison regulations limiting prisoners to sending two or three letters a month, Justice Minister Garson told the Commons Wednesday night.

Something wonderful has happened to STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE!

When you make strawberry shortcake with a Shirriff's White Cake Mix, you get a light, tender base for your sugared, whole berries . . . no need to crush them for extra moisture. Because this is the mix that lets you add your own fresh milk, to get the tender moist texture you need . . . the creamy, fresh flavour those strawberries deserve. DUKE'S YACHT ARRIVES — "Bluebottle," the Dragon-class yacht, owned by the Duke of Edinburgh, still in the cradle in which she travelled by train to Toronto, is raised by crane ready for her first taste of Canadian waters. The yacht arrived in Toronto to take part in summer races. The Royal Canadian Yacht Club, hoping that a Canadian crew might man her, named three crew members. But Lt. Commander R. L. Hewitt, the Duke's sailing master, said such a move would need Royal sanction which he doubts would be forthcoming.—(Fednews).

Elderly Citizens Refuse To Take "Back Seat"

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Today's attitude toward old age is often negative and scornfull, yet older citizens are demanding more than the back seat elders once were content with, superintendents of homes for the aged were told here Wednesday.

Mrs. F. W. Browne of Toronto, former superintendent of Fairview Lodge, Whitby, said by 1975 one out of every four Canadians will be more than 65.

"To younger Canadians this reveals the most powerful incentive any of us can have to live on amicable terms with the generation just ahead," she said. "Your parents and grandparents may have been able to take their older relatives for granted—you cannot afford to."

HOLD COURSE

Mrs. Browne was discussing the problem of how to get along with old persons at a course for superintendents at the new Dr. John Dearness Home, sponsored by Ontario Welfare Minister W. A. Goodfellow.

Outlining a "bill of rights for aging persons," she listed the right to grow old, to be treated as a grown-up person, to a future, to have fun and friends, to be interested in politics, and the right to professional help and advice when necessary.

60th Anniversary of WMS Celebrated At Millbrook

MILLBROOK (ENS) — The 60th anniversary of the Women's Missionary Society of Grace Presbyterian church, Millbrook, was marked by a special evening service on Sunday. Mrs. W. H. Heustin, president, presided, wtih Mrs. Grace Muspratt at the organ.

An historical sketch was presented by Mrs. John R. Thompson.

The WMS was organized in 1894 under the leadership of Mrs. William Johnston whose husband was 20 years in the Millbrook and Garden hill charge. The first officers were Mrs. William Johnston, president; Miss Edwin Eakins (Mrs. A. Mulligan); secretary, and Miss Amy Carveth, treasurer. Mrs. Mulligan is still living, and at the anniversary service was presented with a corsage.

There have been 13 presidents and four secretaries in the 60 years. Miss Eakins served for seven years (1894-1901), Mrs. J. R. Eakins 30 years (1901-1931), Mrs. J. R. Thompson 21 years (1931-1952); and the present secretary, Mrs. Gerald Armstrong, is in her second year.

Twenty-seven ladies have received life membership certificates. A Mission Band was carried on at different times, but lack of leadership caused it to disband. From 1937-1941 a Young Women's Auxiliary flourished. Each department of the auxiliary is particularly active.

CHURCH BEGINNINGS

Presbyterianism had its beginning in the early eighteen hundreds in Cavan. Millbrook church was a sister church to centreville in 1832. The Rev. James Douglas had been appointed student supply in South Monaghan, Cavan, Port Hope and Cobourg as early as 1829. In 1834 he was inducted into the pastoral charge of Centreville and Millbrook by the Rev. Jas. Rogers of Hallowell. For 56 years the congregations were united in one charge—34 under the guidance of the Rev. James Douglas.

The first church in Millbrook was a frame one west of the Presbyterian cemetery, and was said to be at the toll gate, which was just east of the cemetery. Later, the church was moved down the hill, as many of the congregation found it difficult to climb Dawson Hill. This church was destroyed by fire in 1896.

In 1890, Millbrook and Centreville separated and Garden Hill joined with Millbrook. In 1894 the Rev. William Johnston was called to the Millbrook charge and was the minister for 20 years (1894-1914).

It was during his ministry that fire occurred and the present church was built. The late Mrs. Hugh Waddell of Peterborough layed the cornerstone on September 21 in the same year as the fire. The opening and dedication took place July 17, 1897.

In 1925 Millbrook and Centreville again united under the ministry of the Rev. John Riddell.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

Devotions were taken by Mrs. A. E. Toombs, president of the Peterborough Presbyterial.

A life membership certificate was presented to Mrs. Joseph Burns, only surviving member of the Gardner family, who had a long history of service with Grace church. Mrs. Burns' father, the late Matthew Gardner, and her brother Charles were contractors for building the present church.

An in memorian certificate was given to Suttle Pritchard, in recognition of the work of his late wife. A gift of money was presented to Mrs. R. D. Duncanson of Norwood, soon to leave for missionary work in British Guiana.

The offering was dedicated by Miss Agnes Johnston, a former president. A male quartette from Springville sang two selections.

Guest speaker was the Rev. Gilbert Smith of St. Giles' Presbyterian church, Peterborough. The flowers on the communion table were in memory of the late Mrs. William McKnight, one of the first members of the WMS, given by her daughters, Mrs. E. L. Armstrong and Mrs. Ken Reid.
